Special Train Takes Convicted Men Right Into Prison Grounds.

Cars Are Guarded and Curtains Drawn Throughout Memorable Trip.

F. J. Higgins of Boston Requires Services of Physician.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 1.—The thirty-three labor union officials sentenced at Indianapolis for complicity in the McNamara dynamite plots arrived at the Federal prison here at 7:15 today. They immediately were photographed, dressed in penitentiary clothes and formally enrolled as convicts.

As Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers International union, Olaf A. Tveitmoe, the Pacific coast labor leader, Herbert S. Hockin, John T. Butler and the others stepped from the special train which brought them from Indianapolis they were taken in charge by the prison authorities.

New Year's day thus found the labor leaders beginning in the Federal penitentiary here, punishments for their connection with crimes for which the McNamara brothers, confessed dynamiters, are serving terms in the state prison at San Quentin, Cal.

Train Entered Prison Grounds.

The prisoners were taken by rail directly into the prison grounds. Their first view of the in[illegible] from the windows of the train [illegible] an hour after arrival each [illegible] been subjected to a haircut [illegible]ed in the prison uniform.

On account of its being a holiday, the details of assigning the men to work was delayed until tomorrow. Most of the new prisoners are iron workers, and it is understood the warden is to put them on the construction of buildings.

Tveitmoe, who is secretary of the California Building Trades Council, is

STRIKE TIES UP THE LONDON TAXICABS

Drivers Refuse to Work When Obliged to Buy Their Own Petrol.

London, Jan. 1.—An almost complete tie-up of taxicab service in London was effected today when the drivers carried out the strike they voted last night. It was estimated that 8,000 taxicabs stood idle in their garages during the day, the only ones running being the few owned by individual drivers. All of the taxicab companies, from the largest to the smallest, were affected, although they declared they had the names of many strike-breakers who would relieve the situation soon.

The trouble is largely due to the inability of the companies, as they claim, to make the taxicab business profitable. When the vehicles first appeared the larger companies reaped a great dividends. On the other hand, the harvest of profits, but lately few of the companies have been able to pay drivers claim that they are unable to make a living under the agreement that they furnish their own petrol. An advance in the price of petrol from 8 to 13 pence to the drivers, they declared they would not pay.

DENOUNCES FOREST BILL

Minnesota Forestry Board Sends Urgent Notice to All Cities.

Calls for Strongest Efforts Against Passage of Lafferty Measure.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A "call to arms" has been sounded by the Minnesota state forestry board and W. T. Cox, state forester, appealing to all the commercial clubs in the state and to the Minnesota members of congress to use all their influence immediately to prevent the passage of the Lafferty bill, transferring the national forests to state control. The measure already has passed the United States senate, and must be stopped, if at all, in the house.

The state forester of Minnesota has sent the following communication to the commercial clubs:

"The situation with regard to the national forests is really critical, and no effort should be spared to head off the action which is contemplated by certain congressmen and senators in Washington. There is danger that the cause of forest preservation in the United States will be set back twenty years with the passage of this one bill now pending.

"The legislation is about as bad as could well be imagined, not only as regards the rich forests of the coast and the important protective forests of the Rocky mountains, but also it would spell disaster to the progress made in safeguarding for proper use the coal fields, the water powers and the stock ranges within the national forests.

Strongest Efforts Needed.

"Your strongest efforts are needed to prevent the waste and dissipation of the enormously valuable resources

J. BRUCE ISMAY.

London, Jan. 1.—The long-expected resignation of J. Bruce Ismay from his position as chairman and managing director of the White Star line is announced. It will take effect June 30.

WHITE HOUSE OPEN TO ALL

Attendance By Diplomatic Corps Cut Down By Sickness.

Washington, Jan. 1. — President Taft's fourth and last New Year's reception at the White House was greeted by a day beautiful and bright. Thousands turned their eyes and steps early in the direction of the executive mansion. Long before the time at which the chief executive of the nation was ready to shake hands with every citizen who cared to avail himself of the privilege, men, women and children stood in a line from the front door of the White House to the distant gates, and far beyond towards the state, war and navy buildings.

The rich and gorgeous uniforms of the foreign diplomats, the gold lace of the long line of American army and navy officers, and in the background the brilliant scarlet coats of the marine band were features in the moving picture of the day's events at the White House with the colorless costumes of thousands of ordinary citizens.

Cabinet Came First.

The president and Mrs. Taft prepared at 11 o'clock to wish a happy New Year, first to the members of the cabinet and their wives and to the diplomatic corps; these were followed by

ALASKA HAS GIVEN WORLD $229,000,000

Its Gold Production for the Year 1912 Aggregates $16,650,000.

Washington, Jan. 1.—The mines of Alaska produced $21,850,000 during 1912, of which $16,650,000 was gold. Since 1880, when mining was begun there, the territory's total production of minerals has been valued at $229,000,000. The geological survey in its annual report mentions important development work in copper finds and new discoveries of gold.

KEEP UP WATCH ON ROCKEFELLER HOME

Postoffice Department May Be Asked to Help Subpoena Servers.

New York, Jan. 1.—Detectives and deputy sergeants-at-arms of the house of representatives, in squads of six, spent New Year's day watching the house of William Rockefeller on Fifth avenue.

The idea gained ground that Mr. Rockefeller, after all, was not here, but Charles F. Riddell, sergeant-at-arms of the house, said he would take no chances, but would continue the siege. One of the detectives was certain that Mr. and Mrs. Rockefeller left their residence here Sunday morning.

A maid who left the Rockefeller house this morning and ran across the street to post a letter caused a flurry among the early shift of detectives. One of them tried to see the address on the envelope, but the servant was too quick for him. As a result of the incident, however, the postoffice authorities may be asked to help the process servers by noting the addresses on the Rockefeller mail.

DIN RAISED IN WELCOME TO NEW YEAR

Hotel Cafes Are Scenes of Festivity at Passing of Old Year.

Horns, whistles, cannon crackers, revolvers and voices were used in welcoming the year 1913 in Duluth.

Thousands of people remained awake to see the old year out and the new year in. At the stroke of twelve, scores of whistles along the bay front broke out in welcome. On the streets, cannon crackers were exploded and revolver shots were fired into the air. People shouted their welcome. In the cafes, horns and whistles were added to voices in creating a deafening din. In the churches, the organs pealed out in joyous welcome.

The welcome to the new year was most demonstrative and given in the most festive setting in the cafes. Early in the evening, the theaters drew big crowds and at the end of the performances, the hotel cafes began to fill up. Shortly after 11 o'clock, every available foot of space in the Spalding, the Holland and the St. Louis was taken up.

Bright Lights and Music.

The hotels had decorated elaborately for the occasion. At the Spalding an orchestra of thirty pieces provided music. Cabaret shows were in progress at the Holland and the St. Louis. Bright lights, music, tinkling glasses, satisfying feasts and festive scenes made the minutes pass and at the hour of midnight, the crowds drank a toast

GOVERNMENT WILL FIGHT FOR APPEAL

Washington, Jan. 1.—Officials of the department of justice are preparing for a serious contest over the proposed repeal by the judicial code a year ago today of the so-called "criminal appeals" act. The latter act gave to the government the right to carry to the supreme court of the United States criminal cases decided on some point of law contrary to the government's contention.

The immediate effect of such a repeal would be the defeat of the government in its anti-trust prosecution of the Pacific & Arctic Railway & Navigation company and other transportation interests for alleged attempts to monopolize transportation in Alaska. It might end the prosecution of officials of the United Shoe Machinery company under the present indictments for alleged combination of the shoe machinery business in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

In both cases the government has appealed from adverse decisions on points of law by virtue of the criminal appeals act during the last year.

Many Other New Industries in Sight for Zenith City.

The year 1913, which began with today, gives promise of being the banner year for Duluth, despite the so-called unlucky attachment of "13." The showing of the banks during the past year has been repeatedly told, and the indications are for so remarkable an increase in banking business the current year that the past year will be useful only for comparison.

The banks have done an enormous business during the past year, and the clearing house statement for 1912 can be found in another column. The banking business is the heart-beat, the pulse of commerce, and the enormous growth in Duluth is therefore indicative of what business in general in Duluth is. But there are other things which are also indicative. G. Roy Hall, in charge of the traffic department of the Duluth Commercial club, and one of the best posted men in charge of public affairs in the city, said regarding the current year:

New Railroad Mileage.

"One of the most important features in the future development of Duluth is the tremendous increase in the railroad mileage now being built in the territory west of Duluth, in what might be reasonably called distinctive Duluth territory. The building of these new lines of railway by the great systems having their termini in Duluth, means the opening of a territory wonderfully rich in agricultural and industrial possibilities. The furnishing of means of transportation will be followed by the rapid settling of this new territory, a large part of the business of which is bound to come to Duluth.

"The traffic commission is watching the extensions of the railway lines carefully and where necessary, endeavoring to induce the building of connecting lines so that all of the territory may be reached from Duluth via short mileage insuring prompt service and equality of rates with our competitors.

"With the well known energy and ability of Duluth business men the opening of the new territory will insure a large increase in our distribution of merchandise and in the quantity of grain and other products which will be handled in the Duluth market.

"The Great Northern railway is building a line from New Rockford, N. D., to Lewiston, Mont. A connection will be built in the near future from New Rockford to Larimore, N. D., which will

Belleville, Kan., Jan. 1.—Four persons were killed at a grade crossing, two miles north of here, last night when a Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific engine struck a buggy in which were Wilson James, his wife and two children.

Part of a little girl's head with a bit of blue baby ribbon tied to the hair was found by the engineer of Rock Island Passenger Train No. 6, when he oiled the engine here tonight. Soon afterward there came the news that the buggy in which the James family was riding had been struck. A switch engine was sent back to the scene of the accident and the crew picked up the bodies.

The mother, a 2-month-old baby and a 3-year-old girl were killed instantly. The father was breathing when picked up, but died shortly afterward.

Engineer Laird said he did not know when the engine struck the buggy. Two boys, 8 and 13 years old, are the only surviving members of the family.

CHICAGO STARTS YEAR WITH $100,000 BLAZE

Swift's Fertilizer Plant at Stockyards Is Destroyed.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—The fertilizer plant of Swift & Co. in the Union stockyards was destroyed by fire last night in the first big blaze of the year. The presence of ammonia tanks in the building caused the fire chiefs to keep their men at a safe distance from the building, so no lives were endangered. The plant was a six-story brick building. An unofficial estimate gives the damage at about $100,000.

CHILD'S SOBS BARE MURDER

Foul Play Suspected in Death of Runaway Wife of Ohioan.

Body Is Found in Denver House With Little Girl Clasping It.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 1.—Either by murder or suicide, the life of Mrs. R. E. Kline, said to have been the wife of a wealthy Toledo, Ohio, lumber dealer, was lost some time yesterday in a rooming house in Denver where she was staying with a man. Dispatches from Toledo to the local police indicate that the man is a wealthy banker of that place.

This individual, when questioned by the coroner, said that he had married Mrs. Kline about two weeks ago. Margaret Kline, the 7-year-old daughter of the dead woman, declares that he is not her stepfather, and that her "real" father told her and her mother goodbye when they left Toledo.

The body was discovered by the proprietor of the rooming house. For

NINE BURIED IN MINE HELPING RESCUE WORK

Tamaqua, Pa., Jan. 1.—Nine men entombed in the East Lehigh Coal company's colliery here yesterday by a rush of water from an abandoned mine working, were still imprisoned today, but the company officials hope to reach them alive before night. The imprisoned men are helping in the work of rescue. Immediately after the rush of coal, rock and culm had walled them in, they set to work digging themselves out.

Through a system of rapping understood by miners, they have made it known that they are well. They have good ventilation and officials say there is no serious danger of a further fall.

The water which rushed into the mine has all been pumped out.

MICHIGAN HAS DEMOCRATIC GOVERNOR

Republican Legislature Is Said to Insure Senator Smith's Re-election.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. Jan. 1.—When the Michigan legislature had convened today and Woodbridge N. Ferris, Democrat, had taken the oath of office as governor, a Republican legislative majority faced a Democratic governor for the first time in twenty years in this state.

One of the first acts of the legislature will be the election of a United States senator. Senator William Alden Smith claims victory in this contest because of the Republican majority in the legislature and his primary victory. His opponents are Alfred Lucking, Democrat, and Theodore Joslin, Progressive.

The convening of the legislature and the inaugural ceremonies take place at noon.

BAY STATE SOLONS IN 134TH SESSION

Governor Foss, Democrat, Will Begin His Third Term Thursday.

Boston, Jan. 1.—With several months of important work in prospect, the Massachusetts legislature convened today for its 134th session. Both branches are strongly Republican.

Eugene N. Foss, the Democratic governor, will be inaugurated for a third term tomorrow.

REPUBLICANS WILL UNITE ON BURLEIGH

Augusta, Me., Jan. 1.—Edwin C. Burleigh of Augusta, Republican, will be elected United States senator on Jan. 14 by the Maine legislature, which opens its seventy-fourth session today, according to the party leaders. The Progressives, who claim to hold the balance of power, announced that they would act with the regular Republicans.

Governor-elect William T. Haines, Republican, will be inaugurated tomorrow.

WILSON GLAD TO GREET '13

Points Out How Figures Have Run Throughout His Life.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 1.—Nineteen hundred and thirteen was greeted by President-elect Wilson as his "lucky year." He is always delighted at any combination by addition, multiplication or substraction that will produce this number.

"Thirteens have always been running through my life in connection with good fortune," he said today.

The year of his nomination to the presidency produced 13 by adding the digits 1-9-1-2. The name Woodrow Wilson contains just 13 letters. He was 13 years a professor at Princeton. He was elected the thirteenth president of the university, where he presided over about 1,300 students.

Even the 31st, which is the number of the presidential term begun on March 4, produces the luck number reversed. He will be the "28th president" of the country, a combination which the president-elect at first considered baffling, until it was pointed out it counted up just 13 letters.

"And then there are two others," said Governor Wilson. "Not only will I be taking office in 1913, but the electoral college meets on Jan. 13 this year."

GRAVITY MAIN IS ADVOCATED

Gravity System Suggested in Place of Duplicating Present Main.

There are many different ideas on the improvement of the water system to meet an emergency such as that caused by the breaking of the check-valve casting Friday.

Many citizens favor the duplication of the present forty-two-inch main by the laying of another main in the same trench. Others claim another main should be laid to the Lakewood pumping station, in the same trench or otherwise.

T. P. McGilvray and W. B. Patton, both former city engineers and now in business together, have an idea. They would have the city supplant the present main by the building of a reservoir above the Lakewood pumping station, with a gravity main from the reservoir to the reservoir at Thirty-fourth avenue east.

"The city cannot have too much reservoir capacity," said Mr. McGilvary. "It could well afford to build a large reservoir above the pumping station, obtaining an elevation of about 300 feet. That could probably be reached in a mile and a half, which would mean that only a mile and a half of expensive pipe would have to be laid, instead of seven or eight miles if the present main should be duplicated.

"Then from the reservoir at Lakewood, a gravity main of comparatively inexpensive construction could be built along the hydraulic level or a little below. The valleys could be met by siphons, built of more expensive pipe. Pumping water a mile and a half is obviously less expensive than pumping water seven or eight miles, so the saving in pumping would be great. In addition the city would have a much greater reservoir supply in case anything should happen to the pumps. We must remember that the city is growing and increased reservoir facilities must come with growth.

"The gravity line from the reservoir at Lakewood could be built of reinforced concrete for most of the distance, except in the valleys, and would be comparatively cheap.

"The whole improvement would cost approximately $750,000, including reservoir, but it would be money well spent. The city would have a system that would be inexpensive to maintain, and would have the present main as an emergency main. The new system would open up much new territory that is not now supplied with water. In addition it would have an ample reservoir supply for all ordinary emergencies."

Mr. McGilvray's idea is concurred in by Mr. Patton. Mr. Patton believes that the city should at least construct the other section of the Thirty-fourth avenue reservoir. The reservoir was originally designed to hold 25,000,000 gallons. Only about half of it was built, and the city owns the land for the other part. Mr. Patton believes that the first step taken by the city should be the building of the other section.

The present main was designed while Mr. Patton was city engineer and was constructed under Mr. McGilvray. They both advocate frequent inspection of the main by the draining of sections between gates. The inside coating may be worn off in places, they say, and the main should be thoroughly inspected from end to end, and fresh coating given where necessary.

June with its sweet scented roses and mild fragrance, its atmosphere of loveliness, was not the favorite month for Duluth leap year brides. Instead November with football weather and an occasional snow flurry takes the honors. August comes in for second, October third and June fourth in the number of licenses taken out. In former years June has usually led the procession of months in wedding calendar.

Leap year marriage license records failed to show decreases in the number of wedding permits. On the other hand, with the fair sex at the helm on the matrimonial voyage, there has been a net increase of 108 matrimonial certificates over the 1911 figure, when the initiative devolved upon the stronger sex.

The increase came during the declining months of the year. Up to June, there has been a falling off each month. But since the month of brides, business picked up and the old year was ushered out with another record broken.

January showed a decrease of five as compared with 1911. February dropped behind three and March five. April was the first month to score a gain. It registered three more in 1912 than the previous year. May also gained by two. June lost ten and July gained fifteen.

The most substantial increase of the year was in August when a gain of fifty-three was made. September lost three. October gained thirteen. November made an increase of forty-three and December gained ten.

The average number of licenses taken out daily is about slightly less than three. The monthly average is exactly ninety-one. For 1911, the monthly average was eighty-three.

The last license issued for 1912 went to John Alexis Denomie of Ashland, Wis., and Florina Barbano of Baraga, Mich. It was taken out shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, just before the clerk of court closed up shop.

WITH most sincere thanks for the many favors rendered us during the past year, and with best wishes for health, happiness and prosperity for all the future, we wish you

Wright-Clarkson Mercantile Company Will Lose Its Identity.

The deal whereby the Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company is absorbed by the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company was consummated yesterday afternoon, and beginning with tomorrow the process of taking over the business of the former company will begin.

Nine Silver Cups Have Been Offered as Premiums.

The superintending committee of the Duluth Poultry association, consisting of Theodore Hollister, J. W. Nelson and E. H. Conkey, has just issued the premium list for the seventeenth annual exhibition, to be held Feb. 3 to 8. The exact place for the show has not yet been determined.

Silver cups for the prize winners have been donated by the Duluth & Iron Range Railway company, the Gately Supply company, the Kelley Hardware company, F. H. Conkey & Son, Maj. H. J. Eva, Theodore Hollister, J. W. Nelson and F. P. Hallock.

"The Duluth & Iron Range Challenge cup," as the prize given by that railway company, on the recommendation of its land department, is to be called, is to remain in the custody of the Duluth Poultry association until it has been won three times by the same exhibitor, after which it becomes his property. Only the breeders residing in St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties may compete for this cup. The rules of the American Standard of Perfection are to govern the awarding of this cup. The cup is to be won by the breeder presenting the best pen of birds, consisting of one male and four females of any standard variety. After each of the annual exhibitions the name of the winner, score of winning, the name of the pen and the date of the show will be engraved on the cup.

The cup presented by the Gately Supply company must likewise remain in the possession of the association, until some one competitor has won it three times.

Copies of the premium list may be obtained by persons desiring to exhibit, on application to F. P. Hallock, secretary of the association, 323 West First street. He will also furnish free tickets for the exhibition on request to St. Louis county farmers and their families.

George W. Hackett will be the judge of the competing entries.

WOMAN FIRST TO USE PARCEL POST IN DULUTH

The first parcel post package was mailed at the Duluth postoffice at 1 o'clock this morning by an employe of the postoffice.

The package was addressed to the general delivery at Cleveland, Ohio, and carried 10 cents in parcel post stamps. The nature of its contents was not disclosed.

A Woman Mailed It.

The general parcel post business will not open at the Duluth postoffice until tomorrow morning. The stamps were due to go on sale today, but the postoffice departments are all closed, including the stamp window, so no sales can be made.

The postoffice employes expect there will be a rush of parcel post business early tomorrow morning. The number of inquiries for information indicates that the new service will be liberally used by Duluth people.

About 99 out of every possible 100 call it "parcels post." The official name is "parcel post." The idea is to forget the "s" on "parcels."

BANK CLEARINGS FOR YEAR SHOW 28 PER CENT INCREASE

The calendar year of the Duluth Clearing House association ended yesterday. That year showed the largest returns that any business year of Duluth has ever shown, and the resulting figures are remarkable. In 1911 the clearings amounted to $182,245,333.94. In 1912 the clearings were $233,425,837. The difference in dollars is $51,180,504.06.

In December, the month that has just expired, the clearings amounted to $29,326,824.85, as against the clearings of the corresponding period a year ago, which were $18,789,310.35, a difference of $10,537,514.50.

Want to Feel Young?

It's Olive Tablets For You!

Beware of the habit of constipation. It develops from just a few constipated days, especially in Old People, unless you take yourself in hand.

Coax the jaded bowel muscles back to normal action with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Don't force them to unnatural action with severe medicines or by merely flushing out the intestines with nasty, sickening cathartics.

Dr. Edwards believes in gentleness, persistency and Nature's assistance.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets oil the bowels; their action is gentle, yet positive. There is never any pain or griping when Olive Tablets are used. Just the kind of treatment old persons should have.

Take Olive Tablets mixed with olive oil and have no trouble with your bowels or stomach.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

NO POLITICS ON PANAMA CANAL

Washington, Jan. 1.—Operation of the Panama canal on business principles, without regard to politics, will be insisted upon if Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the canal, undertakes the organization of the permanent government of the zone and the operation of the great waterway.

When Col. Goethals arrived in Washington with President Taft on his annual trip from the canal zone, one of the first matters brought to his attention was the widely published report that his nomination as governor of the zone would be opposed because of a belief in some quarters that he would show favoritism in appointing his subordinates. The colonel made it plain that he would be entirely content to forego such an appointment if he was not to be permitted to select the best men for the work to be done, regardless of political considerations, as had been his rule since he became head of the canal commission. He declared that his one rule in making appointments would be to find the right man for the work at hand.

Col. Goethals said he contemplated no changes in the present canal force except such as would be incident to the completion of the various sections of the work. Already the engineering officer in charge of the Pacific division has been relieved, as that division is practically completed. Probably by next June all the divisions will lose their separate entities and be merged in the general command.

The principal purpose of Col. Goethal's visit to Washington at this time, about a month in advance of his usual appearance at the capital, is to appear before the house committee on appropriations to discuss the fortification of the canal zone.

CHINESE ADOPTS CAUCASIAN BOY.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 1.—Marion Teeter, an American boy of 3 years, has become the legal son of Lute W. Jimmie, a rich Chinese merchant and Mrs. Jimmie, his Caucasian wife. The adoption of the American baby by the Chinese was the first legal proceeding of its kind with a successful conclusion in the history of the state.

When the child was but a day old, it was found by Jimmie on the doorstep of a neighbor, where it had been abandoned. Jimmie's petition was filed several days ago, and after a thorough investigation, juvenile court officers submitted recommendations upon which Judge Conrey's order of adoption was based.

TAKES BODIES OF HIS SONS HOME.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 1.—Louis Sossette of Pittsburg, Pa., has left for his home in charge of the bodies of his two sons, Abraham and Joseph, who were prosperous young farmers at Oak Point, sixty miles west of Winnipeg. Christmas day Abraham accidentally shot and killed his brother, Joseph. Realizing what he had done, it is said, he turned the gun on himself. He died from his wound yesterday morning.

WILSON ENDS CONFERENCES

Representative Underwood Is Last of Leaders to Meet Him.

"Men and Measures" Are Discussed at Trenton Meeting.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 1.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson finished his political activities for the year 1912 by completing the series of conferences he planned soon after election with leaders of the Democratic party.

He had a long talk with Oscar W. Underwood, Democratic leader of the house of representatives, discussing principally plans for tariff revision, but nothing definite came from either man after the conference to indictae what particular schedules would be taken up, or other details of what might be expected in the coming extra session.

Governor Wilson said he merely had asked and obtained from Mr. Underwood what he sought from W. J. Bryan and Speaker Champ Clark, with whom he previously had had conferences—his views and opinions about the personnel of the administration and legislative policies. No conclusions or decisions on these questions, however, were reached, according to Mr. Wilson.

Talked Men and Measures.

"Mr. Underwood and I," said Governor Wilson, "went through the process of consultation that I adopted with other men who have been to see me. I asked his advice as to men and measures. We spent most of the time outlining and discussing the pros and cons of the program for the extra session. We did not come to any conclusions—we just canvassed matters."

"I'd prefer to leave that to the governor," he said. "I had a very satisfactory talk, a very pleasant one. It was largely about what will come up at the extra session, and not so much about the cabinet."

Mr. Underwood was asked whether there would be any factional troubles in the house, and whether, in view of Mr. Bryan's opposition to him early last year, any dissension was expected.

"Will Be No Trouble."

"There won't be any trouble," he said. "You remember the woolen schedule when there was only one vote against me—well, that perhaps might represent what factional differences there are. The friends of Mr. Bryan, I should say, are very likely to be the friends of President Wilson."

Mr. Underwood said he expected the tariff to be "thoroughly considered from top to bottom."

"Every schedule will be taken separately," he added. "Then we can put in an enacting clause at the top of each schedule and put that through, or we can put the whole thing through in the form of one bill. That will be a matter of choice, however."

It was the first time Mr. Underwood had conferred with Governor Wilson since July, shortly after the Baltimore convention. Since that time, however, there has been frequent correspondence between them.

DAN WILLARD AND OTHERS INDICTED

Sixteen Railroad Officials Accused of Manslaughter for Fatal Wreck.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 1.—Sixteen officials and directors of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad and two trainmen were indicted on charges of involuntary manslaughter by the Marion county grand jury in connection with its investigation of the wreck on that road on Nov. 13. Sixteen persons were killed when a passenger train ran into an open switch and collided with a freight train.

Those indicted are:

Daniel Willard, president.

George F. Randolph, vice president.

George M. Schriver, second vice president, Baltimore.

W. C. Loree, Cincinnati, general manager.

H. B. Vorhees, Cincinnati, general superintendent.

R. B. White, Indianapolis, division superintendent.

O. G. Murray, George W. Perkins, L. F. Loree, H. P. Davison, Frederick W. Stevens, Joseph Wood, F. R. Bacon, F. D. Underwood, Harry Bronner and Norman B. Ream, officials of the railroad, and Carl Gross, brakeman on the freight train, and Willis Yorke, engineer on the same train, both of Indianapolis.

Division Superintendent White was out of the city on an inspection tour. It was declared at his offices that there was no one to give out any statement for Mr. White or any other member of the board. It was said any information to be given out would have to come from the general office in Cincinnati.

NEW "RARE BOOK" CASE IS BEGUN.

New York, Jan. 1.—Another suit in the alleged "rare book" swindle has been filed in the Federal court here. Mrs. Mary Watts of Manchester, N. H., asked the government to award her a judgment of $28,980 against the Anglo-American Authors' association, James J. Farmer, Glen F. Farmer, Charles Y. Wilson, Nathan S. Goldberg, W. H. Scott and Col. William J. Hartley.

Mrs. Watts alleges that she was induced to pay more than $30,000 for books worth $1,500, through false representation that Col. Hartley, one of the defendants, was a "millionaire book lover" who later would purchase the books from her at an advanced figure.

MISSIONARIES GET MEDICAL HINTS.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 1.—Five hundred missionaries from all parts of the world are attending the sessions of the fifth annual medical missionary conference, whis is holding a four-days' meeting here. The purpose of the conference is to give missionaries a general idea of medical work so that, in penetrating points beyond civilization, they can alleviate physical suffering.

EMPRESS HAS BEEN SOLD

Means Passing of Duluth From Sullivan & Considine Circuit.

W. M. Abrahamson announced late yesterday afternoon that he had purchased the Empress theater and that vaudeville will be played there again within a month.

Mr. Abrahamson, who is manager of the Savoy theater, has been in negotiation with J. L. Maitland, manager of the Empress, for about a month and the deal was closed yesterday. Mr. Abrahamson will take over the building and equipment of the Empress about Jan. 10.

The Empress, which has been conducted as a moving picture house recently, will be closed for three weeks after Mr. Abrahamson takes possession. The building will be thoroughly remodeled, the gallery benches will be replaced by individual seats and other changes will be made. When the house is reopened, it will be as a vaudeville theater booked by the Western Vaudeville association.

The Western Vaudeville association books the Broadway in Superior, the Princess in St. Paul and the New Grand in Minneapolis. It furnishes a high grade of vaudeville acts, and Mr. Abrahamson says he will have nothing but the best. The bill will be changed twice weekly. Mr. Abrahamson will personally manage the theater.

The sale of the Empress means the elimination of Duluth from the Sullivan & Considine circuit. The Empress was conducted for many years as a straight vaudeville theater. For over a year, it was run with a varied vaudeville and moving picture bill, and for several months it has been conducted with moving pictures only.

Mr. Abrahamson, the new owner of the Empress, has been manager of the Savoy for several years and is well known in Duluth. He promises to conduct the Empress as an up-to-the-minute playhouse.

WHEN PRICES WERE AT ROCK BOTTOM

B. E. Baker of the Duluth board of trade has in his possession a copy of the daily market report issued by the Charles E. Lewis company of Minneapolis on Aug. 7, 1896. That time, it will be remembered, was right in the midst of the free silver campaign when business was well-nigh at a standstill, and grain, stocks and all other properties were offered at ridiculously low prices. In those days a little gold had a wonderful purchasing power.

On that day August wheat on the Chicago market closed at 55¾ cents; September, 56⅝ cents; December, 59¼@59⅝ cents; August corn, 23⅝ cents; September, 24⅛ cents; May, 27⅜@27⅞ cents; August oats, 17 cents; September, 17⅜ cents; May, 20 cents; August pork, $6.35 a barrel; September, $6.40; October, $6.02½; January, $6.90.

Duluth August wheat on that day closed at 55¾ cents; September, 56¼ cents; December, 58 cents; to arrive, No. 1 hard, 57¾ cents; to arrive, No. 1 northern, 55¾ cents. The receipts of wheat at Duluth amounted to 193 cars.

Minneapolis August wheat closed on that day at 53 cents; September, 52¾ cents; December, 55⅝@55¾ cents; on track, No. 1 hard, 54¾ cents; on track, No. 1 northern, 55⅜ cents; No. 2 northern, 51 cents. The receipts of wheat at Minneapolis were 148 cars.

American visible supplies were as follows: Wheat, 47,734,000 bu; corn, 10,752,000 bu; oats, 7,166,000 bu; rye, 1,598,000 bu; barley, 718,000 bu.

The following closes were quoted on that day from the New York stock market: Atchison, 8⅝; Canadian Southern, 41; Chicago and Northwestern, 89⅜; Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, 61⅝; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, 55¼; Chicago Gas Trust, 45¼; American Tobacco, 55½; Edison General Electric, 21½; Erie, 11; Lake Shore, 1.38; Louisville & Nashville, 40; Manhattan, 79¼; Missouri Pacific, 15⅝; United States Leather, 43¾; Reading, 8¾; Rock Island, 50⅜; Sugar Trust, 96⅜; Union Pacific, 4⅜; Western Union, 74½; Whisky Trust, 9¼.

"LICKED" THE EDITOR.

Father of Defeated North Dakota Candidate Jumps Upon Scribe.

Belfield, N. D., Dec. 31.—(Special to The Herald.)—The early frontier stunt of "licking the editor" was repeated in Stark county. Editor Harry Dence of the Times of this place went to Dickinson on business. He was assaulted on the street by Charles Nolan, knocked down and kicked in the face while unconscious on the ground, and may lose the sight of one eye. Nolan's daughter was defeated for re-election as county superintendent of schools at the November election, and Editor Dence had been one of her bitterest opponents. It is stated that both criminal and civil actions will be instituted against Nolan as soon as the editor recovers sufficiently.

ARE BUYING BONDS.

Postal Bank Depositors Have Taken Up $2,389,120 Worth.

Washington, Jan. 1.—A check for $1,074,980 has been sent to the treasurer of the United States by Postmaster General Hitchcock in payment for postal savings bonds for the last issue, which have been applied for by depositors in the postal savings banks of the country. The bonds have been issued twice a year since July 1, 1911, and postal savings depositors have subscribed for a total of $2,389,120 of the four issues.

Over four-fifths of the amount of the last issue of bonds are in the registered form. Postoffice officials say this indicates that they have been purchased for permanent investment.

The bonds, drawing 3½ per cent interest, are open to purchase only by depositors in the postal banks.

WOULD OPEN THIBET.

England and Russia to Be Given Return for Protection.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 1.—The Buriat Dorjieff, whose political activities were the immediate cause of Col. Younghusband's expedition in Tibet, has arrived at Urga, Mongolia, from L'hasa, with a project, according to the Novoe Vremya, for placing Tibet under the protection of Russia and Great Britain.

He claims that he has been empowered by the Dalai Lama to negotiate a treaty between Tibet and Mongolia, by which in return for Russian and British protection the Dalai Lama will grant those powers exemption from duty on their goods and the right to exploit the natural riches of the country.

WATER METERS DID NOT STOP

The water and light department may expect to hear some loud, long complaints on water bills as a result of the water shortage.

Some of the people in the upper system were out of water for a time yesterday afternoon. The pressure from the Fifteenth avenue reservoir fell off, but the pumps were started after a short time and the shortage was relieved.

One man living in the district reported this morning that all the time the water was off his meter kept on at a late far in excess of the ordinary rate during consumption of water. Air will work the meter, and there was evidently strong air pressure while there was no water.

Some of the people who left faucets open during the shortage may find themselves faced with surprising bills. The result will be complaints at the water and light department, and probably compromises all around.

LYCEUM—"Bought and Paid For." (Matinee and night.)
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville. (Matinee and night.)

Amusement Notes.

Evelyn Welbing, who portrays the role of Virginia Blaine, a telephone girl, in William A. Brady's production of "Bought and Paid For," which is at the Lyceum theater for a special return engagement, up to four years ago was a teacher in the Trenton, N. J., high school. Elocution, however, was the principal course she taught. Mme. Nazimova was playing a three-day engagement in the Jersey capital when one of the members of the cast was taken ill suddenly. The incident prompted quick action and the school teacher was approached. She finally decided to favor the management as best she could and was given the part to study for twenty-four hours. She had one rehearsal and she went through the performance as though she had been a regular member.

Society gathered at the Orpheum in force last evening, to begin the New Year's eve celebration. There was a big attendance and many box parties. Many in the audience were in evening clothes and it was the most fashionably attired theater audience seen in Duluth in some time. From the theater most of those in the audience left for the various cafes to watch the old year end.

Frederick Andrews, who is presenting "The Wonder Kettle" on this week's bill, has promised to explain his tricks and experiments Saturday afternoon and night. Manager Billings had so many requests for this explanation that he persuaded Mr. Andrews to give a brief lecture at each performance Saturday, telling what the liquid is that he uses. He denies that it is liquid air, but says he will not tell what it is until Saturday.

For the Orphanage.

A rush is expected at the Lyceum box office tomorrow morning when the seat sale for Fiske O'Hara opens.

Members of the Knights of Columbus, under whose auspices Mr. O'Hara will appear next week, have sold many tickets, exchangeable for seats beginning tomorrow. The demand indicates that there will be a heavy advance sale for the engagement.

Mr. O'Hara will open with a Sunday matinee and will also play Sunday night. Beginning Monday evening the performances on the remaining three nights of his engagement and the matinee Wednesday will be given under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus for the benefit of St. James' orphanage.

Any project for the orphanage always commands liberal support from Duluth people, but the fact that Mr. O'Hara will appear for charity is not the only attraction. Augustus Pitou, Jr., has given the young star an elaborate production and "The Rose of Kildare," in which he is appearing, has been well received everywhere. His company is said to be a capable one and the incidental songs will give Duluth people an opportunity to hear Mr. O'Hara's Irish tenor voice at its best.

to the departing year and another to the year at hand. The celebration continued into the new year, and the crowds did not break up noticeably until the early hours of the morning.

At the Spalding, the Shriners' ball drew a large crowd. Another large crowd attended the Elks' ball at the Elks' building on West First street. Several other social gatherings were held to welcome the new year.

Duluth is observing New Year's day quietly today. Practically all business is suspended. The postoffice is closed all day and there will be no delivery of mail.

Big Meeting at Bethel.

New Year's eve and watch-night services were held last evening in many of the Duluth churches. Many churches also held services today.

Probably none of the services held last evening was more interesting than that which took place at the Bethel chapel, Mesaba avenue and First street. That was a gathering largely of men who do not fare so well as the average in the distribution of the enjoyable things of this world. Present and past vagrants, men who were wavering between the paths of good and evil and men who had been submerged in the lowest depths of sin constituted a large part of the crowd. The speakers, too, included men who had been induced to turn from wickedness and not only to seek better paths of living for themselves, but to induce others to do the same. Such men were Fred Harris, formerly known among his "lumberjack" associates as "Haywire Fred," now a missionary among the lumbermen of the Pacific coast; Matt Daly, who was saved five years ago, prior to which time he had been a safe robber, and who now is a missionary among the laborers through the territory along the Alger-Smith line; and John Sornberger, now a missionary of Northern Minnesota. The meeting was conducted by Frank Higgins, the well known "sky-pilot" among the "lumberjacks," and by Missionary Blair of the Minnesota Presbyterian Sunday schools.

"Haywire Fred" told how he was saved in Minneapolis nine years ago. He was well-dressed and very neat as he stood before his audience, and it was hard to imagine him as the personage of the word-picture that he drew of a drunken, ragged vagrant, who used to sew up holes in his shoes with hay-wire and to attach his trousers to his shirt by the same method, thus saving the price of a pair of suspenders, that he might gather enough money while at work for his periodical spree in Minneapolis.

About a score of men, present at the meeting, made open professions of their conversion and their determination to start the new year by leading Christian lives.

the members of the supreme court and by the judges of the other courts here; then former cabinet officers, ambassadors and ministers; next members of congress; then the army, navy and marine corps officers; after which came a long line of government officials and members of commissions; then members of the Grand Army of the Republic and a number of other similar societies.

After all these had been greeted the doors of the White House stood open to the humblest citizen in the land, and he, too, was assured of a hearty handshake and a smile.

No Austrian Ambassador.

One picturesque touch, absent from the New Year kaleidoscope of color at the White House for the first time in ten years, was missing because Baron Hengelmuller, ambassador from Austria-Hungary, dean of the diplomatic corps, was not in the city. His royally gorgeous costume of rich purple and red always attracted much attention. Several other diplomats were unable to be present because of sickness, the Chilean and Colombian ministers being among the number. The diplomatic line was led by Ambassador Jusserand of France.

For one ambassador, Viscount Chinda of Japan, it was the first appearance at a New Year's reception at the White House, while a number of ministers had never attended one before, these including the representatives from the Dominican republic, Peru, Sweden, Siam, Honduras, Denmark and Panama.

Army and Navy Contingent.

The army and navy contingent made a brilliant spectacle. Every officer of the two services, as well as of the marine branch, now in Washington, was under orders to report at the war and navy departments. The former gathered in the offices of Maj. Gen. Wood, chief of staff, and, headed by that officer and Lieut. Gen. Miles, retired, in double file, moved slowly through the corridors and down the granite staircase on the eastern approach and across Executive avenue to the White House.

Many officers of high rank held place in the line, including Maj. Gen. Wotherspoon, Maj. Gen. Aleshire, Brig. Gen. Andrews, adjutant general of the army; Brig. Gen. Crozier, president of the war college; Brig. Gen. Mills, chief of the militia division; Brig. Gen. Bixby, chief of engineers; Brig. Gen. Torney, surgeon general; Brig. Gen. Sharpe, Brig. Gen Smith, Brig. Gen. Allen, chief signal officer; Brig. Gen. Crowder, Brig. Gen. Garlington, Brig. Gen. McIntyre and the whole of the staff of Gen. Wood.

Besides Gen. Miles there were some other distinguished retired officers, such as Lieut. Gen. Bates, Gen. S. B. M. Young, Brig. Gen. John C. Wilson and many others.

Naval Officers Met.

While the army officers were being presented, the officers of the navy were preparing to fall in at Secretary Meyers' offices, under the leadership of Rear Admiral Vreeland, aide for operations, and Rear Admiral Badger, the new commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet; Rear Admiral Andrews, chief of the bureau of navigation; Rear Admiral Twinning, chief of the bureau of ordnance; Rear Admiral Watt, chief constructor; Rear Admiral Hutch Cone, engineer-in-chief; Rear Admiral Stanford of the bureau of yards and docks; Rear Admiral Willets, director of navy yards; Rear Admiral T. J. Cowie, paymaster general, and Rear Admiral Charles F. Stokes, surgeon general of the navy, formed the head of the line, and intermingled with them were many officers and retired officers of high rank, resident in Washington, such as Rear Admiral Wainwright, Rear Admiral Barker and Rear Admiral Peary.

Breakfast for Diplomats.

Secretary of State and Mrs. Knox prepared to receive the diplomats immediately after they left the White House at a breakfast in their honor given in the Pan-American Union building. To meet them there were invited also the members of the senate foreign relations and house foreign affairs committees.

Not only at the White House and the Pan-American building, but through all official Washington, receptions were the order of the day. Cabinet officers and their wives prepared to dispense hospitality to all who might come, and automobiles flew about bearing army and navy officers from the home of one superior to another, to whom they wished to pay their respects. Secretary and Mrs. Knox alone received none but the members of the diplomatic corps.

FIRST PARCEL POST PACKAGE

parcel post was a pitchfork. It was five feet long, weighed six pounds and was addressed to Good Pine, La. The postage was 38 cents.

Report in Fifteen Days.

New York, Jan. 1.—The first ten hours of the parcel post service here gave no fair index of the extent to which the service will be used. Because this was a holiday, the mails closed at 10 a. m. Comparatively few packages bearing the new stamps had been received at the local stations between that hour and midnight, when the service began.

The ten new automobiles, twenty-five delivery wagons and three motor-tricycles which Postmaster Morgan has ordered to deliver this mail matter were more than enough to take care of the day's business. Mr. Morgan said that in common with the other postmasters of the country he would make a report on this subject to the department at Washington at the end of fifteen days.

The service in this city was inaugurated a moment after the chimes of Trinity church had rung in the new year, by the mailing of a package containing a silver vase from John Wanamaker to Postmaster General Hitchcock, at Washington.

Packages went to all zones of the new service. Charles Hall, Jr., sent a package of tools for 12 cents to Polaris, Ariz.

Hitchcock Mailed Loving Cup.

Washington, Jan. 1.—As the clocks ticked off the first second of 1913, Postmaster General Hitchcock inaugurated a new era in the American postal service by depositing in the Washington postoffice the first package to be entrusted to the domestic parcel post service. The strokes of the last hour of 1912 were dying away, when the postmaster general stepped up to the window under the newly painted inscription "Parcel Post Packages" and handed in the official "first package" at the same moment the parcel post service was opened for business in every postoffice in the United States open at that hour.

Postmaster General Hitchcock's package contained a silver loving cup inclosed in a stout box. The package was addressed to J. M. Morgan, postmaster of the city of New York, and after it has made its journey to New York, it will be sent back to Washington to be engraved and preserved in the national museum to commemorate the inauguration of parcel post service.

Bought the Stamps.

The postmaster general paid for 27 cents' worth of stamps, after which he affixed them to the package, which weighted about two pounds. Of this 17 cents was for regular postage and 10 cents for "insurance" or registration. In the regular course of the mails the package would be placed on board a train leaving Washington at 2:45 a. m.

Mr. Hitchcock has ordered from the postmasters in charge of the offices reports on the workings of the parcel post to be submitted on Jan. 15. On these reports will be based a comprehensive plan for handling the new service, and the estimates for appropriations to conduct the service during the next fiscal year.

For Local Deliveries.

Several postmasters have already reported that large department store and mail order houses in the big cities such as New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Boston, have signified their intention of using the parcel post for local deliveries, to replace local express companies and private service. On the extent of this character of business will depend, to a great degree, the size of the force and equipment that will be necessary to handle the additional business to be done by the postoffice department.

This occasion marks the culmination of years of work and development and forecasts more work and development," said Postmaster General Hitchcock as he turned in his package to Assistant Postmaster Robinson and Superintendet of Registry Granville Hunt of the Washington postoffice. He deposited the first package under the fire of a battery of cameras and moving picture machines, and as he turned away from the window he held an impromptn reception for the officials who had accompanied him on his errand.

more than an hour she had heard sounds of sobbing coming from the room which was occupied by Mrs. Kline and the man. Finally she decided to investigate, and upon opening the unlocked door found the body of Mrs. Kline lying on the bed with the head on a pillow. The child was on the bed, with her arms tightly clasped about the body of her mother.

Found Mother Dead.

The child was not in the room, according to her story, when her mother died. She entered about 5 o'clock and found her mother lying on the bed in just the attitude in which she was found when the proprietor entered.

She says she tried to arouse her mother, and failing, began to cry.

The police, anxious to establish the identity of the man who had been with Mrs. Kline, asked the girl concerning his alleged marriage to her mother.

"He's not my papa," indignantly exclaimed the child. "My papa is in Toledo and he kissed us goodby at the train."

She declared the man joined them at some station on the way to Denver, though she could not say what the town is.

Mrs. Kline's parents are said to live in Galesburg, Ill.

Wife of R. E. Kline.

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 1.—The woman who was found dead in a rooming house at Denver is acknowledged by R. E. Kline, a wealthy coal dealer of this city, to be his wife. Mrs. Kline and her 6-year-old daughter mysteriously disappeared from this city, Dec. 4. Mr. Kline said that at times his wife was afflicted with mental trouble, and he believes that it was in this condition she left home. Their married life, he says, has been a happy one.

BOMB PLOTTERS BEGIN SERVING SENTENCES

the only one of the convicted men not affiliated with the Iron Workers' union, and it is expected he will be given clerical work. Ryan may be given similar work because of his age and his apparent feeble condition.

Was Memorable Trip.

It was a memorable trip which brought the prisoners over the 570 miles from Indianapolis on New Year's eve. Once started, United States Marshal Edward Schmidt decided not to reach Leavenworth before daylight, so that almost twenty hours were passed on the train.

The train was guarded at windows and doors as a rolling adjunct of the penitentiary, all the curtains being drawn and no one being permitted to give out any word as to the happenings within.

The trip across Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and into Kansas was to have been kept secret, but at every station crowds greeted the train as the "dynamiters' special," and cheers and singing at midnight showed the disposition of the prisoners toward a New Year which for them was to begin with imprisonment.

Send New Year Greetings Home.

At midnight, while passing Jefferson City, Mo., Marshal Schmidt passed around coffee, which was drunk from tin cups. Each prisoner was permitted at that time to write out New Year's messages to members of his family.

Beyond the one outburst of cheer it was a long, monotonous ride for the men, each of whom was required to sit throughout the night facing armed guards.

The train passed through Kansas City, Mo., at 8:10 o'clock this morning. The train was closely guarded and no one was permitted to approach it.

Higgins Unconscious.

F. J. Higgins of Boston, former New England organizer for the iron workers' union, became unconscious on the train and was placed in a physician's care. He is sentenced to serve two years.

When the prisoners were registered it was found that Ryan, aged 58, was the oldest and Fred Sherman, aged 28, is the youngest.

Charles Wachtmeister of Detroit, with eight children, has the largest family. He is sentenced to two years.

Almost the first question asked by Tveitmoe on entering the penitentiary was about the library. Among the treasures which he asked to be allowed to retain was a book of Latin verse inscribed by Anton Johannsen, another San Francisco labor leader, who has been indicted in Los Angeles.

Asked whether he intended to relinquish any of his affiliations on the Pacific coast, he replied "absolutely none."

Near Kansas City the prison train passed within sight of the railroad bridge across the Missouri river which Ortie E. McManigal confessed he blew up.

It had not long been daylight when the train pulled into the penitentiary yard. The prisoners' last view of the outside was a placid expanse of the Missouri river.

Hear Names For Last Time.

From the train within the prison gates the prisoners were called forth alphabetically and stood two abreast.

"Reddin and Ryan," read the United States marshal.

"Cooley and Clancy," or "Beum and Butler."

It was the last time the men were to be called by name. Hereafter they will be merely Numbers.

In the office of Deputy Warden W. H. Mackey the prisoners were relieved of their pocket possessions. Among these were photographs of wives, mothers and children.

Ryan's pockets were the first searched. He faced the deputy warden with his shoulders thrown back and head held erect. It required about three minutes thus to dispose of the prisoner. He then was taken to another room to have his prison clothes fitted.

Beum Cried Bitterly.

A photograph of three girls fell from the pocket of Charles Beum of Minneapolis, a former member of the Iron Workers' executive board. He could scarcely repeat his name. Gazing wistfully as the photograph was folded in a large yellow envelope, he raised his hands to his face and cried bitterly.

involved. Prompt action is necessary, for the bill has already slipped through the senate."

Mr. Cox is inclosing with his letter a copy of the resolution unanimously adopted by the state forestry board, which says:

"Whereas, a bill has been introduced in congress, under the terms of which the national forests will be turned over to the various states, and

"Whereas, the national forests contain more than $2,000,000,000 worth of the people's property—property which it is essential should be maintained intact for the public good—and

"Whereas, the administration of the national forests by the Federal forest service of the department of agriculture has been, and is, a credit to that department, and has been conducted to the best interests of the states in which such forests are located, and

"Whereas, the states are not prepared to take, without the co-operation of the government, as good care of such enormously valuable property as this property is now receiving from the United States forest service, and

"Whereas, the uses of the national forests in producing timber, in regulating stream flow, in controlling grazing, and in other respects, are interstate and far-reaching; now, therefore,

"Be It Resolved, That the Minnesota state forestry board earnestly protests against the proposed action on the part of congress, the effect of which would be to transfer the control of the national forests from the Federal government to the individual states. The board further deplores the fact that such legislation has even been proposed at this session of congress, since the people of the United States have repeatedly signified their approval of the splendid system under which the national forests are now administered. The board urges that the Minnesota delegation in congress exercise their strongest efforts to defeat this proposed legislation."

INDICTED MAN GIVES BONDS

Dr. Craig, Accused of Murdering Dr. Helene Knabe, Before Court.

Women Are Responsible for Search for Murderer of Physician.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 1.—Dr. William B. Craig, president of a veterinary college, who, with Alonzo M. Ragsdale, an undertaker, was indicted by the Marion county grand jury in connection with the murder of Dr. Helen Knabe on Oct. 23, 1911, appeared in criminal court and was released under $15,000 bonds.

Ragsdale was in Columbus, Ill., conducting a funeral, but probably will appear in court tomorrow and give bond. Craig was indicted for murder and Ragsdale an accessory after the fact, being charged with having made away with evidence after the murder was committed.

Insisted on Marriage.

It was learned in the evidence submitted to the grand jury that Dr. Knabe had insisted upon Dr. Craig marrying her, just a night or two before the woman was found dead. The two had been friends for many years, and were often together, but seldom were seen together in public places. Dr. Craig often took her riding in his automobile, according to testimony, and it was shown that Dr. Knabe enjoyed his society.

The indictments follow an investigation of the mysterious case made by a private detective agency, which was hired by a number of women of the city, and which made a report to the grand jury. The police, after a lengthy investigation at the time of the murder, reported that Dr. Knabe died by her own hands, and dropped the case. Coroner Durham, however, who examined many witnesses at the inquest, returned a verdict that the woman was murdered by persons unknown. The women of Indianapolis, led by Dr. Amelie Keller, an associate of Dr. Knabe raised a fund of $2,500 as a reward for the conviction of Dr. Knabe's murderer.

Was Before Grand Jury.

Dr. Craig has long been mentioned in connection with the case, and during the meeting of the grand jury last April, was called before that body and questioned several hours. At that time it was rumored an indictment would be returned against him, and Dr. Craig made a statement denying any connection with the crime.

Ragsdale's indictment came as a surprise. His name was not used in the case until a short time ago, when he was ordered by the grand jury to produce before it a silk kimona, which it was known Dr. Knabe had been accustomed to wear when answering any professional call at her door late at night. A piece was cut from the hem of the garment, and it is declared chemical analysis showed it to have been stained by human blood and that it had been washed in a strong chemical solution.

Ragsdale Was Administrator.

Ragsdale, who was administrator of Dr. Knabe's estate, explained that the kimono was found in her flat and left in his shop along with several other things of Dr. Knabe's effects which were of little or no value.

The detectives' report declared that the sworn statements of Augusta Knabe, the doctor's sister, Miss Katherine McPherson, the office girl, and Coroner Durham showed that the kimono was not in the room when the body was found.

Dr. Knabe's body was found about 8 o'clock on the morning of Aug. 13, 1911, by Miss McPherson, when she came to work. The police were not notified for more than an hour by the girl, who called the doctor's sister and other associates to the flat. Dr. Knabe lived alone in an apartment house.

That Dr. Knabe was a persistent visitor at the home of Dr. Craig for two weeks just prior to her death, is a statement in the detectives' report. The statements credited to Mrs. Tennant, Dr. Craig's housekeeper, regarding a visit to the home by Dr. Knabe, are produced in the report as coming from Dr. Eva E. Templeton, a friend of Dr. Knabe, whose services were obtained by the detective in interviewing Mrs. Tennant. The detectie did not wish to make himself known to Mrs. Tennant.

Harry W. Haskett, who has charge of a billiard hall, said he identified Dr. Craig as the man he had met on the night of the murder, after picking Dr. Craig's picture out of half a dozen others. Haskett is about 40 years old and has a wife and two children. He formerly served as a guard in the state prison, and was also at one time a policeman in Noblesville.

Dr. Craig is a widower about 40 years old, and is a native of Scotland. Ragsdale is 54 years old and is prominent in business and society.

Ironwood Mine Changes.

Ironwood, Mich., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A number of changes have been made at the Pabts mine, which is operated by the Oliver Iron Mining company, taking effect today. Capt. John Arthur, who has been at the Plummer mine, comes to the Pabts as assistant to Capt. T. J. Stevens. Joseph Stevens, former shift boss at the Pabts mine, goes to the Plummer mine as captain. John Clemmens takes the place made vacant by Joseph Stevens and William Eddy has been given the work of John Clemens, which was sampling ore.

BANKS IN THE BEST SHAPE IN FIVE YEARS

But the Stock Market Has Not Been Prosperous in 1912.

New York, Jan. 1.—The year 1912 in the financial district was far from satisfactory. In the stock market lower prices and restricted business were the most adverse features. Of the various commodity markets, the cotton exchange almost alone had an active and profitable year. The enormous crop of cotton was in itself a preventive of such disastrous and spectacular markets as were witnessed in the "booms" of recent years.

The dullness in the stock market found partial reflection in the operations of local banks and trust companies, but all these institutions are believed to be in better condition than at any time since the end of 1907, and many have added handsomely to their resources and surplus accounts. Banking houses, especially those with international connections, have felt the effect of the world-wide hardening of money, the congestion of the securities markets here and in Europe, and latterly the drain caused by the Balkan war.

Refunding operations and maturing obligations of a miscellaneous character threaten to press hard on the domestic money market during the next few months, quite apart from any fresh financing. Actual loans of clearing house banks last week exceeded deposits more than $175,000,000 and this is indicative of conditions at many important reserve centers. For this reason, it is pointed out, the money situation is being regarded with increasing solicitude and must necessarily be the most accurate barometer affecting all home projects for some time to come.

WARSHIPS SAIL TO MEET REID'S BODY

Will Convoy British Cruiser Natal on Last of Trip.

New York, Jan. 1.—Six warships sailed today for the station off the Nantucket shoals lightship, where they will meet the British cruiser Natal, bringing home the body of Whitelaw Reid, late American ambassador to Great Britain.

At 10:30 a. m., when the squadron weighed anchor, the Natal had not yet been reported at any of the wireless stations on the Atlantic coast, but since the run to Nantucket would take about ten hours, Rear Admiral B. A. Fiske, the commander, decided to start for the rendezvous this morning, and if necessary cruise off the lightship until the British cruiser appeared.

The American squadron consists of the battleships Florida and North Dakota, and the destroyers Roe, Drayton, McCall and Paulding. Rear Admiral B. A. Fiske, their commander, will meet the Natal off Nantucket, 250 miles from this port, and convoy her to anchorage in the North river.

The funeral of the ambassador will take place at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine Saturday morning.

Woman's Realm

The season of the Matinee Musicale is approaching its height with the second artist's recital of the season which will be given tomorrow evening at the Pilgrim Congregational church at 8:15 o'clock by Mme. Corinne Rider-Kelsey and Claud Cunningham. Both of these singers stand high in musical circles and their concert will be an exceptionally fine one from a standard of artistic singing and beautiful ensemble work.

With a great deal more than half of the year's program ahead and three fine artists' recitals yet to be given besides the program which will be given by artists from the Schubert club of St. Paul, memberships are still being taken out in the Matinee Musicale. A large number of new members have been added during the past week among those who are anxious to hear the fine concerts still to be given.

Lhevinne Coming.

Arrangements have just been completed for the last artist's recital of the year which will be given on Wednesday evening, March 5, when Josef Lhevinne, the eminent Russian pianist will appear in a recital. The club members are particularly delighted in being able to wind up a most successful season with a program by such a great artist. Lhevinne is often called "Rubinstein No. 2," as he has the great artist's technique, his dash and brilliancy. He is a player of magnetic personality and has a wonderful gift for bringing out all there is in his numbers.

The program tomorrow evening is eagerly anticipated by music lovers and as many of the young women who are away at college during the year are home this week the club has decided to make an exception of the rule and admit them as "out-of-town guests" to tomorrow's concert. Men as usual will be admitted to the concert upon the payment of a small admission and members will be admitted on presentation of their membership tickets.

Another event of interest which will be part of the year's program of this club will be the lecture recital which Miss Dorothy Swainson and her sister, Miss Esther Swainson will give on "Modern French Music," before the club on Jan. 18. The lecture will be illustrated with piano and 'cello numbers. These young women give a most delightful lecture recital of the highest standard of artistic excellence. They will give the same program before the Schubert club of St. Paul this month.

Other features of the club year still to come are the regular fortnightly programs many of which will be up to professional standard, the study class work and the students' frolic.

"La ci darem" (Don Giovanni) ....
"Nuit d'Azur" (arrange sur le celebre Adagio) ..... Mozart
Mme. Rider-Kelsey and Mr. Cunningham.
"Waldesgesprach" ..... Schumann

OUTLINE WORK.

Foreign and Home Societies Plan Missionary Work.

A program outlining the study for the missionary societies of the First M. E. church for the next six months has been arranged by the program committee.

These two societies, the Foreign and Home societies, are taking up distinct lines of study this season, meeting the first Wednesday of each month in the church parlors.

The interdenominational text book, which is to be used by the Foreign Missionary societies for the year is "China's New Day." It is a study of present conditions in China fascinating and well planned.

The Publication Council of Women for Home Missions, composed of representatives from nine of the largest denominations, has selected a book, "Mormanism, the Islam of America," for a text book to be used during 1913 in home missionary study. The history, beliefs and practices of the Mormons will come in for their share of attention during the year and the program for both societies at the First M. E. church for the next six months as outlined follows:

Jan. 3 at 2:30—Leader, Mrs. Haslam: subject, "In the Secret of His Presence," 3:30—Leader, Mrs. A. C. Taylor: subject, "History of the Mormons."

Feb. 5 at 2:30—Leader, Mrs. J. E. Goodman: subject, "Sacred Books of the Mormons," 3:30—Leader, Mrs. C. E. Parsons: subject, "An Educational Revolution."

March 5 at 2:30—Leader, Mrs. Paul Thompson: subject, "The Chinese Church." 3:30—Leader, Mrs. Clarence Parsons: subject, "Organization and Methods of the Mormon Church."

April 2 at 2:30—Leader, Mrs. George W. Martin: subject, "Mormonism as a Religion." 3:30—Leader, Mrs. J. E. Bratton: subject, "Medical Missions."

June 4 at 2:30—Leader, Mrs. J. H. Darling: subject, "Missions Among the Mormons." 3:30—Leader, Mrs. Frank Stanley: subject, "Gala Days In Mission Lands."

NEEDED LAWS.

Miss Meeker Speaks at Club Meeting on Charities and Corrections.

Laws which would be desirable for Duluth were outlined briefly by Miss Edna Meeker yesterday afternoon in her talk on "Charities and Corrections" which she gave at the regular meeting of the Lester Park Literary society held at the home of Mrs. M. W. Goodrich, 6025 London road.

She spoke of a needed poolroom ordinance of a needed law in regard to loans, extending the legality to cover chattel mortgages, salaries and pledges; a law requiring higher qualifications for midwives; an application of the Iowa injunction and abatement act in treating the social evil; and of the needed state law for creating a legislative reference library on the order of the municipal libraries at Baltimore, Kansas City and Milwaukee.

Miss Meeker also spoke of the new drug ordinance and its enforcement in Duluth as one of the good legislative works of the year, and the housing ordinance came in for its share of praise as a piece of progressive legislation.

The Shepherd-Kenyon act which would prevent the shipping of liquor into prohibition states was unanimously indorsed by the club members and a short account of the efforts toward peace among the Southern European powers read by Mrs. Goodrich, the hostess, was also of interest.

SHRINERS' BALL.

Many Dance at New Year's Eve Party.

The largest social event of last evening was the ball at which the Shriners were hosts at the Spalding hotel. The ball room, gay with evergreens, red shaded lights, streamers and a big Shriners' emblem outlined with twinkling lights in one end of the hall was a pretty scene for the affair and members of Aad temple, their wives and friends enjoyed one of the most delightful functions ever given by the order. Whirling crackers and tin horns distributed among the guests added to the amusement for the evening and the holiday spirit invaded every corner of the big hotel. The red fez of the Shriner added a note of interest to the scene and many handsome gowns added their share to the brilliance of the party.

Among the dancers were: Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nesbitt, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Underhill, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Norton, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherwood, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, A. LONELY DAY IN COURTROOM

"Hear Ye! Hear Ye! Hear Ye! The district court for the Eleventh judicial district, state of Minnesota, is now open!"

So proclaimed Bailiff Roger S. Lerch as he rapped his table three times with a gavel in Court Room No. 2 this morning when the hour of 10 came around. In compliance with the law which fixes the day for the opening of the January term as the first Wednesday in every January, Judge J. D. Ensign was on hand to formally open and adjourn court.

But for one lone attorney—Marion Douglas—the proclamation was delivered to empty seats. It is usual at the opening day of the term to call the calendar of civil cases but owing to the fact that the first Wednesday of the month falls on New Year's day, a postponement was taken until tomorrow. Besides Bailiff Lerch, one other court attache was on hand, William R. Wasson, deputy clerk of the district court.

Tomorrow the real opening of the term will take place. Judge Ensign will make the peremptory call of the calendar of civil cases after which the divorce mill will start to grind. The divorce cases are the first to be tried under the procedure of this court. Judge Ensign will charge the grand jury, which will convene tomorrow.

A small grist of cases will be brought before the January grand jury according to County Attorney-elect Warren E. Greene, who will have charge. It is expected that about a dozen indictments will be returned. The witnesses for the grand jury have been summoned to appear tomorrow morning.

The petit jurors will report for work on Monday next. The civil calendar is smaller than usual, there being 152 cases. Many of these will be either continued, stricken or settled and will not be brought to trial at the January term.

NEW YORK WAITERS' STRIKE FIZZLES OUT

Several Hotels Grant Employes' Demands for Bigger Pay.

New York, Jan. 1.—A general strike of hotel employes, swiftly sanctioned yesterday afternoon by the International Hotel Workers' union, died with the old year. Timed for the busiest moment fo the year, when hotels and restaurants were overflowing with the New Year's eve crowds, it sputtered a bit during the early evening, and finally fizzled out altogether.

Less than 500 men, the hotel keepers estimate, quit work. In three famous hotels where 10,000 persons kept a midnight vigil, there was not the slightest indication of a strike; in nearly all the Broadway and Harlem restaurants the usual force was working. In a few of the smaller places some slight inconvenience was caused, but the total was trivial.

In several instances, union officials said, hotel keepers granted the demand for higher wages, and in other cases requested conference later with the strike leaders.

So far as the annual throng of revellers was concerned there seemed to be no strike at all. Broadway presented its usual New Year's discord from the Battery to Harlem, with the blare of horns and the tumult of noise-making devices of every description.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Extravagance at Expense of Workers Is Deplorable.

It is hard enough, any one will agree, to work at some painstaking task eight or more hours a day for small pay, without being unable to collect it at the end of the week. But this is what happens to many employed in small dressmaking and tailoring establishments, according to one interested in the humble wage earner. She asks—can anything be done? I can only answer—let folk pay their bills or go without the new gown or suit.

The men and women at the head of these small concerns are without capital. They are dependent upon the prompt payment of all bills to settle those outstanding against them. In order to complete the clothing that several people decide they must have in a hurry, help is required. Men, women and girls are pressed into service at heart-breaking wages considering the nature of the work. And when it is finished, it either hangs on a rack uncalled for for days and weeks together or it is borne away by the owner on the receipt of partial payment, or perhaps nothing more than a promise to pay.

This leaves the dressmaker doing business on a small scale in a serious predicament. People amply able to pay their bills frequently owe large sums. They have never been without funds. Strange as it may seem, it does not dawn upon them that there are others in this world differently situated. And others and by far the majority are as mean and indifferent to the embarrassment of those who serve them as people can be. Rich they are, but their extravagances are far in excess of their income. Some one must wait. Some one must be deprived—let it be the milliner, the dressmaker, the dentist, not the indulged butterfly who has seen a new bauble and must have it at any cost.

And so it goes down the scale from the top to the bottom. People must have things, no matter what the cost or who pays it. If they can postpone the evil day of settling they will do so. And in the meantime they will go garbed in fashionable raiment. There is much talk of offending patrons and prospective customers. But the honest man or woman who means to pay will not take umbrage at what is apparent on the face of it—it takes money to keep any business going, and unless it is taken in at regular periods when work is done and delivered, it must come to demoralization and failure.

Happy New Year!

SOME RAMBLING NEW YEAR'S DAY THOUGHTS.

Somehow, New Year's day doesn't seem like much of a holiday to most of us.

It's a day off, which means that we cease from our labors—those of us at least who can ever find a day for that—and if we go to the office or store or shop it's from force of habit. The most conspicuous impression of New Year's day is that it makes the next day seem like Monday.

But it has no associations that cling to the heart and mind like those of Christmas, Thanksgiving and Fourth of July.

It's only a kind of pausing for breath, a taking of stock, an accounting of past and present before the next step forward into the veiled future.

The future, some way, seems to be a little more loomingly tangible on this day than on others, even though it is a mere incident in a man-made calendar. That's why "New Year's resolutions" are made on this day.

But New Year's resolutions have become so proverbial for flimsiness and brevity that it almost seems as though any other day is better for making good resolutions than this. However, any day is good for this purpose if you really mean to try hard to stick it out—even New Year's day.

Good resolutions are good things if they take. They're rather bad things if they don't. A resolution made and stuck to builds character just as physical exercises build muscles. Resolutions made and quickly abandoned undermine character just as indolence makes flabby muscles.

There IS one association about the passing of the old year and the coming of the new, though, and it's rather important. Especially as we grow older.

It makes us think, if we let ourselves think, how increasingly rapid is the pace of the years. As we stand in the road looking down a line of telegraph poles, those near at hand seem far apart, but the farther away they are the closer they are together. By and by they are so close together that it is hard to count them, and presently, if the country is level, they cluster together and finally mingle in the faint perspective. Life is like that. The spaces near at hand are the years of youth. They seem long and slow to pass. Those in the distance are like the years of maturity. They are so terribly close together!

The years of youth drag sluggishly along, but the years of maturity and age flash by at a bewildering pace.

It makes us think that time is passing, that life is short, that we came but yesterday and tomorrow we must go—on into the unknown, through the veil that separates time from eternity.

It ought to make us think that if we are to do anything to make our lives worth having lived, we'd better be about it. If we are to do anything during the brief passage of time that is allotted to us, anything that it will be comforting to look back upon through eternity, we ought to be getting at it.

It has been a good year—a great year—for Duluth, for the nation, for the world. Business has been good, and it grows better. Employment has been wide and wages, as wages go, high. The crops have been large and the producers got good prices for them—though the consumers paid bigger ones. There have been big problems to think about, but something has been done toward solving them. The biggest problem of all—social justice and the well being of average humanity through a wider diffusion of the fruits of the common toil—hasn't been solved yet, but everybody is thinking about it, and that means it will be solved.

Duluth never had a better year, nor did it ever face a new year with surer prospects of still better years to come. It has been a long, hard pull to get the current directed Duluthward, but it has been done, and results will quickly follow—are following, indeed, now.

We have faith that every year is better than the year before—that growth and evolution and the steady march to higher levels are obediences to immutable laws of God that we could not alter if we would.

But this year, and the years to follow, like last year and the years before, will be largely what we make them. The Herald wishes all of its readers a Happy New Year, but above all it wishes them the will to make it the best, most productive and happiest year in all their careers.

OFFERS US SEWAGE.

The News Tribune, in the matter of the water main from Lakewood, chooses the attitude of Noah's neighbors, who stood about and joshed him when he was building the ark, and telling him that it wasn't going to be much of a shower.

It says: "In case of a fire requiring a large volume of water, the Endion station was in readiness for use with a chemical purifying process installed, which would have made the water AT LEAST FAIRLY HARMLESS. This reserve for fire uses is always available, and if it should have to be used the most that would be necessary until the pipes and reservoirs could be emptied, would be boiling the water used for drinking for a few days."

"At least fairly harmless" is good! And what would the city's situation be while pipes and reservoirs were being emptied of the pollution from the Endion intake? And what would happen to those who failed to boil their drinking water?

One might think that the News Tribune was not in Duluth in the early nineties, when the Endion intake pipe, closely flanked as it is by two great sanitary sewers, was dealing death to the citizens.

No, Duluth needs an auxiliary main from Lakewood. It should not be forgotten that when the present main was installed an expert brought here by the city said that it was safe to count only on a ten-year-life of the steel main on which the city now relies, and that it is not, as stated, an inch thick, but a quarter to five-eighths of an inch thick. That is not so significant as it seems, as these thicknesses were fully tested and will stand great pressure. But though this main has held up fourteen years, there is a limit to the life of steel mains, and it is time the city was thinking about preparing for a new main regardless of what has happened.

By the way, what do you propose to do for Duluth before 1913 runs out?

BAILEY'S SWAN SONG.

Bailey of Texas is about to leave the senate. Parenthetically, this is a change we can thoroughly approve. Bailey is brilliant. He can make an eloquent and plausible speech about anything; and he is especially plausible and eloquent in his defenses of the old order and his attacks upon any change that promises better things for average humanity. So we are glad Texas grew wise, finally.

A few days ago Mr. Bailey offered the following resolution, which he will talk about in a swan song speech in a day or two:

> That such a system of direct legislation as the initiative and referendum would establish is in conflict with the representative principle on which this Republic was founded, and would, if adopted, inevitably work a radical change in the character and structure of our government.

Here are two assertions:

First, that the initiative and referendum are in conflict with the representative principle on which this Republic was founded; and

Second, that they would if adopted work a radical change in the character and structure of our government.

The first statement is absolutely untrue. Direct legislation is not a substitute for representative government, but a check upon it. With it, the people are assured that their government will be representing them, not special privilege as it has in the past. Lawmaking bodies will not be induced to refuse needed legislation when the people, by the initiative, can rebuke them by enacting it themselves. Lawmaking bodies will not be induced to enact mischievous legislation when the people, by the referendum, have the power to veto it. Incidentally, the supreme court of the United States has held that the initiative and the referendum are constitutional. It must have pained the court to disagree with Joseph Weldon Bailey, but it had to.

We hope that in a measure the second statement is true. A "radical change in the CHARACTER of our government" is needed; we hope the initiative and the referendum will make that change. There will, however, be no particular change in the "structure" of the government.

But even if Bailey were absolutely correct; even if the adoption of the principle of direct legislation were "in conflict with the representative principle on which the Republic was founded," even if its adoption worked "a radical change in the character and structure of our government;" even if every item of his indictment were a true bill, WHAT OF IT?

If change is needed, let it come, no matter how radical.

It could be no more radical a change than the American people made when they exchanged King George for the Constitution.

The Constitution is not higher than the people's interests. It has worth only so long and in so far as it serves the people. If it were clear that the good of the people required the repeal of every letter of the Constitution, nobody should worry about it. Nobody would worry about it except those more zealous to preserve the special privileges sheltered in existing conditions than they are to preserve human liberties.

When you awoke this morning you had a unique experience. It was the first time you ever woke up in the United States with the possibility of going downtown and mailing a package weighing more than four pounds.

THE FOOT-PATH TO PEACE

A Thought for the Opening Year

To be glad of life, because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars; to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them; to despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness, and to fear nothing except cowardice; to be governed by your admirations rather than by your disgusts; to covet nothing that is your neighbor's except his kindness of heart and gentleness of manners; to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends and every day of Christ; and to spend as much time as you can with body and with spirit, in God's out-of-doors—these are little guide-posts on the foot-path of peace. —HENRY VAN DYKE.

THE NEEDS OF THE WATER DEPARTMENT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Suggestions for spending money are always plentiful and the temptation to spend money unnecessarily is often more apparent in municipal affairs than in private life.

When plans for a supplementary water supply were under consideration in '96 or '97 a considerable number of city officers and citizens were in favor of a 30 or 36-inch cast iron main in place of the 42-inch riveted steel main for the reason that it would cost much less, be easier to repair and in addition to other reasons, that its installation would enable the city to duplicate it at a much earlier date, thereby adding to the safety of the supply. A 30-inch main would have supplied the city for ten years at least and saved at least one-third of the cost in investment as well as in interest charges. At the end of ten years another main could be laid which would, on its completion, doubly protect the city against interruption of service. However, at that time the riveted steel main could be manufactured at Duluth, thus patronizing home industry, while the cast iron pipe would be necessarily manufactured elsewhere. Now that we have constructed a riveted steel in place of a cast iron main, let us adhere to our plans and make the best of it. And our present situation is not so bad after all, as the steel pipe is in excellent condition and has several decided features in its favor, one of which is that, owing to its greater strength and ductility, it is not so liable to break from temperature or internal stresses, and, as a matter of fact, it has not up to the present time failed in a single instance, the present break being a failure of a cast iron check valve.

While we have placed all our eggs in one basket, I believe that with proper caution and careful organization to provide for just such emergencies as the present that the present steel main can be made to do duty with reasonable safety until the limit of its economical capacity is reached, which is probably somewhere beyond the 200,000-mark in city population.

This pipe is so constructed that as many steel plates as possible are made after one pattern, or template, all of the same pattern, being sheared, punched and reamed exactly alike. One plate of each different pattern would not make a large collection to keep in reserve with the requisite assortment of rivets, manhole castings, outlet flanges, portable forge and other requisite tools so that repairs could be promptly made. With a proper equipment and force organized in advance it should not take over twelve hours at the extreme to cut out an entire plate and replace it with a new one. In addition, a steel pipe section should be constructed of each different length of check valve, or gate, for immediate insertion in case any of the remaining gates, or check valves, should fail. Being constructed of cast iron bodies and subject to stresses not common to steel pipe they are more liable to fail.

For efficiency and dispatch in handling emergency cases, I am largely a believer in the "section" gang. For a city of this size, probably twelve or fifteen sections, served by one man only, would be sufficient to cover force main as well as distributing mains. This man would be one of the regular employes, but living near the center of a section with a telephone, valve keys and such other tools as may be necessary and above all things with a dependable map showing the exact location of each valve as well as other features. These need not be extra men, but would be on the job nights as well as days, and in case of call could arrive at the scene within a much shorter period of time, shut off the flow and promptly make the proper report to headquarters, thereby saving damage to streets and residences and expedite the repair work. This man could also clear the snow and ice from the valve stem boxes after each storm so that they would be immediately accessible at all times and he could also close and open every gate in his section once a month to see that it was in working order and not frozen up.

It is believed that the water and light department has done the best it could under the circumstances, but why not make a few changes in the circumstances? It certainly is somewhat startling to think of duplicating our present main from Lakewood at a cost of $300,000 or more when our present main is still too large to operate economically with our present consumption.

There is another question which, to my mind, is of far greater importance than the present duplication of our force main and that is the maintenance of a pure supply of water. The first is only a question of fire protection of short duration, occurring at long intervals, while the latter concerns the health and life of every citizen continuously without intermission. We are steadily drifting to the point when no one will dare drink the water without boiling, if he drinks it at all, and so far as I am informed there has been nothing done toward working out a plan that will save us from this menace. The people as a rule are always apathetic on these public questions until they are in the midst of a crisis, when immediately they become unduly alarmed and often act hastily and erroneously on some question that should have had more careful study and consideration. Let the city first organize its forces to prevent as much as possible a repetition of the present crisis or at least to shorten its duration and then plan for the future by deciding first whether it shall continue to pump water from the same pond that receives its sewage discharge, or whether it shall move the pumping station, or otherwise dispose of its sewage, or any one of a half dozen other things that might be done along the line of planning wisely for the future. These are matters, to my mind, of more pressing importance at the present time than the question of duplicating the water supply main. Sincerely yours. D. A. REED.

FARMERS ARE SEEKING MARKET.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I notice through the columns of your paper that you are interested in the work of bringing the producers of farm products into closer touch with the consumers of Duluth. So are we farmers. Our chief difficulty is not in raising an adequate food supply, but in getting the cost of production out of it. We have a farmers' club here, and if you can put us in touch with any agency that will assist us in determining what the Duluth market wants and is willing to pay a fair return for, we will try to co-operate with them in an effort to get it to them in proper shape and on a live-and-let-live basis. If you are interested, or can interest anyone else in this matter, I shall be pleased to take it up more fully at your pleasure.

A SUBSCRIBER.

THANKS FROM THE ORPHANAGE SISTERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The sisters of St. James Orphanage thank all those kind friends and benefactors who, during the past year, have so generously contributed to make the little ones under their charge comfortable. The activity and anxiety displayed by those magnanimous persons, previous to Christmas, and the success of their efforts certainly deserve considerable praise.

Those good people who were present at the Christmas tree celebration felt somewhat compensated, for the countenances of the little ones voiced what they could not express.

To each and all of our kind friends and benefactors we wish a very happy and prosperous New Year.

THE SISTERS.

The Duel.

The gingham dog and the calico cat
Side by side on the table sat;
'Twas half past twelve, and (what do you think?)
Nor one nor t'other had slept a wink!
The old Dutch clock and the Chinese plate
Appeared to know, as sure as fate,
There was going to be a terrible spat
(I wasn't there; I simply state
What was told to me by the Chinese plate!)

The gingham dog went "Bow-wow-wow,"
And the calico cat replied "Mee-ow!"
The air was littered, an hour or so,
With bits of gingham and calico,
While the old Dutch clock in the chimney place
Up with its hands before its face,
For it always dreaded a family row!
(Now, mind, I'm only telling you

The Chinese plate looked very blue,
And wailed, "Oh, dear! what shall we do?"
But the gingham dog and the calico cat
Wallowed this way and tumbled that,
Employing every tooth and claw
In the awfulest way you ever saw—
And, oh! how the gingham and calico flew!
(Don't fancy I exaggerate—
I got my news from the Chinese plate!)

Next morning, where the two had sat,
They found no trace of dog or cat;
And some folks think unto this day,
That burglars stole that pair away!
But the truth about the cat and pup
Is this—they ate each other up!
Now, what do you really think of that?
(The old Dutch clock it told me so,
And that is how I came to know.)

—Eugene Field.

Both Members.

Lippincott's: Belle and Ben had just announced their engagement.

"When we are married," said Belle, "I shall expect you to shave every morning. It's one of the rules of the club I belong to that none of its members shall marry a man who won't shave every morning."

"Oh, that's all right," replied Ben; "but what about the mornings I don't get home in time? I belong to a club too."

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—When Representative William B. McKinley waves his goodby to congress next March none will regret to see him leave the house more than Representative Charles F. Booher of Missouri.

Booher became a friend of McKinley under peculiar circumstances. At the opening of the Sixtieth congress Representative De Armond of Missouri went to John Sharp Williams, then the Democratic floor leader, and asked him to give Booher a certain committee assignment that he wanted. Booher's understanding was that he was to get it. But when the committee assignments were announced he was on one of the less important committees, to wit, the one on coinage, weights and measures, of which McKinley of Illinois was then chairman. He went over and told his friend, De Armond, of his disappointment, and De Armond put it up to John Sharp Williams. The consequence of the talk between John Sharp Williams and De Armond is history, familiar to all who take an interest in carnage. Each called the other a liar a few times, and there was one of the most entertaining little fistic encounters between them that had gladdened the galleries in many a year.

Booher had to stay on the coinage, weights and measures committee, much to his disrelish. But the funny part of it is that a few weeks later Booher wouldn't have changed committees for anything. He found that he was on the very niftiest committee in the house, because McKinley, who was and is richly cluttered up with all kinds of money, entertained the members in a lavish manner upon the slightest pretext. Every few days he gave them a big dinner. When they met for a business session the committee table was laden with fruits out of season. It was right at that time that McKinley, who is agreeable and generous to a fault, became known as the human Christmas tree. Booher would have been a supreme chump to take any other committee assignment. McKinley, knowing that he hadn't wished to be on the blamed old committee in the first place, seemed to try to make things especially pleasant for Booher. It was just like being at a big house party with the host anticipating one's every whim.

So that Booher will feel real regret when he sees McKinley packing up his things to go home.

Mrs. Champ Clark once said of her husband when momentarily vexed with him:

"Champ is utterly unlike any other man that ever lived, in each and every single particular."

Speaker Clark, by the way, is not a man to go about harboring grudges, the way an elephant is said to do. He has forgiven everybody that he thinks "threw him down" at Baltimore, with one exception, that exception being, of course, Mr. Bill Bryan.

Clark hates Bryan so bitterly that one friend of the speaker was saying the other night that he hopes the two never meet unexpectedly. Said this friend:

"If Champ were to meet Bryan on say an hour's notice, he doubtless would get himself in hand and the meeting would pass off quietly. But if he suddenly found himself in Bryan's presence without warning and his temper were aroused by the unexpected sight of him, they probably would come to blows. I hope they never meet."

The late Vice President Sherman had one great disappointment in his life. It was that in consequence of near-sightedness he had never become a great baseball player. Enthusiastic fan, though he was, every time he went to a game he was reminded sadly of his youthful ambition to be a star performer on the diamond.

There were two boys' teams in Sherman's town and he made great efforts to be on one or the other of these nines. All the boys said he was a good fellow, but a poor ball player, and they were sorry they couldn't use him. Sherman got mad and organized a nine of his own. He'd show 'em! Out of his own pocket he bought the boys all nice new uniforms and bats and balls. He himself, he said, would play first base. Except for his eyesight he would have been all right. He understood the fine points of the game well enough, but he couldn't see the ball when it came along, and that proved to be a handicap for a first baseman. So what do you suppose happened?

The boys in the nice new suits that Sherman had bought them got up and chased him off the team.

Morris Sheppard, who is to succeed Joe Bailey of Texas, in the well-known United States senate, was not favorably regarded when he first came to congress by the Rosalie Courier, a weekly paper published down in his district.

The editor of the Courier always led off his editorial columns with a few pithy sentences setting forth the status of his Bright's disease. Following right after the usual Bright's disease paragraph the issue after Sheppard had been elected contained this comment:

"Young Sheppard doesn't know a thing about parliament. We would like to know how such people get elected to congress. He has had no experience to fit him for the place. We voted for his father for congress because he had been a justice of the peace, but this fellow has never been a justice of the peace and had no business going to congress."

Easier Loans for Farmers.

Harper's Weekly: We have not observed a single really hostile comment on the plan to set up in this country banks and loan associations for the farmers on the model of those now in successful operation in Germany and France. On the contrary, the idea seems to be welcomed by all classes. All classes, apparently, are disposed to agree that the farmers ought to be enabled to borrow money more easily and on better terms. It is suggested, too, that the government ought to help in the plan, and even this feature of it has not as yet provoked any audible opposition.

Here is evidence of general goodwill to the farmers. Possibly the very great rise in the prices of farm products should be taken as in part explaining the universal readiness to make farming more and more attractive, but we do not think the feeling on the subject is mainly selfish. If it were it would work out differently. It would work out vindictively, not benevolently. People do not hold the farmers responsible in any culpable way for the rise in the prices of what they have to sell. The rest of us do not envy them the prosperity that has come to them this autumn. It is not regarded as injurious to other classes, but the opposite. We want it to continue and are willing to help make it continue.

The Senate Combine

How the State Press Sees It.

Standpatters Die Hard.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: There is a rumor that some of the old standpat war horses of the state senate have formed a combination to gain possession of that body.

Burnquist, the newly-elected lieutenant governor, is a "progressive," and among the other functions of his office is that of appointing the various committees that serve in the state senate during the legislative session, and the power means a great deal to the progressive element—and, besides, with the power in hand, the progressives are just as like as not to do something for the good of all the people, instead of for the benefit of the few pets of the administration.

The old standpatters view with alarm this power in the lieutenant governor, and they are seeking to cook up a scheme whereby they can hold the senate for Governor Eberhart and his railroad-brewery-mining combination, which has been in control of the state in most things administrative and legislative since Eberhart came into power.

It is said that the old guard cannot muster the necessary force to beat the presiding officer of the senate, and it is sincerely hoped, for the good of the state at large, that the report is true.

But they die hard, do these standpatters.

Burnquist for the People.

Buffalo Journal: The state senate appears to have been lined up with a view to preventing progressive legislation. A majority of the senators are said to have signed an agreement to stand together for the purpose of dictating the committee appointments, always before made by the lieutenant governor, and incidentally these senators can caucus and control the senate on all measures. There was talk of a move like this two years ago, when Sam Gordon was presiding officer, but it was too late to organize. Now enough Democrats are included in the combine, no doubt attracted by the promise of recognition in appointments both in senate places and other pie which would naturally belong to the Republicans exclusively. It always makes a difference whose ox is gored in these new devices for political power, but there is no danger of Mr. Burnquist, lieutenant governor, organizing the senate in the interest of the machine and corporations.

Mood of the People.

Elk River Star-News: The interests represented in the state senate are not going to tamely submit to the domination of the progressive elements in the matter of legislation the coming winter, and are endeavoring to organize for the purpose of taking away from the lieutenant governor the power to select committees. The house has already organized for progressive legislation in line with what the state is supposed to want, but the senate is lining up to antagonize the house members, and a merry struggle is looked for during the session of the legislature. Some people are so constituted that they don't know when an avalanche hits them, and it is the same way with those state senators, who think the people will stand for any nonsense from them this winter. They got a delicate hint at the polls last fall of what is coming to them if they persist in their efforts to thwart the public will.

The Prevent Legislation.

Moose Lake Star-Gazette: Now along comes the "bunch" and want to take away from Lieutenant Governor Burnquist the appointing of the committees of the senate, presumably, that is, on the ground that he will not select the right committees to suit certain interests.

It is reported that enough senators have signed an agreement to put this deal through. Political dope in the Twin City papers leads one to believe there is a deal on to tie up the senate so that the interests will be assured that legislation will not be passed that will be against their interests.

Senate Is "Progressive."

Bagley Crystal: The Minnesota senate is to become progressive. The report has it that thirty-six of the members have agreed to have all committees appointed by that body instead of letting the lieutenant governor appoint them as has been the rule heretofore. This, of course, was not necessary so long as the presiding officer was a liquor man and a reactionary, but now that the people of the state have elected a wide-awake, clean and honorable young man lieutenant governor, these wise men find that it is time the senate reforms and becomes progressive and the only way they can see to do this is to take the power of appointment out of the hands of the presiding officer of the senate and thus thwart the will of the people of the state.

Yes, the senate is progressive, all right.

Open to Condemnation.

Hinckley Enterprise: It is claimed that a combination of Democratic and machine Republican senators has been formed to rob the progressive element of the Republican party of its victory last fall and take the appointment of committees away from Lieutenant Governor Burnquist, and thus control legislation in the upper house. The move cannot be condemned too strongly. It shows the desperate straits some of the papsucking leeches of the Republican party have reached and that the progressivism of the Democratic party is wholly campaign talk. We are not in favor of many of the fool measures that have been put forward lately and labeled "progressive" and believe most of the so-called "reform" ideas would not only not benefit the people, but would work a hardship. And yet, the people have spoken, they have elected their men to office. Presumably they know what they wanted. The men are entitled to all the power given them by the voters and should not be robbed of it by the few afraid of losing office or special privilege. The people, judging from their votes, want all the wildcat schemes promised put into law and they should have them.

Our Imports From Ireland.

"Tin," answered the prize pupil.

"Wool and oatmeal."

"What from Wales?"

"Iron."

"Iron is mined in Wales, but we do not import it in America. In answering these questions you must remember that I am only asking what this country gets from the various parts of Great Britain. Now what do we get from Ireland?"

"Americans!"

Dont's

Lippincott's: Don't sprinkle salt on the tail of temptation.

Don't try to get the better of a man who hasn't any.

Don't snore in church. It's mean to keep others awake.

Don't expect Opportunity to come to you with a letter of introduction.

Don't trust to luck. Nine-tenths of the people in the world guess wrong.

Don't buy your friends. They never last as long as those you make yourself.

Don't greet Misfortune with a smile unless you are prepared for a one-sided flirtation.

Don't make good resolutions unless you constantly carry a repair kit with you.

Don't forget in times of peace to prepare for war. That's about the only use some of us seem to have for peace.

Don't fail to have an object in view. Many a man leads such an aimless existence that he could fire at random without hitting it.

Sleep.

O God, for Thine incomparable sleep—
Greatest of all Thy wondrous gifts to man—
How can we thank Thee. 'T is as though a ban
Of utter hate broke suddenly, and deep
Forgiveness lapped us round; 't is like a sweep
Of cool, wet wind through some plague-smitten khan
Where burning fever dogs each caravan.
It draws our souls from Hell, for Heaven to keep.

For without this, what other gifts avail?
Wisdom is helpless; vain are Power and Gold—
And comfort little. Suddenly pain's hold
Is loosed; through unplumbed depths of sleep we rise
To see Thy glory in the earth and skies.

DOLLAR A DAY FOR AIR.

Eight Women Get Paid for Blowing Their Breath.

New York, Jan. 1.—A dollar a day just for blowing one's breath is being paid at the laboratories of the College of Physicians and Surgeons to eight women who began their unique occupation Monday. When a representative of the laboratory went to the municipal lodging house to get recruits for the work, he barely escaped being locked up as fit for the psychopathic ward. He explained, however, that women were wanted in connection with experiments in sickroom ventilation. They were to breathe into sixteen ounce bottles imbedded in refrigerators, the food particles being removed from the breath during the passage through a rubber tube.

The condensed vapor is to be chemically analyzed, and the doctors hope through their experiments to better conditions of the atmosphere in sick rooms.

Start Montana Power Plant.

Great Falls, Mont., Jan. 1.—With the arrival here of H. L. Henry Herrick and a corps of assistants work was begun yesterday upon the construction of the power project at the Big falls of the Missouri. The project will require two years to complete and will cost $4,000,000. It is said that the plant when completed will provide the largest amount of power of any single plant of its kind in the United States with the exception of that of Niagara.

STEEL MILLS FOR CANADA

Will Spend $20,000,000 in Installation of Canadian Branch.

New York, Jan. 1.—The United States Steel corporation is to extend its manufacturing operations into the Dominion of Canada. In a statement Chairman E. H. Gary says:

"We have decided to establish a manufacturing plant at the site we secured some years ago at Sandwich, Can., just opposite Detroit. In the comparatively near future we shall commence the construction of some blast furnaces and mills. We shall probably build a wire mill, rail mill, structural mill, bar mill and perhaps some other mills. I suppose the first cost will be in the neighborhood of $20,000,000."

Judge Gary could not say just when the construction of the new plant would begin, but it is understood that all plans for it are under way. Part of the initial cost will be financed by an issue of bonds.

The United States Steel corporation's business with Canada of recent years has ranged from 350,000 to 400,000 tons annually, representing roughly from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000. The average duty on its sales in Canada has been $6 and $7 per ton. It is expected a considerable part of the new plant's output will find a market in some of Great Britain's colonies, particularly South Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

DEMOLISH HOME OF FRANCIS SCOTT KEY

Memorial Association Fails to Raise Fund to Save Building.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Workmen have begun the destruction of the old home of Francis Scott Key, author of the "Star Spangled Banner," where Key lived from 1808 to 1828. The Francis Scott Key Memorial association failed in its efforts to raise enough money to preserve the structure. The building is about 125 years old and stands near the Aqueduct bridge in Georgetown, D. C.

ONLY TWO ARE MADE PEERS IN ENGLAND

London, Jan. 1.—The New Year's list of honors, issued last night according to custom, proved disappointing. Two peerages, seventeen baronetcies and eighteen knighthoods are conferred. Government officials, manufacturers and merchants almost monopolize the awards. The stage, literature and art were ignored entirely.

The Liberal government has been criticized sharply for having previously inflated the peerage, while professing to be extremely democratic, and it caused no surprise that only two additions were made to the list, those being Sir George Sydenham Clarke, a distinguished Indian official, and Sir George Kemp, a wealthy ex-member of parliament, whose selection is considered remarkable because he recently resigned his seat on the ground that he was unable to support home rule.

Vice Admiral Sir Percy Scott received a baronetcy as a reward for his successful work in improving the gunnery of the navy, for which he devised a new system that has been recently tried with excellent results.

UNCLE SAM ONLY $3,000,000 BEHIND

Difference of $18,000,000 in Finances Over One Year Ago.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Uncle Sam closed his accounts for the year 1912 with a balance sheet of receipts and expenditures that bespoke the prosperity of the nation.

For the first half of the current fiscal year disbursements exceeded receipts by between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, according to estimates of treasury officials, the exact figures for Dec. 31 not being available. The deficit a year ago, on the other hand, was over $21,397,000.

Receipts from all sources from July to December were approximately $353,000,000, or more than $23,000,000 greater than during the corresponding period of 1911.

The aggregate expenditures for the six months were about $356,000,000. This was nearly $5,000,000 greater than for the same period last year, other increases being due mainly to large expenditures for the army and the increased pension payments as a result of the pension legislation of the last congress.

The general fund of the government contained upwards of $140,000,000, while a year ago it held only $126,926,000. The working balance of the treasury, which is the actual cash in Uncle Sam's pocketbook, amounted to about $88,000,000. The year 1911 closed with a working balance of $71,475,000.

The treasury holds about $1,253,665,000 in gold.

This includes $150,000,000 in the reserve fund, the greater part of the remainder being represented by gold certificates in circulation.

CHILDREN LOCKED IN HOUSE, BURN.

Grays Summit, Mo., Jan. 1.—The three children of Mr. and Mrs. George Meyer were burned to death in their home here. The children whose, ages were 3 years, 2 years and 9 months, were alone in the house. Mrs. Meyer was shopping. The father was working in a sand mill 300 feet from the house, but when he and other workmen, attracted by smoke, reached the house, they found the doors locked. The house was enveloped in flames before they could enter. A bucket brigade was powerless to check the flames. The oldest and youngest children were girls.

WHAT OTHER CITIES ARE DOING

Activities of Other Municipalities, Which Might or Might Not Be Copied in Duluth.

DIRECTOR PORTER of Philadelphia has completed arrangements to send two of the city's firemen to the New York fire college, where they will take a six weeks' course. The director said the men have not yet been selected, but that two will be chosen who on their return will be competent to take charge of the Philadelphia fire college which will be established.

Duluth firemen have not attended a fire college, but they attend school every day. They are kept on edge all the time, practices being in order at least four times a day. All the apparatus is hitched and the men in their places as though to pull out in response to an alarm. They are in constant training and the results which they obtain are sufficient evidence of their efficiency. For its size, it is conceded that Duluth's fire department will rank with any in the country. The heads of the department and some of the men attend various conventions, where they post themselves on the latest wrinkles in the fire fighting line, including methods and equipment.

IN THE COLD, GRAY DAWN.

"Where's everybody?" inquired a man, stopping at the desk in the Spalding hotel after a tour of the nearly deserted lobby.

"In the hay, most of 'em," was the laconic response. "It's only 9 o'clock—and this is the morning after." And the informant took a yawn with himself.

And it was nearly an hour later when the early birds began to come to. You could spot them in any of the hotel lobbies. Out of a descended elevator would issue slowly a man, holding his head tenderly with one hand. He would walk carefully and with some deliberation to the middle of the floor. Then he would stand in silent meditation for perhaps a minute, after which the spirits would move him in one of three directions—toward the bar, the breakfast room, or back to the elevator.

At the hotel bars one drink predominated, gin fizz—"tall, sour, cold and very, very wet," the orders came in person and by bellhop. Breakfast consisted largely of black coffee and grapefruit. Sometimes the grapefruit was omitted, and again the coffee—or even both, with a compromise on ice water.

Patronage in the barber shops ran largely to hot and cold towels about the head, with the massage a popular feature—and no restrictions as to application.

So there wasn't very much doing New Year's morning in the Duluth hotels. They were all "in the hay." But from one Turkish bath department ,about 10 o'clock, arose a wobbly chorus, suggestive of dry throats and repentance:

R-E-M-O-R-S-E—
The water wagon is the place for me!
Last night at 12 I felt immense,
Today I feel like thirty cents;
My eyes are bleared, my coppers hot—
I ought to eat, but I can NOT;
It is no time for mirth and laughter—
The cold, gray dawn of the Morning After!

$3.50 Recipe Free, For Weak Men.

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, failing memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his health, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, upbuilding, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4671 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.

CONTRACTS FOR EIGHT SUBMARINES.

Washington, Jan. 1.—Contracts for eight new submarines have been awarded at the navy department, the work being divided between the Lake Torpedo company of Bridgeport, Conn., and the Electric Boat company of Quincy, Mass., the former to build three and the latter five boats. One boat of the F-7 type, 565 tons, is to be constructed at Bridgeport within twenty-four months and two boats of similar type are to be built by the Lake company in the Craig shipbuilding yards, Long Beach, Cal. The contract for the first boat involves an expenditure of $535,000, and for the two built on the Pacific coast, $560,000 each.

The contracts to the Electric Boat company are for one submarine of 730 tons, type 39-E, to be delivered within two years at a cost of $615,000, and four vessels of type 37-G, to cost $535,000 each, and to be delivered within period of from twenty-two to thirty-five months. At present eight submarines are under construction on the Pacific coast and seven on the Atlantic coast.

Would You Like to Be a Strong, Husky, Healthy Fellow Once More?

New Method Without Drugs

The attached coupon entitles you to one illustrated copy of my pocket compendium and guide for the self-restoration of lost strength. (See description below.) Upon hearing from you, this valuable little book of private information for men will be sent by return mail in plain, sealed envelope. Please call or write today.

There is a new and marvelous method for restoring lost manly strength, for renewing vigor, which every man should know of, a self-restorer which operates without the use of drugs or medicines, a new way to treat yourself for your ills and weaknesses. See description below.

Please remember that a man is not one day older than he actually feels, and therefore no matter what your age, if you are young or elderly, married or single, large or small, if I can show you, reader, how you yourself, may actually add to your stature, nerves and blood the very nerve force or vigor which may have been drained away and which is necessary to make you strong, vigorous and capable again, then I have shown you the real secret of perpetual strength, and how you can again be filled with vigor, and again be just as powerful in your influence and just as thoroughly manly in your capacity as the biggest, fullest blooded, most successful fellow of your acquaintance.

The new self-treatment for the restoration of manly strength, to which I refer above, is a little light-weight VITALIZING Appliance of my invention, which is now meeting with a tremendous demand, and being used by men everywhere all over the world. This little VITALIZER, weighing only several ounces, is comfortably buckled on the body and worn all night. It is so small and so compact that even a room mate would not suspect that you were wearing it. If, however, this VITALIZER is small in size, it is not small in power, for it generates a great, tangible FORCE, which can be measured on scientific instruments—a POWER which I call VIGOR or NERVE ENERGY, and it sends this marvelous FORCE into your blood, organs and nerves while you sleep. All you have to do is to lead a decent, manly man's life, free from excesses and dissipations, then use the VITALIZER, nothing more. If this is followed out and the VITALIZER does for you what these others say it does for them, then all the pain or weakness will disappear from the small of your back—possibly from the first night's use—and you will be restored to a strong, vigorous, manly, capable man, without a single ache, pain or weakness. Please remember, I am not asking you to buy one of these VITALIZERS, but merely request you to first send for the free book described below, a section of which is devoted to an explanation of this VITALIZER, and gives you its whole wonderful story, so that you may know what intelligent young and elderly men everywhere are saying about it.

STRONG MEN RULE THE WORLD.

This Is the Book You Get Free

My 86-page illustrated booklet (pocket size) was compiled by me to answer fully and correctly those questions which are asked privately by any man needing new strength and who seeks personal advice pertaining to the ailments and weaknesses he wishes to overcome. It also fully describes my VITALIZER and tells how you may secure one to use in your own case, should you decide you want to use one. Remember the book is sent absolutely free, in plain, sealed envelope. Why not write for a copy today? Or, if nearby, please call. Hours—9 to 6. Sundays—10 to 1.

NEW YEAR'S EVE IN WEST DULUTH

Skating, Curling and Watch Night Services Divide Attention.

The incoming of the new year was celebrated last evening with watch-night services at all the local churches, a special skating party at the Western Curling club and entertainments by local fraternal organizations in the various halls.

At the Curling club skating was enjoyed by the skaters until ten minutes after midnight. Baldwin's band furnished the music during the evening.

Rev. C. V. S. Engstrom of the Swedish Mission church, Fifty-ninth avenue west and Greene street, conducted a watch-night service at 10:30 o'clock. The young people entertained during the early part of the evening, serving refreshments at the completion of the program. The Men's league of the Elim Swedish Lutheran church, Fifty-sixth avenue west and Ellnor street, entertained the members of the church last evening, preceding the watch-night service conducted at 10:30 o'clock by Rev. J. A. Krantz. A program of addresses, recitations and musical selections was featured.

The young people of the Asbury M. E. church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street, were entertained at a watch-night party at the home of Mrs. W. H. Farrell, 6009 Raleigh street. NEW PASSENGER DEPOT JOB LET Canadian Northern Road Will Soon Announce the Successful Bidder.

The contract for the new Canadian Northern station, Central and Grand avenues, will be awarded this week by Resident Engineer J. L. Pickles. Bids have been received from a number of local contractors and have already been opened by the local office, but not yet passed upon by the officials at Winnipeg. The successful contractor will be announced either tomorrow or Friday.

Work will start at once and will be completed by March 1. The building will be of frame, two stories high, with a basement. Trains will be boarded from the second story where the main waiting room, 25 by 23 feet, will be located.

The building will front 55 feet on Grand avenue and 24 feet on Central. It will run within about 30 feet of the corner, thus allowing for a triangular court, upon which the building will front. The court will be paved to both sidewalks.

There will be two smaller waiting rooms, several offices, toilet and baggage rooms on the first floor. In addition to the large waiting room on the second floor, there will be a baggage runway, with elevators. There will also be a passenger elevator. A 600-foot platform will be erected alongside the track on each side of the station. The platform will be about ten feet wide and will extend across both Grand and Central avenues.

Mr. Pickles announced yesterday that the new station will only be used for passenger service and express and that the freight station will be located at Sixty-third avenue west.

Elect Officers.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eight avenue west and Ramsey street, held its semi-annual election of officers last evening. The officers for the year are: Loyal F. Schoberg, president; Miss Florence Melin, vice president, and Harold Nichols, secretary-treasurer.

Each rink must win two out of three games played to represent the local club. Four rinks are to be chosen, of which Wade and Keyes have already been selected, they having won their two games.

There will be ice skating both this afternoon and evening. Baldwin's band will play during the day.

YEAR 1913 HOLDS MUCH FOR DULUTH

"The Soo line is building from Fordville, N. D., through Drake, N. D., to Great Falls, Mont. This will be practically a direct line from Duluth and the rates and service on both of these extensions will be the same from Duluth as from competitive centers.

"I would like to call the attention of Duluth citizens to the rapid settlement of the vacant lands in Northern Minnesota. The Great Northern alone during the last year has brought in 100 cars of immigrant movables, to points in Northern Minnesota in excess of the number of cars of immigrant movables taken to North Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington combined. All these developments along the line of increasing the population in the territory immediately tributary to Duluth spells prosperity for years to come.

"In this connection I might add that the Soo Line is now arranging to build a cut-off of from Lawler, Minn., to Duluth, in order to make a shorter and more attractive route from its northern points. That, in itself, is more important to Duluth institutions than they realize, I think."

Canadian Northern.

In the line of railroad construction and improvement may be mentioned the building of the Canadian Northern, and the consequent freight and passenger service. Just now freight trains are being run tri-weekly with a passenger coach attached for accommodation, emerging from and entering the Omaha depot; but early in the spring it is promised, daily freight service and daily passenger service will be installed. This opens up a new territory, which is being taken advantage of by Duluth shippers and wholesalers.

Also in the railroad line is the new belt line to be completed around Duluth and Superior during the year. This is similar to the belt lines that surround Chicago and other large centers and is a result of the building of the new steel plant at Gary. It will connect with every road that runs into Duluth and will make possible the quick dispatching of cars and swift interchange between the roads.

New Highways.

An item not to be overlooked in the improvements to be consummated this year is the building of highways, which form commercial arteries for Duluth. There are four of special importance to be finished in 1913. One is that already building between Duluth and the Twin Cities. The Automobile club and the Commercial club are cooperating with similar organizations in Minneapolis to have this constructed. There is not a great deal to do on it but there are spots that must be built up, and petitions to have this work done under the Elweli law are being circulated. Then there is the Duluth-Moorhead road, and the state highway known as the Duluth-St. Vincent road, which opens up a territory that is claimed to be rich in opportunity. The road from Port Arthur, Ont., will give a high-class roadway from the Canadian Head of the Lakes thrcugh Duluth, this being the pivotal point, to the Gulf of Mexico. It also makes St. Louis, Lake and Cook counties more important than ever as summer resorts.

Then there is the steel plant, which it is believed will be finished and in working order this year. Coincident with that will be the plant of the Universal Portland Cement company, which is within the enclosure of the steel plant. An effort made to find out about the number of men to be engaged by these plants resulted in the statement that even the officials did not know, but that there will be an enormous number.

Dr. B. M. Rastall, secretary of the industrial department of the Duluth Commercial club, informs The Herald that there are in prospect the installation by a company to be formed of a plant for the manufacture of a pressed brick to be made out of sand and cement; also the formation of a company for the manufacture of cement blocks; the installation of a wholesale bread bakery, and other things. During the ensuing year there will be built two of the largest coal docks in the world by the Berwind Fuel company and the Pittsburgh Fuel company. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern road will, during the current year, construct the largest ore dock in the world, containing 384 pockets, each of 300 tons capacity, and almost a mile long.

The Duluth Show Case company will triple its capacity this year, and the Diamond Calk company will double its size. Winkler Bros. are erecting a building on West Michigan street between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenue west in which they will install a factory for the manufacture of high grade candies. Stott & Son, who are coming from Winona, will install a glove factory soon on West Superior street between the avenues mentioned. T. W. Wahl is erecting a building on West Second street in which there will be a number of manufacturing concerns, the names of which he is not yet ready to disclose. At West Duluth during the year will be installed a manufacturing concern which will construct farming machinery of various kinds.

Dr. Rastall says also that there is a good prospect for the current year of there being established here pulp and paper mills, and he looks for as many as two or three of these projects to mature during the year. He has also information regarding a macaroni factory.

Aside from these prospects are those of two elevators of large capacity. One is to be erected by the Great Northern road and the other by the Consolidated Elevator company.

As to improvements in general there are more than can be summoned to memory at present. It is claimed that in Duluth during this year of grace there will be in the neighborhood of $20,000,000 spent for improvements now in sight, let alone those that will develop as necessities later on in the year.

By no means the least of the improvements is that of F. A. Patrick & Co. During the present year that company will build at the West end one of the largest knitting mills in the world, and will add to its present capacity to such an extent as to put it in a class by itself.

CUYUNA ENTERING UPON FINE YEAR

Cuyuna, Minn., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new year holds much in store for Cuyuna and it is destined to forge ahead at a rapid pace if all the proposed developments are realized. This town is receiving much trade from the townships to the north which formerly went to Aitkin, but owing to the activity of a live commercial club it has been materially diverted to this progressive place. With the bridge which is being proposed across Rabbit lake and the renewed efforts on the part of the Commercial club, it is possible that all trade to the north can be diverted from the former lumber town.

Business opportunities here are plentiful and seem to multiply. Businessmen are unusually busy and workingmen are all employed, which is evidenced by the fact that Supt. Kruse of the Rogers-Brown Ore company recently stated that the mine could employ fifty more men were they available.

TAXING METHODS TO BE DISCUSSED

Two North Dakota Organizations to Have Conference at Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—A joint conference of the North Dakota State Tax association and the North Dakota Municipal league will be held here Jan. 15 and 16, the first of its kind ever held in the state, to bring about a better understanding of taxation methods and the launching of a movement for their improvement.

There will be a big attendance of city officials and of members of the tax association, according to the advices received. This will be the fifth meeting of the tax association and the second of the municipal league.

First Day's Session.

The forenoon of the first day will be given over to organization and a discussion of present North Dakota taxation laws. In the afternoon city tax problems, special assessment for paving, sewers and watermains, and the taxation of gas franchises, will be considered. The evening will be given over to a discussion of methods of taxation, publicity of assessments and county assesors.

The next morning the general topic will be the farmer's interest in taxation. Real estate taxation and exemptions, mortgage taxation and classification of property for taxation, are the sub-topics. In the afternoon the general topic is corporation taxation, divided under the heads of banks, railroads, telephone and insurance companies.

IS ACTIVE AT 90.

St. Cloud, Minn., Jan. 1.—With but probably one exception John Schwartz, still actively engaged in business, is the oldest man in St. Cloud.

By a margin of several years he is the oldest business man in the city both in point of years and residence in the Granite City. Despite the fact that on Christmas eve he celebrated his ninetieth birthday, Mr. Schwartz appears daily at his harness store in which he has been found almost 310 days of the year during the past fifty-four years. He is still master of the punch, awl, needle and other implements of the harness shop and takes as great delight today in turning out a well made harness as he did the day he arrived from Germany over half a century ago.

TAWNEY MAY HOLD POSTOFFICE LONG

Winona, Minn., Jan. 1.—It is reported in official circles at Washington that George P. Tawney will be re-appointed as postmaster of Winona if the commission is dated back to the end of his recent commission. This would place the time yet to serve at about three years. The Democrats are opposed to having the appointment dated now, as this would give the Winona man nine years on two appointments.

ST. PAUL BOASTS WOMEN POLICEMEN.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 1.—Mayor H. P. Keller has appointed two women as regular members of the police department—Mrs. Margaret Kelly and Mrs. William Moore. The appointments were made in accordance with a recently enacted city ordinance. The two police women assumed their new duties last night by watching the old year out and the new year in at the dance halls, where the authorities claim young girls are surrounded by bad influences. They will report what they saw to the mayor as they have no authority to make arrests.

Father Finds Son Dead.

Stanley, N. D., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—When James Larson went to the room of his son, Peter Larson, aged 23, to call him to get up in the morning, he found the young man had been stricken by heart failure, and he died within a few minutes without regaining consciousness. He had been in apparent good health the evening previous.

BIG ST. PAUL BANK.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 1.—The capital stock of the First National bank yesterday was increased from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000, and its surplus from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

James J. Hill yesterday paid to the First National bank more than $6,000,000.

An official announcement that the capital and surplus had been increased and all paid in was made by E. H. Bailey, president. At the same time Mr. Bailey announced that Mr. Hill had paid for the stock of the bank which he contracted for some weeks ago.

Darius Miller, president of the Burlington railroad was elected a director of the First National bank. W. B. Dean, president of the Second National bank, Walter Butler of Butler Bros., and Albert N. Ross also were elected directors. The late Frank P. Shepard, D. C. Shepard, E. H. Cutler and H. E. Thompson are the old directors dropped.

The annual meeting of the First National bank will be held Jan. 14 and there probably will be further changes in the directorate then.

The First National bank now equals in resources the Northwestern National of Minneapolis, which for years has been the largest in the Northwest.

The report is current in financial circles here that railroad accounts involving many millions of dollars that have heretofore been carried in Chicago and New York, will now come to St. Paul.

JAMES WOULD AMEND.

Hancock Senator Proposes Changes in Workingmen's Compensation Act.

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Although the compensation act in the main, will be left alone by the new Michigan legislature and will be given a fair trial, this does not mean that no amendments at all are to be submitted for it. Senator W. Frank James of Hancock, who may be named president of the senate, will introduce at least two amendments.

Mr. James will urge that compensation for minor injuries date from the eighth instead of from the fifteenth day, as now, in case injuries are of less than one month's duration, and from the first day for injuries lasting more than one month. The eighth day provision is in line with the policy of accident insurance companies and will avoid any possibility of faking. It is believed that this amendment will pass the legislature.

Senator James will also propose that compensation under the law be paid directly by the employer, the law as it now stands giving either the employer or the insurance company this right. He believes that if this amendment passes settlements will be made much more promptly and without inconvenience to the beneficiary. It is believed an insurance company would make payments more promptly to its corporation patrons than to individuals from whom it gets no business.

THIEF IS CARELESS.

Winona, Minn., Jan. 1.—A chicken thief at the coop of M. J. Meynorek was so careless as to chop off the heads of some of the chickens, and the police followed the blood trails on the snow to the home of Harry Grulkowski, where six of the thirteen chickens taken were found.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Gossip, Comment and Sporting Editorial Review as Written By Bruce.

DR. HOVDE, president of the Duluth Ski club, yesterday put a copper on the story that the Duluth club was mildly considering the proposition of returning to the National Ski association. The good doctor stated that there was no chance for the Duluth organization to return to the fold while conditions are such as they are at the present time.

"St. Paul will stand with us in the move to make skiing purely an amateur institution," said Dr. Hovde yesterday. "The national association has made two classes, one for the professional and one for the amateur riders. Our experience with the professional riders has been far from satisfactory. We have cast our lot with the amateurs, and our tournament held here will be open only to the riders who are in the sport for the love of it."

Dr. Hovde and the directors of the club will receive the support of the followers of skiing for the stand they have taken. Duluth, in the old days, was the greatest ski center in North America. It was the scene of the national tournaments and the greatest riders in the country participated in the meets.

Then came the throw down of the club by men who had been earning good money through the efforts of the local organization—and the end of the professional rider, as far as the Duluth Ski club is concerned.

It may require years of laborious effort to bring the amateur meets up to the old standard of interest; and yet the directors of the ski club are men of fighting spirit and are guided by a clear sense of fair play, and with the firm stand taken by Dr. Hovde, there is not the least doubt in the world but that the policy of the Duluth association will be rewarded with success in the long run.

There never has been a principle that was not worth fighting for; and the principle of amateur ski riding, which is followed altogether by the clubs of Europe, is one that will prosper in the end.

Tom O'Rourke, the inimitable, droll and shrewd leader of the concrete-domed fighter, tells a good story on Tom Sharkey. O'Rourke has a host—he managed the sailor.

"Sharkey was managing Jim Barry," said O'Rourke to one of the Los Angeles scribes, "and he was endeavoring to show his white hope a block for a right swing. Barry didn't fancy the move and was slow about following the instruction of his mentor.

"Suddenly the marine lost his temper. Quickly he whipped that old right swing of his over, and down went Jim Barry, dead to the world and all these little worldly worries.

"'Take that you stiff,' cried Tom, as he left the gymnasium and gave up the hope he was the manager of but five minutes previous."

A dispatch from the Copper country says the Portage Lake hockey team is going after the world's amateur hockey championship. The wire news further states that games will be scheduled with the Duluth seven.

With the completion of the new hockey rink and the getting down to hard practice of the Duluth hockey team, fans in that part of the country are going to see some of the best hockey that is played in the West.

The ambition of the Portage Lake seven is laudable and should be aped by the members of the local team. With players like Joe Linder and Dr. John Tamblyn to form the nucleus of its makeup, there is no reason why we can't put one of the best aggregations in the entire country in the field.

Ray Fenton, a member of the hockey committee of the Curling club, is of the opinion that the Duluth team is going to be one of the very best in the West. We all hope so, and what's more, we are all eagerly waiting for the playing of some of the games on the magnificent big rink.

What is it about Zbyszko Cyganlewicz that has won this giant of the mat perhaps the largest following in the wrestling world? There are several answers to the query.

In the first place, Zbyszko has a real personality. The giant speaks seven languages and is really—not on paper—a college man. Then again he is one of the real wrestlers of the world. When he first came over here he knew comparatively little of the catch-as-catch-can style. Despite this fact, Frank A. Gotch stands as the only man who ever threw the Pole.

The architecture of St. Paul's at Rome has always created admiration and wonderment, and the same thing is more or less true of other great towering buildings throughout the world.

The physical conformation of Zbyszko has always been one of the wonders of trainers, followers of athletics and the laymen in general. His huge chest, column-like limbs, arms that resemble the branches of an oak tree, and remarkable back development bespeak almost supernatural strength and endurance.

Zbyszko has made two wrestling campaigns that would kill the ordinary athlete, and the giant Pole seems to thrive on this strenuousness. He is a marvelous athlete, in addition to his other qualities, and this, perhaps, is the chief reason why the former Polish army officer is the most popular wrestler that has ever visited this country.

On the square, now, what do you think of this? You couldn't guess it, so there is really not the least use in trying. Listen while we shoot it: Willie Ritchie is going to fight Battling Nelson.

Bill Nolan—remember 'im?—well, he sort of has a soft place in his heart for the old Battler. And he up and says, 'e does, that if the tough old Dane wants to try one of these dainty limited round orgies the art things with Willie, why, bring 'im on.

Back in May, 1909, the Battler played Fighting Dick Hyland twenty-three rounds for the fight pictures. Some of you will recall the fact that the Dane plunged and purchased the rights of the pictures before the fight. Then he, like a shrewd bargainer, saved Hyland until the skidoo round and then sloughed him off with one well-delivered crack on the jaw.

Nelson was just on the down grade then. Sharp-eyed ring critics—real ones—detected a slowing up of the wonderful boy from Hedgewisch. But 1913 is rolling into view and behold the same Durable Dane is still strong; what's more, he has secured the services of the man who, more than any other agency, enabled him to beat Joe Gans.

M'GOORTY SLATES FIGHT

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Marty Forkins, agent for Eddie McGoorty, most famous and favored athletic son of Oshkosh, Wis., has clinched a match for Milwaukee, Wis., with Jimmy Clabby of that place and Hammond, Ind.

Frank Mulkern, acting for one of the athletic clubs that expect to reopen the boxing game in the Cream City, had a long conversation with Marty on the telephone and terms were arranged for the proposed meeting, the date being about Jan. 25 with a leeway of a couple of days either way. Mulkern expressed the opinion that everything would be all right for the lid-lifting there by the lake and Forkins was well satisfied with what was told him.

Forkins, it appears, has been sparring around about as lively as McGoorty ever did. He has been trying to figure out how to be in two places at the same time with his fighter. Among other things Eddie's manager has been compelled to do, was to shift his New York schedule to conform with what was offered here in the West. From present indications McGoorty will box Freddie Hicks of Detroit in New York on Jan. 8, and will take on Jack McKerron of Philadelphia on the fifteenth. Then he will return to the West and put in the remainder of the month in this vicinity.

Among things in prospect around here is the proposed return engagement between McGoorty and George Brown, the Greek fighter. One of the nearby clubs is figuring on the contest about the last week in January and Forkins already has promised to have his man here to fill the engagement.

Clabby has not been in Milwaukee since he and Mike Gibbons had a decidedly unsatisfactory contest in Milwaukee, nearly a year and a half ago. That fight was the same as the one in New York between McGoorty and Gibbons. Clabby is a strong favorite in Milwaukee, where he has done some of his best work.

BURNS A FAVORITE.

Has Edge in Betting Over Fight With Tommy Murphy.

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Tommy Murphy of New York, and Frankie Burns of Oakland, will start a twenty-round bout here this afternoon. The men must weigh in at 135 pounds at 10 o'clock.

Burns, a youngster, is a slight favorite in the betting over the veteran Murphy, because of his youth, and because he knocked out "One-Round" Hogan in short order, whereas Murphy and Hogan fought twenty rounds to a draw. Ad Wolgast forced Burns' seconds to throw the sponge into the ring in the seventeenth round a year ago.

Golf Scores.

WHITE CHAMPION WILL BE MADE AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 1.—Al Palzer of Ossian, Iowa, and Luther McCarty of Springfield, Mo., will meet in a 20-round bout at the Vernon arena today, and the victor will be proclaimed white heavyweight champion pugilist of the world.

Despite the efforts to make Palzer a favorite in the betting, even money continues to prevail, although some small bets were made at 10 to 6, with McCarty the short ender. Most of the heavy bets were made at even money.

Both men are declared by their respective managers to be in perfect condition, but it has been hinted that Palzer has not become fully acclimated, and that he has not shaken off the effects of a recent indisposition. Sporting experts seem very evenly divided in their predictions as to the winner. McCarty will weigh in at about 205 and Palzer around 223.

FIGHT LOOKS EVEN.

Chicago Sporting Writer Believes Scrap Is Clean and Square.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—A well known sporting writer has this to say of the fight at Los Angeles:

"Not since the 1910 affair at Reno has such betting on a glove contest been shown as that being done right now on the big fellows in Los Angeles this afternoon. Even money prevailing around Chicago and the bank rolls are being uncovered in amazing style.

"This would go to show that the elimination trials started and now successfully concluded by Tom McCarey of Los Angeles, have hit a most popular chord. Further, it indicates that the winner of this battle, if he comes out of the contest in clean-cut style, will generally be accepted as the real thing in the line of a new white champion.

"In every one of the resorts there is a bundle of coin to be placed on this man or that one. All of the betting men, who ordinarily do not offer to place more than a ten spot on the average fight that comes up, are unbending to the extent of hundreds on this struggle.

"One of the most delightful things about this battle is the entire absence of usual reports from the wise men of the business who start this rumor or that one to the effect that the contest is a frameup for one or the other to win. Such rumors would be laughed at, and perhaps that is one of the very reasons why they are not being sprung. Everybody knows that neither man would fake if he wanted to, as there is no incentive for anything like that. There is, to the contrary, every reason for the men to do their level best this time, as the winner is in direct line to gather in a big chunk of the coin.

"To me, this battle has looked right along as the toughest we have had to dope out in years and years. It looks like a dead-level, dead-even and dead-tough fight at any angle. I have been inclined right along to think that Palzer had a shade—a very small shade—the better chance to come through with a victory, because of his enormous strength and almost fathomless ability to assimilate punishment.

"There is no gainsaying the tremendous strength possessed by the Iowa product. He has it to give away, and most of his battles have demonstrated that he can take it in large gobs. Also he is capable of giving it. Take his battle with Bombardier Wells as a good instance. Wells stood the Iowa giant fairly on the top of his head with a left smash on the point of the chin. It looked like a clean knockout. But it was not. Palzer came back in amazing fashion and inside of another round he had whanged the Englishman into a quiescent state. He is crude and rough in the sense of being clumsy and slow. But he makes up for this in marvelous recuperative powers. Being young and fresh and undefiled by punishment or any long, gruelling battles, he should be one of the toughest men in the game to down right now."

Followers of the boxing game today recalled that Luther McCarthy's rise to publicity dates from his knockout of Carl Morris at Springfield, Mo. Prior to that time, although he had a good list of knockouts, little attention was paid to him. One well known promoter passed him up on the ground that he was "yellow." McCarty has beaten a few men since the Morris bout, and was by many believed to have been outpointed by both Jim Stewart and Jess Willard. His forte is a distance mill, however, as he is a tremendous punisher.

McCarty's victory virtually makes him a world's champion, for a time at least, as he has won the Tom McCarey belt. If he beats Palzer today he will be hailed as the best heavyweight in the game.

MANY BASEBALL STARS RETIRED DURING PAST YEAR

Old Father Time was one of the busiest performers of the season of 1912 and knocked out more old stars in the major league cmpaigns than in any other year in a decade. Many famous diamond warriors who had occupied the spotlight for years succumbed to haymakers administered by the irrepressible old man.

One of pop's earliest victims in 1912 was old Cy Young. Cy gave Mr. Time a hand-to-hand battle, and several times pop almost came to the conclusion that Cy was immune and was tempted to give up the fight.

But the great Cyrus finally was pinned to the mat. He went South with the Boston Braves last spring, and for once his wonderful right wing refused to round into condition. Cy refused to give up and retired to his farm, hoping to find the elixir of youth there.

Along in midseason Cy was knocked out of the box by a bunch of country jays, and then the Grand Old Man was convinced. He vowed never to get into a baseball uniform again, and with Cy's vow passed one of the most wonderful pitchers baseball ever knew.

Young, however, was not the only star pitcher to retire from major league baseball in 1912. Mordecai Brown of the Cubs and "Wild Bill" Donovan of the Tigers are other former prize twirlers who flipped their last big league games in the season just passed. An injury to his leg helped to shorten the career of Brown, but Donovan played out his string and ended the season as manager of the Providence team. Wild Bill pitched for the Brooklyns before the American league ever threatened to invade the East.

Summers Also Victim.

"Kickapoo Eddie" Summers, also of the Tigers, was another pitcher of more than ordinary ability who was lassoed by Father Time last season. A sore wing assisted pop in Summers' case.

Cy Morgan, the cross-roads cutup of the Athletics, was another capable mound artist to take a brodie out of the majors. Cy was sent to Kansas City by Connie Mack, but went into vaudeville instead.

Other lesser lights on the hurling hill to turn in their big league uniforms last season were King Cole, the boy wonder, who led the National league pitchers in 1910; Barney Pelty, a time-honored member of the Browns, who finished his major league career with Washington; Harry Krause of the Athletics and Cleveland, who was a marvel in 1909, and Jim Vaughn and Jack Quinn, both of the Highlanders.

Perhaps the catching department was assailed the hardest by Father Time in his 1912 attack. The backstops pop captured last season were in their day the best in the country. Four years ago Johnny Kling was the greatest catcher in the National league, and Billy Sullivan and Gabby Street divided the honors in the American league. All three of these former stars are through as big leaguers, though Kling is retiring of his own accord.

Bergen and Schmidt Pass.

Charley Schmidt, once of the Tigers, is another fine catcher who took a ride in the minor league special list last season. Schmidt was a fizzle in the world's series games he was called on to catch, but was a steady man in the American league. Bill Bergen, who several years ago was the peer of any catcher in the country, was released by the Superbas before the opening of the 1912 season.

Pat Moran never was in the Kling-Sullivan-Street class, but was a fairly nifty receiver at that. He also caught his final big league game last season. Roger Bresnahan may join the galaxy of former catching stars and go into retirement unless the Cardinals come across with $40,000.

Two former star first basemen ended their playing days last season. Frank Chance played a few games early in the season before his head compelled him to quit the diamond for good. Harry Davis got disgusted with the work of his first baseman in Cleveland and jumped into the fray himself. Harry stuck it out for one day and then came to the conclusion his playing days were over.

The best-known second baseman to fade from the big league map last season was Jim Delehanty. Delehanty's legs troubled him for several seasons. "Germany" Schaefer, who also earned distinction as a second baseman for the Tigers, is pretty near through as a player, but he will be kept in Washington for the capacity of clown.

Jack Knight represents Father Time's raid on the big league shortstop department, though Long Jack has not played that position for some time. Still, it is the position where he showed at his best. Jack fell out of the fast set once before and came back, but he now appears to be through as a big leaguer.

Arthur Devlin Also Fades.

Arthur Devlin, once the star third baseman of the country, is another brilliant performer of former days who will draw his salary from a minor league coffer next season. Artful Artie has not been released by Boston, but President Gaffney says he will not be with the team next year. Harry Wolverton also played his last game at third base on a big league diamond in 1912.

Father Time was not as hard on the outfielders as he was on the other departments. His best-known victims in the outskirts were Danny Murphy, Briscoe Lord and Matty McIntyre. Murphy had to quit before his time on account of an injury to his leg, the same as Mordecai Brown, but Danny is nearer 40 than 30.

Lord came back once before after a trip to the minors, but he is getting heavy, and is probably in the bushes for good. McIntyre, the Staten Island boy, had a long and honorable career in the big leagues and gave old pop a grand battle. In 1901 he played with the Athletics, so he is no longer a spring chicken.

It is a strange coincidence, however, that the best batting average either Lord or McIntyre hammered out in their big league careers was made in 1911. Bris hit for .312 and Matty .323. Last season McIntyre's average was half what it was in 1911. In forty-five game he batted for only .147. Lord's decline in hitting was not as marked, but he toppled to .238.

PORTAGE LAKE IS SURE AMBITIOUS

Calumet, Mich., Jan. 1.—The Portage Lake hockey team of Houghton and Hancock, made up of former stars of the Copper country's half dozen big teams, is going out after the world's amateur championship, just the same as Cleveland, Detroit, Pittsburg, the New York Crescents and others of the big sevens.

The Portage Lake management has already arranged games with the Duluth seven, although the dates for these games have not been set as yet, and with Detroit and Cleveland. All three of these teams are to play at Houghton, and Portage Lake will play in their home rinks. Winnipeg, too, will send a strong team to the Copper country early this winter, as will Port Arthur and Fort William, Ont. Games will also be played with teams in the International Shore league, with the two Soos, Sudbury and other teams.

Jack Mahan, the crack left wing player, has just returned from Philadelphia and taken his place with the Portage Lakes. Mahan probably has no equal in this position outside of the big professional teams of Canada and, many say, can even play up to the standard set by the great Freddie Lake, who starred at left wing with two world's champion Portage Lake professional teams in the International league.

Carlos Haug, a University of Michigan man and star net guardian, will tend goal for the Portage Lakes, while the team will be captained by Paul Hogan, formerly of the Mohawk amateur champions.

IT'S UP TO BILL.

Reidy, Manager of San Francisco Ball Club, Is Missing.

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Lost: One baseball manager. Finder will please communicate with J. Cal Ewing, owner of the San Francisco club.

Ewing has not heard from "Bill" Reidy, his manager since Dec. 1 and has announced that if Reidy does not make his whereabouts known before Jan. 15, Harry Walton, now secretary of the club, will take active charge. Reidy's last word was that he was going to Cleveland, his home.

"Doc" Gill Sold.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 1.—Warren Gill, for four years first baseman of the Minneapolis association team, and previous to that time a player on the Pittsburg team and the Chicago American club, was sold by President Mike Cantillon to Los Angeles of the Pacific coast league. Hill formerly lived in Kansas City, but since the 1912 season closed, has been making his home in Los Angeles.

CANTILLON DECLARES IN FAVOR OF INVASION OF TWINS

Minneapolis President Says He Wants See-Eye League to Enter American Association Territory.

President Harry A. Blume of the See-Eye league yesterday got in touch with Mike Cantilon, president of the Minneapolis club, through the medium of the long distance telephone. He definitely ascertained that the executive head of the Milltown club is in favor of the See-Eye invasion, and he also learned that the meeting of the American association magnates has been postponed until Jan. 16.

The See-Eye head immediately got busy and sent out notices to some of the club owners of this league, notifying them that there would not be any meeting of the Central International until after the gathering of the American association magnates.

President Stanchfield of the Grand Forks club wants to go to California early the present month and Mr. Blume is trying to prevail upon him to stay in the frozen North until after some decision is reached by the committee of the American association.

Until the meeting is over there will probably be nothing accomplished in the 1913 plans of the See-Eye. There is little use in going ahead and making plans that would have to be undone, should the golden hope of invading the Twin Cities be realized.

Eddie Herr, well known as one of the staunch club leaders during the turbulent days of the old Northern league, is dickering for a berth in the See-Eye. It is very probable that Edward would like nothing better than to return to his old love, the Winnipeg team.

In the old days he was one of the best managers in the league, and Winnipeg will doubtless thoroughly appreciate a leader of the caliber of Herr Herr.

Just what is going to be done in the village across the way, the yokels over there have not the least idea; in fact, 'tis said that they are not sure that baseball will be one of the leading sports the coming summer.

Sommers stands pat on the platform of retirement. He says he is through with the game and that his franchise is for sale. Maybe Superior will have a new owner the coming season—maybe the suburb of Duluth won't have any team at all.

THE JAP HAS SOMETHING ON MILLER, SAYS KING ED.

Ed. Adamson, veteran of the game and one of the greatest wrestlers that the big world ever threw up on the wrestling shore, says Matsuda will be behind Miller the greater part of their match.

"Mattie will be glued to Walter's back, and like the little Old Man of the Sea, he will be an awfully hard proposition to shake," said King Edward yesterday.

"Matsuda didn't have to use a great deal of stuff to beat Joe Raner. The little Jap can beat fellows like that every night of the week. The crowd present that night got some idea of Mattie's speed, and that is about all. He was kidding with Raner most of the time and was laughing up his sleeve, figuratively speaking, all through that little exercise gallop.

"I told him to take it easy and not show any too much. Last fall in Minneapolis I went to see one of the University of Minnesota games. I went with George Barton, one of the sporting scribes.

"'Some game, that,' I said to George.

"'Shucks Ed,' George replied, for he is mild mannered; 'Minnesota is all covered up; them Nebraska scouts is in the grandstand pipin' off our plays.'

"Maybe some of the good people of this city might have casually noticed Walter Miller pipin' every move of Matsuda. He also had Capt. Jordon of St. Paul, a veteran wrestler, sitting in one of the ringside seats watchin' Mattie like a circling hawk views the perambulations of a chicken.

"I'm fairly wise to the mat game myself. I've been though the blood and fire of it and I handled Freddy Beell when he was meeting the greatest we shame into the ring to try the little Wisconsin Bear cat.

"Well—well, I learned a lot of things. Football fellows say it is all right to fool the other guy; even the members of the faculty agree with the coach in this matter. Well this same thing goes in wrestling; and, believe me, I've put one over on Miller.

"The little Pole is stronger, for he is one of the toughest boys in the world—and I'm not merely trying to boost his game by making that statement. I have wrestled him and know. But Matsuda is today the fastest boy in the world, and I have wrestled Max Lutbeg when the little Jew was in the heyday of his career, and have seen all the boys from Harvey Parker's youth down to the time of Fred Beell.

"What can a speedy boxer do to an opponent? The same goes for wrestling. Freddy Beell made Tom Jenkins look like a huge raft at anchor. I have beaten fellows weighing 225, when I was weighing around the 14. mark. It was speed me boy. Matsuda is the speed wizard of the world and Miller will have the time of his life getting an effective hold on the Jap."

DULUTH SKI CLUB FIRM

No Effort Will Be Made to Join the National Association.

Amateur Tournament Will Be Held Here Some Time in February.

Yesterday President Hovde of the Duluth Ski club definitely settled two arguments. He stated that the Duluth Ski club would not make a petition to re-enter the National association, and he also stated that the first tournament of the season would not be held before the first of February.

There has been a rumor that the ski club would meet the national association half way and come back into the fold. There will be nothing doing along these lines. According to the unmistakable announcement of yesterday, the local club has not the least hankering for a return to conditions that have been pointed out as intolerable, and until the national association purges its ranks of all professionals the Duluth club will be found on the outside looking in.

Plans are already being made for the February tournament. The very best amateur riders from St. Paul and Minneapolis will be secured for the meet. An attempt will be made to enlist some of the young men of the East end—some of the enthusiastic tumblers—in the next tournament. If the officials could secure the consent of some of these enthusiastic devotees of the sport, there would be come rare fun. Many of these fellows, "Tony" Teford, Dr. Chapman, Dr. Abbott and others, make the Flying Barnards look like an Oslerized hen with a bum wing trying to fly.

Every effort will be made to make the tournament a thorough success, for the officials of the club believe they are on the right course and that in the end the public will be better pleased than it was with the old professional riders competing.

HELP! POLICE, PLEASE; BURNS TO FIGHT WELLS

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 1.—Arrangements have been completed for a 15-round boxing contest between Bombardier Wells, English heavyweight champion, and Tommy Burns, who claims the championship of the world since the forced retirement of Jack Johnson. The mill is to be held in Calgary March 14, for a purse of $37,000. A local syndicate is financing the affair, the money to be posted in a local bank Jan. 2. Burns has been flooded with offers to get back into the game, both from the United States and Canada, and as he was the last heavyweight champion previous to the retirement of the negro, he will claim that title, and the bout will be for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Burns had intended starting training the first of the year with a purpose of challenging the winner of the Palzer-McCarty match, but the syndicate offers look better than he could expect from American offers. In case Burns wins from Wells, he will defend the title from any white heavyweight. The bout has been under consideration for some time, but not until the other day could terms be arranged with the English champion. It is understood Burns will receive $25,000 of the proposed purse.

RIVERS BEGINS TRAINING

New York, Jan. 1.—Joe Rivers, the clever Mexican boxer, who arrived here a few days ago from Los Angeles, will not train at Rye Beach as first intended. Joe Levy, who directs the affairs of the Mexican, took a trip to Rye Beach to look over the place as a training camp for Rivers and after scanning the place Levy thought that it was subject to the wintry blasts from Long Island sound. Rivers has never been East before and is not accustomed to a rigorous climate.

However it has been finally settled that Rivers will work at Woodlawn Inn, where many out-of-town boxers have prepared for their contests. Rivers has started to prepare for his battle with Leach Cross.

Rivers will have as trainers his brother, Abdul the Turk and two sparring partners.

OLD FOES WILL MEET.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—The boxing game will be reopened in Hot Springs on Jan. 24. It will be the first show held there in several years. Charles L. Janett, promoter and match-maker, has arranged a twenty-round bout between Tommy Sheehan of Chicago Heights and Morrie Bloom, rival welterweights, as the attraction. A ten-round semi-windup, in which Jimmy Sweeney, local bantam, will figure, and two six-round preliminaries will round out the card.

It is planned to run a show every week. The second card will be staged on Feb. 1. Rudy Unholz and Battling Nelson will probably clash on this date. Unholz has already agreed to meet his old-time foe and the club is negotiating with Nelson who is now in Columbus, O. Unholz has gone to Denver to look after some business in connection with his ranch there, but will return here in a week or so. He has also consented to meet some lightweight at Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 16, in a ten-round bout. The club did not mention his probable opponent, but Unholz says any lightweight selected by the promoter would be agreeable to him.

MUCH ACTION EXPECTED.

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Tommy Murphy, one of the youngsters in Harry Forbes' stable, will demonstrate his ability Friday night when he and Eddie Nearing go ten rounds before a private club near Aurora. Both lads have created quite a stir in local gymnasiums and have worked up a strong following.

Chance Condescends.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 1.—Frank Chance, the former manager of the Chicago Nationals, has announced that he would leave his home at Glendora, Cal., Jan. 4 for Chicago, where he expects to meet Frank H. Farrell of the New York Americans, Jan. 7, for a discussion of an offer for Chance's services next season.

Officers Leave Hibbing to Bring Back Man Dead or Alive.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was something doing at Oscar Bey's tie camp, about ten miles south of here last night, according to word received here this morning. Officers Go To Scene.

Deputy Sheriff Harry Little, Policeman Giber and Deputy Coroner Pengilly left for the place before noon today and expect to bring Maki in, dead or alive.

Maki is said to be weak mentally. He was once employed by the city as a detective and worked up the evidence against Mrs. John Thomas, who was arrested for running a disorderly house. So far as can be learned he was not drunk last night but just went crazy.

FOUR SALOONMEN HAVE BEEN CITED

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city council has to appoint the three commissioners to take charge of the water and light plant when the city takes it over April 1.

The aldermen next Monday evening will consider names for the commissionership. This was decided at the meeting of the city council held last night. Three members are to be appointed, one for two years, one for four years and one for six years. After the original appointments by the council the mayor makes the appointments as the terms expire.

War on Lid-Tilters.

The council declared war on saloon keepers who do not observe the laws and ordinances and has directed the city attorney to summon four before the aldermen at the next meeting to give reasons why their licenses should not be revoked. These are Gus Snyder, Andrew Johnson and Arthur Caza, who have been convicted of keeping open during hours the law requires saloons shall be closed, and Frank Heikkila, who is charged with allowing a robbery to take place in his saloon without reporting it to the police.

The council appointed E. F. Johnson, city engineer; President Michael Boyland, and Alderman C. W. Lundstrom, a committee of three to go to St. Paul to confer with Frederick Bass, director of the state board of health in reference to the making right of faulty drainage in Virginia. They will go in two weeks.

Mayor Murphy stated that the city is paying $50 per month for milk inspection and never gets a report. He suggested that this amount might better be expended in employing a special officer to see that the curfew law is enforced. He asserted that it is deplorable, the way children stay out late at night and visit places they should not. Also that the regular police had been directed to take care of this but had failed to do so.

The mayor also advises that in case Country Treasurer George H. Vivian does not produce the records at the city hall as the council desires he shall, but places them in a local bank instead, that he be enjoined from so doing. The city attorney will advse the council, if the city can enjoin as the mayor suggests.

GLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

'Twas a remarkable New Year's day grist which was assembled in police court this morning.

The advent of 1913 and the passage of 1912 was celebrated in Duluth last night, celebrated as it probably never has been celebrated before—according to apparently authentic reports.

The reports for the most part are second hand; the participants were not about this forenoon. Maybe there's occasion to wonder why, but maybe it might be possible to guess. This afternoon some of the hardier will be about taking treatment, "a little hair of the dog that bit you," or something like that. Such a headache and such a head and such a dark brown taste.

"Never again shall I wander away. No, sir, I'll not take another drink as long as I live. Never again for me. That session last night was enough for me. It's the water wagon for mine. Away up on the top seat. I'm going to take the lines and drive the team myself. Even if the whip does drop! I'm going to have somebody else pick it up. I won't climb down to get it. And I'm going to strap myself down, so no matter how big the jerk or how deep the rut I won't be jarred off. Good old Lake Superior and buttermilk and 'something soft' will be good enough for me."

They are saying it, in accents positive as they are loud and earnest? They are rueing for the cold water tap.

Although those who know about such things assert that there was "something doing" in the little old burg, known as the Zenith City of the Unsalted Seas last night, the grist this morning did not show it. The sum total was five drunks, one disorderly and one larceny case. The "souses," with one exception, were picked up in the afternoon, and the exception came in early in the evening. The real doings didn't get into full swing until close to midnight and from then on if was "bring us another" until daylight. Imported and domestic joy water, at $5 per, flowed freely, while there was enough of the other stuff around to float a battleship.

W. A. Wagner was arraigned yesterday afternoon on a charge of keeping his saloon on West Superior street, between Third and Fourth avenues west, open before hours on Dec. 27. The complaint was sworn out by Patrolman John Callahan. He pleaded not guilty and his trial set for Friday afternoon.

Erick Steffins complained to the police this morning that he had been robbed of $25 or $30 in a Bowery hotel last night. Peter Berg, said by the police to be "no good," was arrested on suspicion of having taken Steffins' coin. It is claimed that he put Steffins to bed last night.

Albert Erickson, complaining witness against Katherine Tammelin, arrested for selling beer without a license at 526 West First street, was picked up yesterday afternoon for contempt of court. He got $20 or twenty days. Albert told the police that he had given Mrs. Tammelin $50 for safe keeping and that she told him the money had been stolen when he asked for it. In making his kick he claimed that she had sold him four bottles of the amber fluid. He didn't appear when the case was called for trial yesterday and the action was dismissed. Mrs. Tammelin tried to console Albert by telling him that she was so scared of being robbed that she sent all her own money to Finland, but she didn't explain why she was willing to accept the cash of others who put it in her care for safe keeping.

August Ferman, "King of the Bowery," went on a rampage in a Bowery saloon last evening. The squirrel whisky which he had consumed had a pugnacious effect on him and he tried to tear the clothes from the customers who were in the place. He pleaded guilty this morning to having been drunk and disorderly and got $10 and costs or ten days. He was the only prisoner sent over the hill today, the others being given suspended sentences.

Thomas Gillam, a colored waiter at the Spalding, was arrested early this morning on a larceny charge. It is claimed that he had blank order checks printed similar to those used in the hotel. Collecting the full amount from the patron, it is asserted, that he filled out one of his own blanks for the cashier and pocketed the difference. He will be arranged in court tomorrow.

Walter Marshall was convicted in police court yesterday afternoon of having assaulted J. L. Hantz, breaking his nose. He was taxed $21.12, with the alternative of twenty days in the county jail. Marshal said that he struck Hantz because Hantz assaulted his (Marshall's) nephew.

William Osborne, charged with having taken improper liberties with Ethel Lincoln, a 14-year-old girl, was bound over to the grand jury after a preliminary examination in police court yesterday afternoon. Bail was fixed at $1,000. It is stated that the Osbornes were planning to adopt the girl.

The evidence did not show that Alex Hill had slashed Jacob Tolonen with a knife two days ago when Hill was tried on an assault charge in police court yesterday afternoon. The indications were that Jacob had cut himself on a brass cuspidor which he tried to hurl at Hill. Wherefore Hill was discharged.

Alex Mattson and Andrew Salmi, arrested on suspicion of having robbed a countryman, were convicted of vagrancy in police court yesterday afternoon. Each got $40 and costs or thirty days in the county jail. They did not leave the city when they were given an opportunity to do so after being found guilty of the same charge Dec. 11. The two were arrested by Patrolman Dave Olson as they were running across First avenue west at Superior street. The belief was that they were running away after having robbed some one.

THEIR HOME BURNED.

Schroeder, Minn., Jan. 1.—Hard luck visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnson Christmas, when their fine, newly built home near here was destroyed by fire with all its contents. They were away on a visit on Temperance river at the time, and returned in the afternoon to find their home in ruins.

A spark from the stove pipe is blamed for the fire. The couple had lived on the place about a year and had combined their money in building the new home. A Christmas tree decked out for their child was destroyed by the fire. Mr. Johnson had lived in Cook county ten years. Friends in Duluth and other points are doing their best to aid him in his misfortune.

LUMINOUS MOTOR CARS.

Indianapolis News: The latest in automobile paints comes from England. One of the largest firms there has just brought out a new varnish called "Lumino Aluminum Paint," and it is stated that the glow of the paint on a dark night is so bright that the car is visible for two miles without being fitted with lamps. People on the roads near the factory were frightened by the strangely glowing, lightless cars, which silently skimmed through the village.

Do Less Worrying During 1913 Than You Did in 1912

A great many people do a great deal of worrying about a great many things that could be easily eliminated. To try to accomplish certain things without going about it in the correct way causes a waste of time, energy and money. These same tasks are trifles if the proper course is pursued to bring about the desired results. If you have a want you want supplied and want it done quickly, easily and satisfactorily you will, of course, have to get in touch with the person who can and will supply it. The one way that you can tell the right people at the right time about your proposition—no matter what it may be—is to advertise in The Duluth Herald "want" ad columns and read the "want" ads. The Duluth Herald "want" ads are the great "want exchange" for the people of Duluth.

MINNESOTA'S PROSPERITY

Past Year Greatest in the History of the State.

Bountiful Crops, Plenty of Money and No Great Disturbances.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.) — The year 1912 passed into history as one of the most prosperous the state of Minnesota has ever experienced, according to reports made by heads of the various departments. Bountiful crops, plenty of money and absence of great disturbances caused Minnesota to double its hold of the certainty of a great future. No better proof of the state's advancement could be found, possibly, than is contained in a paragraph from the state auditor's statement, which says:

"The land department has had a very successful year. There was 1,500,000 tons of iron ore shipped from mines on school and other state lands; timber to the value of nearly $350,000 has been sold. Sales of farming land have exceeded the previous year by 5,000 acres and by $70,000 in total amount of such sales. It is of interest to note that during this year we sold 160,019 acres to 1,482 buyers, an average of 108 acres to each. The total amount of the sales, exclusive of timber, was $1,120,-177, an average of $7 an acre. Of the acreage of land sold 64,070 acres were sold to residents of the county where the land is located; 69,573 acres to 494 buyers from other counties in Minnesota; 26,217 acres to 147 buyers from other states, and 157 acres were sold to two buyers from Canada. Our land department business now amounts to more than $2,000,000 a year, exclusive of the payments of principal and interest on former sales of farming land. The land department business is growing in all divisions, land, timber and minerals. This is the main reason why I have during the past four years recommended the creation of a separate state land department."

New Corporations.

Julius A. Schmahl, secretary of state, sums up the expansion in business as indicated by filing in his department, as follows:

Eleven hundred new corporations, exclusive of religious, social and elemosynary, were formed during the year 1912, according to the records of the state department. This was an increase of at least 15 per cent over the year 1911, while the receipts for filing fees paid into the state treasury before this department was permitted to record the articles will reach very nearly $110,000, or about 25 per cent more than last year. The remarkable feature of the creation of the new corporations under Minnesota laws is that for two or three weeks just prior to the election the filing of articles ceased almost entirely, apparently suggesting a fear of political conditions. But immediately following the election the filing of new articles commenced and these filings have been very nearly 100 for each month of November and December. In addition to the creation of the new Minnesota corporations, very nearly 200 foreign corporations have complied with what is known as the Minnesota foreign corporation law.

Automobiles Increasing.

Probably an even better criterion of the wealth of Minnesota is shown in the automobile department of this office. The year 1911 closed with approximately 19,200 registrations of individual owners, with about 156 dealers, and about 2,800 motorcycle owners. The year 1912 will close with 29,000 machines registered by private owners, about 250 dealers and over 4,000 motorcycle owners. Estimating that each automobile owned in the state has an average valuation of $1,000, which is a low valuation, Minnesota now has $29,000,000 in private machines, while those in possession of dealers will probably reach another $1,000,000. Motorcycles will average about $225 each in valuation, and the wealth in these machines is no small item.

The increase in automobile wealth in Minnesota as shown by the above figures, during the year 1912, is practically 33 1-3 per cent, which is about 8 per cent greater than the year 1911 was over the preceding year of 1910. Probably the best news in connection with these registrations is that the 1912 registration found a larger corresponding increase in registration by farmers than in previous years. If the ratio is continued during the year 1913 the 40,000 mark will surely be reached before 1914 breaks into being.

Fire Losses Smaller.

Fire losses in Minnesota during 1912 were more than $1,000,000 smaller than in 1911, according to a statement issued by Charles E. Keller, state fire marshal. There were more fires reported, but the damage done was much less than in the preceding year.

A total of forty-five persons were so badly injured in the state by fire during 1912, that they died. In addition to these, 130 were seriously injured. "Nearly 70 per cent of all fires in the state are the result of carelessness," Mr. Keller says.

The department investigated 260 fires during the year, arrested 25 persons for arson, convicted 10 of those arrested and has cases pending against a number more. The following table shows the comparative losses for the year 1911 and the year 1912 up to December 27:

From the state game and fish commission comes the report that the office receipts for the year totaled $28,481, and that during the last five months the receipts were $8,060 more than during the corresponding period last year. Supreme Court's Work.

According to Clerk I. A. Caswell the work of the supreme court this year was the heaviest in years, the total number of cases upon the calendars for 1912 being 529. The average number of cases in recent years has been about 450. The judges worked last summer until the middle of July hearing cases, but about thirty had to be continued over the term without hearings, and a greater number will be continued this term, although hearings will be had up to and including Feb. 14, 1913. The most important cases decided are those which upheld the validity of the Mankato charter, which is modeled upon the commission form; sustaining the Elwell road law, applying the drainage laws, settling disputed points in the election laws and corrupt practices act, and defining the rights of foreign consuls in the matter of the administration of the estates of residents of foreign countries. Chief Justice Start retires from the bench, after eighteen years continuous service thereon, Justice Calvin L. Brown having been promoted to the chief justiceship at the last election. Judge Oscar Hallam will take his place upon the bench as associate justice.

ANTI-PASS LAW CHANGE.

Desired Amendment Agreed Upon at Brainerd Conference.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 1.—(Special to The Herald.)—Following the conference held by Senator C. D. Johnson of this city, Representative L. W. Vasaly of Little Falls and Charles W. Bouck of Royalton, Alderman Henning and Messrs. Jones and Weber of this city, the latter three acting for the machinists' union, an amendment was agreed upon to be attached to the present anti-pass law of Minnesota, such amendment to be presented to the senate by Senator C. D. Johnson and by Representatives Vasaly and Bouck to the house at the coming session of the legislature.

The amendment states that any railroad company may issue free passes to its employes while occupying office or position under a municipality or public school district. It has been so hard to get good shop men and railway men from the Second and Third wards of Brainerd to take school and city offices, because the acceptance of such offices means the absolute cutting off of individual and family passes on the railway. Recently the Northern Pacific railroad, to show its esteem in which the company holds men who have been in its employ twenty years or more, gave them permanent passes, good in all parts of the country, but even this great privilege collapses should the holder of such a pass become a member of the school board, an alderman or hold any other municipal office.

CASTRO WILL HURRY BACK TO EUROPE

Angered By Treatment in America, He Will Leave at Once.

New York, Jan. 1.—Cipriano Castro, one time "terror of Venezuela" and defier of the civilized world, declines to stay in the United States, owing to the official attitude adopted toward him on his arrival from France on board the French liner La Touraine.

Castro was taken off by immigration officials and carried to Ellis island that it might be decided whether he was an undesirable.

Angered at the treatment accorded him, Gen. Castro expressed a desire to return at once. His wish was that he be allowed to go to Germany instead of France, from which country he had come. He refused to accept any mail, telegrams or newspapers, or to receive visitors, although some of his family connections and old friends tried to greet him.

With the decision of Castro to return voluntarily to Europe, the incident was closed and the difficulty of the department of state and the department of commerce and labor as to how to deal with the South American "Stormy Petrel" overcome.

Seldom has an alien knocking at the doors of the United States attracted so much attention. Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel granted the request of a motion picture concern to take a moving picture of the picturesque Venezuelan, provided he is willing.

ONLY CHAMPAGNE SERVED IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Jan. 1.—Clamoring horns, whistles and rattles, omnipresent ticklers thrust under women's chins, shouts, dances and floods of wine welcomed in the new year in Chicago.

Despite the fact that a committee of several hundred clergymen strenuously had fought the anticipated saturnalia, and after vainly attempting to see the mayor, had announced that they would place detectives in the principal cafes to note law violations, the celebration was louder, longer, noisier and less restrained than ever.

If any detectives of the reform organizations remained very long in any of the big cafes, they had to buy champagne, as no less expensive fluid was served.

BAILEY ASSAULTS THE DIRECT VOTE OF PEOPLE IN FAREWELL SPEECH

Greatest Crowd in Senate Galleries This Session Hears "Swan Song."

Texas Senator Says Country Faces "Extraordinary Situation."

Speaks Extemporaneously in Defense of Old Regime.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The greatest crowd that has besieged senate galleries since the opening of this session of congress, overflowed into hallways and corridors of the capitol today in anticipation of Senator Bailey's farewell speech. The senator took the floor at the conclusion of "morning business." Most senators' seats were filled, and many members of the house crowded into the rear of the chamber.

Practically none of Senator Bailey's address had been prepared in advance. It dealt principally with the principle of the initiative and referendum, and he directed his words towards his resolution declaring that "such a system of direct legislation as the initiative and referendum would establish is in conflict with the representative principle on which the republic is founded."

Brooks Is Our Rule.

"During my service of more than twenty-one years in the two houses of congress," said Senator Bailey, "I never before have delivered an address in either of them intended more for the country at large than for the body itself, and I would not now depart from that rule except for the extraordinary situation in which we find ourselves with respect to these questions."

Senator Bailey declared the advocates of this "extraordinary form of government" had conducted a systematic campaign for years in behalf of their views. He desired, he said, to present arguments against such a system of direct legislation.

Quoted Hamilton.

The first portion of Senator Bailey's address included long extracts from the writings of Alexander Hamilton, principally the publications in the Federalist, through which Hamilton, just after the formation of the government, carried on his discussion of the principles

MAKES LEGISLATION BY THE PEOPLE HIS TARGET

JOSEPH W. BAILEY

BUSY DAYS FOR SOLONS

Congress Has a Program That Will Crowd Every Session.

Archbald Case Probably Will Be Finished Next Week.

Washington, Jan. 2.—A program crowded with important work for every remaining day of the session was before the senate and house today when they reconvened after the holiday recess of two weeks. Widespread publicity given to the proposed farewell speech of Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas made the senate the center of attention and turned crowds of people in the direction of the galleries before the noon hour. Many had come all the way from Texas to hear their senator's "swan song."

Senator Bailey's speech was expected to be the feature of the day's session, the senate having put over the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court until tomorrow. Many senators and representatives had not returned to Washington early today from their holiday trip, and both houses faced the possibility of not having enough members on hand to constitute a quorum.

Resume Probes Monday.

The important investigations scheduled to occupy much of the time of

MEDICINE TAKEN INTO ADRIANOPLE

Wagonload of Drugs Delivered Under Guard of Bulgarians.

Sofia, Jan. 2.—A wagon load of drugs sent by the Turkish medical authorities was delivered to the garrison of Adrianople yesterday under the surveillance of the Bulgarians, at the special request of Nazim Pasha, commander-in-chief of the Ottoman army. No food or other supplies were passed into the besieged fortress.

WANTS TO AMEND HOMESTEAD LAW

Steenerson Offers New Measure to Help Minnesota Settlers.

(From The Herald Washington Bureau.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—An amendment to the three-year homestead law, under which settlers in cut over lands in Minnesota may be permitted to prove simply "cultivation and residence," is proposed in a bill introduced today by Representative Steenerson.

The three-year act provides that not less than twenty acres shall be cultivated the first year of residence, but this is burdensome on the poor man who takes up land from which stumps have to be removed.

Mr. Steenerson also introduced a bill which gives purchasers of land in the "eleven towns" of the Red Lake reservation, who exhausted their homestead rights by that purchase, the right to make additional entries under the homestead law.

HAVE PHOTOGRAPHS OF CHICAGO ORGIES

Spotters Tell Ministers That "Tough" Scenes Were Acted in Cafes.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—A large number of reports of New Year's eve orgies were ready today for presentation to a meeting of leaders of reform organizations here this afternoon. Some of the reports are illustrated by flashlight photographs. Arthur Burridge Farwell said that prosecutions would be instituted against a number of cafes which remained open after the legal closing hour of 1 a. m.

A report sent to ministers by the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league declares that the scenes in some of the downtown hotels were worse than those in "supposedly tougher" districts.

Men and women are described as staggering through hotel lobbies intoxicated, while much public love-making was incident to the revelry.

Keeley to Teach Journalism.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Announcement of the selection of James Keeley, general manager of the Chicago Tribune, as dean of the College of Journalism at Notre Dame university, was made today.

CONVOYS JOIN FUNERAL SHIP

Body of Late Ambassador Reid Soon Will Reach New York.

President Taft Will Attend Funeral Services on Saturday.

New York, Jan. 2.—The British cruiser Natal, bringing home to America the body of Whitelaw Reid, late United States ambassador to Great Britain, reached Nantucket lightship at 9 o'clock this morning. She was met there by the escort of six United States warships sent to convoy the funeral ship to this port.

The United States squadron consists of the battleships Florida and North Dakota and four destroyers, commanded by Rear Admiral Fiskke.

The Natal is approaching port faster than was expected. She was not expected at Nantucket until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The distance from Nantucket to Sandy Hook is 193 miles. The Natal, with her escort, therefore will reach the Hook tonight and anchor until daylight, steaming up the Hudson tomorrow morning about 10 o'clock.

After the Natal anchors off Grant's Tomb, the body of the late ambassador will be escorted to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. The funeral will take place Saturday morning.

President Going to Funeral.

Washington, Jan. 2.—President Taft will leave Washington at midnight tomorrow to attend the funeral in New York of Whitelaw Reid, late ambassador of the United States to Great Britain, Saturday morning. Secretary Knox will accompany the president.

James Bryce, the British ambassador, will attend the funeral services, but probably will leave Washington for New York on an earlier train. Col. Lowther, military aide to the governor-general of Canada, will represent the governor.

President Taft will make two speeches in New York on Saturday, attending the International Peace Forum in the afternoon and a Republican dinner at night. He will return to Washington early Sunday.

PLAN WISCONSIN TAX FOR FOREST RESERVE

Madison, Wis., Jan. 2.—The state conservation commission will recommend a one-tenth of a mill tax on all property for a twenty-year period, the funds to be used for the upbuilding of the state forest reserve. The commission has held its final meeting to discuss legislation, and will file its recommendations with the governor immediately.

This tax would raise approximately $284,000 a year. It would allow the state to make land contracts for the purchase of tracts in Northern Wisconsin. While there is approximately 400,000 acres of land now in the forest reserve, State Forester E. M. Griffith believes that the state must ultimately own 1,200,000 acres.

Castro Will Sail Saturday.

New York, Jan. 2.—Cipriano Castro, Venezuela's deposed president, remained in his room at Ellis island today and declined to see callers. It is believed he will depart on the liner Amerika for Hamburg next Saturday.

WILSON'S STICKPIN NEARING ITS CLIMAX

President-Elect Has Worn Series of "Symbols of Service."

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 2.—When Woodrow Wilson becomes president of the United States, the little gold scarf pin he has been wearing for years will attain the end of its evolution.

When Governor Wilson was president of Princeton university his stickpin was a miniature Princeton seal, the coat of arms of William of Orange, Duke of Nassau; when he became governor, New Jersey's coat of arms displaced it; to wear while he is president, Governor Wilson is having made a stickpin with a spread eagle and an American shield—the national coat of arms.

"I never liked ostentatious display," he said, "but such a little pin as I've been wearing as governor of the state is inconspicuous, and I like to feel that I have constantly with me something that is a symbol of my service."

BRITISH STEAMER IS ASHORE---CALLS HELP

Alcazar From Haiti Is Stranded on Cape Lookout.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 2.—The British steamer Alcazar, bound from Port a Paix, Haiti, for Philadelphia, went ashore early today on Cape Lookout. Her calls for assistance were picked up here by the revenue cutter Seminole, which left immediately for the scene. The cutter will probably not reach the stranded steamer until evening.

The Alcazar is a vessel of 2,000 tons. She sailed from Port a Paix on Dec. 17.

EX-BROKER KILLS WIFE AND HIMSELF.

KEEP AFTER ROCKEFELLER

Process Servers Want to Be Allowed to Enter His Home.

Congressmen Are Inclined to Have House Give Authority.

New York, Jan. 2.—Baffled in their attempts to serve William Rockefeller with a subpoena requiring him to testify before the Pujo committee investigating the so-called money trust, forty deputy sergeants-at-arms of the house of representatives and private detectives awaited today word from Washington that they might enter Mr. Rockefeller's Fifth avenue mansion by force, if necessary, and serve him there. The heavy guard which has surrounded the oil millionaire's home on the streets and house tops during the last few days has not diminished today. Every possible exit is under guard.

Charles F. Riddell, sergeant-at-arms of the house, in charge of the squad of process servers, said he felt sure Mr. Rockefeller was within.

Mr. Riddell said that he expected "something important to happen today," as the result of the visit to Washington of Jerry South, chief clerk of the house, who left here last night. It was understood that Mr. South would

DENY THERE IS REBEL PLOT IN PHILIPPINES

Insular Bureau Officials Hear Business Interests Are at Work.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Officials of the insular bureau denied today a report that they had discovered a revolutionary plot in the Philippines, alleged to be backed by large business interests alarmed at the prospects of the United States relinquishing the islands. A bill is now pending in the house to give immediate autonomy and independence in eight years.

Brig.-Gen. Frank McIntyre, chief of the insular bureau, characterized the report as "pure fiction." Army officers, however, while discrediting the idea of an organized revolutionary plot, say there is considerable agitation among business interests on the islands.

BARON HARDINGE NOT RECOVERING RAPIDLY

Delhi, India, Jan. 2.—The viceroy of India, Baron Hardinge, is not recovering as quickly as was expected from the wounds he received on Dec. 23, when an Indian fanatic threw a bomb at him during his official entry to the new imperial capital city.

The doctors in attendance declare he is suffering considerable pain and remains in a feverish condition. A further operation may be necessary to remove some fragments of the bomb which remain imbedded in the flesh of his shoulder.

WRIT GRANTED DYNAMITERS

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 2.—After attorneys for the thirty-three convicted dynamite conspirators had withdrawn their application for a writ of supersedeas, Federal Judge A. B. Anderson today granted their prayer for a writ of error.

During the hearing, W. N. Harding announced that Herbert S. Hockin would not ask an appeal in his case.

The hearing was brief. The granting of the writ of error means that the request for a supersedeas writ will be taken to the United States circuit court of appeals, or one of the judges of the court.

Chester K. Krum, St. Louis, was spokesman for the defense counsel. Judge Anderson granted his request to strike out of the petition the prayer for a writ of supersedeas and allowed the writ of error.

United States District Attorney Charles W. Miller said he was ready to appear with the defense counsel before any court or judge at any time, to argue the application for a writ of supersedeas. Mr. Krum declared Mr. Miller would be notified as soon as the judge and the time had been decided upon.

Hockin Is Satisfied.

"Your honor," interposed Mr. Harding, one of the defense counsel, just before the hearing was concluded, "I wish to announce that the defendant, Hockin, will not ask an appeal in his case. He is satisfied with the sentence imposed upon him."

"Then he must be the only one," said Judge Anderson.

"I am not sure," replied Mr. Harding. "While I am in no position to say at this time, there may be others who will not ask an appeal. As soon as I

MAY PUT HOME RULE UP TO THE PEOPLE

British Government Seems Likely to Dissolve Parliament.

London, Jan. 2.—The possibility of an early general election in the United Kingdom is widely spoken of today as a result of Premier Asquith's pointed question to the Unionists in the house of commons yesterday, when he asked them to declare clearly what would be their attitude if the home rule bill was submitted to the electorate and approved.

The reply of Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the opposition, that in that case the Conservative party would not encourage the Ulsterites to resist the measure, is regarded as significant.

It is thought in some quarters that the government would be glad to take advantage of the present dissension in the Unionist ranks in the subject of tariff reform in order to obtain a clear mandate from the country on the question of home rule, Welsh disestablishment and the franchise reform.

It is regarded as quite possible that should the demoralization in the Unionist ranks spread, the government might suddenly dissolve the house of commons and rush a general election in the course of February.

BULGARIANS THREATEN TO END PEACE MEETINGS UNLESS TURKS YIELD

MAY N... NAMED TO ...RN CANAL ZONE

COL. GOETHALS,
Chief Engineer on the Panama Canal.

TAFT ANXIOUS FOR GOETHALS

Hears That Senate Democrats May Oppose Canal Zone Nomination.

May Not Nominate Engineer, Who, it is Said, May Quit Job.

Washington, Jan. 2.—President Taft today began a series of talks with senators about his proposed executive order establishing a civil government for the Panama canal zone, with Col. George W. Goethals, the canal builder, at its head. The president asked several senators to advise him of the truth of reports that the Democrats would oppose the nomination of the colonel.

Mr. Taft is anxious to see the civil government, authorized under the Panama canal act, established before he leaves office March 4, to allow the new governor to readjust finances before Mr. Wilson enters the White House.

The president, his friends say, emphatically is unwilling to become involved in a political wrangle over the canal. The senate, however, must confirm the nomination of a civil governor. Mr. Taft has been disappointed by reports that the nomination of Col. Goethals would be opposed. He told callers today that he believed the American people would like to see Col. Goethals made governor.

Those who talked with the president today were of the opinion that should it be shown that serious opposition to Col. Goethals is to be found, his nomination probably would not be sent in. If formidable opposition does not appear, his nomination probably will be sent to the senate Feb. 1 and an executive order, establishing the new civil regime, will be issued at the same time. Some of the colonel's friends think that should the colonel's nomination encounter opposition he might resign from the work.

YONKERS CARS ARE STOPPED BY STRIKE

Motormen Say They Will Halt the Westchester County Service.

Yonkers, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Not a car was running in Yonkers today, and the leaders of the carmen, who quit work yesterday rather than break in any man as motorman, said they expected to tie up the entire trolley traffic of Westchester county.

Rechad Pasha Says Porte Will Keep Adrianople at All Costs.

Most Important Session of London Conferences Is Held.

London, Jan. 2.—The peace negotiations between the Balkan and the Turkish envoys will be broken off, according to Dr. S. Daneff, the chief of the Bulgarian delegation, unless the map which the Turkish delegation is now preparing, showing the proposed boundary between Bulgaria and Turkey, should prove to be in accordance with the terms laid down by the allies.

"The position of affairs has not changed so much for the better as people seem to imagine," said Dr. Daneff today. "It must be borne in mind that from the beginning Turkey has always said she would make certain cessions in Macedonia and Epiru and in part of the province of Thrace. That is all right as far as it goes, but there remains the question of Adrianople.

Adrianople Big Question.

"The future of Adrianople is one of the most vital points in the negotiations, and so far as I can see no improvement of the situation in regard to it is to be expected when the new map is drawn up by the Turkish delegation of the proposed rectification of the boundary between Bulgaria and Turkey.

"If we find at tomorrow's meeting that the Turkish map is not in ac-

U. S. ATTORNEY FOR SOUTH DAKOTA QUITS

Edward E. Wagner of Mitchell Has Resigned Voluntarily.

Washington, Jan. 2. — Edward E. Wagner of Mitchell, S. D., United States attorney for that state, and Charles A. Boynton, United States attorney at Waco, Tex., resigned today. President Taft accepted both resignations, which, it was said at the department of justice, were voluntary.

BOOTH TO HEAD THE COURT OF CLAIMS

Washington, Jan. 2.—President Taft today nominated Fenton W. Booth of Illinois, now justice of the court of claims, to be chief justice of that court, succeeding Stanton J. Peelle, and Henry Sherman Boutell of Illinois to be a justice of that court, succeeding Booth. Mr. Boutell is now minister to Switzerland.

TIBETANS KILL 300 CHINESE SOLDIERS

Make Night Attack and Capture Six Machine Guns.

Chengtu, Province of Sze-Chuen, China, Jan. 2.—Three hundred Chinese soldiers were killed by a force of Tibetans near Heaing Cheng, on the borders of Tibet, during a night attack last night. The Chinese troops also lost six machine guns.

The official reason given for the defeat of the regular troops is that the soldiers refused to trust their commander's knowledge of the country and became insubordinate. During the confusion which ensued, the Tibetans seized the opportunity of attacking the column, which was totally defeated.

GARMENT WORKERS MAY EXTEND STRIKE

Hope to Add 7,000 Bushelmen to List of Those Who Quit.

New York, Jan. 2.—The United Garment Workers of America, on strike to the number of 90,000 for more pay and better working conditions, expect to add to their ranks within the next twenty-four hours approximately 7,000 bushelmen employed in local department stores. The strike order to the bushelmen—workers employed to make alterations in ready-made garments—is issued, the strike leaders declare, in an effort to reach the retail trade and bring the entire garment-making industry within the scope of the situation.

Meantime three agencies—the state board of mediation and arbitration, the chamber of commerce and the international peace forum—are endeavoring to bring about an adjustment of the differences between the strikers and their employers. A committee met today at the strikers' headquarters to discuss terms of agreement with certain manufacturers who have shown an inclination to yield to the demands.

OAK HALL BUILDING — Oak Hall Clothing Co. — OAK HALL BUILDING

No longer can you win a festive mackinaw, a box of creamy bon bons or a humidor of assorted cigarettes with a nickel or a dime. Not in Duluth.

Yesterday the minions of the law visited the downtown stores, mostly smoke shops, and informed the proprietors that the practice must cease forthwith, if not sooner. The practice ceased. Today it was deceased. All the devices utilized to attract reluctant coins from sundry pockets were wrapped in crepe and put in the vault for future reference.

Maybe there'll come another time when they will come in handy. For such things have happened before, and they do say that one way to figure the future is to judge by the past. Yesterday's order isn't the first of the kind which has been given in Duluth. But from the viewpoint of the dealers it had one redeeming feature—it didn't come until the holiday rush was over. Wherefore it might have been worse. Of course the cards would come in O. K. now, too, as business is bound to be quiet for a spell and the inherent love of taking chances might have been utilized to spur the jaded plug along, ading a few sheckels to the bank account.

Because a nickel or a dime was the price per punch or per pull, it doesn't follow that one was obliged to quit wit hone punch or one pull. Not at all. Punch or pull as long as the nickels or the dimes lasted, if you wished. You might pull down a prize at the first punch or the first pull. Then again you might not—mostly not. Punching or pulling at a nickel or a dime per has its fascination when there is a nifty prize at stake, and while it lasted business was not poor.

But the police do not approve of that kind of indoor sport. In fact, they are positively not in favor of it, so much so that they have decreed that it shall no longer continue in the city. It is a species of gambling and therefore contrary to the regulations.

Thus far no arrests have been made, although some evidence was gathered. It may not be considered sufficient, and in that case there will be no prosecutions. But the practice must continue to stay ceased.

Thomas Gillam, the colored waiter who was arrested at the Spalding early yesterday morning, was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of petit larceny. He denied that he was guilty of the theft of $6.25, and will have his trial next Monday afternoon.

It is claimed that Gillam had meal checks printed similar to those of the hotel. While he presented the correct bill to the patron, it is alleged that he turned in one for a lesser amount, made out on his own check, to the cashier, pocketing the difference.

Incidentally Gillam has the rather dubious honor of being the first person arrested in 1913. Detectives Bradley and Toewe are credited with having made the first pinch of the year.

The next meeting of the Police Relief association will be held Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 8, at 2:30 o'clock. Members who fail to attend are liable to a fine of $1 each. Probably the most important business will be the appointment of committees for the annual ball. As in past years, the affair will probably be given the first Monday night in January.

Mary Nunamacher was arrested last evening by Detectives Toewe and Bradley on a charge of conducting a house of ill-fame at the Joliet hotel, 713 West Superior street. She entered a plea of not guilty through an attorney, and her hearing was set for tomorrow. She is out on $100 bail.

Two foreigners are said to have been entertained in a rather doubtful manner at the place. After the performance one of them missed something like $59. Whereupon he carried his tale of sorrow to the police.

The warrant for Mrs. Nunamacher's arrest followed and it is asserted that a search of the room revealed the lost coin in the lathing of the room in which the "good time was had."

John Torbenson didn't look like a person who would naturally be possessed of two bundles of laundry. In all he had three bundles, but one of them never came from a laundry. When he tried to sell the other two bundles, probably to put the finishing touches to the other bundle, he was bundled, bundles, bundle and all, into the police station. This morning he pleaded guilty to having been drunk but disposition of the case was postponed pending investigation of the ownership of the bundles he was trying to sell.

Peter Berg acknowledged in police court this morning that he had relieved Erick Steffins of $15 in a Bowery hotel, New Year's eve. He got $100 or three months in the county jail. When he was pinched Peter denied all knowledge of having put Erick to bed and having taken his money. He didn't have any money on him, so how could he be guilty? The police turned him loose and he headed back for his old haunts at the Bowery. Patrolman Dickman decided that it might be well to watch him. When he saw him hand $15 over to a barkeep for safe keeping he jugged Peter again. Peter had planted the coin some place and after being turned out he had a short dream of all the fun he would have celebrating the new year. When he landed the second time, with the goods on him, he concluded that he could not wriggle out the second time. For which conclusion he drew a three months' rest in the bastile over the hill.

William Shields, a waiter, admitted this morning that he had "pasted" Mike Jeannett in the nose. But he said that Jeannett had used vile language in the presence of two women whom he was escorting to their home. He was assessed $5. Jeannett appeared later and the forfeiture of his bail was vacated to give him an opportunity to plead not guilty. He will have a hearing tomorrow morning.

It is claimed that his machine crashed into the hack of "Stillwater Jack" Hettinger on Superior street between Lake avenue and First avenue west, while both were traveling in a westerly direction. The hack and harness were both quite seriously damaged by the force of the collision, but the owner was unable to state this morning what was the extent of the damage.

An eye-witness told the police that the automobile was traveling at a high rate of speed and that it was a miracle that Hettinger escaped without serious injury.

Butchard pleaded guilty in police court this morning but disposition of his case was continued until next Monday afternoon. The court intimated that his action relative to settling the damage might have something to do with the sentence which might be imposed. Butchard claimed that his machine skidded on the car tracks.

FIRST MARRIAGE LICENSE FOR 1913.

To Eddie Ericson and Florence Walker belongs the distinction of being the first applicants for marriage licenses in 1913.

Bright and early this morning, they were on hand to get the permit which authorized the parson to make them one.

Yesterday, being New Year's day, the office of the clerk of the court at the courthouse was not open and consequently no licenses were issued.

Two licenses were issued this morning. The other one went to John Petercattle and Anna Victoria Jangula. Both couples reside in Duluth.

Gall Stones Removed Without an Operation

After suffering for one year with gall stones I was told by a friend to try Swamp-Root. I began with the fifty cent size and after using four bottles found that I was much better. Then began using the larger size bottles and after taking three bottles I was cured. That has been seven years ago this summer and I have never been sick since that time from this disease.

I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to any one for kidney and bladder troubles, hoping it may do as much good for many people as it did for me.

Yours truly,

CLUBS HOLD JOINT DINNER

Commercial and Rotary Clubs Will Discuss Civic Matters.

Dr. Rastall to Speak on Efficiency in City Government.

"Business Efficiency in Municipal Government," will be the subject for discussion at the meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club tomorrow evening.

Dr. B. M. Rastall, secretary of the industrial bureau of the club, will give the principal address. Municipal government plays a large part in city building, to which Dr. Rastall has given years of study. As head of the bureau of efficiency and economy in the city of Milwaukee, he worked nearly two years in installing a thoroughly efficient business system in the government of that city. He has also had experience in systematizing municipal governments as head of the Wisconsin state board of public affairs.

In view of the agitation for the employment of an expert to make a survey of Duluth and work out a business system for submission to the new commission, Dr. Rastall's address, based on his actual experience with city government, is opportune.

The Rotary club members will meet with the public affairs committee tomorrow night, and matters of common interest to Duluth citizens will be discussed. The public affairs committee has arranged to invite one of the city's civic organizations to each of its meetings during the winter, in order to bring all bodies working for civic development together for the discussion of plans.

Besides Dr. Rastall's address and the succeeding discussion, the committee will transact its routine business. Several matters of importance are to come up for consideration and Chairman W. A. McGonagle is anxious that all members of the club who can do so shall attend.

DRINK BUSINESS SHOWS DECREASE

There is a decrease in the number of those lining up in front of the mahogany and asking their friends of mahogany and brass rail penchant what they "will have." It is slight but noticeable since midnight Tuesday when good resolutions took effect.

But the bartenders, those partly or wholly interested in saloons, or buffets, if you soften the impeachment, are not in the least discouraged or disheartened. As the man with the three little shells and the elusive green pea has remarked in the past, after luring luere away from hardy and horny sons of the soil: "They'll come again."

The younger ones, or ones less hardy, whichever the case may be, have not in all instances recovered from "a head" as yet. You see from several days before Christmas and during the festival of New Year's, some of the boys have been traveling some, yes traveling some.

Some of the "regular guys" were in yesterday for some morning cheer, and like the voters in the congested wards, they repeated bright and early today. Like as not they will be on hand at the regular time tomorrow and will lunge against the same place on the bar. Habits are awfully hard to break.

There will be a crimp in the bar business for several weeks. Then resolutions may wane and grow feeble, but for a few days, at least, many good resolutions will last.

STATE COURT CODE IS PUT UNDER LENS

Judges and Lawyers Chosen By Governor Meet at the Capitol.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Behind closed doors, in the consultation room of the supreme court chambers, the commission appointed by Governor Eberhart to recommend changes in laws relative to court procedure met this morning for two hours. The commission, composed of some of the most able jurists and attorneys in Minnesota, discussed questions as to how "red tape" may be eliminated and appeals on technical points to the supreme court abolished.

Governor Eberhart appeared before the commission when it met and urged the need of changes in procedure laws. He recommended that the commission decide what charges might be made, then appoint sub-committees to draft the laws in detail. He asked that they have their report in his hands not later than Jan. 15 or 20. It will then be embodied in a special message to the legislature.

"We will have a statement for publication as soon as we have decided what can be done," said Calvin L. Brown, chief justice-elect. "Our discussion, however, will not be open to the public."

At 12:30 o'clock a recess was taken till 2. The commission is composed of Justice Brown, Judges H. R. Brill of St. Paul, W. E. Hale of Minneapolis, H. E. Dibell of Duluth, W. S. McClenahan of Brainerd, and Attorneys John G. Williams of Duluth, F. B. Kellogg of St. Paul, Price Wickersham of St. Paul, Dean Vance of the state university law school, George P. Flannery of Minneapolis, H. C. Carlson of Albert Lea and Stiles W. Burr of St. Paul.

ANNUAL MEETINGS OF DULUTH'S BANKS

Under the national banking law, each national bank in Duluth will hold its annual meeting on Jan. 14. Among the state banks all that is necessary is that the annual meeting be held some time in January, so the dates for the annual meetings of these banks vary.

The earliest state bank meeting will be on next Monday, Jan. 6, at which time the stockholders of the Citizens State bank will meet. The following day, Jan. 7, the stockholders of the St. Louis County bank and the Western State bank will meet. The next meeting will be that of the Central State bank, which will be held on Jan. 14, the same day as the national banks, and on the next day, Jan. 15, the Duluth State bank will hold its annual.

MARSHALL-WELLS' ANNUAL DINNER.

The annual dinner tendered by the Marshall-Wells Hardware company to the heads of departments and the salesmen of the firm, was held at the Commercial club last evening.

About 150 officers of the company, department managers and salesmen attended the gathering. A. M. Marshall, president, presided and made the principal address.

The dinner was the conclusion of several days of conference between the heads of the house and the salesmen, who were in from all parts of the country.

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Arthur James McLain, 33 years old, a carpenter whom the Denver police are looking for in connection with the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Kline, disappeared from his home at Rossford, Ohio, a village near Toledo, three months ago. McLain has a wife, a boy aged 3 and a girl aged 6. He was a boyhood friend of Mrs. Kline. Mrs. McLain said she had had no direct word from her husband since his disappearance three months ago, but she had heard that he was in Denver.

Adam E. Kline, father-in-law of the dead woman, has left Toledo for Denver to claim the body and bring back his granddaughter. The husband, R. E. Kline, who was preparing to go to a hospital for an operation when he heard of his wife's death, is prostrated.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 2.—Chief of Police O'Neill has received a telegram from R. E. There was a letter in his pocket post marked Pine River, Minn., addressed to "F. J. Williams, Carlton," also an Odd Fellows' constitution. The body was brought to the Kelly morgue here.

ACID FUMES KILL DEPUTY FIRE CHIEF.

Portland, Me., Jan. 2.—Deputy Chief William H. Steele of the Portland fire department is dead and Capt. W. G. Parker and Giles Redmond are in a serious condition as a result of inhaling fumes of nitric acid from a broken carboy in the basement of a drug store. Fearing the acid would set fire to the building, the occupants notified fire headquarters and Deputy Chief Steele, Capt. Parker and three firemen went into the basement and turned a stream from a chemical tank onto the acid. The dense fumes that arose drove them from the place and all were nearly overcome when they reached the open air.

Chief Steele died from pneumonia.

MEN ARE CURED

There are thousands of men walking around who are a picture of disease. They are all fagged out and dragged down by it. The cause of it may be bad stomach, kidney trouble, or some secret suffering. Others, again, are the very picture of health but they suffer nevertheless from imperfect circulation, of which knotted veins are the result.

The veins are dark blue, because of the poisonous waste matter, while the arteries are bright red. When the vein-blood, heavy with poisons, again reaches the lungs it exchanges its carbondioxide, a heavy and very poisonous gas, for pure oxygen and returns again through the arteries. When some part of the body is injured by abuse, excesses, kicks, blows, or overwork, the veins are injured and retard free circulation. The poison-leaded blood, instead of returning to the lungs for a fresh supply of life-giving oxygen, piles up against the injured part, poisons the walls of the veins, swells and dilates them, hardens them and some times expands them to an enormous extent. In men the legs and other vital parts are usually attacked by this self-generated poison, which, after first poisoning the veins, attacks the vital parts themselves, causing weakness and wasting. Walking becomes difficult, hard knots form which open easily and form "VARICOSE ULCERS," the patient is easily exhausted, becomes nervous and depressed, his memory weakens and all ambition leaves him. Later, the poison will take an upward course, and, entering the pelvis, will poison the pelvic nerves. Stagnant circulation will result in nervous diseases, in diseases of the rectum, prostate and associated parts, and is not strictly local, because nerves, blood vessels and lymphatics are all connected. What affects one affects all, just as a broken wire or short circuit in any part of a serially connected electric system has an effect on any and every part of that system. We found in former years that cutting and dissecting out these veins did not cure the patient, the deep-seated nerves that control the functions and nutrition of the organs still caused trouble and more pain than before. We therefore invented the "Dissolving Process," a method as superior to the old way of cutting and blood-letting as the modern electric light is superior to the tallow candle of bygone ages. We can explain the practical application of the dissolving process to any man if he will give us the necessary statements about his case, although we would much rather see, examine and demonstrate to him than talk or write about it. The specialists who can guarantee to cure this and all other diseases without cutting, without chloroform or any of the ordinary old-style hospital methods, will surely be wanted by any man who is suffering from it. That is what we can do, and guarantee to do! Consultation free from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. Sundays, 10-1.

MAYORALTY NOT FOR HIM

Fred J. Voss Says He Lacks the Training as Public Speaker.

But He Does Want to Continue in Charge of Finances.

Frederick J. Voss, who has been the watchdog of Duluth's treasury almost since Duluth has had a treasury, and the custodian of Duluth's credit when the city stood in sore need of such a custodian, has no hankerings for the job of mayor, under the new commission form of government.

Mr. Voss would be content to be chosen just a plain, ordinary, everyday commissioner, with the idea that when the commission was organized he will be assigned to the duty with which he is so familiar, that of guarding the city's cash.

"There are certain social features to the position of mayor of a city like Duluth for which I have no liking and no training whatever," said Mr. Voss this morning. "The mayor, in addition to his regular work, has many calls upon him to perform little social duties, like making a speech at a banquet or welcoming conventions to the city. These duties are a necessary part of the mayor's job, and a mayor should be able to perform them capably and gracefully. I have no training and no experience in such duties, and I do not want to have them as part of my job. They would be hard work for me and would distract my attention too much from my regular work. Therefore, I am not a candidate for mayor.

"But I do want to serve the city as commissioner of finance. That is a job I know. It is a job I like. It is a job I can fill. I have grown up with the financial side of the city's government. I know it thoroughly. I have been with the city through good times and bad and I believe I have been able to save the city some money, and also its credit at times, when a man just as capable as I am, but less familiar with the work, might have failed. I know that is a job I can make good in, and I do not hesitate to admit I will be a candiadte for it, but I do not want to be a square peg in a round hole, and that is what I would be as mayor."

BULGARIANS THREATEN TO END MEETINGS

cordance with the terms offered by the allies and is unsatisfactory to us, the negotiations will be broken off.

"The second difficulty is in connection with the matter of the islands in the Aegean sea. There again we will insist upon our terms.

"In fact, there is no ground for the impression that seems to exist in some quarters that we have the intention of modifying our terms as regards Turkey. Whatever we may do afterward with the European powers is not connected with our negotiations with Turkey.

Some Progress Made.

"We are ready to acknowledge that some progress was made yesterday, but it is necessary to bear in mind that the essential points before the conference have not been settled. Let us hope they will be at tomorrow's meeting."

Turks Also Firm.

Rechad Pasha, the leader of the Turkish plenipotentiaries, was equally emphatic on the subject of Adrianople. In the course of an interview this morning he said:

"We have ceded Macedonia in a spirit of conciliation, and with a great desire to avoid a renewal of the war. On two questions, however, we will not yield. We will give up neither Adrianople nor the islands in the Aegean sea."

The question of the Aegean islands is expected to be more easily arranged than that of the ultimate fate of the former capital of the Turkish empire. The Aegeans, it is thought, may eventually be divided among the disputants.

In any case, the danger of a resumption of hostilities is regarded as eliminated, and the utterances of threats of a renewal of the war by various delegates may be taken as merely the playing of cards in the diplomatic game.

Have Reached Minimum.

Rechad Pasha and the other Turkish delegates now declare that Turkey yesterday yielded to the allies four-fifths of what she originally claimed, thus going from the maximum of her expectations to a minimum which is absolutely irreducible.

It is now the turn of the allies, they point out, to reduce the maximum of their original terms to such a minimum as will meet the Turks in a reasonable compromise. Should the allies refuse to do this, the Turkish delegates say, Europe and the whole world will be able to judge on which side are to be found moderation and real love of peace.

Rechad Pasha remarked that the whole modern history of the Turkish empire was marked by a spirit of good will toward the European powers. Turkey had made at all times every concession compatable with her dignity. This had led to the practical abandonment of Eastern Rumelia, the settlement of the Armenian question and the entrusting of the protection of Crete to England, France, Russia and Italy.

Ceding Unconquered Territory.

"Now," he continued, "Turkey was doing a thing almost without precedent in any previous war. She was ceding even territories which had not been conquered by the enemy, such as Janina and Scutari.

"Turkey, however," he concluded, "cannot and will not yield Adrianople, which, besides not having been taken by the besiegers, has for the Mussulman world a meaning and a value both sentimental and religious which no other Islamic city possesses. It has not a corresponding importance for Bulgaria, especially since Philippopolis has attracted the greater part of the commerce and industries which were once centered in Adrianople."

Capitulated in Part.

After their protracted diplomatic skirmishing, the Turks capitulated to a majority of the demands of the Balkan allies at yesterday's session. Through Rechad Pasha they agreed to cede practically the whole of the Ottoman empire's European dominions, except Adrianople and the territory between it and Constantinople, to their victorious but traditionally despised neighbors.

The terms the Turkish delegates presented to the conference as a counter-proposal to the demands of the allies, were:

First—The rectification of the Turko-Bulgarian frontier by making the boundary west of the line now occupied by the troops of the allies in the vilayet of Adrianople.

Second—The question of the status of Adrianople to be settled by Turkey and Bulgaria direct.

Third—The cession of the remainder of European Turkey, including Janina and Scutari, to the allies.

Fourth—The Albanian and Cretan questions to be solved by the powers.

Fifth—The Aegaen islands to remain Turkish.

Turks Sought to Shift.

The announcement of these terms was wrung from the Ottoman delegates with the greatest difficulty. They came only after Rechad Pasha had reiterated Turkey's desire to shift the responsibility for adjudicating all the vital questions to the great powers, and the representatives of the allies had registered their unchangeable objections to such a course and plainly had given the Turks to understand that the failure of the Ottoman delegates to embark upon serious negotiations would mean a resumption of hostilities in southeastern Europe.

The sitting was the most momentous and exciting since the beginning of the conference. M. Venizelos presided.

Rechad said his government proposed to submit all questions but Adrianople to settlement by the powers. This reply caused an outburst of indignation which M. Venizelos was hardly able to put down. Several of the delegates shouted that it was not dignified to turn such vital matters into a joke, while others observed that they had not come all the way to London and remained here for three weeks to hear a proposition advanced which might have been made at the time the armistice was signed.

Will Prepare Map.

Rechad then announced that his instructions contained another alternative, and requested time to formulate it. After a short recess Rechad made the amended proposals, and inquired whether the allies were ready to discuss peace on the basis of the Turkish proposals of today. M. Venizelos replied that he desired Rechad to put in writing and deliver to the allies the text of his propositions so that they might return a written answer. Therefore the sitting was suspended.

When it again was resumed, Rechad complied with the request of M. Venizelos, and in turn was given the written reply of the allies. This said the allies would maintain their original terms, but for the sake of discussion they would invite Rechad to present to the next sitting of the conference a map of the district of Adrianople, with the frontier line proposed by Turkey marked on it. The conference then adjourned until Friday.

Unofficially, hope is now entertained that if peace is not concluded by the orthodox church Christmas, which occurs Jan. 7, the orthodox New Year, Jan. 14, will witness its approach.

For the first time since the vigil began, the shades at the windows of the mansion were thrown up today. There seemed to be an unusual stir within. Some of the process servers believed that Mr. Rockefeller might accept service voluntarily today.

Mr. Rockefeller's brother, John D. Rockefeller, drove up to the house in a touring car during the forenoon and stopped for a moment at the curb opposite the entrance, but did not alight. Just as Mr. Rockefeller was about to get out of his machine, a newspaper reporter recognized him and stepped forward to greet him. Mr. Rockefeller turned to the chauffeur quickly and the car shot away before the door had been opened.

Congressmen Favor Plan.

Washington, Jan. 2.—House officials today were inclined to the view that the best procedure to adopt in the effort to reach William Rockefeller with a subpoena for the Pujo committee, would be to have the judiciary committee immediately report and the house adopt a resolution instructing an attachment be served upon the financier. Jerry South, chief clerk of the house, conferred today with a number of the house leaders on the subject.

Charles F. Riddel, sergeant-at-arms, did not return from New York today but he has consulted with Charles F. Crisp, the parliamentarian of the house, who failed to find any precedents upon a quick examination of the question. If a summons actually had been served on Mr. Rockefeller, there would be no doubt as to the right to serve upon him a criminal warrant on the ground of being a contumacious witness.

congress for the next few weeks will not begin until next Monday. At that time the ways and means committee of the house will begin its hearings preparatory to revision of the tariff and the house money trust committee will resume its probe into the concentration of money and credits. Many important New York banks and financiers are to be among the witnesses before the latter committee.

The end of the impeachment trial of Judge Archbald is expected next week. His attorneys will present about fifteen more witnesses and Judge Archbald probably will take the stand in his own behalf before the conclusion of the case. Business in the senate has been greatly retarded by the time required daily for the trial of the impeachment proceedings.

Indian Bill Next.

The house was ready today to continue work in the Indian appropriation bill, which probably will be passed within a day or two and sent to the senate. The senate appropriation committee is expected to have the legislative appropriation bill ready for action in the senate within a day or two. All the appropriation measures will be pushed to completion in the near future.

learn definitely I shall notify the district attorney."

Hockin, the former secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who was sentenced to six years in Leavenworth prison for his part in the conspiracy, was denounced as "a double-crosser" and termed the "Iago of the conspiracy" by the government's attorney. Hockin did not take the witness stand, and no defense was made for him in the arguments by the attorneys, although District Attorney Miller offered the lawyers of the defense twenty minutes of the government's time if one wished to speak for Hockin.

Judge Seaman of the United States circuit court of appeals of Chicago, who, it was announced, was to be here today and consider a writ of supersedeas asked of him by an attorney for the defendants last Tuesday, did not appear. Judge Seaman's purpose in coming to Indianapolis was to hear a civil suit, and that was postponed.

Dare Threat Not Reported.

No report on the threat made on the life of Frank Dare, New Lisbon, Ind., foreman of the jury which returned a verdict of guilty against the alleged dynamite conspirators, had been made to the federal authorities this morning. Mr. Dare received a letter yesterday stating that he would "be planted under the sod within the next three months."

"Some crank or a practical joker probably sent the letter," said District Attorney Miller. "We have heard nothing of it, except through newspapers."

Assistant District Attorney Clarence W. Nichols said he put little faith in such warning, but added that they naturally make one nervous.

"I do not believe anyone interested in carrying out such a threat would give his victim a warning," said Mr. Nichols. "Every time there is an important case, someone, it seems, must write letters and issue warnings. Yesterday there was a woman here who had a theory that religion was back of the dynamite conspiracy, and before I could get rid of her I had to promise to investigate it thoroughly."

Enter Prison Routine.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 2.—Their Bertillon measurements taken and their assignments to prison work having been given, today the thirty-three union men convicted as dynamite conspirators entered the routine of prisoners at the Federal penitentiary here. Their names are held in the warden's office, but at the prison the thirty-three are designated by a column of figures in a list with more than 1,200 other prisoners.

Those of them who were able to sleep were awakened from their first night in the cell by the sounding of the reveille, which echoed through the stone and steel bound cell house at 6:30 a. m. Excepting Herbert S. Hockin, former secretary of the Iron Workers' union, who has been labelled the bete noir of his fellows, the men bunked two in a cell on "double-decked beds." The cells, like all those accorded new prisoners, were bare, in marked contrast to those of the old inmates, who nearly all have covered their walls with pictures from magazines, postal cards and souvenirs.

With the first shock of meeting with actual prison life past, all of the men as they joined the other 1,200 in the march to the dining room for breakfast at 7:25, showed more fortitude than yesterday.

After breakfast the men were called up one by one, examined and questioned as to their fitness for the different lines of work about the prison.

Who Are Cell Mates.

Tveitmoe was assigned as the cell-mate of Eugene A. Clancy, convict "8,232." Tveitmoe, secretary of the California Building Trades council, and Clancy of San Francisco, both were accused of aiding in the Los Angeles Times explosion. J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake City, who also was convicted of conspiracy in aiding James B. McNamara, was designated "8,421" and was assigned to share the cell of Phillip A. Cooley, New Orleans, numbered "8,424."

President Ryan was placed in a cell with Michael J. Young of Boston, who was numbered "8,428."

John T. Butler, Buffalo, vice president of the union, who was sentenced to serve six years, was placed in a cell with Michael J. Hannon of Scranton, Pa., who was sentenced to three years.

Two Cleveland men, Peter J. Smith and George Anderson, who had remained together throughout the trial, were permitted to be cell-mates. John H. Barry and Paul J. Morrin of St. Louis likewise were given the same cell.

YOUNG CLARK HAS $1,000 CELEBRATION

Montana Copper King's Son Pays High for a Three-Hour Dance.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 2.—Charles W. Clark, millionaire son of the Montana copper king, led a motor car tour of the streets for several hours New Year's eve, and then decided to give a dance. Going to one of the big cafes, Clark requested the use of the ball room.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Clark," said the manager, "but it would cost you $1,000."

"Well, I guess we'll take it," said Clark, drawing his checkbook from his pocket.

The cafe man fumbled the check a moment, then ordered the room cleared and Clark and his guests waltzed and "Texas-tommied" for three hours.

CITY ON THE THIN ICE OF ITS INTERREGNUM

For Three Months Old Officers Will Serve Under New Charter.

Must Feel Their Way Carefully to Avoid Legal Tangles.

The new city charter, providing for the commission form of government, will go into effect tomorrow, although the new commission will not take office until April 14.

Tomorrow the sixteen aldermen will lose their identity as ward representatives; the board of water and light commissioners, board of fire commissioners, library board and park board will lose their authority and become mere advisory bodies; the old charter will lose its effect and the city will be required to proceed under the new charter.

City Attorney Carmichael holds that the aldermanic body will be vested with all the powers of the commission council, as provided in the new charter. He has instructed the heads of departments accordingly.

The heads of departments have made preparations for adjusting themselves to the new conditions. They will be required to apply the old machinery to the new charter until April 14 when the commission elected April 1 takes office.

In accordance with the instructions of the city attorney, the departments have arranged to conduct their routine business as formerly. Matters which the new charter requires to be initiated by the commission will be submitted to the city council for action. Matters in which the commission is given final decision in the new charter will be placed before the council for final decision.

Advisory Boards.

The problem of the water and light, park, library and fire boards has been solved by making them advisory instead of boards of final action. The individuals serving on the boards at present will continue to act, but their actions must go to the council for confirmation. It is likely the council will take no position in the affairs of the boards other than to perfunctorily ratify their actions.

The charter provides that all present officers of the city will hold over until the new commission takes office. Although the new charter provides for no comptroller, and provides for an auditor instead, City Comptroller McCormick will hold over. If any question is raised, the council may change Mr. McCormick's title to conform to the new charter.

There is some difference of opinion among attorneys as to the powers of the council in the interregnum between the effectiveness of the new charter and the inauguration of the commission. Some attorneys are of the opinion that the council has the power only to pay routine bills and transact other business absolutely required to preserve the city government.

City Attorney Carmichael holds that the new charter takes full effect tomorrow and the present city legislative body has all the power given the commission and may exercise that power until supplanted by the commission.

Whether the council will undertake to exercise that power is a question. Several urgent matters will probably be acted upon under the authority given by the new charter, but until conditions are adjusted the aldermen are not prepared to say what course they will adopt.

The heads of departments say they will proceed on the advice of the city attorney and will do all they can to avoid confusion.

PROBLEM OF ASSESSMENT

North Dakota Commission Asks Legislature to Fix Ratio.

Will Assess at the Actual Value Unless This Is Done.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is quite clear from the report which the North Dakota tax commission will submit to the governor and the thirteenth legislative assembly next week, that unless the members of the legislature desire to have property in the state assessed at anything but its actual value that they will have to pass a law designating the ratio to be used. While the report does not emphasize the contention that an attempt ought to be made to follow the plain provisions of the state law, yet it is made pretty clear that such an attempt will be made unless the legislature deems it wise to pass a law fixing a uniform ratio for the state. While the commission confesses that it has little hopes of obtaining a 100 per cent assessment the first year, or approximating it, it is confident that the assessable property in the state can be tripled or quadrupled.

Much Escapes Taxation.

After setting forth at considerable length the figures showing the low percentage of the taxable wealth of to state carried on the assessment rolls, and emphasizing the necessity of improving the assessing machinery of the state with a view to procuring a more complete listing of all property at higher valuations, the commission discusses at some length the problems that will arise in connection with the increased assessable property of the state. These problems arise out of provisions of the constitution and the laws which prescribe the rules for assessing property and which have made salaries, debt limits, maximum levies and levies of special taxes to depend upon assessed valuations. The commission points out the necessity of preserving the present status in so far as these matters are concerned and recommends the passage of a law that will insure the minimum of distubance of existing scales.

Favors 50 Per Cent.

The commission says that if the legislature desires to have the state assessed at any ratio to true value that must be fixed by law and recommends that if any ratio is established that it ought to be at 50 per cent.

However, points out the commission, there will be a general disturbance among the salaries of officials, debt limits, maximum levies and levies of special taxes, whether or not the legislature passes the 50 per cent law. The salaries of county officials are regulated with the assessed value of the county as a base, and if this assessed value is materially raised the salaries of the officials will be correspondingly raised. As a remedy the tax commission recommends that this be adjusted by using the population and assessed as a bisis for regulating county salaries rather than the assessed valuation.

"The maximum tax levies have been fixed in the various statutes," says the report, "upon the supposition that the low valuations now customary would continue and is obvious that any sharp increase in the assessed value of property in any taxing district, the county and state would make it possible to raise the amount of revenue greatly in excess of that now possible under the maximum levies." The commission will submit a bill similar to the Kansas law on this subject.

The School Levy.

The effect of a probable increase on the 2-mill county tuition fund is discussed in the report. This levy of 2 mills on the assessed valuation is for the support of common schools. The effect on levies authorized for special purposes also is considered, and the commission says laws will be submitted providing safeguards to care for all contingencies.

The report points out that the 1-mill maintenance tax for state educational institutions is not adequate for many of the institutions and submits a list of the appropriations for the various institutions made by the twelfth legislative assembly.

As touching this subject the report states: "The tax commission has no recommendation to make regarding the matter of the 1-mill tax. It is content to present the condition, as set forth above, and is ready to give the legislature whatever assistance it will be possible to render in the matter of estimating the total assessed valuation of property upon whatever basis of assessment the legislature may determine."

SEAT SALE LARGE.

St. James' Orphanage Benefit By Fiske O'Hara Assured of Success.

The seat sale for Fiske O'Hara, who will appear at the Lyceum next week for the benefit of St. James' orphanage, opened this morning.

A brisk demand for seats developed at the opening of the Lyceum box office and strengthened members of the Knights of Columbus in the belief that the benefit will be very successful.

Mr. O'Hara's engagement in his new play, "The Rose of Kildare," will open at the Lyceum with a matinee Sunday. He will also appear Sunday night. The performances Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and a matinee Wednesday will be for the benefit of the orphanage.

Members of Duluth council, Knights of Columbus, under whose auspices Mr. O'Hara will give the benefit performances, have been working hard for the success of the venture. They have distributed thousands of tickets, many of which were exchanged at the Lyceum today.

St. James' orphanage has always been given liberal support, not only by Catholics, but by Duluth people generally. In offering Fiske O'Hara in his new play, the Knights of Columbus believe they are giving the public an opportunity to enjoy a production of unusual merit and at the same time to aid a worthy charity.

Mr. O'Hara is the recognized leading player of romantic Irish roles in America. His voice gained him wide recognition in "The Isle of Spice" and other light operas, and he was engaged by "The Bostonians." His Robin Hood added to his laurels. He turned from opera to what are to him the more congenial Irish romantic roles, in which he also has opportunity for the use of his vocal powers. The incidental songs to "The Rose of Kildare" are Irish ballads of the kind that have swept the country in former years, and Mr. O'Hara sings them with power and feeling.

Mr. O'Hara is appearing under the direction of Augustus Pitou, Jr., manager of the Blackstone theater in Chicago and son of the man who guided Chauncey Olcott through his long career. Mr. Pitou has given "The Rose of Kildare" an elaborate production, beautiful scenic efforts adding to the dramatic action and the charm of O'Hara's voice to make the offering attractive.

Mr. O'Hara is surrounded by a capable company. His leading woman, Constance Molineaux, played the leading role in one of Henry W. Savage's "Excuse Me" companies last year. Miss Marie Quinn, who is Mrs. O'Hara in private life, has won a firm place as a comedienne. J. P. Sullivan, who plays "Deaf Dan," is one of the oldest players of Irish roles on the American stage. The company includes other well known players.

FIX DETAILS FOR LOAN TO CHINESE

Six Powers Will Supply Republic With Total of $125,000,000.

Pekin, Jan. 2.—A preliminary agreement has been arranged, settling the details of the proposed six-power loan of $125,000,000 to China. The new republic is to receive 6 per cent below the sale price of the bonds. The Chinese audit department, under the advisorship of Herr Romp, the German representative of the international banking group, will supervise the expenditure of the loan.

China has agreed in principle to an arrangement whereby the six powers—the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, Germany and Japan—undertake not to press for the immediate payment of compensation to foreigners for losses caused by the recent revolution. Russia alone claims $525,000. A mixed commission will assess the amounts owed by China for these losses, and the funds for the payment of them probably will be derived from a supplementary loan. An arrangement along this line, however, is subject to the approval of the governments of the six powers interested.

The customs returns for the last year already total about $8,980,000, and later returns are expected to increase this amount. This will be sufficient to pay the Boxer indemnity up to the middle of last May, but it is understood it will be allowed to stand over and the first proceeds of the loan utilized to settle the arrears in the indemnity.

EAST GRAND FORKS HAD GOOD YEAR.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The year of 1912 was one of the best in the history of East Grand Forks from an improvement point of view. The city laid about $50,000 worth of paving, invested about $5,000 in an ornamental lighting system, and a $40,000 parochial school was constructed by the Catholics of the city. Several new business blocks were constructed, about $25,000 was spent for new residences, and, all in all, the year was extremely successful from every viewpoint.

New Grand Forks Barns.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Grand Forks Street Railway company will begin the construction soon of new car barns, having purchased a site. Several years ago local citizens organized a company and built a street car line, after failing to induce outside capital to become interested. Already old quarters have been outgrown, and the company is expanding rapidly.

NEW YEAR'S DAY EVENTS AT Y. M. C. A.

Program Entertains Large Crowds From Morning Until Late at Night.

The New Year's day program at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday was pulled off on schedule time. The special events filled the entire day and entertained the large crowd of people, from the beginning of the indoor baseball game in the morning until the last basket was shot at 10:30 p. m.

The indoor baseball game was won by the Y. M. C. A. team, playing against the noon class, with a score of 24 to 7. The volley ball game was one of the closest and best exhibitions of this most interesting game that has been puuuel off at the local institution for some time. The teams were evenly matched. In the final reckoning Morterud's team had won two games out of three.

Immediately following the volley ball a clever exhibition of life saving demonstrations was given at the swimming pool, following which a very exciting series of swimming races was pulled off.

A large audience which completely filled the gymnasium attended the evening program. The Apollo Glee club, which is a new organization under the direction of Prof. Madison, made its initial appearance last evening and was greeted with enthusiastic applause. The club was forced to respond with encores. Miss Betty Holden and Miss Marie Quinn gave popular readings which were well received and demanded encores. Miss Valborg Gunderson captivated the audience wit her violin selection "Hejri Kati," by Hubay.

The concluding feature of the day was the basket ball game between the Duluth Boat club and the Great Northerns of Superior. The game was a one-sided affair, however, and hardly gave the Duluth Boat club boys good practice. The final score was 70 to 12.

BETTER FARMING RESULTS SOUGHT

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—With $100,000 to spend on the Better Farming association work in 1913 as against $53,110.70 in 1912, the scope of the organization will be greatly extended this year. The funds are raised by public spirited men in the Twin Cities and over the state of North Dakota. Thomas P. Cooper, for years with the agricultural college in Minnesota, is the working head and manager.

This year the movement was operated in twelve counties complete and partially in four others. The organization directed the cultivation of the crops on practically 9,000 acres, in plots varying from one-third of an acre to 150 acres. It had the active co-operation of 2,346 actual farmers and the observation of easily that many more of their neighbors.

So great was the success of the plan that if a sufficient number of experts can be secured at least twenty-five counties, or half the entire state, will participate in the work during the present year. The experts must not only be technically trained in agriculture, but to make a success must be diplomatic and tactful in their negotiations with the farmers.

EIGHT RESCUED FROM COAL MINE.

Arrangements were made to take the men to the hospital at Coal Dale, Pa. The men were imprisoned nearly forty hours.

Rheumatism
A Home Cure Given By One Who Had It

In the spring of 1892 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case.

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail your name and address and I will send it, free to try. If, after you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

Estimates of Production, Etc., Are Made at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 2.—The world's production of gold during 1912 was $5,500,000 greater than in 1911, the total having been $465,000,000 according to a preliminary estimate announced by George E. Roberts, director of the mint.

Gold production in the United States amounted to $91,685,168, compared with $96,890,000 in 1911. California led with $19,988,486; Colorado was second with $18,791,710; Alaska third with $17,398,946; Nevada fourth with $13,331,689 and South Dakota with $7,795,680. Of the world's production the Transvaal and Rhodesia made a gain of about $20,000,000 and Canada gained nearly $3,000,000. The United States, Mexico and Australia lost about $16,000,000, and in the rest of the world the production was about what it was last year. Since 1908, when the production of gold in the world was $442,475,000, the annual increase has been comparatively small.

United States Mint.

The mint service of the United States during the year sold $38,000,000 worth of gold bars for consumption in points in this country and Canada. Sales were $35,000,000 in 1911. The net consumption of new gold, including coin for such uses, in the United States and Canada was about $55,000,000, and in the world excluding Asia, probably between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000.

The absorption of gold by India, which has been attracting attention for several years, was again a notable feature. The net imports of India in 1909 were approximately $50,000,000, in 1910 $90,000,000; in 1911, $116,500,000, and in 1912 approximately $140,000,000. The movement of silver to India also continues to be very heavy. The importations of silver, in ounces, during 1912 have been exceeded only once in the history of India in 1906.

Treasury Holdings.

The increase of gold in the monetary stock of the United States in 1912 was approximately $90,000,000. The gold holdings of the United States treasury increased about $70,000,000 chiefly in bullion represented in the circulation by certificates. The production of silver in the United States during 1912 amounted to 62,269,974 fine ounces compared with 60,399,400 fine ounces in 1911, the chief gains in production having been made in Utah and Colorado. Nevada ranked first in production with 13,042,118 fine ounces. Utah second with 12,795,072 ounces; Montana third with 12,328,589 ounces; Colorado fourth with 8,350,316 ounces and Idaho fifth with 7,703,721.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

CHIPPEWAS TO HAVE COUNCIL

Minnesota Chiefs and Leaders to Meet in Cass Lake Feb. 4.

Will Perfect Organization to Work for Interests of Red Men.

Cass Lake, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a general council of the Chippewa Indians held on the Fond du Lac reservation recently resolutions were adopted constituting that council a working body for the purpose of promoting the welfare of the Chippewa Indians in Minnesota. A resolution was adopted to the effect that all chiefs, leaders and head men on all the Chippewa reservations in Minnesota be invited to attend a convention, or a general council, to be held here Tuesday, Feb. 4, for the purpose of organizing the Chippewas of Minnesota into a corporate body, to enable them to act in unison and as one band; to concentrate their powers, and to do all things and acts that will seem necessary to promote their interests, to protect their property and obtain their just dues from the government.

It is suggested that members of each reservation call a council immediately and choose delegates, not less than three in number, to attend the convention. Delegates will be given the power to represent the people upon the reservation from which they are chosen, so they will be able to exercise their best judgment and act upon all matters that may come up for discussion at the convention.

To Adopt Constitution.

At the convention a constitution and by-laws will be adopted which will govern the body to be created and organized. This corporate body shall be given permanent headquarters, with officers, and the headquarters will be selected by the convention assembled.

The corporate body will be represented by commissioners from each of the several reservations in Minnesota, who will be chosen for a term of years. Competent officers will be chosen to take up the work intelligently now pending between the Chippewas and the government of the United States. The work in contemplation is the settlement and closing up of all old treaties yet in dispute by the Chippewas upon any of the several reservations in Minnesota, and to aid the government in the proper conduct of the Rice treaty, so called, consummated under the act of Jan. 14, 1889, so as to literally carry out all of the promises of the Chippewa commission, of which H. M. Rice was chairman.

They also wish to suggest to the Indian office modifications of rules and regulations not in harmony with the best interests of the Chippewas, and urge the enactment by congress of new laws which shall carry into effect the principles of citizenship.

The committee in charge for holding the coming convention believes that, thus organized, the Chippewas will be able to handle their affairs with the government under modern business methods.

OIL INSPECTION FEE CRITICIZED

North Dakota Dealers Will Ask Legislature to Reduce Charge.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the inspection fee of a half cent a gallon exacted of oil handlers shipping into the state is a direct tax upon the consumer, and that this inspection fee should be materially reduced, is the contention of several oil companies operating in the state, and they will seek to secure an amendment to the present laws which will exempt the consumers from the tax.

Charles Bartles of Grand Forks, in explaining the question of oil inspection fees, says that a total of between $40,000 and $60,000 is turned over to the state every two years, this amount being over and above the running expenses of the inspection department.

While the oil companies pay this inspection fee of a half cent on each gallon, yet the consumer is the man who must foot the bill in the end, and he believes the tax is an unfair one. A fee great enough to cover the cost of maintaining the department is urged by him.

SERVICES AT M'GREGOR.

First M. E. Church Congregation Welcomes New Year's Advent.

McGregor, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A well arranged program was a feature of "watch-night" service at the First M. E. church here Tuesday evening. A large congregation gathered early in the evening and when the Rev. F. B. Luce announced the first number there was a stillness which usually prevails at such gatherings. After the program supper was served in the church parlors. The remaining hours of the old year were spent in religious services. Rev. Mr Johnson preached a soul stirring sermon. Rev. F. B. Luce closed with an address at 12 o'clock, and the bell rang out the old year and welcomed the new.

Rev. F. B. Luce, the pastor was presented with an envelope containing a substantial sum of money and the congregation returned to their homes much pleased with the evening's services.

CEYLON, MINN., BANK STUNG FOR $6,000.

Ceylon, Minn., Jan. 2.—The First National bank of Ceylon has just been cleverly swindled out of $6,000 by a stranger who claimed to have come here from Fairbanks, Alaska, according to a statement by the bank's officials.

John Carr, a stranger, came here a short time ago, presenting a certificate of deposit on a bank at Fairbanks, for which he took a time certificate here. A few days ago, he announced that he had received a telegram stating that his wife had met with an accident while on her way from Alaska, and departed to ostensibly meet her. The Ceylon bank officials learned a day or two ago that the alleged Carr had exchanged his time certificate at a bank at Fairmont, this county, for a cashier's check. Then the Ceylon bankers wired the Fairbanks bank, receiving a reply to the effect that the time certificate on that institution was bogus. A warrant has been issued for the man's arrest and detectives are looking for him.

TWO LIVES LOST IN HOTEL BLAZE

Bowman, N. D., Hostelry Destroyed; All But Two Guests Escaping.

Bowman, N. D., Jan. 2.—Two lives were lost in a fire that destroyed the Sterling hotel here early yesterday. The fire, which started in an adjoining shop, spread so rapidly that the hotel proprietor had barely time to arouse the guests, when the stairway fell in and the occupants, with the exception of Merritt McPhee of this place and William Connolly of Ypsilanti, Mich., escaped by jumping through the windows.

The charred bodies of the two men were found late in the afternoon. The property loss was $40,000.

NEW MILL CITY DAM.

Late Duluthian's Development Company Has Been Acquired.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 2.—Power to be developed by a dam over the Mississippi river at Coon creek, eight miles above the city limits of Minneapolis, will be converted to the uses of the Minneapolis General Electric company in about a year. A construction camp has been installed and work on the dam will be prosecuted right through the winter. Electric SIGNS

USE ROOF SIGNS

FOR WIDE PUBLICITY

They can be seen for miles with electric illumination. They afford the widest and most attractive advertising obtainable for little expense. The sky-line in New York is ablaze with roof signs after dark, which are seen by millions of people in the street—on the elevated—in the harbor—on incoming and outgoing trains. Why would such publicity not be equally effective in Duluth?

The Cost Is Much Less

for electricity per month than you may imagine. It is cheap publicity—all items included—and publicity which is more insistent than any other you can devise. There is no chance of being overlooked. If you have any product which needs either local or national publicity—use electric signs on the housetops of traffic. They will be seen and blazed into the minds of millions. For particulars phone

INTENSE ITCHING AND BURNING

Scratching Made Sores. Could Not Sleep. Used Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and Two Boxes of Cuticura Ointment. Now Rid of Trouble.

R. F. D. No. 2, Tawas City, Mich.—"My skin trouble was brought on while I was in the army, by fever and ague. It came on my body in a form of dead skin, then the itching and burning were intense, and I would scratch and make sores. One year ago this winter I was so bad I could not sleep, had to get out of bed every hour of the night, build a fire, heat water and take a bath before I could get any rest.

"I washed with hot water, washed off the dead skin, then put on the Cuticura Soap, dried with a towel and then put on the Cuticura Ointment. I used two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and I was rid of the trouble and now I can sleep and rest." (Signed) E. L. Price, June 14, 1912.

Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of eczemas and other distressing eruptions of skin and scalp, but no other emollients do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough skins, itching, scaly scalps, dandruff, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and shapeless nails, nor do it so economically. A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.

Will Explain Mystery.

"The Wonder Kettle," which has been creating much comment on the part of Orpheum patrons this week, will be explained Saturday.

Frederick Andrews, who is presenting the interesting scientific experiments that are mystifying the Orpheum audiences, has consented to explain them briefly at the performances Saturday afternoon and evening. He does not make a practice of doing this, but at Manager Billings' request he agreed to add the brief lecture to his act at both performances Saturday. This is largely for the benefit of the school children and students home for the holidays. The liquid he uses, he says, is not liquid air, but further than that he will say nothing until Saturday.

There were two large Near Year's audiences at the Orpheum yesterday.

The new bill, which will open Sunday afternoon, will be headlined by Claude and Fannie Usher in one of the most popular acts on the circuit this season.

Judge Landis Declares Action of Receivers Was Illegal.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—The sale of the Illinois properties of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Railroad company by the receivers was set aside as illegal by Judge Landis in the United States district court here today. Judge Landis held that at the sale bidding was suppressed, and that the purchase price was more than $2,000,000 below the true valuation.

After criticizing the plan of reorganization, which contemplated the issuance of $26,000,000 in bonds, Judge Landis declared there would be another sale of the property in the near future and that the bids would have to be higher.

IS MERELY AIR IN THE WATER

If Any Meters Ran Wild They Were Running Backward.

The murky condition of the city water has caused some unfounded apprehension.

Manager S. R. Hatch of the water and light department explained today that the apparent white substance in the water is nothing but air drawn into the mains by the recession of the water during the recent shortage.

"There is nothing but air mixed with the water," said Mr. Hatch. "Much air was drawn into the mains and although we opened all the hydrants along the upper level, it could not all be drawn out. It is mixed with the water in tiny bubbles that give the water the white appearance. If the vessel in which water is drawn is allowed to stand for a few moments, it will clear quickly."

Another feature of the recent shortage was explained by the water department today. There has been much complaint of the working of meters while there was no water running through them. The department officials say that most of the meter action was backward and there will be more gainers than losers through the action of air on the meters.

The receding water draws air into the main through open faucets and the meters are worked backward, according to Manager Hatch. There is very little air action on the resumption of pumping, but if there has been it will be detected by the variation in the bills and will be corrected.

"People have a misapprehension as to how fast a meter works," said R. A. Casson, superintendent of meters, today. "The ordinary meter is gauged so that running at full blast for an hour it runs off no more than 8¾ cents worth of water. I venture to say that the air action backward or forward did not affect any meter 5 cents worth. However, when a man sees his meter working apparently like mad, he is sure that it is running off at least $7 worth."

Carrington, N. D., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—About $23,000 damage was done by a fire early today which started in the Niles hotel and was not stopped until it reached the brick walls of the Beck Clothing company's store. A low water supply made the work of fighting the flames difficult.

The fire started from an overheated stove in the rear of the hotel.

FOSS TALKS ABOUT RAILROAD CONTROL

Says State Regulation or Federal Ownership Is Present Issue.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 2.—Immediate and adequate state regulation of transportation systems was declared by Governor Eugene N. Foss today, in his third inaugural address, to be the alternative to national ownership and operation of the railroads of the country.

"The greatest problem before the American people," he said, "is to maintain the government above railroad domination. It is clear that if a commonwealth does not control the railroad situation, the demand for control by ownership and operation by the Federal government soon will become irresistible.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Two Sides to Question of Waning Love.

Why is it, I wonder, that so much blame attaches to the wife when she loses the affection of her husband or gives voice to her fear that his love for her is on the wane? True, it is that the wife's first duty is towards her husband and the conduct of her home. It is also claimed by many that the practice of housekeeping arts will hold a husband. While I have no wish to underestimate the value of good housekeeping, I have seen and constantly do see evidences that slaving to keep a house clean and homelike and to prepare good meals does not fill all the requirements—that is, does not keep husbands tethered in anything like the ratio one would suppose from the constant din we are treated to on the subject of housing and feeding the superior animal—man.

I sat opposite a woman at lunch yesterday who smiled bravely through tear-wet eyes as she confided a bit of her home troubles.

"Do you know I am ashamed to have you see my hands and nails," she said, trying to speak lightly. "They are in horrible condition from peeling onions and potatoes and chopping mince meat and other things so that my husband shall have his fill of good food. But it has no effect in keeping him at my side. I have tried all the plans advanced and warranted—clean, comfortable home; good meals, well and promptly served; myself in fresh attire and gracious and all the rest, but none has magic to work in my case. He just goes and I feel like a slave instead of a wife."

There is much argument about exerting oneself to charm as wife as one did as sweetheart. I am not for dropping pretty manners the moment the knot is tied, and this applies as much to the husband as to the wife. But conditions after marriage are often changed and sometimes radically so. The girl who, as sweetheart, had only to make herself pleasing to look at and charming as an entertainer, finds duties that, while she attacks them gladly, demand much of the time that previously she gave to making herself witching as a hostess.

Men make certain efforts to please before marriage that a goodly percentage of them drop all too quickly afterwards. The advice—"watch yourself and not your husband"—in order to keep his affection has its merits, but is too one-sided to apply in the greater number of cases.

MIGHT COST FULLY $10

Expense of Cleaning Superior Street Crossings Would Be Terrific.

Board Has Had Only Three Weeks to Get It Done.

"It's too bad the board of public works is so very poor that it cannot keep the crossings in the downtown section cleaned off," said a downtown business man today.

"Of course, the district is large. It must contain all the way from a dozen to two dozen street intersections, depending upon whether or not First street is included. The big snow storm was only about three weeks ago. So it may be that the board has been working on the crossings on the outskirts of the vast downtown section and has not yet reached the heart of the shopping district. That may be why nobody noticed them.

"As usual, the board is probably ending the year with a deficit. But that's to be expected. Yet it seems to me that the city council a while ago authorized the issuance of $50,000 or $60,000 of certificates of indebtedness against the funds of the board. Now it would cost tremendously to keep the downtown crossings clear, at least clean enough so that a person could walk from one side to the other without going over his shoetops or close to them. It would take all of a couple men's time a day or two. A man working for a private company might do it in half the time, but even at the city's standard slow time, two men should be able to finish in less than a week. And even though the expense would be terrific it would seem that the price might somehow be squeezed out of that $50,000 or $60,000.

"The crossings of the city are certainly a disgrace. If the city cannot get up enough ambition to do such a trivial job I would be one of several men whom I have heard express themselves as willing to donate towards a collection to have the work done. The saving in peace of mind would be more than worth the price, to say nothing of the embarassment occasioned by the praise (?) bestowed upon us by outsiders, who congratulate us upon living in such a progressive city, kicking their boots to free them of a part of the accumulation of the crossings."

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF BAY STATE WOMAN

Body Is Found Near Cemetery---Face Bears Some Marks.

Boston, Jan. 2.—Considerable mystery surrounds the death of Mrs. Mildred Donovan of Revere, Mass., whose body was found yesterday near a cemetery in Linden. The woman's nose was broken and there were abrasions on the face, but the police are undecided whether she was murdered or died as a result of accident.

There were indications that the woman had been dragged from a road nearby, and as automobile tracks were found near the spot, the police inclined toward the belief that she had been brought there in a motor car.

According to the police, James Jennings, known as "Young Kid Carter," who is under arrest here on a charge of killing a bartender, admitted he was with Mrs. Donovan on New Year's eve. He last saw the woman at Malden Square, where she was waiting for a car. The police say Jennings was not questioned about the woman's death.

Mrs. Donovan's relatives express the opinion that her death was due to exposure, following an attack of illness to which she was subject. They account for the bruises on her face as being due to her own struggles.

JEWISH NATION MAY LIVE AGAIN

Jewish Bankers Said to Have Underwritten Great Project.

Duluth Zionists find much of interest in the report received from London that the Jewish bankers of England and America have underwritten a loan of 500,000,000 francs to the Turkish government for concessions in Palestine. The news has been received at the convention of the Order Knights of Zion, which is in session at Chicago.

The report, if true, will mean a re-establishment of the Jewish nation. The cablegram from London to the Chicago Zionist meeting is interpreted to mean that a group of Jewish bankers has agreed to advance about $100,000,000 to Turkey for all or part of Palestine for the purpose of opening the country to loyel Hebrews who wish to re-establish the home of their nation.

"The news overjoys me," declared Nathan Kris, past president of the local Zionist gate. "Zionists should congratulate themselves. If true, this report means the dawning of the greatest epoch in the history of our people." Max Oreckovsky, president, and Miss Mamie Weinberg, vice president, are in Chicago attending the convention.

MAN AND SON ARE KILLED ON TRESTLE.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 2.—Eugene W. Dahl, traveling freight agent of the Grand Trunk railroad, and his young son, were instantly killed when they were hit by a train on the Cincinnati, Lebanon & Northern railroad tracks at Pleasant Ridge, a suburb, late yesterday. Mr. Dahl and his son were following Mrs. Dahl and her father, C. G. Carlson of Chicago, along the tracks, and were crossing a trestle when the train bore down upon them. Mrs. Dahl and her father barely managed to get off the trestle in time, but the husband and son were hit and when they were picked up were found to have died instantly.

PARCEL POST BEING USED

Good Demand for Stamps ---Some Rules to Be Remembered.

The new parcel post law went into effect yesterday, and while one or two packages were mailed out with the new stamps attached, real activity did not begin until today.

With the opening of the postoffice today, however, there came a number of stamp purchsers and many packages were mailed out this morning. Some arrived also, one getting here yesterday, but as there was no delivery and the office was not open all day, the packages that arrived yesterday did not reach their destination until today.

The first package received was from Saginaw, Minn., and was addressed to O. B. Francisco, care of Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company.

The first package mailed out with the new stamps attached was sent at three minutes after 12 o'clock night before last by Miss E. R. Stringer, financial clerk at the postoffice. The package was sent to Miss Catherine Mortimer of Cleveland, Ohio, and as it weighed less than a pound and was sent to the fifth zone, the cost of mailing was 9 cents.

Stamps in Demand.

This morning, it is reported at the stamp window, one concern bought $10 worth of stamps, another bought $5 worth and different people bought stamps in various amounts from $1 down. It is believed that in a day or two, when people become better acquainted with the working of the new system, there will be increased activity shown, and that soon the present equipment in the local postoffice will be far from adequate. In fact, it is said, the increase in business, which it is believed is bound to come, is already being anticipated and that already demands are being made upon Washington for more room and more complete equipment and more help.

In spite of the warnings in the newspaper many packages were mailed yesterday and today with the ordinary stamps attached and therefore the mailing of them cost the senders more money than if they had thought to buy parcel post stamps. Under the old rate the cost was 1 cent for each ounce or fraction thereof up to four pounds, that being the limit in weight that could be handled under the old fourth class law. Now the maximum weight is eleven pounds and no package measuring more than 72 inches in girth and length combined can be handled. The charge is made according to the "zones" laid out by the postal authorities, the cost varying from 5 to 12 cents a pound, according to the distance that the package must be carried.

Such packages may contain merchandise or other mailable matter not included in first, second or third class. Books and printed matter cannot be sent by parcel post as they are third-class matter and their mailing costs 1 cent for each two ounces. Butter, fruit, eggs, meats, toys, millinery, and anything else that will not injure employes or equipment of the postoffices, may be sent. Alcohol and all liquors are barred. All matter so mailable must be carefully wrapped.

Parcels cannot be mailed at mail boxes, but must be mailed at the postoffice or lettered stations.

It should be remembered that a special kind of stamp is used for the parcel post and that anybody mailing packages under this law, should be sure of their ground as to the price required for delinquencies of this kind may cause loss which otherwise could be avoided.

The parcel may be insured for 10 cents up to the value of $50. This part of the work is taken care of at the registry department. No parcel can be registered, however, owing to the insurance feature. Neither will special delivery stamps be of any use under the new law.

The public has been hearing a great deal about the "zones" by which the rate is fixxed. There is no use of the layman worrying about these zones, for he will not be much wiser, it has been asserted when he gets through than when he started. The best way to do, it has been suggested is, when one has a package to be mailed, just go to the stamp window and the clerk will tell the amount necessary.

Any Suit $15, Any Overcoat $15.

JURY DISAGREES ON "HUMAN BOMB."

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.—Although Carl Riedelbach, the "Human Bomb," had expected a conviction and warned the authorities that he intended to escape if possible, the jury which heard his case disagreed and was discharged. Riedelbach was remanded to await a second trial. His attorneys said they hoped to prove that Riedelbach was insane when he threatened to dynamite the city jail.

CHICAGOAN SWIMS AMID ICE FLOES.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—John Reitz, who caused surprise Christmas day by taking a plunge in Lake Michigan, repeated the performance yesterday. This time there was ice in the lake. Near the bank there was a sheet of ice and chunks were floating far out. The ice did not frighten him. He simply donned a heavy pair of shoes, broke the ice and swam out into the lake 100 yards.

"I'll return for another swim groundhog day," Reitz told the hundred spectators who gathered on the beach. "The water wasn't cold today."

FIRE IN ALEXANDER HALL AT PRINCETON.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 2.—Alexander hall, the main building of the Princeton theological seminary and the first structure to be erected in the United States by the Presbyterian church for the education of students intended for the ministry, was visited by fire yesterday. The entire fourth floor was destroyed and the rest of the building was damaged by water. The loss, which is estimated at $15,000, is covered by insurance.

GLAVIS ALSO OUT OF WATER PLANS.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 2.—Louis R. Glavis has resigned as secretary of the state water commission as well as secretary of the state conservation commission.

Glavis gives no reason for the act.

A hearing of the charges made by Surveyor General Kingsbury against Glavis has been in progress before the governor. The investigation had not been concluded at the end of the session in Governor Johnson's office on Dec. 30, and it was reported the governor would go deeper into the charges after having heard the evidence of both sides. Kingsbury charged that Glavis had devoted much time to the interests of certain lumber companies while in Washington in behalf of state organizations.

A City Book That Talks.

From the mass of literature put out through their commercial clubs and boards of trades by cities East and West, especially West, has finally appeared a book about "Our Town" meriting a place in any library. The book is called "Tacoma, the City With a Snow-capped Mountain in its Dooryard" and comes from the city of Indian name up in the far Northwest corner of continental United States under the shadow of the mighty mountain which the Indians named Tacoma, but which is officially called Rainier. Done in four colors, on heavy India tint stock, with a text that is classic, the Tacoma book will be a valued addition to any library, and especially any library making pretentions to a comprehensive collection of books on travel and contemporary history. The Tacoma Commercial club and chamber of commerce is responsible for the brochure.

THE POOR MOTHER AND HER CHILD.

It is distressing when poverty overtakes a mother with little children. There is nothing on earth more pathetic—hardly anything more common.

But it is still more distressing to think of the way we have been handling such cases. Ordinarily, we take the children away from their mothers and put them into institutions: or we issue a work permit and let the little ones labor for their bread and their mother's. And so they miss school, and society permits them to grow up into citizenship without the education they need to make good citizens!

Lately two very important facts have become impressed on the public mind:

First—That it would be better to give the money needed to support these children to the mother and let her rear them.

Second—That if means can be provided to give the mother the money these children would earn, they could keep on going to school.

And there's a third thing: that this process shouldn't carry with it the humiliation of charity.

The Herald is glad to learn that this plan will be considered by the Minnesota legislature this winter, and it hopes that a proper bill will be passed. Representative W. A. Campbell of Minneapolis has prepared a measure, which he will introduce at the opening of the session next week, containing the following provisions, in effect:

> Whenever any child under the age of 17 is found to be dependent or neglected, and it shall appear that the mother of such child is a widow, or that her husband, if living, is an inmate of a penal institution or an insane asylum, or because of physical disability is unable to support his family, and that the mother of such child is a proper person to have the custody of such child, and that the welfare of such child will be subserved by permitting it to remain at home and in the custody of its mother, the court may, in its discretion, make an order determining such facts and fix and determine the amount, not exceeding $10 per month, which it deems necessary for the county to contribute toward the support of such child.

With such a law, it would not be necessary to tear children from the arms of their mother solely because she is poor, nor will it be necessary for the child to be at work when it should be in school.

In two points, it seems to us, the bill needs amendment.

There is no provision for a mother who is deserted by her husband; and one should be made.

There is no requirement that the child so supported by the public shall be in school; and there should be such a requirement.

Otherwise the measure is sound and in the public interest, and should become a law.

BUSINESS-LIKE DEALINGS WITH STREET CAR COMPANIES.

It was inevitable that some should think the pending suit against the Duluth Street Railway company to be persecution or retaliation; but it is nothing of the kind. As The Herald has said before, Duluth now has no business-like arrangement with its traction company, and it would like to cancel the old franchise so that one can be arranged that will be two-sided and fair to both sides. And that's all there is to it.

What Duluth has in mind can be illustrated by other cities that have made business-like arrangements with their public utility corporations; for instance, Toronto.

Toronto, after framing a franchise, put it up at auction, practically. That is, it awarded it to the concern which offered the most satisfactory deal for the city and its citizens. The Toronto case is peculiarly interesting because it is understood that the principal ownership of the Duluth lines is in that city.

Toronto is a larger city than Duluth, and probably Duluth cannot hope in the beginning to make so favorable a contract. There should be no reason, however, why a contract should not be made, if the present franchise can be disposed of, that will give Duluth as good a deal when it gets to be Toronto's size as Toronto has now.

Fares in Toronto are as follows: Cash fares, five cents, except ten cents from midnight to 5:30 in the morning; tickets, good except after midnight, twenty-five for a dollar or six for a quarter; tickets for workingmen, good before 8 in the morning and between 5 and 6:30 in the evening, eight for a quarter; tickets good only on Sundays, seven for a quarter; tickets for school children, good from 8 in the morning to 5 in the evening except on Saturdays and Sundays, ten for a quarter.

Besides this, the company agreed to pay the city a mileage tax annually, and a sliding percentage of its gross receipts, as follows: Up to $1,000,000, eight per cent; $1,000,000 to $1,500,000, ten per cent; $1,500,000 to $2,000,000, twelve per cent; $2,000,000 to $3,000,000, fifteen per cent; over $3,000,000, twenty per cent. The gross receipts of the company are well over the three-million mark, so in 1911 the company paid the city $772,108, including the mileage tax.

In making such an arrangement, it is wiser to take care of fares than to look out for revenue for the city, for lower fares benefit the greater number of people and help the expansion of a community.

President Taft has been presented with a portrait of "Aunt Delia." But a portrait can't make pies, so Aunt Delia needn't feel jealous.

CO-OPERATION.

There was an interesting letter in the Open Court last night from a farmer at McIntosh, Minn., who says that the farmers there have a co-operative club which is anxious to be told how best to reach the Duluth market and suit its tastes. The name will be furnished to anybody interested.

The farmers are forming co-operative organizations for marketing purposes. Suppose the consumers formed co-operative organizations for buying purposes. Suppose in some way the two kinds of organizations could be brought together.

Surely a good deal would be done thereby toward curing the evil of high cost living.

Anyway, we can be thankful that the city main was fixed in time for the launching of the water wagon.

MORE DRINKING AND SMOKING.

The figures of the internal revenue department on the consumption of tobacco and alcoholic beverages for the third quarter of 1912 are more encouraging to those who are looking for signs of prosperity than they are to those looking for signs of reform in personal habits.

Compared with the same three months of 1911, this country consumed 450,000 gallons more of whisky, 320,000 barrels more of beer, and a billion more cigarettes.

The paralleling of a steady increase in the consumption of liquor with the recent increases in "dry" territory is not especially encouraging to those who believe that the use of liquor can and should be forbidden by law. It is true that the spread of "dry" territory has not been so rapid in the last year or two as it was for a time when prohibition was sweeping the Southern states, but there has been no recession, and West Virginia has just added itself to the list of prohibition states.

For those who believe that prosperity has arrived, and are looking for tangible signs to justify their faith, these figures offer much more comfort; for it is quite clear that in a large measure the increase in the consumption of these luxuries is due to the fact that the people have had more money to spend for them.

The lack of aviation accidents in the last few weeks of 1912 compared with the number in the same period in 1911 evidently indicates something. It would be interesting to know just what it indicates.

A BIRTHDAY.

Heartiest congratulations to Life on its thirtieth birthday, which it celebrates with the current issue!

A good deal has happened to the world in thirty years, and a good deal has happened to Life. What we are particularly interested in among the things that have happened to Life, however, has been that it has kept the faith. It has been true to itself—and hence it follows as the night the day that it has not been false to any man—or any conviction.

Moreover, it has proved that this policy is highly profitable.

Life has made plenty of mistakes, of course. It makes them in every issue. It has certain notions that will test out pure crankism, and analyze 99 3-4 per cent bonehead. Its editor gets stuff into it about vivisection, vaccination, etc., that he couldn't pay enough to get into Life if anybody else were editing it. And we have disagreed with it, privately, often and often, and think it foolish and even silly about a thing or two. But we have never ceased to respect it or to honor it. It is free, it is frank, it is brave—and these things in journalism have not been so common that it is not a duty to commend them where they undeniably exist.

The country is indebted to Life for entertainment, for independence, for brilliant wit, for friendship to the under dog—and The Herald has pleasure in wishing it many happy returns of the day, and long life and unblunted wits to Messrs. John Ames Mitchell, Edward S. Martin, Thomas L. Masson and James S. Metcalfe, the men who make it.

Illinois boasts of a seventeen-ounce baby. And yet its parents probably think it simply immense.

SUSPICIOUS.

The "money trust" committee of congress would like to hear from William Rockefeller, and it is paging him in New York with a small army of detectives. They have been looking for him for weeks, but Mr. Rockefeller remains in coy seclusion somewhere. It is supposed that he is in his home, which is surrounded, and the committee is thinking about breaking down the front door and searching him out.

Meanwhile, Mr. Rockefeller is succeeding wonderfully in creating the impression that he knows things the committee ought by all means and at whatever cost to get out of him.

Maybe he doesn't, but he acts like it.

If there is anything in names, Obadiah Gardner ought to make a first-class secretary of agriculture.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters should not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

DULUTH'S GREAT GOOD FORTUNE.

Duluth has probably just passed through the second most fortunate event in its history. The first was the purchase of the old gas and water plant, and the attendant result of an abundant supply of pure water. Second only to it perhaps in good fortune to the city, was the breaking of the water main Friday morning, with little more serious results than a few people being without sufficient water for general household purposes and possibly for their annual bath. There may still be time too for the latter. Perhaps in a way, the trivial fact that "hydraulic elevators and other machinery dependent upon water" had to be stopped, ought to be deducted from the fortunate elements in this probably second greatest good fortune which has come to our city in thirty years. The word "probably" is used only because it is possible that the shock produced by the incident, minus its staggering possibilities of disaster, may not be ample to arouse our city sufficiently to bring about the installation of an additional water main at the earliest possible time. If such should be the case, then it is unfortunate that the city has passed through the incident without having been inconvenienced more severely, without having been pinched enough to awake it fully to the menace of a single water main several miles in length. The average business man is not so reckless in his own affairs where dollars and cents only are concerned. He does not put all his eggs in one basket, he buys insurance, hedges his bets, and protects himself in numerous other ways.

Mr. Hudson well says that: "Filling the mains with water from the Endion plant would have been saving property very probably at the expense of life." Most of us doubtless remember the typhoid fever scourge which that plant pumped into the city. True it appears that "at the Endion pumping station the hypochlorite plant from the Lakewood station has been installed." With all due respect to the hypochlorite man, it would probably be just about as effective in defending the city against Endion pumping station water as would a hypothetical plant.

This is in no sense intended as a criticism upon the water and light department. It is conceded that they have shown the highest wisdom in taking every possible precaution. In fact, the writer has reason for believing that perhaps the department reached the limit of human effort in preventing this fortunate circumstance from becoming an immeasurable calamity. It may be that they have done too well. Let us hope not. What Mr. Hudson says in The Herald of the 30th inst. about the position of himself and the board of water and light commissioners as a whole, must be highly gratifying to every citizen who has given the subject the serious consideration which it merits. It is difficult, however, to agree with the author of the article in The Herald of the same date, located principally on the fifth page of the paper, wherein it is rather indicated that it is perhaps a matter of surprise that the break occurred. On the contrary, the wonder is that something of the kind did not happen long before. The author of the article in question says: "It has withstood the pounding of pumping water for many years." Rather than being a matter of surprise that it should give out after it has withstood so much and so long a strain, the surprising thing is, that the weak point stood the pounding as long as it did. This is not said for the purpose of argument. It is too serious a matter for that. Merely to call attention to the fact that other probably weak points, from the nature of the case, through the long and constant strain and pounding are far nearer the breaking point than they were ten or twelve years ago. "Constant dropping will wear a stone." A large number of small blows is equivalent to one blow far larger than any of the small ones. The writer has heard engineers and machinists of large experience say that a man with an ordinary small blacksmith's hammer, by a large number of blows can break a five or six inch steel shaft—may with a large number of tiny blows accomplish that which a powerful steam hammer could not do with one blow. The fact that one weak point has passed its limit of endurance certainly suggests that others may be nearing their limit. The natural, normal inference is, that in six or eight miles of mains, with a large number of valves such as or similar to the one that broke, there must be many weak points. There are many reasons why there should be weak points. The determination that there was one strengthens the inference that there may be many. Briefly, now that one break in the main has occurred, there is the best of reasons for believing that it will not be fifteen years, or twelve or ten before another comes. In fact, the circumstances suggest that a second is liable to occur any day. Is not this question of a duplicate water main the most important one before our city at the present time? Should it not take precedence over all questions looking toward the expenditure of any considerable sum of money?

AN APPEAL FOR THE BETHEL HOME.

Just a word in behalf of the Rescue Home for Women, which is one branch of the Bethel work. We are in need of funds for its operation.

For more than a year the board of directors has made no appeal for help, but has directed all its energies towards the erection of the new Bethel building, which is now completed, and affords most adequate accommodations for our ordinary Bethel work, and we are meeting with very encouraging success in its operation. It has not, however, reached its normal. When this is accomplished the directors expect that in addition to caring for its ordinary work and charities, it will approximately, if not entirely, care for the rescue home work. Until this is realized, we are under the necessity of appealing for help for the home. We estimate that it will require $3,000 to provide for this work for the year 1913.

We shall be greatly embarrassed unless we have immediate assistance. Rest assured that whatever you contribute to this noble charity will be most carefully used.

Checks may be mailed to the Bethel Rescue Home; cash contributions may be made to Miss Jessie Mauck, matron, or to any of the directors. Yours very truly,

DULUTH BETHEL SOCIETY,
By W. D. EDSON.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Thinks Wide Roadways Needed.

Gheen Record: There is some talk of narrowing roadways for the sake of the land to be saved. We would consider such economy penny wise and pound foolish. With the automobile coming into general use the time is coming when roads will be built double, that traffic each way may have its own road, and 66 or 100 feet will be none too much for a double road, nor is 66 feet any too much for a roadway in these Northern Minnesota swamps and thickly wooded ridges, where the wind and sun are as necessary as ditching in the building of a dry roadway.

New Field for Merchants.

Elk River Star-News: It would seem to the casual observer that the parcel post opens up a new field to the progressive country merchants wise enough to organize a mail order department within their territory.

True El Dorado.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: With state lands paying their just dues to the counties, with the Elwell road law in working order and the 1-mill road tax fund to draw on, you will see this northern part of Minnesota push ahead at race-horse speed, the idle acres will be snapped up by the homemaker and will soon be of bloom and perfume.

It be the true El Dorado.

Economic Madness.

Austin Transcript: Giving a subsidy to the ship monopoly is a form of economic madness which suggests that the only proper way to deal with members of congress who vote for it is to issue a writ de lunatico inquirendo.

Good Idea.

Anoka Union: Looking to the interests of the people might be followed by the legislature, soon to convene, with benefit.

Getting Results.

M. N. Koll in Cass Lake Times: The writer has had 21.60 acres grubbed on the farm, for $209.20. The adjoining land on the same farm during the past summer produced 192.2 bushels per acre of Carmen No. 3 potatoes. The grubbed land should, if put into potatoes next summer, produce about 3,000 bushels of potatoes. Suppose they bring the very ordinary price of 40 cents a bushel. Seed bought at the same price would cost for the tract about $80. The crop would not cost over $400 to raise and put on the cars. The twenty acres should produce a profit of about $700, leaving even after paying the grubbing a clean profit of $25 per acre to grub more land with, to raise more potatoes with, to get more money to grub more land with, to buy more $12 per acre land with, to repeat with. The secret of cheap grubbing is to cut your stumps low and break and seed to clover for several years, thus rotting the stumps very much faster.

Flock of Grafters.

Perham Enterprise: Speaker-to-be-chosen Rines promises to cut off all the little graft appointments in the legislature. Here's hoping he succeeds. Looking at the propositions from the outside, it is a sad commentary upon the honesty of the legislature as a whole that sinecures are allowed to exist. There is no reason why the state should be made the prey of petty graft of that kind and it would seem that legislators having the good of the state at heart would clear their skirts in short order of the disgrace of perpetuating such conditions. That and the unspeakable petty graft of pens and penknives is something inexplicable. Apparently men en masse have a lower ideal of honesty than have individuals. Mr. Rines will not have an easy job of it. He will find plenty of fellows looking for soft places to put their henchmen. But the people of the state ought to get behind Henry Rines just as quick as he is in position to make his good intentions effective.

Two Pictures.

An old farmhouse with meadows wide,
And sweet with clover on each side;
A bright-eyed boy, who looks from out
The door with woodbine wreathed about,
And wishes his one thought all day:
"O if I could but fly away
From this dull spot, the world to see,
How happy, happy, happy,
How happy I should be!"

Amid the city's constant din,
A man who round the world has been,
Who, 'mid the tumult and the throng,
Is thinking, thinking, all day long:
"O, could I only tread once more
The field path to the farmhouse door,
The old green meadow could I see,
How happy, happy, happy,
How happy I should be!"

By Fred C. Kelly.

As nearly everybody knows, Bourne gives away better cigars than anybody in the country. Even after having them made to order in wholesale lots, they cost him more than 40 cents apiece. If he sits down in a hotel lobby he'll hand one of these costly cigars to every acquaintance that comes along. It is not unusual for him to give away a couple of dozen at one sitting. Where do they come from? How does he do it?

At the opening of the exercises he appears in ordinary attire without lumps on his clothes and without any cigars up his sleeve. Yet it should be apparent to even the most stupid of one's host of readers that a couple of dozen cigars stuffed into the pockets of a vest are going to spoil the fit of the vest. Bourne's cigars are kept so snugly, so mysteriously, that each one might be the last he has with him. Yet he keeps taking out more and more, right in full view of the audience, until even those who can keep tab on a magician with a flock of rabbits and a stranger's silk hat, become completely mystified. Where does Bourne keep them? Oh, where does he?

There is a sad phase to the case of Bourne and his cigars, too. It took him a great many painstaking years to become the connoisseur that he now is. He began smoking when he was 8, and has been at it ever since. After going to Cuba and finding out which plantation raised the finest tobacco that grows, he finally succeeded in getting cigars made that exactly suited him. And then what do you suppose happened? Why, last year he suddenly ceased to care for cigars, but got into the notion of smoking a pipe. He now smokes a pipe exclusively. But he still carries a good supply of cigars in the magic vest pocket.

Senator Marc Smith's private secretary is a chap named L. R. Kruger, commonly known as Paul Kruger. Cousin Kruger once served as member of the Arizona legislature. This is the way he got elected:

The opening meeting of the campaign was held in a hall where the speakers' seats consisted of planks laid on beer kegs—empty ones.

It was some time before Kruger's turn came to speak, in consequence of several weighty discussions of the platform and the issues of the campaign.

Kruger had not done much speaking up to that time, and he addressed the multitude thus briefly:

"I don't know much about platforms, but I hope this one isn't as hard as that plank I've been sitting on for the last couple of hours while these guys have been talking."

It was not a long speech, but it was the speech that elected him.

Representative "Hamps" Moore of Pennsylvania, or, more properly, J. Hampton Moore, is accused once in a while of putting on airs because his name is parted modishly over on one side. He himself admits that he is inclined to be prejudiced against men who wear their names that way, and he is always glad of an excuse that his front name is Joe, and that his father's name was Joe. Neighbors differentiated between Little Joe and Big Joe until it became apparent that Hampton would go through life as Little Joe Moore. His mother wisely foresaw that J. Hampton would be the lesser evil and he has got along under the slight handicap without serious difficulty.

Moore, by the way, has eight children, and has aimed to give them all unusual names. One daughter was born at a little summer cottage known as the Seven Cedars, and Hampton promptly named her Sevena Cedaria.

Representative J. M. C. Smith of Michigan is a long-suffering suffragist. At the close of one of his speeches for the cause, he was surprised to see a man, famed throughout the locality for the number of divorces he had been through, come up and say that he, too, favored equal suffrage.

"They run everything anyway, demymtall," said the oft-divorced man, "so let 'em take a little of the responsibility."

Joseph A. Goulden, who did time in congress for three or four terms, from the Bronx, N. Y., district, up to two years ago, and who has been re-elected, is the leading handshaker up his way. He has been known to climb aboard a street car and shake hands with everybody on that car, including the conductor and motorman, introducing himself as he went along. He'll step into a crowd of strangers on the street, if he takes a notion, and do the same thing.

Do not get a wrong impression, either; he doesn't hold these sudden receptions for himself, necessarily, just before election. He is just as likely to do it with no election in sight at all, and with no idea of getting votes by it. "Handshaking Joe," as he is known among the folk in his district, shakes hands simply because that is his specialty. He is a genial party and likes the average human being well enough to greet him heartily, even without previous introduction.

Cheating Public and Private.

F. P. Dunne in the American Magazine: What we have to do is to make people feel that political dishonesty is as disgraceful as private dishonesty; to force upon men who regard themselves as leaders of human progress the conviction that they must play the game fairly, and that bribe-giving and bribe-taking are as shameful as forging notes, or cheating at cards, or pulling a horse in a race. Of course, there is no comparison between the crimes. A man who would slip an ace up his sleeve or bribe a jockey to put a horse in a pocket is a gentlemanly sportsman compared with the man who will sow corruption through the whole body of a community in order to gain an unfair advantage in the game of politics. Yet decent people who will shun a black-leg of the race-course or the card-table will not hesitate to take their dinner publicly in the company of a man who is avowedly corrupt in his relations with the government.

A card-sharp is kicked out of the game. One lapse condemns him forever. We have known of a brave and (we think) honest man who was pursued to his grave by the mere rumor that he cheated at cards. Yet a man may cheat at the far greater game of politics, he may sell his hand to an opponent, or throw away the stronger hand for a bribe, and be none the worse off in the opinion of the public. He can't live down a peek at his neighbor's hand, but he can not only live down but he can thrive on bribing a judge.

By Savoyard.

And speaking about wool, it is one commodity that withers at the touch of a protective tariff, as I showed in my letter of Tuesday, the 31st ult. A flock of sheep should be on every farm, and those farmers fit for their calling would make sheep husbandry enormously profitable if a sheep yielded no more fleece than a pig. The clip of wool from his flock costs the farmer less than nothing if he knows how to farm. And yet the Wool trust tells us that we must have a protective tariff on wool for the benefit of American labor, when, in fact, it is American labor that pays the tax, not to the government, but to the New England Wool trust.

I have seen the estimate in an agricultural publication that the annual products of American farms would yield to our husbandmen $800,000,000 more than they do if our country roads were as good as those of England or France. It would be impossible to compute the loss to American farmers because of noisome weeds,

"Which without profit suck
The soil's fertility from wholesome flowers."

A flock of sheep on a farm will destroy innumerable noxious weeds that rob the soil of its energies and make it barren. At the same time the sheep constantly add fertility to the soil, and if properly husbanded a flock of sheep will annually multiply their number to the extent of 60 per cent. And yet they have the impudence to say that such an industry as that will perish unless protected by a tariff!

Of course if a farmer turns a flock of sheep on his land to shift for themselves and leaves them a prey to dogs and foxes, as tens of thousands of farmers do, there is no profit in sheep husbandry. Such farmers when they plant an orchard think the thing is finished and rail against fortune because they do not get big crops of apples. A progress through a court of insolvency is the only thing we can expect from such farmers.

But I am talking about a farmer who is a careful, intelligent, frugal, energetic, industrious husbandman. He will make a flock of sheep enormously profitable, and none other ought to be allowed to own the most poetic and profitable of farm animals. The Wool trust pulls the wool over the eyes of the best of farmers. If he have a small flock of sheep on his place he is persuaded that he is a shepherd, and not a farmer, though he grew 1,000 barrels of corn, or 100 bales of cotton, or twenty hogsheads of tobacco, and if that farmer should hear the Hon. Julius Caesar Burrows when he takes out that resonant—and damphool—tariff speech that he keeps under glass—if that farmer is not vigilant, Burrows will convince him that the tariff on wool will make him rich. And many a farmer votes for a tariff that robs him and thinks he is benefited because his wool is protected, when it can be demonstrated beyond cavil that a tariff on wool, unlike nearly every other tariff duty, actually decreases the price of wool, for, to repeat what I said Tuesday, the manufacturer must have foreign wool to mix with domestic wool to get along at all, and it is absolutely certain that the tariff increases the price of foreign wool 42 per cent, and that he has less money with which to buy American wool, a fact that curtails the demand, which we all know reduces the price.

Schedule K—which is wool—as it exists was enacted by the Fifty-fifth congress in 1897 in what is known as the Dingley tariff. By the way, the Washington Post, which is not very strong on knowledge of the subject, though furiously zealous in its support of protection, astonished its readers the other day with the declaration that the Payne bill of 1909 increased the duties in Schedule K 100 per cent. That is a mistake. Schedule K was as high as it could get in the Dingley bill, and it withstood even the terrific assaults of Jonathan P. Dolliver, who tried to reduce it in the Payne bill.

But to get back to what I was going to say, which is this—when Schedule K was incorporated in the law, not one member of either house of congress—not Reed, nor Dingley, nor Dalzell, nor Cannon, in the house, not Aldrich, nor Platt of Connecticut, nor Morrill, nor Lodge, nor Mark Hanna in the senate—knew what it was. Nobody in congress today—not Underwood, nor Dalzell, in the house, not Penrose, nor Bailey, in the senate—knows what it is. And that is what I meant last Tuesday when I said it would take two such inscrutable minds as Newton's and Locke's years of study to master the intricacies of the thing through all its labyrinths where lurk fraud and guile at every angle.

Here is how it came. A Mr. North was secretary of that robber concern in New England known as the Wool trust, whose labor is foreign. He brought down Schedule K and handed it in to congress. It is not at all likely that Mr. North knew what it was. He was the mere paid agent of the inventor of it—the Wool trust. Mark Hanna was then absolute. The Wool trust had yielded abundant "fat" to elect McKinley and Schedule K was its reward. When Mr. North got back home he was voted a gratuity of $5,000 for his services as messenger; but that was not all. He was made director of the census, and there is not a robber trust in the land that is not interested in the census. A great English statesman opined that there were "lies, d——d lies, and statistics," and, he had never heard of our census, either.

It is up to the Democrats to reform Schedule K, purge it of its rascality and implant some justice in it. We don't want Senator Warren, who owns more sheep than any other American, to project with Schedule K, and I say that without meaning to reflect on his personal integrity. Nor do we want Mr. Garner of Texas to meddle with it. He produces more mohair, saith report, than any other man in America, and I say this of him, too without meaning a reflection.

No man should be on the finance committee of the senate, nor the ways and means committee of the house, who has a large personal interest in the amount of duty to be laid on any commodity.

I take that to be fundamental.

The Editor's First Duty.

New York Evening Post: We seem, in truth, to be setting up a journalistic tradition in this country against editorial office-holding. Abandon hope of political preferment, ye who enter here, is the new motto written over the door of the editor's room. This was not the old American practice; it is not so strictly the rule in England today; in France the custom is quite the other way. But its advantages are obvious. It is a part of the price that has to be paid for editorial independence. And the drawbacks of the other plan were so clearly illustrated in the late Mr. Reid's experience, even with the great rewards and distinguished honors which he attained, that we may be pretty confident that such cases as his will hereafter be highly exceptional.

When a Democrat Slunk Along.

Brand Whitlock, mayor of Toledo, begins in the January American Magazine a series of personal reminiscences. Following is an extract showing Whitlock as a boy in Urbana, O.:

"One of the perplexing and confounding anomalies of existence was the fact that our neighbor, Mr. L——, was a Democrat. That fact perhaps explained to me why he walked so modestly, so unobtrusively, in the shade, so close to the picket fences of Reynolds street, with his head bowed. I supposed that, being a Democrat, it was only natural for him to slink along. He was a lawyer and a gentleman; my grandfather spoke with him, but from my mind I could never banish the fact that he was a Democrat, and to explain his bent, thoughtful attitude I imagined another reason than the fact that he was a meditative, studious man.

"Lawyers, of course, were Republicans, else how could they deliver patriotic addresses on Decoration day and at the reunions of the Sixty-sixth regiment? It was natural for the young men to be lawyers, then to be elected prosecuting attorney, then to go to the legislature, then to congress, then—governor, senator, president. They could not, of course, go any more to war and fight for liberty; that distinction was no longer, unhappily, possible, but they could be Republicans. The Republican party had saved the Union, won liberty for all men, and there was nothing left for the patriotic to do but to extol that party, and to see to it that its members held office under the government.

"In those days the party had many leaders in Ohio who had served the nation in military or civil capacity during the great crisis; scarcely a county that had not some colonel or general whose personality impressed the popular imagination; they were looked up to, and revered, and in the political campaigns their faces, pale or red in the flare of the torches of those vast and tumultuous processions that still staged the political contests in the terms of war, looked down from the festooned platforms in every public square. And yet they were already remote, statuesque, oracular, and there was the reverent sense that somehow placed them in the ideal past, whose problems had all been happily solved, rather than in the real present."

One on the Yankee.

Boston Traveler: Prof. William Lyon Phelps of Yale at a recent banquet in this city told a tale of the Englishman and his sense of humor. Prof. Phelps and a friend, traveling in the West, had been discussing the time-honored subject. "We'll try one on this man," said Prof. Phelps' friend, pointing to an Englishman who sat nearby. Whereupon he accosted the Englishman and told him a truly side splitting yarn. But the subject of their discussion never moved a muscle.

"Come," said the American, somewhat testily, "you'll laugh at that next summer."

The Englishman removed his monocle gently. "I think not," he said.

"Why not?"

"I laughed at that last summer."

COMMERCIAL CLUB OFFICERS ARE SLATED FOR RE-ELECTION

A. G. MACAULEY, President.

M. J. MURRAY, Secretary.

The West Duluth Commercial club will hold an open meeting tomorrow evening, during which officers will be elected for the ensuing year, the work accomplished during the past year reviewed by the various committees and the plans for this year outlined by the members of the club. A smoker will be held after the business meeting.

A. G. Macauley, president of the club, is a candidate for re-election and is being backed by a number of the members. During the past year the organization has had a large growth and is now better off than at any time in its history. It is believed that very little opposition will manifest itself against Mr. Macauley for re-election to office.

M. J. Murray, who has been secretary of the club for several years, will again receive the indorsement of the members, according to the opinions voiced by the business men on Central avenue this morning. C. G. Futter is treasurer of the club and is also being indorsed for re-election.

One of the largest meetings of the year is expected for tomorrow evening. In addition to the large gathering of members, there will be many West Duluth residents who will avail themselves of the opportunity to meet the members of the club and take part in the discussions. The non-members will be the guests of the club.

SKATERS AND CURLERS BUSY

Western Club's Rink Was Popular New Year's Day.

New Year's day proved popular yesterday with curlers and skaters at the Western Curling club, the skating rink and curling ices being in constant use during the day.

In the afternoon games Olson defeated Holland, 12 to 7, in the second round of the elimination to represent the local club in the inter-city contest for the Manley-McLennan trophy. A rink must win two out of three games to make the local team. Keyes defeated Zauft, 11 to 10, in the third round, thus qualifying the former's rink for the team. Judson won from Evered, 11 to 4, in the second round of the contest. Wade's rink qualified for the team last week.

Frank Wade defeated the New Duluth Curling club's crack team in a practice game, by the score of 10 to 4. In the evening Wade won from Brown in a practice game, 10 to 7. The contest with Superior for the right to play against the Duluth Curling club in the Manley-McLennan contest will be played either next Monday or Tuesday evenings. Each club will be represented by four rinks, the one having the majority of winning rinks, thus being qualified to play against the Duluth club, which is now in possession of the trophy.

This evening Olson will play Holland in the third round of the Manley-McLennan contest. Judson and Evered will also meet this evening in their last round for elimination.

SOCIALISTS WILL MEET

Petition Will Be Circulated Nominating Phillips as Commissioner.

The West Duluth Socialist club will hold its last meeting tomorrow evening, when the coming election will be discussed and the candidacy of P. G. Phillips, alderman from the Eighth ward, launched.

The meeting tomorrow will be held at the Victor hall, 5528 Grand avenue, and anyone interested is invited to be present. The new charter will be discussed by those present, after which a petition will be started in behalf of Alderman Phillips' candidacy for the new commission.

Mr. Phillips was elected to the office of alderman last year, and is very popular among the Socialist voters in this end of the city, of whom there are an exceptionally large number. As the new charter prohibits indorsement by a party, the petition will be signed by fifty local voters.

Truthful Advertising.

The best test of a retail store's advertisement is this question: Is it truthful? If a store advertises $15 coats for $9.98, you must be convinced in your own mind that this statement is truthful before you can be persuaded to make the purchase. The approach of the mid-winter sale season emphasizes this point in a most striking way. The store that has gained a reputation for truthful advertising statements is the store that fares best when the special sale months arrive. The Askin & Marine company store has endeavored to impress this one point upon the mind of every customer: "We do exactly as we advertise to do. Our guarantee is a genuine guarantee. Our newspaper advertisements are truthful statements of store values." In advertising our clearance sales we are careful to quote the prices exactly as they are, and we are equally careful to give the price comparisons without exaggeration. It is an easy matter to say, "$25 values for $12.98." It is an easy matter to exaggerate the values—on paper. But it is not so easy to correct a false impression of a store's advertising and sale methods. That is why we believe in plain figure prices and a straight-forward, truthful statement of sale prices and sale values. All our our special sales are built upon that plan. We want every customer to know exactly what he or she is getting.

"MISSING GIRL" IS IN THE STATE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

R. D. McKercher, humane agent, can explain the reported disappearance of Frances Parkowski, aged 14, who according to the morning paper has been missing since Christmas.

"For the information of the News Tribune," said Mr. McKercher this morning, "I will say that the girl is now a ward of the state and since Monday has been at the Home School for Girls at Sauk Center, Minn. She was committed there Saturday by the juvenile court."

The girl is a daughter of Joe Parkowski, 614 East Fourteenth street. On Christmas eve she left her home to visit with an uncle living on Garfield avenue. On the day following Christmas, she had not returned home. Her father went to the police with his story. He told them that the girl had been ordered to return home, but had refused. Agent McKercher was at police headquarters at the time and upon the suggestion of the sergeant in charge, accompanied the father to where the girl was stopping.

"I'll go any place but home," was the defi which Frances threw out to Agent McKercher, when he told her to go home with her father. He found her in company with a young man and with associates who were drinking and carousing. The girl was determined and threatened to run away from home if she were taken back. Mr. McKercher took her to the municipal lodging house at 701 West Second street, where she was kept until her case was disposed of Saturday in the juvenile court. She was committed on the grounds of incorrigibility. She was taken to the state school for girls on Monday.

The police claim that on Christmas eve there was considerable drinking and carousing at the place on Garfield avenue where the girl was stopping. Late in the evening, the revelry broke up and the party started for church. They were stopped near the Garfield avenue viaduct by an officer who sent them back home. According to the officer, one of the women in the party was so intoxicated that she could hardly keep her feet. All, he said, were more or less boisterous.

The Parkowski family was on the Christmas poor list. According to the story which the girl told Agent McKercher, the poverty is feigned for the most part. She said that her father had been working regularly and that he was saving his money to buy a farm.

TOO MANY CHAPMANS

"E. G." Sworn in as Grand Juror in Place of "E. C."

B. P. Neff Chosen as Foreman, and Jurors Begin Work.

It was not until E. G. Chapman had been sworn in as a grand juror, that he became aware of the fact that he was not the particular Chapman required to appear in court this morning for grand jury duty.

Doubt passed from his mind, however when another, E. C. Chapman, put in his appearance. The second Chapman had a summons in his hand and awaited the pleasure of the court.

Turning to E. G. Chapman, Judge Cant inquired whether or not he too had been served with a summons. Mr. Chapman replied that he had not. He said that he had been out of town for a few days but had noticed his name in the paper as being one of the men summoned to appear for jury duty at the opening of the term.

The court excused him from duty and E. C. Chapman took his place. The oath which had been administered to the jury as a whole was given to him also.

The court appointed Bently P. Neff as foreman of the grand jury. The jury convened at 11:30 and was charged as to duties by the court. It will hold its first session this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Not more than a dozen cases will be brought to the attention of the January grand jury, according to County Attorney Greene. The criminal calendar is somewhat smaller than usual. The jury is expected to complete its deliberations by Monday.

The grand jurors who reported to the court for duty this morning follow: John Bailey, Virginia; Carl J. Calvin, Virginia; E. C. Chapman, Duluth; Jacob Copp, Duluth; John Dunstone, Biwabik; Henry F. Enright, Hibbing; R. R. Forward, Duluth; Michael Gogins, Duluth; William J. Johnstone, Duluth; M. W. Konczeny, Duluth; James McMartin, Duluth; Aaron L. L. Murray, Duluth; D. J. Murphy, Duluth; B. P. Neff, Duluth; John Neipp, Duluth; M. D. Nobis, Duluth; Frank A. Noble, Duluth; John H. Opperman, Duluth; Chris Pederson, Eveleth; R. H. Redman, Duluth; Anton Ringsred, Duluth; E. A. Resden, Duluth; Axel M. Turnquist, Eveleth.

The Superior Poultry association held a special meeting last evening at the Commercial club to check over the results of the recent poultry show and to make the tentative plans for the 1914 show. The exhibition next year will be held during the week of Jan. 20.

Heavy Court Calendar.

Actions involving over $25,000 have been filed for the January term of superior court, which opens next Monday. The demands of the plaintiffs are very low, but the large number of cases brings the total well above the $25,000 mark. The calendar includes also two divorce cases.

Two Found Insane.

Charles Goodman, who was found living in a cave five miles west of here, has been declared insane by Drs. H. J. O'Brien and L. P. Shehan, the physicians appointed by Judge Larson to make the examination. Gus Saari, who drove his family out of their home two weeks ago, was also declared insane.

King's Son Next to Last.
London, Jan. 2.—Prince Albert, son of King George, stood sixty-fourth in order of merit in a list of sixty-five persons who underwent an examination for naval cadets last month. The newspapers comment on the standing of the prince as evidence of the complete impartiality of the examiners.

HEARING ON NEW CHANNEL

Board of Army Engineers Will Be in Duluth Jan. 15.

The board of United States army engineers, to investigate the advisability of extending the St. Louis river channel to New Duluth, will be in Duluth Jan. 15.

A public hearing on the matter will be held at the Commercial club at 10 o'clock on the morning of that date and all those interested in the proposed extension will be heard. The harbor and waterways committee of the Commercial club has made arrangements to present the matter and representatives of other organizations will very likely be on hand also.

The proposed extension has been advocated for many years. Frontage on the deep channel has almost all been taken up and there is little room for expansion of industries needing waterfront property. The completion of the steel plant will see many business enterprises located up the river, and Duluth people are anxious to have the extension recommended immediately so that the deep channel will be available for the steel plant and other industries when they begin operations.

THRESH GRAIN IN THE FIELD

Kansas Machine That Will Save the Job of Cutting.

Inventor Says That His Contrivance Has Been Tried Out.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 2.—A Kansan is the inventor of a successful machine for threshing wheat as it stands in the fields, delivering the threshed and cleaned grain to a packer and leaving the straw standing in the field. This will eliminate the very considerable amount of labor required in hauling and stacking wheat and then pitching the wheat and straw into the thresher. The wheat farmers' wives will be relieved of the painful necessity of cooking for the threshers, and the harvesting crew will be smaller than it is under the present system of heading and stacking wheat. All this will be accomplished if the machine is a success, and it has successfully undergone some very thorough tests.

The inventor of this revolutionary thresher of standing grain is Charles C. Baldwin of Nickerson, who has built a working model of his machine, thoroughly tried it out and has orders for as many as he can manufacture for delivery next season.

Solves a Problem.
A machine such as Baldwin has invented has been one of the desires of wheat farmers and implement manufacturers for years. The problem of getting enough labor to care for wheat at the time it is ripe for cutting has been one of the annual problems in Kansas for a number of years. This new machine should help solve the labor question and, if a success, will eliminate the loss of wheat in the stack because of wet weather and the waste caused by the shelling out of overripe grain during the process of cutting and handling. It should also prove a big factor in the conservation of the soil.

"While our machine is a new departure, we use the ancient principle for removing the grain from the head; that is, we beat it out, as have old threshers from the flail up," said Mr. Baldwin.

Dispenses With Separator.
"We do this, however, without cutting the straw, thus dispensing with the separator and the additional cost of handling the straw, which is quite an item in most localities. Tests have shown that straw is worth more back in the soil than for any other purpose; and the idea that grain should stand in head or straw for a time before it will keep in the granary is merely a hobby—as tests have also proven that grain put directly into a ventilated granary will dry as well and have a better color than when left in the straw. The sun and weather have no chance to lower its quality or bleach the berry."

The thresher weighs about 2,500 pounds and is drawn by four horses. The machinery is driven by a 25-horse-power gasoline engine. In place of a sickle a nine-inch cylinder with four-inch teeth is used. The grain is held against this cylinder by a strong blast of air, and the cylinder, turning away from the grain, threshes it and throws it into a cavity behind the cylinder. The current of air causes a suction which draws the straw down into the cylinder. A lifting finger can also be used where most of the wheat is down.

This thresher, it is claimed, can be run with the aid of four horses and one man, taking the place of the entire harvesting and threshing crew, thus reducing the cost to about one-seventh.

Receipts for December Are Four Times Those of December, 1911.

Duluth Leads All Markets in Percentage of Increase.

Receipts of wheat at Duluth during December, 1912 showed an enormous increase over those of December, 1911. The same thing was true at Minneapolis and Chicago, but at Winnipeg there was an actual falling off.

Duluth, during the month of December, 1912, received 7,320 cars against 1,711 cars in December, 1911. Minneapolis during the past month received 15,765 cars against 9,167 cars during the corresponding month of the previous year; Chicago, last month, 906 cars, against 601 cars the previous year, and Winnipeg 15,604 cars last month against 16,935 cars the previous year.

Duluth showed the largest percentage of increase of any, its receipts being four times as great as those of the corresponding month of last year, and nearly 28 per cent in addition. Minneapolis had an increase of nearly 72 per cent. Chicago's gain was nearly 51 per cent. Winnipeg had a falling off of almost 8 per cent.

The gain in the American markets was due, of course, to the vast crop. Winnipeg's loss is due to the fact that the wheat of Western Canada, while about the same in quantity as the year before, is in far better shape for keeping, and therefore it is not being rushed with such speed to its Eastern and foreign destinations.

Duluth also shows a large percentage of increase of car receipts of flaxseed. During December, 1912, Duluth received 2,549 cars against 867 cars during December, 1911, showing an increase of nearly 194 per cent; Minneapolis, 1,922 cars against 1,631; increase, nearly 18 per cent. and Winnipeg, 2,982 cars against 839; increase, more than 255 per cent.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

WRITTEN FOR THE HERALD BY REV. J. S. KIRTLEY, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: JAN. 5.

Genesis 1, 1-31: The Creation.

FOREWORD.

After a year in the life of Christ we have a year in the first books of the Old Testament. The roots of the New are in the Old, or, as Augustine phrased it, "The New Testament is latent in the Old; the Old is latent in the New." Our year's study will take us from the creation to the conquest of Canaan through the Hexateuch, as the first six books of the Old Testament are called. The book of Genesis is truly the book of origins, as its name means, for there we find the origin of the earth and man and sin. This story is written not to give us the facts that we might learn by scientific investigation, for it means to be one of God's habits never to do for any one what one can do for oneself, but to tell us that He was the originator of all creation and man, that "in the beginning God"—that is enough. Given the Power and the results will follow. That Power is a Person. Today the great scientists are advancing from their teachings as to an efficient first Cause as power to teach that that Cause is necessarily a Person. The purpose of Genesis is religious rather than scientific, to lead us from what was done to the Doer and leave us there to hear His word and learn to use what He has made and work with him. The student should read all the omitted 9 verses.

The name of Moses is given to the first five books, called the Pentateuch, and that is both providential and appropriate, even though Moses was only one of many writers gathering and recording the marial. To many men God made special revelations of His truths and His purposes; to one God gave guidance in gathering all these stories and truths into one book, or series of books, for the help of us all.

THE LESSON.

I.

Creation in Inanimate Things. 1-16.

"In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. And the earth was waste and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep; and the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light; and there was light. And God saw the light, that it was good; and God divided the light from the darkness. And God called the light Day, and the darkness Night. And there was evening and there was morning, one day. And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament; and it was so.

"And God said, Let the waters under the heavens be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so. And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called He Seas: and God saw that it was good. And the earth brought forth grass, herbs yielding seed after their kind, and trees bearing fruit, wherein is the seed thereof, after their kind: and God saw that it was good. And God made the two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also."

1. CREATION.—There are two Hebrew words sometimes translated create, one of which means to produce something out of material on hand, the other to produce the material itself. This word means the latter, so we are told by Hebrew scholars. There was a time when there was nothing but God and that is the point we are at. Then all the rest took place, transforming, combining, elaborating that material into all the forms of animate and inanimate nature. God first, that is the first lesson taught us in this story.

2. ORDER.—Genesis gives the very order which the scientists have learned was pursued in creation. Other nations have legends about the creation, but this is the only one that has all the inaccuracies ironed out of it and has the approval of God Himself. The days may mean periods of time, though the one who wrote it may not have known the whole significance of what he wrote. It was a figure of speech we may surmise, adapted to readers till scientific times.

3. PROGRESS.—We are taken back to the original condition of chaos and see the evolution of cosmos. Note the progress. First is light, which emanates from the star dust whirling through space, but the universe was filled with its shadows. Second was the emergence of the expanse, called the firmament, resulting from the separation of the waters from the clouds containing waters. The third day was when the waters came into their place in oceans and allowed the lands to emerge. The designating of the two divisions, land and sea, followed and the very natural appearance of vegetable life of all kinds. The fourth day the luminaries came into their perfections and took their proper relation to the earth.

II.

Creation of Animate Nature. 17-26.

"And God created the great seamonsters, and every living creature that moveth, wherewith the waters swarmed, after their kind, and every winged bird after its kind: and God saw that it was good. And God made the beasts of the earth after their kind, and the cattle after their kind, and everything that creepeth upon the ground after its kind: and God saw that it was good."

1. VEGETABLE.—Already that has been spoken of. That was a long creative day of thousands of years when, from a few primordial germs, the almost infinite tangle of vegetation grew up, developing the possibilities which God implanted in those germs. It has been left to the scientists to find out some of the processes of nature. This is in the third period of day. About vegetable life two things are more than implied—nothing comes except from a germ: each product is like the seed that produced it. Here are great laws.

2. ANIMAL. — Animals came after vegetables. Of them three things are said—the great sea monsters are placed first; the cause of life is life itself; the resulting life is like the life that produced it. Of each of His works it is said that God said it was good—good as a piece of work; good in its purposes; good in its fulfillment of its purposes. We don't know how complete was the development of either animal or vegetable life at the time this was written, but there were great variety and beauty and usefulness.

Creation of Man. 27-31.

"And God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them. And God saw everything that He had made, and, behold, it was very good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day."

Man stands at the head of creation. As an animal he is the crown of all and is the master of God's other works. He was made to take charge of it all. He was made in the image of God to give visibility to Him and represent Him to the rest of them. "In the image of God" evidently meant one primary, inclusive thing—personality. No other animal has personality that means self-consciousness and sense of responsibility. If a pig were able to say to itself, "I am a pig," it would have ceased to be a pig and become a person. Personality was in his nature. Also God's moral character was imparted to man, holiness. But what will become of that holiness? We must wait and see.

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Acccording to Winchell, the geologist, the finishing act of the long series of "days," or periods, of creation, that was like tacking down the carpets in the home before the tenant moves in, was the planing down of the earth's ridges and filling of its gullies by the glaciers. Then earth was ready to begin to grow vegetation for man's especial use. Before it had been growing vegetation for coal-beds. Macmillan tells us that the corn plant was utterly unknown until the earth was ready for man's appearance. This is true of many other plants.—Cowan.

In his creative and originative power, enabling him to develop and make progress in civilization; in the power of rising superior to the impulses of sense, of mounting to the apprehension of general principles, and of conceiving intellectual and moral ideals; in the ability to pass byond ourselves, and enter into relations of love and sympathy with our fellowmen; in the possession of a moral sense, or the faculty of distinguishing right and wrong; in the capacity for knowing God and holding spiritual communion with him, man is distinguished fundamentally from other animals, and is allied to the divine nature. So that, wide as is the interval separating him from the Creator, he may nevertheless be said to be an "image, or adumbration, of Him."—Driver.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1.—What is the argument from "design" as to a creator?

2.—Why must God be a person?

3.—What religions of today deny God's personality?

4.—What makes the difference between the Hebrew "creation stories" and those of other nations?

5.—What is exactly implied in man's being made in God's image?

CAMPBELL IS DISMISSED

Effort to Protect Indian From Drink Proves His Undoing.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The question is being asked here, does the permanent dismissal of Samuel W. Campbell, the official head of the Bad River Indian reservation, mean the beginning of the end of the present policy, inaugurated by Campbell, of handling the funds of the Chippewa Indians of Wisconsin and Minnesota, and incidentally those of the Indians in the other states?

Charges were preferred against Campbell a few months ago. The final word comes from Secretary of the Interior Fisher, who has issued an order dismissing Campbell permanently from the service, for violation of the regulations of the department. Incidentally, no dishonesty is charged as proven.

Maj. Campbell is a Civil war veteran, a resident of Hudson, a former sheriff of St. Croix county, Wis., and was a protege of John C. Spooner. After his appointment as agent of the La Pointe Indian agency, covering the Chippewas of Wisconsin, and of Fond du Lac, Nett Lake and Grand Portage in Minnesota, he inaugurated the policy of keeping the money from the sale of pine on the Indian reservations, in the banks, to the credit of the Indians, bearing a small rate of interest, and payable only on the order of the agent, for the actual needs of the Indians. Under this policy, there is now on deposit in the banks of Ashland, Duluth and Hudson, not less than $2,400,000, belonging to the Indians of Odanah on the Bad River reservation alone. There is also a considerable amount to the credit of the Indians of the Red Cliff reservation.

Opposition more or less violent was developed. The Indians hired attorneys and fought the case clear through to Federal courts, but the supreme court of the United States decided with Campbell, adhering to the ancient theory that "the Indian is a ward of the government." It is the Campbell theory that the Indians who have money are the prey of white men. The opponents of Campbell believe in the "survival of the fittest."

A man of unswerving integrity, and a foe to the illicit traffic of liquor among the Indians, Campbell fought the saloon men tooth and nail. In his zeal to protect a drunken Indian, he finally did that which was his undoing. He induced an Indian to sign over his money to him, Campbell handling the money as he saw fit and paying all bills. This gave his foes their opportunity. In vain it was shown that this is practically the only way that the money of a minor or of a drunken man can be handled. It was a violation of the regulations, and the secretary of the interior has ousted him.

His successor will be appointed in a few days, and many believe that with Campbell also goes his policy, and that it will be a matter of only a short time when the Indians will handle their own funds.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving $2 and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of an obstinate cough more quickly, usually ending it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for croup, whooping cough, sore lungs, asthma, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe is now used by thousands of housewives throughout the United States and Canada. The plan has been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equaled.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Miss Helen McLeod danced the Highland Fling in Scottish costume and was obliged to respond to calls for an encore. John R. Batchelor rendered several songs, including "My Ain Bonnie Lassie Fra Argyleshire," and was enthusiastically applauded. Donald Forbes made one of the hits of the evening with his song, "I'm a Scotchman Bern." The season's greetings were rendered by all in the form of a song, "A Guid New Year." The remainder of the evening was given to dancing.

A silver tea set, the gift of the clan to Dr. E. N. McGiffert, the retiring clan physician, in token of esteem for his faithful and efficient service during the past eleven years, was on display during the evening.

NINETEEN MILLIONS SPENT IN THE TUBERCULOSIS WAR

New York, Jan. 2.—Nearly $19,000,000 was spent in the anti-tuberculosis campaign in the United States during the year 1912, according to the fourth annual statistical statement of expenditures in this movement issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today. These annual statements are based largely on reports received from anti-tuberculosis agencies throughout the country. The figures are estimated where actual reports are not available.

The expenditures during the year for sanatorium and hospital construction and treatment make the largest single item in the total, amounting to nearly $16,800,000. This is an increase of nearly $5,000,000 over the same group of expenditures for the year 1911. The anti-tuberculosis associations and committees spent over $765,000, while dispensaries and tuberculosis clinics spent over $500,000. Over $115,000 was spent for the maintenance and establishment of open-air schools and fresh-air classes, which is more than double the amount spent for this purpose in 1911. Official, state and municipal expenditures outside of the maintenance of institutions, which are included in the other totals, amounted to $280,000. In addition to these figures, about $500,000 was spent by hospitals for insane and penal institutions in caring for their tuberculosis inmates.

The total expenditures for the year 1912 are 29 per cent, or nearly $4,500,000 greater than the total for the year 1911. Another significant feature pointed out by the national association is the expenditure of public money. During the year 1912 65.8 per cent of the $18,900,000 spent in tuberculosis work came from either Federal, state, county or municipal funds. This figure is considered by the anti-tuberculosis workers as particularly significant because it indicates the shifting of responsibility for the provision of tuberculosis hospitals and other institutions upon the municipality, county and state.

New York state again leads the country in its anti-tuberculosis expenditures. Pennsylvania comes next, and Massachusetts and Colorado are in third and fourth places respectively. The following table shows the estimated public and private expenditures from tuberculosis in the leading states:

State.	Public.	Private.	Total.
P'vania ..	1,587,596	632,231	2,219,827

NEW BETHEL IS PROVING POPULAR

On the average, 125 men a day are being fed at the new Bethel.

Many of the lumberjacks of the city are eating there, according to the statement made by those in charge of the dining room, and there is no drunkenness or disorderly conduct.

That the wandering lumberjack has some friends is indicated by the statement of the woman in charge of the Bethel dining room. On Christmas there were but seventy men dining at the Bethel, and yesterday the numbers of diners also dropped far below the daily average.

CAMPAIGN TO BE RESUMED

Effort Will Be Made to Raise Fund for Norwegian Hospital.

Officers Will Be Elected at Annual Meeting Next Tuesday.

The Hoyme Hospital association, which has for its object the erection of a $40,000 hospital at the corner of Twenty-sixth avenue west and Fourth street, will hold its annual election next Tuesday evening at the First Lutheran church. Plans will also be made for the year and the campaign for the remainder of the $50,000 subscription fund will be outlined.

Rev. J. M. Nervig, pastor of the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church, Twenty-fifth avenue west and Third street, who is president of the association and in charge of the subscription campaign among the Norwegians of Duluth and St. Louis county, stated this morning that a number of donations have already been received. The campaign was started Dec. 2.

"The new hospital," said Rev. Mr. Nervig this morning, "is to be endowed by Norwegians and will be operated by the Hoyme association. We are now receiving subscriptions from the most well-to-do Norwegians of this city and later we expect to conduct an active campaign among all the Norwegians of the county. The poor people will be cared for free of charge at the hospital, so that it is in some respects a charitable institution for the Norwegians."

It is planned to raise at least $40,000 by next summer and to start construction work as soon as possible. It is expected to have the structure ready for use by the early spring of 1914.

The present officers of the association are: Dr. H. Hovde, vice president; Rev. J. H. Stenberg, secretary; Siewert Mortrud, treasurer; Anton Ringsred, financial secretary, and Richard Hanson, John Grande, E. A. Dahl, Knute Larson, Dr. J. M. O. Tufte and Dr. O. E. Helmark, directors.

CHURCHES PROSPERING

Improvement in Financial Condition Shown By the Majority of Reports.

Many of the West end churches are now holding their annual meetings and election of officers. Plans for the year are being made and the respective budgets outlined by the congregations.

At the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, the church debt has been reduced considerably during the past year and a payment of $1,000 is to be made on the $6,000 building mortgage. The church was erected three years ago at a cost of $23,000 and but $5,000 now remains to be paid by the congregation.

Rev. Swaney Nelson, pastor of the church, was given a purse by the congregation at the close of the meeting yesterday afternoon. The officers elected for the year are: C. J. Palin, re-elected trustee; Fred Palin, trustee in place of John Nord, who is now living in Florida; A. Viren, secretary; Charles Persons, treasurer, and A. Thoren, superintendent of the Sunday school.

Free From Debt.

The Swedish Mission church, Twenty-first avenue west and Second street, will begin the year free from debt and with a good balance in the treasury. At the annual meeting yesterday afternoon the congregation voted the pastor, Rev. J. J. Daniels, a vote of thanks and a purse. The officers elected are: E. G. Ek, president; Erick Carlson, vice president; Emil Nyberg, secretary; Herbert Lundgren, financial secretary; Nels Person, treasurer; C. G. Anderson and Henry Nelson, trustees; L. M. Johnson, elder, and Eric Bergquist, Peter Olson, P. A. Philstrom and Fred Soderlund, deacons.

The Sunday school elected officers as follows: Emil Nyberg, superintendent; Fred W. Erickson, assistant superintendent; John Beckman and Gust Johnson, superintendent and assistant, respectively of the East end mission. The Young People's society elected the following officers last evening: Fritz Hjelm, president; Alvin Carlson, vice president; Amy Carlson, secretary, and Carl Nelson, treasurer.

FORMER DULUTHIAN KILLED IN BRAZIL

Son of John Gilboy Believed to Have Been Murdered for Money.

Word has reached here that the only son of John Gilboy, former well known passenger conductor of the Great Northern, was recently shot dead in the interior of Brazil. The details of his death have not been learned. He was employed as a civil engineer and it is stated that he may have been murdered by highwaymen as he sometimes carried large sums of money for the payroll. He was an only son and 27 years of age. His father resigned from railroad duties two years ago and is conducting a trout farm in Sawyer county, Wis.

SULZER WALKS.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 2.—Precedents of years standing were ignored and others created during the inauguration yesterday of William Sulzer of New York as Democratic governor of the Empire state.

All the pomp and display usually incident to such occasions were lacking, at the governor's own request. There was no military demonstration; no governor's salute of nineteen guns to announce the change of administration; no parade of civil and political bodies; nothing, in fact, to feature the induction into office of the state's chief executive, except a notable gathering of prominent people and the carrying out of the procedure provided by the constitution.

The new governor, in his desire for simplicity, insisted upon walking from the executive mansion to the capitol, refusing to ride in a carriage which had been provided. After the ceremonies, he inaugurated a new feature by appearing on the front steps of the capitol and addressing the thousands who were unable to witness the ceremonies inside. Governor Sulzer took the constitutional oath of office in the assembly chamber of the capitol.

WOULD WALK TO CAPITOL

Woodrow Wilson Wants Inauguration as Simple as Possible.

Says He Will Announce Extra Session Date Soon Afterward.

Princeton, N. J., Jan. 2.—Governor Woodrow Wilson intimated last night that if it were possible, he would like to go afoot between the White House and capitol when he takes the oath of office as president of the United States on March 4. He realizes, however, that the crowds would make it impossible, and that he probably will have to ride in a parade, as have all recent presidents.

Jeffersonian simplicity, the kind that the president-elect would like to emulate, however, he remarked, consisted not of a horseback ride, as some historians have chronicled it, but merely an unostentatious walk down Pennsylvania avenue in the company of a few citizens.

Says Jefferson Walked.

"The story that Jefferson rode on horseback to the capitol and hitched his horse to a post while he went in to take the oath of office, isn't true," said the governor.

He was told that Governor Sulzer had walked to the capitol at Albany and had abolished the parade. Mr. Wilson spoke approvingly of this. He was asked if he had made any plans for his own inauguration in this connection.

"I hadn't thought out the method of it at all" he said. "I have simply satisfied myself with impressing the gentlemen at Washington on the inaugural committee, with my desire to have the inauguration as simply as possible. I dare say the great crowds would make walking to the capitol difficult."

Extra Session Sure.

The president-elect was questioned as to whether he thought it would be an added convenience to members of congress to know just how soon after the closing of the present session they would have to reassemble for an extra session. He indicated that one of the very first acts of his administration would be to announce the date of the new session.

"Congress will be in session until March 4 anyway," he said, "and there will not be much of an interval between that day and the extra session, so that the members will be able to make arrangements. The only thing that has been essential in the way of an announcement was that the members should know that there was to be an extra session so they could engage quarters."

The president-elect, it is expected, will go to Washington on March 3, spending the night at a hotel near the White House. He said that while he had not been able to visit many of the government buildings erected in recent years, he believed he would not "get much time for sight-seeing."

"There will be a large number of new members—plenty of strangers," he mused; "I will have plenty of company."

Greetings From Athens.

The governor took a long walk early yesterday. It was his first since he became ill, and marked his return to normal health. He wore no overcoat, but put on a heavy sweater and trudged through the mud vigorously. Guests came to the house in the afternoon and evening. Many cablegrams and telegrams from friends came, wishing the Wilsons a happy New Year. Jacob Gould Schurman, United States minister to Greece, cabled his greetings from Athens.

PLAN PENSION FOR TEACHERS

North Dakota Teachers' Committee Has Prepared Bill for Lawmakers.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The draft of the bill proposing the creation of a teachers' retirement fund, which will be proposed to the legislature this winter, has been completed by the committee of the North Dakota Educational association, comprising Prof. Vernon P. Squires of the state university, Prof. C. C. Schmidt and Miss Clara M. Struble.

The plan is to provide annuities for all teachers in the common and high schools of the state who have served for twenty-five years or more, eighteen of which, including the last five, shall have been in North Dakota. The amount of the annuity will be dependent on the time of service and upon the salary received. The minimum has been set at $350, the maximum at $750.

The trustees of the fund are to be a board, or commission, consisting of the state treasurer, the superintendent of public instruction, and three other members to be elected by the teachers themselves, each for a term of three years.

IN ANOTHER part of this charming paper, yestertide, there appeared an anticipatory resume of the good things that this city can expect during the present year, which which had its first workout yesterday morning. Baseball was not one of the blessings enumerated; therefore we join the ragtime soldier boy and shall do a little musketing in the cause of the national game, with the local application applied with the warm hand of fulsome appreciation.

Just the other day someone met us on the street and asked politely and with courteous bearing that this kidding in regard to the golden dream of the Twin City invasion be dropped. Really, you know, you can't blame the credulous; there are a lot of us who are plum doubtful regarding any kind disposition upon the part of the American association owners.

But that's not exactly the point. Whether we get into the sweet haven of baseball rest, which indeed is a proposition that the hand book man would play heavily against, the fact remains that Duluth is due to have better baseball the present year than has been the case in some of the ragged years that have flitted.

Last season was one of the worst in the history of the minor leagues that has ever been sorrowfully registered on the official books of the various financial secretaries. Here the deep peeve was rendered deeper and more morose by the niggerly behavior of the elements, rain and those damp Northeasters from the majestic lake adding to the large spirit of disinclination that obsessed the fans.

If we ever break into the sacred territory of St. Paul and Minneapolis, some of our troubles are over; and on the other hand in the event of the league going through with six strong clubs in the fold, it will be stronger than was the case last year, and better baseball will be played.

No matter how the trades blow, we are going to be in better company than we have been in the past, and with a better deal from the elements and some more appreciation upon the part of the fans, the outlook for better baseball is somewhat more bright than was the case just a year ago this dear day.

WHILE we are supposing, let us suppose some more. There is the strange case of Bresnahan. Suppose that he were to go to the Pirates. Suppose, for it is a harmless pastime at times, that Konetchy of the lowly Cardinals was also to become one of the members of Col. Dreyfuss' team—and just one more supposition, pal: suppose that, as rumor hath it, that Mordecai Brown was also to become one of the brigand crew that some years back raked the other vessels on the national main and secured much lucre in the baseball way, and was something akin to the marvelous Mordecai of yore.

What despair, friend, aye, what grief and panic would reign down that long and majestic sweep of Broadway. With Bresnahan and Konetchy what a grand aggregation Fred Clarke would have. Oh yes, they are also saying that the Captain-Manager Clarke is to return to the game as a player, and will hold down one of the garden places.

Some of the wise boys of the winter book penchant are even now looking sweetly on the chances of the stogie town pets. And if these three or four supposes were to develop and grow out of the morning mist of winter fancy into the material facts of summer season—why, Bill, there would be some pennant chase in the older organization.

MINNEAPOLIS is one of the great centering points of the Scandinavian race of this country. In fact on the Fourth of July and other festive holidays the American colony try to get together and practice those little customs which all of us hold so dear. Henri Ordemann, the Norsk, and big brawny Jess Westergaard, the illustrious Swede from the fertile soil of Iowa, are to clash on a very near date, and the Norwegians and Swedes of the good town are at loggerheads and swords' points over the outcome of the match.

In the case of Henry winning the joyful and highly elated Norsks will hold a reunion and celebrate the event as one fitting to be enumerated with the trouncing of the Swedish army by the Norsk men of arms; and should Westergaard be able to pin the shoulders of Ordemann to the canvas, the Swedes will rally and employ adjectives, liquid potations, noise and patrol wagons in making the event one to be adequately commemorated.

RAJAH BRESNAHAN has come to the front and stated that the talk of his going to the pestiferous Cub camp is one of the dreams that should be lassooed and used as a modern illustration of antithesis, using George Washington and the trivial incident of the cherry tree, father and the woodshed as the other end of the play.

The former leader of the Cardinals and the fervent admirer of the suffrage movement as applied to baseball, as in the strange case of Mrs. Helene Britton Hathaway, says he is not going to the Cubs to divide backstop duties with that peer of the present inhabitors of the modern summer dwelling place, the huge mitt that almost obscures the person behind it, James Archer.

One always suspects Murphy, he is one of the greatest publicity getters of the present day men in baseball, and he loves this little allusion of the daily press as you, brother, love your right eye, though you may have a stigmatism and are compelled to wear blue glasses on bright pink afternoons. Therefore the entering of the protest upon the part of Roger is not in the least surprising and cometh not in the nature of the proverbial streak of lightning out of the unclouded deep blue canopy.

During part of the present week at least we have been hearing what Matsuda may possibly do to Walter Miller. The little Pole is expected in this morning and he may be counted upon to say what he expects to do to the son of the Orient. While not chesty, the little Pole has the firm kind of confidence, like the pillars of Pompeii before the quake and eruption made antiques one of the leading subjects for discussion, not to say study, at the meetings of the Friday afternoon clubs.

BOAT CLUB QUINT SHOWS GOOD FORM

The crack quint of the Duluth Boat club last night administered a decisive defeat to the Great Northerns of Superior, the score being 70 to 12. The result was not so much because of the weakness of the aggregation from Superior as it was the all-round ability and excellent team work of the boat club team.

Coach Dennis Deighton switched his men several times during the game, and the shifted lineup seemed to work very smoothly. Young "Bunk" Harris was in the game for the first time this season, and the goal shooting of the high school star was one of the features of the contest.

Judging from the showing of last evening, the D. B. C. quint is even at this early stage of the season stronger than the team of last year was at the close of its strenuous season. Deighton appears to have got together one of the best basket ball teams that Duluth has ever had.

The lineup and summary:

Boat Club.	Position.	Gt. Northerns.
Johnson	f	H. Olson
Boerner, Harris	f	F. Murphy
Paddock, Osman	c	Wadeen
Solheim	g	Williamson
Lathrop	g	J. Murphy

Field goals—Johnson, 10; Boerner, 6; Paddock, 2; Lathrop, 1; Solheim, 4; Osman, 3; Harris, 7; F. Murphy, 1; Wadeen, 2; Williamson, 1. Points from free throws—Johnson, 1; Harris, 3; Williamson, 4. Referee, "Monie" Harris; umpire, Wolvin.

Score: First half—D. B. C., 29; Great Northern, 9. Final—D. B. C., 70; Great Northern, 12.

M'CARTY BEATS PALZER IN CHAMPIONSHIP STYLE

Big Missourian Gives Iowa Farmer a Fearful Beating.

New Year's Day Battle Shows Cowboy to Possess Cleverness.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 2.—Luther McCarty of Springfield, Mo., shattered the heavyweight championship ambitions of Al Palzer, the Iowa giant, at the Vernon arena yesterday. For nearly eighteen rounds he used the huge frame of the Iowan as a punching bag. The middle of the eighteenth round found Palzer staggering blindly about under a volley of lefts to his battered face, and when Referee Charles Eyton walked between the men and hoisted the right hand of the smiling cowboy pugilist, the decision was received with cheers.

McCarty's victory, following his decisive defeat three weeks ago of Jim Flynn, places him at the top of the list of white heavyweights.

McCarty has announced, and reiterated the statement yesterday, that he would never fight a negro.

Palzer, in spite of his superior height, weight and reach, was no match for the cool-headed, agile youngster. He literally stumbled through the fight assimilating awful punishment, and his rushes were wholly ineffective. He scarcely landed a clean blow throughout the fight.

Palzer began the fight with an aggressiveness that indicated a desire to finish his man in short order, but McCarty had little difficulty in eluding him. Only once Palzer appeared to have an advantage. In one of the early rounds McCarty slipped to the mat. Palzer rushed in, launching a right uppercut to catch the rising man, but McCarty ducked out of danger.

Defeat is Decisive.

McCarty fought cleverly throughout, taking his time and beating down his man systematically. He seldom wasted a blow, and hit with deadly precision. Palzer had practically no defense against the Missourian's whip-like left, delivered straight from the shoulder, and seldom was he able to block the right swing or uppercut which invariably followed a series of straight lefts. McCarty landed at will and with an accuracy that became monotonous.

Palzer's eyes were kept almost continuously on his manager, the veteran Tom O'Rourke, who shouted instructions through a megaphone. He appeared to have no initiative whatever. O'Rourke's instructions were as audible to McCarty as to Palzer, and every move of the Iowan was anticipated by his foe. Palzer's face was badly disfigured and he showed the effects of his beating even more than did McCarty's last victim, the veteran Flynn.

In the eighteenth round, Palzer walked unsteadily to the center of the ring and literally fell into a left hook that dazed him. He clung to McCarty's shoulders and when they separated, McCarty shot two lefts to the jaw. McCarty apparently unwilling to administer the finishing punch, backed away, and the referee stopped the fight.

Round 2—McCarty landed hard right to Palzer's jaw and forced Palzer to make several vicious swings. They exchanged rights to head and hard body blows in a clinch. McCarty drove a terrific left to Palzer's left eye. Palzer reached McCarty's face with two straight lefts and McCarty sent Palzer's head back with a left to the face. Both landed hard lefts to the face. McCarty brought blood from Palzer's nose with a right swing and sent swift lefts and rights to the stomach. McCarty apparently landed at will on Palzer's stomach. McCarty's round.

Round 5—Both of Palzer's eyes were swollen when he came up in the fifth. McCarty drove a hard right to the ribs and they exchanged blows at long distance in the center of the ring. McCarty sent right to the chin and swung a hard right upper cut. Palzer drove a vicious right to McCarty's heart. Palzer's head rocked from right to left under McCarty's well timed swings. Palzer missed swings and McCarty drove right to stomach following with two lefts to the face, causing Palzer's mouth and nose to bleed. Palzer drove a hard left to McCarty's chin, but the cowboy merely grinned. McCarty's round.

Round 6—Palzer sent two straight lefts to McCarty's face. McCarty swung his right to jaw causing another flow of blood from Palzer's mouth. They exchanged blows to the head. McCarty sent Palzer's head back with a left jab which he followed with a hard left swing. He again rocked Palzer's head with a short left swing and caused Palzer to miss a vicious right uppercut. Palzer sent McCarty to the ropes with two lefts to the face but McCarty bounced back smiling. McCarty landed three hard lefts to the face. McCarty worked left swings with good effect to Palzer's face. Palzer went to his corner looking groggy. McCarty's round.

Round 7—Palzer sent three lefts to the face and McCarty retaliated with a hard right to the eye. In the clinch that followed, McCarty drove a terrific right to Palzer's jaw, nearly throwing him off his feet. Two straight lefts in rapid succession sent Palzer's head back and McCarty followed with a volley of swings to the face. Palzer reached McCarty's jaw with a left and the Missourian came back with a right hook to the chin. Palzer's left ear bled. Both went to their corners laughing. McCarty's round.

Round 10—Palzer came up aggressively and put three lefts to McCarty's jaw. Both appeared to be slowing up. Three lefts followed by a hard right brought blood from Palzer's eye. McCarty slipped to the mat, but was up in an instant and eluded a clumsy upper-cut with which Palzer tried to reach him while he was coming up. A straight left opened a slight cut under McCarty's right eye. Round even.

Round 11—McCarty drove a hard right to the heart and put a left to the jaw. They clinched. They broke away, McCarty placing his right to the jaw, but Palzer only smiled. McCarty drove a terrific left to Palzer's cheek and Palzer was almost blind. He rushed McCarty desperately, only to be met by a right to the stomach and a left swing to his left eye. McCarty again rocked Palzer's head with a left uppercut to the chin and Palzer was dazed as the gong rang. The crowd rose to its feet yelling for McCarty. McCarty's round.

Round 13—Palzer rushed and got a right to wind. McCarty staggered Palzer with a right to the jaw and they clinched. Palzer reached McCarty's ribs with his long left and the cowboy sent his right against Palzer's jaw. McCarty rocked Palzer's head from side to side at will. A terrific right swing cut Palzer's left ear. McCarty sent two terrific swings to the farmer's head and body with no comeback. McCarty drove two hard rights to Palzer's face. The crash was heard at the farthest corner of the arena. As the bell rang, McCarty smothered Palzer with a fusillade of terrific swings to the head and body and Palzer reeled to his corner. McCarty's round.

Round 14—Palzer came up viciously and after reaching McCarty with right straight arm blows, McCarty again staggered him with a series of straight lefts to face and stomach. Palzer was standing up under terrific punishment and it appeared at this stage that only the landing of a chance knockout blow would save him. McCarty blushed as he took a hard left to the face again working his right and left to Palzer's face with precision against which the farmer apparently had no defense. A crushing right to Palzer's stomach caused Palzer to stagger. All McCarty's round.

End Is Near.

Round 16—Palzer rushed in awkardly and McCarty placed rights and lefts to the body. Palzer tried to reach McCarty, but every time he advanced, McCarty reached his stomach. McCarty drove Palzer's head back with terrific lefts. Palzer was staggering about the ring and it appeared that the end was near for Palzer. The Iowan rallied, however, and poked his left to McCarty's face and the cowboy again sent him back with well-placed blows to the stomach. Palzer was hanging on when the bell rang. Palzer was all but out as the round ended.

Round 17—Palzer was groggy as he came up for the seventeenth round, but there was no doubt of his courage. His ability to take his punishment appeared to be his sole asset. McCarty put two terrific rights to the jaw, followed with straight lefts to the injured eye. A short uppercut to the jaw almost finished Palzer and the Iowan hung on with his eyes half closed. Palzer hit McCarty low and the referee cautioned the big fellow. A crashing right hook to the jaw followed by a left swing to the other side of his head made Palzer hang on. McCarty flirted with Palzer's manager as the Iowan clung to him apparently hopelessly defeated. Palzer could hardly find his corner at the bell.

Round 18—Palzer stumbled into a terrific left hook and hung on to McCarty's shoulder. McCarty shot a hard left to the jaw and played a terrific tattoo on Palzer's body. The blood flowed from Palzer's eyes and mouth as McCarty shot two terrific straight lefts to his head. As Palzer staggered about blindly, Referee Eyton rushed to McCarty and held up his right glove.

THE NEW CHAMPION OF THE WHITE MEN

MANAGER BILLY McCARNEY AND LUTHER McCARTY.

MURPHY WINS FROM BURNS

Oakland Boy Given a Fearful Beating---Seconds Throw Towel.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 2.—Frankie Burns' seconds threw a towel into the ring in the seventeenth round of his fight with Harlem Tommy Murphy at the open-air arena yetserday after Burns had been beaten almost into insensibility and his face had lost its contour. Murphy, barring the second round, when he ran afoul of a right cross that sent him to the mat for a couple of seconds, was at all times Burns' master.

Burns opened the third with two vicious right clouts to the jaw, after which the round resolved itself into a slugging match, with honors even. Burns' face was badly cut.

Murphy staggered the Californian in the fourth round with a straight left to the mouth. He forced Burns into a corner, volleying with right and left to the face.

The Harlemite opened the fifth with a straight left to the jaw that staggered Burns and all but floored him. Burns came back with right and left to the jaw, forcing Murphy to a clinch.

Both men landed often in the sixth, playing constantly for the face and jaw. Burns opened a gash over Murphy's mouth.

Murphy, in the seventh planted his unerring left solidly to the jaw a half a dozen times and the honors were his by a wide margin.

Most Vicious Round.

The eighth round was the most vicious of the fight. After Murphy had peppered the Oaklander with lefts to the face, Burns landed three powerful blows to the jaw. A rally followed, during which Burns was all but sent through the ropes and he showed the distress signal as the bell clanged.

Murphy had all the better of the ninth, landing with lefts to the face and Burns presented a bloody appearance as he took his seat. Murphy also scored with a right cross that shook the Oaklander from head to heels. Murphy almost floored Burns in the tenth, landing right and left punches to the jaw with the men fighting in close.

Burns fought with great gameness in the eleventh, but Murphy, as in the tenth round, used him as a chopping block.

Burns staggered Murphy in the twelfth, a left to the face, followed quickly with a powerful right—his heaviest blow—slowing up the Harlemite. Burns again brought left and right to face and both men were covered with blood when the round ended.

Burns slowed up perceptibly in the next two rounds and seemed to have lost his punching power.

When the bell rang for the start of the seventeenth, Burns staggered from his seat. Murphy went after him, landing left and right on the defenceless fighter's face. The crowd importuned Referee Griffin to stop the fight and immediately a towel was thrown from Burns' corner as a token of defeat. Murphy was given the decision.

SKATING AND CURLING DEPEND UPON WEATHER

If Temperature Drops the New Curling Club Rink Will Open Friday.

If the weather man will come through and do his part there will be skating and curling at the new rink on Fourteenth avenue east and London road the present week.

The foundations for four sheets of curling ice are completed. If the weather gets cold the flooding can be started today. The bed of the skating rink is completed and, again the weather, if the thermometer drops the work of flooding the big skating rink can be started today.

The lockers and some of the other conveniences that will be installed later will not be in when the big rink is opened. There will be some details to be completed after the doors of the big structure are thrown open to the members, but if the weather man will hand out a little of the shivering stuff, the kind of weather that the coal man is longing for, praying for, swearing for—why the long looked for event is due to come off this week.

Several of the officials of the curling club were out looking over the big building yesterday. The finishing details are being placed on the greatest rink in the world. After the investigation of yesterday Stephen H. Jones, president of the club, announced today that a little cold weather would bring the first roar of the stones that has been heard in the city proper district this winter.

It is pretty safe to say that both curling and skating will be on the winter sport's program the present week—if the weather permits. In the event of the temperature falling it is planned to make Saturday night one gala event at the big rink, and it is safe to presume that there will be hundreds of skaters out to enjoy the novelty of skating on one of the largest and finest inclosed rinks in the world.

VETERAN JOHN KENNEDY TO COACH MINNESOTAS

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 2.—The announcement that the Minnesota Boat club has engaged the services of John Kennedy, who for years was coach of the Yale university crews, has stirred the local organization and stimulated interest in the game as nothing else has done in years.

Immediately upon receipt of Mr. Kennedy's acceptance of the offer made him by the boat club, members began the work of proselyting and already they have assurances that their membership will be augmented considerably by the time spring sets in.

One of the best pieces of missionary work that has been done is to interest the high school athletes. Carleton Schaub has been at work among them and he has received enough favorable answers to make it practically certain in his mind that Central High and Mechanic Arts will have crews on the river and will enter the regatta to be staged this summer.

This branch of athletics has been neglected in the high schools and at the university and the stimulus of a new coach at the boat club probably will stir the undergraduates at those institutions. Effort may be made—so soon as the high schools shall have decided definitely what they will do—to interest the university athletic directors in the rowing. This is one branch of sports in which Minnesota never has played a role and it is believed that there would be no better time than now to get a crew there.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE WRESTLERS

Nestor Tuominen, the young Finnish middleweight, has been wrestling some very good matches since he left here. Before the Finn went on in the match in Duluth he had been on the road for the better part of three days and was travel worn and dead tired. It was his really remarkable strength that enabled him to go through the match and pin the shoulders of his opponent to the mat.

The young Finn has placed himself in the hands of H. J. Maki of this city, and according to the statement of Maki, he is going to book up a number of matches with some of the best welters in the Northwest.

Tuominen is one of the strongest little fellows who ever appeared on a local mat and he should make good with the best of the men of his weight. His remarkable strength will make it awfully hard to defeat him, while his endurance under normal conditions permits him to go through and wear his man down.

To show the class of Tumoinen Maki is going to put the boy against some of the best men he can find.

Ed. Alho, thhe Cloquet boy, who calls Duluth his home, has been wrestling through the West for the past year. At the present time he is making his headquarters at Kellogg, Idaho. Last Monday he met and defeated Jack Kennedy of Hermiston, Or., the contest being wrestled at Echo, Or.

According to the letter from Alho, he has defeated the well known Hindu, ranked as one of the toughest middleweights in the West. Alho must be coming to the front.

Al Reddy, brother of Eddie Reddy, pilot of the Gibbons brothers, has written here beseeching a match with Walter Miller for his protege, Al Francis. Reddy says the St. Paul man is the nearest approach to Fred Beell that the wrestling game has produced for some years, and that he is one of the best wrestlers in the game.

Charles Burns of Chicago also writes, seeking a match with Miller for the Mysterious Conductor of the Windy City—and the Conductor is some wrestler, but far too big for little Walter.

MILLER BEATS FINN CHAMPION

CONGRESS OF NATIONS.

Miller, Pole, vs. Matsuda, Jap.
Smoker, Swiss, vs. Hanson, Swede.
Zorbas, Greek, vs. Belanger, French.

Walter Miller, claimant of the world's middleweight title, last night at Calumet, Mich., defeated Nestor Tuominen, claimant of the Greco-Roman welter and middleweight championship of the world, in straight falls. According to the statement issued in Duluth by K. Peterson, former manager of the Finn, last night's match was the first time Tuominen has ever been thrown.

According to the dispatch from the Copper country, Miller was too fast and possessed too much science for the game little Finn. Tuominen showed really remarkable strength and put up a game fight against the Pole, but Miller wouldn't be denied and defeated his sturdy opponent in straight falls.

Miller is due to arrive here some time today and will take light exercise at the Catholic Athletic club for his battle tomorrow evening with Matsuda, the Jap. The Pole has been training at the St. Paul Y. M. C. A. and the association gymnasium at Calumet and is in the very height of physical condition for the go with the son of the Orient.

Fred Smoker, built like a miniature imitation of Stanislaus Zbyszko, was yesterday matched to meet Carl Hanson, the "Terrible Swede" in the first preliminary of tomorrow evening's show. This makes the card complete and assures the fans of a diversified program of wrestling.

Louis Zorbas and Ed Belanger of the French club in the West end will furnish the semi-windup. The little Greek is in prime condition for the go with the French boy, as he has been training for over a week for the coming finish battle with Mauritz Harris of Superior.

Tomorrow night's card will be cosmopolitan. Walter Miller is a Pole and Matsuda, his opponent, is a Japanese. Fred Smoker is a blonde-haired Swiss and has climbed the mountains of the little republic. His opponent is a Swede and first opened his eyes in the land of the frigid north. Little Louie Zorbas is a Greek of sunny temperament and his opponent is a French boy of impulsive nature.

FERNS GETS DECISION OVER HARRY BREWER

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 2.—Clarence ("Wildcat") Ferns of Kansas City, claimant of the welterweight championship of the world, was awarded the decision over Harry Brewer of Kansas City after ten rounds of furious fighting here yesterday afternoon.

Ferns was the aggressor throughout the fight and he had the advantage in every round except the first, when honors were about even. Brewer was in trouble in the second round and in the last two rounds he was in evident distress. Ferns fought savagely in the last round, while Brewer made a desperate effort to save himself from punishment.

Neither man was knocked down during the contest.

LONDON "FRO" WINS LONG RACE

Edinburgh, Scotland, Jan. 2.—Dinning, a professional runner, belonging to London, was first, and William Queal of New York, second, in a fifteen-mile professional race run today at the Powderhall Athletic grounds. The winner's time was 1 hour, 21 minutes, 45 seconds.

Longboat, the Canadian Indian, when he won the same race last year, took only 1 hour, 20 minutes, 4 2-5 seconds for the distance.

EASY FOR KILBANE.

Featherweight Champion Much Too Much for St. Louis Boy.

St. Louis, Jan. 2.—The scheduled eight-round bout between Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, featherweight champion, and Ollie Kirk, a local fighter, before the Future City Athletic club here yesterday afternoon, was stopped in the second round by Referee Sharpe to save the local boy from being knocked out.

The champion did most of the leading in the first round and in the second Kilbane dropped his man twice and had him groggy when the fight was stopped. Kirk weighed 122 pounds and Kilbane fought at catchweight.

WILL MEET TUESDAY.

New York, Jan. 2.—The question of whether Frank Chance will manage the New York American league baseball club this year, may be settled next Tuesday. Frank Farrell, owner of the New York club yesterday received a telegram from Chance in a reply to one sent the former manager of the Chicago Cubs last Saturday asking for a meeting in Chicago. In his answer Chance said he would leave Los Angeles Jan. 4 and arrive in Chicago three days later.

Mr. Farrell announced he would leave this city for Chicago Monday afternoon. He said he expected to "sign Chance without a hitch of any kind" and looks forward to Chance's arrival here by mid-February to take hold of the New York club affairs.

RECEIVING FREIGHT AT OMAHA DEPOT.

The Canadian Northern began today to take freight business at the Omaha freight depot on South Fifth avenue west and Commerce street. A previous statement to the effect that accommodation passenger service would also operate from the Omaha station was erroneous. The passenger service will continue from the yards at West Duluth. It is quite likely that a day passenger train running between Duluth and Fort Frances will be put on before long, as the demand is greater than was expected. An enormous business is being done in freight.

Class in Draughting.
A class in draughting will be started at the Y. M. C. A. under the management of C. C. Ferguson, consulting mechanical and electrical engineer, formerly with the Oliver Iron Mining company, and will open on Jan. 6. H. J. Sopher, educational director of the association, said today that various business houses were ready to give employment to draughtsmen as fast as they were fated for the work by the course. Applications for nine draughtsmen are now on the books of the Y. M. C. A., and will be filled as soon as the proper men can be secured.

"Greatly Exaggerated."
Like Mark Twain, Dan Hickey, veteran railroader, says the reports of his death have been exaggerated. Mr. Hickey, who was a guest at the Lenox last evening, is very much alive, despite the report of St. Paul and Minneapolis papers to the contrary. Mr. Hickey read a story in the Twin City papers of how he had dropped dead in St. Paul on Christmas day. The story didn't explain what particular Dan Hickey died and as a result the railroad man's friends thought him dead. The Dan Hickey who died was a business man with a comparatively small acquaintance. Mr. Hickey is a well known passenger conductor between Duluth and the Twin Cities on the Northern Pacific road.

Big Year in Prospect.
P. H. Nelson, manager of the Willams-Carlson Ore company, who has just returned to Duluth from a business trip in the East, said today that all signs pointed to a year of big business over the country at large. Iron and steel manufacturers of the East had told him that all signs pointed to a great year in their business. Mr. Nelson while away purchased a new sand-sucker to be used by the company in stripping its property on the Cuyuna range.

Never before were robbers so bold in Chicago, by day as well as by night, according to George Weinberg, 720 East Third street, who has just made a week's stay in that city. He says the people of that city state that the police are totally unable to handle the situation properly, and that a man going through Chicago should keep one hand on his money and the other on his watch.

RICH WIDOW LOST IN COLORADO BLIZZARD

Mrs. Alice McMillan Has Not Been Seen Since Tuesday.

Fort Collins, Colo., Jan. 2.—Alice McMillan, aged 55, a wealthy widow, who came here from California a few months ago, is lost in a terrific blizzard at Chambers lake, near the crest of the continental divide. Forest rangers and volunteer searchers have been scouring the hills through the storm since noon on Tuesday, but no trace of her has been discovered.

COUNTY IS TURNED DOWN

State Farm Refuses to Accept First Patient From Duluth.

"Not Room for Tyson" at the New Institution.

The state board of control has notified Judge of Probate Gilpin of its refusal to accept as an inmate of the state farm and hospital for inebriates at Willmar, Carroll Tyson, the first man to be committed to the institution from this county.

Tyson on Tuesday was adjudged to be an inebriate on a showing which was made before Judge Gilpin. The court reported its findings to the state board of control and today received an official notice that there was "not room for Tyson at the institution."

The notice had a notation on it stating that the farm had no means of caring for such cases there. Tyson is willing to take the treatment but cannot go as a voluntary patient as he is destitute of funds. Under the law, he would then have to be committed by the probate court. The charge to voluntary patients, who go without commitment is $1 a day.

Tyson is under parole in district court. He is an excellent bookkeeper but a slave to the drink habit. A few weeks ago, he attempted to commit suicide during a period of despondency.

CALENDAR IS CALLED

Only 130 Cases Marked for Trial at Present Term.

At the peremptory call of the calendar of civil cases for the January, 1913, term of the district court by Judge J. D. Ensign this morning, 130 of the 152 cases listed were marked for trial. The remainder were either continued or stricken.

In fourteen of the 130 cases, which include both jury and court issues, motions are pending which if granted will remove the cases from this term's calendar. The motions will be heard before Judge Ensign this afternoon and Saturday.

The divorce mill will start grinding this afternoon. As many cases as possible will be tried. There are thirty-five divorce actions pending. Most of them will be tried today and tomorrow. The remainder will be continued to the general term calendar.

Judge Ensign today made a sitting of cases to be taken up Monday, when the petit jury will report for duty. The jury cases have preference over all court cases, except divorce actions.

Of the more important caces to be tried this term will be several suits brought by the fee owners of the Norman mine of Virginia to secure an annulment of the lease now held by the Oliver Mining company and to collect damages aggregating $1,000,000. The case will probably be set for trial during the latter part of the term.

The calendar has the usual large number of personal injury actions to be tried.

ALLEGED DEFRAUDER OF BANKS ARRESTED

Jacob Levikow Is Held in St. Paul on Vagrancy Charge.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—A man believed to be Jacob Levikow, said to be wanted at Kansas City, Mo., Chattanooga, Tenn., and other cities, on a charge of bank swindling, is locked up here on suspicion. He has been staying at a local hotel for several days and was arrested by a detective agency. The man is held as a vagrant, pending a further investigation.

May Be Jacob's Brother.
Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 2.—A man whom the police say is the real Jacob Levikow, sought by the police of several cities in connection with swindling operations, was arrested here early today charged with passing a forged check for $750 on a local bank. Chief of Police Griffin said he had had no word from St. Paul, where a man believed to be Levikow was arrested last night. He thought, however, that the man detained at St. Paul was Samuel Levikow, a brother of the man under arrest here.

WARM RAIN FALLING IN WEST WASHINGTON

Train Service Is Again Crippled By Fresh Snow in Rockies.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 2.—Warm rain is falling in Western Washington, and continuance of the present winds may cause more snow or a melting of the deep snow now lying on the mountains.

Heavy snowfall was reported in the Cascade mountains last night, and the Northern trans-continental railroads, which had just succeeded in opening their lines for the free movement of trains, began the struggle over again.

Prior to the coming of the fresh storm, decided improvement in train movement was reported by all railroads. The Northern Pacific and the Chicago, Milwapkee & St. Paul announced that normal conditions had been restored. The Great Northern brought into Seattle the three passenger trains that had been stalled in the mountains.

Telephone and telegraph service is still badly crippled.

LOOKS OVER LOCAL FIELD

Civic Center Worker From New York Talks to Duluthians.

Says Movement Has Secured Firm Foothold in Zenith City.

The manner in which the civic center movement has been taken up in Duluth has saved fifty years of evolutionary waste, in the opinion of J. W. McConaughy of New York, a prospect for the position of social center supervisor under the direction of the board of public welfare.

Mr. McConaughy arrived in Duluth this morning and was entertained at lunch at the Commercial club at noon today by representatives of the board of public welfare, the Commercial club, the board of education, the press and of the public generally. The situation in Duluth was explained to Mr. McConaughy and those present offered their co-operation in the inauguration of the movement on the proper basis.

Mr. McConaughy will visit some of the schools of the city tomorrow and interview citizens. He will leave for New York tomorrow evening and will not be able to make his decision known for some days.

"There is a grand opportunity here," said Mr. McConaughy after the noon luncheon today. "I have never seen such complete co-operation and such a spirit of willingness on the part of all classes of citizens. The civic center movement has already secured a foundation in Duluth that may well be envied by other cities of the size."

Mr. McConaughy is a young man who has been interested in social work for some time. He is a newspaper man on the staff of the New York Evening Journal and has combined his newspaper work with sociological study and some practical work. He has been recommended to the board of public welfare by Dr. Josiah Strong and other authorities and the board is anxious to obtain his services.

URGES MEXICANS TO TALK AND ACT PEACE

Minister Hernandez Starts Psychological Campaign on Rebellions.

City of Mexico, Jan. 2.—Rebels are said to have shot the power transmission lines from the poles, carrying them from the River Necaxa in the state of Pueblo to the capital, and this reason is given for the failure of the electric power service of the city, which caused the stoppage of the street car lines for several hours. The lines are disconnected at a distance of thirty miles from the city. A partial service of light and power was reestablished this afternoon.

Though pleased with the work of the army in the districts in rebellion, and especially with the defeat administered to the rebel general, Salazar, recently, Minister Hernandez of the department of the interior is actively engaged in propagating a sort of psychological campaign. He is sending letters to all parts of the republic, urging the people to "act peace, talk peace, and keep the subject before the people."

In line with his recent appeals to Catholics, Protestants and others, Senor Hernandez said he would seek the co-operation of every organization in Mexico, regardless of its previous or politeal character.

"Respect For Respect."
El Paso, Tex., Jan. 2.—"We will respect all foreigners respecting us; none others," says a proclamation signed by Gen. Inez Salazar and eighteen rebel generals, copies of which are being distributed along the border. It also is declared that the rebels will continue their policy of destroying bridges, station houses and rolling stock of railroads "aiding our enemies by hauling federal troops."

The Mexican Northwestern railway, frequently torn up below Juarez, will resume traffic in a few days if no new destructions occur. Although under American management, this railway, which has lost heavily during the two years of revolutions, is property owned largely in England, and is a Canadian corporation. The Mexican Central railway, a part of the National railways, remains open below the border, and so far the shop strikes have not affected train schedules on it.

STATE'S LESSON IN BRUTALITY.
The Outlook: I shall never forget the first execution which took place after my incarceration. The culprit was a young fellow who was guilty, beyond a doubt, but that fact made the event none the less terrible. I saw the heartbroken mother as she was led away by her other children from the last sad good-by. I saw the young man himself as he was taking his final bath, the state being determined that he should be clean before being slain.

Then, on a Sunday afternoon, the lights in the cells were extinguished while all the electric power was turned toward the dreadful chair, in a final test to determine if all was in order for the tragedy of the morrow. Monday morning came. It was a little after 6. I lay awake on my bed, knowing that over yonder, hardly a hundred yards away, a boy was waiting to die. Then the hall lights grew dim, and every one of the 1,500 prisoners awake—and few were not—knew that the spirit of the lad had gone out into the unknown.

Daylight came, and while the men yet marched about the yard and the undertaker's wagon came, the wicker casket was taken into the deathhouse, to be borne forth a little later with all that was mortal of the boy of three hours before.

Thus the state teaches the sacredness of human life. If the old vindictive code must still be the law of New York, in pity's name let the executions be held where they will not be a lesson in brutality to 1,500 caged men

A SOLID FIELD OF SPUDS.
Portland Oregonian: Last May J. R. Steele planted an acre that had been planted in alfalfa for ten years to Early Rose and Garfield varieties of potatoes. They were irrigated twice. Last week he started to dig them and found that the hills had run together so that each row was one continuous line of solid spuds. Many of the plants had enough on them to fill a five-gallon oil can. Most of the spuds are a foot long and some weigh four pounds each.

DYNAMITER PEELS SPUDS

"Iago of Conspiracy" Is Set to Swabbing Floors With Mop.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 2.—Peeling potatoes in the kitchen, carpentering, and constructing steel buildings at the Federal penitentiary here were some of the duties assigned today to the thirty-three labor union officials convicted of the dynamite plot.

Olaf A. Tveitmoe, the Pacific coast labor leader and editor, was assigned to do kitchen work, among his first duties being to peel potatoes. Dressed in the gray prison uniform, Tveitmoe, a man weighing 270 pounds, who has figured largely in labor union movements in California, put on an apron and began at once to help prepare the prison noon meal.

Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' international union, whose sentence of seven years was the heaviest of all, was assigned to work in the carpenter shop. Although an iron worker, it was thought best, because of his age, to give him comparatively light work.

Hockin Swabbing Floors.
Also assigned to the kitchen, Herbert S. Hockin, "the Iago of the dynamite conspiracy," was handed a mop and put to work swabbing the floors.

Because of his feeble physical condition, Henry W. Legleitner of Denver, one of the Iron workers' executive board members, was given outdoor work. He will assist in the manufacture of bricks for new prison buildings.

Peter J. Smith of Cleveland, another iron worker, also was assigned to duties in the carpenter shop.

Another iron workers' union official who was taken off his trade was Eugene Clancy of San Francisco. Clancy's health not being good, it was decided to allow him to work in the store room.

Many of the other prisoners were given jobs on steel construction work. These included J. F. Munsey, Salt Lake City; Philap A. Cooney, New Orleans; John T. Butler, Buffalo, vice president of the union; Michael J. Cunnane, Philadelphia; Charles N. Beum, Minneapolis; Frank C. Webb, New York, and Michael J. Young, Boston.

Only about twenty of the prisoners were assigned to their permanent duties today.

"...very man is to be given work suitable to him," said Deputy W. H. Mackay. "Most of these prisoners were used to out of door work and it was thought best to keep them in the open. I never saw a more cheerful lot of prisoners."

USE FOR FIGS.

Chicago News: "I went into a dentist's office the other day," observed the boarder who was always having interesting adventures. "I had reached a point where I had to have a tooth filled or crowned or something, to keep from wearing my tongue out on a little peculiarity it had developed. I was ambitious to have that tooth made humdrum and commonplace once more and by that painful method get my tongue back to its normal routine.

"Hence my trip to the dentist's.

"A girl, as animated as a doorknob, came and took my name and address, my business and personal accompilshments, all of which she wrote down without any enthusiasm.

"I figured out that I was eighteenth in order of succession. I could hear what was going on in the inner sanctum, and every one who departed thither could be heard afterward if not seen.

"However, I paid little attention to their groans. What got me was the telephone conversation.

"The 'phone rang. The girl informed the dentist that he was wanted.

"Then the dentist said over the 'phone: 'What? You have an abscess? That's too bad. Well, they do have them sometimes. Just put a fig on it. Yes, a fig. Leave it on all night. Cut the fig in half and leave it on all night. Yes, the same fig. Yes. I'll lance it in the morning.'

"Then he went back and proceeded to lance the man in the chair. After one or two more patients had passed through the door the 'phone rang again. I immediately became interested.

"The dentist said: 'what? Abscess? Is that so? Well, that's too bad. Just put a fig on it. It will be all right in the morning.'

"Three or four more victims passed into the inner shrine and I never saw them any more. Again the 'phone rang. "'If that's any one with an abscess,' said the dentist, 'tell him to put a fig on it.'

"Then the girl's voice—it sounded like a wet rag falling on a pine board: 'The doctor says if it is an abscess, put a fig on it.'

"At this I fell into a deep study. It occurred to me that all this dentist's patients had abscesses. It seemed that he had most extraordinary luck in causing abscesses. There were only two people left when I looked up from this deep contemplation. One of them entered the inner office.

"As he was entering the 'phone bell rang and the dentist spoke in a voice as lifelike as the girl's. It was as enthusiastic as the piston rod on a stern wheel boat.

"'Tell him to fig it,' he said to the girl.

"I looked at the one lone man who separated me from abscesses and figs. Then, pretending to be interested in the door knob, I gently pulled it to me. Not the door that gave entrance to the dentist's shop—oh, no!—the exit to the outer world.

"I retreated through the door through which I had entered and, treading swiftly and softly, I fled."

WORLD'S SUBMARINE RECORD.
Chicago Tribune: Recently in San Francisco bay the new submarine boat F-1 established a world's record for depth during a six-hour submerged cruise. The craft went down to a depth of 283 feet and maintained this depth for ten minutes while traveling at a speed of six knots, then rising to a depth of nineteen feet it proceeded at a speed of eight knots. The previous record for depth was held by the Seal, a lake type submarine, officially designated G-1, which went to a depth of 256 feet.

FEEL JUBILANT OVER VICTORY

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Progressive league banquet held last night in North Pole hall was well attended, more than 100 being present to celebrate the consummation of the fight the organization has made for municipal ownership. The toastmaster was R. J. Montague.

One of the events was the presentation to Mayor M. A. Murphy of a gold-mounted gavel and a wreath of flowers. The mayor has been the chief factor in the municipal ownership movement and has been supported by the league.

A. N. Thompson spoke briefly, contending that all who pay living expenses are taxpayers. M. H. McMahon spoke on county division, saying Senator Boyle and Representative Knapp had pledged themselves to put through the committee and the two branches of the house the county division bill which has been drafted by the County Division club.

Max Lewis gave a logical and humorous talk on his thirty years of hustling in America. Carl R. Johnson, the president of the league, and Frank C. Whiting, the secretary, both spoke. Mayor Murphy, in a short address, recommended the commission form of government for Virginia and told of the economies and the benefits of the commission system.

The banquet was served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church, directed by Mrs. F. C. Whiting.

MAKI'S BODY IS LYING IN MORGUE

Hibbing Man Terrorized Camp and Then Killed Himself, as Reported.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Sheriff Little and other officers who left here for Oscar Bey's tie camp ten miles distant, shortly before noon yesterday, in response to word that Mike Maki after terrorizing the camp with a rifle had killed himself, as stated in Wednesday's Herald, returned last night and confirmed the report. They also brought the body of the suicide, which is now at a local morgue pending instructions from relatives.

When the officers arrived at the camp they found conditions as stated in The Herald: Maki after driving everyone out of camp with his weapon, had taken refuge in a log shack and turned the weapon upon himself. Too much liquor is supposed to have prompted the act.

Sister in Montana.

Maki, as he was known in Hibbing, although it is said his real name was Mike Morti, was between 25 and 30, single, a Finn, and had worked around Hibbing for eight years. He has a sister living somewhere in Montana, but she cannot be located, so the body will be buried here. There will be no inquest.

Maki left Hibbing last week to cut ties at the camp with three young Finns, all occupying the same cabin. It is said that Maki was recovering from a spree when he reached camp and was not able to work. Tuesday the crazy spell came over him and, armed with a 32-caliber high-power United States rifle, he scared his companions away. Then he went upstairs and shot himself. A teamster returning to the house found blood and the body with two holes through it. Maki had shot himself twice.

Mr. Neff will preach the installation sermon, after which a reception will be given in the church basement.

The Tuesday Social club will meet on Jan. 7 at the home of Mrs. James Laing.

The Ely entertainers held a dance in the Turf hall New Year's eve.

The proprietors of the Opera House Moving Picturedrome, Messrs. Chinn, Toms, Olds and Knutson, gave a free matinee to the children New Year's day. The house was full.

The fire department was called out Tuesday evening by an alarm sounded from No. 21 signal station which proved to be a false alarm.

The skating rink was well patronized New Year's day, also the picture shows and many took the opportunity to go for cutter rides. The mines closed down at noon Dec. 31 and resumed work again at 7 a. m. today.

The new state bank building is nearing completion and when finished will be an ornament to the business street of the town. The Finnish Stock company's store is also nearly ready for occupancy.

SEWER OUTLET BIDS.

Hibbing Council to Receive Tenders for Work Jan. 21.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village council has decided to advertise for bids Jan. 21 for building the proposed outlet to the sewer south of Brookston. It is expected the work will be largely done this winter. Automobiles were ordered off Third avenue in front of the Hibbing hotel, because of numerous complaints and must stand on the Cedar street side of the hotel hereafter. The council at a later date will consider the proposition of the International Film company to bear Hibbing's share of the cost of getting out moving pictures of this section for advertising purposes, the offer from the concern having been temporarily laid aside.

ALICE ANNEXATION SCHEME IS BEATEN.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—The scheme to annex six sections lying within a mile and a half south and east of the present limits of the village of Alice was beaten at the special election just held. Only the residents of the territory proposed to be annexed voted so that the vote was small—14 for and 41 against. The opposition of the mining companies to the scheme is blamed for the small and opposition vote. If the plan had gone through about $10,000,000 in taxable property would have been added to Alice. The result has renewed talk of annexing Alice to Hibbing but the plan will probably not go through.

DRINK WATER AT PHI DELTA BANQUET.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—In keeping with a resolution newly passed, the only liquid refreshment served at the Phi Delta Theta fraternity banquet here last night was water. The organization seeks to discourage the use of liquor at all its banquets.

High school fraternities were severely criticized by several speakers. The members of these organizations were charged with aping the college fraternities and accomplishing no real ends. Plans were made to take up the proposition of making an active fight on the high school fraternities at the business meeting.

Among the speakers were John Balcolm Shaw, Rev. M. C. Chalmers Covert, president of William Mather Lewis, and Dr. Guy Potter Benton, president of the University of Vermont. Seventy-four chapters were represented.

BREAK GROUND FOR FIRST EXPO. HALL.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 2.—One hundred thousand persons witnessed the breaking of ground for the Machinery building, which will be the largest structure at the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915, and the first on which work will be begun.

In the ceremonies, all the perfection of modern invention was represented, 500 automobiles paraded, submarines dove beneath the surface of Harbor View waters and two airships swooped down over the multitude and came to earth at the scene of the ground breaking.

A troop of the California National guard and all the musical organizations of the city participated, and 10,000 school children who marched to the exposition grounds sang in chorus.

CONFESSIONS OF A CURB BROKER

How Orders Are Crossed, "Matched" or "Washed" Against Customers at High and Low Marks of the Day.

From Collier's Weekly.

One minute after 10 o'clock on the first Monday morning in December, 1912, I stole $50. No officer of the law will apprehend me for that ordinarily indictable crime of grand larceny. I am immune. My victims were a trusting pair of prosperous gamblers. Do you not recall that comforting maxim of adolescence: "Second thief, best owner"? We country lads exemplified it concerning jackknives, fishing tackle and hound pups.

I am a reputable broker and trader on the New York curb. My word is as good as a surety company's bond; daily I operate in stocks worth many thousands by a mere nod of the head, sometimes with an almost imperceptible wink.

How did I manage to gather $50 in sixty wicked seconds during these dull times? It was easy for a commission broker of my skill and experience. In truth, any one of several hundred others could have equaled the performance. Many times a day these clever mulctings take place, differing only in degree from the following particulars:

How It Was Done.

Before the market opened, a stock exchange firm (to be known as "A" in this narrative) gave me an order to buy 100 shares of Tobacco Shops Common "at the market"; another house (call it "Z") instructed me to sell the same amount of the stock in a like manner.

When I rushed into the Smoke Crowd, the quotation was 108¼ to ¾. For the layman's illumination, that meant that 100-share lots could be bought for $10,875 or sold for $10,825.

I promptly reported to my respective order sources that I had bought 100 shares of the security at 108¾ and sold 100 ditto at 108¼. These transactions, of course, were made "under the hat," with an obvious gross profit of $50 in my favor.

For safety's sake, I then proceeded to "cross" the Tobacco Shops Common stock at 108¾ and 108¼. Whispering my instructions to two cronies, I again went into the turmoil.

"A hundred at three-quarters!" yelled Crony No. 1.

"I take it!" I shouted at him.

The rest of the boys within hearing merely smiled. They are tolerant of this rough work, having done it unnumbered times themselves.

"Sold!" I roared, and walked away in virtuous dignity. If the Nicotine Group grinned more broadly, none made an audible objection to my farcical perturbance. Moreover, those alleged sales would appear on the official quotation sheet, thereby satisfying my reputation for accomplishment. I had stock exchange connections that had been on the level, or effectually forebeen on the level, or effectually forebearing any complaint they might make.

In sober truth, no disinterested broker there could swear that my purchase and sale were not legal. My accomplices would not tell me. Snitchers are a negligible quantity on the New York curb. What man dare boast of clean palms where all are making their bread and butter handling pitch? I, frankly, am a traitor to my clan in printing this betrayal. If the authorship is traced to me, I will be boysheotted and ostracized by every broker inside the curb association and out.

Rice and Reinhart.

Our arena is directly in front of the abandoned offices of George Graham Rice and J. Thomas Reinhardt. The former recently completed his workhouse sentence for a flagrant misuse of the United States mails; the latter is an involuntary bankrupt and isolated across the Atlantic ocean from his indignant creditors. Both of these warped geniuses for fake stock promotion were in their separate heydays acclaimed as king of the curb.

Rice floated the Ely Central Copper company, with 1,600,000 shares, each of $10 par value; the Rawhide Coalition Mines company, 6,000,000 shares, $1 par; and the Bovard Consolidated Mines company, 5,000,000 shares, $1 par. Thousands of investors throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico achc with the memory of what these wildcat mining propositions cost them. The high price records are: Ely Central, $5.25 per share; Rawhide Coalition, $1.47; Bovard, 22 cents.

Today's quotations of interest to stockholders follow: Ely Central, ½ cent bid per share. Rawhide Coalition, 50 cents bid for a lot of 1,000 shares, or ½ of a mill per share. Bovard, absolutely no bid to be found anywhere.

Reinhardt's pets were the Porcupine Central Mining company, capital $1,000,000, shares $1 each; the Porcupine Southern Mines company, capital $1,000,000, shares $1 each; and the Porcupine Northern Mining company, capital $1,000,000, shares $1 each. The credulous were landed with this quill-studded trio at an approximate average of $1.50 per share. The high points were: Porcupine Central, $5.62½; Porcupine Southern, $2.31¼; Porcupine Northern, $1.75.

Today they are quoted as follows to those Yankee and Canuck unfortunates who yearn to realize something from the slaughter: Central, 7 cents bid per share; Southern, 6 cents; Northern, 5 cents.

Their majesties, Rice and Reinhardt, introduced that malodorous half dozen to the pocketbooks of investors by special warrant of the curb organization. The charge for listing a so-called mining company is $100. Some are admitted to trading as prospects, but this warning fact does not appear in the newspapers or on the official quotation sheet.

Not One Producing Mine.

None of the aforesaid six was a producer at the mines. The only way they possibly could pay the promoter lay in that unlawful manipulation known as "washing." The Laundry trust should watch its unsuspected rival working within a stone's throw of the majestic Stock Exchange. Shades of Tennessee Coal and Iron and the Hocking Pool, but the floor members know how to do it themselves! However, we outside market lads are unsurpassed as manglers of financial rough drys.

A large proportion of my fellow parasites are members of the New York Curb Market association. Their dues are $25 a year, an annual income of about $7,000. New listings furnish about $8,000 more. We understand that there is a fund of $17,000 in our treasury to defend us in the courts if occasion arises.

It is popularly believed down here that "City Hall is being sweetened" to allow the usurpation of a public street for a restricted trading membership. An intelligent and tactful member of the Traffic Squad shepherds us. His stipend is $1,400 a year. We offer thanks to the patient taxpayer for this boon. The New York Stock Exchange's rules and regulations govern us, and we enjoy the friendly interest of the major trading mart. Our earnest jest is: "The Exchange steals indoors; we do our dirty work in the open!"

I bank at the largest down-town institution. If I saw one of its employes in a curb broker's office, I should walk around and reduce my deposit to the lowest checking allowance. If I caught him in a New York Stock Exchange house, I would sprint into the bank and draw out every cent of my modest account.

Method Is Simple.

The promotion of wildcat and mad-dog stocks, so fatal to the unwary lamb, never is the least bit opaque to us initiated vultures. The method, unvarying and as time-honored as the green-goods and gold-brick games, is simple and direct.

Upon the heels of a genuine boom in an oil or precious metals district, some cunning Rice or Reinhardt secures a cheap option on adjacent territory. It might yield traces of the neighboring petroleum or quartz if a neighboring petroleum or quartz if a weak-minded optimist could be led to dig or bore there.

The up-to-date promoter is not so visionary. He prefers to gouge and bleed the rich and ready get-much-for-little vein in the body politic. Americans have a craze for stock certificates. They will sink a thousand hard-earned dollars in some just-heard-of fake when you could not sell them a full-weight double-eagle for nineteen dollars.

So, "The Intercontinental Golden Fleece-Gathering company" is launched. After being listed or admitted to quotation on the New York curb, "wash" sales (closely related to my Monday morning "crossing" of Tobacco Shops common) establish a range of say $5 to $5.25 a share. This triumph duly is set forth on the official sheets and copied by the newspapers. The trap is set.

The pocketbook investigator carefully scans his sucker list, financial rating sheets, insurance company reports, and records of legacies. Expert salesmen scatter far and wide to towns, villages, and farming communities. The cities usually are seined through the medium of newspaper advertising columns.

Artistic Prospectus.

The road agents are armed with an artistic prospectus, which unobtrusively avoids any direct guarantee of intrinsic value in the proposition; a sheaf of crinkly certificates engagingly announcing in prominent type that they are "full-paid and nonassessable;" and the official quotation sheet to prove that there is a recognized market for the "security" in the chief city of the United States.

That is a deadly percentage of ten to one against the reckless or unguarded investor. The plain arithmetic of this widespread stock-gambling curse should be taught in the schools right after the morning prayer.

Here is a sober prophecy: In the event of our aggressive country going to war with a foreign power, or because of some equal national disaster, the majority of the New York curb stocks would break practically to nothing per share. Almost every oil and mining issue here has hanging over it a trembling avalanche of treasury stock. They are floated solely to be sold. Why will not the purblind public understand this colossal fact?

Large Losses the Rule.

Even proved dividend payers are dangerous. It is forever a guess which way the cat will jump. Brokers' commissions and money interest charges eat up small profits. Large losses are the rule. In my considerable experience as a witness of stock market affairs, I have handled over 6,000 customers' accounts. The names of not more than four or five winners occur to me now.

And always we have with us the cancerous bucket shop. No man can foretell the secret moment when a previously conservative firm commences to back its pardonable belief that all customers are fools.

A pretty scheme is to send buying advices on a certain stock east and north, and selling tips west and south. The resulting orders are "crossed," "matched," or "washed" against the customers at the high and low marks of the day. An elastic official quotation sheet is a friend tried and true to the greedy bucket-shop keeper.

All is well with the house while the market goes in its favor. If the clients tractionally gain a large credit balance the firm gracefully falls. "Heavy over-head expenses," they call it; or "A number of important accounts were undermarginea." In these cases no one goes either to jail or Europe. The Federal bankruptcy law is a fairy godmother to the skillful insolvent.

The Master Brigands.

Sometimes I have a sincere fear that the metropolitan police department will raid the curb, if for naught else than disorderly conduct. Then, again, I am quite sanguine that the omnipotent stock exchange will protect us. We are indispensable to many of its members for the incubation of doubtful stocks. They are the master brigands, levying a titanic toll on the financial world. Their woof is so intimately interwoven with the warp of American legislative, judicial and social activity that it all seems a perfect fabric. If the national administration interferes with stock speculation, No. 28 Wall and No. 26 Broadway could wreck the Wilson party with a panic which would make that of 1907 look like a rest cure for paralytics.

The most amusing incident in stock-market annals is Thomas W. Lawson's war upon margin trading. First off, we hardly can understand him even where his intent is not purposely obscure. His literary style is hoop-skirtish, and this is the hobble age of letters. He thinks the dictionary is a tom-tom and thumps the eternal daylights out of it.

I would nominate him Thunder Verb Tom, or Boston-Chief-Afraid-of-Common-Nouns.

To the well-posted insider, Lawson's crusade is that of a confessed second-story man turned burglar-alarm salesman to citizens who have lost everything worth losing. Self-aggrandisement is the means and end of the present campaign. My prediction is that he will wind up an aimless attempt to close the New York stock exchange as a margin-trading institution by declaring that Trinity Copper, Yukon Gold, First National and Bay State Gas ought to sell much higher. Turgid Tammas also may furnish figures to show how investors in these stocks should have made much money because there was a huge profit to them between his promotion prices and the high records. Here is a pin to puncture that fallacious argument:

At flotation quotations and four-fifths of the way up the public bought millions of shares. They could not have resold 1 per cent of their vast holdings to the promoter around top levels.

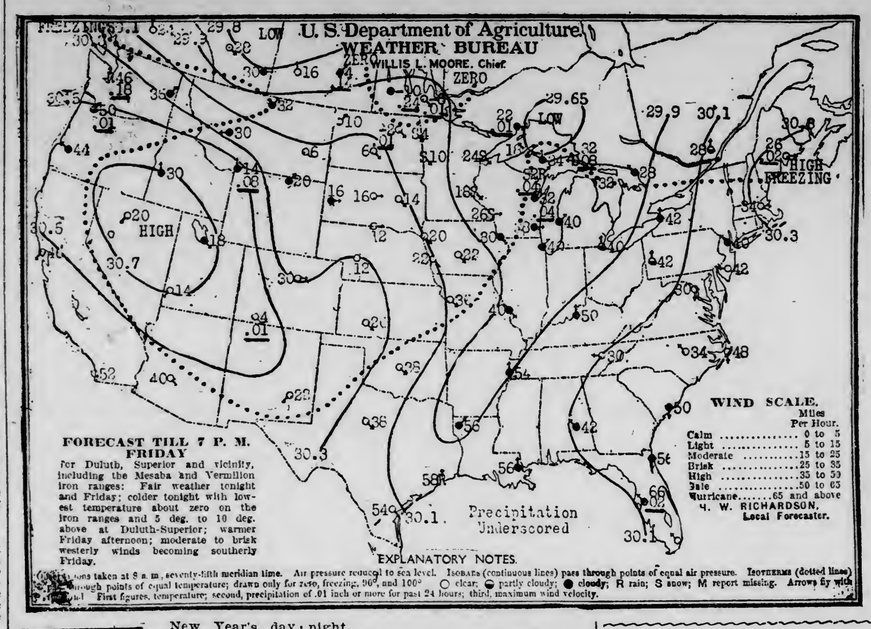

Come, little lambs, and gamble on the long green with Lawson and me!

Get This For Colds

Prescription for Positive Results Don't Experiment.

"From your druggist get two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whiskey. Shake well. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." This is said to be the quickest cough and cold cure known to the medical profession. Be sure to get only the genuine Globe Pine Compound (Concentrated Pine). Each half ounce bottle comes in a tin screw-top sealed case. If your druggist is out of stock he will quickly get it from his wholesale house. Don't fool with uncertain mixtures. It is risky. Local druggists say that for the past six years this has had a wonderful demand. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical Laboratories of Chicago.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

COLDER

New Year's day was soft and gray, but the snow conditions were excellent for outings. Today is another of those exceptional days of which the weather man seems to have an ample stock this winter. He can't serve too many of them to the man who pays the coal bills. Fair and colder weather is predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

Duluth had a touch of frost a year ago today. The mercury went down to 24 deg. below zero.

The sun rose this morning at 7:51 and it will set at 4:30 this evening, giving eight hours and thirty-six minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The barometric depression centered over Lake Superior caused light snow over the Upper Lake region, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Eastern North Dakota, Manitoba and Southern Saskatchewan during Wednesday or last night. A decided increase in barometric pressure which covers Manitoba, Eastern Montana, the Dakotas, Wyoming, Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Western Iowa and Minnesota is attended by much colder weather. This turn to colder will reach the Lakes this afternoon or tonight and tonight followed by rising temperature Friday afternoon. Zero temperatures prevail in North Dakota and Manitoba."

RECOMMENDATIONS have been made to the Pittsburg board of public education for the serving of noonday luncheon at cost to the students in Pittsburg high schools and at the elementary schools where needed. Free lunches will be served to pupils in open-air schools, if the recommendations are carried out. The project was taken up for consideration after the Pittsburg Council of Jewish Women proposed establishing kitchens and furnishing the meals. The council opened a dining room for the pupils in one of the district public schools several months ago and the system has been proved practical. The luncheon tables are well patronized. A few pennies a day suffices to provide a child with a warm and appetizing meal of well cooked food.

The only school lunch room operated in Duluth is at the Central high school. Small charges are made and the pupils are furnished with hot soup and light refreshments at small cost. The lunch room has been in operation for several years, and has been considered a decided help to the students.

Flaxseed Is Strong With Diminished Receipts From the Country.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 2.—Wheat worked higher on the North American markets today, in spite of large receipts from the country, on account of bullish European cables. Duluth May wheat closed ¼c to ½c higher than Tuesday. Cash wheat closed 4c under May. Durum closed ¾c off and oats ⅛c up. Rye and barley closed unchanged. Duluth January and May flaxseed closed ½c higher.

Wheat was quite bullish on the markets of North America during the morning, notwithstanding heavy receipts on the markets from the country, and rains and snows in certain parts of the winter wheat belt, notably in Missouri and Illinois. The Winnipeg cash market was very strong, sales being heavy for export, though there was very little doing in the way of export sales of American wheat. The bullish cables from Europe were the main factors in causing the upward movement.

Duluth May wheat, which closed Tuesday at 86¾@86⅞c, opened today at 86⅞c bid and at noon was quoted at 86⅞@86¾c bid. There were higher quotations likewise from Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg.

Liverpool wheat today closed ¾d to 1d higher. The market was bulled by the expectation of lighter arrivals, firmer Plata offers of new wheat, more apprehension in regard to good milling wheat, freer bidding on the continent and generally unfavorable weather in the American winter wheat belt. The rise was checked by a private forecast of larger Argentine shipments this week and the report of fair weather in Argentina.

Flax is Stronger.

Flaxseed worked higher on account of a falling off in the offers, the movement from the country having been diminished by holiday slackness. The demand was fair. Duluth January and May flax at noon today were ¾c higher. Minneapolis cash flax was on a par with Duluth January. Buenos Ayres January flax at the last session closed unchanged at $1.23¾. London-Calcutta January closed today unchanged at $1.60¾.

The eyes of flaxseed dealers in all parts of the world are turned on Argentina. The government of that country estimates the exportable surplus of the crop of 1912 at 44,000,000 bushels. This is a very large yield. A year ago at this time the Argentine government estimated the surplus crop at 24,000,000 bushels and the actual market receipts later proved the surplus yield to be about 23,000,000 bushels. The government estimate was therefore very close and the estimate now given out is received with a great deal of credence. Flaxseed dealers on the Duluth board say they are sure that the Argentine exportable yield will be somewhere between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 bushels.

The Argentine flaxseed crop is practically "made," being beyond the reach of very serious damage by bad weather conditions, though its quality might deteriorate greatly in case of too much general rain. Hail might pound it down into the ground before farmers have a chance to cut it, but hail storms are almost invariably local, affecting only small areas, and having little effect on the crops of whole countries.

It will be quite a while before the actual yield in Argentina is known with any fair degree of definiteness, for the railroads and other handling facilities in that country are nothing like what they are in this country for efficiency, but are comparatively crude. Flaxseed is usually shipped from the country to the markets in sacks, which are frequently piled on flat cars. The crop movements there are comparatively slow.

If the Argentine yield proves what the government expects it to be, the confirmation of the government report will without doubt have a very bearish effect on the flaxseed markets in all parts of the world. The American markets will be quickly affected, for a large movement of flaxseed from Argentina to the European markets will mean a smaller demand for the Canadian seed, and therefore lower prices at Winnipeg. Shut off in part from Europe, the Canadian flaxseed will press upon the American markets and will beat down the price at Duluth.

Canadian flaxseed is already something of a bearish factor in America, in spite of the import duty of the United States. This duty is 25 cents a bushel, but 6 cents per bushel may be recovered by the importer, if, after the oil has been extracted from the seed, the seed is made into cake and the cake exported. This makes a net duty of 19 cents.

Winnipeg flaxseed has lately been 18 to 19 cents below the Duluth price. The seed quoted at Winnipeg is better in quality than that quoted at Duluth by about 2 cents a bushel. Thus there has been of late a practical margin of 2 to 21 cents between the two markets, enough and more than enough to offset the 19-cent net duty. If this condition should persist any great length of time there will without doubt be quite a movement of Canadian seed into America, especially Eastern America. If the Canadian market is forced lower still by Argentine competition in the European markets, the Canadian seed will be all the more of a bearish factor on the American markets.

The Price Current says: "Complaint of the winter seeding of wheat being injured in the Far Western and Southwestern sections has been made in the last week. The regions making complaint are those that are very uncertain quantities in most years, and in themselves give no reason for alarm. The wheat area of Texas had some moisture two weeks ago, but need more. The prevalence of dry weather over the winter wheat region at this time is not a serious affair. The danger is in its continuance. The fact that there has been a very small amount of moisture over the entire winter wheat belt is calculated to give rise to some concern and also to some exaggeration in speculative circles. The more serious aspect of a dry winter has not been touched upon, and that is the need of moisture in the Northwest, where, thus far, very little snow has fallen. At this season of the year the greatest danger to winter wheat is a rainfall followed quickly by a general and prolonged freeze such as a year ago."

I am inclined to think the market has had rally enough, and on any slight of moisture in the winter wheat belt we might see a sharp break. The Southwest is beginning to sell a little wheat here."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Lightness of European stocks brought strength today in the wheat market here. Predictions that the movement from first hands in this country would soon exhibit a falling off tended also to help the bulls. In addition there was continued absence of moisture in the winter crop belt. Opening prices were ½c to ¾c higher, May started at 91⅝c to 91¾c, the same gain as the market taken altogether, touched 91½@91⅝c, and then rose to 92.

Prices afterward reacted owing to reports of snow in Southwestern Missouri and Southern Illinois. The close was steady with May at 91½@91⅝c, a net gain of a shade.

Corn advanced with wheat. May opened unchanged to a shade off at 48⅛c to 48⅜@48⅝c, and climbed to 48⅛@48⅝c.

The market later eased off on account of mild weather. The close was steady, ⅛c net higher at 48⅜@48⅛c for May.

Firmness in other cereals governed oats. May, which started the same as Tuesday night to a sixteenth down at 32¾c to 32¾@32⅞c, ascended to 33c.

Provisions dragged lower with hogs. First sales were unchanged to 7½c off, including May at $17.92½ to $17.95 for pork; $9.72½ to $9.75 for lard and $9.67½@9.70 to $9.70 for ribs.

STOCKS HAVE AN ADVANCE

New Year Is Opened With Varied Demand for Stocks.

Bear Selling of Southern Pacific Causes It to Decline.

New York, Jan. 2.—Wall Street began the new year cheerfully today and there was a varied demand for stocks. Business in the first amounted to 110,000 shares which approximated the total transactions of some recent days. Sentiment was influenced by the advances of Americans in the London market and by confident assertions of trade authorities as to immediate prospects. After prices had risen 1 to 2½ points, bear selling of Southern Pacific stopped the advance. The market yielded but little and became dull. Money rates continued moderately firm, call loans opening at 6 per cent. Bonds were steady.

Quotations were marked up in all departments when trading was begun today. The international stocks which rose in London before the opening here led in the advance. Canadian Pacific rose 2 points and gains of a point were made by Union Pacific, Amalgamated, American Locomotive, Northern Pacific, Great Northern, Baltimore & Ohio, Louisville & Nashville and Smelting.

Buying became more general and the list advanced ½ point or so beyond the opening figures. Realizing sales then became effective following a break of 1½ in Southern Pacific.

Special stocks were marked up steadily, but the general list was quiet and traders showed little desire to do business while certain stocks continued vulnerable to pressure, Canadian Pacific rose 4 points.

Notable strength developed in various quarters in the latter part of the day. Active issues, including Steel, Reading, Union Pacific and coppers, all went higher. In addition there was a large assortment of inactive shares that advanced buoyancy.

The market closed firm. Although there was a renewed fall in Southern Pacific to its lowest level the general market was not affected and earlier advances were extended considerably. Canadian Pacific improved nearly 7 and there were gains of 1 to 2 points quite generally among the representative stocks. Towards the close profit-taking caused a fractional recession all around but the undertone was good.

London Stocks.

London, Jan. 2.—Money was plentiful today owing to the release of year-end balances and dividend payments. Discount rates were easy.

The stock market started the year with a burst of strength. Copper and Diamond shares, Canadian Pacific and Paris favorites were prominent leaders while some rails were helped by good traffic returns. Consols were in better demand.

American securities opened firm and during the forenoon the list advanced from ¼ to 2¼ points under the lead of Canadian Pacific. Later New York bid up on the market and prices continued to improve until the close which was firm. Southern Pacific was offered in the last hour and closed easy.

JAMES R. KEENE, FAMOUS FINANCIER AND TURFMAN, IS DEAD IN NEW YORK

Has Been Known on Two Continents for Big Transactions.

Career Begun as Miner, Has Led Through Many Changes of Fortune.

New York, Jan. 3.—The death early today of James R. Keene removes a figure which was long familiar in financial and sporting circles, not only in this country, but abroad. Mr. Keene died in a private hospital at 2:15 o'clock this morning, following an operation performed on him yesterday for abdominal trouble. The end came somewhat suddenly, although it had been realized that his condition was serious.

Mr. Keene underwent the first operation for his trouble in Italy two years ago, and a second one in London in the summer of 1911. He returned to New York last fall and went into seclusion in apartments at a hotel. The fact that he was seriously ill again became known a week ago, when his favorite valet, Frank Fissler, committed suicide.

His removal early this week to the private hospital at the instance of Foxhall Keene, his son, was made against his own wishes, as he had ridiculed the assertions of the doctors that he was in a critical condition.

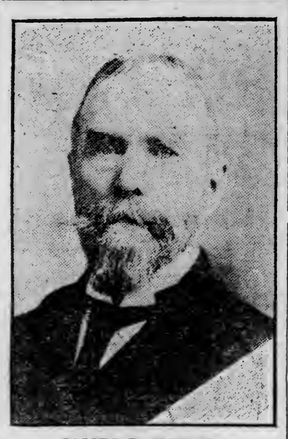

Mr. Keene was 73 years old. Born in London, England, Mr. Keene went to California early in life, got a start as a miner there and soon afterwards became active in the investment field.

Made Four Fortunes.

Beginning when he was 18 years old, Mr. Keene was a speculator. He made four fortunes, and failed three times. It is interesting to note that his heaviest winnings were made on the bear side, and his heaviest losses were

DEATH ENDS CAREER OF WORLD WIDE FAME

JAMES R. KEENE.

DEATH TAKES RAIL CHIEF

Has Been in Service of the Company Ever Since 1883.

New York, Jan. 3.—Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, died suddenly here today.

Mr. Miller was found dead in bed this morning at his home, by a servant who tried to awaken him. He left his office yesterday afternoon in apparent good health. He was about 69 years of age.

Yesterday was the first day Mr. Miller had visited his office for more than a week. He left New York on a short vacation over the holidays, returning home yesterday.

No arrangements for the funeral had been made early this afternoon.

Roswell Miller was born at Hartford, Susquehanna county, Pennsylvania, on Oct. 28, 1843. Previous to May, 1882, he was secretary and general superintendent of the Cairo & Vincennes railroad, then became second vice president and treasurer of the Chicago & Western Indiana railroad until April, 1883, when he entered the service of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul company, in which he has continued ever since. He was assistant to the general manager until March, 1884; assistant general manager until April, 1885; general manager until May, 1888; president until September, 1899, and since then has been chairman of the board of directors. His residence and office both were in New York city.

MANIACS, FLEEING FIRE, ATTACK PEOPLE

Elvas, Portugal, Jan. 3.—One person was killed and nine others seriously injured today by five terrified maniacs released by firemen from a burning asylum in the outskirts of this city.

Altogether thirty-five lunatics were set free, and these rushed howling through the streets for some time. Thirty of them were easily gathered together and confined in the municipal building, but the other five secured some iron rods from a scrap heap and attacked every one they met. Several hours passed before they were overpowered.

BITTER WAR ON FOOD TAX

Unionist Party Split Wide Open and Liberals Gain Strength.

British People Resent Effort to Put Tariff on Necessities.

London, Jan. 3.—The project of imposing taxes on food imported into the British isles, put forward by some of the leaders of the opposition in the house of commons, has created such hopeless dissensions in the Unionist party as to render almost certain, it is said, the retention of power by the Liberal government for the two years necessary to overcome the resistance of the house of lords to the home rule bill).

On the other hand, the wrangles among the Unionists afford some temptation to the government to make an appeal to the country, on the chance of coming back to power with an increased majority. This, however, is a course of action that has little likelihood of being sanctioned by the members of the Irish Nationalist party, because it would delay the purpose of the home rule bill and would even risk the return of the Unionists to office, thus shelving home rule altogether.

Dissolution Unlikely.

On the whole, therefore, the chances now appear to be that the ministers will decide against a dissolution of parliament and will push on their legislative program, especially as David Lloyd-George, the chancellor of the exchequer, has practically overcome his difficulties with the medical profession and has secured almost enough doctors to work the new insurance act.

According to one of the leading morning papers, 265 members of the Unionist party in the house of commons have now abandoned the idea of taxing food, leaving only seventeen advocates of food taxes, under the leadership of Austen Chamberlain.

If this estimate is a correct one, the recent campaign against food taxes has been extraordinarily successful, and Andrew Bonar Law's position as leader of the Unionist party has become somewhat difficult, as he publicly advocates a policy abandoned by the bulk of his party.

CARLISLE BUILDING IN CINCINNATI BURNS

Loss Falls Heaviest on Four Firms and Aggregates $250,000.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 3.—The Carlisle building, a seven-story stone structure at the southwest corner of Fourth avenue and Walnut street, was almost completely destroyed by fire here last night, entailing a loss estimated at $250,000.

The building is situated in the center of Cincinnati's commercial district, within several hundred feet of the Gibson house, which was destroyed by fire several weeks ago. For a while the Sinton hotel on the west side of the building was seriously threatened, but escaped damage when the fire was confined to the Carlisle building.

Among the firms that sustained the greatest damage were the Provident Savings Bank & Trust company, the Missouri Pacific offices, the new quarters of the Rendigs-Lothman company, whose old quarters were wiped out in the Gibson house fire, and Frohman & Co., wholesale jewelry.

A heavy snowstorm hampered the work of the firemen.

ITALY IS ORDERING COAL IN AMERICA

Welsh Market Loses Another Customer By High Prices.

Cardiff, Wales, Jan. 3.—Italy has followed the lead of the Egyptian railways and has placed an order for 200,000 tons of coal in America.

Italy is one of the best customers of Wales. She has her own coal depot at Cardiff, and hitherto has taken 2,000,000 tons of coal a year from this port. The high price demanded for Welsh coal at present is given as the reason for the orders being transferred to America.

DYNAMITERS ASK FREEDOM

All But Hockin Represented in Petition for Supersedeas.

Head of California Union Denounces Verdict as Unjust.

WRIT IS GRANTED.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—A writ of supersedeas staying execution of the sentences imposing upon the dynamite conspirators recently convicted at Indianapolis, was issued by the United States circuit court of appeals here today. Bail was based on the number of years which the prisoners have been sentenced to serve—$10,000 for each year.

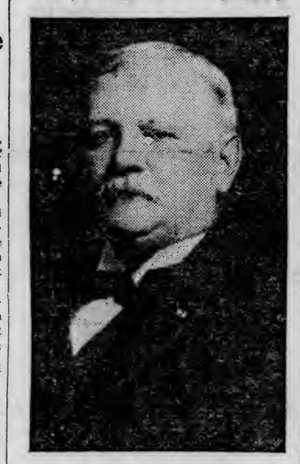

Chicago, Jan. 3.—An attempt to free thirty-two of the thirty-three dynamiters convicted at Indianapolis on bail pending an appeal of their case, was made here today in the United States circuit court of appeals. Herbert S. Hockin will not appeal.

The convicted leaders of the iron workers through their counsel, E. N. Zolline and P. H. O'Donnell of Chicago, Milton Harding of Indianapolis and Chester E. Krum of St. Louis, appeared in court to argue for a writ of supersedeas to stay execution of the sentence inflicted by the United States district court and for the admission to bail of the prisoners pending further action.

Attorney Zolline presented the petition in behalf of the convicted iron workers. Zolline declared that the prisoners have the right of bail, particularly as they were sentenced and sent

INSANE CONGRESSMAN DROWNS SELF AT SEA

W. W. WEDEMEYER
Of Michigan.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Representative William W. Wedemeyer of Ann Arbor, Mich., who suddenly went insane at Colon, Panama, at the time of President Taft's recent visit to the isthmus, jumped overboard last night from a ship on which he had been taken at Colon. His body has not been recovered.

It is thought that the strenuousness of the presidential campaign was partly accountable for his breakdown. He was a member of the Panama congressional committee which has been investigating conditions for some time at Panama. At one time he was American consul at Georgetown, British Guiana. He was a graduate of the University of Michigan.

98 PER CENT ESCAPE TAXES

Wisconsin Income Levy Will Hit Only Two Per Cent of People.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 3.—During this month 46,582 individuals in Wisconsin will be called upon to pay an income tax according to revised statistics issued by the state tax commission. About 2 per cent of the population of the state is hit by the law, small incomes being exempt.

The number of persons to pay the tax varies greatly in the different counties. Dane county has the highest ratio, of 36.45 for each 1,000 of population, and Burnett county has the lowest ratio—2.55 per 1,000. The counties in which over 20 per 1,000 of the people pay an income tax are: Ashland, Dane, Douglas, Eau Claire, Grant, Iowa, Kenosha, La Crosse, Rock, Walworth and Washington.

Eight counties have a ratio of less than 5 tax payers for each 1,000 population, as follows: Adams, Burnett, Jackson, Marquette, Pepin, Polk, Shawano and Waushara.

The amount of income of individuals and corporations taxable under the law is $100,845,262.82. The amount of tax to be collected will be $3,501,161.45, of which $1,108,707.02 will be paid by individuals and $2,392,454.44 will be contributed by corporations. Milwaukee county will pay 42 per cent of all of the income tax collected in the state.

Illness of Several Months Culminates at His Home.

Once Known as Firebrand, He Has Won Esteem of Colleagues.

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 3.—Definite arrangements for the funeral of United States Senator Jeff Davis had not been completed this morning, but it is probable that the services will take place next Sunday and that the body will be placed in the family burial plot at Russellville.

Senator Davis died suddeny at 12:35 o'clock this morning of heart failure, the culmination of an illness of several months. His condition apparently was improving and yesterday he was at his office the greater part of the day.

The death of Senator Davis on the eve of the ratification of his re-election creates a peculiar situation in Arkansas, and while an authoritative statement has not been made, it is possible a special primary will be called to select a successor for the full term, beginning March 4, next. As an alternative, it is suggested that the legislature would have power to name the new senator.

Governor George W. Donaghey, who will retire from office Jan. 13, and Congressman W. A. Oldfield had tentatively announced that they would be candidates for the United States senate two years hence to succeed Senator James P. Clarke.

Three Times Governor.

Senator Davis was the only man enjoying the distinction of having been governor of Arkansas for three terms. He was first elected in 1900 and held it until 1906, when he was elected to the senate for the term beginning the next year. He was re-nominated at the recent primary over Congressman Stephen Brundige. As the legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic he would have been re-elected at the ses-

KEEPS GUARD ABOUT ROCKEFELLER HOUSE

Sergeant-at-Arms Doubts Report That Magnate Is Out of Reach.

New York, Jan. 3.—Notwithstanding reports from Brunswick, Ga., that William Rockefeller, whose testimony is sought by the Pujo committee, had sailed from Jekyl Island Tuesday on a specially chartered steamer for a secret destination, the cordon of process servers around his Fifth avenue mansion did not relax their vigilance today.

Charles F. Riddell, sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives, his deputies and private detectives to the number of forty, are investigating the report of Mr. Rockefeller's sailing, but in the meantime they are hopeful that they have the oil millionaire bottled up in his home here.

"A man has been sent to Jekyl island, but has not yet been heard from," said Mr. Riddell. "I still think that Mr. Rockefeller is here, and I shall keep my men around his house until I learn positively that he is not. If he has sailed to Bermuda, as reported, he is out of our jurisdiction, of course, and I shall not attempt to follow him there.

"I thought a day or so ago that the presence of so many men outside his home and the wide publicity given our attempts to subpoena him were shaming him into surrendering. I hardly think so now, however."

Not in Bermuda.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Jan. 3.—Neither William Rockefeller nor the yacht Vanadis, on which he was reported to have sailed, has arrived in Bermuda.

The third storm area was in the states of Washington and Oregon. Hundreds of wires had been prostrated by the heavy blows there.

THREE WIVES OF CONVICTS FREED FROM WEDDING VOWS

When Sofia Talo, a bride of 21, came to America from Finland to join her husband, Nikolai Talo, two years ago, she found him behind prison bars serving a life sentence for murder. Yesterday Judge Cant of the district court granted her a divorce, after she had offered proof of her husband's conviction.

The woman testified that her husband had written to her after he had been sent to the Michigan state penitentiary, but he carefully concealed from her the fact that he was a convict.

They were married at the Parish Alaharma, province of Vaasa, grand duchy of Finland, on May 19, 1907. Shortly after the marriage Talo set out for America. His bride intended to join him after he had made a home for her in the new country.

She testified that had she known that he was serving a sentence for murder in this country, she would have never left her people in Finland. After arriving in Michigan she learned of her husband's conviction, and instead of remaining there, came to Minnesota. She has for the past two years made her home at Ely.

The court allowed her to resume her maiden name, that of Sofia Helbaka. She is now 25 and he is 24.

Esther Elder was granted a divorce yesterday afternoon from Walter Elder, an ex-convict, who served six years in the Minnesota penitentiary for robbery. The Elders were married at Grand Rapids, Minn., on March 23, 1897, and are parents of two children, Cerlse, 14, and Cora, 10. She testified before Judge Cant that on Dec. 14, 1904, her husband was convicted of robbery in the first degree and was sent to Stillwater for six years. After his release from prison she informed him, she said, that she did not care to have him return to her. The court granted her the custody of the children. Mrs. Elder is 30 and her husband 55.

Judge Ensign, before whom Clifford Dwyer, aged 22, was sentenced to Stillwater for burglary more than a year ago, yesterday granted Delina Dwyer, aged 20, a divorce. By a singular coincidence the divorce case was brought before the same judge who sentenced the defendant. In view of the fact that in Minnesota a state's prison term is sufficient grounds of divorce, the court immediately ordered the decree. During the fall of 1911 Dwyer broke into a West end hardware store, but was caught by the police. On Oct. 24, 1911, he was sentenced for burglary in the third degree. The Dwyers have one son, Clifford John, aged 3, of whom the mother was given custody. They were married in this city on July 16, 1907.

THE DOLLAR DOWN SALE

Gately's believes in mutual interests, and asserts that both the purchasers and the firm are equally well served by the dollar-down sale. It's a semi-yearly event that helps people get what they need without paying out big sums of money at once. It enables the firm to keep the store on a sound business basis by clearing winter stocks and making way for the new stock for spring.

Like a vein of water flowing hidden under ground which secretly makes the ground green, this sale will serve to broaden the helpfulness of the store.

Gately's says that this sale always makes them many friends and new acquaintances. Perhaps many who otherwise are skeptical about their business methods come during this sale and learn that the Gately methods are just, generous and economical, and that they do as promised in their advertisement. They believe that every man and woman that is honest is entitled to credit without paying for it, and invite the public, new and old customers, to come to this sale.

BRIEF COLD SNAP STRIKES DULUTH

Another cold snap struck Duluth last night, though it isn't very cold for Duluth in January.

The mercury dropped during the night and went to 2 deg. below zero shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. Mr. Richardson expects a continuation of the cold weather tonight, with the mercury down about zero, and says the indications are for warmer weather tomorrow afternoon.

A year ago today the low temperature was 20 deg. below zero, so Duluth may consider itself fortunate in the prevailing conditions.

JAMES R. KEENE IS DEAD IN NEW YORK

made on the bull side of the market.

The last time he failed he made a bargain with his wife that he would thereafter always give her one-half of whatever he made by speculating, so that if he ever failed again she would be provided for. He faithfully kept his promise, and Mrs. Keene became one of the wealthiest women in the United States.

On April 30, 1884, Keene suspended payment after losing a fortune estimated at from $4,000,000 to $7,000,000 in six months. Only six years before he had arrived in New York from San Francisco, where he had met with great success in his speculations, a success which would have encouraged him, if he had needed encouragement, to try his luck in Wall street. In California Keene had risen from nothing to an estate of $1,000,000 or so, had lost that in a flash, and then by a succession of bold ventures of the pyramiding type had brought himself to an eminence which carried a rating of $5,000,000 when he moved to New York.

Combined With Gould.

His first combination was effected with Jay Gould, whom he engaged in fighting Western Union with Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph. While they profited in this campaign, he broke with Gould shortly afterward, alleging that Gould had gone back on his friends and sold them out in the middle of a deal. Gould, on the other hand, declared that Keene had played him a shabby trick. It was at this time that Keene expressed the opinion that Gould was the wickedest man in the world. Keene had heaped up his profits in cash and was known to have as much as $9,000,000 in currency when he undertook to corner the wheat market. His broker, Isidor Wormser, said that Keene had as much as $2,500,000 in his office one afternoon. An attempt to bull Jersey Central stocks conducted at the same time as the wheat corner, was similarly unprofitable, for the stock went down 40 points in one day. Whether Keene might have succeeded in his wheat corner or not will never be positively known, for the attempt miscarried when a forged telegram was sent from New York to his Chicago brokers ordering them to sell 2,000,000 bushels of wheat. They threw it on the market, it became known that Keene was selling, and before all the evils had been reckoned with Keene was $5,000,000 loser in wheat. His Jersey Central financiering cost him a good sum, but nothing like the wheat corner.

But Keene Came Back.

But Keene came back buoyantly in 1880, when stocks took an upward trend, and held it, and those who had expected to see him wane noted his return to fortune's favor in a more lavish form than he had ever enjoyed before. His wealth on paper rose to $20,000,000, and his followers hailed him as the king of the street. With his triumphs on the market came his best successes on the turf, and in 1881 Foxhall carried the white with blue polka dots home in the Grand Prix. With his accumulated millions Keene went into every game, big and little, in the market, and the seesaw of the street sang of other men's brains in conflict with his, steadily wore down his fortune so that when Guiteau's shot at President Garfield paralyzed the country Keene was believed to be at the end of the road. He went on desperately, rallying by an occasional coup, but being overwhelmed by the collapse of a deal in Northern Pacific. He then took to dealing in privileges, and he sold these so recklessly and the market turned so unfortunately that he entangled himself beyond hope of redemption, and on April 30, 1884, gave notice of suspension.

Mr. Keene got back into the market again, for he couldn't be kept out, and when success came to him he paid all the debts that were outstanding when he suspended in 1884. He turned bull as stocks made unprecedented advances with the incoming of this century and was credited with getting out at a profit.

There is a story, whether true or not, that Gould took more pleasure in the possession of a picture by Rosa Bonheur, entitled "Sheep," which had been Keene's, and which fell into his hands after the latter's collapse in 1884, than in almost anything else in his whole career. The story continues that Gould hung the picture in a conspicuous place in his Fifth avenue house and used to say to visitors when pointing to it:

After the Failure of 1884.

When Keene collapsed in 1884 he had beautiful houses in town and country, plenty of race horses, and was as big a figure on the turf as on the street. He had to sell all these things and retire from the turf and for some time little was heard of him.

For a long time nobody knew it, but he was making money in moderate amounts, and for years he devoted his profits to paying off his debts. As early as 1885, it is now said, he had made $300,000 here and $200,000 there, but it was not until 1893, when he was 50, that he again became prominent on the street. It was in that year that he became a manipulator of Sugar and National Cordage stocks. Though there was gray in his hair and whiskers, he was then really at his best, and while in the past he had played what his friends termed a "lone hand," he now sought the co-operation of others.

It was Keene's genius and not that of Havemeyer that brought the stock of the American Sugar company to 146⅞ in August, 1897. It was Keene who made $4,000,000 out of the collapse of National Cordage, a security which from 147 a share fell to nothing in less than a year. In 1898 he made $1,500,000 in two days in American Tobacco, and it was immediately after this that he began to fight William C. Whitney, who, it is said, had employed him to boom Metropolitan stock. In some manner, while attending to the booming, Keene got a lot of Third avenue shares, which, when the Metropolitan absorbed the Third Avenue company, he was obliged to unload at below 60, at a loss of a little more than $2,000,000.

His career subsequently was almost entirely one of co-operation, and it is said by some who claim inside information, that he and not Morgan was really the responsible factor in the successful floating of the stock of the United States Steel corporation. His fight with Harriman and his recent alleged attacks upon the Southern Pacific property are well remembered by all readers of newspapers.

Stable of Thoroughbreds.

Mr. Keene always had an intense fondness for horse racing. Almost from the time he came from the Pacific coast until he failed in 1884 he had a stable of thoroughbreds. It is possibly true that Foxall was the most celebrated horse he ever owned because of his triumphs both on the French and the English turf. But if Foxhall was the most celebrated horse that Keene ever owned Domino won more money than any other horse that ever carried Mr. Keene's colors, and Keene caused to be engraved on the monument which he erected over Domino's grave in the Blue Grass country the statement that the horse was the gamest thoroughbred that ever looked through a bridle.

Other famous horses that have been owned by Mr. Keene are Chorister, St. Leonards, who ran second to Boundless in the American derby of 1892; Horoscope, Conroy, Commando, Cap and Bells, won the English Oaks year before last; Tommy Atkins, Olympian, Dazzling, who fell in the race for the English Oaks this year; Whitechapel, Duster and Surbiton. Mr. Keene's horses this year have not been particularly successful, the 2-year-old Palm Harer being the most consistent performer for his 2-year-olds.

After Domino broke down Mr. Keene realized the dream of his life in having a stock farm on which he could breed the horses which he raced. The farm, called the Castleton Stud, near Lexington, Ky., is one of the finest stock farms in the United States. There he installed Domino and other sires and matrons, and there he bred Commando and Conroy and Cap and Bells and other horses that have won races for him on both sides of the Atlantic. After Cap and Bells won the English Oaks Mr. Keene divided the purse equally between certain English and American hospitals.

ADRIANOPLE REPORTED TO HAVE SURRENDERED

Unless the Turks give a favorable answer within twenty-four hours the conference will be suspended. No other question will be considered by the allies until this point has been settled.

Await Instructions.

The Turks continue to declare that their concessions have surpassed any logical expectation, but that now they cannot at any cost cede an inch more.

On the other hand, the allies, with unanimous voice and compact front, maintain that they would rather end the conference than renounce what they claim is due them by right of their victories.

That the game is being played on both sides, is evident. The Turks emphasize the enormous importance of what they have ceded, which in reality is only what they have lost and what, independently of the allies, not even the powers would allow them to reconquer. The allies, on the other hand, belittle the Turkish concessions, as they desire definitely to settle forever their differences with the Ottoman empire.

The ambassadors have reviewed the whole situation without entering deeply into any particular question. They wish to have more concrete instructions before they do so. In the meantime, an exchange of communications is occurring between the chancelleries of the Triple Entente and the Triple Alliance, while a special understanding is developing between Russia, Austria and Italy concerning Albania.

U. S. SENATOR JEFF DAVIS DIES SUDDENLY

sion of the legislature which will convene this month. He once held the office of attorney general of Arkansas.

Mr. Davis was born in Little River county, Ark., in 1862, and was educated at Russellville, Ark., and at Vanderbilt university. He was admitted to the bar at the age of 19.

Senator Davis complained of feeling badly last evening, but the family physician, who was called, did not regard his condition as serious. At midnight the senator called to his son, who was in an adjoining room, that he was ill, and to summon a physician. A doctor arrived half an hour later. As he entered the room Senator Davis fell back on his bed, and was dead when the physician reached him. Up to the time he called his son, Senator Davis had apparently slept soundly.

Senator Davis, when he returned home from Washington for the holidays, seemed in his usual health and yesterday was on the streets.

During his last political campaign there was general comment on the facts that he did not use the vigorous activities of other campaigns.

Has Seven Children.

He is survived by a widow and seven children. The oldest one, Wallace, aged 24, has been associated with the senator in his law office. His eldest daughter, Miss Bessie, acted as his private secretary. His other children, Janie, Jeff, Jr., Ina, Lucille and Lewis, are students in local schools. Senator Davis' mother, who is 84 years old, lives at Russellville. Senator Davis was twice married.

Shock at Washington.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The sudden death of Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas came as a distinct shock to his friends in the capital this morning. The senator left Washington Dec. 13 to spend the Christmas holidays at home, and at the time appeared in the best of spirits. He had not been in good health for some time, although his condition did not occasion his friends much alarm. On one or two occasions, his friends say, he had suffered from attacks of dizziness. On recovering from these attacks he invariably made light of them.

Since taking his seat in the senate steadily in the esteem of his fellow members. At first he was regarded as an extreme radical in his views. When death overtook him, he was chairman of the senate committee on the Mississippi river and its tributaries and a member of the committee on claims, coast and insular services, interior department expenditures, immigration, Indian depredations, private land claims and public lands.

Clapp Will Attend Funeral.

Washington, Jan. 3.—On account of the death of Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas the senate today adjourned after a six-minute session until noon tomorrow.

Senators Pomerene, Bryan, Ashurst, Martine, Curtis, Clapp and Clarke of Arkansas were appointed a committee to attend the funeral of Senator Davis and will leave tonight for Little Rock.

REVERSES IN THREE CASES

he had bought at a tax sale. He claimed that although he had ignored an assessment for local improvements made against the property after he acquired title, and the land had been put up and sold again by the city, he had a joint interest in it with the city because his title had come from the state. The legislature passed a law in 1905 making the liens of city and state equal in rank.

According to the supreme court's decision, an action in partition may be maintained to determine rights to the property thus acquired.

The decision is likely to affect title to many pieces of property bought at tax sales in St. Paul. In giving its opinion, the supreme court reversed the lower court and grants a new trial.

THREE SEVERE STORMS RAGE

lantic coast states today are in the grip of a wind and rain storm which has worked havoc with shipping, and cut off the cities of Norfolk and Newport News. All land wires leading out of the cities were destroyed.

Before the last wire broke down a telegraph operator in Newport News reported that the gale was so terrific that the waters of the James river were surging up into the lower parts of the city with the violence of a tidal wave.

The navy wireless has sparked out unanswered calls to the ships of the Atlantic fleet gathering in Hampton Roads. Great anxiety is felt for the safety of torpedo boats in the narrow seaway.

Incomplete returns coming in while the storm was at its height were that many small craft have been sunk. The loss of life, if any, was not known.

In this city the gale whipped down signs and trees. Telegraph and telephone wires were demoralized as far south as Atlanta.

INDORSE WALSH TO SUCCEED FOSS.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 3.—Lieutenant Governor David I. Walsh was indorsed as the party's candidate for governor next fall at the annual banquet of the Democratic state committee last night. All the committeemen pledged support to his candidacy. While no formal announcement has been made that Governor Eugene N. Foss would not again be a candidate, it has been generally understood that he would follow the precedent in Massachusetts, which has heretofore limited incumbency of the executive chair to three terms.

Governor Foss, who was at the banquet, made no reference to his position in the matter.

CLUBS WILL JOIN HANDS

Rotary Club Members Will Be Guests of Commercial Club.

Dr. B. M. Rastall Will Speak on Efficiency in City Government.

The public affairs committee of the Commercial club will meet this evening with the members of the Rotary club as its guests. Dinner will be served at 6:15, and it will be followed by a business meeting, in which the civic needs of Duluth will be discussed.

"Business Efficiency in Municipal Government" will be the subject of discussion tonight. The principal address will be given by Dr. B. M. Rastall, secretary of the industrial bureau of the club.

Dr. Rastall will point out the intimate relations between efficient municipal government and industrial development. He will draw from the experience of other cities to show wherein Duluth may profit by the application of ordinary business principles to the city government. As director of the board of public affairs of the state of Wisconsin, Dr. Rastall made a searching practical study of municipal governments, and he will speak from his own experience.

The meeting tonight is the first of a series through which the Commercial club hopes to establish closer relations between the civic organizations of the city. Other organizations will be entertained at the future meetings of the committee.

The meetings of the public affairs committee are open to all members of the Commercial club.

AMUSEMENTS

ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.

Tomorrow afternoon and night Orpheum patrons will be given an explanation of the workings of "The Wonder Kettle," which has been creating much comment during the week. Prof. Andrews, who is presenting the act, has consented to give a brief lecture at both the afternoon and evening performances, explaining how the tricks are performed. He states that there is no trickery to it. The liquid he uses, he says is not liquid air, but with it he freezes flowers and fluids instantly, and ends by burning ice.

The lectures tomorrow will be largely for the benefit of high school students and college students who are home for the holidays. So many of them are studying chemistry that Manager Billings received scores of requests for an explanation of the act, and he induced Prof. Andrews to give it Saturday.

The new bill opening Sunday will be headlined by Claude and Fannie Usher, and among the other acts will be a grand opera quartet and a trio of college boys.

PROPOSED ACT IS ATTACKED

They Hold Discrimination Against Foreigners in Fixing Payment Is Unjust.

Italian residents of the city held a meeting at the assembly hall of the Italian church, Eleventh avenue west and Superior street, last evening to protest against the proposed workingmen's compensation act.

They take special umbrage at the provision which allows a foreign workman with a family in the old country but one-fourth the compensation of the others. They state that this is an injustice which should not be allowed.

Capt. A. G. Fiskett of the police department presided at the meeting last evening and spoke briefly. Attilio Castigliano, the Italian consul, spoke at length and explained the bill in detail. He said it would work a great injustice to laboring people. Rev. Father Zarilli, pastor of the church, and Dr. Joseph Vercellini also spoke.

The speakers declared that the act is one which has been framed by employers in their own interest. They pointed out that the foreign workmen are doing their full share towards developing the resources of the country and increasing its prosperity, holding that in case of injury they are entitled to equal compensation with all others.

A committee consisting of Attilio Castigliano, Rev. Father Zarilli, Dr. Vercellini and P. Mainella was appointed a committee to attend the session of the legislature and appear in opposition to the act on behalf of the Italian workingmen of Duluth. Mr. Castigliano will also attend the session on behalf of the Italian government.

Those present at the meeting last night and the Italian societies of Duluth will defray the expenses of the delegates to St. Paul.

A written protest was signed by all present last night and it will be forwarded to the legislature. Similar protests have been signed by the people of other nationalities in Duluth and in the range towns.

BRIDE TELLS OF RUDE AWAKENING

Margaret O'Connor Had Two Days of Unhappy Married Life.

Two days of married life were two too many for Margaret O'Connor, who last November became the bride of Arbie J. Hanton, a Proctor railroad man.

Scarcely had the wedding vows passed his lips, she testified in the divorce court this morning, before he tried to force her into a life of shame.

The Hantons were married at Proctor on Nov. 14 last. Hanton took his bride to Superior and according to her story went to a disreputable rooming house.

At first, she said, she did not mistrust the man she thought she loved. Later, when she found out the character of the place where they spent the first night, she rebelled.

She then claims that her husband told her what might be expected of her. She left him on the following day, but not before he struck her and otherwise mistreated her.

Hanton is 35 years old and is employed as a trainman by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad. His wife is 28.

Judge Dancer granted her a divorce decree and allowed her to resume her maiden name.

NEW DEPUTY HAS BEEN NAMED

Iver Holmberg of West End Will Succeed K. A. Ostergren.

Iver Holmberg, 19 North Nineteenth avenue west, has been appointed by J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, as a deputy to succeed the late K. A. Ostergren, whose death occurred a few months ago.

Since the death of Mr. Ostergren, the position was held vacant. Mr. Holmberg will be assigned to one of the courtrooms, where it will be his duty to represent the clerk's office during the sessions of court.

The appointee has lived in the West end for several years and comes to the position highly recommended.

GIFT FROM CLAN.

Dr. E. N. McGiffert Is Honored By Scotsmen of Duluth.

Dr. E. N. McGiffert of 1511 East Second street was presented with a silver tea and coffee service last evening by members of Clan Stewart in token of their appreciation of his service as physician of the clan during the last eleven years.

A committee composed of Chief Alexander Anderson, Past Chief Alex Macrae and Clansman Henry Taylor called upon Dr. McGiffert at his home and presented him with the gift on behalf of the clan.

COFFIN IS SENT BY PARCEL POST.

Zanesville, Ohio, Jan. 3.—For the first time in the history of the country, a coffin has been sent through the mails, from the Zanesville postoffice. It weighed fourteen pounds and was sent by a coffin manufacturing company to an undertaker in Dexter City, Ohio. The lid had to be sent as a separate package so the body would come within the 11-pound limit. Total postage was paid of 68 cents.

Admits Fire Arms to Mails.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Postmaster General Hitchcock has issued an order amending the parcel post regulations so as to admit to the parcel post service "pistols and revolvers, whether in detached parts or otherwise."

KILLS WIFE WHO HATES AMERICA.

SAYS REAL ESTATE IS HELD TOO HIGH IN CANADIAN CITIES

There is one man in Duluth, who has been in Canada for the past few years, who is of the opinion that the dominion is going to have a setback one of these days. He declares that they are going too fast on the other side of the boundary line.

"Prices for realty today are higher on one or two of the principal business streets of Winnipeg, than they are in the downtown business district of Chicago," said this man, who for various reasons does not care to have his name used. "Further east, Ottawa, for instance, the prices of realty I have been told are higher than some of the corresponding prices asked in New York city.

"Winnipeg is never going to be as large as Chicago and Ottawa naturally will never be the city that New York is. Then why are some of the realty prices in Winnipeg higher than the price per front foot in Chicago, or the prices for realty in Ottawa higher than those of New York.

"There is a movement on at the present time to expose some of the fake methods for selling land. For instance some town is widely advertised as the coming city of Western Canada. In one particular instance I took the trouble to go to one of these so-called booming towns. I believe there was a store there and a two-board plank sidewalk. The idea is to sell land to people who have not investigated and are not likely to investigate before they pay their money—perhaps never.

"One of the large newspapers of Eastern Canada is carrying on a crusade against this practice, realizing that in the end nothing will harm the country more than the false valuation placed on property and farming lands.

"As an agricultural competitor of the United States I am firmly of the opinion that the Dominion will never become a serious rival to us. The reason is that Canada is too far north to raise the wide diversity of crops that are raised in the United States. The soil is virgin now and the farmers can afford to raise wheat, for the simple reason that the land is very cheap and they are realizing on a small investment. But with the increase of the price of lands the time will surely come when there must by a change in some of the present methods of farming.

"I have been in Canada for the past few years, going from Duluth, and my advice to people in search of land is not to buy until you have looked at the property. This is nothing against the prosperity of Canada in general, for there is a vast and wonderful country across the international line; but, rather, it is simply a plain statement of facts and is intended to show that in some instances too high a valuation is being placed on property—not only being placed, but received."

SUES FARGO DOCTOR.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alleging malpractice, Mrs. Little Lee has started a suit against Dr. Kaess of this city for $5,500 damages. She asks $5,000 for sufferings she underwent and $500 for expenses incurred for medical and hospital services. She ran a needle in her finger, and insisted that the treatment by Dr. Kaess necessitated the amputation of the digit.

NEW CHARTER IS IN EFFECT

Circulating of Petitions for Candidates Has Already Commenced.

Believed That There Will Be Fully Sixty in Field.

The new charter went into effect today and simultaneously the circulation of petitions for candidates for commissioner began.

The candidates for whom petitions are already out are City Treasurer Fred J. Voss, City Comptroller W. S. McCormick, Alderman W. A. Hicken, Alderman W. L. Bernard, W. B. Getchell, J. Scott Cash, Marcus L. Fay, Bert Farrell, and James Preston.

Other candidates are expected to appear daily for the next few weeks. Although petitions may not be filed until Feb. 20, some of the candidates fear that during the few days before the filing date there will be more or less trouble in finding citizens who have not signed the allotted five petitions. Those who obtain their fifty signatures early will have an advantage.

No citizen may sign more petitions than there are offices to be filled. Each voter may sign only one petition for a mayoralty candidate, two petitions for short term commissioners and two for long term commissioners.

The petitions are to be made up of individual certificates, each acknowledged before a notary public. A petition made up of fifty signatures is sufficient, and City Clerk Palmer has issued a request that candidates and friends of prospective candidates confine their petitions to the required fifty. The names must be checked up in a short space of time at the city clerk's office, and names in addition to the required fifty will be merely waste of time, effort and money.

The acknowledgements before a notary will cost money, and some of the candidates may balk at obtaining signatures over the required fifty and paying for the acknowledgements.

The circulation of petitions for many other prospective candidates has not yet begun. Leonidas Merritt will be a candidate for commissioner and M. B. Cullum for mayor. Strong pressure is being brought to bear on B. Silberstein to become a candidate. H. J. Mullin, a real estate man, has already intimated that he will get into the race. Scott A. Foster, principal of the Industrial high school is one of the strong prospective candidates. Col. F. E. Resche is expected to be a candidate, as are Aldermen J. B. Gibson and P. G. Phillips, and C. E. Roe.

Though the race for commissioner will be made without designation as to departments, some of the candidates are frankly out for certain places. City Treasurer Voss and City Comptroller McCormick are both out for the division of finance. Alderman Hicken is said to have eyes on the same place. Bert Farrell, James Preston and Alderman Bernard have special fitness for the division of public works and are assumed to be candidates for that place. P. E. Dowling is likely to be in the race for the mayoralty. Mr. Dowling has been active in Republican politics in the past and is now president of the Greater Duluth club. It is believed he would make a strong showing.

Those who have observed the signs say there will be at least sixty candidates for the five places on the commission and the number may run higher. Many of the candidates will appear before the filing time, but some petitions may be surprises, as it will be possible for fifty men to file a petition calling for the nomination of some man who is not actively a candidate.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THEOSOPHISTS

The annual meeting of the Duluth lodge of the Theosophical society was held at the lodge room last night. The constitution was amended to postpone the annual meeting to the first Thursday in July of each year, and a motion to continue the present officers in their present positions until next July was carried. The subject of inviting a lecturer from Chicago to give a series of lectures in Duluth was discussed and action postponed, awaiting further reports of the committee in charge.

Preceding the business meeting, the lodge continued the study of the life after death. The explanation of the kingdoms of nature and the conditions of matter of the astral plane were given.

FELKER GOVERNOR OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

Concord, N. H., Jan. 3.—The New Hampshire legislature in joint convention has elected as governor Samuel D. Felker, the Democratic candidate at the last election. He received 222 votes to 191 for Franklin Worcester of Hollis, Republican. Progressives voting with the Democrats. Fifteen Republicans abstained from voting on the ballot for governor.

The joint legislative convention also filled four vacancies in the senate, electing four Democrats and giving that party a majority in the upper house.

The election of governor was thrown into the legislature by the failure of Mr. Felker, the leading candidate, to secure the necessary majority at the polls in November.

HOOSIER FEEDS POOR HORSES.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 3.—Adolph Melzer, a millionaire philanthropist, has been holding "open house" for overworked and underfed horses. Melzer is the local head of the Animal Protective association.

The horses in one day consumed forty bushels of oats and several tons of hay. The drivers were given sandwiches and coffee.

Melzer attracted attention some time ago by depositing $1,000 in a local bank and giving the certificate to the city of Evansville on condition that it be not used for 250 years, at the end of which time it would amount to $19,000,000.

RESIGNATION OF ISMAY ACCEPTED.

New York, Jan. 3.—The board of directors of the International Mercantile Marine company has accepted the resignation of J. Bruce Ismay as president. The resignation takes effect June 30, 1913. A statement given out in connection with this announcement said the presentation of the resignation and its acceptance was in accordance with an arrangement with Mr. Ismay made in February, 1912. The directors also decided that in due course Harold A. Sanderson will be elected to succeed Mr. Ismay.

The action was in line with an announcement made in London Dec. 31. Mr. Sanderson is first vice president of the company and a director of the White Star line.

CHICAGO BUDGET IS $65,000,000.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Chicago will spend $65,000,000 in 1913. The budget carrying that amount has been adopted by the council. Of this sum $23,304,192 will be expended on the city government, while the total will cover schools, public libraries, sanitariums and other extensions of municipal activities.

The budget carries a 20 per cent reduction of salaries of city employes, as the estimates call for expenditures of $4,500,000 in excess of the revenues of the city. Practically every municipal employe is affected. Mayor Harrison included himself in the reduction.

SHIP COMPANY FAILS.

California-Atlantic Line Cannot Meet Financial Demands.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3.—A. S. Chesebrough, owner of the California-Atlantic Steamship company, with Harry S. Bates, has confirmed a rumor that that company has failed for $300,000. The California-Atlantic company has been in competition since Oct. 1, 1910, with the Pacific Mail Steamship company in San Francisco and New York freight traffic via the Panama railroad.

The rate war from February to June, 1911, when freight rates were cut to $3 a ton, was given by Mr. Chesebrough as the main cause of the failure, although other reasons were assigned. The exact condition of the company's affairs cannot be ascertained here, but it is known that the debts include $100,000 borrowed from J. H. Welford & Co., of Liverpool, $17,000 due the Pacific Stevedore & Ballast company of this city, a large overdraft in a local bank, many claims for damages en route to freight, and bills for supplies from a number of San Francisco houses.

The unsuccessful efforts of Bates, who has been in New York for the last month, to renew the Liverpool loan or to sell the company to the Welford concern, is said to have precipitated the failure.

Another cause mentioned by Mr. Chesebrough is the inability of the company to pay the chartered price for the steamship Portland, which arrived with a cargo from Panama last Wednesday and could not be unloaded on account of the refusal of the owners' agent to grant permission. The vessel is owned by C. S. Dimond of New York. C. W. Wiley of Seattle, president of the Alaska-Pacific Steamship company, is his coast representative.

If you are "easily satisfied" with your boarding place, it will not be long before nothing else will matter much, either.

DEFECTIVE PAGE

TINKERING IN THE KITCHEN

A Kit of Tools and the Ability to Use Them.

New York Evening Post: Plenty of men have a deserved reputation for being "handy about the house" in a tinkering sort of way. They can "fix it" if the shade won't roll up. They can "fix it" if the bureau drawer sticks; and they can "fix it" if the door-knobs "get out of whack." But the same knack is not so conspicuous in women, ordinarily. Extraordinarily, it is sometimes remarkably in evidence. It seems to be a case of have to. When a woman has to, she generally can. It's all right, maybe, to stand around and wait for the man to "fix it" if there is any man. Maybe it helps develop virtue and ability in him. But if there isn't any man, the woman, too, might just as well get down to the hammer and the tacks.

When she does, she develops a line of talent that is interesting and effective. There is a woman in town, for instance, who has a repair shop in connection with her kitchen. She can use a screwdriver or a file, or an awl, or even a plane, to the best possible purpose. She is the same woman who knows what to do when her shades "won't work." "What to do," she says, "is extend them their full length as they hang in the sockets. Then take them down and roll them up tightly by hand. They are set on a spring, and this rolling up tightens the spring. If the spring has become very loose it may take two or three rollings-up. After each one, the shade should be put back in the socket and extended its entire length." She admits that a man who had once delt in window shades showed her the trick. "He found me one day trying to tighten up the spring by twisting the little knob on the end. I had bruised my fingertips fearfully, and the spring had slipped back any number of times, and I was ready to use the shade stick on the world at large when he chanced along. He said something that I have never forgotten: 'If you are going to do a thing, learn to do it in the right way.' That was why I got a kit of tools for the kitchen. I found that, with the tools, I could do a lot of things in the right way, and it saved time and bother and money. I have a small wrench for loose nuts; I have a solder outfit for the little holes that pop into utensils unexpectedly; I have a knife-sharpener; I have a bottle of oil for creaky things, door-hinges and the like, and I have a small plane for warped drawers. I have never insisted that my maids use these things themselves, but, seeing how easily I 'fix things,' they nearly always imitate me, and I have turned out some fairly trained 'tinkerers' from my kitchen, and both the house and the things in it are lasting longer because of these little passing attentions."

WIRE BALLOT BOX TO PREVENT STUFFING.

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 3.—Judge C. N. Brumm's wire mesh ballot box, which was proposed as a remedy for ballot-stuffing at the last session of the legislature, will be brought up again at the coming session with better chance of favorable consideration than was previously accorded.

The wire box would not only prevent election boards from starting their day's work with several hundred ballots stuffed in the box, as frequently has been the case, but it would prevent the old trick of putting the ballot box over a hole in the floor and sending all the genuine ballots down to the cellar as fast as cast. This also is a trick which has been practiced by election boards, who after thus disposing of the ballots feel free to return any results which may suit the fancy or for which they have been paid.

Judge Brumm has decided in cases where the only contents of boxes when the boxes were opened proved to be a Bible or a tobacco pipe. And these boxes had been gravely brought in by the sheriff from districts scores of miles away from the courthouse as evidence in cases pending.

FRESH EGGS ARE CHEAPER

Meats Go Higher and Keep Prices of Poultry From Dropping.

Apples Are Fine and Cheap for This Time of the Year.

The recent remarkably mild weather has caused the hens, both urban and rural, through the northern part of the state and other places tributary to the Duluth market, to get on the job, and the result is that eggs, both fresh and storage, have been going down in price. The best fresh eggs are now selling at wholesale for 27 and 28 cents a dozen, whereas a week ago they brought 28 and 29 cents, and a year ago such eggs were bringing 33 cents a dozen. The best storage eggs, which a week ago at wholesale brought 21 and 22 cents, are now selling for 20 and 21 cents. Such eggs a year ago brought 23 cents at wholesale.

There has been no trouble at all in filling the orders for eggs, either fresh or storage. The movement of fresh eggs is quite heavy, comprising nearly half the total egg trade. Dealers now begin to think that eggs will be more plentiful by far this winter than they were last winter, notwithstanding the fact that they were so high-priced during the late spring season, when they were being stored. It seems that more people by far are keeping hens this winter than did so last winter, largely by reason of the fact that feed is comparatively cheap, and not long ago there was a splendid outlook for very high-priced eggs this winter. That this outlook is not being borne out by the developments thus far is due in large measure to the mild weather and also to a large extent to the fact that so many people have prepared to produce eggs during the winter.

Meats, which were already extraordinarily high, have increased in price since a week ago. This has been due to the fact that the holiday season has kept many farmers from driving their animals to the market, as they were wont to do, and the receipts of livestock at the big packing centers have therefore been comparatively small. The wholesale price of beef at Duluth is now 8½ to 13 cents in place of 8 to 13 cents, as a week ago; mutton, 7 to 9 cents instead of 7 to 8 cents; pork loins, 12 to 13 cents instead of 11 to 12 cents, and lamb, 12 to 14 cents instead of 11 to 13 cents.

Lard, however, is a little cheaper, now going at wholesale for 11½ cents instead of 12 cents, as it did a week ago. The drop is due to the fact that many people have been following their usual custom of making and storing away their usual winter's supply of lard, thus diminishing the demand.

Poultry has remained very firm, despite the fact that the live poultry received this winter thus far has been away ahead of the live poultry received a year ago and the movement from the farms to the markets has been of longer continuance. This is true of all kinds of poultry except turkeys. There were not as many turkeys to come in as usual. The country is now well cleaned up of turkeys and other poultry, and it is expected that very little live poultry of any kind will be received before next March. The poultry prices are just what they were a week ago, but, inasmuch as the receipts of live poultry have been rapidly dropping off, it is expected that the prices will soon be considerably higher than they are now, though they are at present considerably higher than they were at this time last year. Dressed spring chickens, which are now bringing 15½ cents a pound at wholesale, a year ago were selling for 15 cents. Dry picked turkeys, now selling at 22 cents a pound wholesale, a year ago brought only 19 cents. Dressed geese, which are now selling at wholesale for 16 and 17 cents, a year ago brought only 15 and 15½ cents.

Changes in the vegetable market during the past week have been very few. California fancy head lettuce, which a week ago was bringing $1.75 a bushel, is now selling for $2 a bushel. Dried beans, navy and brown, have dropped from $2.75 to $2.50 a bushel.

Butter and cheese have not varied from their prices of a week ago.

Fancy barrel apples are cheaper than they have been at this season for years. Dealers say that now is the time for householders to get a barrel for winter's use, as they are apt to go higher.

Lemons are a little cheaper, as the season for the California product is farther advanced. A box that a week ago brought $6 is now selling for $5.75.

Might Not Be Alive

McMinnville, Tenn.—Mrs. Ocie Jett, of this place, writes: "I don't believe I would be living today, if it hadn't been for Cardui. I lay in bed for 27 days, and the doctor came every day, but he did me no good. Finally, he advised an operation, but I would not consent, and instead took Cardui. Now I am going about the house, doing my work, and even do my washing. Cardui worked wonders in my case. I am in better health than for five years." Cardui is a strengthening tonic for women. It relieves pain, tones up the nerves, builds strength. Try it. At your druggist's.

HE MUST PAY HIS WIFE'S TUITION

She Is Learning Stenography in Anticipation of Divorce.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 3.—Richard M. Meredith, son of a wealthy liquor dealer, not only faces the prospect of losing his wife, Ethel, 24 years old, but he is compelled by order of the court to help her prepare for a life of single blessedness.

Judge Way ordered the young husband to pay his wife $30 a month allmony and pay her tuition at a business college, where she is learning stenography in anticipation of the divorce she is seeking. Mrs. Meredith says she will graduate next June and will then be able to support herself.

The husband, she says, became angry at her one night last summer because a man sitting next to her in a moving picture show started a conversation. She says she did not see Meredith for two months.

The husband testified that when she did return home she sold $2,300 worth of his furniture for $300 and kept the money. The court ruled she had a right to do this if she wanted to, and told Meredith to put up a bond that he would pay the full amount of the wife's tuition at the business college.

SAYS HEN HAD TEETH IN THE OLDEN DAYS.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3.—In an address before the Audubon society, a local organization of naturalists, Prof. Gilbert of the Los Angeles high school faculty, told his auditors that hens were equipped with teeth in primitive days. He also said that the eggs of birds have greatly decreased in size since their teeth became extinct.

"Had they been marketed then as they are now," he commented, "they would, at the present scale of egg prices, bring from $250 to $1,000 each."

NOT SALTS AND PILLS. "CASCARETS"

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, Take a Cascaret.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

WEST END

PETITION FOR JAMES PRESTON

Friends Want Him in the Race for Commissioner.

Friends of James Preston, former member of the board of public works, this morning began circulating a petition for his candidacy to the commission for which officers are elected April 1. This is the first petition being circulated in this end of the city.

Mr. Preston stated yesterday that if the citzens of the West end want him to run for the office of commissioner he will do so. He has been approached on several occasions, he said, and was told that a petition was to be circulated.

Mr. Preston, says his friends, is the best man in Duluth for the position at the head of the division of public works. He has done contracting work for the past fifteen years, during which time he has built many of Duluth's sidewalks. Recently Mr. Preston paved Twenty-first avenue west.

Mr. Preston has been a resident of the West end for the past twenty-five years. He served two years on the board of public works under Mayor Haven.

Before taking the position on the board of public works Mr. Preston was the state wheat inspector for several years. He received that appointment from Governor Merriam. Since then he has been engaged in the contracting and paving business.

SOO ROAD LETS TWO CONTRACTS

Will Erect Boiler House and Storehouse for Ice.

The Soo road has let the contracts for the construction of a two-story building at Nineteenth avenue west and the railroad tracks and a smaller building at Garfield avenue and the tracks. The two structures will cost in the neighborhood of $7,500.

The building at Nineteenth avenue will have a frontage of forty feet on the avenue and will run thirty-six feet along the tracks. The building is to be used as a boiler house and the boiler now in the roundhouse will be removed to the new structure as soon as it is finished. Another boiler will be installed next to the old one. The second floor will be arranged for offices and storerooms.

The building at Garfield avenue will be a trifle smaller than the Nineteenth avenue structure and is to be used to store ice. The building will face Garfield avenue and will be two stories high. Both structures will lie alongside the tracks and are expected to be finished by March 1.

Materials for the construction of the building are now being received and actual building is expected to start within a few days.

ADAMS CLUB WILL ELECT OFFICERS.

MRS. CAROLINE CRANE of Kalamazoo, Mich., went about the town one day taking snapshots of dirty alleys and backyards. Then she prepared and delivered an illustrated lecture on the subject, which so aroused the citzens to the shortcomings of their town that a general cleaning up and improvement took place forthwith, and Kalamazoo became such a model of cleanliness and good order that the mayor of Saginaw invited Mrs. Crane to come up and help that town, which she did. Then other places, big and small, within a radius of a thousand miles—including Erie, Wilkes-Barre and Scranton, Pa.—one after another, called upon her for assistance.

Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane is well known to Duluthians. She was here a year ago and delivered several lectures informing Duluthians of unsightly and insanitary conditions which needed correction. She also visited other cities in Minnesota.

PARCEL POST ALSO HITS RAILROADS

Decrease in Express Revenues Partly Borne By the Roads.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Application of the parcel post by Uncle Sam and corresponding reductions in express rates, will not entail a decrease in revenues to express companies alone. A major portion of the decrease will be borne by the railroads because of the contracts under which they handle express business. This is shown by records in the office of the state railroad and warehouse commission.

The Wells-Fargo company, for instance, pays roads in this section of the United States, 55 per cent of its gross revenue, for transportation. The Great Northern company for years charged the Great Northern Express company 40 per cent for transportation of packages, but suddenly boosted the charge. Few if any of the railroad companies exact higher than 60 per cent of gross income of express companies for moving their parcels.

In cutting express rates to meet the parcel post rates, the railroads will shoulder their share of the decrease in revenues. Railroad companies hauling Wells-Fargo express, for instance, will bear more than half of the decrease because they have charged the Wells-Fargo company 55 per cent of the gross income.

"I doubt if there is an express company in America paying less than 6 per cent on its stock," said C. F. Staples, chairman of the railroad commission. "The dividends run higher than that. The Wells-Fargo company paid 10 per cent for years, then suddenly 'cut a melon' and in one year paid 310 per cent on its capital stock. Of course, it is too early now to estimate what effect the parcel post will have on the express business, but it is certain to cut down the gross income."

The United States Express company has a minimum proviso in some of the contracts under which it operates. On the Duluth & Iron Range railroad, for instance, it pays 48 per cent of its gross income, with a minimum guarantee of $10,000 a year. On the Rock Island railway, it pays 55 per cent, with a minimum guarantee of $170 per mile. There are other contracts in existence between railroads and express companies, which will have the effect of making both share in the decrease of gross and net revenues.

POSTAL LORELEI TELLS OF AFFAIRS

Lonely Minnesota and North Dakota Bachelors Her Victims.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 3.—Florence Gamble, 32 years old and good looking, who styles herself "Iowa's champion heart-breaker," broke down and confessed to Federal officials here that she had corresponded with more than 500 lonesome bachelors over the country, from some of whom she received amounts ranging from $15 to $50.

She told United States Commissioner William McArthur, and Charles Caine, postoffice inspector, that she had received an average of 150 letters a week in the last two months. The woman withdrew her plea of not guilty to an information charging her with having swindled J. L. Prater of Arlington, Texas, out of $30 through her matrimonial schemes. According to Inspector Caine, other charges growing out of the same case will be filed against the woman.

Commissioner McArthur accepted her "guilty" plea and bound her over to the Federal grand jury, which convenes next May. She furnished bonds of $1,000.

"I have almost worn out your picture kissing it," she wrote Prater, whom she called "The dearest man in all this world."

"I am a little short of money," she continued. "If you will send me $25 I will come at once to Fort Worth and we can get married as soon as I arrive.

"Yes dear, I know you are the one for me. I don't want you to get such a thing into your head that I am after your hard-earned money. I would not come if I believed you thought I was. I am not that kind of a woman. I am honest and true to you."

The inspector says the woman's victims include: Bert Gates, Coggswell, N. D.; Adolph Blessing, Victor, Mont.; N. A. Weaver, Colorado City, Colo.; F. E. Runcorn, Blythe, Cal.; R. A. Randolph, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Orville Wilson, Minneapolis, Minn., and Louis Gallitzer, Halliday, N. D.

WANTS NORRIS PUT IN FISHER'S PLACE

Senator Myers Urges Montanan for Secretary of the Interior.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 3.—Senator Henry L. Myers of Montana has urged President-elect Wilson to appoint Governor Edwin L. Norris of Montana to the cabinet portfolio of secretary of the interior. The term of Governor Norris will expire Jan. 14.

Senator Myers told the president-elect that Governor Norris had made a particular study of all the western and northwestern states of questions affecting their development and resources.

"I esteem him very much," said Mr. Wilson later in referring to Governor Norris. "I have seen him at the conferences of the house of governors. He made an admirable impression and is very aggressive."

The president-elect, however, held to his previous policy of not committing himself in respect to intended appointments.

Mr. Myers brought petitions from chambers of commerce and recommendations from many other organizations urging the selection of Governor Norris. He also announced that T. J. Walsh, soon to be elected junior senator from Montana, would come in a few days, also to speak in behalf of Governor Norris.

With reference to the discussion regarding seniority rule in committee appointments in the United States senate, Mr. Myers said:

"We stand for a liberalization of the rules of procedure, but we don't anticipate any serious fights. Those who may be opposed to our plan will meet us half way, I'm sure, and there will be conciliatory compromise."

DELICIOUS "SYRUP OF FIGS" FOR A BAD LIVER OR SLUGGISH BOWELS

This Gentle, Effective Fruit Laxative Thoroughly Cleans Your Stomach, Liver and 30 Feet of Bowels of Sour Bile, Poisons, Gases and Clogged-Up Waste.

A harmless cure for sick headache, for biliousness, for a sour, gassy, disordered stomach, for constipation, indigestion, coated tongue, sallowness, pimples—take delicious Syrup of Figs. For the cause of all these troubles lies in a torpid liver and sluggish condition of your thirty feet of bowels.

A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs tonight means all poisonous waste matter, the undigested, fermenting food and sour bile, gently moved on and out of your system by morning, without griping, nausea or weakness. It means a cheery day to-morrow—many bright days thereafter.

Please don't think of gentle, effective Syrup of Figs as a physic. Don't think you are drugging yourself, for luscious figs, senna and aromatics can not injure anyone.

This remarkable fruit preparation is a wonderful stomach, liver and bowel cleanser, regulator and tonic, the safest and most positive ever devised.

The day of violent purgatives, such as calomel, pills, salts and castor oil is past. They were all wrong. You got relief, but at what a cost! They acted by flooding the bowels with fluids, but these fluids were digestive juices. Syrup of Figs embody only harmless laxatives, which act in a natural way. It does what right food would do—what eating lots of fruit and what plenty of exercise will do for the liver, stomach and bowels.

Be sure you get the old reliable and genuine. Ask your druggist for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by The California Fig Syrup Company. Hand back, with scorn, any Fig Syrup imitation recommended as "just as good."

SENDING HERRING TO MANY POINTS.

Tons of fresh water herring are passing through Duluth daily, and being shipped to points as far east as New York and as far west as the Rockies. They are brought to Duluth from Two Harbors and Knife River over the Duluth & Iron Range road, and are distributed over the various roads from here.

It is claimed that about thirty tons go through here each day. Two boats which came down from the north shore points yesterday brought in about sixty tons, most of which will be sent East.

Receipts here of fish over the railroads are not as heavy as during most winters owing to the long-continued lake navigation.

Convicted Man Re-elected.

THREE HOCKEY PLAYERS DROWN.

Olivet, Mich., Jan. 3.—While playing hockey on Pine lake, near here, three boys broke through the ice, and were drowned. They are:

GEORGE DEWEY, 14 years old.

CLARK MORGAN, 12 years old.

STANLIEY LANSBOROUGH, 16 years old.

During the hockey game, the puck was driven to a spot where the ice was unsafe. Young Morgan started after it and broke through. Stanley Lansborough and Dewy, close behind him, also went into the hole.

Irvin Van Wye, George Lansborough and Ward Keeney, in attempting to rescue them, also were thrown into the icy water. George Lansborough and Van Wye managed to break their way to the shore, Keeney clung to the ice and was almost frozen to death, when rescued, but the other three boys sank before they could be reached.

AMBASSADOR REID'S BODY AT NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 3.—The body of Whitelaw Reid, late United States ambassador to England, was brought home today by the British cruiser Natal, convoyed by a guard of American warships. The funeral ship came slowly up the lower bay and harbor in a fog, and dropped anchor in the Hudson, off West Ninety-eighth street, shortly before 1 o'clock. As she did so she fired a salute of nineteen guns and broke out the Union Jack at her bow and the British naval ensign at her stern. High above them floated the Stars and Stripes at half mast.

Almost at the moment of the anchoring, the sun came out for the first time today and the throngs on shore were able clearly to see the English fighting craft and her escorts. Six ship lengths behind the Natal, the United States battleship Florida came to anchor, and about six lengths behind her, the North Dakota. Alongside, near the New Jersey shore, were the destroyers Roe, Drayton, McCall and Paulding.

Returned British Salute.

The Florida returned the Natal's salute of nineteen guns and, as did the other ships in the cortege, broke out the English ensign at her military mast.

On shore awaited a black-draped caisson on which the late ambassador's body was to be borne to the cathedral of St. John the Divine. A corporal and two privates from the Third Field artillery, Fort Meyer, Va., stood beside the caisson, to which eight horses were hitched.

The funeral at the cathedral tomorrow will be attended by President Taft Secretary Knox and James Bryce, the British ambassador, among others.

C. A. Congdon Confirms Report of Consolidation of Wholesale Houses.

Walter S. Brown of Des Moines Slated for Presidency.

Regarding the consolidation of the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company and the Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company, both wholesale grocery houses, heretofore announced in The Herald, C. A. Congdon, who engineered the deal, has made to The Herald the following formal statement:

"The Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company and the Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company have been amalgamated by the purchase by the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company of all the property of the Wright-Clarkson company.

"David Tozer and Eugene O'Neal of Stillwater, Minnesota, and W. R. Peyton of Duluth have resigned from the board of directors of the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company, and Walter S. Brown of Des Moines, Iowa, and John L. Lenning and Rufus H. Redmond of Duluth have been elected in their places.

"There has been no change whatever in the stock ownership of the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company, save such as results from the issue of new stock for the acquisition of the Wright-Clarkson company.

"Steps will at once be taken to increase the capital stock of the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company to $1,500,000.

"The cumulative dividend on preferred stock will be reduced forthwith from 8 per cent to 7 per cent.

"The name of the corporation will be changed from 'Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company to 'Gowan-Lenning-Brown company.' John O. Lenning has been elected vice president of the corporation, Henry P. Gowan, secretary, and Fred L. Farmer has been temporarily elected treasurer.

"Mr. Congdon expects, as soon as the corporate changes are duly completed, to be relieved from the presidency of the corporation. The probabilities are that Walter S. Brown of Des Moines, Iowa, will become its president.

"H. M Peyton and Mr. Congdon will both remain on the board of directors of the corporation."

STUDYING THE NEW SYSTEM

Rapidly Learning to Use It---Horses Are Not Needed Yet.

At the postoffice, it is said, the parcel post business is good, but not picking up as rapidly as was expected. That applies to shipments only from Duluth. There are many packages coming in, and tomorrow it is believed additional carriers, those on the waiting list, will have to be put on to help out.

The stamps are going rapidly, however, and at the stamp windows a great deal of inquiry is received as to the workings of the system. It is believed that the slowness of development of the parcel post business out of Duluth is wholly due to the fact that it is not fully understood, and as the shipments consist of genuine business parcels rather than "joke" parcels. It is believed that Duluthians are taking the matter more seriously than is evident in other places, and want to know.

At the stamp window this morning several large quantities of stamps were purchased, and there was a great deal of inquiry and comparison as to the difference between the parcel post rates and those of the express companies. It is found also that a great many people are still forgetting about the parcel post and are sending packages as first-class matter, thus wasting a good deal of money in postage.

Not a great deal of business has been done in the way of insuring parcels, which can be done at the registry window at the rate of 10 cents up to the value of $50. It is believed that this lack of insurance is also due to ignorance of the subject.

One thing which has been remarked is the rapidity of delivery so far of parcels received through the mail. Today not many large parcels arrived, and teams were not necessary, but it is expected that they will be within a very few days.

THROUGH SLEEPER TO PORT ARTHUR

Canadian Northern Road Is Improving Its Duluth Service.

The local offices of the Canadian Northern road today received notice that a through daily sleeper service between Port Arthur and Duluth will be put on tomorrow. The notice, while not unexpected, comes suddenly. The new service will give what many patrons of the road have been demanding for some time.

The train from Port Arthur arrives here each morning at 8:31 o'clock, and the one which goes to Port Arthur leaves here each evening at 7:40.

MRS. CHARLES BRADLEY DIES

Death Follows Paralytic Stroke Sustained in July 1911.

Mrs. Magdakina Gausevoort Bradley, the wife of Charles E. Bradley, prominent lumberman, died at 8:45 o'clock this morning at the family home, 725 East First street.

Death was due to a paralytic stroke, which she suffered in July, 1911. Since that time she has been confined indoors and steadily continued to fail until this morning, when she peacefully passed away.

Mrs. Bradley was past 57 years of age, having been born at Albany, N. Y., Sept. 23, 1855. She has been a resident of Duluth for eighteen years, coming here in 1894. During that time she made many friends and acquaintances who will be grieved to learn of her death.

Besides her husband she is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Frank R. Leslie of White Bear, Minn., and three sons, Leonard G. and Charles H. Bradley, Jr., of this city, and Wilson Bradley of Deerwood.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Bureau of Mines Says That "Smoke Consumers" Are Useless.

Is Operating Its Own Power Plant Smokelessly at Pittsburg.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Setting the example of operating its own power plant smokelessly in a city that is attempting to combat the nuisance, the United States bureau of mines is out with the statement that the smoke of cities can be largely reduced and perhaps entirely prevented. The power plant is connected with the experiment station of the bureau at Pittsburg, Pa., and it has been conducted without objectionable smoke for more than two years.

The bureau's report, made public today, destroys the popular notion that smoke may be lessened by the use of a so-called "smoke consumer," some special device, which, if placed in the stack or in the smoke passages, will in some way consume the smoke. Samuel B. Flagg, engineer in charge of the smoke investigations, declares that although such a method may not be an impossibility, it is impractical. Smoke, he says, is caused by the flames from the coal coming into contact with the cool surfaces of a boiler. As an illustration—place a saucer in the flame of a candle, and the bottom of the saucer will be covered with smoke. Hold the saucer just above the flame and there will be no smoke. Coal can be burned smokelessly, Engineer Flagg insists, if you give the coal the proper chance to burn. That is all there is to it.

Wasting Coal.

The bureau of mines is charged with conducting tests to increase the efficiency with which the fuels purchased by the government are used, and incidentally it has found that Federal buildings throughout the country are not only wasting coal, but are adding to the smoke nuisance of the cities. This led to taking up an investigation of this troublesome problem.

It was discovered by Engineer Flagg that no two cities in the country were attacking the problem from the same angle, and he soon came to the conclusion that many of them were wrong and were wasting their efforts. He found drastic ordinances in some municipalities that could only serve to make the citizens fight them; he found in other cities, laws that could not possibly be enforced. As a result of his investigation, he declares that the most progress can be made in cities by the authorities insisting that in all new buildings furnaces shall be installed that are absolutely smokeless. In his report he quotes a number of the different smoke ordinances, explains where they are good and bad, and builds up a series of ordinances that might prove of value to municipalities of various sizes.

Co-Operation Necessary.

Mr. Flagg says: "It is quite certain that the greatest advances in smoke abatement in our cities have come in the past and must come in the future, through the organized effort of the city smoke inspection departments, supplemented by the active co-operation of citizens. A strong public sentiment in favor of smoke abatement is almost an absolute necessity, if satisfactory results are to be accomplished. The time may come when public sentiment against permitting the escape of dense smoke will be so strong that every plant owner or operator will feel obliged to prevent such escape of smoke, regardless of the existence of an ordinance or of his own personal feeling or inclinations. This condition does not prevail today in any city in the United States. Just as soon as each individual realizes that it is not only his duty, but that it will work to his own benefit to co-operate in that which will result in the greatest good to all, just so soon will the necessity for a smoke ordinance disappear. In the meantime, however, or until the present methods of burning bituminous coal are radically changed, such a necessity will exist in those localities where large quantities of such coal are consumed.

Not Properly Designed.

"Under present conditions it is too often the case that buildings are so designed as to leave insufficient room for the proper equipment. Boilers are so placed that they can not be properly cleaned or operated; hence they are forced, or additional capacity crowded in, and smoke-producing conditions result. It is therefore important that the situation of the boiler plant and the providing of adequate space for it should receive consideration no less than the proper design of furnaces. Obviously, to accomplish these ends, persistent and systematic as well as scientifically correct methods must be adopted. In other words, organization is necessary, and the ordinance should specify not only how the work is to be organized, but also carry it on. Satisfactory progress will seldom be made unless the organization is such that certain officials or employes give their entire attention to the work of smoke abatement and are held responsible for the results produced. If the installation of improperly designed furnaces is prevented, the policing duties of the inspectors will eventually be reduced to a minimum. The advisability of making this sort of provision is clearly shown in nearly any one of the cities where this protective work is not done, by the fact that some of the newest plants have been so constructed that dense smoke emitted a large part of the time, even though the firing may be done with a fair degree of care and intelligence.

Protective Feature.

"The smoke ordinance should therefore require that plans and specifications for all construction work on furnaces be submitted to the smoke inspector and be approved by him before work is started. If this protective feature is to be included, the smoke inspector must be an engineer, qualified by technical training and experience for the duties of the office, and the ordinance should specify that these qualifications are required.

"The most important conclusion reached is that smoke abatement by ordinance can not hope to succeed unless supported by public sentiment, and that a smoke ordinance should look to future prevention rather than an immediate prohibition. In other words, strict control of furnace construction offers much greater hope for smoke abatement than desultory imposition of severe penalties on the escape of 'dense' or 'black' smoke."

The report just issued by the bureau is entitled, "Smoke Abatement and City Smoke Ordinances." Copies may be had by those interested writing to the Director of the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D. C.

HARRIMAN ESTATE BUILDING CAPITOL

Utah Gets Three-Quarters of Fund From Inheritance Tax.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 3.—The inheritance tax paid to the state of Utah by the estate of the late E. H. Harriman will cover about two-thirds of the cost of the erection of the state capitol, which was contracted for yesterday. The Harriman estate paid the state nearly $750,000 and this was set aside by the last legislature as a capitol fund. The building will cost $1,040,000.

MARSHALL JOINS IN WAR ON GAMBLING

Promises to Help Get Laws Passed By Congress.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, vice president-elect of the United States, has taken part in the crusade against gambling that has been launched among fraternal orders. Governor Marshall advocated national legislation against gambling and promised his aid in obtaining such laws.

"It is too late for me to change my message to the general assembly of Indiana," he wrote to a leader in the anti-gambling wars here, "but I suggest that you bring the matter before the incoming congress of the United States. I shall be glad to render you any assistance in stamping out gambling."

COURT ORDERS THAT BOY HAVE PHYSICIAN

Followers of Dowie's Faith Lose Case Taken Before Judge.

Zion City, Ill., Jan. 3.—For the first time, the question whether members of the Zionites colony have the right to deny their children medical attention, has been brought into court. The decision was adverse to the tenets of the sect, which relies on prayer to cure all ills.

Judge P. L. Persons, sitting at Waukegan, Ill., delivered the ruling in the case of a boy suffering from a throat disease. An older brother applied to the court to order a physician sent to the boy. The sick boy said that he wanted a doctor and Judge Persons granted him the right to seek medical aid.

FORD & JOHNSON PROPERTY SOLD.

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 3.—The property of the Ford & Johnson company, furniture manufacturers, which went into bankruptcy last April, with assets of nominally $1,000,000, has been sold here for $496,000 at a receiver's sale to Harry Wehmer of Cincinnati. Mr. Wehmer was a trustee for the Second National bank and the Cincinnati Trust company, bondholders of the bankrupt concern. Its liabilities were $5,000,000. The bondholders include forty-five banks in the East. It is stated that the property will be operated by the new owners.

POWDER TRUST BREAKING UP.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3.—What is said to be the first step in the dissolution of the so-called power trust was taken here when the Du Pont Powder company terminated its existence in California yesterday and the Atlas and Hercules companies took over its territory. The dissolution is in accordance with a decision given in June, 1912, by the United States district court. The Hercules company opened offices here and the Atlas company in Tacoma.

The former company is incorporated for $13,000,000, which was paid in purchase of the shares from the undivided surplus in the treasury of the old company.

The Atlas company is incorporated for $75,000,000, obtained by popular subscription, and its territory is understood to be the Northwest and Canada.

SULZER INTENDS TO BE PARTY'S LEADER

Gives Out Statement When Asked as to Tammany's Influence.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 3.—Governor William Sulzer declares that his election made him the Democratic leader of New York state. "If any Democrat in the state challenges that leadership," he said, "let him come out in the open and the people will decide."

The governor's statement was made in response to inquiries as to whether Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, had indorsed John N. Carlisle of Watertown and John H. Delaney of Brooklyn, two of three members of a commission selected by Governor Sulzer to investigate state departments and bureaus.

"I am the Democratic leader of the state; the people decreed it at the polls, and I stand on their verdict," said the governor emphatically. "I can't succeed in doing what I want to do as governor unless I am the Democratic leader."

Will Meet Anybody.

The governor made it clear that he would receive any one who desired to see him at any time, including Col. Roosevelt as head of the Progressive movement; William Barnes, Jr., as chairman of the Republican state committee; Charles F. Murphy, as leader of the New York county Democratic organization; J. Pierpont Morgan or Thomas F. Ryan.

"But," he added, "they must see me in the open, the same as any other person."

The governor said he realized that Mr. Murphy, as the leader of an independent political organization in New York, deserved recognition as such, and that he would receive requests from him, reserving the right, however, to deny them if they were not proper.

THE FIRST SIGN OF SPRING.

The first sign of spring is in evidence.

No, it is not the lengthening days, though they prove that winter carries the seeds of spring in its bosom; but "as the day lengthens the cold strengthens."

The first signs of spring are the seed catalogues. They have begun coming, and already the gardening microbe is working furiously in the mind of many an owner of a back yard farm.

No matter how much we may have been disappointed in the discrepancy between the anticipations created by the pictures in the catalogues and the realization as furnished by our gardens, we never lose hope or faith!

At this season, especially if it is below zero and a blizzard is blowing, there is no greater luxury than to sit in a comfortable chair in a warm room, with pipe and slippers, and read the new seed catalogues. There isn't a dull page in them. They deal so deftly in superlatives! They draw so lavishly upon a brilliant vocabulary of adjectives! They contrive so cunningly to awaken deep hopes of next summer's gardening! They dress up commonplace vegetables in such bewitching verbal attire!

And the pictures! Such size and succulence as they paint into the lettuce and radishes and cabbage, no county or state fair ever exhibited. Such opulent gardens as we shall surely have if we buy seeds out of this catalogue, no one ever saw before. And yet—perhaps those out of the other catalogue would be better still. We hesitate, we do not know; we weigh the adjectives out of one catalogue, and then weigh those out of the other; we compare the pictures: it is hard to decide. But then surely there can be little risk in either. Discount the descriptions ninety-nine per cent, and still we ought to have all our neighbors backed off the boards.

The only trouble is that it makes us covetous. We want everything. We want to grow all the vegetables there are, we want a lot more berry bushes and shrubs, we want to try again that vexatious clematis Jackmanii which has such a peculiar fashion of flourishing one day and fading away the next—or perhaps it would be better to try the clematis paniculata, which is sturdier. And we want to grow all the flowers there are in the catalogue—especially those wonderful Spencer sweet peas with such marvelous length of stems, such profusion of flowers and such glory of colors. And by all means, we must try some more gladioluses this year, and a lot of them.

But, alas, our little garden won't hold them all, and our purse won't compass them! We must set in motion a process of elimination, and get down to what we can comfortably buy and find room for. We must banish the wraith of extravagance which these wonderful catalogues have summoned.

And there's fun in that, too; and fun in sending off the order, in getting the seeds and bulbs and plants back, in stowing them away carefully where they won't get too warm or freeze, in carefully laying out the beds on paper during the winter months, in preparing the ground in the spring, in putting the seeds in the ground, in hoeing out the weeds and keeping the top soil light and loose, in gathering and eating the fruits of the vegetable garden and in cutting and decorating the home with the fruits of the flower beds.

There's great fun in gardening, even in winter; and the catalogues help us to keep our zest in it alive through the year.

What's that? You haven't had any seed catalogues yet? Oh, that's too bad! You must send for some, right away.

Ex-President Castro can now begin some stories of his travels with the words: "When I was almost in the United States—"

A BILL TO BE KILLED.

The Minnesota state forestry board is timely with its warning against the Lafferty bill, pending now in congress, transferring the national forests to state control.

This measure has passed the senate, and must be killed in the house. It will be killed if the national intelligence asserts itself.

Transferring the national forests to state control means, in a large proportion of cases, the death of the forestry movement. In states where there still is much timber, it will mean that the state governments will proceed to sell the remaining supply of trees, perhaps as prodigally and with as little regard for the future as the white pine states sold theirs.

The national forests should remain under national control. The states should supplement the Federal work as much as they can, but they should not ask for and should not get the guardianship of the scant remaining forests now in the possession of the people of the United States.

The move comes from the enemies of forestry and of conservation. It would be followed, if successful, by a movement to put the control of all water powers in the hands of the states, which would mean ultimately putting them in the control of the electric power trust which lurks just behind the scenes ready to appear full panoplied with monopoly when it is safe to do so.

It is unthinkable that such a measure as this should be permitted to pass, but it has passed the senate, and the people should take no chance on it even in the house, but should make every possible effort to see that it is killed.

Postmaster General Hitchcock showed a poor estimation of his postal service when he registered that first package he sent by the parcel post.

FEED THE WINTER BIRDS.

This is that out of the overflow from the household plenty a little be set aside to feed the birds.

"The birds work hard for man," says the Post. "Why should not man do something for the birds? This is their hard season, and food is their hard-found necessity."

How would you like to go out searching for food with the bushes bare where lately there were berries, and the ground frozen and covered with snow where lately there was food in plenty?

And if you had to do that, don't you think you'd appreciate it if some kind householder set out a meal for you in the back yard—and kept the supply up? Only if you start it, keep it going. The birds get to depending on it, and they know what disappointment feels like as well as you do.

Says the Post: "A piece of suet wired to the branch of a tree is warming, satisfying food for the birds, and they will find it out within an hour or two of its appearance. Put a shallow box in a tree or on the top of a post, and put into it a liberal allowance of bird seed and finely cracked corn. Between seed and suet the birds will have a fine time of it."

It won't cost you much and it will do the birds a lot of good, and it is slight repayment for the help the birds were to you last summer and will be again the coming summer in keeping your garden free of destroying insects.

The Wisconsin State Journal wants to know why, since poor Kentucky moonshiners are put in jail for failing to pay revenue taxes, Chicago millionaires should be let off with a nominal fine when they fail to pay revenue taxes on oleomargarine. Tut-tut! Questions like that are calculated to annoy the judicial temperament!

THE NOVEMBER VOTE.

It was commonly believed that the total vote was lower than that of 1908, but it turns out to be higher. The total vote cast was 15,033,669, against 14,888,442 four years ago—a gain of 145,227. However, when the new votes by women are considered, this gain disappears. There really is a decrease in the male vote, though not a great one.

The only ones to profit by this increase were the Socialists, whose total vote turns out to be larger than had been credited to them. They cast 900,672 votes for Debs against 420,793 in 1908—a gain of more than 100 per cent. This is still short of the million and a half the Socialists expected, and though an interesting and encouraging gain, is by no means yet a figure to alarm those who fear Socialism. The real test of Socialism will be whether its gains continue when the evils which have supplied it with such excellent ammunition have been largely corrected by other agencies.

Both the Democrats and Republicans—counting the Taft and Roosevelt votes combined as Republican—showed a falling off from 1908. Wilson polled 6,293,454 votes against Bryan's 6,409,104 in 1908—a loss of 115,650. Still, when it is remembered how strong a draft Roosevelt made upon the progressive and independent voters, Wilson's showing is remarkable for its strength.

President Taft received a total of 3,484,980 and Roosevelt got 4,119,538—an unexpectedly creditable showing for Taft against two such opponents. Still, the total of the two combined is 74,390 less than Taft's vote four years ago.

Owing to the appearance of an excellent counterfeit of that note, it has been suggested that the government call in all "Indian Head" $5 bills, but the plan has been abandoned "because those bills are so numerous." Gee! Where's this?

WHERE'S THE GOOD OF IT?

For several years two per cent of all receipts from liquor licenses in St. Louis county have gone into the fund for the creation of a state hospital farm for inebriates, which has just been opened.

And though this amounts to a very large sum, larger than that received from any county except those containing the two larger cities of the state, the first patient committed by St. Louis county to this new institution is rejected by the state board of control.

Naturally, this county would like to know where the good to it is coming for the large amount it has invested in the creation of this desirable institution.

The case has served to call attention to one provision of the law that is dubious, to say the least: that admitting patients who make voluntary application to become inmates, and who are able to pay for their keep.

There are plenty of places for the treatment of this disease where patients who can pay will be taken care of. Our idea of it was that this state institution was to be for the treatment of patients who could not afford to pay private institutions for their care. It will be an injustice if paying patients fill the hospital and crowd out those whom the counties wish to cure and turn into self-supporting and self-respecting citizens.

A further explanation of why the board of control has chosen to reject the only patient thus far committed by St. Louis county, and a statement whether or not it is worth while trying to commit any more patients, seems to be called for.

In music the designation "pp" means "very soft." In the postoffice it means parcel post, which is likewise very soft for the people. If you doubt it, ask the express companies.

THE PARCEL POST.

The first day of the parcel post was a holiday, with most of the postoffices closed all day, so there was little chance to see how it is going to work.

However, a few packages got into most of the principal offices, and the variety of their contents illuminates the wide possibilities of this new extension of the government's usefulness to the people.

Among the articles noted were a pitchfork, fifty umbrellas sent by one business house, a four-pound piece of pork, and a broken horse collar sent in by a farmer to be repaired.

Subject to the very reasonable limitations set by the postoffice, the uses of the parcel post are almost incalculable. It is safe to predict a wide and growing use of it.

It has been noted that many find the system complicated. They have judged by the descriptions of the rules and regulations governing rates and service that have appeared in the public prints. It is infinitely less puzzling to take a package to the postoffice and mail it than it is to figure out how to do it from printed descriptions. In point of fact, mailing parcels under the parcel post law is very much like mailing letters under the old, familiar system. The clerk will weigh the package, see that it complies with the rules, find out where it is going, look at a map and book and find the rate, tell you how much it will cost, and you will buy the necessary stamps and affix them.

The postoffice will do the rest.

You see, the burden of most of these apparent complexities rests not on the patron, but on the postoffice.

Besides its obvious usefulness, there is another reason why most of us will take pleasure in availing ourselves of the parcel post service: it's our own.

Arnold Bennett says possession of a fortune is no indication of the possession of ability. It would be more comforting if he could assure us that lack of the fortune is a sure sign of ability.

Heroism of the Pilgrims.

Rufus Choate: Do you not think that whoso could, by adequate description, bring before you that winter of the Pilgrims—its brief sunshine; the nights of storm, slow waning; the damp and icy breath, felt to the pillow of the dying; its destitutions, its contrasts with all their former experience in life, its utter insulation and lonelliness, its deathbeds and burials, its memories, its apprehensions, its hopes; the consultations of the prudent; the prayers of the pious; the occasional cheerful hymn, in which the strong heart threw off its burden, and, asserting its unvanquished nature, went up, like a bird of dawn, to the skies—do ye not think that whoso could describe them calmly waiting in that defile, lonelier and darker than Thermopylae, for a morning that might never dawn, or might show them, when it did, a mightier arm than the Persian raised as in act to strike, would he not sketch a scene of more difficult and rarer heroism? A scene, as Wordsworth has said, "melancholy, yea, dismal, yet consolatory and full of joy;" a scene even better fitted to succor, to exalt, to lead the forlorn hopes of all great causes, till time shall be no more!

Anglo-Saxon Imperialism

Mexican Herald: That the triumph of the Democratic party in the United States means a complete reversal of American foreign policy, is a possibly harmful delusion entertained by a great many people in Latin-America. Our brilliant contemporary El Manana has done well in attempting to correct this error, which might lead to grievous disappointments.

The foreign policy of the United States, like that of England, is a result of racial characteristics, something bred in the bone, and is as natural to the Briton and the American of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, as was the imperialism of Spain inherent in the race tendencies of the Spaniards of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Spanish imperialism energetically pursued gave to Spain her vast American dominions, extending almost from the Oregon to Cape Horn. This empire last some 300 years, and the deep impression which Spanish civilization made, persists to this day in a great cluster of important states. It is no more criminal for the Anglo-Saxon to be imperial than it was for the Spaniard.

Reverting to the foreign policy of the Democratic party, we may say that the founder of that party, Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States, was, despite his strict construction of the Constitution, an energetic imperialist and expansionist. Looking towards Cuba and meditating on her future, Jefferson foresaw her destiny to be the most southern state in the American Union. El Manana points out that the republic of Cuba has not complete independence. This is very true, and it is a good thing for Cuba that it is true. Cuba is to all intents and purposes a dependency of the United States, just as is Panama, and quite as will be Nicaragua. The same may also be said of the Philippines. Facts are stubborn things and it is not well to attempt to dodge them.

Even if Mr. Bryan becomes secretary of state in President Wilson's cabinet, and is supported by the new president himself, he cannot more than momentarily check the onward march of American expansion. Mr. Bryan is not stronger than the Anglo-Saxon race. President Cleveland sought to restore the independence of Hawaii, but events and manifest destiny were too strong for him. If anybody in Latin-America is disposed to think that a Democratic administration at Washington means an era of mush and mollycoddle, of relinquishing the protection of American citizens abroad, he is welcome to his pipe-dream.

El Manana says, speaking of England imperialistic methods, that she has been able to put in chains the 300,000,000 inhabitants of India. But our colleague omits to state that England has given peace to a sub-continent peopled by many hostile races, who before the extension of British rule over them were continually flying at one another's throats, and would do so again were the British rule relaxed. England did not enter upon her work in India with any high-sounding professions of "great humanitarian ideals." Rather, she undertook the adventure of India to extend her trade and commerce, and she has done exceedingly well there. She has diminished the terrors of famine by increasing the productiveness of the soil and by constructing new transportation routes. Errors of policy there have been, but on the whole the record of England in India is one to be proud of.

Anglo-Saxon imperialism is humane, constructive and light-bearing. The world needs more of it, not less. That it is annoying to the weak, the doddering and the inefficient, we well know, but this cannot be helped.

Ready to Oblige.

Chicago Post: A Texas sheriff, visiting New York to take a prisoner back to the South, was turned over to an inspector who was to be his amusement guide. They wound up at an East side ball where there were a few dips present.

After a half hour the inspector called one of the crooks to one side and said: "See that tall man with the sombrero?"

"Yes, what about him?"

"He's a Texas bull I'm showing around and I think it would be a fancy idea if you could nick him for his ticker."

"Nix, you're trying to put me in bad."

"Nothing like it—purely a joke, that's all. To show you I'm on the level I give you my word that you won't get in trouble and I'll give you a $5 note for his watch."

"All right; here it is."

The Chief End of Man.

New York World: If you teach a soldier that he can arbitrate a slap in the face, he won't fight. And likewise if you teach a nation to arbitrate a matter of vital interest to it, it won't fight.—Mr. Roosevelt at Boston.

And likewise if a nation teaches its communities to arbitrate their differences in courts of law, they won't fight. And if the communities teach their citizens to arbitrate individual differences in courts provided for the purpose, they won't fight and their fighting instinct may wear away. And if the chief end of man on earth is not to fight, what is it?

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Jan. 2.—(Special to The Herald.)—When he got ready to open his campaign for re-election last fall, Representative Halvor Steenerson, of Minnesota, found himself all glutted with gloom.

What was he to do! Oh, what was he to do!

You see, here was the situation: When Will Taft made his fight for Canadian reciprocity—the details of which is familiar, of course, to every bright-eyed little schoolchild—Steenerson opposed the measure on the ground that it would raise the Old Harry with Minnesota farmers. He made his point so strong that the farmers who hadn't thought much about the reciprocity thing before began to quit work an hour earlier to have more time to abuse Taft. Except for Steenerson's speeches, which he mailed to the humblest homes, the people throughout his district might have thought Taft was a right pleasant fellow.

Then the merry campaign season rolled around, and Steenerson was nominated on the regular Republican ticket—the Taft ticket. There were also Bull Moose in the field. The thing that Steenerson wondered about with considerable trepidation was whether the voters that he had trained to dislike Taft would vote the straight Moose ticket. Personally, he reminded himself of a man trying to eat soup while balancing himself on a trapeze.

And to make things worse Steenerson was billed to go about and make speeches. He was not even to be permitted to say nothing. Was ever a situation more rampageously distressing?

Steenerson made his campaign speeches. But in no one of them did he say a word against any man that would have sustained an action against him for slander. Neither did he say aught against the wife or mother of any candidate. Instead, he told about the great natural resources of the wonderful country in which we live. He explained what the forestry service does, told how many seeds are sent out each year from the agricultural department, the number of Indians now on government reservations the height of the Washington monument, and the number of steps leading up to the main entrance to the capitol at Washington. People of all parties and creeds could not deny that Steenerson seemed to have the facts with him on all questions that he discussed. And he was elected.

Representative Fred Stevens of the St. Paul district was another candidate on the regular Republican ticket who felt that in view of the third party in the field this is indeed a great country and that wonderful advances have been made in the last seventy-five years in the arts and sciences, not only in this country, but abroad. Stevens, too, made a series of campaign speeches. And what issue do you suppose he took up?

He gave a talk on the Panama canal, illustrated with beautiful stereopticon views. And he spoke not on the street corners or in the saloons, but in churches. No one, regardless of party affiliations, could deny that there is a Panama canal, could he?

In many instances the pastor at the church where Stevens spoke introduced him with some such remark as this: "I hope that we may in some way repay Mr. Stevens for coming here in the midst of his campaign to tell us of this wonderful canal."

And enough of the audiences took the hint to go to the polls in November and re-elect him.

Cy Sulloway, the massive member from New Hampshire with the flowing Buffalo Bill locks and whiskers squirting gayly from his chin, has ruined altogether about half a dozen chairs in one of the house committee rooms. They are well built chairs, too, but Sulloway is so tall and has so far to go when he seats himself, that he frequently forgets and sits down with a slight drop that makes mere stove wood out of what was once a chair.

They now have a special big chair for Sulloway in the committee room, and already the government is believed to have saved in chair upkeep something like $43.

Styles change in dinners just as much as in dogs or dress or furniture. It used to be that dinners to be up to scratch had to have about nineteen courses, no two alike, and including a great variety of things that people did not really care to eat. Now there is a reaction in favor of picking out a limited number of courses, composed of things that guests will eat with relish and want second helpings.

Representative George W. Fairchild of New York, gave a dinner recently that was spoken of as about the final word in gastronomic splendor. Yet there was no fancy work whatever. The first course was a high quality of raw oysters—all one wanted—after that, terrapin—same rule holding good—and then roast canvasback duck, each guest drawing a duck for his own use. This was followed by cheese and coffee. That was all the eatables there were. But no complaints was lodged. It was the correct thing. The incoming fashion in dinners is going to taboo the long and complicated list of courses. Guests will have all they want of the things their souls crave. It is even possible that somebody may get up a dinner with only one course devoted entirely to strawberry shortcake.

True Loyalty.

Lippincott's: Jenkins, a newly wedded suburbanite, kissed his wife goodby the other morning, and, telling her he would be home at 6 o'clock that evening, got into his auto and started for town.

At 6 o'clock no hubby had appeared, and the little wife began to get nervous. When the hour of midnight arrived she could bear the suspense no longer, so she aroused her father and sent him off to the telegraph office with six telegrams to as many brother Elks living in town, asking each if her husband was stopping with him overnight.

Morning came, and the frantic wife had received no intelligence of the missing man. As dawn appeared, a farm wagon containing a farmer and the derelict husband drove up to the house, while behind the wagon trailed the broken-down auto. Almost simultaneously came a messenger boy with an answer to one of the telegrams, followed at intervals by five others. All of them read:

"Yes, John is spending the night with me."

Duluth and The Herald

Bouquets and Brickbats from the State Press.

Score Another for Duluth.

Little Falls Transcript: A Duluth Guernsey cow—"Starlight's Fern," by name—has established a leading record for herself among Minnesota Guernseys by the production the past year of 595 pounds of butter fat, equivalent to 695 pounds of butter. The Guernsey animal has many fine points which give her superiority over other breeds of cattle, and the high quality of milk produced is one of them.

Perhaps Verdicts Are Justified.

Grand Marais News-Herald: Duluth juries are apparently less merciful than just in their treatment of corporations. The regularity with which they "sock it" to the big concerns in suits brought by injured victims is noticeable.

Some Future.

St. Cloud Times: The New York Press is having a little fun with Duluth in a good natured sort of way. Duluth can stand it—for the Zenith City has a great future before it—it bids fair to eclipse New York.

Happened to Be Caught.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: A Duluth young lady was arrested by a bleareyed cop because she said "damit" when she dropped her muff, and was taken to the bastile, where she spent the night. Young men and older ones are more privileged in Duluth, and they can say worse things without having dropped anything, and the cop never hears them at all.

Must Form Alliance.

Biwabik Times: In another column of this issue will be found reproduced an editorial from The Duluth Herald. Just as is pointed out by the editor of The Herald the local merchant and the local newspaper man must become allies in fighting against the effect of the parcel post.

A World of Truth.

Grand Rapids Independent: In another column of this issue of the Independent is an editorial on the parcel post reproduced from The Duluth Herald, and is published in this paper because it contains a world of truth. The present parcel post law, which goes into effect Jan. 1, will do more to free the people of the nation from the yoke of high rates of carriage charges imposed by the express companies than all the regulation of all the commissions which the government could invent. The Independent predicts that in the future the parcels of the country will be carried for less than half of what they formerly were, and that even the postoffice department will make money at it.

A Suggestion.

Quentin in Minneapolis Journal: A Duluth cow leads the country in butter fat, having produced enough for nearly 600 pounds of butter. One of these days, some bright Duluth mind will realize that their cows can be made to churn their own butter fat just by driving 'em up and down the streets.

Is the Money Really Earned?

"I buy some railway stock at 110," he says. "A year or two later I seize a favorable opportunity and sell it at 125. Is the increment earned or unearned? If I make a fortune or income by this method it would seem to be a fortune or an income not earned by productive service. To this it may be replied that the buyers and sellers of stocks are indirectly performing the function of adjusting demand and supply and so regulating industry. So far as they are expert business men trained in the knowledge of a particular market this may be so. So far as they dabble in the market in the hope of profiting from a favorable turn they appear rather as gamblers. I will not pretend to determine which of the two is the larger class. I would point out only that, on the face of the facts, the profits derived from this particular source appear to be rather in the nature of a tax which astute or fortunate individuals are able to levy on the producer, than as the reward which they obtain for a definite contribution on their own part to production."

Now observe carefully Mr. Hobhouse's suggestion for dealing with such a complex problem. There are two ways, he says. One might be a form of collective organization that would diminish the importance of the speculative market. But the other immediate practical suggestion is this:

"Experience," he says, "would rapidly show whether any such tax would actually hamper the process of production and distribution at any stage. If not, it would justify itself."

This means, of course, that society by experimenting can find out whether various forms of getting money without apparently doing a social service for it are really useful to society or not. If they prove useful then there is a social service performed by which they are really earned. If society seems to get along just as well without them then they are parasitical and ought to be discourage.

This test has a wide range of application. Think it over.

Good for Adults or Infants.

Lippincott's: Mike came to the doctor about 9 o'clock with the information that their month-old baby would not sleep a wink. The doctor gave Mike sleeping powders for the baby. The next day he met Mike on the street.

"Well, how did the powders work?" asked the doctor.

"Made the baby sleep, did they?"

"No, that they didn't, Doc. We gave the darlint a dose, just as you told me, but it wouldn't sleep at all, at all; so we just took a dose o' thim powders oursils, we did, and went right off to sleep, and niver heard the darlint cry one bit any more."

A Present.

Boston Transcript: He—What are you going to give Kitty and Jack for a wedding present?

She—Oh, I guess I'll send Kitty the bunch of letters Jack wrote me when we were engaged.

Lost Both Ways.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Senator Beveridge says the Progressives lost the election technically. None will deny it, or that they lost it in fact, either.

The Bryan "Influence"

Chicago Journal: Those who object to the "influence" of William J. Bryan should rather take heart of his example. They have at least as good a chance as he had.

The influence of Mr. Bryan has been gained without prestige or patronage of office, without glamour of victory, without favors of fortune. No public man of modern times has played against such continuous and unfaltering bad luck. No one has had so few powerful friends. No one has had such persistent and powerful enemies.

Mr. Bryan's influence is the triumph of unaided personality. It can be duplicated by anyone possessing equal courage, intelligence, magnetism and determination. Mr. Bryan's enemies, instead of rating him for his popularity, should try to rival him in service to the country.

Dangerous to Be Careless; Perilous Not to Be.

The Survey: Carelessness in factories is not guilty of all the things with which it is charged. If a man is too careful he is bound to get hurt because of his awkwardness. He must learn the motions so well that they become automatic. Then he is likely to get hurt whenever the machine balks. This dilemma is brought out by the Federal bureau of labor in a careful study of accidents in the metal trades.

Out of 517 accidents studied, 234 were charged to carelessness on the factory record. The record disputes this classification in the case of two groups of workers.

The first group consisted of workers who had been in the shops less than a week. Of these the report says:

"The faltering learner is in constant danger. The very intensity of his care is a source of danger; strained attention leads to action by anticipation. • • • Mangled fingers, a lost hand, or greater mutilation may result."

The other disputed group of accidents can be classed roughly as due to "taking risks."

"As practice continues," says the report, "the tension gradually subsides, and the worker attends less closely, but is vastly more safe.

"In his case danger intrudes. A very large number of mechanical processes involve a series of operations. Occasionally, to use a stamping press as an example, after the series of motions starts, the worker sees something wrong with the machine. This may start an entirely new series of actions, but does not stop the one already started. In an entirely involuntary way he reaches to adjust the disordered machine. • • • He will press the treadle and at the same time put his hand under the die."

If, then, the care-free automatic manner of working is best for both worker and product, the manufacturer should provide such safeguards that the operatives working automatically will be protected to so complete an extent that accidents are impossible.

Of Affectation.

Landor: There is nothing in poetry or indeed in society so unpleasant as affectation.

SOME RECORD GRAIN CARGOES

The largest load of wheat taken out of the Duluth harbor during the marine season just ended was carried to Buffalo by the C. L. Hutchinson. She took out 399,000 bushels. The largest cargo ever taken out of the harbor was that taken a few years ago by the De Graff, now the House, which took out 420,000 bushels. The largest cargo of barley ever taken out was by the Gen. Garretson on Nov. 29, 1912, the amount being 431,000 bushels.

The steamer W. P. Snyder, Jr., has taken for storage for the winter 415,000 bushels of wheat, the largest cargo at present afloat. The Schoonmaker has taken on 400,000 bushels but owing to the fact that she grounded at her elevator and was moved only with difficulty, no more was taken on for the present. She will be loaded still further in the spring.

Vessels are still being loaded at the elevators with storage grain, and it is expected that the last vessel will not be finished before the middle of next week.

CITY ENGINEER OPPOSED TO EMERGENCY INTAKES

City Using Them Not Only "Taking Chances" But Courting Death.

Favors Laying 30-Inch Iron Pipe as an Auxiliary Main.

City Engineer John Wilson believes that water pumped through the mains of a municipal system for fire or emergencies should be almost if not as good as the regular supply.

The city engineer is opposed to the use at any time of abandoned or so-called "emergency intakes." He says that the danger to life is too great to warrant the risk in the majority of instances.

Mr. Wilson states that he has not made any special investigation of the source of supply or of the mains conducting water to the city. He said that a careful examination might suggest other good possibilities, but if the opinion that unless another suitable substitute is provided, another main should be laid. He favors a 30-inch cast iron pipe, as the cast iron will accommodate a greater flow of water than the steel pipe. He explained that this is due to the rivets in the steel pipe setting up eddies which interfere with the flow. He added that cast iron pipes are much longer lived than steel pipes. When the present steel pipe has to be removed he stated that another 30-inch cast iron pipe could be laid paralelled and the two connected at intervals by short intersections. A profile would somewhat resemble a ladder with the steps a much greater distance apart. He said that this would reduce the friction and that in case of a break to either pipe, the supply could be cut from the broken pipe in the damaged section. He stated that the arrangement would give a considerably greater capacity than the present pipe and that he did not think the pumping costs would be materially increased. Mr. Wilson also asserted that in his opinion the cost of a parallel main would not cost as much as $300,000.

Emergency Intakes.

A trite, instructive and interesting article on "Emergency Intakes" was read by Dr. William P. Mason at the last meeting of the American Water Works association. Dr. Mason was president of the association for the 1910-11 term and is regarded as one of the leading water works experts of the country.

The following extract from his paper throws much light upon the problem:

"When an improved water is substituted for a former polluted supply it is a common and an unfortunate practice to allow the old connections to remain in place so that, in the event of an "emergency" valves may be opened and water from the abandoned intake be admitted to the city mains. Insurance rates depend upon ability to secure water for fire protection and insurance men are not especially particular as to the quality of water furnished for such a purpose. While we recognize the force of the argument which demands protection against fire, we cannot remain totally deaf to the question, 'How much does such protection cost?' an inquiry which in some cases almost takes the form, 'Which would a man prefer, loss to his house by fire or death by typhoid fever?'

"'Fire protection' has been very destructive of human life at times and we again inquire, is it wise to pay that kind of price for it? Ordinary sewage, being largely water, will readily put out a fire, but it is doubtful if the most stalwart advocates of an 'emergency system' would approve of admitting straight sewage to the street mains, even in the event of great danger of conflagration. The people at large would oppose such use of sewage, but with polluted water they are willing to 'take chances' in time of stress, being ignorant of the fact that they are dealing with 'certainties' not 'chances' when they open their 'emergency' gates. Let a few instances speak for themselves.

"At Newark, N. J., in February, 1899, because of water shortage, the polluted Passaic river was drawn upon for the city's supply. As a result there developed 395 typhoid cases and fifty deaths. It is true that public notice was given of the proposed use of Passaic water, but the bulk of the people are very careless about sanitary matters and ordinarily pay small attention to such warnings.

"At Lowell, Mass., in 1903, during the progress of a large fire, grossly polluted water was pumped into the city mains by reason of failure of certain check valves to seat themselves properly. An 'emergency arrangement' then existed whereby connection could be established between private fire lines and the city system. This 'arrangement' resulted in 231 typhoid cases and 10 deaths.

"At Butler, Pa., on Oct. 20, 1903, the filtered water supply became temporarily unavailable and polluted water was admitted to the mains from a former river intake. A serious epidemic of typhoid fever followed, resulting in 1,270 cases and 56 deaths.

"At Ottawa, Can., on Jan. 4, 1911, 'the emergency valve at Pier No. 1 was operated for some five hours and the pumps worked at a high rate of speed to pour water upon a burning storehouse.' Two weeks later a typhoid epidemic broke out with a record of many cases and deaths.

"Still more recently a Western city with which the writer had to do developed a serious typhoid epidemic which was traced, at least in part, to leakage of polluted water around a closed gate of the old emergency intake. There followed over 800 cases of typhoid and a rather high death rate.

"Do these 'emergency arrangements' pay? Is it good economy to put out a fire at the cost of much suffering and many human lives? Is it not wiser and cheaper and more humane to derive our emergency supplies from sources that are not greatly inferior to those that furnish the water regularly delivered to the people? Even an indifferent water improved by a sufficiently long storage would be distinctly better than the 'fire reserve' now too commonly employed."

ICE SUPPLY MUST BE PURE

Health Commissioner Says It Must Not Be Cut Near Sewers.

Excuse That It Is for Storage Only, No Longer Valid.

No ice will be cut at the mouths of any sewers in Duluth this year, if the health department knows it.

Dr. E. W. Fahey, health commissioner, stated this morning that the supply this winter must come from sources where the water is uncontaminated. He said that whether or not it is claimed that the ice is to be used for storage purposes only, the department proposes to enforce that regulation.

In past winters it is alleged that ice has been cut in considerable quantities from the bay and lake where it is unquestioned that the water is polluted. In one or two instances it is averred that ice has been taken directly opposite the outlets of sewers and that in others the water has been filled with foreign substance liable to be injurious to the health.

Dr. Fahey says that there is danger of the transmission of typhoid germs through ice. He says that if the typhoid germs are in the water they will be taken out in the ice, which is often used in drinking water, thus transferring them to the public.

Ice is now being cut at Spirit Lake, which is out of the forbidden zone. Later, if the lake freezes, a considerable cut will likely be made there at a sufficient distance from the shore to insure purity.

The indications are that in a year or two it will be impossible to take ice from Spirit Lake, due to the vast amount of refuse and waste which will be dumped into the St. Louis river from the steel plant and vicinity. The lake supply is not sure as some years it does not freeze sufficiently to furnish ice. In that case the source of the ice supply will become a problem. It is not impossible that ice for the Zenith City of the Unsalted Seas will have to be hauled in from some of the smaller tributary lakes. Or ice may have to be "raised" in reservoirs with water taken from the city mains. This is done in several cities, three or four or more crops being gathered from them. Artificial ice can always be made.

Portuguese Cattle Raiser and Party Attacked and Robbed.

Valenca-do-Minho, Portugal, Jan. 3.—A daring band of smugglers on the Portuguese-Spanish frontier carried off $90,000 in cash today after a fierce battle with a cattle raiser and forty of his herdsmen, during which nine of the cowboys were killed and fourteen severely wounded.

Jose Murilhaes, a well known cattle breeder in the province of Minho, had been for several weeks passing from fair to fair and had disposed of three herds of bulls. He then started for home, with the Portuguese equivalent of $90,000 in bank notes and cash with him, his forty herdsmen acting as guards.

While he was passing close to the border between Portugal and Spain he was suddenly attacked by a large band of armed smugglers, who fired on his party from behind rocks and thickets. The herdsmen returned the fire with vigor, but were finally forced to flee. The cowboys carried off Murilhaes, who had been seriously wounded, but left the whole of the money and twenty-three of their comrades on the field.

The civil guards of the entire province have been called out and are searching for the smugglers and the treasure, but no trace of them has been found.

GOETHALS NOT TO BE NOMINATED

Taft Drops Canal Zone Plan Owing to Senate Opposition.

Washington, Jan. 3.—President Taft today definitely told Senator Brandegee of Connecticut, chairman of the inter-oceanic canal committee, that he would not send to the senate the nomination of Col. George W. Goethals as civil governor of the Panama canal zone because of the opposition by Democratic senators to his appointment.

Nominations sent to the senate by the president included that of W. Fall Irons to remain register of the land office at Chamberlain, S. D.

Senator Brandegee, after personal investigation among Democratic senators, told the president it seemed impossible to have the proposed nomination of Col. Goethals confirmed. Some Democrats, he said, made the statement that at the time the Panama canal act was passed giving the president authority to appoint a civil governor and establish a new administration, there was an understanding that no immediate changes would be made by the Republican administration.

The president told Senator Brandegee that he knew of no such understanding, but he would not allow Col. Goethals' name to become involved in a political controversy. It is probable Mr. Wilson will be confronted with the task of forming the new zone government and settling many big problems of its administration.

HUSBAND IS AN HABITUAL DRUNKARD.

Con Scanlon, a familiar figure in police circles, and Mary Scanlon, a woman of Duluth's underworld, are no longer man and wife. In district court this morning Judge Dancer granted the divorce decree to Mrs. Scanlon on the grounds that her husband is an habitual drunkard.

Con has been in and out of police court almost continually for the past eighteen years and has a record of petty offenses, principally drunkenness, as long as a general election ballot.

Mary Scanlon, his wife, has followed an immoral life in the segregated district for many years.

In the divorce court this morning, Walter J. Richesen of the municipal court testified that Scanlon, during the past five years, had spent 320 days in jail. Police Officer Brouillette also testified as to the reputation of Con for peace and quietness.

On Nov. 20, last, Con was convicted of third degree assault after a trial in district court before Judge Dibell. In this case, it was shown that he had heaved a jug through a window at 239 St. Croix avenue, presumably at Mary, his wife, who was sitting inside close to the window. It narrowly escaped hitting her. Scanlon made the defense that he was drunk and consequently not responsible for his actions.

LAWMAKER'S CUTICLE

Grafton, N. D., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because his uncle, Ed Wambem of Lankin, N. D., a member of the North Dakota house of representatives, and several other relatives submitted to the removal of skin from their body that his own might be covered, Amond Flaton of Big Fork, Minn., was yesterday able to leave a local hospital, and he will live.

Several weeks ago Representative Wambem allowed physicians to remove a large amount of skin, the grafting operation proving very successful.

Flaton was burned in the explosion of a gasoline engine.

MINNESOTA POLITICS

O. J. Larson of Duluth Being Groomed for Governor by Minnesota Progressives—State Press Hard on Senate Combine—Two Range Men Candidates for Game and Fish Commission.

Larson For Governor.

Oscar J. Larson of Duluth is being talked for the Progressive party nomination for governor in 1914. Twin City members of the party look on Mr. Larson as suitable gubernatorial timber, and the boom will probably be launched at the Progressive conference to be held in St. Paul, Jan. 24.

The Progressives have set out to maintain their state organization. They are planning on doing a lot of preliminary organization during the next two years and then on entering the next campaign with a complete state ticket and a platform that will command attention. The plans demand early consideration of prospective candidates and Larson appears to have the field for the governorship just now.

Mr. Larson is one of the original Roosevelt men in Duluth. He worked hard for the colonel before the Republican convention in Chicago and was one of the delegates-at-large from Minnesota. He was also active in the Progressive county organization during the campaign. Duluth and St. Louis county gave Roosevelt the greatest majority in the recent election.

Though Mr. Larson is said to have been opposed to putting a third party ticket in the field in Minnesota in the recent campaign, he attended the national conference at Chicago recently and now seems to have cast his fortunes with the new party.

Hugh T. Halbert is promising great things for the conference at St. Paul this month. He expects delegates from North and South Dakota, Montana, Wisconsin and Michigan as well as Minnesota. Governor McGovern of Wisconsin has been invited to attend. William J. MacDonald of Calumet, Mich., the congressional candidate who was technically defeated by H. O. Young through MacDonald's name being misspelled on the ballots in Ontonagon county, will attend the St. Paul conference with a delegation of Progressive legislators from the Wolverine state.

Rapping Senate Combine.

The senate combine has dropped out of sight, so far as aggressiveness is concerned, although it continues to be the target for the shafts of the men of the state press.

The cry that Senators Sullivan, Duxbury et al were going to "organize the senate on progressive lines" didn't ring true with the state press and the editors didn't hesitate to express themselves. The senators involved were given to understand that a move such as that they contemplated would be received as a direct blow at progressive legislation and would be heard from later.

The plans of the combine will very likely be sprung at the session, but they are not expected to receive the support first claimed for them. Election is only two years away now and many of the senators have their ears to the ground. If they listen well they will not enter the combination against Burnquist.

Tribute to Dan O'Neill.

The Roseau Region, edited by George H. Mattson, former representative, says:

The Region would be pleased to see Hon. D. F. O'Neill of Thief River Falls made chairman of the house reapportionment committee. In the last session he secured the enactment of more bills than any other member, either in house or senate. He is aggressive and well balanced, possesses the rare faculty of making strong friends and retaining their respect. Reapportionment will not be brought about within a struggle. To most of the members of the legislature a fair reapportionment bill means one that favors the political interests of each member. Few will yield their personal ambition for the general good. A strong man is required at the head of the committee in order that all these interests may be harmonized. O'Neill, in our opinion, is the man for the job.

Range Has Candidates.

The range has two candidates for a place on the state game and fish commission. Virginia people would like to see W. B. Shaver appointed to the place. Hibbing has urged the appointment of Dr. H. R. Weirick, at present a member of the governor's staff. Either man would bring ability to the commission and there would very likely be no quarrel with the appointment of either. Two Harbors also has a candidate in Dr. J. D. Budd.

BOOMED FOR GOVERNOR BY PROGRESSIVE PARTY

AVOID ICEBERGS.

Trans-Atlantic Steamers Move Routes Further South.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Trans-Atlantic steamer lines have agreed to move their tracks to the southward in order to avoid icebergs, the change to become effective Jan. 25. The new tracks will be as follows:

Eastbound, cross 47 deg. west longitude, in 40 deg. north latitude; westbound, cross 47 deg. longitude in 41 north latitude. These crossings are 1 deg. or about sixty miles, to the southward of crossings heretofore used at that time of year.

The branch office at New York reports the new tracks are due to recommendations of the hydrographic office concerning tracks suggested by Capt. Jamison of the American line steamship St. Louis.

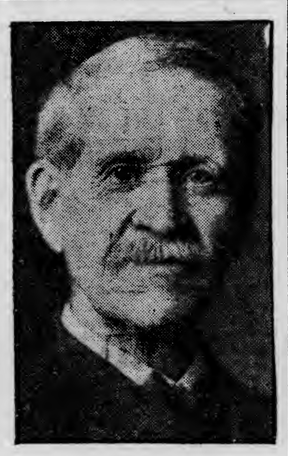

It is expected that the crossing agreed upon will remain in use until August, unless the ice comes down in abnormal quantities. Passengers thus will avoid much discomfort due to cold and heavy seas further north on the tracks now in use.

E. B. WILSON HEADS SCIENCE SOCIETY.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 3.—Prof. E. B. Wilson of Columbia university, New York, was elected president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, to succeed E. C. Pickering of Harvard, and it was decided to hold next year's meeting at Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 29, 1913, to Jan. 3, 1914.

H. W. Springston, Western Reserve university, Cleveland, was elected general secretary, and W. A. Wersham, Jr., University of Georgia, Atlanta, secretary of the council. The office of treasurer of the association was not filled.

SEMI-CENTENNIAL OF BATTLE OF STONE RIVER

MARCUS W. BATES.

Just fifty years ago yesterday Marcus W. Bates was upon the battlefield of Stone River, Tenn. Mr. Bates is a well known Civil war veteran and prominent member of the local G. A. R.

The evening of yesterday, half a century ago to a day, marked the end of the four days' battle between the Union forces, commanded by General Sheridan, and the Confederates, under General Bragg. The fighting started Dec. 30, 1862, and raged through Jan. 2, 1863.

Mr. Bates was serving as a quartermaster sergeant in the Twenty-first Michigan volunteers. He can remember the battle as though yesterday were the first anniversary instead of the fiftieth. He states that the weather was cold, with a cutting rain, which changed to sleet. The losses of both sides were heavy, that of his own regiment being 26 per cent, and the sufferings of both armies were intense.

REACH AGREEMENT ON AKELEY ESTATE

Widow of Minneapolis Lumberman Will Get Five-Twelfths.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 3.—By a compromise, the long legal battle over the estate of the late H. C. Akeley, wealthy Minneapolis lumberman, was ended. Mrs. Clara Hood Boyce Akeley, the widow, who was formerly the millionaire's housekeeper, is to receive five-twelfths of the estate, or approximately $500,000, and the remainder is to go to Akeley's daughter, Mrs. Florence Akeley Quirk.

Akeley died at Long Beach last July, and since that time the estate has been in litigation in California and Minnesota courts. Under the agreement reached yesterday, the estate is to be administered in both states.

Mrs. Quirk opposed the claim of her step-mother on the ground that the latter had been married to the aged lumberman only a year prior to his death, and therefore, as community property, all of the estate should have gone to the daughter.

Mrs. Akeley declared that she would give most of her new wealth to charity.

CHICAGO WANTS GRAIN RATE CUT.

Washington, Jan. 13.—The Chicago board of trade has petitioned the interstate commerce commission to reduce to 7½ cents the rate on grain for export from Omaha. The price from that point to Chicago now is 12 cents on wheat and 11 cents on coarse grain, and the charge is made that this is unjust as compared with a rate of 15½ cents from Omaha to New Orleans.

WRITER ON PRISON LIFE PARDONED.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3.—Donald Lowrie, author, social worker and one-time burglar, has been pardoned by Governor Hiram W. Johnson on a recommendation in which the state supreme court and the state prison directors joined.

Lowrie was twice a convict. Freed on Feb. 13, 1905, after serving five years for a burglary committed in Los Angeles county, he was re-arrested in May in Alameda county and sentenced to fifteen years in San Quentin.

After serving not quite five years of his term, he was paroled, and soon after obtaining his freedom he wrote a book on prison life.

THINK NEGRO KILLED LOGUE.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—A negro is now believed by the police to have slain J. H. Logue, a diamond dealer, who was killed in his office in the McVicker theater building on Dec. 20.

Capt. M. H. Evans examined a bloody handkerchief found in Logue's office, and supposed to have been used by the murderer in wiping his hands. He said the characteristics of the finger-prints were those of a negro.

"The man that left that mark had a broad thumb," he said. "The distance between the center of the thumb and the edge is fully half an inch. That is a negro characteristic."

Several negroes have been under suspicion, and the police examined one. He proved an alibi.

GIVES NOTICE OF SUICIDE; FAILS

Denver Man's Ignorance of Firearm Spoils His Plan for Death.

Denver, Colo., Jan. 3.—A letter received by the city editor of a Denver paper stated that the writer, Dr. George Cates, would be dead by his own hand before the missive reached its destination. A reporter was sent to address given in the note and found Cates fumbling with an automatic pistol, the mechanism of which he didn't understand. The reporter persuaded him to give up the pistol and abandon his attempt at suicide.

Cates said he tried twice to kill himself, but failed because the weapon would not explode. He was on the point of making a third attempt when the reporter entered his apartment. He had no reason for his desire to commit suicide except to say that he would be better off dead.

ECZEMA

Also called Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured, I mean just what I say—C-U-R-E-D, and not merely patched up for awhile, to return worse than before. Remember I make this broad statement after putting twelve years of my time on this one disease and handling in the meantime nearly a half million cases of this dreadful disease. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TODAY, I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed treatment that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged, I dare you to give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me today you will enjoy more real comfort than you had ever thought this world holds for you. Just try it and you will see I am telling you the truth.

THEY PREFER CITY SCHOOLS

North Dakota Normal Graduates Shun Teaching in Rural Schools.

Many Reasons Offered for Not Caring for Country Teaching.

Mayville, N. D., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Normal school graduates shun teaching in the country school, according to figures obtained by President Hillyer of the Mayville normal. He has secured from the members of one senior class recently graduated the reasons why they prefer the city and town schools to service in the rural districts. The reasons the men and women following teaching as a profession, give for not liking rural schools are: Poor buildings, poorly heated and ventilated; yards small, treeless and dirty; lack of equipment; no janitor; too many grades; too short periods; irregular attendance; terms often too short; salaries often too low; unsatisfactory boarding places; no good place to study; boarding place often too far from school; too much exposure—and to weather alone; little or no chance to attend church; too few lectures, entertainments, books, magazines and newspapers; too few agreeable companions; can seldom get to town; too lonesome; little or no chance for advancements—why go to a normal school, if not for something better?

Worthy of Consideration.

Commenting upon these reasons, President Hillyer says:

"Whether these reasons are justified or not, they were given with seriousness and conviction, and without the least of either the snobbishness that would indicate a false sense of superiority to country folks and conditions, or the wrong ambition to take life otherwise than strenuously and earnestly.

"Whatever may be thought as to the soundness of the reasons given for not wanting to teach in the country, it seems to be an important fact that normal school graduates generally do feel just as these seniors. If the reasons are not sound, they should be educated out of the mind of normal school students and normal schools can't go about the task any too energetically. If they are sound, normal school students should cling to them and neither they nor the normal schools should be blamed for doing so.

"If they are sound, the transformation needed is not upon the side of the normal school and graduate, but upon the side of the country school and its environment. Anyhow, no one need expect anything else than that normal school graduates will continue to avoid the country and go into the town and city until, in some way, the teacher's work and life in the country are made to appear more attractive to them."

HISTORIC DRUMS WILL BE BEATEN

Grand Rapids Man's War Relics to Be Used at G. A. R. Dance.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Weitzel of Grand Rapids, a 79-year-old fifer who played the calls at Grant's headquarters at Petersburg and on other Civil war fields, is one of the orchestra to supply music for the old time dance to be given Monday evening in the city hall for the benefit of the local G. A. R. post.

Mr. Weitzel will bring with him two old drums, a snare drum which was carried through the Civil war and which still has the holes in the heads made by a Confederate bullet at the second battle of Bull Run, which lodged in its player's knapsack, and a bass drum made in Germantown, Pa., in 1774. The latter was used by Mr. Weitzel's great grandfather through the Civil war and was later found in his grandmother's attic with one head knocked out, being used as a waste basket.

Other Veterans to Play.

C. A. Parker of this city will play the snare, and Frank Breneman, the bass drum. George Irish, a Civil war veteran, will play the violin and call for the first set. Henry Revore of Nymore, another veteran, will play first violin; Melvin H. Slausen, the second, and Ward S. Chapman, the bass viol.

The dance program will include, among other "old-timers," the "Money Musk," "Virginia Reel" and "Fisher's Horn Pipe" dances.

Real army rations will be drawn in real army style. At 11 o'clock the veterans will line up and go through a marching and gun drill, finally drawing up before the commissary to receive their pork, beans, hardtack and coffee as in the early '60s. While real, old-fashioned hardtack will be on hand, some crackers may be used, for, as one veteran said, "The hardtack will be so d—— hard that us old fellows can't use it." The same fare will be supplied to as many dancers as want it.

W. E. McLachlin will be floor manager. Tickets will be sold for $1. The receipts will be used to care for sick Civil war veterans.

Ex-County Treasurer Accused.

Rapid City, S. D., Jan. 3.—Former County Treasurer George E. Flavin has been arrested on charges of embezzling $32,000 from the funds of this county during his term of office, from 1908 to 1912. Flavin resigned office in the latter year to become manager of a company at Panama. A year ago county officials instituted an investigation of the county office, and their expert reported the shortage.

HYDE CASE CAUSE OF WAGNER RESIGNATION

South Dakotan Says He Objected to Leniency for Rich Man.

Mitchell, S. D., Jan. 3.—Edward E. Wagner, whose resignation as United States district attorney for South Dakota, was accepted yesterday, says he resigned because Attorney General Wickersham asked him to make request of Federal Judge Elliott that commitment in the case of Charles L. Hyde be withheld for sixty days.

"Charles L. Hyde, who is wealthy, had been sentenced by Judge Elliott to fifteen months imprisonment," said Wagner. "Attorney General Wickersham asked me to request Judge Elliott to withhold commitment of Hyde pending action on the latter's application to the president for pardon.

"I regard the request as unusual. Such privilege has not been accorded other prisoners in the district during my term in office, and there have been many convictions. I felt that Hyde was entitled only to treatment accorded other prisoners convicted of crime. When Hyde's conviction was sustained by the United States court of appeals, I felt that the cause of justice had accomplished something of a victory, and that Hyde, without regard to his wealth, should be given treatment of other prisoners.

"I could not agree with the attorney general as to the justice of withholding commitment papers, and sent him my resignation."

Reproved By Wickersham.

Washington, Jan. 3.—The resignation of Wagner is an indirect result of the application to President Taft for the pardon of Charles L. Hyde of Pierre, S. D., sentenced to one year and three months for alleged fraudulent use of the mails in connection with the sale of town lots in South Dakota. Wagner is said to be strongly opposed to the president's pardoning Hyde, whose right to clemency is being investigated by Attorney General Wickersham.

The attorney general said he had been displeased by Wagner's attitude, wrote him a sharp letter and summoned him to Washington for a conference, and instead of complying with the summons, Wagner tendered his resignation.

MUNICIPAL SALOON BARRED IN MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Municipally owned saloons can not be operated in Minnesota under the present statutes, according to an opinion given a citizen of Good Thunder by Attorney General Smith yesterday. The opinion was in response to a letter which said:

"We have three saloons in our village of 500 people and there is much dissatisfaction over the laxity with which they are run. It out of the question to vote them out on account of the sentiment here, but if it would be permissible to establish a municipal saloon, sometimes called the 'Copenhagen system,' which could be more easily controlled, I think that could be voted in. I would like your opinion if it would be constitutional for a village to conduct such a business."

TO ENRICH SOIL.

Railroad Magnate Is Experimenting With Soil Fertility.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 3.—In the green houses of James J. Hill, in the rear of his Summit avenue residence, where the railroad man, without the knowledge of the world, has been carrying on for the last two months an experiment expected to revolutionize agriculture, six men representing commercial and financial Minneapolis witnessed astonishing results in wheat, oats and barley culture, achieved by new chemical soil analysis and its practical application.

Phosphorus has been found to be the great essential plant food, lacking in the soil of the northwest. Mr. Hill has found the way, he told the Minneapolis men, to increase soil fertility.

"I believe," Mr. Hill said, "that we have found what to do, and we are going to do it. We can, by the application of these methods, increase the production of grain in the Northwestern states to twice the quantity given in the figures of the department of agriculture for 1912."

WALTER MILLER, the impulsive Pole, and Matsuda, mysterious as Orientals are, types of the fiery and fierce battler of the occident and the sly, crafty and cat-like athlete of the Orient, will meet this evening at the Auditorium.

Duluth has seen some of the strongest men, in fact the strongest men, in the world in action and apparently has enjoyed the struggles. When the Jap and the Pole meet it will be to provide a contest of a different nature. Two of the swiftest and most scientific men in the whole realm of the mat game are to come together.

Frankly Miller should win. He is one of the greatest little Tartars in the field of wrestling. In Matsuda he is going to encounter a wizard of speed and a veritable human puzzle box of tricks. Matsuda might catch the Pole napping and fling his stocky shoulders to the canvass. He might and he might not. It should be truly a glittering display of mat pyrotechnics, and if Miller wins he will have to speed up and show one of the best sides of his sweet wrestling nature that he has given us this winter.

Tonight's contest will be the last one the little Pole will figure in before he tackles Yokel—that is, in Duluth. Negotiations are in full swing with the wonderful squat Bohemian of Salt Lake City. So far this Yokel yokel has shown a tendency to want the world. He says the match with Miller will be for the championship of the world—and he wants his. When Mike gets out of the balloon perhaps the articles will be signed.

JIMMY BRADY dropped in yesterday afternoon and stuck information pins into a paper of dope. The lad from Chicago knows a thing or two regarding who's who in the fighting game.

"A little over a year ago this McCarty was nothing," spoke forth James. He fought some guy down in Indiana and he wanted to quit and claim a foul. Ed Smith was the referee of the go, and like the rest of us he believed that this illustrious Luther bore all the marks of a boob.

"He came back to Chicago and then occurred the incident of his being chased forth into the cold and dreary world from the confines of O'Connell's gymnasium. Believe me, when a fighter isn't classy enough to get into O'Connell's, he's bad; yes, very much a la cheese.

"The next thing we heard of this fellow he'd gone and cut out a nice round chunk of fame—knocked Carl Morris stiff. Everyone was surprised; say, I'll bet Luther was, too, at that time.

"Most of those who follow fighters are acquainted with the rest of the game he has played. With every fight McCarty has shown remarkable improvement—now he begins to look like one of the real ones of the fight game.

"Say, just another little throb before I blow: Did you know that 'Barrel' Smith, the smoke who used to call Duluth home some time back, was one of the first trainers of this McCarty. That's a fact.

"Around Fargo the pair used to hang out. I've heard that Luther married when he was 17. That's probably the lady who said it mattered little to her what big Mac did, as she nonchalantly peeled the spuds. What little McCarty knew of boxing in those days he gathered from old 'Barrel,' though the chances are that the ebony one will never get the credit of even giving Luther one little shove toward the pinnacle of fame he occupies now.

"Take this down—don't overlook Jess Willard. He is from Texas and loves to fight. His black eyes, with a fierce look in them, snap like balls of fire when he gets sore, which is often, and he will fight like a demon. He's a wicked boy and they all have to be careful when they mix with him."

DULUTH AFTER CLEVELAND GAME

Houghton and Local Team May Play Crack Forest City Stars.

With the chances favoring the making of ice on the Duluth Curling club's rink today, interest in hockey is reaching the stage where the fans are eagerly looking forward to the first game of the season.

According to the statement given out today by Chairman Guy Warren of the hockey committee of the curling club, Virginia will be the first out-of-town team to line up against Duluth in the magnificent new rink, the date for the coming of the range aggregation having been set for Jan. 17.

Definite dates have been arranged for the games with Houghton. The Duluth team will journey to that city and lineup in the big Amphidrome against the crack amateurs of Houghton, these contests being scheduled for Jan. 27 and 28.

On Jan. 24 the crack Fort Frances team is scheduled to play here, and later on the Phoenix and White Bear teams, both of St. Paul, will be seen in action here.

The management of the Amphidrome is negotiating with the crack team of Cleveland, the same aggregation that Coddy Winters plays on. If the Clevelands decide to come west and play a series of games at the Houghton Amphidrome, Duluth will get in on this big winter sport attraction, and the Forest City stars will be booked for a game here some time late this month or during February.

The curling club hockey team has been practicing hard for the past two weeks, and it has begun to develop some team work. With Joe Linder coaching the boys, there is already an improvement in the play. The addition of Dr. John Tamblyn to the local seven has also been the means of strengthening it.

Duluth is in for the best hockey games it has had in years, and with the date of the first game just two weeks away, interest in the sport has begun to increase by leaps and bounds.

There are many ways to get caught violating the game laws.

One of them is to talk too much. In fact, it's a pretty good way, as has been demonstrated in the past. It was demonstrated again this week and undoubtedly will be demonstrated again in other weeks to come.

If you're planning on a banquet and are of the kind of alleged sportsmen who not only violate the laws yourself, but encourage others to do so by holding forth cash inducements, be very careful of your conversation. That is, if you are planning to buy game out of season to serve at the festal board.

When discussing ways and means it might be an excellent idea to lock yourself and your fellow conspirator in an icebox after making sure that the walls have no ears, and then not communicate above a whisper. Or you might get into the middle of a big field where you can see long distances in all directions.

Had certain Duluthians done any of those things, Lot Barager and another settler living on the Cloquet river would not be in difficulty. Several days ago Deputy Game Warden Thomas J. Storey happened to be making a purchase in a downtown store. He heard moose and venison mentioned. He pricked up his ears. The subject was one of much interest to him. He listened. He heard one say that he had purchased moose meat a short while ago and knew where he could get some nice venison. It was to be served to a chosen few who were to have a banquet in a short while. Directions were given as to how to find the place where the venison could be secured. The man who was going wasn't sure he could find the road and the other told him that if he couldn't the liveryman at a certain stable could give him a driver familiar with the country.

The warden got busy. When the man came for his team his request for a driver acquainted outside the city was filled without difficulty. The driver was Deputy Game Warden Archie Boyd. Oh, yes, he knew the road. He had been over it a lot of times. Nothing to it. He drove his passenger right to Barager's door. The passenger asked for venison. Barager didn't have it, but he knew where he could get it. He hopped into the sleigh and the accommodating driver took them right to the other man's place. There Barager is said to have gotten a fine saddle of venison. Coming out it is asserted that he exchanged the saddle with the passenger for a $10 note.

But that juicy saddle will never see a banquet table for which it was intended. The team was met inside the city by Deputy Game Warden Storey, and the saddle became the property of the state. Incidentally a number of warrants have been issued. Barager and his neighbor are expected to appear in court today.

"Tough luck," said the driver to his passenger. "Those game wardens are certainly mean cusses." The passenger heartily agreed with the driver. He said some things about game wardens which would be a waste of time writing, as they would never appear in print.

Strachan Visits Brainerd.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Strachan, now superintendent of the Dakota division of the Northern Pacific railway, visited Brainerd in his office car and was accompanied by his wife and children. Mr. Strachan was formerly superintendent at Brainerd and later at Duluth.

Do you imagine that any worthwhile buyer of real estate is going to overlook your ad in this paper? Not unless he is sick abed.

FIELD WORK IS KEYNOTE

Urges Co-Operation of County, State and National Governments.

Organization for agricultural development in Minnesota will reach its greatest efficiency only when the county, state and federal government combine to finance permanently the field work necessary.

That is the opinion of A. D. Wilson, superintendent of the extension division and farmers' institutes of the state agricultural college. Prof. Wilson is in Duluth today to attend a meeting of the agricultural committee of the Commercial club to discuss the proposed district organization in Northeastern Minnesota.

Just now the extension division of the agricultural college is interested in the forming of county organizations to take charge of development work. Seven counties have already organized and have engaged field men, one for each county. Each county has subscribed $1,000 for the work, and has guaranteed $1,000 for the second year. The extension division is allowed to spend $200 in each county. The department also has $5,000 of government money to be allotted in sums of $65 a month to each county. Four additional counties may be cared for by that sum.

The organization entitles each county to $1,000 of the sum being distributed by the crop committee of the Council of Grain Exchanges, but that is only for a single year.

A movement is now on to have the legislature pass a law at the coming session giving county boards authority to appropriate $1,000 annually for agricultural development work within the county.

"I would like to see the state pass a law on the principle of the Putnam act providing state aid for agricultural high schools,' said Prof. Wilson today. "It should provide that any county which has appropriated or raised $1,000 for agricultural development shall be entitled to the same amount annually from the state. The Federal government should take similar action.

"About $3,000 annually is needed for the work in each county. If the county, state and Federal government were to unite in providing the money yearly the problem of organization and financing would be solved.

"The federal department of agriculture spends much money yearly in research work. Considerable money is expended by the state in research and immigration. The research work is without avail unless some channels are opened to convey the information to the farmers.

"The county agricultural agent, supported by county, state and nation would be in a position to act as a medium through which the results of research work would be made available to the farmers. He wouldn't be a man thrust upon the farmers to show them how to farm. He would be a man to work with them in solving their problems, and he would open to him the mines of information of the state and Federal agricultural departments.

"The best sort of immigration work is done right among the settlers already on the ground. To make them contented with their lot, to teach them the best methods of farming, to shape things so that their production is ample to meet their needs are the lines of endeavor now most necessary. The successful farmer will attract others to the land."

Prof. Wilson says many short courses are being held this winter by the extension division. Efforts are being made to bring the farmers into cooperation to obtain uniformity of crops and co-operative marketing.

Plans for the Duluth demonstration farm school are going along satisfactorily in Prof. Wilson's opinion, and the site will be a scene of activity next spring.

CASE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

Church Trial Involving Hibbing Methodist Pastor Is Ended.

Mr. Elayer Says Charges Were Made on Hearsay Evidence.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The church trial involving Rev. E. W. Elayer of Hibbing, Minn., and Rev. Thomas E. Green of St. Louis, begun here Tuesday, closed late yesterday afternoon when a settlement was effected practically out of court. By the terms of the settlement, Rev. Mr. Elayer signed a statement asserting that the charges he had made against Rev. Mr. Green were based only on hearsay evidence with no knowledge of the facts and the charges of defamation of character, lying and disobedience to the authority of the church, instituted by Rev. Mr. Green against Rev. Mr. Elayer, were withdrawn. The position of both ministers in their respective conferences remains the same.

Cause of the Trial.

The trial came as the result of an exchange of pulpits between Rev. Mr. Elayer and Rev. Mr. Green, the former was pastor of Wagoner Memorial Methodist-Episcopal church at St. Louis and the latter was pastor of the Foss Methodist-Episcopal church of Minneapolis. After the exchange of pulpits in March, 1912, Rev. Mr. Green alleged that Rev. Mr. Elayer wrote to members of Wagoner church of which he is pastor, attacking his character. Rev. Mr. Green retaliated by filing three charges against Rev. Mr. Elayer in the Northern Minnesota Methodist-Episcopal conference.

Rev. E. C. Horn, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church of Minneapolis, who was appointed to announce the terms of settlement to the press, made the following statement:

Based on Hearsay.

"A settlement has been reached practically out of court. To both sides it was apparent that the allegations largely were based on hearsay evidence and when counsel for the two pastors found this to be the case, and knowing that hearsay evidence had no standing either in civil or ecclesiastical courts, they made overtures of settlement, which proved satisfactory to both pastors.

"On consent and advice of counsel, Rev. E. W. Elayer signed a statement to the effect that the reports he had made reflecting on the character of Rev. Thomas E. Green were based entirely on hearsay evidence, and not upon personal knowledge.

Result of Indiscretions.

"The charges were withdrawn by Rev. Mr. Green, who also went on record to the effect that the rumors that have been given publication were simply the result of indiscretions on his own part and for which he expressed contrition, putting the same in a formal document. The evidence was not all in, but the principal witnesses had failed to produce damaging testimony; therefore the negotiations for settlement were begun. The settlement leaves both pastors in their present standing in their respective conferences."

Rev. John Wirt King, pastor of Lindell Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, St. Louis, acted as counsel in the trial for Rev. Mr. Green. Rev. Albert H. Hanscom, pastor of Olivet church in Minneapolis, was counsel for Rev. Mr. Elayer.

THREE CHANGES IN COURTHOUSE

Otherwise the Old Itasca County Officials Still Hold Old Jobs.

Grand Rapids, Minn., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are three new faces among Itasca county officials today as a result of the new year: John E. McMahon, who succeeds Glen Strader as county treasurer, Oscar J. Lidbert, county surveyor, vice John A. Brown, who held the position ten years, and James A. Passard, who succeeds Neil Mullins as commissioner from the Fourth district, having won over four. Mr. Mullins not being a candidate.

Those Who Hold Over.

The officers re-elected are, M. A. Epang, county auditor; E. J. McGowan, register of deeds; I. D. Rassmussen, clerk of court; T. T. Riley, sheriff; Clarence B. Webster, judge of probate; R. A. McOuat, county attorney; Mrs. Whipple, superintendent of schools, and Morris O'Brien, county commissioner, Second district.

The officers who held over, and who did not require an election are Cyrus M. King, Andy Nelson and Dr. John Sheliman, county commissioners from the First, Third and Fifth commissioner districts, respectively, and W. B. Taylor, court commissioner.

Mr. McMahon, the new treasurer, is a young man who grew up from babyhood in Grand Rapids. He has held many positions of trust, including the offices of village treasurer and deputy county auditor, which latter position he resigned last fall to enter the race for treasurer. He has appointed Jerome H. Meyers, another pioneer young man of Grand Rapids, as his chief deputy.

Is Coleraine Man.

Mr. Lidberg, the new county surveyor, is from the Oliver Iron Mining company engineering staff at Coleraine, having been employed with the mining company since they started operations in the Canisteo district, and having been well up toward the top of the ladder in the company's Canisteo district operations at the time of his election.

Mr. Passard is not new to the duties of county commissioner. Until four years ago he had been commissioner for a period of six years, and his going onto the board at this time will be like resuming old duties Mr. Passard when on the board before made a splendid record, and it goes without saying that he will make a valuable member of that important body during his present term.

No More Constipation

It's Me for Olive Tablets!

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and Calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated tablets.

They cause the bowels and liver to act normal. They never force them to unnatural action.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are so easy to take that children do not regard them as "medicine" at all.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Olive Tablets at bedtime. They're perfectly harmless.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

The mercury took a little drop to zero during the night and it went about 2 deg. below shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. The change to sharp, crisp conditions was welcomed by Duluth people, for zero temperature is quite the thing in the Zenith City in January. Snow flurries and continued cold weather are predicted for tonight and to morrow.

The mercury went to 20 deg. below zero a year ago today and the high mark was 6 deg. below.

The sun rose this morning at 7:54 and it will set at 4:31 this evening, giving eight hours and thirty-seven minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"A disturbance of great intensity centered over Pennsylvania, Maryland and the District of Columbia caused light to heavy falls of snow or rain from the Mississipi valley eastward to the Atlantic coast, besides a marked increase in temperature in Atlantic states during the last twenty-four hours. Much colder weather prevails in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, West Gulf coast sections, the lake region and Western Ontario, zero temperature occurring in Northern Minnesota, Northwestern Wisconsin, Northeastern North Dakota, Manitoba and Western Ontario. The disturbance overlying Montana has caused warmer weather over the Rocky mountains and eastern slopes and snow or rain throughout the Far Northwest."

to Leavenworth before a hearing on a writ of error had been held.

Claimed It As a Right.

"Do you mean to tell me that a writ of supersedeas should issue as a matter of right?" inquired Judge Baker.

"That is my understanding," replied Zoline, who then began quoting supreme court decisions which he said bore on the point.

Judge Baker said that the point of the writ of error was not well taken. He added that there was no occasion for the court of appeals to supervene in any case unless it is shown that the procedure of the lower court was questionable at law.

Replying to this, Zoline declared that the evidence on which convictions were obtained at Indianapolis "was vague and inadequate," and that the judge of the lower court should not have allowed the cases of many of the defendants to go to the jury at all.

Union Believes in Tveitmoe.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 3.—In jail or out, the California Building Trades council will continue to support its secretary, Olaf A. Tveitmoe, and the other union men convicted at Indianapolis.

P. H. McCarthy, president of the council, will publish over his name in the forthcoming number of Organized Labor, a statement in part as follows:

"Labor believes that the jury erred in its verdict. A plain statement of the verdict stamps it as a miscarriage of justice.

"The fact undoubtedly will be driven home that while indictments galore are brought against trust magnates and that monopoly is ordered to dissolve and now and then fines are imposed—and never paid—only the workers go to jail. And when this truth soaks in, there will be a tremendous change.

"No Surrender."

"In order that there may be no misunderstanding, the fact may as well be realized now as later that there will be no surrender on the part of organized labor; that it will battle with renewed vigor; that the trades unions of the country will refuse to accept the verdict of guilty rendered at Indianapolis, but will continue to look on the imprisoned men as brothers and regard them with affection, and will exert every effort to restore them to their families, to their friends and to the cause for which they have been made to suffer."

Woman's Realm

John G. Ross of the Humane society talked to the members of the Woman's Council this morning at their regular meeting held at the library clubroom with Mrs. W. H. Burris presiding, on the work being done by the Humane society, its aims and duties and asked that the members of the council report back to the clubs which they represent and enlist their interest in the work. The duties of the society, he said, are becoming really greater than can be carried on by the workers and he asked that the women aid with their interest and suggested that a material help would be the supervision of the dance halls either by members of the clubs themselves or the raising of a fund to pay some one person for this work. He read a report of the work done in just one month last year as an example of what is being accomplished and the women expressed their interest in the work.

Mrs. I. P. Swangle, chairman of the committee on finance of the Humane society, suggested that the taking out of memberships in the Humane society either by individuals or by clubs would materially aid the work.

Smoke Nuisance.

Mrs. P. L. De Voist reported for the smoke committee that from an investigation of what is being done in other cities to combat the smoke nuisance they had learned that of fifty-two cities written to in regard to the matter, forty-two have committees working on this matter incorporated in the board of public health and that Philadelphia seems to be making the most headway against the trouble of any of them.

Civic Banquet.

Mrs. R. N. Marble, chairman of the committee in charge of the annual civic banquet to be given by the council next Wednesday evening at the Spalding hotel at 6:30 o'clock, reported on what arrangements had been made and asked the names of the members who would be willing to act as hostesses at that event. She stated that tickets are on sale at Chamberlain & Taylor's, the library and by members of the committee and spoke of the strong program of toasts arranged.

A discussion as to whether or not members-at-large should have an equal voting privilege with the regular delegates to the council was carried over to the next meeting.

Free Dental Office.

The letter received by the council from Dr. Schroeder, one of the visiting physicians of the school board, suggesting the need of a free dental office for the school children unable to pay for dental work and asking for the cooperation of the Woman's Council in establishing such an office at a probable cost of $500 or $600, was read and after some discussion was referred to a committee appointed by the president, consisting of Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, Mrs. Arthur Barnes and Mrs. W. H. Vaughan for consideration, the committee to report at the next meeting of the council.

The council voted to instruct the treasurer to pay the traveling expenses of Miss Josephine Schain of Minneapolis, who will be one of the speakers at the civic banquet here next Wednesday.

Mrs. C. H. Merritt was duly elected a member-at-large of the Woman's Council, her name being presented by Mrs. P. L. De Voist and having been acted upon by the advisory board of the council.

Announcement was made of the entertainment which will be given at the Lyceum theater on Jan. 16, by colored people of the city for the benefit of the newly organized Frederick Douglas center here, and tickets were placed on sale at the library.

The lecture by Prof. Maria Sanford on "Kipling" Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club, was also announced and mention was made of the opening of the University extension course at the Y. M. C. A. on Jan. 9, for which a class of over twenty-five has already been arranged.

ARTISTS' RECITAL DELIGHTS BIG AUDIENCE OF DULUTHIANS

Mme. Corinne Rider-Kelsey and Claude Cunningham gave a joint song recital last evening which was much enjoyed by members of the Matinee Musicale and a large number of men who were guests at the concert. The Pilgrim Congregational church was filled to the doors with those interested in hearing a really artistic performance and the singers received enthusiastic applause for their work.

Both singers have delightfully perfect control and sing with ease. They opened the program with two duets, "La ci darem" by Mozart and "Nuit D'Asure" by Beethoven which set the standard for the program which followed.

Mr. Cunningham has a full rich voice of remarkable smoothness and his song in English, "I Had a Flower" was perhaps the most enjoyed of all his numbers and he was forced to repeat it.

Mme. Rider-Kelsey has a pure clear soprano voice of charm and remarkably sweetness and her numbers were varied and well balanced. Her singing of "Chanson Provencale," Dell' Acqua was given with a fire and artistic finish which received an ovation unmistakably sincere from her hearers.

The duet numbers were given with delightful harmony, and clearness of enunciation was also a distinctive charm of both of the singers.

This was the second artists' recital of the year and was enjoyed thoroughly by the club.

Miss Winafred Mayhall, accompanist for the evening added much to the pleasure of the program with her work.

PRAISES O'HARA.

Minneapolis Critic Speaks Highly of Irish Actor.

The Minneapolis Journal published the following on the appearance of Fiske O'Hara at the Metropolitan in that city last week:

"Fiske O'Hara, tall and tuneful, smiles and sings his assured way through 'The Rose of Kildare' with true Hibernian insouciance. The greater the danger, the more smilingly calm is the O'Hara hero. Even when about to be shot, he jests with a freedom which seems to indicate his confidence in the kindness of fate. And when the orchestra gives premonitory symptoms of a song coming on, he accepts its suggestion and bursts into some tender tenor romanza, reckless of the propinquity of spies and soldiers. It is a fine rich tenor, and the words are all slurred together in that inarticulate way to which romantic Irish tenors seem partial. The songs are beautiful, too, and so everyone is satisfied—including Mr. O'Hara himself.

"'The Rose of Kildare,' in which Mr. O'Hara makes his advent into the first-class houses, is a pretty bit of romance, fashioned on traditional lines by Edward Paulton and Charles Bradley. Augustus Pitou, Jr., also carrying out the traditions of his family, is introducing the new star, and has furnished a beautiful setting for the play, including a rocky glen where an illusory and noiseless cataract plunges over a ledge at the back of the stage. The company in support is sufficient for its task. It is headed by Constance Molineaux, who is pretty and appealing, and knows how to look intensely affected by the songs. J. P. Sullivan as the innkeeper, Marie Quinn as his vivacious daughter, John C. Hickey as her lover, and Jack Paulton as an English cockney sergeant, further their share of the comedy and the color. There are also Dean Raymond as the soft-hearted English commander, Carroll Daly as the utterly unprincipled Irish loyalist, James E. Miller as the good old priest, and Mildred Beverly as the treacherous companion of the heroine."

The seat sale for Mr. O'Hara's engagement continues to give hope that the benefit for St. James' orphanage will be a successful one. Mr. O'Hara's performances at the Lyceum Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a matinee Wednesday, will be under the auspices of Duluth council, Knights of Columbus, for the benefit of St. James' orphanage. His engagement will open Sunday, with a matinee and night performance.

WHAT ISAAC PITMAN DID FOR WOMEN OF THE WORLD

(By the Blonde Stenographer.)

The man who created jobs for millions of women would have been 100 years old today, if he were alive.

This is the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Isaac Pitman, who invented shorthand.

Do you know what this Pitman man did?

He's the man who emancipated many millions of women from the kitchen.

He's the man who put the blonde in woman's hair—that is all except mine. You never think of blondes without thinking of blonde stenographers, do you?

He's the man who has broken up many happy homes by making it possible to find a blonde hair on hubby's coat.

He's the man that made the chewing gum trust possible.

He's the man who started business colleges on their profitable way.

He's the man who started all this modern fuss about the invasion of women. If it hadn't been for stenographer's butting into business you wouldn't hear anything about the women's invasion.

Pitman has to answer for all this trash that is being written about woman's sphere and woman's duty in the home

Pitman started the woman's suffrage movement, I guess. If he hadn't yanked several million women out of their kitchens, you wouldn't find so many women wanting their rights.

Yes, on the whole, Isaac was a "regular guy," and we women have a lot to be thankful to him for. He gave so many of us a decent way to earn a living without being forced to be content with nothing better than kitchen work all our lives.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Selfishness in Women Who Do Not Wish to Marry.

A woman's publication recently undertook to find out just what was in the minds of bachelors, men and maids, concerning matrimony. One of the latter, replying to the circular sent broadcast, said: "Why should I get married? Wouldn't I be much worse off, unless I had extraordinarly good fortune? It would take a man with an assured income of nearly a hundred dollars a week to tempt me. My $25 a week is all my own. My living, and it's a good living, a part of an apartment with a widowed friend—costs me only $10. That gives me $15 to spend or save, and no one can criticize or find fault with me. There isn't a married friend of mine who has anything like the money for dressing that I do."

Why, indeed? Probably better unmarried, because a woman who has not a finer outlook on life and no clearer understanding of its meaning would not be likely to take kindly to many of its hardships and sacrifices, even when a lack of money is no drawback in domestic relation. The thing that astounds and hurts one is the tendency towards selfishness of the most supreme order. There are, as this little series of chats on matrimony have shown, both men and women wholly self-centered and without a single idea beyond that of preserving their own ease and contentment. Where would the world be if every woman should demand a husband with an income approximating one hundred dollars a week? Or if every woman should think whole-souledly of her comfort, and disregard many other elements that make just as solidly for human happiness.

The woman with a weekly wage of $25 a week may think it will buy comfort and happiness for her. And so it will for a time, so it may forever, in her peculiar case, but later in life, when not a few will see how they could have made life better and sweeter by giving more of themselves.

It is something to give sons and daughters to the world and to start them as near right as one can in the face of human limitations.

I have never seen a tired, worn, shabby little woman mothering her brood of sturdy or puny little folk, as the case may be, that I do not do her reverence in my heart. She represents so much that keeps the world going forward.

FRONTIER WOMAN IS A WORKER FOR GOOD ROADS

Miss Annie Shelland, Interesting Border Character, Is in Duluth for Visit.

Miss Annie E. Shelland of International Falls, the aggressive county superintendent of schools of Koochiching county, is in Duluth today.

Just now Miss Shelland is more interested in good roads as an aid to rural education than in any other subject. At the Crookston meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association she made a strong plea for state aid for road building and she is deeply interested in the movement to have the legislature appropriate a sum of money to be distributed for road building on the basis of state land acreage in townships or counties.

"People do not seem to understand how dependent education is upon good roads," said Miss Shelland today. "We need roads more than anything. Fine school houses are useless unless the children can reach them. People cannot build permanent homes until they heve roads with which to reach their markets. Koochiching county is handicapped in every line of progression by the lack of good roads. The state land acreage is too great for the settlers to meet the cost of roads through it. The state should do its share, and failure to do so is holding back the development of the whole state."

Miss Shelland has done great work in Koochiching county. She has been superintendent of schools since the county was organized and no serious opposition to her has ever developed. The fifth consolidated rural school has just been completed in Koochiching county, and Miss Shelland is looking forward to the erection of others. She says the consolidated school movement will not go forward as it should until roads are provided, and she believes consolidated schools are necessary, not only for educational efficiency, but to provide foundations for community center work in the rural districts.

MAY CHOOSE A WOMAN

Three Names Will Be Submitted to Board of Education by Woman's Council.

A woman member of the school board will probably be elected at the meeting of the board this evening.

To fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Wilson G. Crosby, the names of three women will be presented. They are Mrs. T. J. Davis, Mrs. P. L. De Voist and Mrs. O. A. Oredson. All three have the indorsement of the Woman's Council and the election of any one will be satisfactory to the members of the council.

The three names will be presented by a committee of the Woman's Council consisting of Mrs. W. H. Burris, Mrs. R. N. Marble, Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge and Miss Julia Ensign.

All of the members of the school board have expressed themselves as favorable to the election of a woman to the board, providing the name of a woman with the proper qualifications should be presented. The members of the Woman's Council believe that any one of the three women mentioned for the place would serve with credit to herself and profit to the city.

Thus far no men have been brought forward as candidates for the board. Whether the women candidates will be opposed at the meeting tonight is a matter for speculation.

Mr. Crosby was a member of the committee on schools and teachers, and the advocates of the election of a woman to the board claim that a woman would be invaluable on that committee.

The board will also take up the question of a special election to submit an issue of $200,000 in bonds to the voters. The issue was approved by the city council at the last meeting. The bonds are intended to meet the cost of erecting the R. E. Denfeld high school in West Duluth.

MUSIC AND LECTURE.

George Suffel Will Sing Kipling's "Recessional."

Miss Gladys Reynolds will play his accompaniment. This promises to be an artistic addition to the afternoon and following the lecture an informal reception for the speaker will be held and tea will be served. Monday is the regular social afternoon of the club and Mrs. H. H. Phelps is the chairman of the committee in charge.

Members of the club will be admitted upon presentation of their membership cards and others interested will be charged a small admission fee.

Will Sing in Brainerd.

Miss Mary Bradshaw of Superior, well known in musical circles here, will give a song recital before the Brainerd Musical club Wednesday evening of next week at the Elks' hall there. She has sung in that city before and received a warm response to her work and the club members are anticipating a treat in her concert this year.

DULUTH CHINESE MAY ADOPT AMERICAN DRESS

Progress and the new ideas of the Chinese republic may strike the thousands of Chinese in the many cities of the United States, and be reflected in the appearance of the Orientals of this city.

The edict issued by the new Chinese republic is to the effect that the loose clothes of the men must give way to the modern clothes as worn by the men of more civilized nations—in the matter of wearing apparel at least—and that the women shall also adopt the clothes of their modern sisters.

Therefore, the familiar sight of the Chinese in his loose clothes and his queue, and his queer shoes, may become one of the memories of the past, if the Duluth Chinese, along with the other Celestials of this country, carry out the expressed wishes of the new Chinese cabinet.

RIVAL MEDICS CLASH.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—The strife between the regular medics and the chiropractics and other practitioners of the state has been transferred to Fargo. Warrants were secured on the complaint of James Sullivan, representing the medical association, against Doctors Hoard, Nelson and Newsalt, and also against the manager of the Viavi company, for practicing without a license. The local defendants say they welcome the action and cite the recent acquittal of two chiropractics at Minot.

Yes, you can buy it cheaper at one place than at another—if you couldn't there would be no need of more than one store.

DIVORCE MILL IS GRINDING

Anna Brown Says Husband Left Three Days After Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Allen Separate After Thirty-four Years.

In district court this afternoon the divorce mill is still grinding.

Several cases came on trial yesterday afternoon and this morning and a number are scheduled for this afternoon.

Anna Brown, an attractive looking woman of 26 years, told a story in Judge Ensign's court this afternoon of how she had been married but three days before her husband left her. She knew of no reason for the desertion. The court granted her a decree of separation from William Charles Brown, aged 40.

The Browns were married at Kansas City, Mo., during the month of October, 1902. She is now a resident of St. Louis county, but is living at Stuart, Iowa.

Infidelity and drunkenness are the grounds on which Emma Cairncross, aged 22, was granted a divorce from Ray Cairncross, 25, by Judge Ensign yesterday afternoon. The plaintiff claimed that her husband was a drinking man and spent considerable of his time and money in company with immoral women. They were married May 22, 1907, and lived together until July, 1911, when, she asserted, he deserted her. Since that time, she alleged, he has not contributed anything either to her support or to that of their child, Donald, a boy of 4.

Isabelle Florence Allen, aged 52, was given a legal separation this morning from Alfred Allen, 62, to whom she was married at East Machias, Me., thirty-four years ago. The decree was granted upon a show of desertion. Mrs. Allen claimed that she was deserted in 1907. There are three grown children, Cora Cattier, Oscar Allen and Harriet Kuncy.

Fliomen Pynnonen, aged 26, accused his wife, Alma Pynnonen, 21, of adultery and desertion, when his case was on trial before Judge Dancer yesterday afternoon. The Pynnonens were married at Winton, March 14, 1909. They lived together up to Sept. 12, last. The court granted the separation.

Dora Hrvatinovic, 28 years old, claimed that her husband, Matthew Hrvatinovic, 32, had collected what visible means of support there was at hand and had skipped, leaving his family at New Duluth in almost destitute circumstances. This was four years ago. They were married in 1902 and are parents of two children, George, 7, and Katie, 5. Judge Cant ordered findings in her favor.

Millia Hayes, aged 34, testified before Judge Dancer that Edward Hayes, to whom she was married at Chicago on Feb. 4, 1901, had left her three years later and that since that time she had been supporting herself. She was given a divorce.

On grounds of desertion, decrees were also granted to A. A. Hall from Minnie M. Hall by Judge Cant and to Julia Johansson from Isadore Johansson by Judge Ensign.

ROCK PILE NOT NEEDED

Duluth Will Not Have Problem of Unemployed This Year.

Lumber Camps Are Looking for Men to Go to Woods.

Unless the labor market changes materially it is probable that Duluth will not maintain a rock pile for the unemployed during the winter months.

"There seems to be plenty of work in sight," said Secretary Dinwiddie of the Associated Charities this morning. "I rather anticipate that we will not need a rock pile this winter. Certainly not, unless jobs are less plentiful than they are now.

"There appears to be but little demand for laborers in the city proper but the lumber camps are making every inducement to get men for work in the woods. The police, the Bethel, the Associated Charities and the board of public welfare are working out a plan which checks up the situation every day.

"Whenever an unemployed man spends a night at the expense of any one of them, they send him the next morning to the state free employment bureau. If there is not work for him at that particular time, a written notice of the fact is given to him to carry back."

EASTON STILL IN COMMISSION

Little North Shore Steamer May Make Three More Trips.

The Easton is still making regular trips between Duluth and north shore points, and Manager Hogstad of the Booth line said this morning that he expects the tough little steamer to make at least two and perhaps three more trips before the company will declare the season at an end. So far but little difficulty in the way of navigation has been encountered on these trips and business is good.

Last year she arrived from her final trip for the season up the north shore on Jan. 9, ice-coated and after a most difficult voyage.

BAIL FOR ALL DYNAMITERS

Lawyers Say Iron Workers Will Be Given Assistance.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Defense lawyers say that money enough to admit all the dynamiters to bail will be forthcoming. Bail for each was fixed today at $10,000 for each year of his sentence.

COPPER STOCKS DULL AND WEAK

The day was quite bearish on the copper stock market and there was not a great deal of trading. Amalgamated, at the close, showed a decline of $1.75. Hancock was $1.50 to $2 off. Butte & Superior was more than $2 down. North Butte showed a loss of $1.25 to $1.50, which was in part accounted for by the crediting of the 50-cent dividend. Calumet & Arizona was $1 down. The general stock market of New York, like the coppers, was weak and showed a general decline for the day. The London copper metal market also was weak, and at the close spot was 8s 6d higher and futures 10s higher as the result of the days' transactions.

Amalgamated, notwithstanding its loss today, still showed a gain of more than $2 since a week ago. Hancock was 50c down for the week. Butte & Superior was a little less than 50c off compared with last Friday's close. North Butte showed a loss of 50c. Calumet & Arizona was 75c up.

Paine, Webber & Co. received from Foster at Boston the following closing copper letter: "The action of the market was disappointing today after yesterday's advance. Prices held well during early part of session but in the last hour reaction was general all through the list, influenced by weakness in the New York list. Granby was weakest of specialties, but all the coppers were inclined to sag. There was no news to account for sharp change in sentiment and reaction was probably due to absolute lack of confidence among speculators and the fear of radical legislation and tariff reform."

Gay & Sturgis received the following wire from the Boston News bureau today: "A few sales of electrolytic were booked today at 17¾c for domestic delivery. There were also transactions at 17⅝c a pound."

The foreign visible copper supply in England, France, and afloat thereto on Jan. 1, was 40,389 tons, an increase of 966 tons in the past fortnight. Stocks at Rotterdam increased 150 tons and Hamburg decreased 262 tons.

WANT CLUB TO STEP IN Commercial Club May Take Over the Homecroft Work.

The agricultural committee of the Commercial club will recommend to the public affairs committee tonight that the club take over the work of the Duluth Homecroft society.

It is proposed to have a sub-committee appointed to act as a homecroft committee and direct the administration of funds needed for the work. It is intended to have the Homecroft society retain its identity, but its work will be more in the nature of propaganda than administrative.

The agricultural committee will also recommend tonight steps to raise a fund to employ a county agricultural agent, and to include St. Louis county in a district organization for agricultural development.

C. H. Mahnke of Moose Lake reported that Carlton county had raised the necessary funds, and a man will be employed in that county. St. Louis and Carlton county people will make an effort to have Aitkin county included, and a district superintendent engaged to direct the work under the supervision of the extension division of the state agricultural college.

WIDOW NOT TOLD OF THE SUICIDE

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 3.—Although it was reported that the mental condition of Congressman William Wedemeyer, who, while insane, leaped overboard last night from a steamer carrying him here from Colon, Panama, was due largely to a fall he received recently in Washington, his local friends and assistants attribute the congressman's breakdown to the strenuous campaign he went through last fall, which resulted in his defeat by S. W. Beakes, Democrat, and to his enthusiastic congressional work in general.

Mr. Wedemeyer was a member of the law firm of Cavanaugh, Wedemeyer & Burk of this city. He was 40 years old and was an alumnus of the University of Michigan. For a time Mr. Wedemeyer was United States consul at Georgetown, British Guiana, in South America. He then succeeded Charles Townsend, now United States senator, in the lower house at Washington.

Beaten for Re-election.

He made an energetic campaign last fall for re-election, but the official count showed that he had been defeated by Beakes by 200 votes. At first Congressman Wedemeyer announced that he would request a recount, and if necessary, carry the contest to the house of representatives.

A few days ago, however, Mr. Wedemeyer issued a signed statement in which he said he would not contest Beakes' election. He declared he would be a candidate two years hence.

Widow Not Told.

Mrs. Wedemeyer has not yet been told of her husband's death, her friends deeming it advisable to await further details. She suffered a serious nervous shock when first told of her husband's illness, and has since been under physicians' care. She has two children.

SEEK TO RECALL MAYOR KONKEL

A petition was started in circulation this morning asking for the recall of Mayor Joseph Konkel, the first city executive under the new commission rule adopted last spring.

The petition states that Mayor Konkel is incompetent and that he has failed to enforce the law during his incumbency, which began last April. Mayor Konkel was elected for six years.

It is not known just who started the petition, but those behind the movement to oust the mayor, claim that they will have the matter placed before the people some time this winter.

Body Brought Here.

The body of George Cowan, a former resident of this city, who was killed in a dynamite explosion last week at Klamath Falls, Or., arrived in the city last evening. Cowan is survived by his mother and three brothers, all of this city.

City Settles Suit.

The city commission yesterday authorized the settlement of two actions for $20,000 alleged damages brought against the city by Dr. and Mrs. P. G. McGill. The city orders the payment of $500 to the plaintiffs, on the understanding that the Great Northern road pays them an additional sum of $2,000. The suits grew out of the overturning of the McGill's automobile at the Twenty-first avenue viaduct, through the catching of a wheel in a loose angleiron.

Dance Hall Ordinance.

The public welfare society is planning to introduce a rigid dance hall ordinance into the city commission at an early date. The ordinance is suggested and advocated by Miss Florence Two, retiring secretary of the board, in her last annual message.

$75,000 Damage Suit.

One of the largest sums ever asked in Wisconsin courts is involved in a personal injury case taken up yesterday in circuit court, in which the Soo road is made defendant in a $75,000 suit. Joe Laora, a minor, asks through his father, for the above amount, for injuries alleged to have been received when he fell from the front end of a hand car and was injured for life. The plaintiff claims also that he was employed in violation of the state labor law, being a minor.

N. P. TRAIN HIT BY SNOW SLIDE

Ellensburg, Wash., Jan. 3.—A snow slide shortly after midnight struck Northern Pacific passenger train No. 258 just west of Loster. The passenger rushed from the cars in their night clothes. A mass of rock, bushes and ice slipped down the mountain and across the tracks under the cars. The train arrived here three hours late.

Rain in Mountains.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 3.—Rain is falling in the mountains, melting the great mass of snow which fell recently. Unless there is a change to cold weather soon, there will be slides in the higher altitudes and floods and washouts in the lowlands which will tie up railway traffic. The weather bureau gives no encouragement.

All Great Northern trains are reported indefinitely late. Northern Pacific trains are an hour or two late, but Milwaukee trains are running on time. At the summit of the Cascade mountains yesterday the water was ten inches deep on the Milwaukee tracks.

M'ALPINE CASE TO AGAIN BE HEARD.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 3.—(Special to The Herald.)—Governor Eberhart today granted a petition from citizens of Two Harbors, Minn., reopening before the state board of pardons the application of Peter MacAlpine, convicted of embezzlement, for another hearing.

MacAlpine was convicted of making away with about $17,000 of the water and light funds in Two Harbors and given an indeterminate sentence.

Commenting on the case today, Governor Eberhart said he was willing to reopen it in order that the county attorney where MacAlpine was convicted might be heard, but he could see no reason now for commuting the sentence of a man who would take so much of the people's money entrusted to his care.

The New Store

Why Not Start off 1913 by putting your kitchen on a business basis. Every housewife invites and encourages competition in her dry goods purchases. Why should she not use the same good judgment in buying the items that must be had every day, week in and week out? Why should any housewife tie herself with a credit account to one store, placing her orders automatically and carelessly without a question as to price or profit? Of course you like your grocer, he wants your trade, he is accommodating, and a credit account makes money spending easy. But do you realize that you pay for this friendship and credit account convenience? Give us at least the share of your trade that we deserve and allow us to convince you that you and we both can make money in the transaction.

PHILLIPS IS CANDIDATE

Hopes for Election on His Record in City Council.

A petition is being circulated for the nomination for commissioner of P. G. Phillips, Socialist alderman of the Eighth ward.

Mr. Phillips, who has the distinction of being Duluth's first and last Socialist alderman, is willing to accept the nomination for commissioner. He stated this morning that his friends in this end of the city, who elected him in the last city election, are now even more confident of his election to the commission. It is this claim, he said, that is causing him to make the race.

Mr. Phillips has been a resident of

P. G. PHILLIPS.

Duluth for the past fifteen years, of which nine have been spent in West Duluth.

"I am going to make a clean race for the office," said Alderman Phillips this morning. "I am banking on my record as an alderman to secure a position on the new commission. My votes on all the measures are open to the public and anyone can readily learn that I have always voted for the interests of the public. I am a believer in law enforcement to the letter and have always taken this stand while alderman of the Eighth ward."

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW STATION

Canadian Northern Wlil Spend $12,500 in West Duluth.

The new Canadian Northern station at the corner of Central and Grand avenues will cost $12,500. The contract was awarded yesterday afternoon to Emil J. Zauft of West Duluth.

Mr. Zauft looked over the site for the station this morning and has already put a crew of men at work clearing the ground and preparing for active construction. He plans to begin excavating Monday. As the contract calls for the completion of the building by April 1, work on the structure is expected to continue from now on.

The station will be of frame, two stories high and a basement. Trains will be boarded from the second floor, where the main waiting room, 25 by 23 feet, will be located. The building will front 55 feet on Grand avenue and 24 feet on Central avenue. It will run within thirty feet of the corner, thus allowing for a triangular court, upon which the building will front. The court will be paved to both sidewalks. A 500-foot platform will be erected alongside the tracks, on each side of the station. The platform will be ten feet wide. There will be two waiting rooms, offices and an elevator on the first floor.

The new station will be used solely for passenger service and express, freight now being received at the company's station at Sixty-third avenue west.

BIG CREW AT WORK ON NEW STATION.

A concrete mixer was received this morning to be used in the erection of the new Northern Pacific passenger station. A large crew of men were put to work today and active construction work has started. The company has agreed to erect a large brick structure, as requested by the local club, and a concrete foundation is now being built. The east end of the building will first be built, after which the present structure will be razed and the remainder of the structure erected.

The officers of the Dorcas society for this year are: Oscar Magnuson, vice president; Miss Olga Halleen, secretary, and Fred Beck, treasurer. The visiting committee appointed are Miss Alice Wenberg, Miss Anna Peterson, John Myhrman and Albert Carlberg, and the program committee are Frank Anderson and Miss Ellen Johnson.

WOMEN GO IN FOR CURLING

Rink Is Organized By Three West Duluth Enthusiasts.

Will Be Skipped By a Mere Man for the Present.

Duluth's first women's curling rink has been organized at the Western Curling club and the members are now arranging for a series of games with the other rinks of the local organization.

For the present the rink will be skipped by Frank H. Wade, president of the club. The other members of the rink are Miss Nita Murphy, Miss Agnes Winness and Miss Clara Winness, all of West Duluth. The young women have practiced a number of times on the ice and are proficient in the game.

"There is no reason why women should not curl," said Miss Clara Winness, one of the members of the new rink, this morning. "It is only a matter of practice and experience in this game, so that we hope to soon be able to defeat the other rinks at the club."

The rinks skipped by Frank Wade, Dr. C. R. Keyes, Edward Holland and Walter Evered will represent the local club in the contest against the Superior Curling club for the right to play the Duluth club in the Manley-McLennan trophy contest. The Duluth club is now in possession of the trophy. The games with the Superior teams will be played at the local club next Tuesday evening.

Evered made the local team by winning two out of the three games against Judson, winning the final game last evening, 12 to 8. Holland won from Olson, 12 to 7. This evening there will be two practice games between Wade and Iltis and Brown and Mallory. Tonight is regular band night for the skaters.

STRICKEN WHILE ON STREET CAR

Aged Woman Sustains a Stroke of Paralysis---May Not Recover.

While riding on an East Fourth and Grand avenue car this morning, Miss Millie Kitzman, 60 years old, was suddenly stricken with an attack of paralysis and she was carried unconscious from the car at Central avenue.

Passengers on the car helped carry Miss Kitzman to the police station, where aid was given here by Dr. David Graham. She was later taken to the home of her niece, Mrs. L. L. Casky, 725 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, with whom she has been visiting the past ten days. Miss Kitzman resides at Faribault.

The accident to Miss Kitzman happened near Central avenue, as she was returning home from a shopping trip downtown. She suddenly became dizzy and fell to the floor. Passengers on the car picked her up and carried her to the local police station. The ambulance later took her to the home of her niece.

Dr. Graham, who attended the stricken woman, stated this afternoon that the affliction is permanent, her entire left side now being paralyzed.

GIVES TALK ON LABOR LAWS

Miss Jean Poirier Outlines the Legislation That Is Needed.

Miss Jean Poirier, who recently resigned as state factory inspector, gave an interesting address yesterday afternoon on "Labor Laws Necessary" at the regular meeting of the West Duluth branch of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. G. L. Shoup, 122 North Fifty-third avenue west.

Miss Poirier spoke on needed legislation, especially with regard to child labor. The employment of children in various vocations, the age limit and the proper number of hours for child labor were all discussed by Miss Poirier. She advocated a state law fixing eight hours a day for children under 16 years of age.

The subject for the afternoon was "What Has Made Labor Laws Necessary?" and papers were read by Mesdames M. E. Allen and G. W. Smith. Mrs. Shoup served a luncheon the latter part of the afternoon, assisted by Mesdames T. B. Jones and M. E. Allen. It was decided to hold a rally meeting of the boys in the West Duluth Boys' and Girls' club, 208 Central avenue, next Friday evening and to start an active campaign for members at that time. It is hoped to raise the membership of the boys to 300 before next spring.

The next meeting of the union will be held Thursday afternoon, Jan. 16, at the Ely school. Mrs. I. P. Swangie will be the leader for the afternoon in the discussion on "The Relation of the W. C. T. U. to Philanthropic Work and Missions."

HAVE PLAN TO PAVE AVENUE

A plan to improve Grand avenue as a main thoroughfare to West Duluth will be presented to the public affairs committee of the Commercial club by the municipal committee, which held a meeting at noon today.

The committee met with W. B. Getchell, representing the West Duluth Commercial club; J. P. Daly and L. Kloepfel representing the Oneota and Hazelwood Improvement club, and Aldermen J. B. Gibson and W. L. Bernard. The subject was discussed at length and recommendations framed up.

The plan proposed provides for payment by special assessment against the property on the basis of a pavement of ordinary width for a residence street and of ordinary material for a residence street, the cost for each fifty-foot lot not to exceed $175; the street railway company to pay for extra width made necessary by the presence of the tracks, and the city to pay for the street intersections and for extra width and strength necessary by the street being made a main thoroughfare.

The public affairs committee will be asked to recommend to the city council that the improvement be made on that basis.

SECTION MAN IS CRUSHED

Andrew Shamatula Is Killed in Northern Pacific Yards.

Andrew Shamatula, a section hand on the Northern Pacific railroad, was run over and so horribly mangled this morning that he died a short time later at St. Mary's hospital.

The unfortunate man is thought to have been crossing from one side of the West end yards to the other when the fatal accident occurred. As nearly as can be learned he stepped from behind a train of box cars in front of the moving switch engine and was under the wheels before the locomotive could be brought to a stop.

The body was terribly mutilated. An arm was severed at the shoulder, a leg was taken off and the head and body crushed. Life still lingered when he was picked up and he was rushed to St. Mary's hospital. The physician who was summoned saw at a glance that he was beyond human aid. He died shortly after he was brought into the hospital.

Excess Precipitation in More Localities Than Show Deficiency.

Effect on Wheat Market Bearish---Offers of Flaxseed Are Heavy.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 3.—Government reports showing excess rain in the more places by far in the three winter wheat states of Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska caused wheat to close on the markets of North America generally lower in the May option, though July was a bit higher. Few changes of any great consequence took place today on any of the North American wheat markets. Duluth May wheat closed ¼c lower and July ⅛c higher. Duluth cash wheat closed 4c under May. Durum and rye closed unchanged. Oats closed ⅛c off and barley ½c to 1c off. January flaxseed closed 1½c lower and May ½c off.

Wheat at noon today showed declines at Duluth and Chicago, and gains at Minneapolis and Winnipeg. It was strong early in the day on all of these markets, and also at Liverpool, but there was quite a weakening when a dispatch from Chicago showed that the weather office report for Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska for December showed excess precipitation in more places than had a deficiency. For a long time there has been a great deal of talk about the dryness in the winter wheat belt, and this Chicago dispatch was quite a powerful, bearish factor. Duluth May flaxseed, which closed yesterday at 86⅝c bid, at noon today was at 86⅜c bid.

Liverpool wheat at the close today was unchanged. Wheat was quite strong on that market early in the day, in spite of the fact that the market news was mostly bearish. There were prospects of light world shipments this week other than American. La Plata offers were firmer. Private reports indicated light Argentine shipments this week. There was an improved demand for cargoes, which were more firmly held. The continent continued to buy wheat freely. On the other hand continued fine weather was reported in Argentina.

Flax Works Lower.

Flaxseed was quite bearish during the morning, largely on account of increased offers. The demand was rather slack and trading was not active. Duluth January flaxseed at noon today was 1¼c over off and May was ¼c off. Minneapolis cash seed was 1½c over Duluth January. Winnipeg January seed at noon today was 1c up at $1.06½, being 18c lower than Duluth January.

C. E. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "There is no question country elevator stocks are large, while the percentage of the crop still in farmers hands is only normal on account of the crop being so large. The farm reserves are large, but the consuming section of the United States and foreigners stand around with their mouths open grabbing every bushel as fast as it comes to market, so it looks as though this crop would be consumed and only a small carry over left, by the end of this crop year."

The Modern Miller says: "The greater part of the winter wheat territory, chiefly east of the Mississippi river, has received more or less moisture, rain or snow having fallen. Reports of the condition in this region are seasonably satisfactory. In the Southwest rain or snow is needed and the plant is unprotected from severe winter weather."

Farmers in Northeastern Iowa are doing well with cattle and hogs and are using all the corn they raise for their own livestock, according to W. F. Dahlenberger, banker, of McGregor, Iowa, who was a guest on the Duluth Board of Trade today. "I know a farmer who a short time ago paid the surprisingly high price of $126 for a steer, just to fatten it for the market," said Mr. Dahlenberger. "Our bank does its business almost entirely with farmers, and the bank deposits show that they are very prosperous. In Western Iowa the farmers have some corn to ship. But in our part of the state they need all they raise for their own cattle and hogs."

The following is from Rollin E. Smith of the Commercial West: "I think Europe could very well use 130,000,000 bushels from the United States during the current British cereal year. Russia is proving very disappointing as a shipper. She has no doubt a lot of wheat yet to spare, but most of it is of low quality and consequently not readily salable in Western Europe this season, where low qualities were produced in large quantities last year."

The following is from Liverpool: "As to the immediate future we still feel with so much wheat needed between now and the free movement of the Plata that our present range of values is justified and that an appreciation is probable for wheat available during the next month or two. This is especially the case when one considers that these supplies must be almost entirely drawn from America and Canada. We do not consider consumers are well supplied and therefore the market can still absorb liberal quantities of first hand offers. Eventually the movement and quality of Plata wheat will be the price making factor, but until the Plata gives the lead to the market one way or the other, we favor an improvement in prices."

Broomhall's weekly review, issued from Liverpool, is as follows: "Trading during the week has been rather circumspect, resulting from the holiday interruption, but on the whole prices have ruled generally higher. The principal influences have been the decrease in shipments and steadiness in American markets as a result of unseasonable weather in the winter wheat belt, which it is expected will lead to a larger demand for spring grades. Other influences have been the favorable weather in Argentina for the termination of harvesting and the increasing estimates of surpluses from both Argentina and Australia.

"The political situation is likely to end peacefully. The future course of the market depends largely upon Argentine shipments, how soon they will commence and to what extent shipments are made from January to March. The competition for tonnage to load Plata wheat and oats will be very sharp and this will be accentuated when new corn become available for shipment in April. I feel sure that when Argentina and Australia commence shipping freely their exports will total 6,400,000 to 8,000,000 bushels weekly for many weeks. In ordinary years this amount would be overwhelming, when added to 4,000,000 bushels from North America and 2,500,000 from Europe and India, but requirements in Europe are so large owing to an absence of milling native wheat that it is possible that these shipments will be absorbed without any great difficulty.

"The outlook in Southeastern Europe is not improving for importers here, as arrivals at Russian ports are light, partly due to bad weather, but some think that this is due to scarcity, as their quality is very poor. Much depends upon North American readiness to sell in the near futures, and even if we increase my estimate for the United States surplus to 144,000,000 bushels, this would not make the world's total unwieldy and not in excess of likely requirements. Thus we will about balance around 620,000,000 to 640,000,000 bushels."

Dornbusch of London says: "Argentine mail advices to hand this week state that the samples seen of threshed linseed point to excellent quality, the seed being well developed, bright, clean, and fully matured. Given fine weather until the crop is secured the River Plata will be in the position of offering seed surpassing in quality that of the three past seasons. This bears out the general opinion that a large crop also means good quality. The final official statement of this season's area to linseed was issued under the preliminary estimate made in October, but there is still an increase of 254,000 acres on last year and thus the 1912-13 acreage stands out an easy record."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Advances on News of Winter Crop Belt Weather.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Wheat advanced today in response to reports that the weather in the winter crop belt was mainly clear and cold. There were also assertions that export shipments were being worked by way of the gulf. Firm cables and lack of selling pressure added the return. The opening was a shade lower to ¼c up. May started at 91½c, a loss of 1-16c and then rose to 91⅞c.

Big primary receipts and statements that moisture had been normal up to the time fall sown wheat became dormant brought about a reaction. The close was steady with May ¼c net lower at 91¼@91⅜c.

Snow here and predictions of additional unsettled weather strengthened corn. May opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 48½c to 48½@48¾c and went to 48¾c.

Prices afterward eased when wheat turned weak. The close, however, was firm at 48½@48⅝c for May, ⅛c over last night.

Scarcity of cars tended to harden the oats market. May, which started unchanged to 1-16c off at 32¾@32⅞c to 32⅞c, advanced to 33c.

Provisions took the upgrade with hogs. First sales ranged from last night's level to 7½c higher, including May at $18.00 for pork, $9.72½ to $9.75 for lard and $9.67½ to $9.67½@9.70 for ribs.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 3.—Wheat remained in extremely narrow range and trading was of small volume. May closed ¼c higher than yesterday and July unchanged to ⅛c higher. WEAKNESS IN STOCKS

Sentiment Bearish and Advances of Thursday Are Wiped Out.

Unfavorable Rumors as to Various Properties Favor Bear Selling.

New York, Jan. 3.—London prices were generally not up to the close here yesterday and the bears attributed hesitation abroad to dissatisfaction over the progress of the peace negotiations.

International stocks, however, showed less weakness than other issues, aside from Canadian Pacific, which lost a large part of yesterday's extended gain. Concentrated pressure against several minor stocks had some influence in depressing the general level. Covering operations pulled up the important issues strongly before noon. Bonds were steady.

The leading stocks, with the exception of Reading, were lower at the opening of the market today. Rubber and Beet Sugar fell back 1½. Canadian Pacific 1⅝ and Amalgamated Copper ¾. There was further heavy selling of Western Maryland, following its sharp break yesterday, and its loss was extended by 4½ points.

Railroad stocks showed better resistance to pressure than industrials and the favorite issues were not much affected by the severe break in some of the specialties. Beet Sugar lost 3 points.

Trading became dull on the rally and fluctuations were mostly unimportant. Western Maryland preferred, concerning which some doubt exists as to the maintenance of dividends, dropped six points. Current movements for the week show an apparent cash gain of $15,000,000 from the interior. It is expected, however, that this gain will be largely offset by Jan. 1 disbursements by local institutions.

Passing the dividend of Beet Sugar cost it over 5 points, the price falling to 42½. Active selling of the general list followed this announcement. Reading, Union Pacific, Steel, Amalgamated and other shares sold a point or more below yesterday's closing.

The market closed weak. Considerable weakness developed in the closing hour of business and yesterday's advances were cancelled. Speculative sentiment was bearish. Speculation on unfavorable rumors regarding various properties also fostered bear selling. Union Pacific, Reading, the copper stocks and Steel figured conspicuously in the day's decline.

WANTS UNCLE SAM TO TAKE DULUTH'S LAKE TERMINALS OUT OF RAILROAD CONTROL

DULUTH MAN SHOWS EVILS OF MONOPOLY

Julius H. Barnes Makes Plea for Aroused Public Sentiment.

Says Rail Routes Are Protected By Manipulation of Water Rates.

Will Advance Idea at Hearing By Committee of Congress.

Government ownership of the terminal facilities at Duluth and Buffalo in order to reduce the cost of transshipping general merchandise in the east and west movement across the country, is advocated by Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club.

Mr. Barnes advanced his idea at the meeting of the public affairs committee last evening. He pointed out the effect of the railroad monopoly of the package freight carriers on the lakes, which has been to keep up general merchandise rates, while the rates for the transportation of bulk commodities have been steadily decreasing.

Mr. Barnes charged the railroads with planning deliberately, by the maintenance of antiquated and cumbersome methods of handling freight at the terminals, to make the cost of lake transportation heavy and minimize the effect of the cheaper water rate on the rail lines.

"I am a firm believer in public opinion," said Mr. Barnes. "A start must be made some time and I want you people to make a start on this thing

NINE-YEAR-OLD GIRL ASSAULTED; DIES

Keifer, Okla., Jan. 4.—Ella Brown, 9 years old, died last night of injuries sustained Thursday when she was assaulted by an unidentified man. Two suspects are under arrest and a mob of more than 100 men is about the jail awaiting the return of a posse searching for her assailant. Should the posse be successful or either of the men arrested be connected with the crime to the satisfaction of the crowd, it is possible there will be a lynching.

The child disappeared Thursday afternoon. She was found Friday a quarter of a mile from her home, in a dying condition.

ALABAMA SHERIFF TO BE IMPEACHED.

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 4.—Governor O'Neal has ordered impeachment proceedings against William Martin, sheriff of Hale county, to determine whether the officer was criminally negligent when, it is charged, he allowed a negro prisoner, William Thomas, accused of wife murder, to obtain poison, which Thomas drank and died.

AMBASSADOR LAID AT REST

Whitelaw Reid's Body Is Buried in Sleepy Hollow Cemetery.

Taft, Roosevelt and Bryce Are Among Those at Services.

New York, Jan. 4.—The body of Whitelaw Reid, late ambassador to Great Britain, was carried today to its last resting place in the Sleepy Hollow cemetery at Tarrytown. President Taft, cabinet officers, representatives of the army and navy and of the British embassy, the bereaved family and hundreds of friends and associates of the late ambassador attended the funeral services in the Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine.

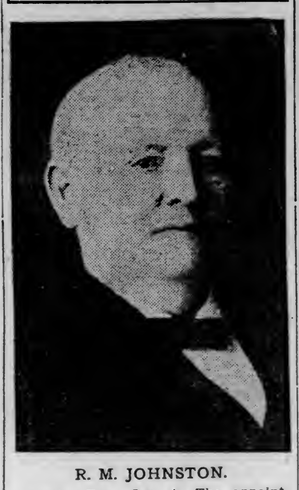

During the night the steel casket rested in the cathedral crypt, guarded by a company of marines. For the funeral services it was brought into the chancel. Bishop David H. Greer conducted the service, assisted by Bishop Leonard of Cleveland, representing the diocese of Ohio, in which Mr. Reid formerly resided. Bishop Boyd Carpenter, canon of Westminster abbey, represented the clergy of England.

SCOUR CITY FOR BANDITS

Chicago Officers Arrest Two Suspected of Bold Robbery.

Policeman Wounded By Gang Is in Serious Condition.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Fifty detectives searched today for four automobile bandits who invaded the downtown district last night after robbing a north side jewelery store of $1,200 worth of diamonds, fought two revolver battles with the police and caused terror by firing into crowds of shoppers on one of the city's principal streets.

Patrolman Fred Stricken, who attempted to arrest the fleeing robbers because they had no tail light on their automobile, was shot and beaten. He was reported in a serious condition today.

Two in Custody.

Two men taken in custody in East Chicago on suspicion of being implicated in last night's robbery and shooting were taken to the detective bureau and questioned by Capt. Halpin today. They denied all knowledge of the holdup and shooting. One of the suspects had a revolver with two empty chambers. They gave their names as Thomas Brady, 32 years old, and Frank O'Brien, 37 years old.

The four bandits smashed in a jeweler's window and escaped with a tray of diamonds after a running revolver fight with police, punctuated by spectacular features. Their escape was aided by a fashionably dressed woman, who fainted in the arms of a uniformed policeman as he was drawing his revolver. As soon as the thieves were

MOTOR AND RIDERS DISAPPEAR IN RIVER

Tragedy That Cost at Least Three Lives Occurs at Toledo.

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 4.—A big touring car containing at least three passengers ran at high speed through guard chains on the dock at the foot of Madison avenue early today and plunged through the ice into Maumee river. All the occupants were drowned. It is believed the party came from Michigan. Divers have been employed to search for the bodies.

The accident was witnessed by but one man, a night watchman, who declares he saw three persons in the automobile, but more may have been drowned in the closed vehicle.

ARCHBALD HIMSELF IS TO TESTIFY LAST

Will Appear as Witness Monday at His Impeachment.

Washington, Jan. 4.—With the resumption today of the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court, witnesses who had been prepared to testify yesterday, when the death of Senator Jeff Davis cut proceedings short, were ready to go on the stand, and Judge Archbald's attorneys hoped to conclude with all witnessess except the jurist himself by tonight.

Judge Archbald, accused of misusing his judicial power to further private business interests, will probably take the stand in his own behalf on the opening of court Monday, and it is expected he will be the last witness.

ROCKEFELLER KEEPS HIDDEN

Does Not Appear Even After Acceptance of Bubpoena.

Doctor Says He Is Too Sick to Meet Pujo Committee.

New York, Jan. 4.—Although William Rockefeller, through his counsel, has accepted service of the subpoena requiring him to testify before the Pujo committee, his whereabouts today is as much a matter of speculation as it has been at any time during the forty-five days employes of the house of representatives have been trying to reach him.

The small army of deputy sergeants-at-arms and private detectives which besieged the oil millionaire's home was disbanded last night when it became known that service of the subpoena had been accepted.

Whether Mr. Rockefeller will be able to testify before the committee, notwithstanding the acceptance of service, was still regarded as problematical today. His physician, Dr. Walter F. Chappel, asserts that the strain of testifying might result seriously.

Relieves House of Problem.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Members of the house, particularly members of the banking and currency committee, heaved sighs of relief today when they found that it would not be necessary to exert the full authority of the house to force the service of a money trust inquiry subpoena on William Rockefeller.

The acceptance of a subpoena by Mr. Rockefeller's lawyer does not mean that he will come to Washington to testify. The committee will consider his plea that he is too ill, and a subcommittee may be sent to his home to take his deposition. Even that course may be opposed by the oil magnate, but the committee is anxious to get into the record testimony regarding certain transactions in Amalgamated Copper stock in 1906 and 1907. Testimony already before the committee connects Mr. Rockefeller with these transactions.

The committee will resume its public hearings Monday and expects to end the hearings by Jan. 15.

LINER AMERIKA GETS STRANDED.

New York, Jan. 4.—The big Hamburg-American liner Amerika, outward bound, ran aground today off Tompkinsville, Staten Island, and immediately hoisted the signal "Not under control."

The Amerika left her pier at 8 o'clock this morning and began nosing her way down the harbor in a 60-mile gale. Owing to last night's violent wind and its continuation today, the tide was three feet below normal, and because of this the big vessel stuck in the mud. Sheltered by the lee of the Staten Island shore, her condition was not serious and her commander hoped to float her with the rising tide late today.

TURKS WILL REFUSE THE ULTIMATUM SUBMITTED BY THE BALKAN ALLIES

UNIONS ARE RAISING BAIL

Seek Aggregate of $1,100,000 to Free Convicted Iron Workers.

Bonds Must Be Approved By Judge Anderson at Indianapolis.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Labor leaders in many cities were busy today planning to furnish an aggregate of $1,100,000 of bail for the thirty-two union officials convicted of a dynamite conspiracy and now in the Federal prison at Leavenworth. Conferences were held here to decide how far the Chicago labor organizations will go in the effort that is being made all over the United States to free the prisoners pending an appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals.

The structural iron workers who live in Chicago plan to rush assistance to the attorneys for the prisoners without delay. Those who own real estate are expected to come forward as sureties.

It was declared by members of the structural iron workers' union that there would be no trouble in furnishing a large portion of the necessary bail from Chicago.

Anderson Must Approve.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 4.—Government officials conferred today concerning the expected results of the action in Chicago of the United States circuit court of appeals in granting rights to bonds to thirty-two of the labor union officials now confined in the Federal prison at Leavenworth for complicity in the dynamite plots.

MYLIUS' APPEAL REACHES NAGEL

Englishman's Lawyer Files Long Brief Against Deportation.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Is libelling a king a crime involving moral turpitude? Such is the question absorbing the attention of Secretary Nagel, who today received the appeal for admission to the United States of Edward F. Mylius, the English journalist threatened with deportation from New York because he was convicted in England of criminal libel of King George.

Counsel for Mylius, in one of the longest briefs ever submitted in an immigration case, maintains that his offense was political and in no sense criminal. Mylius served a year in prison for writing a story that the king of England had contracted a morganatic marriage.

Council of Ministers So Instructs Envoys at London.

Continuation of War Is Expected By Bulgarian Leader.

Constantinople, Jan. 4.—The Turkish council of ministers this afternoon telegraphed fresh instructions to Rechad Pasha, the head of the Turkish delegation at the London peace conference. The Ottoman plenipotentiary is ordered, it is declared, to reject the ultimatum of the Balkan allies.

Cling to Adrianople.

London, Jan. 4.—The Ottoman delegates to the peace conference have absolutely made up their minds not to surrender the fortress of Adrianople or the islands in the Aegean sea, according to a statement made today. An explicit and categorical declaration to this effect was prepared for submission at today's session of the peace conference in St. James palace.

The Turks, however, may make some further concession in the province of Adrianople.

The delegates of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Servia met at 3:30 this afternoon to consider their attitude in view of the probable Turkish reply to their demand for a decision on the question of Adrianople.

The ambassadors of Austria-Hungary, France, Germany, Italy and Russia resumed their "conversations" at the British foreign office, and began considering the questions involved in the crisis which has been reached in the peace negotiation.

Daneff Expects War.

The attitude of the Balkan allies during today's session of the conference was foreshadowed by Dr. S. Daneff.

STEAMER AND 22 PEOPLE ARE LOST IN COLLISION IN CHESAPEAKE BAY

URGED FOR MAC'S PLACE IN CABINET

WILLIAM G. McADOO.

New York, Jan. 4.—A strong coterie of New York Democrats has started a movement to bring about the appointment of William G. McAdoo to be secretary of the treasury. Their support was based upon Mr. McAdoo's familiarity with financial affairs, and was coupled with Mr. McAdoo's activities for Wilson during the campaign. For several months during the illness of Mr. McCombs, Mr. McAdoo was acting chairman of the national committee, and directed the work of the campaign. His labors, it was added, continued until a few days before the campaign closed, when Mr. McCombs was sufficiently recovered to assume his duties as chairman.

Eight Survivors See Mates Drop From Rigging Into the Sea.

Sinking Vessel Is Left to Fate By Boat That Struck Her.

Luckenbach Is Sunk and Indrakuala Damaged By the Crash.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 4.—The steamer Julia Luckenbach, from Port Tampa to Baltimore, was sunk off Tangier gas buoy in Chesapeake bay yesterday, having been in collision with the British steamer Indrakuala. The Luckenbach was struck in the bow. Twenty-two lives were lost, including Capt. Gilbert and his wife.

Eight men, including the second mate of the Luckenbach were taken from the rigging of the sunken ship after they had clung to life for six hours in the gale which was sweeping the bay. Others in the rigging with them, numbed by the cold, dropped off one by one and drowned.

Chief Officer Saved.

The survivors of the Luckenbach's crew are:

F. B. Hunt, Baltimore, chief officer; William Brunn, New York, second officer; George Little, New York, first assistant engineer; George Doyle, Philadelphia, third assistant engineer; a sailor, a quartermaster, a fireman and a carpenter whose nameshave not been learned.

Everybody else on board is believed to have been lost.

The British steamer Indrakuala, which collided with the Luckenbach, is reported to be beached about three miles from the scene of the collision, with a twisted bow. What other damage, if any, she sustained is not known.

The men brought here say the Indrakuala backed off immediately after the accident, going to the beach and making no effort to aid the Luckenbach's survivors. When the Danish steamer Pennsylvania, bound from Baltimore to Newport News, hove in

PRISONER USES GUN AND NITRO-GLYCERIN

Kills One Officer in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, County Jail.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Jan. 4.—With a bottle of nitro-glycerin in one hand and a pistol in the other, Harvey Lee, charged with burglary, held a squad of officers at bay at the county jail at Marion, six miles from here, for nearly an hour early today. Then he turned loose with his pistol and Officer Charles Gillin of Cedar Rapids fell dead and Detective John Cook was injured.

The fight between Lee and the officers followed immediately an attempt at jail delivery in which two explosions occurred in rapid succession. Outside friends had endeavored to set Lee at liberty. They cut the means of communication so that only one telephone wire was available after the explosions.

Explosion Woke Sheriff.

Sheriff Loftus was awakened by an explosion in the rear of the jail. Before he could dress a second explosion occurred. He then discovered that the telephone wires had been cut, but finally got into communication with the police department here. A squad of six officers was sent to the scene.

After Gillen was killed the remaining officers rushed Lee and overpowered him. The other prisoners in the jail were demoralized, but none had attempted to escape. They were brought to Cedar Rapids for safe keeping.

Sheriffs' deputies are searching for the men who attempted to liberate Lee.

The jail wall was only slightly damaged, the job apparently being the work of inexperienced men. Nitroglycerin had been used.

DEATH RIDES ON HIGH WIND

At Least Three Killed in New York By Severe Storm.

Damage Is Reported All the Way From Florida to Maine.

New York, Jan. 4.—At least three deaths and approximately $500,000 property damage resulted from last night's eighty-mile gale which swept New York and vicinity. Today the wind had dropped to sixty miles an hour, but the mercury had crawled down to 32 and pedestrians suffered keenly.

The deaths reported were:

MRS. MARY KLINE, Brooklyn, died of injuries after having been blown under a street car.

ROBERT WALKER, a painter, fatally injured in a fall from a scaffold in Brooklyn.

UNIDENTIFIED MAN, blown into Newark Bay from a Central Railroad of New Jersey train.

A three-masted schooner aground and flying signals of distress near Egg Harbor, N. J., last night, drifted off shore near Beach Haven, not far from Atlantic City, today, and lifesavers lost sight of her. The revenue cutter Seneca is looking for her.

Most Severe in Years.

Belated returns of the damage done by the storm of yesterday and last night, reaching the telegraph companies here today, revealed that a clean sweep of the wires had been made from Jacksonville to Maine and that the storm was the most severe of recent years.

Perhaps the greatest damage was done at East Buffalo where the tail of the storm levelled telegraph poles for a mile. A sixty-mile gale raged there.

High winds prevailed today along the Northern Atlantic seaboard, but the wire trouble, it was reported, was slight compared to that of yesterday. The most serious instance today was the break near Philadelphia of more than sixty through wires between New York and Washington.

TAFT KEEPS THREE DATES IN NEW YORK

New York, Jan. 4.—President Taft came to New York today and attended the funeral of Whitelaw Reid, ambassador to Great Britain. He also is to address the international peace forum and be guest of honor tonight at a dinner of Republican organizations of this city, Philadelphia and Boston.

In the president's party were Secretary of State Philander C. Knox, James Bryce, British ambassador, and Miss Mabel Boardman of Washington, all of whom attended the Reid funeral services at the Episcopal cathedral of St. John the Divine.

NO PLAY TIME IN CONGRESS

Last Two Months May Bring Night Sessions for Members.

Big Appropriation Bills Are Yet to Be Passed By House.

Washington, Jan. 4.—With final adjournment of the Sixty-second congress exactly two months away, the house today confronted a jammed calendar and grist of supply bills that promised weary days and sleepless nights for the legislators up to the final moment of the session.

Only a single appropriation bill, the legislative, executive and judicial measure, has been passed by the house. The Indian appropriation bill is now under consideration and should be completed early next week.

The big appropriation measures, which involve a vast amount of detail likely to cause long discussion, are still to come. The postoffice appropriation bill has been reported from the committee and is awaiting action by

SAVES LIFE BY COURAGE

Aged Settler With Broken Leg Crawls Mile Through the Woods.

Was Cutting Firewood When Falling Tree Crushed His Leg.

Nerve and grit saved the life of Duncan Finlayson yesterday.

With his leg mangled and the bones splintered so that they protruded from the flesh, Finlayson, despite his 72 years and the awful pain, extricated himself from a fallen tree and crawled a mile through the woods to his cabin near Arnold.

Fortune was with the hardy old man. A neighbor chanced to pass as he neared his shack and he called to him. The neighbor helped him to his home, where the services of a nurse were secured. After the injured man had been made comfortable as possible police headquarters was notified. Dr. C. W. Taylor answered the call with Patrolman William Perry. Dr. Taylor dressed the wound and set the leg and had Finlayson removed to St. Mary's hospital. He is resting comfortably and it is stated that he will probably recover despite the heavy loss of blood.

Finlayson was injured as he was chopping trees for wood in a clump of timber about a mile from the shack where he has been "batching." A falling tree was shot out of its course as it struck the branches of another and pinned the aged settler to the ground. Retaining consciousness in the face of excruciating agony he managed to free himself and get to the road, where he was picked up by his neighbor. Had he not shown an unusual degree of courage he would have frozen to death before being discovered. He was living alone and might not have been missed for several days.

TOUCH OF REAL WINTER COMING

Drop in Temperature to 15 or 20 Deg. Below Zero.

Duluth is to have a touch of real weather tonight. H. W. Richardson, local weather forecaster, says that the present cold snap will develop greater intensity and a drop to 15 to 20 deg. below zero may be expected tonight.

The cold snap continued yesterday and last night, the low temperature during the night being 2 deg. below zero.

There is little wind and few people have been inconvenienced by the low temperature. The drop predicted for tonight is a different matter, however.

SIX YEARS AS PUBLIC PROSECUTOR BROUGHT MANY THRILLING CASES TO JOHN H. NORTON

No. 1—The top picture is a reproduction of the pistols used in the only duel known to have been fought in Minnesota. The duel was fought Oct. 28, 1910, between Sam Kacich and Pete Radovich, the latter being killed. Kacich was prosecuted for murder by County Attorney Norton, but was freed by a jury on the grounds of self defense. The duel was fought at Hibbing.

No. 2—This is a picture of the knife with which Michelo Rossi dealt a death blow to his enemy and countryman, Antonio De Meo. Rossi was the only man convicted of murder during Mr. Norton's administration that drew a death sentence. The sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment.

No. 3—This picture shows the gun and belt carried by Charles Melodrowski, one of the two boy bandits, who held up and robbed a hotel clerk and in an attempt to escape shot and killed Policeman Harry Chesmore on Jan. 3, 1911, last. Melodrowski died in Stillwater prison shortly after his incarceration.

No. 4—In this picture is shown the gun and dirk with which Rossi shot and stabbed De Meo.

IN THE passing of County Attorney John H. Norton from public to private life after six years as public prosecutor in St. Louis county, more than one interesting anecdote of how men accused of crime were brought to justice is recalled. To Mr. Norton probably belongs the distinction of having tried—and quite successfully—more murder cases than any other public prosecutor in the state during his three terms of office.

While rummaging through his collection of curios and relics of the office this week, preparatory to moving out of the office, Mr. Norton ran across an interesting collection of pictures, some of which are published above. They are photographs of death-dealing weapons used by murderers prosecuted during the Norton regime. They are interesting because each has a history.

One of the pictures shows a pair of dueling pistols used by Sam Kacich and Pete Radovich, two miners near Hibbing. Kacich survived the duel, but Radovich was mortally wounded and died almost instantly. Kacich was indicted and brought to trial on a charge of first degree murder. The jury found the defendant not guilty. Kacich took the stand of self-defense.

The Only Duel.

As far as can be learned the Kacich-Radovich duel is the only one ever fought in Minnesota, certainly in St. Louis county.

Kacich and Radovich were friends and countrymen. Both were employed in a mine four miles out of Hibbing. They were working as partners, and one day had a dispute over how something should be done. They agreed to quit work and fight a duel.

At 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Oct. 28, 1910, both stopped work, went to the drying house and changed their clothes and walked to town. They entered a hardware store and purchased two pistols, and later some fruit, dividing up on the expense. Outside the store, they sat down to rest and eat their fruit.

Shortly afterwards they walked to a point just outside the corporate limits of Hibbing, the scene of the duel. The pistols were identical, each being a .38-caliber, hammerless, six-shooter. The evidence showed that the men grasped each other with the left hand and stepping back a step, fired at each other.

Kacich's aim was the truer. Radovich dropped in his tracks. Kacich, the survivor, was wounded but not seriously. The local authorities at Hibbing immediately placed Kacich under arrest. He was held for the grand jury, indicted, tried and acquitted.

Pasquelle Berrilla, a 22-year-old Italian boy, four years ago killed a countryman by stabbing. The killing was premeditated and took place in the rear of a building near Railroad street and Eleventh avenue west. Berrilla was arrested, indicted, tried and convicted of manslaughter in the first degree. Judge Hughes sentenced him to twelve years in the state penitentiary. Four months later Berrilla committed suicide while in prison.

The Rossi Case.

Michelo Rossi, an Italian, prior to the Berrilla affray, had had trouble with one Antonio De Meo. In one of their quarrels, De Meo had cut him with a knife. A painful, though not serious wound was inflicted in his shoulder. Rossi was partially disabled for work. On account of this fact he was burning for revenge.

Rossi received with interest the news of Berrilla's sentence of twelve years. "Huh, that's nothing," he is said to have remarked. The same day he went to a hardware store and purchased a knife and revolver. This was on Aug. 4, 1909.

Armed with both weapons, he laid in wait for De Meo in a secluded and lonely spot in the railroad yards near Eleventh avenue west. De Meo was returning from work and while he was crossing between the tracks between two box cars Rossi jumped out and attacked him, both shooting and stabbing.

For this crime, Rossi was found guilty of murder in the first degree and on Dec. 30 of the same year was sentenced to death by hanging. This sentence was never executed. Governor Eberhart delaying the signing of his death warrant. Just after the 1911 legislature passed a law abolishing capital punishment, but before Governor Eberhart signed the bill, Rossi's sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by the pardon board.

Had the governor signed the bill with Rossi's case still pending, he would have gone free on a technicality. The board of pardons readily saw the situation and met the emergency by commuting the sentence before the bill actually became a law.

The Boy Bandits.

Duluthians have not forgotten the two boy bandits who shot and killed Harry Chesmore, policeman, on a street car just two years ago tomorrow. One of the boys Algot Johnson is serving a 30-year sentence and the other Charles Melodrowski, died within a short time after he entered the penitentiary to serve a life sentence. In one of the pictures above, Melodrowski's outlaw outfit consisting of a belt and gun is shown.

Melodrowski and Johnson had been reading dime novels and were steeped with the idea of becoming daring Western train robbers. On Jan. 3, 1911, they armed themselves with revolvers and ammunition and about 3 o'clock in the morning held up the night clerk at the McKay hotel. The clerk was gagged and tied to a post in the room. One of the boys took all the change out of office cash drawer. Both escaped.

Later in the morning, the police had heard of the robbery and were throwing a network around the youthful bandits. The boys fell into the trap and were arrested by Policeman Harry Chesmore as they were trying to escape to Superior on the first morning car. Chesmore put the boys on an eastbound car bound for the police station, accompanying them. When the car got to about Seventh avenue west Melodrowski opened fire on the officer killing him.

The grand jury was in session at the courthouse at the time and returned an indictment the next day. Each was charged with murder in the first degree. The trial, conviction and sentence followed in quick succession. Within twenty days after the date of the robbery and murder, both boys were incarcerated in prison cells at Stillwater. This is believed to be a record for swift justice.

PAINTERS' UNION ELECTS OFFICERS.

The local painters' union has elected officers for the ensuing six months, but decided to dispense with a business agent until spring work opens up. John E. Jensen, who has been occupying that position, will be recommended to the executive board of the United Brotherhood of Painters for appointment as general organizer. The officers elected were as follows: Edward Saltaw, president; C. J. Arthur, vice president; W. J. Finn, financial secretary; George Ferguson, recording secretary; W. H. Brooks, treasurer, and R. E. Jensen, D. M. Robertson and S. A. Grierson, trustees.

Parole-Breakers Taken East.

Minot, N. D., Jan. 4.—M. Myers, a guard of the New Jersey penitentiary, left here last night with four prisoners who had broken their paroles and were being returned to that institution. Three of the men had been arrested in Montana, and one here. Myers, who is taking the prisoners to New Jersey single handed, said that he would make the journey in easy stages, traveling but twelve hours a day, keeping his companions locked up in jail and while resting en route.

DYNAMITE KILLS THREE MINERS.

Joplin, Mo., Jan. 4.—Unable to escape to safety after lighting the fuses of fifty dynamite charges in the Imperial Zinc mine, near here, John Pickle, Fred Fisher and Elmer Smith, shot firers, were killed by the explosion that followed.

It was impossible to lift the men out of the danger zone because of a broken hoisting valve. They were buried under tons of debris.

Why Not Solve Your Power Problem Now?

Mr. Manufacturer, you cannot escape the fact that your expense for power is greater than it should be. Your private power plant cannot help but be inefficient—no matter how good it is. It is wasting money every day. Central Station Service is the only logical power service for you to use. You will eliminate depreciation and interest charges, fire and explosion hazards, waste of power and of valuable floor space—all of the needlessly expensive features of private plant operation.

Central Station Service Will Carry the Burden

Once you have installed Central Station Service, your business efficiency is bound to increase. We can prove conclusively, by comparison of facts and figures, that Central Station Service is cheaper and more efficient than private plant power for you. A telephone call will place one of our engineers at your service. You assume no obligation whatever. Why not communicate with us today?

How Men Now Restore LOST STRENGTH

Here is a new method by which you (like thousands of men all over the world are doing today) may secretly treat yourself without drugs or medicines with a view to quickly restoring your feelings of youth that you may get back your complete, vigorous vital health and strength. Everything is explained in my illustrated booklet for men, which I will gladly send to you free, sealed, by mail, just as soon as you write for it. Please use the free coupon below.

As to your own present physical condition, let me say from a close personal observation of hundreds of thousands of cases of lost vitality in young, middle-aged and elderly men, covering an experience of over 30 years, I honestly believe that "Lost Vitality," as we term it, is actually no real disease in itself at all, and that under certain favorable circumstances, any man anywhere, can easily and permanently restore his own full strength and nerve force if he but make an honest, conscientious effort along certain commonsense lines, which I am able to suggest, and which include absolutely no medicines or drugs of any kind. You simply use a vitalizing appliance of my invention called the Sanden Health Belt, which you wear comfortably around your waist during sleep for 60 to 90 days. That is absolutely all there is to the whole treatment excepting, of course, you are expected to lead a decent, manly life, free from debilitating excesses and dissipations. This Health Belt in itself is a marvel of power, and sends a great, soft, even flow of vitality into your blood, organs and nerves. Wearers the world over say it takes all pain and weakness out of the back, often from one application, and builds up the strength, thus giving back the full vigor of youth so you soon find yourself answering: "Never felt better in my life" to your friends' greetings; while they secretly marvel at the great change for the better which has come over you. With special attachments the Health Belt is also a wonderful treatment for rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach, bladder disorders, etc.

EFFICIENCY IN CITY GOVERNMENT HIS THEME

Duluth Has Just Made a Beginning, Says Dr. Rastall.

New Charter Is the Building; Must Now Get the Machinery.

A specialist in municipal government could be obtained to make a study of Duluth and to submit to the new commission a plan for an organization, at a cost of $300 to $400 a month, in the opinion of Dr. B. M. Rastall, secretary of the industrial committee of the Commercial club. By the time the commissioners take office he would have ready codified information on city affairs and on the experience of other cities, and he in a position to guide them in putting into effect a business organization of the city government.

The opinion was expressed by Dr. Rastall at the conclusion of an address on "Business Efficiency in Municipal Government," given at the joint meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club and the members of the library club at the Commercial club last evening. The meeting was also attended by several of the aldermen and other city officials.

In opening the meeting, W. A. McGonagle, chairman of the public affairs committee, thanked the members of the council present for their unselfish action in giving the people an opportunity to vote them out of office before the expiration of their terms. He said the Commercial club has made suggestions to the council, but only in the public interest and never in criticism, and that the club will always be ready to work with the city government for the best interests of the city.

Mr. McGonagle expressed gratification over the adoption of the new charter, and expressed the firm belief that Duluth will have either a lower rate of taxation or a better return for the money expended.

Still Have Problem.

In opening his address, Dr. Rastall said that Duluth citizens should not have too much complacency over the adoption of the new charter. He said a great problem still faces the city, and it must be solved properly, or the effect of the charter will be minimized. He compared the situation to a building that had not yet been furnished with machinery and tools, and with the men to operate them. The men are to be chosen by the citizens; the machinery must be provided, he said.

Dr. Rastall called attention to the reorganization that has been going on in private business enterprises and the development of specialists in study for obtaining efficiency and economy in private business. He said the same problem of reorganization faces the city.

"Efficiency in government means the application of the same common sense business methods and principles to the municipal corporations that are applied to the private corporations," said Dr. Rastall.

The city is a most complex organization, he said. It includes so many branches of endeavor that its varying needs and methods are not covered correspondingly by the most gigantic private corporation. But the cities have made little attempt to obtain efficient organization. They have grown like Topsy. Only a few have the drive of private business. They lack the ordinary efficiency devices which are taken as a matter of course in all private corporations. They are hedged around by conflicting charter provisions, statutes and ordinances.

The average city is getting only 50 per cent of possible results, said Dr. Rastall, which not only means 50 per cent waste, but means the city is only half way to where it should be in public improvements, through the fact that there is always a demand for improvements that cannot be made on account of lack of money.

Some Fundamentals.

Efficient operating processes, good business procedure, a good accounting system, a good organization and efficient administration are fundamentals for efficiency. Most cities lack them all, said Dr. Rastall. Purchases are made without regard to specifications and the city is considered fair prey for the sale of inferior materials. Most city accounting systems protect the cash, but do not reveal where the city stands in efficiency. A good cost system of accounting is as necessary in the city as in the private business, he said. Few cities have a good organization, intended to avoid lost motion and to make the processes of business advance smoothly and without delay.

The success of work depends upon efficiency of material, efficiency of processes and efficiency of personal service, said Mr. Rastall. The ordinary city buys its materials carelessly and handles them carelessly, he said. It pays little attention to technical processes and has a wretched employment system.

Dr. Rastall cited the case of Milwaukee, in which he was in personal charge of a survey. A saving of $40,000 to $50,000 a year was effected in the operation of a city incinerator.

"That incinerator was an insignificant looking building about as big as an ordinary residence," said Dr. Rastall. "When we finished with it, I felt like going out and taking off my hat to it."

Dr. Rastall said that in Milwaukee they found improper specifications for brick pavements costing the city much money yearly. Plumbing inspections were costing about $30 each for inspections lasting about twenty minutes.

"The most insignificant appearing practices that have prevailed for years and have never occasioned comment may be costing a city thousands of dollars yearly without discovery until subjected to expert inquiry," he said.

Bringing the talk down to Duluth, Dr. Rastall said that heretofore where efficiency study has been carried on in cities, it has been conducted by organizations outside of the city government. That has been true of New York, Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Spokane and other cities.

New Opportunity.

"We have a brand new opportunity," he said. "We can conduct this work as a regular part of the city government. We can build up from the inside in the same way as a private business. We don't need to go outside of the city to get men to put the idea into effect, though we would have to go outside to get a specialist to make a study and bring out the information needed to effect an efficiency organization.

"In order to start right we need now one man who knows the work, who knows the best things needed in municipal government, who is a specialist in just that sort of work. He should study the city as it is and chart out an efficiency organization. He should work with the city attorney in digging out the laws and ordinances and codifying them for the convenience of the commission. He should study the present system to find where betterment is suggested by scientific knowledge of business organization. He should make a study of the present accounting system and suggest a simple cost system.

"The time we need such a man is now. The man we need is the best who can be found for the purpose. He must be strong, tactful, experienced and human. He would have time to work quietly during the winter. He wouldn't be pulled around by changing conditions. He would come in not with the idea of working with the present city officials in working out an efficiency organization—that would give Duluth a business government unsurpassed in the country.

"If that is done Duluth will write a new chapter in the history of municipal government in the nation. It will commend to the city to the man looking for a future home. It will commend Duluth to the manufacturer looking for a location. It will affect the health and prosperity of every man in the city, from the highest to the lowest."

At the conclusion of his talk, Dr. Rastall was asked by Senator H. W. Cheadle as to where such a man could be obtained and what he would cost.

Dr. Rastall said the opportunity offered by Duluth would impress any man brought here to look over the field. He said the bureau of municipal research would gladly send one of its best men from New York. The chief accountant of the state board of public affairs of Wisconsin might be obtained, or a man doing similar efficiency work in St Louis at present. A good man could be induced to come for $300 to $400 a month, he said, and by April he would have the preliminary work out of the way and would have complete codified information ready for the commission.

"I believe that, no matter how long the city should keep such a man, he would save the city at least ten times what he cost," said Dr. Rastall.

ELECTRO MEDICAL DOCTORS

Are Successful in the Cure of Chronic Diseases. New Methods Prove to Have Great Healing Power for Men and Women

Heal Cancer by New Method.

Mr. Fred Johnson from Bovey, Minn., has been diagnosed by several physicians to have cancer of the stomach. He had been given up as a hopeless case and asked the Electro Medical Doctors of Duluth to help him. A report was brought to them lately that Mr. Johnson is steadily improving. To prolong life and relieve suffering is the great ambition of the Electro Medical Doctors, and they certainly have been congratulated many times by patients who recovered health after all hope had been gone.

Efficiency of New Method in Stomach Diseases.

People who suffered from stomach and intestinal diseases will be glad to hear the news that only a few treatments are needed for the cure of this troublesome disease. Of this class there are more than 100 patients who have found a permanent cure during the year of 1912. Testimonials like these are received almost daily by the doctors.

"I have suffered a long time from a bad stomach trouble. My skin looked very unhealthy, my appetite poor, pimples on my face and I felt discouraged and gave up hope of ever getting well. Medicines only helped me for a short time and then lost their effect. Since I took treatment with the Electro Medical Doctors my troubles have all left me. My skin looks well and my stomach is healthy and I am thankful to the Electro Medical Doctors for the good work they have done on me.

Mysterious Dissolving of Tumor.

Several months ago Miss Kading of Calumet, Mich., consulted the Electro Medical Doctors about a peritoneal tumor which was rapidly growing. Six weeks of vigorous treatment with this painless method has reduced the size to less than one-fourth its size.

Another lady from Chicago afflicted with the same malady in the breasts has been successfully treated and the doctors expect that the tumor will be made to disappear entirely within a short time, like they have done in other similar cases.

Paid $3,000 for Goiter.

A prominent man of St. Louis is known to have paid lately for an extirpation of his goitre $3,000 in Rochester. A young lady in this city has been cured of goitre without an operation, by the Electro Medical methods for less than two figures less of the above sum. Those who seriously desire to get back to their health should not fail to consult the Electro Medical Doctors at once. No experimenting, no guess work is done in their office and only the best services are rendered to all the patients by an experienced specialist, who guarantees a cure of those cases they accept.

The rich and the poor are treated alike and with the same method. Those who can not offer to pay for their cure are as welcome as those who are well off. The doctors are specialists in all diseases of men and women and welcome every one to a free consultation. 26 West Superior street, Duluth, Minn., is the permanent residence of the doctors.

the house. The military affairs committee has practically completed the army bill, which is expected to develop considerable friction.

Squabbles Ahead.

Besides these there remain the naval appropriation bill with its prospects for a fight on the battleship program, the military academy bill, the agricultural appropriation bill, the fortifications appropriation bill, the voluminous sundry civil bill, and the two so-called "pork barrel" bills for river and harbor improvement and public buildings.

With these prospects piled up for the next two months, Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the appropriations committee, declared today that the house would soon be forced to call night sessions for the consideration of appropriation bills. He said that committees would have the supply measures ready for action on the floor before the house was ready for them. Mr. Fitzgerald believes general legislation will have little chance on the floor.

Members of the house are looking forward to about a month of night and day grinding just before the conclusion of the session, and the leaders are already making plans to hold a quorum of members that work may be rushed through.

tonight. Public opinion grows and I want you to see that there is a growth of public opinion in favor of this idea that the government must step in to break up this railroad monopoly on the lakes.

"Three years ago the interstate commerce commission claimed no control at all over the lake carriers. Two years ago the attitude of the commission began to change, and the commission claimed control over joint rates between the railroads and the lake lines. Public opinion has influenced the far more important legislation of the last congress allowing the commission to compel the sale of railroad owned steamers, ocean or lake, when it deemed the sale necessary in the interest of public policy.

"I believe the Duluth lake and rail case was the forerunner in pointing out the evils of the railroad control of lake lines. A year from now the idea that I now suggest may also have the support of a united public opinion."

Goes Into Detail.

Mr. Barnes went into detail in explaining the situation on the lakes. He said that big expenditures on the lakes by the Federal government are justified, for the saving in transportation costs for one year returns to the people every dollar expended on the Great Lakes channels and harbors.

He cited the following figures to prove his contention:

Ore rate, lake, 40 cents: rail, $3.75 to $3.50. Traffic on lake, 1912, 46,303,000 tons. Saving in transportation cost, $162,000,000.

Grain rate, lake, 1¼ cents per bushel; rail, 12.3 cents per bushel. Lake traffic, 1912, 243,100,000 bushels, saving on transportation costs of $27,000,000.

The situation in the general freight traffic is different, he said. While the rates for bulk commodities, carried by independent lines, have been steadily declining, the merchandise rates have been increasing. While the coal, ore and grain docks have been provided with modern machinery for the quick handling of the commodities, the methods which prevailed forty years ago are still used in the merchandise traffic.

Improvements in type of vessel and carrying capacity are not reflected in rates for merchandise, while they are reflected in the bulk commodity rates. The merchandise traffic on the lakes does not nearly approach the grain, ore and coal traffic in volume, because it is to the advantage of the railroads to turn as much of it as possible to the rail lines which also control the boat lines.

The lake and rail rate on flour from Minneapolis to New York is 28 cents and the all-rail rate is 25 cents. Shipments requiring trans-shipment to cars have little inducement to go by the lake route.

Handling Charges.

San Francisco, with modern machinery for handling freight at the wharves, has a trans-shipment charge of about 5 cents a ton, said Mr. Barnes. On the Great Lakes, the regular scale for taking commodities from the steamer and loading them on the dock is 18 to 30 cents a ton, and another charge of 15 to 25 cents a ton is attached to loading the same commodities on a car. Heavy trans-shipment charges divert much traffic from the lakes, he said.

Mr. Barnes said that the lake traffic in any commodity should not be allowed to remain in the hands of its enemies. The same considerations which prompted the government to improve the waterways—the reduction of the cost of transportation on commodities which all the citizens use—should prompt the government to provide proper trans-shipping facilities at the terminals and compel the railroads to accept freight and deliver it to lake steamers owned independently.

Mr. Barnes cited what has been done at Hamburg, Antwerp, Bremen and Rotterdam in providing proper terminal facilities, and said that the ocean carrying rates to the German points are lower than to corresponding ports that have not adequate trans-shipping facilities. The saving of time to the steamer is an important consideration in itself, he said.

Mr. Barnes has been summoned to appear before the congressional committee which will meet in Washington next week to inquire into the conditions affecting water transportation. He will probably advance his ideas on the subject when he takes the stand before the committee.

out of sight the woman recovered and disappeared.

Took Policeman in Car.

A few moments later the bandits' car was hailed by Stricken.

"Jump, in old man, and we'll take you to the station house," one of the men said to Stricken.

The policeman stood on the running board and told the way to go. The chauffeur took a wrong turn into La Salle avenue. Stricken turned to protest and received a stab with a knife over the left eye, a blow on the back of the head and a shot in the leg, and was hurled from the car. The thieves fired several more shots at Stricken as he lay in the street. He raised himself on one elbow and drew his revolver and fired several times at the fleeing car. The thieves fired several more shots at Stricken, and also turned their revolvers on citizens they passed in their flight. None of these was struck by bullets.

Soon afterward the men abandoned their automobile and disappeared in a crowded section of the West side. The thieves stole the car from in front of a downtown business building late in the afternoon.

DEATH ENDS LONG ILLNESS

Frances Dickerson Dies After Year's Battle With Tuberculosis.

Miss Frances Guthrie Dickerson, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence R. Dickerson, 1221 East Third street, died last night shortly before midnight of tuberculosis.

She was a faithful and valuable member of the choir of St. Paul's church, a charter member of the "Shrine Girls" and prominent in musical circles. She graduated from the Central high school in 1910 and while there was a leading member of the Musical society.

The funeral will be held at the family residence at 2 p. m. Monday. Immediate friends of Miss Dickerson are invited to be present.

TURKS WILL REFUSE THE ULTIMATUM

the chief of the Bulgarian delegation who stated:

"We expect that the Turks will be unable to give us acceptable conditions. The negotiations will then be broken off. We have an army which can continue the war."

Dr. Daneff added a phrase which possibly indicates that a way out of the deadlock may be found. He said:

"If the Turks wish to appeal to the European powers we cannot prevent them from doing so."

It is believed to be the intention of Turkey at yield on the question of the island of Crete and to cede to the Balkan allies all her rights there.

Should the Turks unexpectedly renounce their claim to the fortress of Adrianople, it is understood that the Balkan allies are ready to moderate their original claims in regard to the future frontier of the Turkish province of Thrace. They would be prepared to make it run from Enos on the Rodosto on the Sea of Marmora to Midia on the Black sea instead of from Rodosto on the Sea of Mermora to Midia as was at first proposed by them.

returned from Chicago and talked with Federal Judge Albert B. Anderson, by whom the bonds must be approved.

It was said a wide discretion rests with Judge Anderson as to the kind of bonds, although the amounts have been fixed by the higher court. The judge may require bonds from residents of the district if Indiana, and insist that where real estate is the surety, the value of the property in each case shall be twice as high as the bonds.

May Limit Residence.

The court stated during the trial that indemnified bonds, or bonds in which the bondsmen are secured against loss, are not acceptable. It was declared that if the judge insists upon the limitations he set out in the trial, the attorneys for the convicted men will be confined to Indiana in their search for bondsmen.

William N. Harding, one of the attorneys for the men, returned from Chicago today to begin it once, before Judge Anderson, action looking toward the release of the prisoners. As soon as the bonds are granted here, attaches of the United States marshal's office will be sent to Leavenworth to bring the prisoners back to Indianapolis in custody, for their later release.

Defense Cost $85,000.

J. G. McClory, acting secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, said he did not believe the organization's expenses for the dynamite conspiracy trial would exceed $85,000. While the trial was in session, he said, the defendants were paid $5 a day as a wage allowance, and $3 a day for board. The typewritten records are said to have cost a large sum.

Mr. McClory declined to discuss the fees paid United States Senator John W. Kern and his associates, but declared everything was included in his estimate of $85,000.

Opinion of Judge.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—In his decision admitting the convicted dynamite plotters to bail Judge Baker said:

"In this case the writ of error is an absolute right; a writ of supersedeas is not an absolute right. It has been the practice of Federal criminal prosecution, however, to allow writs of supersedeas so as to release prisoners on bail until the case is finally decided by review. While the judgment of the trial court presumably is correct, yet there is a possibility of substantial error—error so great that a conviction should not be sustained. For that reason defendants should not be subjected to the ignominy of incarceration while their cases are being reviewed, and writs of supersedeas should issue when it is shown that they are asked for in good faith and not on frivolous grounds or merely to delay the progress of justice.

"The chief error assigned in this case is that the defendants were tried on the theory of a continuing conspiracy. As far as we have been able to learn there is no decision that definitely considers this point. It is a matter to be determined by reasoning and analogy to precedent. The question as to whether the defendants should have been tried for conspiracy in connection with one offense has not been definitely adjudicated, and there are possible grounds for difference of opinion. In such circumstances it is the ordinary and customary practice to admit the defendants to bail."

Amounts of Bail.

Following is shown the amount of bail each man must furnish to leave the prison:

Seventy Thousand Dollars—Frank M. Ryan, Chicago.

Sixty Thousand Dollars—John T. Butler, Buffalo; Olaf T. Tveitmoe, San Francisco; J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake City; Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco; Philip A. Cooley, New Orleans; Frank C. Webb, New York; Michael J. Young, Boston.

Forty Thousand Dollars—John H. Barry, St. Louis; Peter J. Smith, Cleveland.

FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR OR ITCHY SCALP--25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Save Your Hair! Danderine Destroys Dandruff and Stops Falling Hair at Once—Grows Hair, We Prove It.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Knowlton's Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was the only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out that all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He told me to go to the Progressive Medical Association at No. 1 West Superior street. He had been cured himself by them and he knew they were square, and knew men's diseases better than any other doctor in Duluth. They applied their Dissolving Method and at first my progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment."—E. H. C.

BATTLESHIPS COST $15,000,000 NOW

House May Renew Fight Over Increasing Navy's Strength.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The high cost of battleships was explained to the sub-committee of the house naval affairs committee preparing the naval appropriation bill by Chief Constructor Richard Morgan Watt of the navy department. The chief constructor told the committee that estimates for battleships to be authorized in this year's bill must be based on a cost of about $15,000,000 per battleship. A few years ago the department procured new ships authorized for the increase of the navy for $10,000,000. Last year's bill appropriated on a basis of about $12,500,000 per ship.

Constructor Watt explained to the committee the requirements of the vessels to be authorized, and asserted that the increase in tonnage of big ships and the increase in armor and armament caused the advanced price.

The committee has not yet reached in its deliberations the troublesome question of whether the bill will include one, two or three battleships, or none. A campaign already has been begun among members of the house to reach an agreement to include a single ship in the bill. This is not meeting with favor among the two-battleship men, and if they decline to compromise, another fight will be begun to eliminate the increase of the navy from the bill entirely.

CITES CATTLE LAW IN MANN ACT CASE

Government Argues People Should Be Protected as Well as Beasts.

Washington, Jan. 4.—On the theory that the Federal government has as much power to protect people as it has to protect cattle, the government, in a brief, has asked the supreme court to sustain the "white slave" traffic act as constitutional.

Assistant Attorney General Harr quoted the decision of the supreme court in upholding the constitutionality of the law against the transportation in interstate commerce of diseased cattle.

"Will it be said," Mr. Harr asked, "that congress, if it chooses to act, cannot protect the people of the several states against the introduction of women and girls for the purpose of debauchery—that the law affords greater security to cattle than it does to persons?"

WILL SERVE THE WEST END

Canadian Northern May Arrange to Use Northern Pacific Depot.

As soon as the new Canadian Northern road begins regular service on its line into Duluth, a passenger and freight service will be provided for the West end. This news will be welcomed by West end business men and residents.

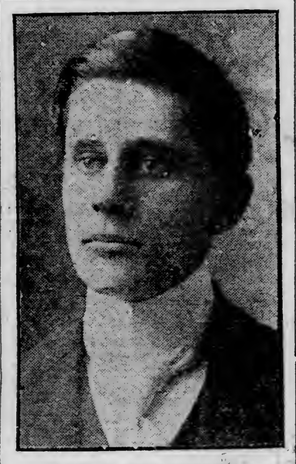

The new line will run on the Northern Pacific tracks from Forty-third avenue west into the Omaha station, the road's terminal in Duluth. It is planned to use the Northern Pacific's station in the West end for passenger and freight service, if the necessary arrangements can be made. The road now receives its freight at the station at Sixty-third avenue west.

J. L. Pickles, resident engineer of the road, in speaking of the report that local business men are anxious to have a station erected by the road in this end of the city, said yesterday afternoon that this request would be impossible. "We will use the Northern Pacific tracks from West Duluth direct into the city," said Mr. Pickles, "and it will be impossible to erect a passenger station on the other road's line. We will in all probability conduct a passenger and freight service for the business men and residents of the West end as soon as our line begins operations."

WILL CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

WINNIPEGGER SAYS DULUTH WILL GROW.

Frank Day, a well known business man of Winnipeg, who is spending the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. David Adams, 2314 West Second street, takes much interest in the growth of Duluth, which he visited for the last time about four years ago.

The number of new buildings in the past four years, the street lighting system and the splendid street car system of this city are among the features especially noted and commented upon by Mr. Day. "The population of Duluth will double," said Mr. Day yesterday afternoon, "as soon as the steel plant is completed. It will take about ten years, but the growth of this city is inevitable, with the completion of this huge plant."

In speaking of his home city, Mr. Day says Winnipeg is making an enviable reputation for herself among the cities of the Northwest, having now nearly reached the 200,000 mark. The building permits for 1912, he said, amounted to over $20,000,000. As an instance of the growth of Winnipeg, Mr. Day mentions one store there which employs nearly 5,000 people in its Winnipeg branch alone.

ADAMS CLUB HOLDS ELECTION

Old Leaders of Active West End Society Step Aside.

The Adams Athletic association held its annual election of officers last evening at its club rooms in the Sloan building, Twentieth avenue west and Superior street.

In addition to the election reports were made for the past year, showing that the organization has had a most successful year and that it is now in a strong financial condition. Plans for this year were outlined by the members present, which include activity in all branches of athletics and a campaign for 100 more members.

The old officers of the club all refused re-election and a practically new set of officers was elected. They are: Andrew Otterson, president; William Stevens, vice president; Carl Gunther, secretary; Emmanuel Swanstrom, financial secretary; George Wallen, treasurer; Michael A. My New Years Resolution

If I DON'T, in six months I'll look like this and eventually I'll look like this

Here is one New Year resolution that your pride, if nothing else, should make you keep. Don't become a life size reproduction of one of the Going! Going!! Gone!!! boys. Keeping your hair is not a difficult task, but it is a task that must not be neglected.

The dandruff germ is always working, destroying the hair life and pushing the hairs out—some every day. The loss at first may not seem very alarming but, unless checked, the final result is the same, you are going to be totally bald.

The regular and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide is all you need. It will eradicate the dandruff and keep the hair and scalp in a clean, healthy condition. There is no more of the scale-like accumulation and the hair stops coming out. The improvement is of a most extraordinary character and you will marvel at it.

You notice the change at once. The itching ceases almost immediately. The hair is bright, glossy and full of life. Herpicide is wonderful. It contains no grease, does not stain or dye, and on account of its exquisite odor is a delightful hair dressing. You will like it.

A TRIAL BOTTLE AND BOOKLET FOR TEN CENTS

One application of this remarkable and well-known toilet requisite is usually sufficient to convince the most skeptical of its great merit. A trial size bottle together with a booklet telling all about the hair will be sent to any address upon receipt of ten cents in postage or silver.

WILL VOTE ON SCHOOL BONDS

Special Election Will Probably Be Held on Jan. 25.

Teachers Will Hear Course of Six Lectures on Sex Hygiene.

If it is possible to arrange details in time for the necessary publication, there will be an election held on Jan 25, at which the voters will be asked to sanction the issue of $200,000 bonds to be used for the purpose of erecting the proposed R. E. Denfield and E. R. Cobb schools. The board will hold a special meeting some time next week in connection with this proposed election and at that time will decide upon the date. The election will be held on a Saturday so that the schools may be used as voting places. Baldwin & Baldwin were named as attorneys to prepare the legal papers necessary and to go into the matter of abstracts of title to the lots that the board will purchase for school sites.

It was also decided to employ F. G. German to draw up the plans for the Lakeside school addition.

The board voted to pay Dr. Mabel Ulrich $250 for a series of six lectures before the teaching corps on sex hygiene. Director Nelson said that he believes this to be the right move in order that the teachers may acquire a proper foundation so that they may be able to instruct their pupils in regard to it.

R. J. Wilson, who has served several times as superintendent of construction for the new school buildings, made application last night to be appointed to a similar position this year. The matter was referred to the building committee. Dr. Stella L. Wilkinson made application for the position of medical inspector of schools in place of Dr. J. B. Weston, who is said to be leaving the city. This matter was also referred.

A request made by the newly organized Congregational church of Fond du Lac that it be allowed the use of the Fond du Lac school for Sunday school, church and prayer meeting services, was granted. The organization will pay its share of the lights and heat.

A communication from A. Gronseth of East Fourth street asking that the board do something to relieve the congested condition of the Franklin school, was read. He declared that something must be done in that district to provide larger and better facilities for school purposes, for, he said "that the neighborhood is of a most prolific nature, not believing in race suicide." To prove his statement he furnished each member of the board with a picture of his family group in which he and his wife are surrounded by their ten children.

FISHER REMOVES INDIAN CHIEFS

Says Uncle Sam Oil Company Influenced Them in Land Deals.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Seven members of the Osage Indian tribal council have been removed from office by Secretary of the Interior Fisher, who alleges in a statement that the council was influenced by the Uncle Sam Oil company and three individual applicants who had tried to secure the lease of 800,000 acres of oil and gas land, comprising the entire unleased portion of the Osage reservation. The secretary ordered a new council elected the latter part of this month.

The department of justice has been informed by the secretary of the conduct of certain persons in connection with obtaining these leases from the Indian council, and asked to take such action as the facts warrant.

The Indian council, three of whose members were ordered out some time ago, refused to obey Secretary Fisher's order in regard to filling the vacancies, and this was another cause which led to the action by the secretary.

WANT BOOKS IN PARCEL POST.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Resolutions regretting that congress did not include books as mailable by parcel post, and asking remedial legislation, were adopted at a meeting of the council of the American Library association. The resolutions stated that the omission seriously retarded plans of the libraries to establish circulating departments to bring the benefits of the public libraries to rural communities.

F. H. Anderson, assistant director of the New York public libraries, and Miss Mary E. Ison, librarian of Portland, Or., first and second vice presidents of the association, presented the resolution. It was announced that each member of the association would urge his congressman to urge the inclusion of books in the parcel post.

LIMIT SERVICE MEN AT THE INAUGURAL

Gen. Wood Will Heed Wishes of President-Elect Wilson.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the army and grand marshal of the inaugural parade to be held March 4 next, has announced that in deference to President-elect Wilson's expressed wish, the representation of the army and navy will not be as great as at previous similar functions. These two services, all told, will be represented by about 7,000 men.

At a meeting of the inauguration committee, Thomas Nelson Page told the members of Mr. Wilson's desire for simplicity.

Gen. Wood afterward announced that the army would be represented by three regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry, a battalion each of engineers and field artillery, and the cadets from the military academy at West Point. The navy will be represented by a regiment each of marines and blue jackets, as well as the midshipmen from the naval academy at Annapolis.

Gen. Wood said the militia organizations from the various states had not yet made known in what numbers they desired representation in the parade.

CITY SHOULD ACT AT ONCE

Former Manager of Water Company Says Auxiliary Main Is Needed.

Should Also Quit Dumping Sewage Into Lake Superior.

William Craig, who was manager of the plant that furnished Duluth its water supply up to the time the city bought it in, has offered some suggestions as to the construction of a duplicate system for the city to prevent a recurrence of the recent shutting off of the water supply.

He gave his reasons to The Herald this morning as follows:

"In the first place I wish to say it is imperative that steps be taken at once to construct another force main for the reason that a similar break in the system or a worse one is liable to occur at any moment. Also the limit of life given the steel pipe now in use has almost expired and we must expect it will rapidly deteriorate. In the meantime while perfecting the necessary plans and devising ways and means to build this auxiliary sytem, which will take at least two years, the proper authorities should take immediate steps to reinforce the present system, thereby reducing to a minimum the danger of curtailing the supply of Lakewood water. In this connection allow me to emphasize the fact that had certain recommendations made by an engineering party, acting in an official capacity, been carried out, or had the plans as originally contemplated in certain particulars been followed, hardly a single water consumer would have suffered inconvenience.

"There are sufficient funds available at the present time to carry out this work. The cost will not be very great and there are no difficult engineering problems to surmount.

"So far as the building of an auxiliary main or system is concerned there are many difficult problems to consider and solve, and it is essential that the proper authorities have the benefit of the best obtainable talent which should result in a saving to the taxpayers of at least $100,000.

"In solving these problems there is another question of vital interest to the people of the community that should be considered, financed, solved, and settled for all time. I refer to the disposal of the sewage of all the territory east of the point of rocks. Between Lester river and Lake avenue there are at present about thirty sewers emptying their foul contents directly into Lake Superior, the source of our own water supply. In addition thereto there is Lester river, Tischer's, Chester and Brewery creeks, all of them nothing but open trunk sewers for the disposal of the filth of the dairies, stables, etc., bordering on these streams. It is only a matter of a few years before the Federal authorities will compel the officials of Duluth and other lake cities to cease emptying their sewage into the lakes.

"The main question or proposition to consider and work out is a plan for a stable, permanent and adequate water supply, making provision for the future growth of the city; and also the adoption of some method or plan for the disposal of the sewage other than emptying it into the lake in and around our source of water supply."

RAT BISCUIT KILLS POSTMASTER'S HORSE

Cass Lake, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stephen Schaak, the postmaster and merchant of Kitichi, fifteen miles north of here, came to Cass Lake yesterday to purchase a new horse. A few days ago he found some rat biscuit in a sack of feed from which he had been feeding his team. Shortly afterwards his most valuable horse was taken violently sick and died. Mr. Schaak does not think there was any malice as the poison was found in a sack that had not been opened until he began using it.

FIRE LOSS IN 1912 THE LOWEST IN SEVEN YEARS

Wants More Motor-Driven Apparatus and a Fire Boat.

Duluth's fire loss for 1912 was less than half that of last year and the lowest in seven years, according to the annual report of Chief Joseph Randall, submitted to the board of fire commissioners at their meeting at the city hall yesterday afternoon.

The total loss was $213,903.64 as compared with $441,384.82 for 1911. The total insurance was $1,445,146 while the total value of the property endangered by fire was $1,651,675. The uninsured loss was $19,750.

The department responded to 449 alarms. Of these 325 were received over the telephone, 101 from the alarm boxes and 4 from the A. T. T. boxes.

Chief Randall made a number of important recommendations for the coming year. Some of them have been made in other years but no action has been taken upon them. They include two new fire houses, a fire boat and other apparatus. Commenting upon the fire boat the chief states that if it were in service all that would be necessary would be to lay mains from the bay front to have the city ready for an emergency. He asserts that not a citizen will question the necessity of the fire boat and that few will question the need of high pressure in the business district.

The chief has been satisfied by experience that motor apparatus is more efficient and more economical than the horse-drawn apparatus and believes that more should be installed. He points out that less men would be needed and that much more property could be given protection.

Recommendations.

The recommendations in the report are as follows:

A new site and house at West Duluth.

A new house at New Duluth.

Fire boat.

A new aerial and motor truck to replace No. 1 truck.

A combination engine and hose wagon to replace two rigs at No. 4.

Two tractors to propel Engines No. 1 and 2.

Three thousand feet of new hose.

The chief goes on to state: "The old house at West Duluth is in a very dilapidated condition, very insanitary unsuited to the needs of the department and in the wrong location.

"The old house at New Duluth is in very poor shape, is old and could not be repaired to serve for motor or horse-drawn apparatus.

Fire Boat.

"There is not a citizen in Duluth who will deny the necessity of a fire boat while few will question the necessity of high pressure in the business district. If we were supplied with the fire boat we would have only to lay the mains up from the bay front and we would be ready for an emergency.

"The old No. 1 truck has been in constant service for twenty-one years. It has done good service, but is worn out. The aerial ladder is in very poor condition. It has been repaired so many times that it is positively beyond further repair and is in dangerous condition for service. If a motor truck were supplied it would eliminate the cost of keeping four horses and the salary of one man.

"A new motor combination engine and hose wagon in house No. 4 would save the keep of five horses and the salaries of three men. They would be able to cover the hillside district with more dispatch and could cover the Woodland district in less than one-half the time now required.

"A combination hose and chemical motor rig to replace No. 8 wagon would greatly improve the service in that end of the city. The district is very large and growing rapidly to the west of them.

"The two tractors for engines Nos. 1 and 2 would allow us to do away with six horses and two men; allow us to make long runs with much more dispatch and would be a great advantage in the mill and water front districts."

The board of fire commissioners has already let a contract for a new blacksmith shop as an addition to No. 3 hall. Yesterday a contract was awarded for a new automobile, equipped with fire fighting apparatus, for the second assistant chief.

The report of City Electrician F. E. Hough, presented at the same time, states that the underground system has been extended from Ninth avenue west to Twenty-seventh avenue west and that cable is on hand for use at West Duluth. During the year licenses were issued for operating twenty-three moving picture machines. A new signal system has been installed for alarms. The report shows that the city owns over 126 miles of wire. The electrician stated that the duties are becoming so heavy that he would recommend that the inspection of electrical wiring be transferred to another department.

WILL BE CHIEF DEPUTY UNDER THE NEW REGISTER OF DEEDS

Steve L. Pierce has been selected as chief deputy under Charles Calligan, register of deeds elect, according to a statement given out by Mr. Calligan, who is in the city today a guest at the St. Louis hotel. Mr. Calligan will enter on the duties of his office on Monday, when the newly elected county officials will succeed the old.

Up to late this afternoon, Mr. Pierce had not definitely stated whether or not be would be able to accept the appointment. He has intimated, however, to Mr. Calligan that he would. The job was first offered to Tilton E. Lewis, former clerk and now manager of the New St. Louis hotel. Mr. Lewis had the matter of acceptance under advisement for some time, but finally declined.

Mr. Pierce was a defeated candidate for sheriff at the Republican primaries last September against Sheriff John R. Meining. He has been closely identified with county politics for several years and has held political jobs before. For eight years he has served as chief deputy in the sheriff's office. He held this appointment under the administrations of William J. Bates and William Butchard, former sheriffs. Prior to that he served in the register of deeds office under Registrar Lofgren.

William A. Anderson, who served under the late M. C. Palmer as deputy register of titles, will hold over with Mr. Calligan. As to the office organization, Mr. Calligan today stated that there would be no material changes, at least not for the first two months.

In the other offices at the courthouse, including the sheriff's office, there will be no changes of importance.

BURY HAMMER AND BOOST

That Is Announced Policy of Commercial and Rotary Clubs.

Cordial Relations Shown to Exist at Joint Dinner.

For over four hours last evening, the civic and commercial needs of Duluth were discussed in joint meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club and the members of the Rotary club.

The Rotarians were guests of the Commercial club at the regular monthly meeting of the public affairs committee. The meeting was the first of a series through which the Commercial club hopes to bring the various civic organizations into closer co-operation in working for a common end —a greater Duluth.

Bouquets were tossed back and forth with the true co-operative spirit last evening. W. A. McGonagle, chairman of the public affairs committee, commended the Rotary club for its work in civic matters, and M. A. Thomson, vice president of the Rotary club, personally, and President E. J. Filiatrault by letter, declared the club to be in hearty accord with the work of the Commercial club and the anxiety of the Rotarians to work in co-operation with the older institution.

In welcoming the Rotary club, Mr. McGonagle declared "The Rotarians are our kind of people. They do things promptly and thoroughly."

Mr. McGonagle made a plea for close co-operation between all civic organizations. He declared that there should be no petty jealousy or narrow lines in civic work.

"Let us all work together, holding aloft the standard, 'Duluth and That Which is Best for Its Success.'"

Vice President M. A. Thomson of the Rotary club, in responding on behalf of that organization, declared that service is the first principle of the Rotarians. The motto, he said, is "He profits most who serves best." He said the club has already been able to accomplish something in Duluth and it is looking forward to being of still greater service to the people.

President E. J. Filiatrault's letter, sent on account of illness which prevented his personal attendance, declared that every man interested in the progress of Duluth should be ready to bury the hammer and boost. Mr. Filiatrault paid a high tribute to the Commercial club as the parent organization in civic endeavor and declared that the Rotary club is always willing to join with the Commercial club in any public work.

The meeting was a great success in doing just what it was intended to do. It brought the members of the public affairs committee and of the Commercial club into closer touch with each other. It gave the Rotarians an insight into what the Commercial club was doing, and gave them an opportunity to explain the purposes of their organization.

About 200 men attended the meeting, which developed the best of feeling. The dinner began about 6:30 and did not end until nearly 11 o'clock, but every minute was given over to subjects of vital interest to the city.

ARAB PATROL ELECTS OFFICERS

The Arab patrol of Aad temple, Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, elected officers last night and chose John W. McDonald as president. One of the chief guests of the evening was Past Potentate H. B. Lake of Zuhrah temple, Minneapolis. Noble Lake gave an interesting and enjoyable talk. It was practically decided that the meeting of the imperial council at Dallas, Tex., this year would not be attended by the patrol as a body. Other officers of the patrol elected last night were: Dr. W. J. Coventry, vice president; S. L. Frazer, secretary; W. J. Johnson, treasurer; A. F. M. Custance, musical director; Albert Paul, captain; first lieutenant, Wallace Wellbanks; Charles C. Jones, second lieutenant.

PARCEL POST IS CHEAPER

Government Lower Than Express Companies on All Small Packages.

Traffic Commission Prepares a Comparative Table for Shippers.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the Duluth Commercial club, has prepared a statement showing a comparison between parcel post and express rates from Duluth to other points. He selected several cities in each zone for comparison, and his tables shows a big advantage in favor of the parcel post, especially in small packages.

WOOD WANTS THE CANTEEN

Says Its Restoration Would Raise Efficiency and Health in Army.

Also Proposes Plan to Eliminate Officers Who Are Unfit.

Washington, Jan. 4.—The restoration of the army canteen and enactment of legislation for the elimination from the United States army of unfit officers, are among the principal recommendations of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff, in his annual report.

Gen. Wood likewise recommends the concentration of the army on strategic lines and in areas where it can be more economically maintained, and would transfer all the personnel of the staff corps—excepting engineers, medical officers and chaplains—to the line, increasing accordingly the number of general officers and line officers in the different grades.

The transfer of the personnel of staff corps to the line, in Gen. Wood's opinion, "will terminate the constant struggle between line and staff, a struggle which is as old as the army, and one which promises to continue.

"There would be no interference with promotion, nor would the members of the present staff corps lose any of their present advantages. There would be more co-operation and greater efficiency," he says.

Unfit Officers.

Discussing means for the elimination of unfit officers, the chief of staff says:

"The full efficiency of an organization of men cannot be secured without a system by which the merits of the individuals shall have some effect upon their advancement."

"The army has long suffered from the lack of such a system," the general continues. "Up to the grade of colonel, promotion is entirely by seniority in each branch, and there is no way under the law by which an officer, no matter what his merit, can be advanced a single number except by making him a general officer.

"Conservative opposition is most to be looked for in the army, where there is jealous fear of the effects of favoritism; but this would disappear under the influence of a proposition of law to place the selections where they belong, in the hands of the service itself, which surely is worthy of the trust, by lodging it with boards of officers so chosen as not to be personally affected by their decisions, and sworn to act in accordance with the best interests of the service."

Regarding Canteen.

On the canteen question, General Wood says:

"The great majority of the officers of the army are of the opinion that the re-establishment of the canteen, under proper supervision, would tend to improve the health, discipline and efficiency of the service through dismissing intemperanec and immorality. I concur in this opinion."

General Wood encounters an old difficulty in trying to solve the question of the fluctuation in the number of desertions from year to year. Last year the desertions numbered 3,401, an increase of 897 over the year preceding. "It is probable," he observes, "that many young men enlisted last year with an expectation of field service, which was not gratified."

ALLOWED TO COME IN.

Woman and Son, Delayed at Ellis Island, Reach Minnesota.

Cass Lake, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The appeal of Congressman Lindbergh and Senator Nelson to the department of commerce and labor resulted in Mrs. Arvid Nordquist, wife of a homesteader of the Boy river country, who was detained at Ellis Island, N. Y., to enter the country with her youngest son. The woman is nearly blind and the government exacted a bond for $2,000, which her husband was unable to furnish, so appeal was made to Lindbergh and Nelson. The woman and boy arrived this week and were welcomed.

RAISE BAIL FOR MOONEY

Union Men Will Try to Get the $10,000 Necessary.

Friends in Duluth Have Never Wavered in Belief in Him.

Duluth union men will make an effort to raise the $10,000 necessary to release Fred J. Mooney, the convicted iron worker, from the Federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

The court has fixed Mooney's bonds at $10,000 for release pending the decision of the writ of error requested on behalf of thirty-two of the thirty-three defendants. Duluth union men believe the amount can be raised and Mooney released until the final determination of the case.

Union men and other friends of Mooney in Duluth have never wavered in their loyalty to him. When he was first arrested they declared there was a mistake and he was not guilty of the charge of conspiracy in the dynamiting cases. On his conviction and sentence to a year and a day in the Federal penitentiary they reaffirmed their belief in his innocence. Now that an opportunity has been given to release him, they say that they will show their friendship by raising the required amount.

CRITICIZES WORK OF WICKERSHAM

Railroad Lawyer Files Brief in Oil Case With Supreme Court.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Criticism of the course of Attorney General Wickersham in the Southern Pacific oil land litigation, is made by Maxwell Evarts and Henry W. Clark, counsel for the Southern Pacific Railroad company, in a brief filed in the supreme court of the United States in defense of their claim to millions of dollars' worth of Western oil lands. It is said that title to $500,000,000 worth of oil lands, depends on the outcome of the litigation.

The case now before the supreme court involves questions as to whether Edmund Burke and other private litigants, have better claims to the land than the railroad company. The government recently filed a suit seeking to annul patents to the lands it issued to the Southern Pacific.

"It is unparalleled in the whole history of judicial procedure," the railroad's attorneys assert, for the attorney general of the United States to be permitted to intervene as a 'friend of the court' in a case between private litigants, and then so to use the privilege granted him as to attempt to have decided issues not now before the court, and which may or may not hereafter come before it in a government suit just begun against one of the parties in the case at bar.

"It is certainly unfair and unjust to the railroad to be compelled, in this court of last resort, not only to defend the present case, but also defend another case arising upon entirely different facts, which has not proceeded beyond the filing of a bill of complaint.

"Especially is this so, when the great seriousness and vast importance of this matter, not only to the Southern Pacific railroad, but to all land grant railroads is considered."

The cases will come up for oral arguments on Jan. 6 or a few days later. The government's brief has not been filed.

CASTRO PUTS UP LAW FIGHT

Applies for Habeas Corpus and Seeks to Leave Ellis Island.

Abandons Return to Europe and Seeks Entry to America.

New York, Jan. 4.—Capriana Castro, ex-president of Venezuela, who announced at Ellis Island several days ago that he would abandon his desire to enter the United States and would return to Europe voluntarily, still is on this shore. He remains under detention at Ellis Island, awaiting argument Jan. 6 on a writ of habeas corpus granted in his behalf yesterday by Judge Holt in the Federal district court.

It cost Gen. Castro $400 to cancel his passage to Europe. He had engaged two suites on the Amerika.

Castro has abandoned his idea of returning to Europe without entering the country, and now plans to go to the highest court, if necessary, in his fight for entrance.

Judge Holt today issued a supplemental order directing that the writ of habeas corpus granted yesterday be made returnable Jan. 6 and that Castro be held at Ellis Island until that date.

It was alleged in the application that the former president of Venezuela was being illegally held at the immigration station on Ellis Island, where he has been detained since his arrival on a French liner last Tuesday, and the court will be asked to sustain the writ and thus set him at liberty.

Move Is Surprise.

Starting of legal proceedings to determine the status of Castro came as a surprise, for the former Venezuelan executive had apparently given up, without especial regret, his declared intention of paying this country a sightseeing visit, and had declared his desire to return to Europe as quickly as a steamer could carry him.

The proceedings, it was stated at the offices of George Gordon Battle, who applied for the writ, grew out of a visit paid to Ellis Island by Harold Content, connected with Mr. Battle's law firm. He reported to Mr. Battle, who advised the visit. Mr. Content said that after talking with Castro he believed the Venezuelan was being held in violation of the immigration laws, and that "improper questions" were being put to him in an effort to make him commit himself and thus get special cause for detaining him, if that proved necessary. It was then determined to apply for the writ "in the interests of public citizens," and endeavor to secure Castro's release. As soon as the writ was procured, messengers hurried to Ellis Island and served Byron H. Uhl, assistant immigration commissioner with a copy of the document.

The granting of the writ does not attorneys said, give the Venezuelan the right to leave Ellis Island, and he is expected to remain under detention there, unless other means are decided upon to release him pending final disposition of the case.

It was declared that Castro informed the attorney that he had desired and intended to visit this country for a period of about three months, and that he still desired to make such a visit.

BELTRAMI FAIR REPORTS SURPLUS.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—At its annual meeting the Beltrami County Agricultural association elected officers for 1913 as follows: President, A. P. White of this city; first vice president, August Jarchew, Bemidji; second vice president, D. O. Myhre, Frolin; secretary, Charles F. Schroeder, Grant Valley; treasurer, R. H. Schumaker, Bemidji; member-at-large of the executive committee, F. S. Arnold, Bemidji.

F. S. Arnold, A. P. Ritchie and Charles F. Schroeder were appointed a committee to attend the state meeting of agricultural associations in St. Paul, Jan. 14 to 17.

These men, with August Jarchow were appointed premium committee for the 1913 county fair, and were instructed to publish the premium list within the next two months, offering prizes with a view of making the next fair the largest and best ever held here.

The treasurers report shows a surplus of about $1,200, of which $995.58 was refunded by the state as 89 per cent of the county premium list offered last fall.

Charles F. Schroeder, new secretary of the association, will have charge of Beltrami county's exhibit at the state fair, and will endeavor to make that exhibit the best ever displayed by this county.

TRAMMER REVIVED.

Supposed Ironwood "Dead" Man Is Brought Back to Life.

Ironwood, Mich., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eddie Jangala, trammer in the Newport mine, came in contact with a live wire this week and was supposed to have been electrocuted, but was brought back to life by the rescue station with its pulmotor.

The pulmotor was adjusted and after five minutes the heart fluttered and there were symptoms of life. After his heart was found to be beating regularly he was removed to the hospital, where he lay for fourteen hours unable to speak. After that time he got up and walked to his home and from all appearances seems to be in good condition.

FARGOANS TO BUILD.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Fargo Armory association was formed today to construct an armory and auditorium 80 by 140 feet, two stories in height. The lower floor will be used for a drill hall, club rooms, bath and locker room by the militia company and the second floor for an auditorium and will have a seating capacity of 4,000.

The decision to build was the result of inability to secure an agreement with the Walker Theater company to double the size of their theater, which was recently burned. The theater capacity in the new building will be increased but not sufficient for an auditorium.

C. H. & D. OFFICERS MAY BE FREED.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 4.—The discovery of an order by the Indiana railroad commission granting the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad company until Jan. 1, 1913, to complete its installation of a block signal system, may have an important bearing on the cases of sixteen officers and directors of the road indicted here a few days ago, charged with involuntary manslaughter as a result of the Irvington wreck, which cost sixteen lives.

As the liability of the officers was based on the fact that the company had failed to install the system as ordered, attorneys for the company believe the indictments invalid.

The finding of the order probably will have no bearing on the indictment of the engineer or conductor, as it is charged their carelessness in leaving open a switch was responsible directly for the accident.

SAYS MEXICO IS DECEIVING WORLD.

City of Mexico, Jan. 4.—Luis Cabrera, leader of the administration party, in a speech in the chamber of deputies yesterday, declared that the Mexican government was attempting to deceive foreign bankers with regard to conditions in Mexico, which country, he said, would be facing civil war for at least three years to come.

Ernesto Madero, the finance minister, recommended that the 40,000,000 pesos bond issue recently authorized by congress be increased to 100,000,000 pesos. The minister assured the deputies that a group of bankers in London, New York and Berlin would underwrite the bond issue on terms that would be "satisfactory to the nation."

WHAT IS THE RAILROAD PLUM PROMISED DULUTH?

W. A. McGonagle Unwilling to Explain His Statement at Club.

Believed That It Means Assembling Yards for Soo.

W. A. McGonagle, pesident of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern, made a statement at the Commercial club meeting last night that he had just returned from a conference with Soo line officials at St. Paul and Minneapolis, the result of the conference being that there will be better transportation facilities opened up for Duluth to other points of the Northwest, such as the citizens of this city have not even dreamed about. Mr. McGonagle this morning declined to discuss his statement. Said he:

"I spoke only in general terms last night and I am sorry to say that I am not at liberty to give out anything further for the present. In due time it will be given out."

It has been said among some of the leading business men of the city who claim to know, however, that the statement means that arrangements have been made by the Soo for an assembling yard at West Duluth, much property for the purpose having been bought there, and also arrangements have been completed for the Soo to use the Canadian Northern tunnel, beyond Spirit lake, making a better short-cut to the Northwest. If this is the deal, it will likely mean, it is expected, abandonment of the proposed cut-off from Lawler to Duluth, which has been already planned, for there will likely be a shorter route. Nothing of a confirmatory nature could be obtained in the city, but such a move on the part of the Soo road would mean, it is thought, a shorter route between Winnipeg and Chicago, which it is understood the Soo is planning. However in view of the fact that the Canadian Northern's combination with the Omaha and the promised consequent through train to Chicago from Winnipeg, causes the new rumor to be doubted. Also the Canadian Northern and the Canadian Pacific with which the Soo is closely affiliated have long been bitter rivals.

GLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

The new year is starting out well with the fire department.

The new hall at Seventh avenue east and Ninth street has been completed and is now in service. Up to today the men were still waiting for their initial run.

The contract for a much-needed addition to No. 3 hall has been let and approved by the council. It will be used for a blacksmith, paint and general repair shop. Chief Randall states that it will have ample room to allow the repairing of automobiles of other departments.

Yesterday afternoon the board awarded a contract for an automobile, equipped with light fire fighting apparatus, for Assistant Chief C. W. Wilson. This will provide all three heads of the department with automobiles.

The second assistant has been the last to get a machine in which to answer alarms. The need has been felt for a long while. He covers territory from the West end to Lakeside and the long, fast runs have been hard upon the horses. The advantage of quick transportation will be a decided benefit. The back of the car will have a large chemical tank with a long line of hose and other apparatus. With that equipment he will be able to squelch many small blazes before they assume considerable size. It has happened that large fires could have been prevented if they could have been reached sooner.

The only bid submitted yesterday was that of the Interstate Auto company. The price of the car was $3,050, completely equipped. The machine will be painted red, as the others in service, and will have a 50-horse power engine.

Morris Polinsky and John Stubler were found guilty of vagrancy in police court yesterday afternoon. Each got $20 and costs or ten days in the county jail. Polinsky was a would-be lightweight prizefighter a few years, for which he assumed the cognomen of "Kid Paul."

W. A. Wagner, charged with keeping his saloon open after 12 o'clock the morning of Dec. 27, was found not guilty and discharged after a trial in police court yesterday afternoon. He admitted that four men were in the place when the policeman entered, but asserted that they had just finished a lobster supper after the theater. He asserted that he served them with no drinks after 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Mary Nunamacker, proprietress of the Joliet hotel at 713 West Superior street, was a busy woman yesterday. In district court she was trying to satisfy the judge that she should be granted a divorce from her husband, while in police court she was endeavoring to establish that she did not run a house of ill fame at the Joliet. Luck appeared to be against her at all turns. In the district court her petition was taken under advisement. In police court she was found guilty and given a straight sentence of twenty days in the county jail. The reason for denying the option of a fine was that she was found guilty of the same charge not long ago. A stay of twenty days was granted in which to prepare an appeal. The other case is now pending in district court on appeal from the police court.

William Pflaeger, a woodsman, admitted in police court yesterday that he had stolen a watch from John Campbell, another lumberjack. The two retired in the same room in a Bowery hotel and when Campbell woke up he found his erstwhile companion gone together with his ticker. Pflaeger got thirty days in the county jail.

Elnar Johnson, arrested yesterday on a serious charge preferred by Ellen Bloom, was married to the prosecuting witness this morning. It is expected that the case against him will be dismissed.

John Edwardson championed the cause of George Thatcher when he accompanied him to Richard Wilson's stable to get a cutter. Wilson and Thatcher engaged in a wordy battle over the rig and Edwardson stepped in, striking Wilson. He pleaded guilty in police court yesterday afternoon and paid a fine of $10.

Lot Barager admitted in police court yesterday afternoon that he had sold venison but his case was continued for disposition to Jan. 23. Barager is the settler who sold venison to a local citizen who was driven to his place by Deputy Game Warden Archie Boyd. When they returned to the city the game was seized by Deputy Storey, after which the "driver" tried to console his passenger upon his tough luck.

Fred Olson, living near Brimson, pleaded not guilty when he was arraigned on a charge of selling moose meat. He will be tried Jan. 31.

Frank Pecha of Baptism river was arrested by Deputy Warden Mattson on a charge of having untagged venison in his possession. He pleaded guiltp and paid a fine of $25 and costs.

William Riel confessed in police court this morning that he is a disciple of the never work lodge and got $10 and costs or thirty days in the county jail for vagrancy. He went over the hill

FOUR MORE DIVORCES

District Court Judges Kept Busy With Matrimonial Tangles

Four more divorces were turned out in the grist of the divorce mill in district court yesterday afternoon.

Victor Doyle, aged 32, was granted a divorce from his wife, Laura, 30, to whom he was married on Christmas day, 1905. Doyle claimed that his wife deserted him four years ago. The decree was ordered by Judge Cant.

Judge Ensign granted Frank F. Patterson, 35, a divorce from Frances Edna Patterson, 27, on the grounds of desertion. They were married ten years ago at Charlestown, Pa. On April 2, 1911, she left him. She is now residing in Jersey City, N. J.

Judge Dancer took under advisement the granting of a petition for divorce of Mary Nonnemacher, who wants a legal separation from Charles Nonnemacher on the grounds of cruelty and failure to provide. The court granted Thomas J. Jewell a divorce from Lula R. Jewell on the grounds of desertion. The Jewells lived together for about two months.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE.

Los Angeles Times: Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, on the occasion of his 92nd birthday, said of contentment:

"When an old man sits down and dreams of what he might have been, there's a good deal more contentment in looking down than up."

OPPOSE CHANGE IN JURY PROCEDURE

Lawyers Do Not Want Verdict of Ten Jurymen.

The Duluth Bar association yesterday at a meeting held in Judge Cant's office at the courthouse went on record by a vote of 32 to 21 against a proposed law providing that ten jurymen out of twelve might render a verdict, instead of a unanimous vote as is now required. The state constitution was amended in 1890 giving the legislature authority to pass such a law. Albert Baldwin, president, was chairman of the meeting. No other matters were taken up.

OBITUARY

Gen. Edward Merwin Lee, said to a relative of Gen. Robert E. Lee, famous Confederate commander, is dead at New York, in a private sanitarium, aged 77. At the opening of the Civil war Lee enlisted with the Fifth Michigan cavalry. He was soon promoted to a brigadier general. He served four months in Libby prison. In 1869, while acting governor of Wyoming territory, he signed the first equal suffrage bill. For twenty-five years he had practiced law in New York.

Mrs. Mary W. Goodell, mother of G. A. Goodell, general manager of the Northern Pacific railway, of St. Paul, died in Minneapolis, Jan. 4.

Llewellyn A. Cobb, one of the oldest members of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, is dead. He was 59 years old. Mr. Cobb had been failing since last spring, but only a week ago attended his duties at the Chamber of Commerce. On Christmas day he was taken seriously ill and grew gradually weaker until his death. Mr. Cobb had been a member of the Chamber of Commerce for more than twenty-six years and was engaged in the grain business for many years. He was a resident of Minneapolis for more than a quarter of a century. He was born in St. Anthony in 1853. In 1864 he moved with his parents to Hastings, Minn., where he began his career as a grain merchant. He lived in Hastings until 1886 when he moved to Minneapolis and founded the company of L. A. Cobb. For the last two years, however, he was connected with J. K. Elliott & Co. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Maurice L. and Arthur E. Cobb.

Brig. Gen. Charles G. Sawtelle, United States army, retired, died in Washington, Jan. 4, aged 79 years.

LIVELY BANQUET.

Pyrotechnics Promised for Meeting of Greater Duluth Club.

The banquet of the Greater Duluth club at the Spalding next Tuesday evening promises to be a lively affair. The committee in charge promises verbal pyrotechnics, and a large gathering is in prospect as a result.

The list of speakers includes some of Duluth's prominent business men, who will discuss matters of great interest to Duluth. There is a good demand for tickets and the committee expects to entertain a capacity crowd.

THE "MUSEUM HEADACHE."

London Chronicle: "Lingering" is precisely what most people do in museums; they linger, hang about, but do very little real looking. The "museum headache" is worse than the "academy headache"—a thicker, heavier, dustier headache. The brain absorbs something of the nature of its surroundings. After a couple of hours in the museum at Treves, which has one of the finest collections of Roman antiquities in existence, I marched out with the notion that I must at least be a legionary of Diocletian. Even the jangle of the tram bells had a military ring about it. But the Treves Museum is a work of art; it is full of air and light and there are tall windows looking out on greenery. If its superb collection were stowed away in the British museum I wouldn't go near it.

Argue for New Trial.
Judge Dibell of the district court today heard arguments for a new trial in the Thomas James murder case. James' attorney, Warner E. Whipple, asked for a new trial on the grounds that the jury's verdict of guilty of murder in the second degree was not justified upon the evidence presented. Warren E. Greene, representing the state, appeared in opposition to the motion. Judge Dibell has not announced his decision in the matter.

Seek New Trial.
Judge Cant this afternoon heard arguments for a new trial in the case of Moses Goldberg against the Canadian Northern Railroad company, which was tried in district court at the November term. The jury awarded the plaintiff a verdict of $232.47 damages for the loss of a horse claimed to have been killed in transit. The railroad company claims that the evidence did not justify the verdict.

Will Talk to Men.
Dr. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of Glen Avon Presbyterian church will address men at 3:30 Sunday at the Young Men's Christian association. Mr. Lawrence has been an ardent member of the Lincoln, Neb., association and knows men and their life and their problems. His address Sunday will be along the line of special problems and temptations of men. Special emphasis will be given to the musical part of Sunday's program.

Case is Postponed.
The street railway injunction case against the city, by which the corporation hopes to block attempts by the municipality to annul the company's franchise, will likely go over until the opening of the regular term of United States court on Jan. 14. Judge Morris left last evening for Pasadena, Cal., to take a vacation, and Judge Willard will relieve him at the next term of court.

Travelers Leaving.
Many of the men who travel for Duluth houses are leaving the city today after their first-of-the-year conference with their sales managers. Most of them are going to their homes in various parts of the Northwest to spend Sunday with their families, after which they will get out on the territory and boom business again. The railroad offices are besieged today by these customers who are heading out and who will be in only occasionally for another year.

Change in Time.
Great Northern Train No. 33, which now leaves Duluth for Grand Forks, the Pacific coast and intermediate points each morning at 8:45 o'clock, will begin tomorrow to leave at 8:30 o'clock for the winter months. The arrival time at points outside of Duluth is not affected.

Business Brisk.
S. J. Cusson of Virginia, manager of the Virginia & Rainy Lake lumber mill at Virginia, is at the Spalding today, stated that the business of the company at the Virginia mill was very good, and that if it continues as good as it has been during the past few months, it will run far in excess of any year in the history of the business since the opening of the mill.

RANGES ARE SETTING A PACE

Hibbing Can Give Duluth Pointers on Cleanliness, Says Capt. Rose.

Capt. James T. Rose is back on the Duluth Board of Trade after a vacation of about ten days, which he spent visiting his two sons and daughter at Hibbing.

Capt. Rose said the range towns can set Duluth an example in cleanliness. "Hibbing," he said, "is one of the cleanest cities I ever saw. I noticed a force of men busied at clearing the snow away from all the crossings. The streets were well policed and orderly. Those range towns seem to have a great deal of money. The big mining companies do not object to paying heavy taxes, if they can thereby make those little settlements attractive, so that their employes will like living there, and will be at hand when needed.

"At Hibbing a new high school is going up and it is a magnificent building. It has a swimming pool as long as the Board of Trade floor is wide, much larger than the swimming tank of the Duluth Y. M. C. A. The people up there are sparing no pains to do all they can for education. The night classes for the instruction of Finns and other foreigners in the English language are well patronized. Another sign of progress is the new electric railway, which, when completed, will connect Gilbert, Biwabik, Eveleth, Virginia, Buhl, Chisholm and Hibbing."

THE HOME BOOSTERS' CHORUS

Every time you come down town
And start to throw your money 'round
Say "Duluth goods are the stuff for me,"
Because they mean prosperity.

A dollar you send to the Eastern shore
Says: "So long, Bill, for evermore."
So keep it here and you'll hear its sound
When it comes back to hang around.

The folks around are getting wise—
There's a way to beat those "furin" guys,
Who pocket your coin and never come 'round
With enough of the stuff to feed a hound.

WOODROW WILSON'S "OPEN DOOR" POLICY IS THE ONE GENERALLY USED IN DULUTH

Even Bank Presidents Are Not Hard to Approach If One Has Business.

Few Business Men of Zenith City Hedge Themselves About With "Buffers."

"I see that President-elect Wilson says that when he becomes the resident of the White House, he will maintain an open door to all who seek the ear of the chief executive of the nation," said a man who is in one of the leading positions of the banking line in Duluth yesterday afternoon.

That started a discussion as to how far the "open-door" policy extends in Duluth. He gave his views and others gave theirs.

"As to the banks," he continued, "in Duluth we are singularly liberal as to interviews, but at that the executives must be possessed of that fine discrimination and tact which dictates when to end a conversation and how to do so without losing the favor of the man who is talking to you. In practically all banks of Duluth the president has, of course, his private office, but the vice president, who is usually the 'public' man and the one with whom the rank and file deal, and also the cashier, are simply behind a rail and at the mercy of all who seem to think that they have the ear of the official. I am glad to say that in almost all cases even the ordinarily veriest boie knows and realizes that the 'man behind the rail' has other things to attend to besides that of hearing his tale of woal or woe as it happens to be, or to listen to so-called funny stories. We are seldom talked to excessively and when one undertakes to intrude on our time to an unwarranted extent there is always the expedient of pressing a button for the stenographer and asking to be excused while we dictate a letter, which in all such cases is a long one.

The Happy Medium.

"My own opinion regarding the 'open door' of the president-elect is that he will soon find out that such a thing is impossible if he hopes to accomplish anything. Of course there is such a thing as becoming too exclusive—and that is true of the occupant of the White House as well as of the banker. There is a happy medium in everything if you only care to search for it, and that is what Dr. Wilson will choose later on, I feel sure. The 'open door' will never do, for if persisted in, it will be badly abused."

In Duluth there are few financiers or other leading men who are not approachable on any reasonable errand. Of course there are those people who will never reach the inner sanctum of many of these men because they never seem to know when an interview is ended, but evince a tendency to emulate Tennyson's brook and go on forever. Such men soon wear out their welcome and very soon the "buffers" or secretaries, as one may please to call them, have such individuals "spotted" and there is but small hope of seeing the principal at all unless he is button-holed on his way to the club or to his home on the street at some time.

As the banker quoted said, there is nothing easier than to see the head of a bank. About all one has to do is to walk up to the rail and address him, state your errand, and—most important of all if you wish to make an impression—"beat it" as soon as the interview is over. Use no circumlocution and make your phrasing direct and to the point. That is what pleases the average business men at any rate. The garrulous man is never welcome.

Bankers Easily Seen.

One could mention all of the bankers as easy of approach. President H. M. Peyton of the American Exchange National bank and Vice President D. H. Williams of the First National bank might be mentioned as examples. No men in the city are easier of approach than these if one has something to say that is worth while, but if it is merely to get funny or to kill an hour the icicle sign is hung out.

Among other financiers, perhaps the men hardest to "get to" in Duluth—this being written from the experience of a newspaper reporter, who has to "get to" them at times—are C. A. Congdon and T. F. Cole and that is because they are so often out of the city and when they are at home are busy with back correspondence and appointments. W. J. Olcott is also difficult, but that is chiefly because of the fact that almost every time one visits his office without having previously made an appointment, there is found seated ahead enough men with appointments to fill up a morning or afternoon. But there are none more affable and easy of approach than Mr. Olcott when he has the time.

F. E. House, president of the Duluth & Iron Range, when not occupied can be readily approached. W. A. McGonagle, president of Duluth, Missabe & Northern road, is not prohibitive of interviews and is communicative to a certain degree. Beyond that degree, which when it is reached bears an unmistakable demarkation, there is "nothing doing."

G. G. Hartley's Method.

G. G. Hartley can easily be seen but he has that baffling quality possessed by the late President McKinley, so often remarked, that when one thinks he is interviewing Mr. Hartley, he leaves pleased with himself only to wake up on the street and find that he has been interviewed. J. B. Cotton, a diplomat, can be reached all right but unless the subject is something which can safely be talked about—and Mr. Cotton has the time—there is not a great deal coming off. J. L. Washburn is another busy man who treats visitors who are not bores or time wasters with the utmost courtesy.

Mr. Washburn has an almost uncanny ability to get at the business of the interviewer in the first few words.

A. L. Ordean, president of the First National bank, is not a hard man to reach. It takes only seconds to get to Mr. Ordean's presence if he is not occupied, and he also has the habit of bringing his visitors to the point promptly, without appearing brusque.

On Board of Trade.

Among the Board of Trade men there are few who cannot be reached instantly, if one knows how to go about it. Most of them have no "buffers." During a season like the past one few of them have much time to give to anybody, and most of them have been getting to their offices at an hour that would make the average day laborer talk of strikes. Such members of the board as A. D. Thomson, Julius H. Barnes, G. A. Tomlinson, B. E. Baker, J. F. McCarthy, H. J. Atwood, the Mc-Cabe brothers, Watson Moore and Stephen H. Jones and others are often to be found at their desks at 6 o'clock or 7 o'clock in the morning, during the grain rush, and evening work is not unknown. By the time the trading floor opens they have the decks cleared for work, and in the free and easy democracy of the board anyone who attempted to hedge himself about with an air of exclusiveness, would find his pockets stuffed with wheat, or flax poured down his neck.

In fact it is true of most of the business men of Duluth, that on business, interviews and other things, where the value of their time is not abused, they may be seen and will give concise talks and hear similar ones.

There are exceptions in the city—and they must be nameless.

Some of them are able men, others merely crabbed. This does not apply solely to their attitude toward newspaper men, but to others as well, and their reputation is not slow in spreading. The man who is "hard to see" is soon known, and other business men soon learn to avoid him as much as possible.

A Dainty Toilet Article.

Every lady who desires to keep up her attractive appearance, while at theater, attending receptions, when shopping, while traveling, and on all occasions, should carry in her purse a booklet of Gouraud's Oriental Beauty Leaves. This is a dainty little booklet of exquisitely perfumed powdered leaves, which are easily removed and applied to the skin. It is invaluable when the face becomes moist and flushed, and is far superior to a powder puff, as it does not spill and soil the clothes. It removes dirt, soot and grease from the face, imparting a cool, delicate bloom to the complexion. Put up in white and pink and sent anywhere on receipt of 10 cents in stamps or coin. F. T. Hopkins, 37 Great Jones street, New York.

JEZREEL'S TEMPLE FOR SALE

Famous Tower on Which $200,000 Was Spent and Which Remains Unfinished---Fleeting Glory of the Modern Fighting Ship.

London, Jan. 4.—The famous Jezreel's temple at Chatham has been offered for sale.

This building, which is a conspicuous landmark, was begun in 1882 by a British soldier named White, who, after an attack of sunstroke in India, proclaimed himself the prophet of a new religion and adopted the name of "James Hershon Jezreel."

An article of the new faith was that none of its disciples should visit a barber, and the Jezreelites rapidly became known in the locality and beyond it. "Jezreel" gathered hundreds of followers and organized a little colony on farms and workshops, out of which he made a fortune. He began the construction of the temple with the object of accommodating 5,000 of the faithful out of the 144,000 who were to be saved when the end of the world came.

He promised his followers that he would live forever, but he died before the tower was completed. It remains unfinished today despite the fact that over $200,000 was spent on it. The building remained unoccupied until 1906, when it was taken by an American named Mills, who adopted the title of "Prince Michael" and proclaimed himself the successor of "Jezreel." A little over three years ago "Prince Michael's" followers were evicted, having failed to pay the rent to the owner, a contractor who had taken over the building on the death of "Jezreel."

How fleeting is the glory of the modern fighting ship is illustrated in the case of the British battleship Dreadnought, the building of which as a result of the report of the British naval attaches who accompanied Admiral Togo's fleet in the first naval battles in the Gulf of Pechili against the Pacific fleet of Russia, caused a revolution in battleship construction.

This once proud vessel is now considered so far out of date that she is being removed from the first battle squadron and assigned to the fourth battle squadron, which is based on Gibraltar. The Dreadnought has been in commission less then six years, and while not considered obsolete is more completely outclassed by the latest ships than were the pre-dreadnoughts distanced by her when she was first built.

Three weeks ago the battleship King George V. was commissioned. She has a breadside of no less than 14,000 pounds. This gives her a superiority of 106 per cent over the Dreadnought, which was only 28 per cent better than the last pre-Dreadnoughts. The new armored cruisers even are 50 per cent more powerful than the Dreadnought. No British armored ship is reckoned effective today that has been launched over eighteen years.

At the battle of Trafalgar the twenty-seven British ships averaged 27 years from the date of launching. The Victory herself was 50 years old.

The strike of the workers on the Northeastern railway caused by the action of the company in reducing an engine driver after he had been convicted of drunkenness, and which lasted less than a week, cost the Northern shipping trades over $5,000,000.

The trouble came at a time when there was an extraordinary rush of trade before the holidays, which was interrupted by an unusual and pressing demand for coal by Russia and other European powers, who were putting in stocks against the possibility of war. It was not only the shipping trades that lost heavily, however, for the miners and men in collateral trades lost nearly a week's work as the company could not accept freight, while the railway men themselves were mulcted in fines which it will take them some weeks to pay.

This has left a wound and many of the men, dissatisfied with the action of their committee in signing the company's terms, wished a general strike ordered. Better counsels prevailed, however, the men who had gone on strike against the advice of the union officials, on this occasion listening to them. There is unrest among the men on most of the railways of the country. They complain that they are persecuted, that any man found to be active in trade unionism is unfairly treated by the companies, and on the least excuse is either gotten rid of or reduced.

The companies deny this, but the men believe it and many of the sectional strikes, such as that on the Northeastern, are caused more by the general dissatisfaction than by the special occurrence that takes the men out. The men on the Northeastern were not greatly concerned about the reduction of Driver Knox, but they had a general grievance against the company and took the first opportunity of venting it. It is the same with the coal miners. The men in Wales, who made the bitterest fight in the last big strike, are now complaining that the award made on the conclusion of the strike, is not being fairly administered and threaten that unless their grievances are remedied they will declare another general strike. It is likely that they would were it not for the fact that their funds were depleted by the last struggle.

ON THE IRON RANGES

WILL CELEBRATE COMING OF CARS

Chisholm Commercial Club Starts Ball Rolling for Big Holiday.

Chisholm, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club, at its last meeting, designated a committee to wait on the manager of the Mesaba Range railway and find out when service to Chisholm will be inaugurated, so there can be a big celebration here and a holiday. The mayor will be asked to declare the day a holiday.

Manager Remington of the Doric invited the club to hold its next meeting in his theater, at which time he will arrange a special program for them.

A committee was appointed to investigate the cost of an auto-bus to the locations to run on a regular schedule, and to confer with the business men with a view to establishing a satisfactory route to be made at regular intervals, thus establishing a closer relation between the locations and the business district.

Want a Sawmill.

The club authorized its clerk to insert in a lumbermen's publication an "ad" calling the attention of lumbermen to the fact that a good opening awaits them on the shores of Long Year lake for a sawmill.

The committee which was appointed to solicit funds to give the little Olson boy, the youngest boy of a widowed mother, a proper burial, met with success. They collected nearly $100 in less than two hours. The balance of the money above the actual funeral expenses will be turned over to the mother to supply her needs.

EVELETH IS TO SEND COMMITTEE

Opponents to Proposed Workingmen's Compensation Act Are Aroused.

Eveleth, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local Italians are up in arms against the proposed working men's compensation bill. John Manella of Duluth has been on the range for several days holding meetings in opposition to the measure, and is said to have won over all his countrymen. A large meeting was held in Max Stipetich's hall, Mr. Mainella addressed the audience and it resulted in the adoption of resolutions opposing the measure.

Committee Is Named.

A committee composed of Santa Forte and Louis Acclacaferro was appointed to draft a protest to be sent to the legislature and Mr. Mainella was appointed to go to St. Paul in the interest of the local Italians to lobby against the bill. The greatest objection against the measure is said to be the provision that non-citizen working men shall not share in proportion to citizens of the United States in the adjustment of personal injury cases. A large proportion of the Italian working men of the range are non-citizens.

MODIFIED ORDER HAS BEEN FILED

Phraseology of Famous Hibbing Injunction Is Changed By Court.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—An order modifying the original findings in the famous injunction case of Lizzie Hurkari Liend, vs. the Oliver Iron Mining Company, was filed yesterday afternoon. The original injunction resulted in the partial closing of the Sellers mine at Hibbing last February. The modification causes the striking out from paragraph No. 8 of the words, "Except lot 7, in block No. 18, in the original plat of Hibbing, which lot does not abut on either Pine street or Fifth avenue." Also the striking out from the end of paragraph No. 9, "as a result of such blasting, plaintiff's said hotel building became untenantable, and was vacant and unoccupied from some time prior to the commencement of this action."

The order adds the words to the paragraph No. 1, "or which shall hereafter be lawfully made, but no such barrier shall be placed in Pine street west of the east line of Fourth avenue."

What Was First Ordered.

The words immediately preceding the above mentioned addition in the original court findings are, "from excavating or cutting into or across Fourth avenue, or into or across Pine street west of the east line of Fourth avenue, and from encroaching upon or obstructing the same in conducting its mining, stripping, or other operations in aforesaid mine. But that this shall not be construed as preventing said defendant (the Oliver Mining company) from placing temporary barriers in or across said streets or avenues at proper places so as to prevent the public from getting into excavations heretofore made by it in or across said streets or avenues."

It will not be so steep and it will now be as easy to make a 160-foot jump as it was to make a 145 feet before.

The prizes amount to $1,000 in cash, cups and medals and trophies. The cups and medals are here and are being engraved and will soon be on exhibition.

The local ski club is also expecting the wonderful lady rider, Miss Jensen, of Ladysmith, Wis., to give exhibition jumps starting from the top of the scaffold.

It is said that Matson claims too much liquor had prevented him from telling his own money from that of the other men's. It is probable that he will plead guilty and ask District Court Judge Martin Hughes to suspend sentence on condition that he repay the money that he is alleged to have embezzled from the society.

OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

COLDER

There's a cold wave headed our way. Of course, the weather has been a little snappy for the last two days. The mercury was down to 2 deg. below zero this morning, but that is not objectionable in January. However the drop tonight will be to 15 or 20 deg. below zero, which may be uncomfortable. If the weather man doesn't keep it up too long, we'll withhold criticism in consideration of the conditions which have prevailed thus far this winter.

The low mark a year ago today was 24 deg. below zero and the maximum was 12 deg. below.

The sun rose this morning at 7:54 and it will set at 4:32 this evening, giving eight hours and thirty-eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather condtions:

"The eastern storm is centered off the New England coast. During the last twenty-four 50 to 60-mile gales have resulted from Cape Hatteras northward along the Atlantic coast, and light to heavy falls of snow occurred in the lake region and North Atlantic states. Another disturbance overlying the Southwest has caused warmer weather in the extreme South and light to heavy snow or rain over Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Western Iowa. Colder weather prevails in Middle and North Atlantic states, Upper Ohio valley, Lake region, Canada and Northwestern states, in connection with increase in pressure over those districts. Conditions favor zero weather in St. Louis and Douglas counties during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

General Forecasts.

Gilbert, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Brown was attended by a very large crowd of Gilbert and Genoa people. The event was given after the public installation of officers of the Modern Woodmen lodge. Dancing was the feature until 11:30, when lunch was served. After lunch D. M. Mouser, acting as chairman, called on numerous members of the lodge and all expressed regret that Mr. and Mrs. Brown and family were leaving and that his work in the lodge had been efficient and valuable. Mr. Fulton in a neat speech presented Mr. and Mrs. Brown with a handsome carving set. Dancing was then resumed until 2 o'clock. Kraft and Peterson furnished the music. Mr. Brown and family left Friday for Tower and will go from there to Florida, where he has a fruit farm and expects to make his future home.

The crew is a large one and it is expected that the work will be completed in very quick time. The shaft house is to be erected over a former timber shaft, which was recently enlarged to permit hoisting ore contiguous to the shaft, which would otherwise require considerable timming to another shaft.

The ceremony commenced at 8 o'clock with the official address of Rev. E. J. Barackman, pastor-at-large, who gave the obligation and charge to the pastor. This was followed by the charge given the church by George S. Turner, a former pastor of the church, now stationed at Gilbert. He also preached the installation sermon in place of Rev. Mr. Neff of Virginia, who had contracted a severe cold and was unable to be present. A reception was held at the close of the services in the club rooms, which were beautifully decorated for the occasion.

OKLAHOMA LAWYER FOR FISHER'S JOB?

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 4.—Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma has presented to President-elect Wilson the name of Robert Rogers, an Oklahoma lawyer, for the post of secretary of the interior. When the senator left he declined to say what he had talked about with Mr. Wilson. The president-elect later declared that Senator Owen had come to speak for Mr. Rogers.

"Senator Owen dwelt upon the fact that Mr. Rogers has a general practice in which he has distinguished himself," Mr. Wilson said. He added that Mr. Rogers had been prominent as a progressive Democrat in Oklahoma. Mr. Rogers was a class-mate of Mr. Wilson at the University of Virginia, but they not seen each other since, the governor said.

Reports that Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia was to confer with him concerning the appointment of a governor for the Panama canal zone were declared by Mr. Wilson to be without foundation.

DIGS UP $37,500 IN DITCH; MUST LOSE IT

Oklahoma Laborer Barred By Law From Keeping Treasure.

Nowat, Okla., Jan. 4.—George Hardshook, a laborer, unearthed $37,500 in gold while digging a trench near the village of Oglesby. Hardshook's possession of the wealth probably will be of short duration, a state law requiring that such finds be surrendered to the owner of the land. The money bore evidence of having been buried a number of years.

STEAMER AND 22 PEOPLE ARE LOST sight, the Indrakuala signaled her to be on the lookout for another vessel.

The revenue cutter Apache started today from Annapolis for the scene of the wreck, forty miles away.

Tangier gas buoy, where the collision occurred, is close to the point where the Potomac empties into Chesapeake bay, and near Point Lookout.

Although the Luckenbach was sunk before yesterday's gale broke over the coast, the eight men who remained in the rigging were caught in its full fury, which broke about two hours after the accident.

Formerly Dutch Vessel.

New York, Jan. 4.—The steamer Julia Luckenbach was commanded by Capt. H. A. Gilbert of New York. Frederick H. Hunt of New York was her first officer, and Christopher Knudsen of Brooklyn her chief engineer. Her crew was signed in Baltimore and the names were not known here.

The vessed was formerly the Dutch steamer Zaandam and was built in Rotterdam in 1882. She was of 3,100 tons gross burden and 313 feet in length. The rescue of the eight was made by the Danish tramp Pennsylvania, Capt. Lissner, and the men were brought into Newport News early today.

The Indrakuala, which rammed the Luckenbach, is a British tramp, bound to New York from Baltimore. She backed off after the collision, and the second mate of the Luckenbach declares her master refused to give assistance to the sinking ship.

The Indrakuala is a newly built steel steamer of 5,723 tons, and 430 feet in length, and was bound from Baltimore to New York en route from Yokohama.

Phosphate Rock Cargo.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 4.—With the exception of Capt. Gilbert, First Officer Hunt and one of the engineers, the crew of Julia Luckenbach was composed of foreigners. They were signed here Dec. 12, just prior to the sailing of the steamer for Port Tampa, laden with phosphate rock for Baltimore.

Returned to Kansas City.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—Two detectives arrived here last night from Kansas City to return Samuel Levikow, charged with swindling a bank in that city out of several hundred dollars. Levikow, who was arrested here under the name of M. Richardson, has been held by the St. Paul police pending the arrival of the Kansas City officers.

WILL BRING A TEST CASE

City Council Will Seek Ruling From Supreme Court.

Aldermen Would Know Their Powers Under New Charter.

When the old council holds its first meeting under the new charter Monday night, it is expected that several resolutions will be passed with a view to testing the powers of the city under the present arrangement.

It is stated that the action will take the form of a friendly injunction against the city. The matter will be carried to the district court and thence to the supreme court. It is believed that the latter body will be in session when the appeal reaches it, and that in view of the local situation it will give it an early hearing.

The action or actions will determine what the city can do with the old officials under the new charter. The prevalent opinion is that the transition will not interfere with the business of the city, but some have raised doubts. It is to settle all question that the matter will be taken into the courts.

The water and light department has asked permission to sell $100,000 of bonds, the balance of the $300,000 issue authorized a couple of years ago. The council will likely pass the necessary resolution. An injunction can be gotten on the matter from proceeding, thus testing the city's authority to sell bonds. Another resolution will probably order the extension of the Polk street sewer, opening the way for a test of its power to order improvements. The same will be done relative to the confirmation of an assessment. To test its right to enter into contracts a resolution will be passed authorizing the chief of police to advertise for bids for a new auto patrol. The board of fire commissioners yesterday awarded a contract for a new machine for the second assistant chief, so that action may be utilized to test the right of contract.

Several other matters will come up for consideration at the council meeting. About the most important expected is a report from the finance committee as to the hiring of a municipal expert to provide a tentative code of administration for the commission when it takes office. It is stated that the majority of the committee favors the hiring of an expert if the cost does not run over $600 or $900. The committee may recommend that he be hired and work in conjunction with the heads of the various departments of the city.

Ready for Legislature.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—All committee rooms which have been occupied by state departments since the close of the last legislature, have been vacated save those occupied by Charles E. Keller, state fire marshal. He will move to other rooms within the next two or three days. The capitol is ready for the coming of the legislators.

Is This Man Gifted With Strange Power?

Prominent People Say He Reads Their Lives as an Open Book.

Do You Want to Know About Your Business, Marriage, Changes, Occupation, Friends, Enemies or What to Do to Achieve Success?

TEST READINGS FREE TO ALL DULUTH HERALD READERS WHO WRITE AT ONCE.

Attention of the mystically inclined seems to be centered at present upon the work of Mr. Clay Burton Vance, who, although laying claim to no special gift of supernatural powers, attempts to reveal the lives of people through the slender clues of hand-writing and birth-dates. The undeniable accuracy of his delineations leads one to surmise that heretofore palmists, prophets, astrologers, and seers of divers beliefs have failed to apply the true principles of the science of divination.

Asked to explain the method by which he gives his delineations, Mr. Vance replied: "I have simply resurrected an ancient science and moulded it into a key to human nature."

The following letter is published as evidence of Mr. Vance's ability:

Prof. Dixon, M. A., Director Lanka Observatory, member of the "Societe Astronomique de France," member of the "Astronomische Geseilschaft," Germany, writes:

Prof. Clay Burton Vance:

Dear Sir—"I duly received your letter and Complete Life Reading. I am perfectly satisfied with your Reading; it is nearly all the items as exact as it could possibly be. It seems strange that you should refer to my suffering from throat trouble. I have just had a bad attack and usually have it two or three times per year. I shall certainly recommend you to my friends who desire a Life Reading."

Arrangements have been made to give free test Readings to all readers of The Herald but it is especially requested that those who wish to avail themselves of this generous offer make application at once. If you wish a delineation of your own life, if you wish a true description of your characteristics, talents and opportunities, simply send your full name, the date, month and year of your birth (state whether Mr., Mrs. or Miss), and also copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

"Your power is marvelous,
So people write.
Please read my life—
Are my prospects bright?"

Send your letter to Mr. Clay Burton Vance, Suite 542-F, Palais Royal, Paris, France. PRODUCTION OF COPPER

Output in 1912 Largest in the History of the Industry.

Six States Each Exceeded All Former Records of Production.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Statistics and estimates received by the United States geological survey from all plants known to produce blister copper from domestic ores and from all Lake mines indicate that the copper output of the United States in 1912 exceeds that of any previous year in the history of the industry. Not only is the total output the largest ever recorded, but six of the large copper-producing states—Arizona, Michigan, Utah, Nevada, New Mexico, and Alaska—have each exceeded all former records of production, while Montana and Tennessee have nearly equaled their previous record productions.

Smelter Production.

The figures showing smelter production from domestic ores, which have been collected by B. S. Butler, of the geological survey, represent the actual production of most of the companies for eleven months and an estimate of the December output. The November figures for a few companies were not available and these companies furnished estimates for the last two months of the year. According to the statistics and estimated received, the output of blister and Lake copper was 1,249,000,000 pounds in 1912, against 1,097,232,749 pounds in 1911.

At an average price of about 16 cents a pound the 1912 output has a value of nearly $200,000,000, against $137,154,0929 for the 1911 output.

Refined Copper.

Preliminary statistics showing the output of refined copper are not collected by the geological survey. Figures published by the Copper Producers' association show an output of 1,429,147,150 pounds for the first eleven months of 1912 and indicate that the production of marketable copper by the regular refining plants from all sources, domestic and foreign, will amount to about 1,560,000,000 pounds for 1912, against 1,433,875,026 pounds in 1911.

According to the bureau of statistics imports of pigs, bars, ingots, plates, and old copper for the first eleven months amounted to 276,508,505 pounds, and the copper contents of ore, matte, and regulus imported to 94,486,041 pounds. If the imports for December were equal to the average monthly imports for the first eleven months the amount of copper entering the United States for the year was about 404,721,223 pounds, against 324,607,538 pounds for 1911. Considerable of the copper imported as blister had been previously exported as ore.

Estimates based on figures for the first eleven months published by the bureau of statistics and also by the Copper Producers' association indicate that the exports of copper for 1912 will not equal those of 1911 but may exceed 750,000,000 pounds.

Stocks of refined copper held in the United States Jan. 1, 1913, are probably about the same as on Jan. 1, 1912. Foreign stocks show a considerable decrease.

Domestic Consumption.

Statistics published by the Copper Producers' association show the domestic deliveries for the first eleven months of the year as 761,174,225 pounds and indicate a marked increase in domestic consumption, which will probably reach 825,000,000 pounds for the year and may exceed that amount.

The average quoted price of electrolytic copper for the year showed a marked increase over that for 1911. The average for 1912 was about 16 cents a pound, as compared with 12.5 cents a pound for 1911. The year opened with copper at about 14 cents a pound, but since June the monthly average has not been below 17 cents.

Arizona.

For 1912 Arizona again holds first place among the copper-producing states. The output will show a large increase over the 203,202,000 pounds produced in 1911 and may exceed 350,000,000 pounds. This is not only the largest output ever made by the state but the largest ever made by any state for one year.

The production of copper from the Bisbee district will show a large increase over the 130,200,000 pounds in 1911 and may exceed 145,000,000 pounds for 1912. A new smelting plant was under construction by the Calumet & Arizona company during the year.

The output of the Morenci-Metcalf district will show a considerable increase over that of 71,500,000 pounds for 1911 and may reach 80,000,000 pounds for 1912. The building of a new smelting plant by the Arizona Copper company was in progress during the year.

The Globe-Miami district will show a large increase over the production of 44,600,000 pounds in 1911, this being due to the larger output by the Miami Copper company. The production for 1912 may reach 55,000,000 pounds. The larger producers were the Old Dominion, United Globe and Miami companies. During the year the Inspiration Consolidated Copper company was formed by a merger of the Inspiration Copper company and the Live Oak Copper company. Development and blocking out of ore was carried on by this company and plans for a concentrating plant set under way. Development was carried on by other companies.

In the Jerome district the output of the United Verde mine will show little change from the 33,200,000 pounds produced in 1911.

The production of the Mineral Creek or Ray district will show a large increase over 1911, owing to the larger output of the Ray Consolidated company, the only large producer of the district. The output for the year will be between 30,000,000 and 35,000,000 pounds.

In 1912 the Ray Consolidated company secured controlling interest in the Ray Central company, and the properties will be worked together. The smelting plant of the American Smelting & Refining company at Hayden was placed in operation during the year.

Montana.

The copper output of Montana will show a large increase over the 271,814,491 pounds produced in 1911, owing to the stimulation to production given by the increase in the price of copper. The 1912 output may reach 310,000,000 pounds. The Butte district, as in previous years, was the only large producer. Montana ranked second in copper production in 1912.

Important additions to the ore reserves of the Butte district are reported and improvements have been made in the methods of extracting and treating the ores with a view to decreasing the cost of production.

Michigan.

The production of copper from Michigan, which ranks third among the copper-producing states, will show an increase of nearly 15,000,000 pounds over the output of 218,185,235 pounds in 1911. The output was made largely by the old producers and the increase was due to the stimulation of higher metal prices. Development of new territory has been active during the year.

Utah.

The production of copper in Utah in 1912 will show a considerable increase over the 142,340,215 pounds produced in 1911, the increase being due to the increased output of the Bingham district. As in previous years the Bingham camp was the main producer, though the Tintic district had a considerable production and the San Francisco and other districts also contributed. The output of the mines at Bingham was stopped for a time in the latter part of the year by labor troubles, thus materially reducing the ore production of the state.

Nevada.

The copper production of Nevada in 1912 will show a large increase over the 65,561,015 pounds produced in 1911. The increase in due largely to the beginning of noteworthy production from the Yerington district. The total state output for 1912 will probably reach 80,000,000 pounds. The Ely and Yerington districts were the only large producers. In the Yerington district the smelter of the Mason Valley Mines company was blown in early in the year and operated thereafter. The output of the district will probably reach nearly 15,000,000 pounds. The Ely district will show a slight increase over the 64,900,000 pounds produced in 1911, though production was interfered with by labor troubles in the latter part of the year.

California.

The production of copper in California in 1912 will probably show little change from the 25,835,000 pounds produced in 1911. As in previous years the Shasta county district was the largest producer, but notable contributions were made also by the Foothills district and other districts of the state.

New Mexico.

The output of copper from New Mexico in 1912 will show a large increase over that of 1911, owing to the beginning of noteworthy production by the Chino Copper company, of the Santa Rita district. The total production of the state will reach nearly 30,000,000 pounds, the larger part coming from the Santa Rita district.

Alaska.

Alaska will show a large increase in the production of copper in 1912 over the 22,514,000 pounds produced in 1911, the total having been estimated as 28,540,000 pounds. The output came largely from the Copper river and Prince William sound districts, though Southeastern Alaska also contributed.

Tennessee.

Tennessee will show but little change in copper production in 1912 from the 18,965,000 pounds produced in 1911. The output, as in previous years, came from the Ducktown district.

Colorado.

The output of copper from Colorado is largely incidental to the production of other metals and will probably show no great change in 1912 from the 9,791,000 pounds produced in 1911.

Idaho.

Idaho will show a considerable increase in copper output in 1912 over the 4,514,116 pounds produced in 1911.

Outlook for 1913.

There will be no new large producing mines added during 1913. Several of those that began production in 1911 and 1912 will, however, turn out larger quantities than in 1912. At the prices for copper prevailing during the latter part of 1912 the industry is highly profitable, and if the output can be marketed and the price maintained, the producers will be in a position to make a still further large increase in 1913.

OPENING BIG MINE FOR PILOT BUTTE

Encounters Large Body of Copper Glance in Shaft-Sinking.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 4.—The Pilot-Butte is going to be a big mine. That is the opinion of the management and seems to be supported by a strike that has been made in the shaft in the course of sinking during the past few days. The shaft is now 1,630 feet deep. At the 1,300-foot point the most northerly vein in the Pilot ground dipped into the shaft and since then the shaft has been sunk in lead matter. At a depth of 1,610 feet the top or an ore body was encountered, having a width of two feet. This has widened to 48 inches of first-class ore and 22 inches of so-called second-class, although the latter assays 10 per cent copper. The four feet of first-class consists of glance and bornite, assaying 25 per cent copper and 60 ounces of silver to the ton.

Sinking will be continued and the shaft taken to the 2,000 before any crosscutting to the veins is done, although some of the officers of the company favor drifting on the vein cut in the shaft. However, the directors have decided to sink the shaft to the 2,000 before beginning the vein. The ore taken out of the shaft is stored for shipping.

The vein is believed to be an extension of the rich Snowball vein opened by the North Butte company. The Pilot mine is situated between the Berlin of the North Butte company and the Clark Elm Orlu mine.

RECORD OUTPUT IN THE COEUR D'ALENES

Mining Inspector Says the Lead Production Will Be 300,000,000 Pounds.

"The Coeur d'Alene district mines are at this time enjoying a period of unprecedented prosperity and will show a large increased yield of lead and silver for 1912 over that of any former year," says R. W. Bell, Idaho state mine inspector.

"Indications are that the mines of the district will show an aggregate gross output of 300,000,000 pounds of lead and between 7,000,000 and 8,000,000 ounces of silver, together with a large yield of zinc and copper.

"The remarkable series of new ore bodies that have been discovered and developed during the last twenty-four months, with their wide distribution over the district, notably at Kellogg, Burke, Nine Mile and Mullan, guarantees the prosperity of the district with fair metal prices for a series of years.

"The most recent new ore discovery of importance made within the last two weeks is that at the National mine in Deadman gulch, near Mullan, which has earmarks of a new copper-silver deposit that may equal the Snowstorm in value with further development.

"The National is about two miles west of the Snowstorm mine in the same series of fractures and formations. It was developed through an audit tunnel and a shaft 400 feet deep during the boom days of 1906-7, which resulted in disclosing a fissure vein and a pronounced formation fault, but no commercial ore, and nothing to warrant a conservative engineer in advising subsequent heavy expenditure on the property, which illustrates the high capital risk involved to find a mines in the Coeur d'Alenes, a blind faith in the district or the intuitive scent for ore displayed by Manager Charles McKinnis.

"The strike was made in a crosscut tunnel 4,380 feet long, most of the was through extremely hard rock that in places involved the use of 80 per cent nitro powder to break the ground."

OPENING UP RICH GROUND

Wyandot Finds Improved Conditions That Are Highly Encouraging.

Production Being Slowly Increased By the Allouez Company.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Wyandot Copper company is opening copper ground of exceptional richness in the winze sinking in No. 8 lode on the seventh level. The winze has attained a depth of about 165 feet. The No. 8 lode, in which all actively is now centered, is opened by a long crosscut on the 710 level, and was drifted upon for a few hundred feet of either side of the crosscut with results that were not altogether promising. The improved conditions noted at greater depth in the winze are therefore highly encouraging and offer some promise in an area that has been explored for more than ten years without success.

New Baltic.

The New Baltic continues to center all energy in the extension of the long crosscut west on the 500-foot level. The crosscut which is driving to intersect an unidentified amygdaloid previously encountered in diamond drilling, has attained a length of 1,120 feet. The crosscut incidentally opens for inspection all of that territory embraced by the Baltic formation on the east and Isle Royale-Portage lode on the west. The shaft remains temporarily bottomed at a depth of 500 feet. The drift south on the No. 3, or middle vein, was stopped some time ago in barren ground after having encountered a number of rich pockets of copper. The company plans to install a diamond drill for the purpose of exploring the formation at greater depth and hopes by this means to save the cost of shaft sinking at this time.

Allouez.

The Allouez is slowly increasing production. Shipments now average around 1,500 tons of rock daily. The stock is yielding between fifteen and eighteen pounds fine copper and will probably average seventeen pounds per ton of rock milled in the past year. Development work remains centered in the new industry in No. 2 shaft, which has reached the twenty-second level, and is sinking steadily. Rich ground is being opened in this end of the mine and the situation on a number of levels below the fourteenth is exceptionally good. A crosscut is being run from the shaft to the lode on the tenth level to open the area overlying. This ground has received much dead work in the form of rough drifts north from the No. 1 shaft. The No. 1 shaft which reached the eighteenth level some time ago remains bottomed at this point. The situation here does not compare with conditions noted in the No. 2 shaft and leaves much to be desired. The general situation, however, has materially improved during the past year or two, and the mine is now returning a profit which promises to grow to a size sufficient to warrant a dividend disbursement by the company during the new year on an output that will probably reach 10,000,000 pounds.

Mohawk.

The Mohawk is obtaining average results in the several shafts opened on the Kearsarge lode, though a slight betterment in the north shafts is noted. All shafts with the exception of the No. 3 are sinking with slight interruptions. Shafts 1 and 2 have reached the twenty-second level; the No. 4 shaft is at the nineteenth level, and the No. 5 shaft is at the thirteenth level. The No. 6 shaft is sinking below the tenth level at a depth of nearly 1,000 feet. The non-arrival of material is delaying construction work at the No. 6 shaft, and it will probably be mid-summer before the permanent equipment at this point is in commission. The mine is shipping around 2,800 tons of rock daily. Recent improvements at the stamp mill include the installation of a Hardinge mill.

Contact.

The Contact Copper company, successor of the Elm River Copper company, is prosecuting development work in the presumed horizon of the Baltic lode. Twelve drill borings have been made to date with results that are altogether discouraging. One diamond drill is in service.

Winona.

The Winona has discontinued operations in the King Philip No. 1 shaft, and is now confining activity to development work in Winona shafts 3 and 4. The No. 4 shaft, which reached the fifteenth level several years ago, remains bottomed at that point, the area below being prospected by means of a diamond drill. Operations are centered in mining in the area tapped by these shafts, and results in a daily output of 600 to 700 tons of rock. This output is easily handled in the stamp mill, which is operating at about one-half capacity. Hardinge mills have been installed to effect a closer saving in the material heretofore sent to waste on the tailings dump. The mills are doing good work, but tailings losses are still high, due to the peculiar flaky condition of the mineral. The company is employing in the neighborhood of 420 men. The normal force would be about 500 men.

BARNES-KING MILL RUNS ON GOOD ORE

North Moccasin Property Is Opening Up in Fine Shape.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 4.—The Barnes-King Development company certainly seems to have gotten out of the rut and into a run of good fortune. The management has been extremely conservative and not until it had practically a sure thing did the directors purchase new properties, securing both the North Moccasin in the Kendall district and the Piegan-Gloster property in the Marysville district at comparatively small cost and in payments to suit the directors. The company immediately went to work to develop and mine the North Moccasin and opened the Santiago ore body through the old Barnes-King workings. The developments were beyond all expectations and on Dec. 11 the Barnes-King mill was started up and is now treating 100 tons of ore a day. It will be brought up to its full capacity of 200 tons a day as fast as stoping can be started. The first tank filled assayed $7.60 a ton and the second $8.80. It is not expected that the whole ore body will average as high as that, for the assay of about 25,000 tons extracted by the former management was $5.60 a ton.

At the Piegan-Gloster property the Ophir tunnel has been driven on the vein and has produced some low-grade ore, but before the end of January the tunnel should be into the ore body which has been developed in the Piegan tunnel 125 feet above. The last report gave a width of at least six feet of vein in the face of the Ophir tunnel, and while the quartz is not high grade, it will pay to mill. There is good reason to expect that the Piegan-Gloster property will develop well.

DIVIDEND BY THE TUOLUMNE

Decided on By the Directors Earlier Than Expected.

Butte-London Ratifies an Agreement With Rainbow Development Co.

Butte, Mont., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—After all, the stockholders of the Tuolumne Mining company will receive a New Year's gift in the course of a month or so, notwithstanding the belief of some of the directors only a couple of weeks ago that there would not be any dividend until some time in March. It is stated that the ground on the 2,000-foot level is looking so good that after a consultation with directors from out of the city the dividend was decided on earlier than was expected. The treasury is in fine condition, there being something upwards of $200,000 on hand and this after deducting the dividend together with the earnings, can easily provide for the dividend and leave a fair balance to the good. The Tuolumne is shipping about 150 tons of ore a day and of this amount one-third is first-class and runs about 10 per cent copper with a fair value in silver.

Has Not Resigned.

The report which has been in circulation to the effect that E. P. Mathewson, for several years general manager of the Washoe smelter and of the International Smelting and Refining plant at Tooele, Utah, had resigned for the purpose of devoting his time to looking after the Ryan interests has been denied by Mr. Mathewson. He says that he has no intention of tendering his resignation, and that the report probably arose through Walter Wraith, superintendent of the Washoe smelter, being promoted to the position of manager of the Tooele plant, which he has had charge of. Mr. Mathewson will devote his entire time to the big smelter at Anaconda. Since the enlargement of the Tooele plant business has so largely increased that it requires the entire attention of one man, hence Mr. Wraith's appointment to the position of manager.

New Smelting Company.

A new mining and smelting company has sprung into existence with a capital of $500,000, which has all been subscribed. It is to be known as the McCaffrey Mining and Smelting company and its principal place of business in Basin, the location of the Basin Deduction Works, which belonged to the La France company and which was controlled by F. Augustus Heinze for several years. The first directors named are Roger and Frank McCaffrey of Basin and John B. McCaffrey, Joseph K. Mueller, Frank B. McGreevey, W. F. Stoll and J. T. Twomey, all of Chicago. Beyond the fact that the company is interested in some mining property, nothing is known as to the intentions of the company at the present time.

Butte-London.

The special meeting of the stockholders of the Butte-London company has ratified the agreement made with Thomas F. Cole and others in behalf of the Rainbow Development company, whereby the latter company undertakes to sink the shaft of the Butte-London company from its present depth of 1,200 feet to a depth of 1,800 feet and do 4,000 feet of drifting and crosscutting for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the claims secured by the Rainbow company a short time ago. The company is incorporated for 50,000 shares at $10 each and those holding the majority of the stock are Thomas F. Cole, Chester A. Congdon and Edward C. Congdon, all of Duluth. The claims consist of the Third Sphinx, Michigander, Monel, Valley Queen, Cornbread and Wanda, together with interests in the Sarah and Glendale placer claims, the latter being owned by the Butte-London company. Operations have been commenced in the sinking of a shaft on the Third Sphinx claim and it is intended to go to a depth of 2,000 feet. The claims lie immediately south and north of the ground formerly owned by the North Butte Extension company and it adjoins on the east some holdings of the Butte & Superior company. By securing the Butte-London and sinking the shaft down to 1,800 feet and then doing a lot of drifting and cross-cutting it is expected to ascertain for a certainty the value of the ground embraced in the claims and thus save a lot of extra expense in shaft-sinking.

Clark Leaching Plant.

M. F. Webster, who superintended the erection of the Patrick-Clark leaching plant for the treatment of ore from the Bullwhacker mine, has been engaged for the past several days in testing out the process and he finds, as is quite natural in the installing of a new plant largely of an experimental character, that some changes are necessary. These are now being made and Mr. Webster says that he expects to have the plant in operation by the middle or latter end of the month. The Bullwhacker leasers who have been operating the property for several months are taking out about 100 tons of ore a day and shipping it to the Washoe smelter. Mr. Webster, when asked what he expected the leaching plant would be able to do in the way of lowering the cost of copper, said that he would not give out any figures at the present time, but he added that he was satisfied that the cost would be considerably less than the present price given out by some of the large operating companies. He said that the low cost porphyry mines would not be considered an equal competitor.

Capt. Wolvin's Claims.

Capt. Wolvin has a large force of men at work on his Brundy claims, but up to the present time he has not put into operation on the Altoona claim the steam shovel which he had arranged for from another mining company. Workmen are engaged in erecting the building in which the Duluth man expects to install a leaching plant somewhat on lines similar to that which has been installed by Patrick Clark for the Bullwhacker company.

Clark's Concentrator.

The actual work of construction has been commenced on the new concentrator for Senator Clark, a few miles south of the city. Should the weather continue favorable the building will be ready for the machinery in the course of the next three months.

A DIFFERENCE.

Pearson's Weekly: Miss Helen Mar, whose stories used to delight King Edward, tells a story of two young Americans who were spending a holiday at the seaside.

"Say," remarked one of them, "how d'ye teach a gurl t' swim?"

"O-oh, that's easy!" replied the other. "You take her varry gently down t' the water; an' you put an arm aroun' her waist; an', you whisper, 'De-ar. Don't be fri—'"

The other interrupted scornfully. "Come off yer perch! It's my sister."

"Oh, yer sister!! Shove 'er in!"

Famous Murphy Property on the Vermilion Is Finally Leased.

Duluth Men Get Control of Tower Pioneer's Holdings.

The "Murphy property," known to every prospector that ever looked for iron on the Vermilion range, has finally been leased, and is now controlled by a syndicate of Duluth men headed by G. A. Rydberg, David O'Brien and James O'Brien.

The famous Murphy property is owned by John D. Murphy of Tower, one of the pioneers of the north country and one of the most picturesque figures on the Vermilion range. Mr. Murphy has for years refused to deal with different people who sought to lease his property, and the land is untouched by a drill, although for years it has been conceded to be the most promising prospect on the Vermilion range. It lies directly in the iron formation, and is adjacent to many proven properties. The surface showings are also among the most promising on the Vermilion range.

With the exception of the Steel corporation properties at Soudan and vicinity, this was one of the first claims on the Vermilion range on which final proof was made, and as early as 1888 Mr. Murphy was offered $45,000 cash for a lease and an additional 15 cents per ton royalty. At that time a patent had not been received, necessitating a refusal of the offer, which resulted in the prospective lessors, through a land locator, reporting to the government a lack of family residence on the land. The entry was then held up for cancellation, and it remained in litigation for a long time, a decision being finally returned in Mr. Murphy's favor.

While the property was in litigation, an addition was built to the original camp, wherein all necessary equipment for the commencement of exploration had been collected, when a fire of incendiary origin wiped out the entire outfit. This was replaced in due time, and 500 cords of wood had been cut, when this, together with the second outfit, met the fate of the first. This was very discouraging, and the owner made no further effort toward exploration. Several offers for leases were subsequently made, but up to this week no satisfactory arrangements were effected.

During the last few days, however, negotiations have been completed for a contract and a lease between Mr. Murphy and Messrs. Rydberg and O'Brien. David O'Brien and Mr. Rydberg have been successful in their operations on the Cuyuna range, both having been among the original promotors of the Iron Mountain Mining company, which has a large deposit of manganese ore proven up and ready to mine. They finally succeeded in getting Mr. Murphy's much coveted signature to a contract. The contract gives them two years to explore the property, with the option of taking a lease on it at the end of that time. The lease calls for 35 cents a ton royalty, with a minimum of 25,000 tons for the first year.

The Murphy property consists of 160 acres in section 11-61-15, and is close to the property of the Minnesota Steel & Iron company. The Duluth men have incorporated a company to be known as the Great Northern Iron Mining company, and have already begun preparations for proving up the property. Camps are now being built on the land, the contract also providing that any needed timber may be cut from the property.

Experts visiting the property have conceded that it has as good, if not better, a showing of iron ore deposits as has been found on any property in the Vermilion range. An iron ledge runs a half mile across the property, with a continuation to the Lee mine at Tower. Specimens of clean ore, without number, can be picked anywhere on the surface. This is not float, but direct from the solid ledges. The county road now extends to the property, thus facilitating the work of exploration.

CUYUNA STRIPPING WILL SOON START

Pennington Mining Company Getting Everything Ready for Work.

Crosby, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Pennington Mining company recently received a large amount of new material for use in the stripping work about to start. Beside the new Bucyrus steam shovel another is expected. These shovels will each have a five-yard dipper and the latest improvements in shovel building. Twenty-one 16-yard dump cars have arrived and are in readiness for the commencement of actual stripping operations. The shovel of the Soo Line has been cutting a roadway for the tracks from the pit to the dump ground and is making rapid progress. The large machine shop is rapidly nearing completion and the camp buildings have about been completed. All have been wired for electricity.

There are rumors of real estate transactions closed or about to be closed and business changes. Several outside people have been here within the last few days looking for locations. F. Stearns, who has been conducting the Stearns' restaurant on Main street, bought out the restaurant of Mrs. C. H. Norgard on First street north on Thursday morning and will take possession on Feb. 1. M. Jacobs of Gladstone, Mich., has about closed a deal for the rental of the Lovdahl annex store in the Sjodin building on Main street and it is believed will soon have a stock installed in the building. B. O. Wiggens of Lindstrom, Minn., has been in the city for a few days looking for a suitable location and states that he will either buy a building or build for himself within the next few days.

Ring Thief Arrested.

Two foreigners entered the jewelry store of F. F. William Butt and asked to see some rings. After arguing for a short time about the price of two which they had picked out, decided to take them. Mr. Butt had occasion to go to the rear of his store for something in the safe and on his return discovered that three rings were missing. Mr. Butt told them that he wanted the ring returned to the case without further delay. One drew out a "billy" and tried to threaten the jeweler, who promptly pulled out his revolver. Butt called his wife from their apartments at the rear of the store and told her to get the constable. At this the owner of the weapon threw it out into the street and began pleading with the jeweler not to have him arrested and offered what money he had with him in settlement. This arrangement did not satisfy Mr. Butt and the culprit was soon turned over to the authorities.

The water problem in the village of Ironton is reported to be rather serious. It was reported a short time ago that the wells in the town were going dry owing to the amount of water being pumped by the mines in the vicinity. The situation has become more grave since the Cuyuna-Duluth shaft has reached that depth where they have begun to pump water from their workings. At present the water has not reached much of a volume, but when greater depth has been reached in the shaft, no doubt more water will be encountered. This shaft will have a tendency to drain the land within a considerable radius and the people residing in the vicinity will be compelled to get their water from other than their present well supply.

BIGGEST YEAR IN SHIPMENTS

Greatest in History of Michigan and Wisconsin Iron Ranges.

Railroads Preparing for a Busy Shipping Season This Year.

From the standpoint of shipments, the year 1912 was the greatest in the history of the Michigan and Wisconsin ranges of the Lake Superior iron region. It did not establish a record for production, since much ore included in the outgo had been left over from other seasons, nor was it the most prosperous the mining companies have enjoyed. With old range Bessemer "established" at the low price of $3.75 and non-Bessemer at $3.05 a ton and with the cost of labor and material as high as recorded in any year heretofore, profits were scaled down to a point where some producers refused to sell at the current quotations. The year began with a large number of mines suspended and with only a scattering few wrought at their normal capacity; it ended with many of the idle properties in commission, with various companies pushing operations practically to the maximum, with labor scarce in most fields and with the promise of record-breaking sales in 1913 and at prices increased materially over those of the preceding twelve months.

The shipments during 1912 fell little short of 14,000,000 tons, the Gogebic range leading, following closely by the Marquette and the Menominee. The largest former outgo was in 1906—12,220,000 tons—and next to that the 12,950,000 tons sent out in 1910. All told, the Michigan and Wisconsin ranges have shipped 260,250,000 tons of ore since the original discovery of the mineral at what is now the Jackson mine at Negaunee, more than six decades ago. Of the aggregate, the Marquette district has contributed 103,900,000 tons, the Menominee 83,700,000 and the Gogebic 72,650,000.

Prepare for Busy Season.

Preparations for a busy shipping season the present year are being made by the ore-carrying railroads. The Chicago & Northwestern company, which last winter rebuilt two docks at Escanaba, is to rebuild its No. 1 pier at Ashland this winter at an approximate expense of $250,000. Repair work at the same port will cost the Soo line $40,000. Operations of like kind are being conducted at Escanaba, both by the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. This latter company will be a bigger factor in the ore traffic this year, with the completion of its 20-mile extension from the Crystal Falls to the Iron River districts, at the western end of the Menominee. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul will serve a number of newly opened mines and will, in addition, share in business heretofore handled only by the Northwestern. To better care for its traffic, the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad, operating on the Marquette range will add 400 all-steel ore cars to its rolling stock, each of fifty tons capacity. The Northwestern, with lines on all three ranges, will add 1,000 cars to its ore-carrying equipment.

Marquette range shipping facilities were materially enhanced the past year, when the steel and concrete dock of the Lake Superior & Ishpeming railway at Marquette went into commission. This pier, erected at a cost of $1,250,000, is the most modern on the lakes. It will be surpassed only by the great dock to be built at Duluth this year by the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad. It extends 1,500 feet into the water and is seventy-five feet in height. Five thousand tons of steel and 26,000 cubic yards of concrete were used in its construction. The dock rests on 9,809 piles; the sheet piling totals 1,168,743 feet. The approach to the pier is a mile in length. It is formed of trestle-work, 600,000 yards of sand and a huge pile of rock hauled from the Maas mine at Negaunee.

FIND VANADIUM IN CONSOLIDATED MINES

Valuable Mineral of a Very High Grade Is Encountered.

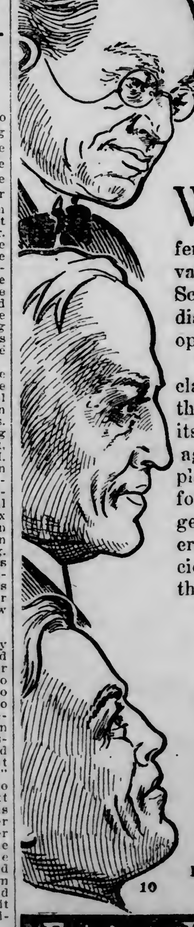

Prescott, Ariz., Jan. 4.—Arrivals from the McCabe country bring news of the discovery of vanadium ore on the 150-foot level of the Humboldt Consolidated mines, a three-inch streak being exposed of very high grade. The credit of this important discovery is due James O'Brien, superintendent, who is in charge of the property during the absence of Dr. Bowen in Los Angeles. This mineral was developed in the earlier workings on the property, but the yield was of little value and the streak passed out with further depth being reached. What the extent of the vein will be is problematical, as only a few pounds have been taken out to date during the exploration for other ores.

Vanadium is used principally for hardening steel, and is regarded as one of the rare metals of the country. It is also valuable for chemical purposes, and is in great demand by laboratories in providing a certain remedy used extensively for kidney, tubercular and similar ills. The Humboldt Consolidated enjoys the distinction of a grade that is pronounced as decidedly valuable for its purity.

JUST before the battle, brother, Tom O'Rourke came through with the information that he would make Al Palzer the champion of the world. There are about two and one-half years remaining in which to fulfill this proud prophecy. DEAN LE BARRON BRIGGS of Harvard has entered protest against the coaching methods of Hughey Jennings. The dear dean says Hughey is coarse, boisterous and rudely impulsive in action. He hesitates and holds aloft white hands in fear and perturbation lest some of the Harvard boys will, in excess of enthusiasm, seek to imitate the mad methods of this cave man of baseball.

To all of which Jennings has replied, with freckled phiz, gnarled hands, battered countenance and a hard lipped look as animated reminders of the strenuous struggle he has fought to get to the front, that he has to adopt these odious methods to get his little bread and butter; and though sorry, exceedingly so, that the dean protests from his sanctum, he cannot see his way clear to using methods that will meet the approval of the prof.

OUT in California, the news wires say, the squirrels are making themselves obnoxious by stealing the golf balls of some of the club swingers of the prominent country clubs. What is going to be done about all this? They might tame the naughty squirrels and use them as retrievers, which would be an idea along the line of the humble efforts of higher animal ethics. But when some of the enthusiastic members of the club have made headway with this idea the chances are that some brutish member, who no doubt is in arrears with his dues, will come out some morning with a shotgun and find simple solution of the vexatious problem.

ONE of the reasons advanced for the general increase in the number of early season holdouts in the baseball colony, is the price of gasoline. What's the connection? Why most of the prominent players own automobiles and with the increase in the cost of living there should come sneaking along an increase in the pay. The humble worker in mill and factory occasionally goes on a ruction and demands, with horny hands tossing aloft, that the price of living isn't playing square with his wages. Why then, gentle reader, shouldn't the modern slave of industry, the baseball player, strike for an increase in the living wage? P. Henry called loudly for death rather than give up dear liberty; and likewise the baseball player is calling for a summer's idleness rather than give up his auto.

LITTLE PHIL KING, Princeton '93, has been appointed a member of the advisory board of football strategy at Princeton. There are those in the glowing West who believe that the move upon the part of the governors of this grand old institution, situated as it is in the land of the effete East, is one freely sprinkled with wisdom. Memories hark back to the time when this stubby blond was instructing the Norwegian youth of Wisconsin in the intricacies of football. Them was sad days, dearie. There was the blue year of 1897 and also the one of 1901—and, and others. Phil was quite a lad, he were. In 1901 it was freely said in some quarters that he knew more regarding the Minnesota plays than we had learned at home. There were some who criticised Phillip because he opened his heart and purse and purchased liberally of champagne when his warriors had copped; but, at that, there were none so bold as to come out and deny the sterling and bold-faced fact that Phil King, the intrepid leader of Princeton back in the glorious years, was not one of the greatest coaches the West ever claimed as part of its football memories.

SEEMS the proposed fight between Packey McFarland and the holder of the lightweight title, Willie Ritchie, is off. For these past few years, or since, to be more exact, Battling Nelson first came into noisy possession of the crown, Packey has been flirting with the possessor of the belt. He laid away when Gans got his ebony fingers on the belt, but has been a persistent and coyly consistent nagger with Nelson and Wolgast riding in the seats of the mighty. Packey beat Jimmy Britt and turned the trick with decision and dispatch when Jamie was supposed to be in the very prime of his fistic abilities. It is said that the stockyards youth has, through these past years, longed for a crack at Nelson. And the Battler, who has some peculiar ideas regarding professional courtesy, grew peeved and blusterous of action when he was challenged by the immaculate Irishman.

Wolgast and Packey came very near to coming together; too near for comfort of bald and beamy Tom Jones, the story goes. Now comes Willie, the third champion of the lightweights that McFarland has politely requested to do battle for the title. "What's keepin' 'em apart?" you ask. The matter of a satisfactory weight settlement.

Packey might think that the matter could be settled easily. It could, if the other fellow would look leniently on the matter in the same light with the shrewd and crafty McFarland. McFarland looks up and they look down, speaking purely of pounds. No discussion, no inveiglement, no cajolement can bridge the breech, and it may be that for years to come, if he continues to fight, Packey will continue to flirt with each new holder of the lightweight crown.

BASKET BALL IN GRADE SCHOOLS

League Will Be Organized at Meeting Next Friday.

The Grade School Basket Ball league which has proved so popular in the past years will be conducted again this season by the boys' department Y. M. C. A. and an invitation is extended to every school in the city to enter a team. All the games will be played at the boys' department gymnasium.

A meeting has been called for Friday afternoon, Jan. 10, when all the managers and captains of the teams will meet. Officers will be elected and the schedule will be prepared. The first game will be played Tuesday, Jan. 14, at 4:30. The games will be played on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The two teams winning the most games will play a series of three games to decide the championship of the city. The champion team will receive a pennant made in the colors of the school and each member of the winning team will receive a gymnasium shirt with the school emblem on it.

WELL-KNOWN PATRON OF ATHLETIC GAME

DR. McNULTY.

Dr. Ned McNulty, formerly a crack athlete, is one of the most interested followers of sports in this part of the country. The genial doctor is of the opinion that Luther McCarty will continue to improve and become one of the best heavyweights of modern days.

JENNINGS HAS THE HABIT, TOO

Famous Leader of the Detroit Tigers Selects an All-Star Team.

Jennings' All-Star Team.

Catchers—Bresnahan, Myers, Stanage.

Pitchers—Walsh, Johnson, Wood, Mathewson, Rucker.

Infielders—McInnis, Larry Doyle, Hans Wagner, Baker; substitute, Zimmerman.

Outfielders—Speaker, Cobb, Jackson; substitutes, Crawford, Milan.

Manager McGraw.

"With such a team as I have named above I think I could win any pennant ever made, and any world's series ever devised," said Hugh Jennings, when in Detroit last week.

Hugh was asked to pick an all-star team from the two major leagues and his selections were different in several places from those made by Clark Griffith of the Nationals a week or so ago.

"There are two important things to consider when picking such a team," further declared Hugh. "One is the ability of the player; the other the player's disposition. There are a number of star players in American and National leagues who would not be properly fitted on a representative team.

"Probably some persons wonder why I did not place Eddie Collins or Larry Lajoie on the team. I do not consider that either of the named players would give his best efforts in an all-star cast.

"When a club owner or manager purchases a player he does so with the view of 'how much will this man bring back' or 'how much will he fit in with my plans?'

"I might place Jake Daubert on first base instead of Stuffy McInnis, but in so doing I would weaken the club by giving it another left-handed hitter. There are already five left-handed batters and it would detract slightly from the strength of the team to name Daubert.

"When naming an all-star cast one always has to consider that another team just as strong on paper, or nearly so, could be picked from the leagues. Were I to name six or seven left-handed batters to an all-star role, I would be weakening myself against another club with such pitchers as Gregg, Plank, Marquard and Collins on its roster.

"No matter how good a left-handed batter may be he always has a dislike to left-handed pitching. Cobb and Crawford are not weak against left-handers, yet, at the same time, it is quite noticeable that neither of them fatten their batting averages against Gregg or Plank.

"McGraw would be an ideal manager for such a team.

"The players would fit in with any scheme that McGraw would devise and there would be harmony from the beginning to the end of the season."

Hugh was asked what he would consider such a team worth. He said: "About $500,000."

"There are eighteen players on the squad and each of them would bring an average of $20,000 if placed on the market. Their salaries would approximate $180,000 a season, and with a manager drawing $20,000 the owner would have a yearly salary expense of $200,000.

"But it would be a safe investment. Such a team would attract from 10,000 to 20,000 daily and the returns could not be other than large. Not alone that, but the owner could get his money out of the players any time he chose to dispose of them.

"I do not believe Frank Navin would hesitate a second if the opportunity were offered to secure such an aggregation at the price named.

"There would be only one drawback to having such a team. Unless another aggregation nearly as strong was in the same league, the all-star club would have the pennant cinched by July 1.

"And the team that is away out in front doesn't draw much better than the club that is a consistent tailender.

"But then there isn't a man in baseball who would turn down a chance to collect such a galaxy of stars."

CURLING CLUB TEAM TO TAKE ON JUNIORS.

The housewarming of the new curling club rink will be made the occasion of a contest between the curling club hockey team and the intermediate champions of the city. This game will be arranged as the occasion of initiating the new rink and will also serve to give the fans of Duluth their first look at the present team, which has been strengthened by the presence of Joe Linder and Dr. John Tamblyn.

As the intermediates are fast the game will be interesting, aside from furnishing the fans with some early dope on the curling club team.

International Falls is angling for a game here and may be taken on during the present month or early in February.

College Chess Tourney.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—The first intercollegiate chess tournament in this part of the country now is in progress at the Chicago Chess and Checker club, between the universities of Chicago, Illinois and Michigan. The winner will be declared the Western intercollegiate chess champion. The games now stand: Illinois, won 4, lost 3; Chicago, won 3, lost 3; Michigan, won 3, lost 4.

PIRATE OFFICIAL MAY BUY PHILLIES

W. H. LOCKE.

William H. Locke, secretary of the Pittsburg National League Baseball club, has secured an option on the Philadelphia National Baseball club from Charles P. Taft, the owner of the club. Mr. Locke knows baseball thoroughly and is popular with the players. It is believed that he would make a success of the venture. His option expires on Jan. 15, but it is anticipated that he will have no trouble in finding sufficient capital to handle the matter.

DULUTH RINKS WILL GO TO SPIEL

It is not known at the present time what Duluth rinks will be sent to the bonspiel at St. Paul. Ralph Bradley's rink is going, and Ron Smith, it is understood, is going to skip a rink at the big Saintly City spiel. Harry Hurdon is also expected to take his brave boys, and Ron McLeod is also expected to take a rink down.

There has been so much attention fixed on the completion of the Duluth rink that apparently little thought has been given to the St. Paul spiel. But with the starting of curling here, which will be Monday or Tuesday, according to the announcement today, it is probable that a number of rinks will be lined up for the annual Northwestern bonspiel, which is going to be one of the greatest in the history of the curling game in the Northwest.

No plans have been made as yet for the Duluth Curling club's bonspiel, but plans will be started with the opening of the rink.

Cincinnati Gets Brown.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 4.—Grover Lavdermilk, former pitcher of the Chicago National league club, who figured in the deal by which Joe Tinker came to Cincinnati as manager, was traded to the Louisville American association club for Mordecai Brown, also a former Chicago pitcher. Manager Tinker announced that a cash consideration also would figure in the deal if Brown proved able to pitch in the coming season.

MILLER CONQUERS THE SPEEDY SON OF NIPPON

After Putting Up a Remarkable Exhibition of Speed the Jap Is Beaten in Straight Falls.

There have been some great wrestling matches in this city during the past two or three years, but it is extremely doubtful if the contest of last night between Walter Miller and Matsuda has ever been surpassed for speed, spectacular incidents and some of the prettiest wrestling that could be crowded into an evening's entertainment. The little Pole won in straight falls, but he was forced to go to the limit to get the Oriental.

The first bout ended at the conclusion of 59 minutes and 10 seconds, a scissors to the head and a toe hold causing the Jap to forfeit the fall. The second and deciding fall was brought about by a rare combination of holds, the famous Miller leg scissors over the head, a bar arm hold and a toe hold being clamped on the brown boy before he succumbed to the superior strength of his opponent.

Old Ed Adamson has not overestimated the ability of the Jap in the least. For speed, inside knowledge of the game, posture, and an amazing ability to foresee a hold and anticipate it, or what in the parlance of the wrestling game is known as time wrestling, it is doubtful if there is a boy in the world today who is the equal of the wily Mongolian.

From the call of time Miller went out to beat his man quickly. The two contestants hadn't been on the mat for five minutes before the audience realized that it was witnessing a real wrestling match. Twice, in the frantic efforts of Miller to rush the Jap into a position where he would loosen up and uncover, the Jap sidestepped with all the grace and ability of Johnny Kilbane, and catching the flying Miller, almost flung him headlong through the ropes.

But Matsuda, fast and clever and tricky as he is, could do little with Miller. The remarkable strength of the Pole stood him in good stead. Matte went behind on five or six different occasions, but he could not hold the son of the Occident, and in the meantime the grinding strength of Miller was wearing the son of the Orient down.

Around the mat the two flew like exceedingly animated pin wheels. The Jap was like a cat; Miller moved with the speed of a fleet dog in full pursuit, and some of the moves literally stood the crowd on its head, so great was the enthusiasm at times.

Works for Toe Hold.

Miller worked unceasingly for his famous toe hold. He also repeatedly tried to crotch his opponent, both of these holds proving ineffective because of the ability of the little Jap to perfectly balance his agile and slippery body against attack. Several times Walter turned the Jap partly over with crotch and body holds, only to see Mattie give a sudden move and escape.

At times the contestants moved so fast that the match closely resembled a moving picture of a flying dervish. Against the ropes they dashed and back into the ring again, with Miller generally in full pursuit, and the Jap, fleet, alert and tricky, employing every move of the game, using every artifice of the finished wrestler to stave off defeat.

Several times the Oriental worked hands and feet like a boxer in a desperate rally in his corner. His speed was literally dazzling. But Miller, with his pugnacious little jaw sticking out like the cow catcher on a Rocky mountain engine, wouldn't be denied and matched his knowledge of the game, his strength and endurance against the fleetness of the Jap.

Two be-spectacled little Japs sat near the ring, rapt in intense observation. Once Matsuda escaped from what looked like a fatal hold. One of the Orientals—the one with a saturnine countenance, gave a short, piercing little shriek that rose, as the tenor in the grand finale rises majestically above the deep thundering of the chorus, above the din. Then he looked hastily around and sank again into the deep composure of the mystic.

But on with the story.

Miller couldn't be denied. He was after the Jap every minute, one might say every second. His attack was desperate. He worked as he has never labored before a Duluth audience. Finally his endurance, strength and Caucasian persistence wore down the gamey little brown man, and suddenly switching holds with the lightning-like rapidity for which he is famous, he clamped a leg scissors over the head of the Jap, and getting the deadly toe hold on, bent the limb of Mattie far back under the writhing body of the Japanese. There was no way of escape; the bull dog had conquered the panther.

There were those who anticipated the quick conquering of the Mongolian in the second bout. In this they were mistaken. Mattie fought back and carried the battle to his rushing opponent at times. About the middle of the bout Miller suddenly seized the Jap and holding him high in air crashed him to the mat. But the brown boy turned and was away from the desperate clutch of his opponent. If the little brown men watching the struggles of their countrymen cheered, they were not heard, for the house was in a frenzy of applause.

Getting Stronger.

But Miller was coming stronger all the time. Finally he worked the Jap over near one of the corners of the ring and suddenly clamped on the famous old scissors, and with the able assistance of the bar arm and toe holds, at last pinned the eel-like substance of brown humanity to the unyielding mat.

Loule Zorbas swept one of his rivals away when he won from French Ed Belanger in straight falls. The little Greek went at his man like a Kansas cyclone attacks the haystacks of the sweeping prairies, winning the first fall in 9:30 and the second in 4:45. This puts the issue clearly up to Maurits Harris, or Mauritz Peterson, and he looks like the only man of Loule's weight in these parts who is anywhere near capable of defeating the pride of the congested part of West Superior.

The comedy of the evening was supplied by Carl Hanson and Fred Smoker. The Hanson boy is a Swede and the Smoker chap a Swiss. The latter is constructed on the same ground plan as Zbyszko. His strength is terrific, but he hasn't mastered a systematic working principle. Once he picked his opponent bodily up and held him dangling aloft, like Hercules man handled Antaeaus; but when the "Terrible Swede" obeyed the law of gravitation, he came not down on his back.

Hanson won in straight falls and brought applause, not to say vociferous indications of joy from the Swedish contingent who came to the hall in squads to cheer on their fellow countrymen.

INDOOR SPORTS ARE PLANNED FOR THE "Y."

A series of indoor athletic games is being arranged for the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. It is planned to have the first of the series some time the latter part of next week. There will be the usual events found on the program of indoor events, the dashes, shot put, jumping, vaulting and the longer runs.

Some of the very best athletes in the city are enrolled as members of the association and this talent will be called upon to furnish the entrants of the sports.

New Biplane Record.

Mulhansen, Germany, Jan. 4.—Arthur Faller, the aviator, yesterday exceeded by five seconds the world's record for a duration flight in a biplane carrying five passengers. His time was 1 hour, 6 minutes and 5 seconds. The previous holder of the record was Henri Molla, who, at Douzy, France, Jan. 1, 1912, flew for 1 hour and 6 minutes.

Claim Turned Down.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 4.—The national baseball commission has denied the appeal of Player James of the Kansas City club of the American association that he be declared a free agent. James' claim was based on the failure of the club to pay him an installment of his salary on the date it was due. The national commission held that this was a technicality, as the player later had receipted for his salary in full.

LIGHTWEIGHTS AMONG THE BIG COIN GETTERS

These Boys and the Heavies Divide the Big Purses in the Pugilistic Game.

(By J. P. Garvey.)

Cleveland, Jan. 4.—"I am glad I am a lightweight," quoth Ad Wolgast, after he had won the world's championship from Nelson. "The lightweights get the most money."

Yes, the lightweights and the heavies seem to be the big fananciers of the ring—the leading money getters. They are the Rockefellers and the Morgans. The fighters in the four other classes are the small fry merchants, sharing in what's left over after the 133-pound light and the giants have made their grab.

Tommy Burns, Jim Jeffries, Tom Sharkey, Gus Ruhlin, once the lords of the heavies, were opulently fortified when they packed the last pair of gloves away. Bob Fitz and Gentleman Jim drew their share, too, but did not save.

Battling Nelson earned $200,000 or so by his operations on the road to the title and after he got it. Bat established a record for wealth in the lightweight class, but it probably has been surpassed by Ad Wolgast, who held the kingship longer than the Hegewisch freak. Jimmy Britt, Joe Gans and Young Corbett were not lost in the shuffle, either. And today there's Knockout Brown, Tommy Murphy, Packey McFarland, Freddie Welsh, Owen Moran, Joe Mandot, Joe Rivers and a score besides them who have put a glad smile on many a bank director.

Wolgast punched out a vast fortune during his tenure as dictator. Nelson defended the championship seven times; Wolgast fought for it seventeen times. The first year Ad raked in $54,000 in seven fights. His second year brought him the exquisite sum of $62,647. Nine hundred and thirty dollars a round! In fact, Wolgast is the first one that did get it. He showed what a tough lightweight can do, however, in the way of currency accumulation.

Knockout Brown was never a champ, yet his bank roll ranks with the thickest. Tommy Murphy, McFarland, Rivers and Mandot have made stacks of the stuff that makes the engines hum. Packey got all of his money boxing the lightweights. On the coast Thanksgiving day Mandot and Rivers, lightweights, drew $19,000. The boys are not champions.

Johnny Kilbane and Abe Attell, fighting for the featherweight shred last Labor Day, only attracted a gate of $11,000. Kilbane's biggest purse since becoming the ruler of his division was $5,500, which he secured in his bout with Frankie Burns in New York.

Terry McGovern and George Dixon, when they mingled for the bantam title, counted up a house of $45,000. But McGovern was an unusual fighter, and sentiment and the anxiety concerning the outcome of a battle between a bulldog and a panther lent unusual interest.

Abe Attell and Jem Driscoll, in 1909, boxed before receipts aggregating several thousands of dollars, but there was another exception. Lightweights and heavies get consistently good pay for every bout and in much larger chunks than the little fellows or the middleweights.

During the old regime of the heavies, when Jeffries, Sharkey, Ruhlin, Maher, Corbett, Fitzsimmons and the rest were popular, the box office had to contend with a golden stream. The new crop of heavies will be just as strong financially as their brethren of years ago. The financial returns of the Bombardier Wells-Pater fight in New York a few months ago were large. Tuesday Flynn and McCarty pulled in a stake of $16,500 at Vernon.

It is not hard to explain the success of the lights and heavies. The former have the speed to satisfy and the punch that turns things over when it lands. What's more they seem to put more real fighting into a set space of time than the bantams or feathers. And the public goes to see a slaughter when the heavyweights combat. There is little tapping and running away, but rather slugging and mixing of an exciting nature. Nothing stirs the blood like a clash between two giants.

SKI CHAMPION MAY SLIDE AT CARY, ILL.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Lovers of ski jumping here are eager to see Francis Keape of Stoughton, Wis., world's professional champion, in action on their giant slide at Cary, Ill. If plans of the Norge club, a strong local organization of Norwegians, mature, Chicago will see this star in exhibition tourney some time this winter.

The national amateur and professional championships were held last year at Cary, but they go to Wisconsin this season. This is not keeping the local boosters from scheduling an exhibition open to the best riders of the country.

Pitcher Released.

Cleveland, Ohio, Jan. 4.—Bill James the elongated righthanded pitcher, acquired by the Cleveland club from the Toledo team has been released to the Portland Pacific coast league club, President Charles Somers announced today.

Bat Nelson Beaten.

New Orleans, Jan. 4.—Frankie Russell of this city was awarded a decision over Battling Nelson after a ten-round right here last night. Nelson was severely beaten.

RECORD JAG CURE.

San Antonio Light: Dissipating a "jag" in seven minutes is the record that has been established by the precooling plant recently established at San Benito in the Lower Rio Grande valley. While a car was being cooled preparatory to loading it with fruits and vegetables the men having charge of the work found an intoxicated man lying in the gutter. Thinking to play a joke on him, they placed him in the car. He had been lying in the sun with the temperature playing about him in the neighborhood of 100 deg. and the sudden change to a temperature only a few degrees above the freezing point was something of a shock. At the end of seven minutes he was beating on the car door clamoring to get out.

JESS WESTERGAARD.

One of the aspirants for Frank Gotch's title as champion heavyweight wrestler of America is Jess Westergaard of Des Moines, Iowa. Westergaard is matched to meet Henry Ordemann of Minneapolis in that city on Jan. 7. If he succeeds in defeating Ordemann he will claim Gotch's title and will meet all comers. Westergaard has met Ordemann twice before. He won one of the matches and lost the other one. The match next month will be a straight catch-as-catch-can style.

OLD ED GEERS REMAINS THE GREATEST REINSMAN

Battered and bruised and twisted out of shape by numerous accidents on race tracks and with advanced age creeping over him, Edward F. Geers still may well be referred to as the dean of the light harness turf. Half the injuries that Geers has had with horses would intimidate hundreds of men, but it does not seem to bother the lovable old driver of Memphis. No hole is too small for him to drive through so long as there is room for a sulky to pass, and the thick of the fray is where Geers can generally be found unless he is too far ahead for the others to catch him.

Geers has a mode of driving races that is about as generally talked about as is his pleasing personality.

"Here comes Geers; here comes Geers," is an expression that has oft been repeated on race tracks and is generally heard as the horses pass the seven-eighths pole. There is where the veteran makes his drives. He keeps his mount well to the front in a race if possible, but he does not overtax his horse, but leaves plenty of reserve strength for the brush to the wire. Year after year Geers has campaigned on the grand circuit and by his great finishes he has won the plaudits of the crowds and has won lifelong popularity by his clever driving.

"There is nothing a driver feels more proud of than to have a number of horses in the 2:10 list—that is, with records of 2:10 or better. Up to five or six years ago the ten list was a mere skeleton, as it was a rarity for a trotter or pacer to make a record so fast. Since then, however, greater speed has been developed and horsemen are now shooting at the 2:05 mark, for that is the goal a horse must reach to become a star. Today the 2:10 list is a lengthy affair and it is growing even faster.

Ed Geers leads all the trainers in marking trotters in 2:10 or better. He added five to the list this season, which gives him twenty-seven all told. Several other trainers are rather close to this mark, but the palm belongs to Geers. Included in this list are The Harvester, 2:01, world's champion trotting stallion; The Abbott, 2:03¼; Highball, 2:03¾; Lord Derby, 2:05¾; Fantasy, 2:06; Dudie Archdale, 2:04¼; Billy Buck, 2:07¼; Nightingale, 2:08; Marie N., 2:08¼; Dare Devil, 2:09; Anvil, 2:04¼; Dorsh Medium, 2:06¼, and Bergen, 2:06¼.

In addition to the twenty-six trotters referred to Geers gave Sterling McKinney a record of 2:06¾, but V. L. Shuler put the horse in the 2:10 list. Tom Murphy later reduced his mark to 2:06¼.

PLAYERS SHOULD DONATE

Fielder Jones Believes Sharers in World's Series Money Should Contribute to Unfortunate Players.

Chicago, Jan. 4.—Fielder Jones, who at one time was the manager of the Chicago White Sox, and is now the president of the Northwestern league, believes that the players' share of the world's series money should go into a common fund to take care of broken-down ball players. He states that this should be one of the first things the Players' Protective association should take up. Jones shared in a big heap of money in 1906, when his club got in on the winner's end of $33,401.70, besides a bonus by President Comiskey of $15,000. Jones brought up the subject when he was asked what he thought of Garry Herrmann's proposition of rewarding each of the winning club's players with $1,000 each and each of the losers $750, and then dividing the rest equally among all the other major league players.

Insure Old Players.

There have been worse propositions than this put up in baseball, and it might be a good one for the ball players to ponder over. There are many men now who have been connected with the game who have been a great credit to it, who are down and out, and just managing to make a living. In support of his suggestion Jones said: "I think that the players' proceeds of the world's series should go to some players' benevolent order that would look after the worthy indigent of the national pastime. If they feel like rewarding the two winning clubs as Herrmann suggests, that is all right; but I believe the rest of the money should be devoted to a players' fund, instead of being parceled among the other players of the two leagues. Why should high-salaried players like Cobb and Wagner and Lajoie be given money that they do not earn? They can earn more than any of our congressmen and work only six months a year at it. If Herrmann and the other members of the national commission and the directors of the National and American leagues want to promote the betterment of the game, they might think this over. There are hundreds of ball players who were not so provident as some of the fellows who now own automobiles and fracture the speed laws, but they were just as great diamond idols in their days. Ball players, as a rule, are pretty selfish and jealous, but I think that they are patriotic enough and Samaritans enough to realize that the sick and needy ball players should be looked after.

Put Players on the Job.

"I don't know that I would build a home for them, though goodness knows enough money was taken in by the players in the first four games this year to put up a good-sized refuge. I think that I would place them on an allowance list, giving them enough so that they would not be pinched with want. Of course, that could all be worked out to satisfy everybody. This would be a good thing for the Players' Protective association to launch and foster as its first bit of legislation for the good of those connected with the sport."

ECONOMY IN FUEL.

McCall's Magazine: When fixing the range for the night, shake down, and before putting on fresh coal, bank the front, back and sides with the cinders you have previously shaken from the grate. Then, in the center, on your bed of live coals, put the fresh coal. This is a great saving of fuel.

WILDCATTERS ARE SCORED

Hard Knocks Given By the Ontario Department of Mines.

Toronto Realizing Dream of a Civic Street Car Line.

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 4.—The annual report of the provincial department of lands, forests and mines, issued by direction of W. H. Hearst, contains some hard knocks for the ancient and popular pastime of wildcatting. Ontario has seen a good deal of this sport since the first silver discoveries in the Cobalt country and has contributed generously to its unkeep despite the fact that Ontario people had been previously bitten, and badly bitten, in the British Columbia boom. The Hearst report shows a total mineral production for the year of $190,761,309, of which $2,620,627 was gold. The total output of silver is given as 31,507,890 ounces, for which the mine owners received $15,953,895. The various companies divided in dividends to shareholders $8,734,000. Dividends and bonuses combined amounted to $20,198,000. So much for the mines that made good.

Here is what the report says of the others: "The number of mining companies incorporated or licensed to do business year by year in Ontario is an indication rather of the degree of speculation prevailing at the time than of the actual amount of mining work or production going forward. Much the larger proportion of these companies have a very ephemeral existence; many indeed are stillborn, and, after a lapse of a year or two, disappear, leaving not a trace behind. Tempted by an inflammatory prospectus, unwary investors part with their money for shares because they are cheap and because of the prospect of their getting up in value. Indeed, the date of the advance is frequently announced beforehand by the vendor, who admonishes his patrons to buy at once and thus secure a certain profit. The mining industry suffers from the tribe of company mongers, for when money is lost in mining shares the blame is laid on the business itself and not where it belongs, on the swindling sellers and the avaricious buyers of worthless stock."

During the last year there were 213 new companies incorporated, with an aggregate nominal capital of $215,640,000. It is regarded as probable, in view of the warning issued by the department, that some legislation aimed at the wildcat promoter will be introduced next session.

Civic Street Car Lines.

Toronto is realizing the dream of a civic car line. One is even now being put in operation in the eastern section of the city across the midway district from Greenwood avenue to East Toronto, a couple of miles or so. The Toronto Railway line goes to Greenwood avenue. The civic line does the rest. In the west end the city is taking steps to acquire the private line from Sunnyside to the Humber. The policy of the civic government now is to have as direct a control over all the car services within the city limits as possible. As the city limits are extended this control is to be extended to private lines within the added territory wherever possible. Where no service is in operation and none in prospect the city builds a line itself. These arrangements are part of the large plan of one day owning and operating the whole street railway system of Toronto as a civic enterprise.

For Mentally Defectives.

A proposal is to be placed before the provincial government providing for a division of the burden of caring for mentally defective children. Some time ago the Toronto board of education took up the question of dealing with these defectives and an idea of opening separate classes in some of the schools found considerable favor. The matter has since been under consideration by various bodies and there now seems to be a general belief that the public school authorities should not be called upon to deal with problems of this sort. The proposal now is that the province build the necessary institutions to be maintained by the municipalities. A number of Ontario cities have already signified their willingness to go into an arrangement of this kind and the scheme seems likely to be carried out.

Motorists Plead in Vain.

W. J. Hanna has been listening to the complaints of the motorists of the province. As provincial secretary he is concerned in the proper administration of the laws governing the use of automobiles, more especially in regard to licensing. When a deputation of motor people went to the parliament buildings the other day they accordingly sought out Mr. Hanna. They made a number of suggestions, one being that there should be some reciprocity in the matter of motor licenses for the benefit of people crossing the international border. Mr. Hanna didn't seem to see any good in the idea, apparently regarding the proposed arrangement as too one-sided. The motor people also asked for a special court for hearing automobile troubles, urging that the $5,000 taken from the motorists in fines last year would have paid for such a court. This was another idea that did not seem to impress the provincial secretary.

MORE RACES OF ANCIENTS

Traces of Prehistoric Habitation on the Missouri River.

Remains of People Who Existed Before the Indians.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 4.—A strange prehistoric civilization has been discovered on the western banks of the Missouri river, and Harvard university authorities have announced that they will soon conduct extensive research work in an effort to establish something definite concerning the race which antedated both the Indians and the forerunners of the red man in the Missouri valley.

The work will be under the personal direction of Prof. F. H. Stern of Harvard, who has already spent some time among the prehistoric townsites in this vicinity, and who, last summer, sent a large collection of crude implements of agriculture, chase and warfare to the Peabody museum at Harvard. Prof. Stern was formerly connected with the Gilder archaeological survey of the western bank of the Missouri river, and it was his personal acquaintance with the field which decided Harvard to undertake the exploration. So numerous are these prehistoric remains that Dr. R. F. Gilder, well known achaeologist, who has spent eight years on a survey within twenty-five miles of Omaha, recently announced that in his opinion the population of the Missouri river valley today is not as great nor as dense as was that of the civilization which passed away thousands of years ago.

Their Fate Unknown.

Both Prof. Stern and Dr. Gilder were struck with the absence of anything showing, or even indicating, the fate of the people who so thickly inhabited this country. They simply disappeared. But they left their paraphernalia behind them. Their crude agricultural implements remained in the corners of their houses, which finally rotted and fell in, but they were not destroyed by force. The pots and rude cooking utensils were in many cases, left boiling on the fires which burned in the center of the lodges. Their bone fish hooks were left hanging to the walls. Their instruments of war—their clubs, their bows and arrows and their spears—remained in their accustomed places. Their little ornaments of personal adornment stayed in the family cache and even their articles of food were left in the burrows used as larders.

The thousands of people seem to have simply gone out of their homes for a moment and then failed to return. The Indians do not know where they went, and they have not a single tradition as to who they were, where they came from nor their fate. They lived in the Missouri river valley ages before the red man came.

Ruins of House Sites.

The ruins which the Harvard men will excavate and explore are scattered up and down the Missouri river for miles and miles. They consist altogether of house sites. The houses were partly within the ground and partly without. The roofs were of clay, and when, after the great tragedy which wiped out the nation, the supporting timbers rotted, the dirt fell down into the excavations, covering everything the fleeing people left behind. In time dust and dirt sifted in and filled these house sites until they were almost level with the surrounding ground. Now, the old houses are indicated by a slight depression.

In numbers these old ruins are almost without limit. According to Dr. Gilder, every hill between Sioux City and Kansas City is simply a vast house site. And in every one explored there are the same indications of a hasty flight and a great tragedy.

These ruins do not appear on the Iowa side of the Missouri, but are confined altogether to the Nebraska side. However, there are remains of an entirely different people and another civilization on the Iowa hills. That the two races lived in entirely different ages is shown by the fact that none of the implements common on one side of the river is found on the other side.

Foreign to Other Peoples.

In many respects these ancient people were entirely foreign to any other whose remains have ever been found in America. This is shown by the implements left behind when they took their flight. Among these is a beautifully carved head with distinctly Egyptian features, including the rectangular ear guards which are entirely foreign to anything ever before found on the American continent. Of it James Mooney of the American bureau of ethnology said: "It is the greatest archaeological find in America in a century, and nothing like it has ever been found. Harlin I. Smith, head of the archaeological survey of Canada, who saw the little head some time ago, announced that he was entirely unable to classify it and that certainly it belonged to a culture of which archaeologists and anthropologists in America knew absolutely nothing."

Unless you are willing that people shall CHANCE to come to your store, you must advertise.

STAGELAND

AT THE LYCEUM

Fiske O'Hara, the young Irish tenor will open a four days' engagement at the Lyceum theater tomorrow, with a matinee and an evening performance. He will appear Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and at a matinee Wednesday, under the auspices of Duluth council, Knights of Columbus, for the benefit of St. James Orphanage.

Mr. O'Hara in "The Rose of Kildare" will appear as an intrepid insurgent plotter of the rebellion of 1798. He will dash with the vigor of youth through the stirring action of the romantic drama. His glorious tenor voice will be raised in stirring Irish melody. He and his company will give a production that will appeal not only to people of Irish nativity and descent, but to all who can appreciate a romantic drama and the charms of a powerful voice in congenial song.

The advance sale of seats for the performances to be given for the benefit of the Orphanage has been heavy. The Knights of Columbus distributed several thousand tickets before the box office opened Thursday morning, and there has been a constant demand for seats in exchange. The advance sale has already given assurance that Mr. O'Hara will draw large crowds, and the demand is expected to increase after his first performance.

Mr. O'Hara has never appeared in Duluth in his starring days but his fame has preceded him. He has been a sensation during his climbing period and has now reached the pinnacle of popularity in his branch of the drama. Everywhere during his present tour he he has drawn great crowds and has scored a success.

Before taking up Irish drama, Mr. O'Hara sang in light opera. He was with "The Isle of Spice" when engaged by the Bostonians to sing leading tenor roles. He was the best of the Robin Hoods and increased his popularity in other roles. Finally, he turned to the Irish drama, in the congenial atmosphere of which he has developed his wonderful talents to the utmost.

"The Rose of Kildare" was written for Mr. O'Hara by Edward Paultor and Charles Bradley, both well known playwrights. Mr. Paultor is the adapter of "Little Boy Blue," and Mr. Bradley wrote "Her Son," and other recent dramas. They have given Mr. O'Hara a vehicle by which he is enabled to display his versatile powers. He appears as Gerald O'Donnell, a dashing young blade in the days of the 1798 rebellion.

When the play opens O'Donnell has just been shipwrecked while returning from France with an exposition which he had induced Napoleon to send for the relief of Ireland. The proposed coming of the exposition has been revealed by a traitor in camp, and when O'Donnell swims ashore he finds the soldiery on hand. He escapes to the castle of Lady Moya Fitzpatrick, "The Rose of Kildare" but is later captured and sentenced to be shot. He escapes from his predicament, wins the lady of his choice and triumphs over his enemies.

The play is constructed on conventional lines, but the master touch of the playwrights has avoided the hackneyed. The spirit of Irish life of the period is grasped and faithfully reproduced. There is a rich vein of comedy, and the love story leads all in prominence in the plot.

Augustus Pitou, Jr., under whose direction Mr. O'Hara is touring, has neglected no detail in staging the production. The scenes were reproduced from photographs taken in the picturesque Wicklow mountains, where the scenes of the play are laid. The strikingly beautiful settings are made the more faithful by the costumes, which are the costumes of the period in that part of Ireland.

Mr. O'Hara has many assets. He has youth, a magnetic personality and dramatic ability, and above all he has a voice. It is at its best in the charming songs which Edward Paulton has given him in "The Rose of Kildare." "There is Only One Ireland," "The Leprahaun," "The Rose of Kildare," "The Sun Dial," and "Pictures in the Fire," are the titles of the five songs. They have the lifting melody characteristic of Irish music, and Mr. O'Hara sings them as only they can be sung by the trained voice with feeling that comes from the heart.

Mr. O'Hara is surrounded by a capable company. Included in it are many names known to the stage for years. Each member of the cast has been chosen with a view to his or her fitness for the part, and the whole cast merges into a company that brings out to the full the dramatic possibilities of a strong play.

The Knights of Columbus are looking forward to a benefit that will net a goodly sum for the maintenance of the orphanage, a charity that has always commanded ready ad liberal support from Duluth people.

Blanche Ring, who simply radiates jollity when she is on the stage, comes to the Lyceum Sunday and Monday, Jan. 12 and 13, in her musical comedy success, "The Wall Street Girl," and as she is much in evidence in her new offering, the theater patrons are promised plenty of entertainment.

"The Wall Street Girl" can boast of excellent parentage. The book is by Margaret Mayo and Edgar Selwyn, the lyrics by Hapgood Burt and the music by the late Karl Hoschna and others. In the role of Jemima Greene, daughter of a Wall Street broker, Miss Ring is given an opportunity to show her ability as a comedienne. The part was written for Miss Ring and fits her to perfection.

The authors have told an interesting story. Not having a son, Mr. Greene, a Wall Street broker, brings up his daughter in mannish fashion. She follows the races, attends the ball games and conducts her father's Wall Street business. When Dexter Barton arrives in New York direct from Reno, he meets with a cool reception from Broker Greene, and his gold mining proposition is turned down good and hard. Jemima, however, has a hunch that the mine is the real thing and takes a half interest. The gold mine proves successful; Jemima falls in love with her partner, and all ends happily.

Miss Ring's song hits are many, including "Deedle-Dum-Dee," "I Want a Regular Man," "I Should Have Been Born a Boy," and "Whistle It." She is surrounded by a chorus composed of the prettiest aggregation of girls seen on the road this season.

With Miss Ring, too, is Will Rogers, an expert with the lariat. He works in some quaint humor with his rope specialty and proved one of the distinct hits of the New York and Chicago engagements. William P. Carleton plays the part of the Westerner, while Broker Greene is in the hands of Paul Porter. Among the other principals are Charles Winniger, George Gaston, Elmer Thompson, Alice Sullivan, Lillian Spencer and Kate Wingfield.

Fresh from its year-and-a-half success at the New York Casino, "The Kiss Waltz," with the important metropolitan cast, headed by the noted beauty, Valeska Suratt, will be sung at the Lyceum theater the latter part of January. "The Kiss Waltz" was one of the first musical plays to be brought out on Broadway last season. Its success was immediate and it was heralded as "the dancingest show" in New York. The piece was originally done in Vienna where it ran for over a year under the title of "The Love Waltz." The music is by Ziehrer, composer of Fritzi Scheff's "Mlle. Mischief," and the adaptation was done by Edgar Smith. The play abounds in big and novel dancing numbers and those rare moments of fun when nothing short of an explosion of laughter will give relief. There are two acts. The first shows a hotel on the Riviera and the second the Villa Wildenberg. In both scenes there are many pretty girls and displays of handsome costumes. The principal character is Guido Spini, a handsome composer, who falls in love with every pretty woman he meets. He has many opportunities for the ladies of the hotel are simply crazy about him. Nella, Baroness von Barnau, (Miss Suratt) has the affection but she cannot show it. It is arranged that she go to the home of Countess Wildenberg, where Guido is invited. He mistakes the quarry and makes love to the countess, and of course, is discovered by the irate husband, a flirtatious old cove himself. There are fourteen principal characters in the operetta, many roles and choruses, and a wealth of fashionable London and Paris costumic effects.

"The Quaker Girl," which comes to this city in February, is conceded to be the biggest and best musical success since the days of "The Merry Widow." It is a dainty confection with haunting tunes, an exquisite waltz and a delicious blending of feminine sartorial and scenic loveliness. Victor Morley, who, as all theatergoers know, is among the very finest of the light comedians of the day, being an excellent dancer with a delightful voice and the lightness and gayety which is the essential of youth, is the debonaire hero of the play and is much in evidence. He is especially happy in two songs, "Get Away, I'm a Married Man" and in "Something to Tell." Another great song hit of the piece is "Come to the Ball," a waltz which is being hummed and whistled all over London and New York. The story of the play is delightfully romantic dealing with the adventures and love affairs of a Quaker maiden who is cast off by her own people and who goes to Paris to see the world. While there she is employed as a model in a fashionable dressmaker's salon and has much to do with displaying many gorgeous gowns. This fashionable establishment is one of the features of the piece, furnishing an added attraction to the feminine contingent of playgoers.

Messrs. Werba and Luescher who have made pleasing theatrical history in the last three seasons, will have ten big companies on tour this season. Prominent among these will be their splendid operetta, "The Rose Maid," which broke all box office records on Broadway at the Globe theater, where it continued a sensational success throughout the summer months being the first opera to run in New York during the hot weather since "The Merry Widow." This charming sister opera to "The Spring Maid" has been booked to appear here at the Lyceum in March. Werba and Luescher believe theatergoers everywhere should have an opportunity of seeing "The Rose Maid" while its music is still fresh and before its many song hits have become stale.

"The Spring Maid," with Mizzi Hajos and the same company that appeared at the Lyceum last July, is one of the early attractions.

"Ben-Hur" will be seen for four days at the Lyceum in February. The production which will be offered at the Lyceum was launched at the New Amsterdam theater, New York city, just one year ago, and after a successful run of several months was transferred to the Druary Lane theater, London, and scored a triumph there that made the entire nation take notice.

The De Koven Opera company with Miss Bessie Abbott and a number of other grand opera stars will sing a splendid revival of "Robin Hood" at the Lyceum in February. The company consists of 130 people, carrying a special train of twelve cars.

"Louisiana Lou," which is well known to Duluthians on account of its phenomenal run in Chicago, is one of the February attractions.

Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival will return for three days to the Lyceum in March with an entire new program.

Miss Adelaide Thurston, Duluth's own star, will be seen at the Lyceum for three days in April in her new play.

Miss Charlotte Walker in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," a dramatization of John Fox's famous novel, will be given a spectacular production early in the spring at the Lyceum.

"Gypsy Love," "Madame X," William H. Crane, Henry Miller, Chauncey Olcott, John Drew and Maude Adams are among the early bookings at the Lyceum.

Fannie Usher and "Spareribs" in Fagan's Decision at the Orpheum.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Two old Orpheum circuit favorites are Claude and Fannie Usher.

They have not been seen in Duluth, as they have not toured the Orpheum circuit since the Duluth theater was opened, but they will headline the bill next week, opening with the Sunday matinee. For their vehicle these two clever performers have a playlet called "Fagan's Decision." The piece is a comedy, and is said to be a most charming little sketch with the comedy touched with pathos deftly interwoven. The Ushers have the reputation of being two of the cleverest young people in the vaudeville ranks at the present time. They are little more than children, but Miss Usher is considered one of the best delineators of the waif type in her profession at the present time. The plot of the sketch deals with a retired prizefighter. The deposed ring champion was forced to retire on account of one final blow that robbed him of the championship, but he has money in abundance which enables him to live on a large suburban estate. Here he adopts a waif, only to find her the daughter of his rival in the ring. The play deals with his efforts to overcome the affection that the child awakens, and in the end he finds that the call of his heart is stronger than the desire to even up an old score. It has been a very popular act around the circuit this year, and it is expected that it will be welcomed by Duluth audiences next week.

There will be a taste of grand opera on next week's bill. The Afedos Manon Opera company will be heard in selections from some of the well-known operas. Mons. Afedos in organizing his Manon opera company is said to have secured an excellent quartet of grand opera soloists. The prima donna is Mlle. Cealia Zawaschi, who for many years was coloratura soprano with the Lombardi and Chicago Grand Opera companies. This fact alone should be a guaranty of the quality of her voice. The other members of the quartet are said to be equally capable and their repertoire is a large one. Their favorite selections, however, are the overture from "Somnabula," "Ensemble Angelus" and the aria and finale from "Travata."

College songs and college men always have a wide appeal. "The Three Collegians" who will be heard on next week's bill have attempted to depict on the stage a bit of college life. All three men are college men who have but recently graduated. They secured their training in college glee clubs, and their act has been immensely popular this season. They call their sketch "The Rehearsal," and the scene is laid in a college room. There is a little of everything in the act. The three young men sing, play, dance, sing, swing clubs and act a little, and through it all there is a college atmosphere that can only be added by those who have had the experience of the life within college halls.

Minnie Allen, a diminutive comedienne with a big voice, is said to combine the gifts of a vocalist and a comedienne. She is said to have a collection of new and popular songs of a comedy type, and a wardrobe that is unsurpassed in vaudeville. There are many acts of this type on the Orpheum circuit, but none of the young women presenting such turns, it is claimed, have been a more popular this season than Miss Allen.

It is a long time since the Orpheum had a big juggling act, although there have been several individual jugglers on the circuit this season. The Five Mowatts will be on next week's bill with an act consisting of rapid fire juggling of all kinds. They have an elaborate act of this type, using many electrical effects, and many complicated tricks.

Few women have mastered the art of ventriloquism, and Miss Hilda Hawthorne is foremost among the few that have. She is one of the very few women ventriloquists in vaudeville, and she and "Johnny" the little wooden figure which she carries with her, have become quite familiar to patrons of first-class vaudeville theaters. Miss Hawthorne is said to also have an excellent soprano voice.

The seventh act on the bill will be an aerial turn of a new type presented by Fred Rouen.

The daylight pictures of world events and the overture by the Orpheum orchestra, will complete the bill, which will continue all week with a daily matinee.

Irene Franklin, creator of "Red Head" and "I'm Bringing Up the Family," will be one of the many 1913 features over the Orpheum circuit. Miss Franklin is distinctly an American type of vaudevillian, and with Burt Green has done much to establish the merit of American artists both at home and abroad.

The Giants' Famous Southpaw has been booked for an early appearance at many of the Orpheum circuit theaters. Following the world's series, Marquard formed a vaudeville partnership with Miss Blossom Seeley, and together they are playing a musical skit called "Breaking the Record," or "Nineteen Straights."

The demand for good music has caused the Orpheum circuit to bring Louis Bouwmeester, the celebrated violinist known as the "Hollandish Paganini," to America. Prof. Bouwmeester will leave Holland the latter part of January. With him will be Julia D'Arpo, a celebrated accompanist.

The chamber music of the Theodore Bendix Players will probably be warmly welcomed over the Orpheum circuit, as have other artistic offerings. Mr. Bendix, a composer and conductor of note, has assembled four musicians, whose work has been compared favorably with the famous Kneizel quartet.

The Top o' the World Dancers, a group of pretty and sprightly young women, will be one of the early new year offerings over the Orpheum circuit. One of the unusual features of this company is an Esquimo dance, in which a number of collie dogs appear.

The impression Miss Norton and Paul Nicholson created during their last tour over the Orpheum circuit was so favorable that another tour is being arranged for them. Miss Norton's Dramatic Cartoon will be the vehicle.

AT THE EMPRESS

For the week commencing Sunday matinee, the patrons of the Empress will be offered another exceptionally strong array of feature films. For the first half of the week, the program will include the Pathe Weekly, "His Western Way," "Guiseppa's Good Fortune" and a big two-reel special feature "The Reincarnation of Karma." The Pathe Weekly will include some of the interesting events of the past week, including views of the Balkan war, the launching of the Hudson River Day line steamer Washington Irving, and the international fleet of warships representing the United States and many of the European powers, lying at anchor in the harbor of Constantinople ready to protect the foreigners of the city in the event of a Moslem uprising.

"His Western Way" is a pleasing Western offering. Bob Ford and Mary Frawley have been sweethearts since childhood, but Mary's mother has social ambitions and induces her husband to leave the ranch home and go to live in the big city. Mary likes the new atmosphere and meeting a man about town promises to marry him. Bob's father finds the boy brooding over his lost sweetheart. He tells Bob to go to the city and "get the gal." The cowboy is made of the right stuff and says: "I will." He goes and meets the city man who is intoxicated and telling his pals of his conquest. Bob knocks him down and then going to Mary's home he seizes the girl in his arms and gives her a real lover's kiss. Mary then succumbs to her love and the old sweethearts go back to the mountains and are married. "The Reincarnation of Karma" promises to be the most pretentious dramatic release ever offered by the Vitagraph company. It tells an interesting story and is staged in a magnificent manner. The comedy feature on the program will be "Guiseppa's Good Fortune," and deals of the experiences of a poor Italian in a big city. Its situations are really funny and are developed in such a manner as to appeal to the risibilities of the most blase.

The program for the last of the week will consist of "The Indian Uprising at Santa Fe," "Once Was Enough" and "The Palmetto Hat Industry," "A Simple Maid," "What Katie Did," and "The Fire Trap."

In 1680, owing to the tyrannical rule of the Spaniards, the Pueblo Indians under the leadership of Pope, chief of the San Juan tribe, resolved to rebel and drive their oppressors out of New Spain, (New Mexico). This uprising is graphically depicted in the photoplay, "The Uprising at Santa Fe," which is said to be one of the most realistic and thrilling releases of recent months.

"Once Was Enough" and "The Palmetto Hat Industry," a split reel, present two subjects of widely different natures. The first depicts the experiences of a barnstorming actor, who organizes a stock company. Their first performance is so bad that they were driven out of town. They take refuge in a box car which after many bumps and moves pulls up and the company find themselves again in the same town and get another shower of ripe eggs. "The Palmetto Hat Industry" is a very interesting and complete picture showing the evolution of the palmetto hat, from the gathering of the dwarf palm leaves to the completion of the work of art ready for the department store. "What Katie Did" deals with the sympathy of one family for the other. Katie Mooney comes home from school one afternoon just in time to hear the doctor say to her widowed mother that her infant baby sister must have better air and food or it will not live long. Katie, knowing that her mother has a hard time supplying the bare necessities of life, decides to find work and help her mother a little. She gets a position as a messenger girl in a millinery store and one of her trips makes the acquaintance of little Florence Chester, a small miss, who has wandered away from her street and gotten lost. Katie guides her home and Florence's mother becoming interested, finds out where Katie lives; assists the little struggler so that she may return to school. "A Simple Maid," a Pathe comedy feature; and "The Fire Trap," a spectacular photoplay by the Selig company complete the program for the last half of the week.

W. S. Maugham, the English playwright, now in America, has left for a two months' visit to Canada, where, by traveling from point to point, he intends to make an exhaustive study of Canadian homestead life. Out of the material that he gathers on his coming Canadian trip Mr. Maugham will make the last act of a play, whose first act, already completed, is laid in London; the second, also finished, laid in New York, and the third, yet to be written, will have to do with interior Canada. When finished Mr. Maugham's new play will be the first effort by any living playwright to write a play containing scenes and characters as familiar to the playgoers of England as to those of America.

William Hodge, who has made "The Man From Home" familiar to every one in the United States, who is interested in the theater, will sever his connections with this play and his present management, the Liebler company, on Jan. 11. A new play written by Booth Tarkington and Mr. Hodge will immediately be placed in rehearsal. In the new play Mr. Hodge will be seen in a dominant American character.

Lina Abarbanell will begin the second week in the Mandel-Johnstone operetta, "Miss Princess," at the Park theater on Friday night. John Cort's newly made star has scored probably the biggest personal success in her triumphant career, while the company surrounding her has been selected with unusual care. The plot of the operetta runs clearly throughout the two acts, which are beautifully staged and costumed. The score contains a number of songs that should become highly popular. Robert Warwick, Henri Leon, Felix Haney, Ben Hendricks, Charles P. Morrison, John H. Pratt, Donald Buchanon, Albert Borneman, Josephine Whittell, Margaret Farrell, Louise Foster and Isabel C. Francis are the principals who, together with the chorus, form an ensemble of nearly 100.

Margaret Illington will begin her first Southern tour on Monday night at the Academy of Music, Richmond, Va., in Charles Kenyon's highly interesting drama, "Kindling," under the management of Edward J. Bowes. Miss Illington has scored the greatest success of her career in this play. The supporting company includes many players who appeared in the cast during the run of the drama at Daly's theater, New York, last season.

AUTOMOBILES

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

A huge electric sign has been erected in front of the National Guard Armory in Minneapolis. The sign calls attention to the first national automobile show of the Minneapolis Automobile Trade association, to be held in the armory Feb. 3 to 15 next. For the first time in the history of automobile shows in Minneapolis the word "National" appears, for the coming show will be one of the twelve events comprising the national automobile show circuit, sanctioned by the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers and comprising the twelve shows in the large cities of the East, Middle West and Northwest. Owing to the fact that the coming show will be national in character, there will be found in the beautifully decorated building exhibits fresh from the Crystal Maze at Chicago and the complete exhibits from Chicago will be seen.

These exhibits have been prepared for the New York, Detroit, Chicago, Minneapolis shows and those following Minneapolis more elaborately than ever before, owing to the fact that it will be possible for the makers this year, for the first time, to carry one exhibit through the entire circuit. Hitherto exhibits have been arranged for Chicago, New York and Boston, considered in past years the main exhibits of the year, and duplicates have been arranged for the local shows. The National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, desiring to check the unnecessary expense to the Minneapolis and other shows quite as important to the industry as the Chicago, New York and Boston exhibits, placed the main shows in this national circuit. In addition to providing the complete exhibits for the entire circuit, the association also made it possible for the makers to send their complete working force from show to show to display and explain the cars, and visitors at the coming show will receive the benefit to be gained through the presence of the well-posted men who will be in Minneapolis by hundreds and who come direct from the great factories of the country. Instead of the exhibit being solely in charge of the Minneapolis agents, each stand will this year be in charge of the factory representatives, just as is the case at Chicago and at New York, and both the agents and the public will appreciate the presence of the combined forces when examining the cars and discussing their respective merits.

In order to take care of its rapidly increasing business, the Garford company is adding nearly 40,000 square feet of floor space to its plant at Elyria, for the manufacture of Garford pleasure cars and trucks. The new buildings consist of a warehouse, 60 by 300 feet of reinforced concrete; a rear axle assembly shop, one story high, 56 by 280 feet, also of reinforced concrete and an addition to the main building, 45 by 45 feet and four stories high. The latter will be of steel and concrete construction, to conform with the style of the present main building of the plant. The improvements will allow for increased manufacturing facilities in the Garford plant, removing several departments which now find themselves in cramped quarters. The stock and tool rooms, now housed in the main building, will be moved to the new assembly plant, allowing for the installation of a great deal of new machinery the company has had on hand for some time but has been unable to place.

The Cadillac Motor Car company has sold to members of the Japanese imperial household five 1913 Cadillac limousines, the transaction having been made by the company's Yokohama agents, Andrews & George. These will be the first American cars to go to the imperial household, as heretofore the members have used Italian, French, English and German makes. The sale is, therefore, rather significant and may be regarded broadly as a compliment to American industry in general, as well as to the Cadillac product in particular. The company's officials are being congratulated on the honor won for this country.

Two of the five limousines have been ordered by Prince Sanjo. Count Hijikata ordered one and Count Nijo and Count Kanei one each.

Manufacturers and users of automobiles have been shouting for good roads so long that arguing for improved highways has become almost a second nature to them. On every hand, wherever a motorist is to be found, one hears road talk, from the tops of the Rocky mountains to the gumbo wastes of Iowa. But at that, few people realize that it is the automobile saleman, next to the manufacturer, who has profited most by the work already done to make the highways better.

For every mile of improved road in his territory, the motor-car salesman is saved a certain number of gray hairs. Every dollar appropriated by government, state or county for road improvement is a real, tangible asset for the salesman, in economy of effort and saving efficiency. For a good road, in my opinion, is second only to judicious advertising and quality construction, as a pulling power in selling automobiles.

The motor-car salesman in a territory of unimproved highways has double the work of his brother who is favored with evidences of prosperity in the way of good road building. He has not only to convince his customer of the value of the car he is selling and perhaps overcome the prejudice of the prospective purchaser to motor cars in general, but he must overcome the silent but potent argument against buying presented by poor highways. The prospective purchaser may be unconscious of the effect poor roads has on his mind, but it is there, nevertheless. Insensibly, the man who looks at a motor car is always being subjected to the argument of bog holes and mud, sand and dust that are confronting him.

On the other hand, the man who lives in a territory in which the highways have been improved, has a continual argument given him for the automobile. The stretches of broad, hard, well-kept road are selling persuasions which never fail to make their impression whenever he sees them. The mind of such a prospective buyer is favorably influenced before he ever sees the car he finally purchases. Just as surely as attractive, effective advertising creates a subconscious desire for a motor car, so does the good road present the argument.

"Get an automobile and really enjoy me," the good road is continually whispering to the man of average means, whether or not he knows what is going on.

When a Kissel Kar carried Coleman A. Mulford safely across the continent from San Francisco to Great Neck, L. I., without the necessity of a single replacement en route, Mr. Mulford made up his mind that it was a good car. This particular car was purchased in Honolulu when Mr. Mulford was returning from the Orient, three years ago. A second Kissel Kar was soon added to Mr. Mulford's garage and the other day C. H. McCausland of the New York Kissel Kar branch, had the pleasure of selling the young Long Islander still another of the Wisconsin product. Mr. Mulford is about to again motor across the continent and will use his latest Kissel Kar in making the journey.

H. P. Smith of San Jose, Cal., in explaining further details of the remarkable accomplishment of a fleet of Kissel Kar trucks in drawing material for the construction of the Big Meadows dam, says:

"The road surface was decomposed lava and when it was first proposed to do the work with motor trucks all the wise men said that it was impossible. We operated four of the trucks night and day and averaged 80,000 pounds of cement every twenty-four hours, the distance traveled being twenty-five miles each way. This, considering the character of the roads, and the grades, was quite marvelous. The Big Meadows dam will flood a mountain valley, forming an artificial lake forty-four square miles in extent. With the exception of the Assuan dam on the Nile, it will impound more water than any similar structure in the world."

Most lines of business in the big cities are coming to look upon the motor truck as a present or near-future necessity, but it is doubtful if many people realize fully what this modern method of haulage is doing for the country cousins. Returns from the rural districts come in slowly, but unofficial figures would seem to indicate a steadily increasing sentiment in favor of the truck, based on convincing performance. The Kissel Motor Car company reports a typical case of truck economy from Yuba City, Cal. The Yuba City Creamery company with a 1,500-pound Kissel Kar truck is covering 100 miles a day, stopping at fifty farms, gathering dairy products for market. It formerly took three teams to do this work and cost $20 a day more than the new way.

Word has just been received from Paris that important negotiations have been consummated which will place the moderate priced car of underslung design, as manufactured in the United States, on the French automobile market.

R. M. Lockwood, head of the foreign department of the Regal Motor Car company, has cabled New York that arrangements have been completed whereby the whole of France will now be a direct market for this type of car. The move is said to be the immediate result of the international automobile show recently held in Paris, and helps prove the statement that all the representatives from the United States appear to have been accorded every consideration on the part of the French motorists.

Present indications are that the season of 1913 will see more cars from this country in the hands of French owners than any other year since the advent of the industry. The deal completed by Mr. Lockwood not only places the product which he represents on sale in all the provinces of France, but formally installs an agency for American-made cars on one of the main thoroughfares of Paris. The garage proper is a formidable appearing structure, with a capacity for 400 automobiles. Its management is backed with a capital of 1,250,000 francs and it looks as though the moderate priced car from the United States had entered the French market to stay. In his report of the arrangements, as completed, Mr. Lockwood said:

"We have won important recognition from the motorists of France. Cars from our country will now be sold over here on an equal footing with the cars produced in Italy and the other countries of Europe. There will be a great increase in the number of American-made cars sold in France this season, and I consider the completion of these negotiations as our formal entry into the French market."

Many of the smaller cartage companies which have purchased motor trucks have used great ingenuity in conserving to use their machines the largest possible proportion of the time and so get the maximum dividends out of them. It is quite common to employ them night and day and on Sunday to fit them with special passenger bodies and use them as sightseeing cars.

The M. Sweeney company of Fall River, Mass., which operates two Peerless trucks has probably succeeded in expanding its business through the use of motor trucks as greatly as any concern in the country.

When horses were employed this firm's business consisted mainly of hauling household goods and other loads from place to place in Fall River and to the freight stations. Now short shipments that were formerly made by railroad are made by truck, the machine sometimes carrying its burden 100 miles or more.

In the season the trucks are employed all night carrying strawberries and vegetables from Fall River to Providence, thirty miles away. On Sundays the trucks carry excursionists to the ocean beaches. This extra work has more than doubled the business of the company.

The man who has ideas of the Beau Brummel selling cars would have had them rudely shocked not long ago had he been on the scene to witness a sale recorded by F. A. Babcock, Minneapolis district sales manager of the R-C-H corporation. The R-C-H salesman had gone a few miles out in the country to see a prospective purchaser. When he pulled into the yard, the man he wanted to see was busy sawing wood. The salesman walked up and apparently as though automobiles were the last thing in the world worthy of consideration at that time, took off his coat and went to work to help reduce the pile. When the farmer decided that he had enough kindling for a while, they quit work and discussion of automobiles was in order. That salesman had made a hit by the way he went to work on the wood, and it didn't take him long to tuck away an order for an R-C-H car.

Nothing is being left undone by manufacturers to increase the efficiency and satisfactory operation of motor trucks and delivery wagons. Improvements are being made in the many new models for the coming year that will make them more reliable, more durable, cheaper to operate and maintain, and more convenient to use. Self-starters that enable the driver to start the engine without leaving his seat or stopping to crank the engine will be found on many of the new models to be seen at the commercial vehicle display during the second week of the Chicago automobile show from Feb. 10 to 15. Several of these are of the electric type, in which a generator driven by the engine develops current that is used in the electric headlights, tail lamp and interior lights as well as for starting the engine. There will also be compressed air starters and starters operating on gas mixtures.

There will be observed a decided increase in the number of commercial cars having the steering column on the left side and the brake and gear shift levers in the center, which arrangement permits the driver to sit on the left side, where he can more easily see other vehicles passing and will not be interfered with by his helper in getting in and out of the seat at the curb on the right hand side.

To prevent trucks from getting stalled in mud holes and on icy places, many of the big trucks for next year are designed with differential locks. When one drive wheel spins around on a slippery surface and the truck refuses to move, the lock is set from the driver's seat and stops the action of the differential gears, so that power is applied to both rear wheel and the one that has traction drives the truck instead of remaining stationary.

Chain cases are being fitted to more trucks than formerly. They keep all dirt from the road out of the chains and sprockets, which run in an oil bath. This eliminates most of the noise and friction and greatly decreases the wear of these parts.

Demountable bodies and demountable tires will be features of some of the new trucks. The demountable body enables the truck to deliver a load in one body while a duplicate body is left to be loaded. The demountable tire permits a quick change of solid tires on the road or in the owner's garage without the necessity of sending the wheel to the tire depot to have a new tire pressed on by machinery.

Most of these improvements, it will be noted, are cost and time savers. By cutting down the idle time of the truck they enable the driver to cover a greater mileage or make more trips in a day. This makes for economy of service by reducing the ton-mile or per package cost of haulage and delivery.

An example of the efficiency in service on automobile trucks is told by W. G. Baldwin, secretary of the Fitzsimmons-Palmer company, which company is at present operating three automobile trucks in Duluth.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon of Dec. 23 their three-ton Gramm truck backed into the radiator of their three-ton Kissel truck, entirely demolishing this part of the latter. Communication was immediately taken up by the Interstate Auto company, Duluth agents for the Kissel Kar, a new radiator was ordered by telephone by that company, and at 10 o'clock the following morning the truck was in commission in front of the wholesale house, ready to deliver its loads.

At this time of the year, especially, it is essential that these trucks lose no time, and as Mr. Baldwin says, this kind of service is worth a great deal to all automobile truck owners.

LABOR LEADERS FILE AN APPEAL.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, convicted of contempt of court and sentenced to jail in connection with the Bucks Stove & Range case, have filed their appeal in the District of Columbia court of appeals. It alleges that the men were convicted not of contempt of court, but of want of respect for judicial authority. Seventeen alleged errors are charged against Justice White.

"The committee of prosecutors" will file a brief in reply before Feb. 5, and hearing of the appeal probably will be held about the second week in February.

MAN'S NOSE PIERCED BY A LARGE HATPIN.

Wooster, Ohio, Jan. 3.—The much maligned hatpin came into the limelight here when Alfred Canancamp, a well-to-do farmer, had one pushed through his nose while doing some Christmas shopping in a store.

Canancamp, desiring to buy some trinkets, had worked his way into the midst of a big crowd when a woman wearing a big hat with a long pin projecting from it, turned her head suddenly, driving the spearlike weapon through Canancamp's nose. The pin just grazed Canancamp's eye as the woman turned her head, passing through the right side of his nose and projecting three inches on the left side. It was necessary to call a physician before the pin was drawn from Canancamp's nose. Canancamp, in speaking of the accident, said:

"I saw the woman turn and just caught a glimpse of the big hatpin point. I would have dodged if I had been able, but the crowd was so thick I could hardly move. The pin went through the flesh of my nose as clean as a whistle. No more crowds for me when I see a woman in them."

THE day is on the way when there can be but one intelligent discrimination in the use of pure beer—the right and the wrong use. The wrong use is obvious; the right use, largely a matter of education. To arrive at the right use requires, first, that the mind be freed of prejudice and confused thinking. Pure beer should be taken for what it is—a food, and drank in proportions with other foods.

With this fact accepted and abided by we shall be regarded, not merely as brewers, but as benefactors while we and the world continue.

DULUTH WANTS ITS BEST MEN FOR COMMISSIONERS.

Duluth is now operating under its new charter.

April 1 it will elect five commissioners who will, two weeks later, go into office and replace the present mayor and council.

Duluth will then have the commission form of government.

But the commission form of government is no magic panacea for all municipal ills. It is simply an opportunity—improved machinery by which an enlightened, alert and public-spirited community, working through good public officials, can accomplish the best possible results.

Manifestly the first and most important duty before the city is the election of the best men available for the commissionerships.

It is time to be thinking of that. It is time to be thinking of getting into the field, if they are not there now, the right kind of men.

Moreover, it is time to be acting.

The issue should not be permitted to rest wholly with the candidates who volunteer their services. Many good men will do this—good men have done it already. But the city's choice should be wider than the field of self-selected candidates. If there are available men of the right caliber who have not announced their candidacies and who are not likely to do so, petitions should be circulated and they should be asked to run.

No man should think lightly of the honor of being a commissioner, whatever his circumstances. There is no higher office in the community, no greater opportunity to be of public service. The commission will have sole charge, under the people, of a business capitalized at forty million dollars—a business which in variety and importance of functions exceeds any other business in the city. The conduct of this business calls for integrity, business capacity, executive ability and public spirit of the highest order.

We have faith that the voters, when it comes to making choice April 1, will choose wisely. But before that day comes they must be given a desirable field of candidates to choose from.

Their choice April 1 will be limited to the field of candidates on the ballot. Therefore it is to be hoped that every possible effort will be made to include in that field the best men that can be impressed into this high public calling.

It will cost some $65,000,000 to run the city of Chicago this year. How'd you like to have to foot Chicago's bills?

LEARNING TO READ.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke in a letter to the New York Times notes the pleasant fact that the study of English in colleges is gradually becoming less dry and dusty, that books are studied less as if they were zoological specimens or chemical compounds and more as works of art and as "reflections of human life and counsels for human conduct."

This is heartening news.

Dr. Van Dyke adds the assertion that the chief purpose of English literature courses "is not to manufacture novelists, poets or critics—an impossible task. It is simply to make more and better readers—intelligent, sympathetic, joyful readers who like good literature and know why they like it."

What he means of course, is that this SHOULD BE the chief purpose of English literature courses. It is going too far to say that it is the chief purpose, so long as in so many literature courses books are still studied as though they were "zoological specimens or chemical compounds."

The schools assume that pupils learn how to read in the lower common school grades; but they don't. It takes a whole lifetime of hard application to learn how to read. Goethe at eighty said that he was still learning how to read, and that all his studies through a long life had been devoted to that one purpose, which he had not even then fully accomplished.

The common school grades teach pupils their letters, teach them to group letters into words, and words into sentences—teach them to read so far as the mechanical process of reading is concerned.

But that is the mere beginning of learning to read. The process is no more ended then than the process of making machine energy useful is ended when the machine is built.

Reading is a process of extracting nutriment from the husks of books just as flour-milling is the process of extracting food from the heart of the wheat grains. Reading without thought is like bolting wheat whole and calling it a meal. The successful author is the one who truly pictures life, and who strikes from the mind of his reader as many thoughts as he puts in his book. The successful reader is the one who gives back thought for thought—who is not content with mere mechanical absorption of the thoughts of others, but who lets each thought imbibed strike root in his mind and cultivates it to complete growth and harvest.

The reader who shuts down the power on his own mind and reads merely for pastime, while he may easily be engaged in worse business, gets little out of his reading because he gives nothing to it.

Learning to read is one of the hardest things in life, but one of the things that pay best.

Florence Gamble's experiences with men with whom she corresponded regarding matrimony simply go to show how ready some men are to take a chance.

A WOMAN ON THE SCHOOL BOARD.

The board of education last evening elected Mrs. T. J. Davis to the vacancy in its membership created by the resignation of Director Wilson G. Crosby.

The sentiment of the community seems to have been unanimously in favor of the election of a woman to fill this vacancy, and the board has acted wisely not only in heeding this sentiment but in the selection it has made.

Thus for the first time since Mrs. O. P. Stearns was a member of the board thirty-two years ago, the women of the community are directly represented in the management of the public schools.

Women are concerned more directly than men in the rearing of children. Women are permitted to vote at school elections—and a majority of those voting usually are women. Therefore it is proper that there should not only be one woman on the school board, but two or three.

Another thing to ask your congressman is whether the parcel post is open to franked matter. He'll know.

THE CIVIC CENTER.

A revival of interest in the neighborhood civic center, with the public school building as its clubhouse, is evident, and it is timely.

Duluth has adopted a charter that gives the broadest powers to a centralized city government, subject only to the check of public opinion.

Therefore Duluth will need, as it never has needed before, an alert and constantly well informed citizenship.

The best way to bring that about is through neighborhood clubs for the discussion of public matters; and since the school buildings are used for educational purposes only a small part of the time, obviously they should be utilized for this purpose.

The civic center has social trimmings, and they are necessary: but they are trimmings, only. The foundation is the civic purpose: the gathering of the real government—the people—in neighborhood circles for the discussion of public questions. The real seat of government is not at Washington, not at St. Paul, not at the city hall, but in the homes and the neighborhoods. The purpose of the civic center is to give coherent and well studied expression to the wishes and needs of those who are not only the governed, but the government itself.

The board of public welfare has this work in charge, and it is now, considering the employment of an agent who has had experience in organizing and keeping up interest in neighborhood clubs of the civic center kind; and it should have every possible help in this work.

And now it is to be the legislature for the rest of the winter.

CONQUERING THE LIQUOR EVIL.

The steady increase in the production and consumption of alcoholic liquors in this country, accompanied by a marked increase in the so-called "dry" territory by the adoption of county option and prohibitory laws, offers little comfort to those who recognize liquor as an evil to be conquered.

But fortunately there are other facts much more encouraging.

Some time ago, on this page, there was a story of the famous "after dinner" justice of the old days in England, when after a long dinner accompanied by much revelry, bench and bar reeled back into the court room for a short night session, with minds bent upon resuming the pleasures of the bottle as soon as possible.

What would happen today if in any court in England or America such a thing should occur?

Again, the London Lancet tells about the old days when there was no excise on spirits in England, liquors were cheap, and drunkenness was the customary thing:

"Everybody got drunk," says the Lancet. "The doctor was often half seas over when he attended his drunken patient; the parson was often drunk in the pulpit; judge, counsel and attorneys pursued their avocations in court in a prevailing atmosphere of hot coppers. The prime minister went drunk to the house of commons, where he was attacked by a leader of the opposition, also drunk, while order was kept by a speaker who was in the same condition."

And signs were everywhere advertising places at which a man might get drunk for a penny, and "dead drunk and clean straw for tuppence."

What would be thought and said of such conditions now?

It is not solely because whisky is fifteen cents a drink now, instead of a penny for enough to get drunk on, that drunkenness is so little prevalent. It is more because social ideas —and ideals—have changed.

One good thing the keen, hot pace of modern life has done—it has made it impossible to be a hard or steady drinker and keep it up.

On every hand and in every calling the drinking man has fallen out or reformed, and men find that they must keep their wits undimmed by liquor to succeed.

More than all this, drunkenness is no longer respectable. One time it was commonplace. Now it is disgraceful. There was a time when if policemen had to arrest men for drunkenness there wouldn't have been jails enough in all christendom to hold them. There was a time when drinking was a business and family and social custom everywhere.

It isn't so, any more. Nobody but a man who has lost all self-respect will let others see him drunk if he can help it. Nobody likes to be seen coming out of a saloon wiping his lips. Even most of those who are more or less regular patrons of the bar like to pretend that they went in to look for a man if their decent friends see them coming out.

Somehow, we have more faith in these signs of the times than we have in the spread of the prohibition movement. It is more encouraging to hear of a new industry which has barred the drinker from its employment than it is to hear that another state has voted prohibition.

The liquor problem, by its evil havoc, its baneful effects on society, the family and the individual, has brought about a natural reaction that is self-solving and that in time will kill the liquor evil where sumptuary laws have failed and must fail.

Now Italy is buying coal in the United States. Wonder how the price over there compares with what we have to pay?

WHY NOT BOOKS?

Postmaster General Hitchcock has ruled that revolvers can be mailed by parcel post.

But you can't ship books that way. Why not books?

Why this discrimination in favor of implements of violence and against implements for the diffusion of intelligence?

Everybody expected to find flaws in the parcel post system in its experimental stage. Hardly anybody could have expected to find a flaw so gross as this.

One of the first improvements in the parcel post system should be to broaden it to include books.

The British are hopping mad over a proposal to tax foodstuffs imported into that country. But over here we don't stop with just proposing to do it.

THE STORY OF ONE ROOM.

The need of housing laws requiring ventilation and sanitation, such as the housing ordinance Duluth recently adopted, could hardly be better proved than by the story of one room in a New York tenement.

And the story gains weight when it is remembered that there are thousands of such rooms.

This room, with two sleeping closets back of it, is unlighted and unventilated. It is the kind of a place society provides for those too poor to pay the rent of decent living quarters. But somebody gets fat profits out of the rent of it.

In the early nineties this room was occupied by a man and wife and three children. In 1894 the man was found to have tuberculosis, and he died in this room a year or so later.

Before he died, all his three children were infected. The daughter died soon after her father. The sons moved with their mother to other tenements, spreading the disease there, and there they died.

A man—a Hebrew, and the Hebrews have wonderful powers of resistance to this disease—came to this room to live. But the infection was too strong; the man took tuberculosis, and died of it.

Following him, a German family moved in, and the wife died of tuberculosis in this room.

Next came an Irish family. The father, healthy when he came, was taken by tuberculosis, and died in 1901. Other members of the family were infected, but they moved away, carrying the seeds of death for others with them, and were lost sight of.

That's the history, so far as we know it, of one room.

It's a pretty good argument for proper housing laws, and for the exercise of caution about ventilation and sanitation in your living quarters.

What a different light it would put on things if Bill Rockefeller were half as anxious to testify as he is anxious not to!

HE DIDN'T KEEP GOING.

It doesn't pay to be too quick in deciding that you have "arrived" in life, and to sit back resting on your laurels.

David Belasco tells a story which illustrates the point.

One of his players gave brilliant promise and made good.

"But he failed to realize," says Belasco, "that he had merely learned one lesson and that his real career was far ahead. He gave up serious study, accepting himself as one who had finally arrived. He has not had a success since, and now is all but forgotten by those who praised him most."

The ailment is common, and there is a name for it. "Swelled head," the boys in the street—and some others—call it.

The trouble with this actor was that he didn't keep going—he didn't keep growing, he didn't keep working, he didn't keep studying. He made a success, and sat back to admire himself. And while he did the procession passed by and he never could catch up again.

Nobody ever reaches the point where there is no more to be learned, and no more need to strive.

Whoever thinks he has reached that point has unknowingly stamped himself a failure. Others will find it out before he does, but he will find it out, too—too late.

Keep on going.

One trouble with the proposal for a later inauguration day is that it would invade the baseball season.

ABUSING THE IMMIGRATION LAWS.

A little while ago a London editor who had just spent a year in jail for printing something saucy about the king of England came to the port of New York and wanted to get into this country.

He was rejected, apparently for no better reason than that he had been guilty of lese majesty—an offense with which this country has no concern.

A little later Castro, who had made himself objectionable in Venezuela, had been deposed and driven out of his native country, and had been spending several years in Europe, made an attempt to come in; and he, too, has been barred out.

The immigration bureau might be engaged in better business than it was in these two cases.

This country has no concern with the politics of other countries. It is not its province to help punish people for their political offenses in other countries. It has no more right to reject an immigrant for a political offense than it has to interfere in a political matter of any kind in any other country.

Probably both these men are nuisances. Certainly Castro showed himself to be one. Possibly neither of them would be an important or valuable addition to the population of this country. Of that we can know little.

But the government of the United States should be in bigger business than rejecting immigrants or visitors for political reasons. If it starts that sort of practice it will find its hands full, and its fingers sooner or later will get badly pinched.

No community can boast that it has really returned to the simple life until the people habitually dance square dances to the Arkansas Traveler.

THE VOICE OF AUTHORITY.

Every member of a Chicago bartenders' union has received this little word of advice from the secretary:

Dear Pal—Join the Bartenders' Temperance club. The boss won't like it if you drink on the job. A guy can't tend bar and hit the booze and make good. It gets him just as quick as the guy in front who pays for it. If any one wants to drink, let the man on the other side of the bar do it. Send me your name if you want to join the club.

And it is reported that he is getting plenty of names.

If your grocers' clerks were forming an organization pledged not to use the goods they sell, and the character of which they know, would you be likely to buy and eat these goods yourself?

Of course not. You'd be suspicious of them.

But doesn't this action on the part of the bartenders, who know the stuff they sell better than anybody else and who are in a splendid position to note what it does to those who use it, make you a little suspicious of the goods you are in the habit of buying from them?

A Connecticut grand jury has indicted some railroad officials for manslaughter because several people were killed in a wreck on their line. Great Scott! Can't a man slough off responsibility onto an underling any more?

Books for Young Readers

From the Century Magazine.

In nearly every town of 2,500 inhabitants there is a literary club or a woman's club which, through a committee of its members, might set on foot an advisory censorship of children's reading, which another year would become more effective. To be helpful, it should start with a standard of what are the desiderata in books for the young. Negatively, one must aim to exclude immoral, priggish, namby-pamby, artificial, cynical and unsympathetic writing. To these must be added the seventh deadly sin of dullness.

Even more in need of supervision is the periodical pabulum. There are two or three American magazines for children the tone and traditions of which are so firmly established and so well known as to place them beyond the need of censorship. Their editors are alive to the exclusion of the objectionable, but are chiefly occupied with the search for valuable and delightful articles. The editorship of a child's magazine, by reason of its many limitations, is one of the most difficult tasks in the educational world. The bearing of every article, poem and picture has to be considered in its formative influence upon character.

The editor has to think for the child, the parent and the teacher, and at the same time he must never lose sight of the noble function of delight, which it is his privilege to exercise. We know of one such, to whom, through his rare sympathy with children, these responsibilities have become insight. Joyous himself, he knows how to communicate joy to a world of children.

When it comes to the juvenile page of the newspaper, the need of censorship is acute. Some of the daily journals, which are properly proud of their own ethical standards and of the influence of their editorial columns, have no moral compunction in leaving to a syndicate the preparation of the children's page of the colored supplements. Otherwise careful and conscientious parents will turn over to their children, without examination, sheets of vulgar, grotesque, badly drawn and badly colored pictures on unworthy themes, the chief influence of which is to glorify sheer mischief and bad manners.

In what is selected for the children let us make a plea for the best poetry. A world is all before us where to choose, and if the interpretation of masterpieces of verse be not pedagogic, but sympathetic, the resources of pleasure thus available are rich and enduring. America more than any other country cultivates, and needs to cultivate, the love of poetry. Here we are confronted with materialism as a daily spectacle.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 200 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

WRITES REPLY TO HENRY BURWELL.

To the Editor of The Herald:

A few words in answer to Henry Burwell, who he is I know not, nor yet do I care. He may have lived in the city two years or more or else has heard someone say that at that time the papers at different times had some reading in them to the effect that the meat inspector had condemned so and so many pounds of different kinds of meat. Now if the former inspector had time to waste on telling reporters a whole lot of dope, just for sensational reading matter for Henry Burwell, that was all right for him, but not for me, as I work on different principles, and when the yearly report is made out, every citizen can get a copy and can see for himself just what has been done during the last twelve months. But just to show our friend, Henry Burwell, that I have not been asleep all the time since April 1, 1912, when I took hold of the meat inspection, I have inspected the following: Carcasses of veal, 5,883½; carcasses of mutton, 327; carcasses of pigs, 402; quarters of beef, 108.

I made visits to packing houses, meat markets, freight and passenger depots and express offices for inspection 10,597 times. I have condemned 13,969 pounds of meat, fish, poultry, etc. I have received only four complaints in nine months and proved to the management of the health department that there was no cause for such complaint. I do say this that there is not now, nor has there been, much filthy meat around the packing houses and meat markets that has not been condemned, and as I treat everybody fairly whether it be the packer, butcher or the public, don't you think, Henry, that it would be as well to look into the habits, honesty and ability of myself and the other fellows and see if it would not be better not to condemn me just because I failed to give you a little sensational reading in the newspapers?

Resident of Duluth twenty-nine years; in all branches of the meat business thirty-nine and a half years.

THAT NEW CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I understand there has been a new and successful cure for consumption discovered. If this is true, any information as to where patients can receive such treatment would be highly appreciated. Yours truly,

A FARMER.

Dale, Minn., Jan. 2.

It was reported in press dispatches that a new cure for consumption had been discovered by a German doctor, but medical men have not yet received details of it through their technical journals. In fact, the discoverer seems to be averse to making the details public.—The Editor.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Will Not Turn Grindstone.

Rochester Post and Record: There is no little discussion in the state papers over the proposition of certain senators, led by E. E. Smith, it is said, to take away from Lieutenant Governor Burnquist the appointment of the senate committees and have that function performed by a committee on committees in the senate.

The singular feature of this movement lies in the fact that it is engineered, as report says, by Ed Smith, for the purpose of giving him and the coterie who are working with him control of the senate committees and thus dictate the action of the senate at the approaching session of the legislature. It has been sprung at a late hour. The appointment of committees has been given the presiding officer not as a constitutional or legal right, but perhaps as a courtesy. It is to be taken from him not at the demand of the electors, but as appears on the surface, at the demand of certain senators whom, it would seem, have axes to grind and fear that Burnquist will not turn the grindstone.

Publicity Wanted.

Milaca Times: The next legislature should surely pass a bill compelling all the cities, villages, towns and school boards to give full publicity to their financial affairs. The taxpayers have a right to know what is done with their money, and an understandable statement is the surest safeguard against graft and dishonesty of officials, as well as affording a means of judging their competence.

Should Become Law.

St. Peter Herald: A "blue sky" bill, patterned after the Kansas law and designed to prevent the sale of wildcat stocks and bonds, will be introduced at the coming session of the state legislature. Together with the bills to create county assessors and to elect all county officials as non-partisans, it should become a law.

Compensation Law Needed.

Greenbush Tribune: Some two years ago a foreigner, who was unable to read or write his own or the English language, was injured, and gave the case to a Duluth lawyer to look after. A verdict of $1,100 was obtained, and the lawyer got half, and after the foreigner had paid all the expenses there was not a cent left for him. This is a case, as most such cases are, where the lawyer gets the whole benefit that should belong to the client. Do we need a workingmen's compensation law? Well, it looks very much that way.

New Field for Merchants.

Sandstone Courier: The new parcel post law opens up new fields for the progressive merchants. It will not be much of an advantage to the big catalogue houses, but the home merchant will be in much closer touch with his rural customers. A farmer can 'phone or write in an order to the local stores and have many articles delivered by the mail man at a much less expense than driving to town to secure them.

Independence.

Hibbing Mesaba Ore: If one-fourth of the nearby acres were under cultivation we would not mind a little thing like the mines closing down.

Having Hard Sledding.

Red Wing Republican: That senatorial combine whereby the brewery and special interest Republicans and Democrats in the senate are to attempt to thwart the purposes and plans of Progressive Lieutenant Governor Burnquist is already having hard sledding with promise of skidding along on bare ground before the legislature meets. The trouble is that there are too many in the senate who might be willing enough to do the bidding of Ed. Smith and his backers if it could be done without notice, who hardly dare to be found out in the open with the kind of goods the combine represents, upon them. Politically they know it would mean their early demise.

One Labor Leader

Chicago Evening Post: Samuel Gompers is one sort of a labor leader. Joseph Ettor of the Industrial Workers of the World is another sort. And Olaf A. Tveitmoe, secretary of the Building Trades of California and one of the thirty-eight convicted defendants at Indianapolis, is distinctly a third sort. In fact, Tveitmoe is almost in a class by himself in this country, though the highly revolutionary labor movements in Europe have others like him.

Tveitmoe is a large, florid man. He wears powerful glasses which give him a goggle-eyed appearance. He is reticent and slow to speech, though when he gets warmed up he can make a fiery address and one that is surprisingly free from the platitudes and truisms of the labor movement. But the distinctive thing about him is that he is, in a sense, an adventurer. He is a highly educated man who has shouldered his way into the labor movement without being regarded as an "intellectual."

He is the graduate of a European university—we have forgotten for the moment which—and, unlike most "intellectuals," makes no attempt to disguise the fact. He doesn't need to, for he has sloughed off everything except the stuff that comes in handily for an autocratic, organizing, militant labor leader. He is the man who, as the labor people say, "organized" San Francisco from top to bottom. In his own "trade," the building trade, he has built up a closely knit, autocratic labor organization which "summons" employers to its meetings, if you please, bars out the press and in other ways acts like the vice regent of omnipotence.

Tveitmoe has no nonsense about democracy. He despises the "mob" and says so. He has no use for referendums unless he can pull the strings. He reads Nietzsche and he cannot endure Mazzini. We will only get along, says Tveitmoe, when we evolve strong leaders and follow them. He is a strong leader—but in the toils of the law!

His Imagination Too Vivid.

Indianapolis News: Tom, 5 years old, sat looking at a plate of cold tongue.

"What's that?" he asked at last.

"Cold tongue," was the answer.

"Are we going to eat it?"

"Certainly."

"Well, have we ever had any before?"

"Yes."

"Did I eat it?"

"Of course you did."

"Well, what do you think of that? And after it had been in a cow's mouth!"

Compromise.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Overtime in the Excuse Factory.

One industry knows no such thing as slack seasons. The plant where excuses are manufactured is running night and day the year through. It can never shut down, even to oil machinery, if it is to supply the need of the millions who demand its product. Nothing short of ceaseless operation will keep it square with its orders.

There are more than fifty-seven different varieties in the product it turns out. You have only to go and ask your neighbor to do something he does not want to do in order to get a sample, perhaps several samples, from the enormous stock available. If he cannot find anything among the standardized patterns a minute's search will discover some special design suited to particular requirements.

In youth custom required that mother should write an "excuse" to teacher in the event of our being late to school. We soon outgrew the necessity of calling on another for such help. By middle life most people have ready at hand a stock of excuses of their own selection adequate for all occasions.

Not many of these excuses would stand close examination. They are generally as transparent as glass. People sometimes add to their tortuous explanations of failure or neglect, "a poor excuse is better than none, you know." They actually begin to apologize for the very excuses they have put forward.

An Oriental fable tells of a man who went to his neighbor to borrow a rope. The neighbor replied, "I cannot lend it to you, for I am using it myself to tie up a heap of sand." "But," said the first, "you cannot tie up sand with a rope." "Oh, yes," his neighbor returned, "you can do almost anything with a rope when you do not wish to lend it." Some of the excuses you heard yesterday were about equally foolish.

The scripture parable describes a great supper that had been prepared for many guests. Straightway the invited ones began to send in their letters of regret. One had bought a piece of ground and must needs go and see it. Having passed it three times a day for twenty years he began to be fearful that it would vanish out of sight before morning. Another had bought a yoke of oxen and must go to prove them. Having tried them out pretty thoroughly before purchase, he fancied they might act a bit differently now that they actually belonged to him. Another had married a wife and therefore could not come. Setting up the cook stove and laying the parlor carpet left him no time to be courteous.

Many centuries have come and gone since that old banquet in Palestine. And the tribe of excuse makers has increased. The note of apology is a characteristic one of our time. We are becoming experts in evasion of responsibility.

When men in our time fail or are unwilling to try, there are various scapegoats upon which to lay the blame—heredity, circumstance, environment, the industrial system, etc. A well-known writer, says, "Our people have succeeded in explaining away every known form of iniquity. There is no crime that cannot be apologized for, no sin that cannot be excused, and no evil that cannot be glided with a golden hue."

That is a serious indictment and should alarm us if it is true. The only way to set the matter right is for each of us to begin to be honest with himself and with his fellows. We should put each subterfuge we are tempted to offer under the moral microscope that we may see how cowardly and false and foolish it is, and then resolve never again to take refuge behind a lie.

THE WOODROW WILSON IDEA

By SAVOYARD.

I have just laid down Woodrow Wilson's chapter on Edmund Burke, and until I read it I never realized my own hopeless insignificance in that sort of work. What a luminous mind is that of our next president! What a giant grip it is with which he seizes the subject and exhausts it! Wilson not only knows what civil liberty is, but he knows whence it sprang, what's its mission, and how to preserve it, augment it, dignify it.

And let me tell you, at the end of his term he will be the most popular man of his day, or any other day. His plan is sublime because it is so simple, and it is this: The country shall know what he does and strives to do, and it shall also know what those who would thwart him do and strive to do. And the Democrat who would seek to shackle his administration with "party perfidy and party dishonor" must look to himself.

The dishonest and depraved business interests will have to get out of politics, for after March 4 next we will have a man in the White House who can identify every one of them and who will have toleration for no one of them. And what's more, he will know all the supporters these robber concerns have in congress and his will expose them to the people's wrath. Ask the New Jersey legislature, from which he extorted the primary election, what sort of man he is, and the henchman of corrupt monopoly of either party in either house of congress will discover what sort of man he is if there is any monkey business.

Wilson is a thorough Democrat with a little d as well as a giant Democrat with a big D. He trusts the people, and the cornerstone and copestone of his policy is Publicity. He intends to let the people know what is going on so they may elect between him and his adversaries. We have never had a president who did that, and you will be astonished when you see how it works. Our best thinkers hold that our government is not yet emerged from the experimental stage; but when the policy of complete publicity of all in-comings and out-goings, great and minute, shall be thoroughly tested, there will be no longer room to doubt the success or failure of our system.

Get the essay on Burke in a little volume Mr. Wilson wrote entitled "Mere Literature," and after reading it you are bound to conclude that the author knows what to do. Has he the hand to forge what his mind conceives? Ask the New Jersey legislature. The story as it came to me is like this: The legislature of New Jersey—the senate Republican and the house Democratic—promptly enacted all the reforms demanded in the Democratic platform of 1910 when Wilson was chosen governor. But he was not satisfied with that which kept the promise to the ear and broke it to the hope, and he urged the primary election to the end that the people might name their own candidates for office. Of course that did not suit "Jim" Smith and his friends in both parties.

The governor's recommendation of the primary was rejected by every member of both branches of the legislature. He asked to be heard on the question and there was a joint session for that purpose. When he had been speaking a few minutes a point of order was made that his conduct was an invasion of the independence of the legislative branch of the state government by the executive. The point of order was sustained; but the governor cited the clause of the state Constitution making it his duty from time to time to communicate with the legislature and make recommendations. It does not direct that he shall communicate in writing, and so they let him speak.

He spoke. Now it is a truth that while he is the best writer in the United States he speaks better than he writes. He discussed the question to exhaustion, and ere twenty-four hours had elapsed the bill authorizing the primary passed both houses unanimously, and before the ink was dry on his signature approving the measure, the power of the bosses was broken in New Jersey, and that is how it came that "Jim" Smith is not a senator in congress from New Jersey "to croak" another Democratic tariff bill.

And yet they say this man is no politician, that he is a dreamer, a visionary, a dealer in abstractions, a scholarly doctrinaire. They sneer that he is "Dr." Wilson. Here is how he extorted that reform from a reluctant and a hostile legislature. He told them that it was an issue between them and him—that the people of New Jersey must decide, and he promised that he would discuss the bill in every legislative district in the state. It was a threat of publicity. And one of the secrets—the greatest—of his statecraft is this: The people shall know and they must decide.

Our congress is modeled after the British parliament, to which body the king makes recommendation in spoken address, and our fathers, when they made section 3, article II, of the Constitution of the United States designed that the president of the United States should speak his annual message in a joint assembly of both houses of the American congress. Washington did so, the first Adams did so, and all our presidents would have done so if Thomas Jefferson could have made a speech. He made the innovation and for more than a hundred years our presidents have communicated with congress in written messages. It would be a long step in the way of practical reform if Wilson should carry out the intention of the Constitution and meet congress face to face when he makes recommendations. Everybody knows that if you would have a thing done, go see about it, not write a letter.

But Publicity is the essence of Wilson's statecraft. He purposes to do everything in the open, and he will see to it that congress works in the open. Just one instance: When the tariff bill comes on at the extra session, that senator or member who represents a sawmill, or an iron works, or a coal mine or other selfish monopoly in his state, instead of the sovereign people of that commonwealth, shall do it in the open, and everybody shall know it.

Then if the people of his state or district want that sort of senator or representative, it is their business.

Abraham Lincoln is on the elevated pedestal he occupies in the American heart because he was a consummate politician. We need such a man now, and the American people have nominated Woodrow Wilson for the place.

HUMAN SHIPS THAT PASS

By FRED C. KELLY.

From the time that Billy Tomlinson and I first got acquainted—back in our McGuffey's third reader days—Billy used to talk of being a doctor when he grew up.

When the rest of the youngsters in our crowd were still full of ambitions to be horse jockeys, professional ball players, train conductors, and such, Billy had no other notion than to be a doctor. He used to confide his plans to his teachers, and they encouraged him all they could though they never seemed enthusiastic. For the fact was that Billy was a long way from being a good student. Even before we got as far as long division, he had a tendency to trail along at the caboose end of the class. And when he spoke of being a doctor some day, the teachers thought of the studious years that being a doctor would entail.

It wasn't that Billy was stupid, either. He was smart enough, but he just naturally couldn't bring himself around to studying. Nine days out of ten he copied all of his arithmetic examples from somebody else a few minutes before the class was called, but he would never copy anything from one of the heads of the class. He seemed to have a great disgust for anybody who studied hard enough to stand at the head. Usually he compromised on me when he wished to copy a lesson, as I would have probably six examples done out of ten that had been assigned. How Billy ever managed to slip through at examination time nobody, not even himself, knew.

You'd have thought Billy would have been good at elementary physiology, after all his talk about going to be a doctor, but he didn't shine even at that. He was good to go to the butcher shop for lungs and brains of animals, whenever the teacher wanted such things for class work, and he was a great hand to catch cast and chloroform 'em, but when it came to getting up and telling what the book said, Billy wasn't one, two, three. I think that the whole trouble with Billy was that his head was too full of deviltry to think much about lessons. There never was a boy who could devise such schemes for putting tick-tacks on inaccessible windows, ringing the school house bell at unearthly hours, and scaring pedestrians with queer objects that he would dangle over the sidewalk at the end of a long string run over the limb of a tree. Billy was the first one of our crowd to learn to smoke. At first he just smoked corn-silk cigarettes, but he soon got to smoking the regulation Sweet Caporals, and all our mothers regarded him as a thoroughly bad boy. But we all liked him first rate.

After we got into the high school, Billy was expelled on an average of once or twice a year, but as his family was rather prominent in the little town, he was always taken back on promise of better behavior, and he managed to get through and receive a diploma along with the rest of us. The principal of the high school seemed to like Billy first rate, with all the lad's shiftlessness, and often said that Billy could make something of himself if he would only take a brace on himself and study a little. But the principal's belief in Billy was not shared by many of the townspeople.

They all thought of him simply as "that ornery Tomlinson boy."

All this time, however, Billy still insisted that he was going to study for a doctor. He said that as soon as he got at something practical he'd study as hard as anybody, but that he couldn't see any sense in worrying his head over a lot of algebra and such stuff as that.

His folks bundled him off to college that fall, for him to take a year or two of preparatory work before entering medical school. He fell in with the sporty set at college, and there were tales back home of some of the drunken debauches that he got mixed up in. Toward the end of his first year he got fired bodily from college for drunkenness and other behavior that they couldn't reconcile with the ideals of the institution.

"What are you going to do now?" I asked him, after he'd told be all about it.

"Oh, I'll start in studying medicine this coming fall and quit my monkey business," he said.

Sure enough, he did enter one of the big medical colleges that fall, and I learned in a roundabout way that he was regarded as a capable student, above the average if anything, but he got to drinking and neglecting his work, and shortly after the Christmas holidays was suspended for the rest of the year. He stuck around home for three or four months, not doing much of anything except worry his parents by going on an occasional spree. Then he disappeared for a time, and I never knew where he went or what he was doing, but he turned up late the following summer looking a bit seedy and dissipated. Much to the surprise of everybody, he seemed to buck up a bit, however, and that fall he started off to a medical school again. This time it was to a different school, so that he could begin with a clean slate, with no sporty associates to handicap him. The surprising thing was that he didn't give up the idea of being a doctor altogether. Just why he thought he was cut out for the medical profession nobody in the home town could ever figure out.

Well, the next I heard of Billy he had left the medical college to go to a gold cure some place. Later on I heard that the treatment there hadn't been very effective, and Billy, from all reports, was rapidly going from bad to worse. Whether he still entertained any idea of being a doctor some day I didn't hear. The most logical finish for him seemed to be a drunkard's grave.

For several years I didn't hear of Billy Tomlinson at all, and he passed entirely from my mind. Last spring I had occasion to spend a couple of days in New York. Along about the middle of the second afternoon there I was hurrying toward the subway station at Brooklyn bridge, intent on getting up town in time to finish up some business and catch an outgoing train early that evening.

About two-thirds across the street I paused for a moment to let an ambulance pass. The ambulance was being driven so rapidly, as if in a race with death, that I turned to look after it. An immaculately garbed young doctor with a Van Dyke beard, clean-cut features, and spotless cuffs sat at the rear of the vehicle with a watch in one hand and somebody's wrist in the other. There was an intense earnestness about the young doctor's face, as he times the pulse, that filled me with a sense of the dramatic, and I stared at him. The doctor chanced to look up and met my stare. He appeared to recognize me, and he nodded, with just the faintest flicker of a smile. Then he looked back at the watch in his right hand.

The doctor was Billy Tomlinson.

WHAT I SAW IN AMERICA

Unrealized Danger From Industrial Poisoning---The Young Women of the Factories---Constitutions: Legal vs. Human.

By SIR THOMAS OLIVER,
Professor of Medicine, University of Durnham, Newcastle-Upon-Tyne.

(Exclusive Service of the Survey Press Bureau.)

This fall I had the opportunity, after the close of the Congress of Hygiene in Washington, of visiting some of the cities of the Eastern states and seeing therein something of the labor conditions and industrial life of the people. Although I visited a considerable variety of factories the number was too small to enable me to make a comparison between American and British manufacturing plants.

Despite the larger number of labor-saving devices in use in America and England, there are in both countries still some industries, e. g., the iron and steel, in which work is too hard and the hours are too long. Working a 12-hour shift week after week and month after month frequently is beyond the limits of human strength. At several of the blast furnaces in the north of England the hours have been reduced from twelve to eight with the result that the amount of iron produced is greater than in Staffordshire, where the twelve hours still prevail. Not only in the north of England is production greater but the men receive higher wages, although working fewer hours.

It is a well-known fact that in the United States few American-born workmen undertake hard, disagreeable and dangerous work. This is left largely to the foreigners from Eastern Europe. From what I have seen and heard of foreign laborers in the states, I feel that I must advance a plea on their behalf. They are frequently given extremely dangerous work without being instructed as to the risks they run. A little more humane treatment of these foreigners and more sympathy extended to them would do much to lighten the burden of their toil and make life more agreeable. The large number of foreigners employed in the factories is one of the causes of accidents.

Apart from accidents in no industry is instruction more called for than in the manufacture of white lead. In factories where white lead is made factory regulations, such as those in Great Britain, do not appear generally to be in force. There is no compulsory periodical medical examination of the workers and yet in some of the white lead factories employers have of their own accord required their work people to be medically examined just as in England. Where health can become so readily impaired and life endangered as in the manufacture of white lead, it should not be left altogether to employers to draw up regulations for the work people.

From my visits to white lead factories in the states and to different hospitals, also from my conversations with medical practitioners appointed to particular factories, I did not find plumbism more prevalent in the lead works of America than in England. But until America has in all states adopted compulsory notification of industrial diseases no accurate estimate of occupational plumbism is possible.

How to get rid of the harmful influence of the fumes which rise during brass-pouring is as difficult a problem in the United States as it is in the old country. Brass pouring is a cause of considerable bodily discomfort in those who follow the employment. The men suffer from what is called "brass-founders' ague". The malady has no connection with malaria. It only resembles that class of disease in so far as it also has three stages—shivering, hot and perspiring. Fortunately the illness does not last long. But the headache and the fever tell upon the man since they are left weakened and nervous for a day or two afterwards and the malady may recur twice or thrice in the course of a summer.

There is an enormous loss of brass in the fumes which escape into the shop and the open atmosphere. Tons of metal may thus be lost annually in large brass works so that it would well repay the owners of such establishments to devise means for the collection of the fumes and the recovery of the metal.

As regards protection of life by fire escapes and fire drills, the United States is undoubtedly in advance of Great Britain. It is to be hoped that the adoption of the measures at present in force in New Jersey and some of the other states will become more general.

One sees in the limits of the Constitution of the United States some of the difficulties which lie in the way of industrial legislation, and yet it cannot but be admitted that the health of the working classes and through it the physique of future generations, transcends in importance freedom of contract between employer and employed. There are many large questions in regard to which state rights should be sunk. Upon such problems as Sunday labor, kinds of trades permissible to women and young persons, hours of work not only for women and children, but for men as well, protection of machinery, regulations for dangerous trades there should be little and no difference of opinion in one state or another.

Two things particularly struck me in my visits to American factories. One is the fewer old workmen seen there in compared with England—a state of things not to be wondered at since the principal aim of factory enterprise is to get the utmost out of the human machine, and the other is the enormous employment of female labor. It is, I admit, extremely pleasing in going through a factory to see hundreds of young women, aged from 17 to 25 and upwards, clean and neatly dressed when the nature of the work permits of it, and one cannot but in a sense join in the pride which a manufacturer feels in showing a casual visitor through his factory in such an array of womanhood; but apart from the circumstances that the women are earning their livelihood and in some instances lighten the call upon the family exchequer, is there no oversight to the question which calls for thoughtful consideration?

The American nation will have lost considerably by having utilized in the production of mere material wealth, the best years of a great part of its available womanhood when it is so much in need of sons and daughters born under the flag and raised in the traditions of all that has made the United States powerful, progressive and enduring.

PLEASURE PLACES OF PARIS

Less Gay This Winter Owing to Many Familiar Figures Being Called Away to the War in the Balkans.

Paris, Jan. 4.—The pleasure places of Paris are less gay this winter owing to the absence of many familiar figures who have been called away to the war in the Balkans.

In normal times the boulevard cafes number among their regular patrons many Turks, Greeks, Bulgarians and Servians, the majority of whom have resided here for years. Representatives of the armies of all four nations are to be found as a rule among the students at the great military college at Saint Cyr, and there are several instances recorded of fellow students there finding themselves face to face in opposing armies on the battlefield.

The Egyptian prince Aziz was one of the best known habitues of the Opera quarter. Prince Arsene Karageorgevitch, a younger brother of King Peter of Servia, who was severely wounded while leading the Servians at Monastir, lived here for some years, until the death of King Alexander opened the way for the return of the sons of "Black George" to their country. Many quaint stories are told of his adventures in the city in the days of his poverty. To his many intimates he was known as "Kara," and these delight to talk of the bravery he has displayed in the war.

The garrison of Vincennes possesses a sergeant who is probably the most fashionable non-commissioned officer in the service.

When he arrived to join the regiment of cuirassiers to which he was appointed, he found that the stables were not altogether to his liking, and had alterations made at his own expense. He has spread a carpet in his bedroom and hung the refectory walls with pictures. When the regiment is on the march the young man's automobile follows in the rear, and at each halt a footman brings gamepie and champagne to the sergeant and his friends who, needless to say, are numerous.

His case presents one of the curious anomalies of national service. He is immensely rich, and his father's stable was "placed" in the Grand Prix this year.

Degas, who has suddenly become famous to the larger public at the age of 69, through the sale of one of his paintings for $86,000, is very much of a hermit.

Failing eyesight has prevented him from painting for some years now, and his door is rarely open to strangers. Art discussions do not interest him.

"No, no," he once said, "I cannot talk painting; no one does who is a real painter. It is discussed in omnibuses, in cafes, in drawing rooms. But not here. Painting is like a murmured prayer."

After the sale in which his picture, "Les Danseuse a la Barre," for which he originally received only $100, sold for $86,000, he went to Neuilly, on the outskirts of Paris. From the window of a friend's house he looked in astonishment at the peopled avenues. "In my time," he said, "there was nothing here."

As a rule he stays in Montmartre, and knows nothing of the newer parts of the city. Though he is the greatest living French painter, he has never been decorated. His hobby is collecting the pictures of Ingres. Every scrap of drawing of the great academic artist he treasures, which practice is an example of his contradictions, for he is one of the founders of the opposite school. Nor is he kind to contemporaries, labelling one "The Little Steam Watteau," and another "The Rag-Pickers' Raphael."

Some residents of the aristocratic Faubourg quarter and other Royalist partisans who do not like the republic, are showing their opposition to the government by issuing stamps—like the French feminists and the anti-alcoholic league—inscribed with more or less scurrilous sentiments. The government, however, does not give them much chance to have political effect on the citizen; letters so decorated will in future not be delivered. It had become a common custom for royalists to adorn their letters, especially to soldiers in the army, with seditious labels. Sometimes the duke d'Orleans figured on the stamp; sometimes an unflattering the caricature of President Falleres, or an ugly-looking female to represent the republic. The propaganda had become so active that the government decided to take action.

The biology of the bathypelagic animals, or creatures who live in the lowest depths of the ocean, is little known and mostly hypothetic.

In a recent communication to the Academy of Sciences, M. Bouree, who accompanies all the oceanographic expeditions of the prince of Monaco, has given the results of his observations on the migrations of these animals.

He has observed that many species, notably the fish whose normal lair is during the day at a depth varying from 4,000 to 6,000 yards, rise during the night to a short distance from the surface.

Similar migrations had already been observed among the smaller species known as plankton, but had never been noticed in the case of creatures of a larger order. It is probable that all the bathypelagic species do not obey this law of vertical ascension; fish with luminous organs seem to follow it with the greatest exactness.

Prof. Sanford, who is probably the best known woman in the state and who has been honored from one end of the United States to the other, is a most able speaker and her lecture on "Kipling" is said to be one of her best lectures.

Prof. Sanford represented the women of Minnesota at Los Angeles last fall at the national convention of the Federation of Women's clubs and she was given an ovation in every large city which she visited on the way. Her paper on "The Moral Power of the School Room" was honored for its strength and wisdom.

Recently Prof. Sanford celebrated her seventy-sixth birthday anniversary at Sleepy Eye, Minn., by giving two addresses during the day. In an interview she said that she never felt better or stronger in her life and she has vigorously kept active in progressive matters all year. She has also just returned from an Eastern tour, where she was received with the greatest homage.

She will arrive in Duluth on the morning train from the Twin Cities, and the only social affair planned during her short stay here is the informal reception which will follow after her lecture Monday afternoon. Keyes, Mrs. L. Q. Greely and Mrs. George Jewell.

DULUTH WOMAN IS NAMED AS MEMBER OF SCHOOL BOARD

The school board last night elected Mrs. T. J. Davis a member of the board to succeed Wilson G. Crosby, who resigned some time ago. Mr. Crosby's term would have expired next July, so that at that time should she wish to continue as a member of the board, Mrs. Davis will have to file for re-election.

The names of three well known women of the city were presented, no men being mentioned. They were Mrs. Davis, Mrs. P. L. De Voist and Mrs. O. A. Oredson, these three being suggested by the Woman's Council. Mrs. Davis received three votes, Mrs. De Voist and Mrs. Oredson getting one vote each.

Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, speaking for the delegation from the Woman's Council, thanked the board for its consideration and said that thirty-two years ago Mrs. Stearns, wife of the late Judge Stearns and mother of Victor L. Stearns, a leading attorney of Duluth, served on the board, establishing a precedent.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Should a Woman Live on With a Worthless Husband?

Does the woman waste her life who lives it with a worthless, besotted husband? Does she owe something more than this to her children and to herself?

Hard and fast rules of conduct cannot be laid down to govern the individual case, though generally speaking all women deserve better than that their lives be doomed to the misery a worthless man can impose. I presume, however, that the fact a wife has endured, has, in some instances, saved a man. Whether woman should be called upon to save man as well as herself is a matter upon which there is likely to be conflicting opinions.

This has been her forte and duty. No one really knows just how potent her influence has been for man's redemption. No doubt it has been greater than man's upon her. To be candid I am very much of the opinion that we individually save ourselves. But sometimes in the renunciation, sacrifice and endurance of all that falls to the wife of one who is merely man in form is found the key that unlocks the doors to a mental and spiritual development that might never come to a woman if life held no shadow of sadness and pain. We are not always able to decide benefits.

However, I would not sentence any woman to the life many of them have led and are, for that matter, still leading, with the idea of developing fine character. A very little such treatment soon wins a woman a right to wear a sort of a halo and be reckoned among the saints. But it is not for anyone to say that a woman wastes her life who chooses to abide by her let in the matrimony line.

It isn't a crime for her to hold fast to a derelict husband, in spite of children and all. It is a matter for her own decision. If her conscience bids her stay she will, and she does right to do so. If she can separate herself from him without any spasm of regret, without any guilty feeling at heart, satisfied that she has done all in her power to help another human soul, then the time is ripe for her to leave. She has done all that it was in her to do for him. The rest would avail neither one anything good.

As for what a woman owes her children! Truly, many have suffered cruelly at the hands of their fathers and some would add their mothers, when the latter have chosen to abide by Fate and, at whatever cost, keep a semblance of a happy, united home. But some of the finest characters I have known have developed through this sort of hardship and sorrow—though I cannot say that I recommend it.

TWO MORE IMPORTANT EVENTS ON MATINEE MUSICALE PROGRAM

TWO more events of importance enough to lift them above all other club work are still scheduled in the program for the year for the Matinee Musicale.

He is often called "Rubinstein No. 2," as he has many of the great artist's points, his technique, his dash and brilliance and a magnetic personality.

JOSEF LHEVINNE.

Swainson Sisters.

A nearer event of importance in the club schedule is the lecture recital which will be given Saturday, Jan. 18 by the Swainson sisters on "Modern French Music" illustrated with piano and cello numbers.

Associate Circle.

MISS MARGARET CULKIN.

MLLE. GENEE IS COMING.

Famous Dancer Will Be Seen in Reyner Memorial Course.

THE appearance at the Lyceum the latter part of this month of Adeline Genee, the famous Danish ballet dancer, promises to be one of the most interesting events of the winter.

This artist stands at the top in her line of achievement and the ballets she is presenting on this tour of America surpass in beauty and delicacy all of her former offerings. "Le Camargo" in particular, a ballet in which the heroine is Camargo, one of the famous ballet dancers of the seventeen hundreds, is a work of art, in its conception, the setting chosen, the costumes of the dancers and last the genius of the dancer.

Genee's appearance in Duluth will be the third attraction in the Reyner Memorial course and the single subscriptions for this event are now being received.

Genee's art has revived interest in the ballet and the following interesting account of its history will be of interest to those who will see the modern artist in her beautifully executed interpretations of ballets made famous by herself:

The earliest modern ballet or record was that given by Bergonzio di Botta at Tortona to celebrate the marriage of the duke of Milan in 1489. The ballet was developed and perfected in France. It is closely associated with the history of the opera and it has had three distinct stages of its development. For a long time it was to be found only at the court, when princely entertainments were given to celebrate great occasions. At that time leaders of the highest rank performed in the ballet and spent much time in practicing and perfecting themselves in it. Catherine de' Medici introduced these entertainments into France and spent large sums of money devising performances to district her son's attention from the affairs of the state. Balsagrini was the composer of a famous entertainment given by Catherine in 1581 called the "Ballet Comique de la Reyne." This marks an era in the history of the opera and here for the first time dance and music were arranged for the display and coherent dramatic ideas. Lully was the first to make an art of the composition of ballet music, and he was the first to insist on the admission of women as ballet dancers, female characters having hitherto been assumed by men dressed as women.

When Louis XIV became too fat to dance, the ballet of court became unpopular, and thus was ended the first stage of its development. It was then adopted in the colleges at prize distributions and other occasions when the ballets of Lully and Quinault were commonly performed.

The third period in the history of the ballet was marked by its appearance on the stage, where it has remained ever since.

The father of ballet dancing, as it is known at the present day, was Jean Georges Noverre. Apart from Noverre, the greatest ballet master was undoubtedly Gaetano Appolline Balthagare Vestris and he was the finest male dancer that Europe ever produced.

In 1750 the two greatest dancers of the day performed together in Paris in a ballet opera called "Leandre et Hero." The dancers were Vestris and Mme. Cannargo, who introduced short skirts into the ballet.

Some famous dancers in the first half of the nineteenth century were Carlotta Grisi, Mlle. Taglioni (who is said to have turned the heads of an entire generation), Fanny Elssler, Mlle. Cerito, Miss P. Horton, Miss Lucile Grahn and Mlle. Carolina Rosati. In later years Kate Vaughan was remarkably graceful and did much to elevate the modern art. She was the first to make skirt dancing popular. Of the later and classical school of ballet dancing Adeline Genee became the finest exponent.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB.

Mrs. Buell Will Speak on "The Democratic Platform."

BEAVER DESTROY NUMEROUS TREES

North Dakotans Complain That Rodents Should Not Be Protected.

Washburn, N. D., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Instead of being entitled to protection, the beavers, according to many settlers in McLean county, should be exterminated. For years they have been protected under the law and have increased to such an extent that they are damaging property.

One of the worst features is the injury they do to growing trees. They cut them down by the hundreds and discourage the efforts of the homesteaders along the streams to beautify their property. Their dams hold the water and make it impossible in some instances to either cultivate the bottom lands or to even cut the hay. It is against the law to tear out the dams.

Furbearing Animals Thick.

Sheldon, N. D., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local trappers report there are more furbearing animals along the Sheyenne and Maple rivers than for a decade. Many large catches are reported. The chief furs are mink, muskrat, fox and skunk. Several hundred pelts have been taken in this part of the country during the present winter.

Many Seek Hospital.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Methodists of North Dakota are to reach a decision as to the location of the new hospital. Fargo, Valley City, Jamestown, Bismarck, Dickinson, Williston, Minot, Devils Lake, Carrington, New Rockford and other towns are after it, with New Rockford apparently in the lead.

Sunday Services in Duluth Churches

THE coming week is regarded by Protestant churches throughout the world as a week of prayer and is generally observed as such, but the churches of Duluth have for the most part postponed its observance to less severe weather, many of them choosing the week before Easter.

The list of subjects prepared for the week of prayer by the international prayer committee has been circulated far and wide, and is being carefully preserved by many of the Duluth pastors, who intend to use the topics on the various days of the week of warmer weather which has been substituted for next week as the week of prayer. Many of the pastors will refer to the week of prayer at the services tomorrow and some will make the week of prayer their main thought of discourse.

WOULD HELP PAVE AVENUE

Public Affairs Committee Indorses the Grand Avenue Plan.

Also Urges School Board to Employ Agricultural Instructor.

The public affairs committee of the Commercial club last evening indorsed a plan to make Grand avenue a main thoroughfare between the city and West Duluth, indorsed the plan to have an agricultural instructor employed by the city school board, withheld action on the proposal to take over the Duluth Homecroft society and sidetracked a resolution indorsing the old St. Paul & Duluth route for a highway between Duluth and Carlton.

The committee had a heavy volume of business last night and the meeting was the longest in point of time held in several years. Nearly all of the regular committees had voluminous reports and almost every branch of civic endeavor was gone into in some form.

Traffic Commissioner G. Roy Hall made a detailed report of the work of the traffic commission. He showed how the commission has saved Duluth thousands in freight rates in the last year and has enabled the dealers of the city to reach out into new territory on an equal basis with competitors.

The matter of taking over the Duluth Homecroft society work was referred to the executive committee for further investigation. There is a question about the club assuming an indebtedness of the society.

Capt. Alex McDougall, reporting for the harbors and waterways committee, called attention to the hearing to be held by the board of engineers on the proposed extension of the St. Louis river channel to New Duluth. He said there will probably be some difficulty in convincing the board of the need of the channel and strong support for the project will be needed. The hearing will be held at 10 a. m. Friday, Jan. 15, at the Commercial club.

The plan proposed for the pavement of Grand avenue is that outlined in The Herald last evening. It provides for the property owners paying for a pavement of the ordinary width for a residence street, not to exceed $175 for each fifty-foot lot; the street railway company paying for the extra width made necessary by the presence of its tracks, and the city paying for the street intersections and additional cost through the street being made a main highway.

A resolution indorsing the plan to have state lands taxed to pay for roads and bridges was adopted.

The club agreed to pay the cost of a delegate to a meeting of the committee of the Perry Memorial and Centennial celebration at Sandusky, Ohio, this month.

Duluth will be well advertised during the summer months. Newspaper advertising will be used extensively in Northern Michigan, Northern Wisconsin, Minnesota and the two Dakotas, according to J. B. Crane, chairman of the publicity committee. Booklets will be distributed and moving picture films will be placed on regular film circuits where possible.

City Attorney H. A. Carmichael, on request of the committee, explained that his opinion is that the present city council now has all the power the commission will have after it takes office. He said it is absolutely necessary that finances be provided, assessments made and provision made for work to be begun next summer. The chances are that a friendly test action will be made to obtain an opinion from the courts, he said.

Senator Cheadle's suggestion that the club indorse the proposed route of a highway along the old St. Paul and Duluth road, was opposed by William Burgess, who proclaimed himself a member of both the Commercial club and the Rotary club. Mr. Burgess argued in favor of a bridge across the river at Fond du Lac and a route through Wrenshall. Considerable good natured humor was brought out through the flowery style of Senator Cheadle's resolution. Bert Fesler made a motion that the rhetoric be indorsed and the subject matter referred to a special committee, but he was ruled out of order. The matter was finally disposed of by being referred to a special committee to be appointed by Mr. McGonagle.

REPUBLICANS GOT ABOUT EVERYTHING

Captured 83 Per Cent of North Dakota County Offices.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Of the 550 county offices in North Dakota, exclusive of county commissioners, justices of the peace and constables, the Republicans have 456, or over 83 per cent, while the Democrats have 78, or about 14½ per cent. The Socialists elected four county officials, one is an independent and eleven of the minor offices were unfilled.

There were forty-nine counties at the November election, but the creation of Golden Valley from a part of Billings since that time makes fifty counties with eleven officials each.

Four hundred and fifty of the 550 new county officials will assume their duties Monday, but the other 100, composed of treasurers and auditors, will not begin their work till later. Formerly all officials began their duties the first of the year, but a few years ago the date of the terms of auditors was fixed to begin April 1. The last legislative session decided upon May 1 as the time for the new treasurers to begin work.

Where Republicans Got All.

An examination of the list of county officers elected in November show that the Republicans named every official in sixteen counties—Adams, Barnes, Benson, Billings, Burleigh, Cass, Divide, Kidder, McLean, Ramsey, Ransom, Steele, Stutsman, Traill, Ward and Wells.

In each of the thirteen counties of Bottineau, Bowman, Emmons, Hettinger, La Moure, Logan, Mercer, Morton, McHenry, McKenzie, Nelson, Pierce and Sargent the Republicans lost only one candidate.

Griggs county proved the stronghold for the Democrats, as they named eight of the eleven county officials. They also got six in Cavalier, while Pembina and Richland each selected five Democratic officials.

The Socialists have four county officials in the state. They won the state's attorney in both Mercer and Oliver counties. They made their biggest victory in Williams with the sheriff and elected the public administrator in McHenry county.

PROGRESSIVES TO HAVE BIG MEETING

Third Partyites of Five States to Gather in St. Paul Jan. 24.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—A call for a conference of Progressives from Michigan, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota and Minnesota has been issued by Hugh T. Halbert, state chairman. It will take place in St. Paul Jan. 24. The call is signed by Milton D. Purdy, national committeeman; Hugh T. Halbert, Minnesota state chairman, and by organization men in each of the other states, and says in part:

"It is striving to uphold the principles enunciated in the Progressive platform and endeavoring to have these principles enacted into laws.

"To obtain these results organization is essential.

"This conference is called for the express purpose of perfecting the organization of the Progressive party in the Northwest."

It will be an all-day conference. At the morning session there will be a discussion of Progressive organization. It will be presided over by a Progressive of national reputation and will be open to all members.

FARMERS KILL BEAR.

Mr. Davis, living on section 31, came across bruin's fresh tracks in the snow on his land and promptly notified Martin Thompson and son and another farmer and, all armed, tracked bruin to his den in a sort of cave. After considerable poking into the hole with the poles the bear was induced to stick his head out far enough so Mr. Thompson could get a shot at him which penetrated the brain, causing instant death. The carcass weighed 225 pounds and had a magnificent pelt.

DIETZ IS HOPEFUL OF BEING PARDONED.

The petition for a pardon bears over 2,000 signatures, and H. F. Cochems of Milwaukee will present it to the pardon board in behalf of the Deitz family.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

BOSSY GREAT MONEY GETTER

Minnesota Cow One of Chief Wealth Producers of Gopher State.

Output of State Creameries More Than Doubled in Twelve Years.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The output of Minnesota creameries has more than doubled within the past twelve years and the revenue derived by citizens of the state from the sale of butterfat has more than trebled in the same time.

These statements are contained in a report just issued by H. J. Maxfield, commissioner of immigration, who says:

"In 1899, Minnesota had 582 creameries, and in 1911 814. In 1899 our creameries manufactured 44,007,933 pounds of butter, against 98,984,789 pounds in 1911. Here is the most interesting fact of all. In 1899, $6,959,914.55 was paid out to our farmers for butter fat, against $22,381,375.26 in 1911, or a gain of $15,421,460.71—more than three times as much in 1911 as was paid out in 1899. This of course is not due entirely to increased production, but largely to advance in prices.

Butter Fat Price Boost.

"The advance in price can best be observed by comparing the average price paid per pound for butter fat in 1899, which has 17.5, against 27.18 in 1911, an advance of about 10 cents per pound. In 1899 the creameries of this state had 40,189 patrons, against 90,704 in 1911; 331,512 cows were supplying Minnesota creameries in 1899, against 714,318 in 1911. These two latter cases show a substantial increase and both have more than doubled.

"The following table shows some figures from Minnesota creameries for the past twelve years:

	1899.	1911.
Number of creameries in state	582	814
Pounds of butter made	44,007,933	98,984,789
Amount paid patrons for butter fat	$6,959,914.55	$22,381,375.26
Average price per pound for butter fat	17.5c	27.18c
Number of creamery patrons	40,189	90,704
Number of cows supplying creameries	331,512	714,318

"These figures were taken from the dairy and food commissioner's reports. The 1911 report shows that Minnesota cows produced an average of 139 pounds of butter each. The amount received by each patron averaged $246.75. When we consider the fact that Minnesota has many thousands of acres of undeveloped land, all of which are particularly adapted to dairying, her future as a dairy state looks exceedingly bright, and I predict that in the next ten years we will again see this remarkable industry doubled.

Cheese and Other By-Products.

"The foregoing figures do not take into account the value of cheese produced in Minnesota, nor the values of the by-products of the dairy industry. It is safe to say, that all of the dairy products of the state are worth annually to the farmer $40,000,000, outside of the indirect value to agriculture by the keeping of stock on the farm.

"Dairying is profitably carried on in older states, where land sells for much more than Minnesota land. If dairying is profitable on $200 land, it is necessarily much more profitable in Minnesota on land that costs only from $25 to $125 per acre."

LAST RITES FOR JUDGE TEMPLETON

Funeral at Grand Forks of Jurist Long Prominent in North Dakota.

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Judge C. F. Templeton, who died yesterday in St. Paul, was held this afternoon from the home here. Interment took place in Memorial Park cemetery.

The death of Judge Templeton removes one of the pioneer jurists of the state. Judge Templeton served over a period of many years, both in territorial days and after statehood, and as attorney general in the early days he was very prominent.

Judge Templeton's death leaves a vacancy which will be filled soon by Governor-elect L. B. Hanna.

Native of Vermont.

Judge Templeton was born in Vermont in 1856. He came to North Dakota in 1880 and formed a partnership with Burleigh F. Spalding at Fargo, now chief justice of the supreme court. In 1887 Judge Templeton was appointed attorney general for the territory of Dakota by Governor Church. In 1888 he resigned to accept the position of district court judge at the hands of President Grover Cleveland. In 1889 he was re-elected and again in 1893, serving till Jan. 1, 1897, when he was succeeded by Judge Fisk. Judge Fisk went to the supreme bench five years ago, and Judge Templeton was appointed his successor, being re-elected four years ago and also being elected again this fall.

STATE MAY LOSE ON KITTSON DITCH

Both Contractors and Bonding Company Back of Diggers Have Failed.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—The collapse of the contracting company which undertook to build ditch 84 in Kittson county, and of the surety company which was on its bond, may cost the state of Minnesota about $3,000, according to an estimate made in the office of S. G. Iverson, state auditor. It is the first time in the history of the state that a contracting company and the bonding company back of it have both gone "broke."

Several years ago the Standard Drainage company, a Minnesota corporation, contracted to dig ditch 84 at a cost ranging between $36,000 and $40,000. About one year ago the company became deeply involved in some work in Nebraska through quicksands and went into the hands of receivers.

Bonding Company Tackles Job.

The Empire State Surety company of New York, which was on the drainage company's bond, served notice on the state of Minnesota that it would finish the ditch work started here, and obtained the right to use the two ditching machines on the Kittson county job. The work is now about three-fourths completed. On Dec. 16 the supreme court of the state of New York declared the Empire company insolvent and placed all its assets in the hands of the state insurance commissioner for settlement and adjudication.

Yesterday, a representative of the surety company informed the state drainage commission that there are about $3,500 in claims against the ditch. It is estimated that it will take about $10,000 to meet these claims and clean up the work, and there is about $7,000 left with which to do it.

The commission directed State Auditor Iverson to notify the New York commissioner settling the affairs of the surety company, that the state of Minnesota must know at once if it is to finish the work, and if it is not, the contract probably will be re-let.

COURTHOUSE CASE WILL BE TRIED.

Wahpeton, N. D., Jan. 4.—(Special to The Herald.)—Under the decision of the supreme court in the action against the board of county commissioners involving the construction of the new courthouse, the case will be tried on its merits.

This suit is brought to enjoin the commissioners from continuing the construction of the new building on the plea that the proposition was not submitted to the voters. The district court sustained a demurrer to the complaint, but the supreme court rules that the demurrer should not have been sustained, and sends the case back to the district court to be tried on its merits.

CLUB WILL BE REORGANIZED

West Duluth Organization Will Be Empowered to Hold Property.

All Old Officers Are Re-Elected for Another Term.

The West Duluth Commercial club will be entirely reorganized so that it will be allowed to own property and work for the benefit of West Duluth on a wider and more general basis.

The change in the club's policy was decided upon at the annual meeting held last evening. In addition to the proposed reorganization, officers were elected for the year, reports made by the various committees and the present condition of the club carefully explained by both the secretary and treasurer.

All the old officers of the club were re-elected as follows: A. G. Macauley, president; P. H. Martin, vice president; M. J. Murray, secretary, and C. G. Futter, treasurer. The directors for this year are J. J. Frey, Thomas Olafson, L. B. Blechl, John Cashin, C. M. Brooks, C. F. Kurth, Charles Kauppi, C. J. Petruschke, John A. Eklund, Joseph Becks and L. A. Barnes.

The reports made by the president, secretary and treasurer showed that the club took part in securing many improvements for West Duluth during the past year. The membership of the club was considerably increased and the treasurer reported a substantial balance for the new year. The plan to reorganize the club was suggested by President Macauley in the annual message and the following committee was appointed to investigate the plan: Thomas Olafson, P. H. Martin, L. A. Barnes, Charles Kauppi and M. J. Murray.

Mr. Olafson reported that the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road has promised to build a tunnel underneath its tracks at Highland street, which connect with the new Getchell highway at the western end of the city. J. J. Frey, chairman of the railroad committee, reported that the Northern Pacific road has agreed to the demands of the local club in regard to its new passenger and freight station.

Fitzpatrick changed it into a modern hostelry and yesterday leased the structure to Capt. Forrest Maloney of Cleveland. The furniture, fixtures and good-will were all sold to Mr. Maloney, who takes charge at once.

Mr. Fitzpatrick purchased the hotel four years ago and immediately began repairing the structure from basement to roof. Mr. Fitzpatrick tore down the entire front of the building, building additions to the side and rear, laying a new sidewalk along Central avenue and Ramsey street and installing all the modern improvements in the interior of the structure.

Today the hotel is a comfortable, modern building. Many of the iron workers at local factories and plants along the coast, in the Twin Cities and Ireland, after which they will return to West Duluth to make their home. They will leave about Feb. 1.

There are thirty rooms for transients in the building at the present time.

Capt. Maloney, who has purchased the hotel, is well known in Duluth, having made this city his home on several occasions. He has worked on the lakes for the past twenty years and recently was master of the steamer Peter Reiss. His wife and son are making their home at the hotel. Mr. Maloney plans to cater to automobile parties as a feature of the new management.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick are now making arrangements for a year's trip along the coast, in the Twin Cities and Ireland, after which they will return to West Duluth to make their home. They will leave about Feb. 1.

SYNTHETIC COAL.

Indianapolis News: At the annual meeting of the Association of German Chemists, Dr. Bergius, of Hanover, read a paper on his experiments on the manufacture of artificial coal. He heated cellulose, or peat, with water to a temperature of 340 degrees centigrade, and at a pressure of over one hundred atmospheres, in a specially constructed apparatus. Both these substance were transformed into a product physically and chemically identical with coal. At a temperature of 310 degrees centigrade the process took sixty hours, and at 340 degrees centigrade the transforming took place in eight hours. The speed of the reaction is doubled with every additional 10 degrees centigrade of temperature. Dr. Bergius estimates on this basis that the time necessary for the formation of natural coal, at the temperature of the earth's crust is 8,000,000 years, figures which are approximately the same as those given by geology.

SNOWSLIDE HALTS TRAINS

Three Hundred Feet of Shed at Cascade Tunnel Demolished.

Great Northern Line Traffic Will Be Delayed Over Sunday.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 4.—A report reached Great Northern headquarters that a 300-foot section of the old wooden snowsheds near the west portal of the Cascade tunnel was demolished by an avalanche late yesterday. No trains were in the mountains and no one was hurt, but the line will be tied up several days while the wreckage is being cleared.

Snow slides in the mountains, resulting from rains and warm weather, interfered with train operations again yesterday and tied up the Great Northern's transcontinental line to such an extent that overland trains are being routed between Seattle and Spokane over the Northern Pacific tracks.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Northern Pacific are getting their trains through without serious delay, but at Great Northern headquarters it was said that line would probably be tied up three days. Great Northern trains sent out yesterday and stalled on the west slope of the Cascades were ordered back to Seattle, while those held east of Cascade tunnel were turned back to Leavenworth.

Great Northern telegraph lines through the mountains are down and the extent of the slides is not known.

At Northern Pacific offices, it was stated that colder weather had set in in the mountains and the dangerous thaw which was flooding streams and causing slides had been stopped.

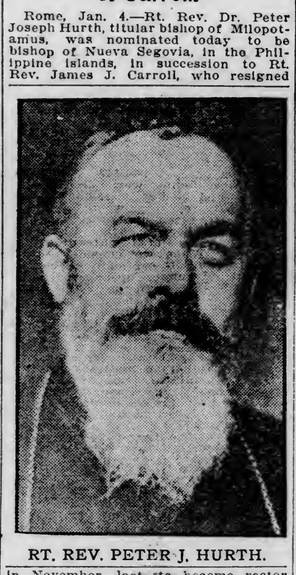

Rivers are all bank full, but have not spread over the lowlands, except in a few scattered places.

Three feet of snow fell in the mountains yesterday, and it was still snowing at the summit last night.

VISIT TO A EUGENIC BABY

George Herrick, Jr., a Particularly Well Born Child---Besides Physical Perfection, He Is Beautiful---Mother Watches Temperature of Room.

False modesty, with its sister curse, pie for breakfast, belongs to another generation.

That is why Mrs. George Herrick, mother of a perfect child, and co-partner in a eugenic marriage, can frankly tell her experience, says the Boston Post.

Babies are indisputably the world's most valuable crop. In the United States alone there are more than 2,500,000 born every year.

Broad-minded men and women everywhere have decided that the same law which applies to the improvement of orchids and race horses can be used as effectively by humans, and that unless this simple truth is recognized human progress will cease.

She Was 35 When Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Herrick, parents of the perfect child, fell in love intelligently. He was 39. She was 35. They were physically sound, though not necessarily of artistic proportions. Moreover, their parents were healthy.

Mrs. Herrick, who was a nurse before her marriage, does her own housework. They have a small apartment at 20 Sackett street, Providence.

"The proper care of a baby, explained Mrs. Herrick, "begins long before it was born. To produce healthy children, the parents themselves must be healthy.

"Upon our marriage we ate wholesome, sensible food, took long walks and slept seven or eight hours. We regularly attended the churches and theaters. Though happiness or unhappiness is supposed to have little to do with eugenics, it is impossible to imagine that a perfectly healthy person would be very unhappy."

As Mrs. Herrick talked, perfect though George Herrick, Jr., is, he made it thoroughly understood that he wanted to be taken out of his crib. Like all cherubs of his age, he got what he wanted.

A Child of Real Beauty.

He is not ideal as to measurement and avoirdupois alone. He is a beautiful child. His eyes are large and soft and brown, his complexion creamy and pink tinted. His skin is of such texture as to put to shame the real or feigned shade of the greatest living beauty, man or woman. His hair isn't worth mentioning because he hasn't anything except a downy head yet, though he has a prospect of a thick shock of red-brown locks.

Habitually, his mother says, he plays as long as he is awake, with a line of toys which are hung across his crib. This, it was explained, is a better way of having toys than to let him take them in his mouth. As they are, he gets all the fun and exercise without the danger of swallowing them and possibly taking disease germs into his system.

"Before our baby came," Mrs. Herrick resumed, having placed the gurgling mischief-maker in his crib, "I wore woolen clothing and took tepid baths. I also ate wholesome food, regardless of any ridiculous cravings.

"We got up at 6 o'clock every morning. I got breakfast. We ate cereals and whole wheat bread, and though we had a balanced ration, we didn't buy extravagant things.

"I ate, especially, oatmeal, green vegetables, figs, oranges and prunes. My exercise was moderate and I never went to the theater when their attractions were too exciting, especially dramatic and tragic plays, because I am, perhaps, unduly emotional.

"At birth the baby weighed six pounds and two ounces. When he was two weeks old he weighed seven pounds and two ounces. His weight increased at the rate of a pound a week for four weeks. Then he gained a pound and a quarter.

Watches Even Temperature.

"He was 15 weeks old a week ago. And he weighed exactly 17 pounds. He is 27½ inches tall, chest 17¾ inches, thigh 10½ inches and head 17 inches.

"Thermometers on the wall are referred to to keep the temperature between 68 and 72 deg. Fahrenheit. Each room has a thermometer. I have two windows open all the time unless it is a bitter, windy day.

BABY GEORGE HERRICK.

"Baby sleeps," she continued, "three hours every morning and that much every afternoon. He has his bath at 9 o'clock, and his breakfast usually begins at 6.

"Warm water and pure castile soap are the foundation for his bath. After that, I have a baby bath bowl full of salt water, which is the same temperature as the room. He takes to this with great glee, unless he thinks it is time to eat. Then he makes a fuss, for he is quite human," she laughed, as she went into the next room to see if he was all right.

A child must be warm enough, have plenty of sleep, be well fed and and have quantities of fresh air to breathe, Mrs. Herrick says. "But you must not feed them too much, or let them sleep in a draft," she cautions. Her baby wears woolen clothing and she is careful to keep his feet warm.

"But are not eugenic marriages cold and calculating?" Mrs. Herrick was asked.

"By no means," she replied quickly. "The program to improve the race is to induce young people to make more reasonable selections of life mates; to fall in love intelligently. They should have the widest possible acquaintance.

It Doesn't Bar Sentiment.

"For the rest you trust to the good sense with which the majority of people are possessed. Everyone has a strong sense of personal beauty—even savages, according to their ideas on the subject.

"Marrying for wealth or social position has a rough eugenic value. For whatever reason, marriage should never be haphazard. That affection is necessary no one disputes; but I see no reason why there cannot be both physical perfection and sentiment.

"It costs more than $1,000,000 a year to take care of the 500,000 insane, feeble minded, epileptic, blind and deaf; prisoners number more than 90,000, paupers over 100,000.

"If all children were physically sound the world would not, perhaps, be ideal. But much of the crime would be stamped out. A child is very seriously handicapped with any sort of illness. Therefore, the young men and women of today, the fathers and mothers of tomorrow, should take care of their own health.

"Our parents are responsible for a greater part of our ills than we ourselves are. Nailed down windows and the heavy, boiled New England fare has caused more than one dyspeptic."

She had to stop then, because George, Jr., decided it was time to eat, regardless of company.

LUCIA ANCILOTTI'S CASE

By HARVEY J. O'HIGGINS
In Collier's Weekly.

Miss J——, who told me this story, is a robust and practical young woman employed by a philanthropic bureau to investigate and report upon the condition of the poor in certain tenement districts of New York City. She lives in a Settlement House that is supported by private benefactions, as a sort of social center for the quarter in which it stands; and she presides over some of the girls' clubs that meet in the Settlement House in the evenings. She is a sociological student, college-trained, and scientific in her attitude of mind.

The story is true, but Miss J—— wishes to remain anonymous; and she does not wish to expose anyone else to the consequences of publicity. For these reasons I have disguised every recognizable detail of name or place or incident in her narrative.

Its pitiful accuracy, however, has been proved during the month by the testimony taken by a legislative commission.

Miss J—— speaks:

When I was living in the Settlement House in B—— street, before I came to this one, an Italian girl named Lucia Ancilotti was one of our "Sweet Sixteens," as they called themselves, although she was not more than 14 at most. They came to the Settlement House, on certain allotted mornings, to meet as a club for various ostensible purposes of self-improvement, but really to dance for half an hour or so after the necessary pretenses of club work had been hurried through. And Lucia was a wild young dancer, instinctively graceful, with a passion for the abandon of musical movement that made her rather a scandal—especially to Miss Norris.

You know how young Americans dance, gravely, with an empty look in their eyes, as if all intelligence had gone down to direct their feet. Lucia danced, with her lips parted, in a high color, smiling excitedly. She was a handsome, dark smoldering sort of child at her quietest. The excitement of the dance put her into a fever. Whenever poor Miss Norris reproved her for her indecorous exuberance—as Miss Norris might have called it—she had a maddening way of looking at the woman, stonily, with a large, silent stare.

Not Easily Uplifted.

Lucia Ancilotti was not easily uplifted. Certainly not by Miss Norris. She was much too strong in spirit to be ruled by the spinster's personality. And I watched her "cheek" Miss Norris through the usual stages of indignation, superior pity, and angry dislike down to the final persistent small malice of the school teacher who cannot "do anything" with her pupil.

One night Miss Norris put her out of the "Sweet Sixteens" for dancing some of the forbidden "turkey trots" or "bunny hugs" that are so immodest except where the elegances of society make them merely improprieties that are rather "smart."

Lucia accepted her ejection with a silent glare of deep Italian hate. "That girl will murder some one before she's much older," Miss Norris predicted. "Murder some one!"

The great discouragement in our work comes from the flabbiness of character that so often results from poverty—from decent, debilitating, ill-nourished poverty. And the fact that Lucia could look murderous confirmed my interest in her. I walked home with her to get better acquainted.

I went the next morning to visit Lucia's mother. You will think I am exaggerating when I tell you the conditions that I found. As a matter of fact, I shall not be able to tell you the whole truth. It's unspeakable.

They were living on the second floor of what is called a "double dumb-bell" tenement, in three rooms, for which (as I learned later) they paid $18 a month rent. The house was not ramshackle; it had an appearance of being kept in stern repair, though it was dirty. The door of the Ancilotti flat opened on the kitchen, where a single gas jet burned in an atmosphere that would stick in your throat. The little four-hole cookstove—burning soft coal and smoking around its lids—had to supply heat for the whole apartment, and not a breath of outer air could be allowed to chill the hoarded warmth. Even so the place achieved only a fetid tepidity, stale and clammy, with the indescribable composite of smell that you find in prison cells and the forecastles of some tramp steamers. If you don't know that odor, nothing will describe it to you.

Dying of Tuberculosis.

From the kitchen I passed into a bedroom, where there were two double beds covered with piles of corset covers that were being "finished." And in one of those beds Lucia's father was dying, in the last stages of tuberculosis. He was sitting up, under the gas light, with a vest buttoned over his gray flannel shirt, his knees drawn up under the dirty quilt, eating tomato soup out of a tin can in which it is sold. In one hairy, lean yellow hand—like a sick monkey's—he clasped the red-labeled tin; with a pewter cooking spoon in the other, he was digging out the last mouthfuls of the doubtful looking vermilion liquid; and his deep eyes, incredibly hungry in their worn sockets, devoured each spoonful in anticipation before it reached his lips, and then, regarding me blankly for one gulping instant, plunged into the can again ahead of the spoon. He was unshaven; his stringy black hair was down over his ears; he had the forehead of a yellowed skull, with hollows in his temples.

The old woman who was working over the corset covers at his bedside was his wife, Lucia's mother. Her fingers were crippled with rheumatism. The young woman who had ushered me in proved to be a daughter-in-law who lived upstairs and came down to work here. The two infants playing on the floor were hers. Lucia and her small brother were at school. But in the evening, when Lucia and the boy were home, they usually all worked together in this room—with its one narrow window tightly closed against the odorous outer darkness of the well of brick that is called the air-shaft—breathing the effluvia of tuberculosis and tying pretty infected ribbons in bargain-counter lingerie.

A "Rehabilitated" Family.

I had introduced myself as one of Lucia's friends from the Settlement house, and they had accepted me in a manner that made me suspect they were an "assisted" family. They were. It appeared subsequently that they were even a "rehabilitated" family, and were entered as such on the books of one of our charitable aid societies. The father had been kept for two months in a hospital; the mother had been given employment, which she had resigned, of course, when her husband returned to her care; and some clothes had been donated to the children. Thus rehabilitated, as soon as aid was withdrawn, they had inevitably relapsed into the conditions from which they had been rescued.

Such is the peculiar virtue of our organized charity: it treats symptoms without any danger that it will effect a cure. Never mind about that.

I was interested in Lucia and her working papers. To get them she had to be, by law, at least 14 years old, weigh at least seventy-five pounds, be not lower than grade 5B in the public school, be able to pass a simple examination in the rudiments of commercial work, and have a school certificate showing that she had been in attendance at classes for at least 130 days previous to her application. She was more than 14 years old; she weighed ninety-eight pounds; but she had only recently reached grade 5B, and she had twice failed to pass the school examination for working papers. Her brother was nearly 14, but he was an anemic child, with a weak chest; and they could not get his weight above seventy pounds.

I learned all this from the mother, with the assistance of the daughter-in-law, who interpreted the frequent passages of Italian for me and interrupted the mother's bewildering volubility to explain what I did not catch. Then the father began. And that was almost more than I could bear. He had no voice left, just a choked gurgle of weak breath, forcing its way through inflamed membranes in a crackling and bubbling wheeze. I don't know what he said. Something about being a truckman and owning a horse and wagon, which his elder son still drove. It was the son who had sent him the tin of tomato soup. He became terribly excited in his attempts to explain himself, and brought on a fit of coughing that resulted in a hemorrhage. The sight of blood—I am not used to it. I was afraid it was going to make me ill. The rooms were so close. I didn't know how to help him. His poor wife was doing that. The girl was rescuing the corset covers. I hurried away, to get outdoors.

I am not telling you this to harrow up your feelings but to make you understand what "home work" in the tenement-house district may involve.

Passed Examinations.

I went back to Miss Norris and harrowed her so effectively that she volunteered to take Lucia under her special charge and tutor her for her examinations. And so we began with our temporary palliatives, like a farmer treating one plant for a blight in a whole field that is infected with it. We could do nothing for the father; he was practically dead. We got Lucia's brother into one of our gymnasiums and tried to strengthen him, with Miss Norris' aid Lucia passed her examinations and received her working papers from the board of health. And I began to think that we were in a fair way to "rehabilitate" the Ancilottis.

Lucia got employment in the underwear factory for which she had been doing home work. Two weeks later she was discharged. Why? Well, the law requires that no child under 16 shall be kept at work in a factory later than 5 o'clock, and Lucia was only 15; so they worked her as late as they pleased until just before the factory inspector was due to make his usual visit, and then they discharged her. She went around to other factories in the neighborhood. Most of them had no vacancies. Some of them would not have her because of her age. Others offered her $2.50 a week, which she would not take because she could earn as much as that at home. A retail notion store in the Ghetto offered her a dollar a week to work from 8:30 in the morning to 10:30 at night; and this seemed to be the prevailing wage in such shops. Lucia, disgusted, returned to home work, where there is no age limit, no provision against night work, and no law to require adequate light and air or sanitary conditions. That is why home work thrives.

Little Tots at Work.

In our district here we have tiny infants of three and four years old working on artificial flowers, or sorting the colored petals into heaps. We have little tots of five or six years tying knots in willow plumes, which is a work that cannot be done by adult hands as well as by these delicate small fingers. We have them picking out basting threads, snipping seams and giving a sort of kindergarten aid in all kinds of unprotected industry. It ruins their eyes and destroys their health. It makes the school children backward in their studies, because they come home to labor instead of to play, and spend their evenings earning instead of studying in their books. Every law that is passed to protect workers in factories sends more workers back to these unprotected homes; and the courts, of course, find that it is unconstitutional to interfere with home work.

In the case of the Ancilottis we were struggling with problems which only the united effort of the whole community can solve: a housing problem of getting these unfortunates cheap and sanitary homes; an employment problem of protecting them from exploitation by employers after we have saved them from the greed of landlords; an educational problem of teaching them in school some industrial skill with which to earn a living—problems which have been solved in other countries as easily as they could be solved in America; but here they are left to private charity and the feeble efforts of settlement workers, and the tenement districts of our cities remain a disgrace to barbarism, the most appalling spots of human misery on the face of the earth!

The last I heard of the Ancilottis, they had withdrawn their boy from school in order to fatten him, so that he might get his working papers. They objected that the walk to school and back reduced him; and they were all going hungry so that he might be fed on milk and eggs. Lucia and he were working in those rooms with the others. The father, by some miracle, was still fighting for breath. Miss Norris had been to see them. I gathered from her that she was not likely to go back. She was afraid of tuberculosis.

Girls Always Earn.

And Lucia? I don't know what became of her. Or, rather, I do know, but not specifically. These Italian girls rarely desert their families; even when they become street walkers, they bring back their wages to their parents. The boys sometimes become idle loafers and drunken "bums," but the girls always earn. When I moved from the district I lost track of Lucia, but I know she is slowly working out her "indecorous exuberance" at whatever task we, her masters, have set for her. She can hardly have much spirit left by this time; and if she dances at all, it will be with work-bowed shoulders, I imagine.

Miss Norris, I have lost track of, too. She gave up the struggle when she learned, as we all do, that it was not immorality that she had to fight against, not weakness of will or any lack of virtuous effort, but physical conditions of life that make morality scarcely possible, that weaken all but the strongest wills, and do not yield to any virtuous effort.

When a family has to pay $18 a month rent for three pestilential rooms, corset covers infected with tuberculosis will be "finished" there for 8 cents a gross. We, as a community, take advantage of the necessities of the Ancilottis in order to make them work like starving slaves for a wage that will not keep them healthy, and in dark rooms that we would not use for cattle. One way for them to be innocently revenged is to put the bacillus of a horrible death into the blue bow that looks so pretty under the bosom of a peekaboo waist in summer. There are other ways. Many of them. But I am boring you?

Dr. F. G. Curtis has served as chief of the health board of Newton, Mass., cause the city only offers $1,000 a caause the city only offers $1,000 a year, while he demands $1,500, refusing to accept the smaller sum.

Duluth realty operators have closed a year with which they are fairly well satisfied. Some good-sized deals were swung during 1912 and on the whole the movement was fairly steady. Trading was especially brisk in suburban properties and the past year witnessed a number of close-in acreage deals launched with success. That the homecroft movement is bearing results has been evidenced by the large number of sales in one, two and five-acre tracts adjoining the suburbs. Settlement of homecrofters has followed in a gratifying manner. Residence property of the better class was not held as tight as last year and there were more sales reported. In the downtown business districts the movement was especially slow, the owners seeming to show little anxiety to part with their holdings.

Three or four good deals in water front property have a conspicuous place on the 1912 list of real estate transfers. The 1912 record of real estate transfers, the considerations of which are made public shows an aggregate valuation of $4,449,382.26 for St. Louis county has compared with $5,965,300.89 for 1911. The figures may or not be any indication of the comparative volume of business transacted. There is much uncertainty in the comparison, however, when it is considered that many of the transfers having large considerations involved are recorded as "$1 and other valuable considerations."

The Coming Year.

Prospects are bright for the coming year according to the consensus of opinion among dealers. "I would predict a reasonably active market, especially in mixed business for 1913," said L. A. Larsen, of the L. A. Larsen company, yesterday. "I look for more local buying than speculative outside purchases. The Eastern views seem to indicate a quick disposition of the wicked tariff problem by the new congress and considerable improvement over last year in all lines of business."

Mr. Larsen reports a good December business for his company. A number of lots were sold on the easy payment plan, some acreage in 51-16 disposed of. In summing up the 1912 business, Mr. Larsen declares that as a whole it was satisfactory. He said: "A large number of sales have come in during the last three months, which is something unusual for a presidential year. The keen competition in loans cut the profit down in that line."

George E. Lynott, sales manager for the Alliance Real Estate corporation, declares that 1912 has been a most gratifying season for the firm he represents and predicts even better times for 1913. Mr. Lynott is of the opinion that the homecroft idea has been responsible for the attention which has been paid to suburban acreage and says that it is working out to the satisfaction of everybody concerned.

The Locker-Donahue company has removed from the fourth floor offices that it occupied at the rear of the Lonsdale building and has taken a suite of four rooms on the fifth floor across the front of the building. The Locker-Donahue company recently financed the Cuyuna-Mille Lacs company, the Cuyuna-Duluth Iron company and has now undertaken to finance the Cuyuna-Sultana Iron company. The firm recently purchased the remainder of the townsite of Cuyuna, one of the fastest growing communities on the new range.

The year 1912 broke no records for the Duluth building trades. While an increase of $117,000 was made over 1911 in the estimated cost of improvements as indicated by the building permits, builders declare that the year was little better than the average. An encouraging feature of the situation, however, was the large volume of residence construction. The "own your own home" movement, which had its inception in Duluth two or three years ago, now appears to be reaping results. Outlying districts built up fast and in some sections of the city the growth has been little short of wonderful.

Among the residences of the better class erected during the year are a $45,000 home for John G. Williams, Twenty-sixth avenue east and Second street; the handsome John Millen residence at Congdon park, costing $45,000, and the H. B. Fryberger residence at Glen Avon, which will cost $25,000. All three are handsomely designed and beautifully located. They would do credit to any city.

The past year witnessed the competion of the Island Creek Coal company dock, which will be ready for business at the opening of navigation next year. The Carnegie coal dock at West Duluth will also be finished and ready for business when navigation opens in the spring.

One of the largest building permits of the year went to F. A. Patrick & Co., for the erection of a knitting mill at the West end to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Among the club houses to be started during 1912 were the Kitchi Gammi club, to cost $143,000, and the Duluth Curling rink, to cost $77,000. Both buildings are now under construction and when completed will stand out as two of the most substantial improvements of the year.

Superior street in the downtown business district saw a number of improvements of a substantial character. The new McDonald block, which was put up on the upper side of West Superior street between First and Second avenues was perhaps the most notable improvement. Another big job was the letting of the contract for a six-story addition to the Fidelity building, Lake avenue and Superior street.

On First street two good sized improvements were made. One was the erection of a new home for the Duluth Telephone company. The building will be occupied some time this month, it is understood. The structure represents an expenditure of about $55,000. The completion this year of the new Bethel home, costing $50,000, was another.

West Duluth came in for a share of the big improvements, securing the big coal docks and one or two other plums. Louis Ramstad erected a $22,000 business block on Fifty-seventh avenue west and Grand.

Building permits for the year total $2,680,434, as compared with $2,563,338 for 1911, an increase of $117,005 in the cost involved. In the number of permits taken out, however, 1911 leads with 1,358, as compared with 1,183 for 1912, making a decrease for the past year of 175.

The number of permits and the estimate cost, which are regarded as an accurate record of the volume of the building business, may be classified this year as follows: New frame buildings, 845, $808,617; additions, repairs, alterations to frame buildings, 451, $180,248; new brick buildings, 58, $678,416; additions, repairs, alterations to brick buildings, 108, $146,316; new fire-proof buildings and additions and repairs to same, 21, $866,746.

For 1911 the classification was as follows: New frame buildings, 720, $1,007,700; additions, repairs, etc., to frame buildings, 468, $204,499; new brick buildings, 84, $688,767; additions, repairs, etc., to brick buildings, 96, $196,427; new buildings, additions and repairs to fire-proof buildings, $466,000.

A comparison of the two shows that nearly twice as much money was spent in 1912 as compared with 1911 in the construction of fire-proof buildings. Brick buildings ran about the same and there was a smaller expenditure on frame buildings.

During the past twelve months more than $1,750,000 was spent in Duluth in big buildings, ranging in cost from $20,000 up. The balance was spent mostly in the residence districts.

Architects and builders are hopeful for the coming year and anticipate that when the season opens in the spring that the volume of new work will be much larger than the corresponding period for last year.

$6 A MINUTE FOR NEW BUILDINGS

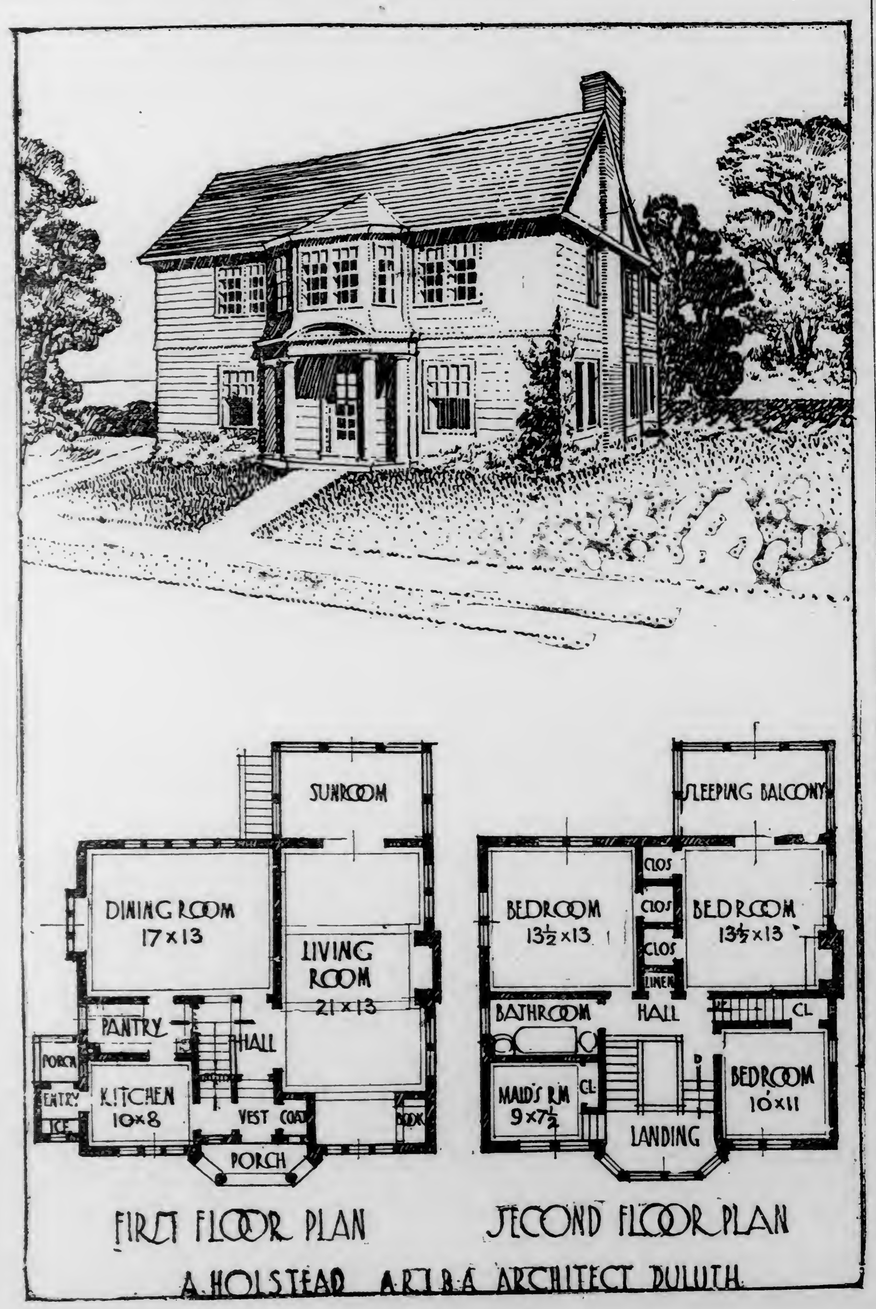

Duluth spends $6 a minute for its new buildings.

This city also erects three buildings a day, every day of the year, including Sundays and holidays.

The average expense every minute of the year includes nights also and means that this city spent during the past year nearly $2,750,000 for new buildings, dwellings, apartment houses and docks.

According to the official figures just given out by the building inspector Duluth spent exactly $2,680,343 during the past year for new construction work. During the same time 1,183 permits were taken out for the construction of new buildings, apartment houses, dwellings and docks.

HERALD'S POPULAR-PRICED HOMES

The above sketch is for a house on the lower side of the street. Advantage of the fine view towards the south has been taken fully into account in arranging the sunroom, dining room and main bedrooms to this exposure and view. The living room is large and the glass doors between the sunroom and living room make a long vista obtainable. The second floor shows four good shaped bedrooms with closets, bathroom and sleeping balcony. The building would cost, inclusive of heating and plumbing, with frame construction, $5,000 in Duluth and vicinity.

REAL ESTATE

WANT LIEN LAW CHANGED

Effort Will Be Made to Remove Injustice to Owner.

Under Present System He May Be Forced to Pay Twice.

Real estate dealers of the city and others are interested in seeing a change made in lien laws and may bring pressure to bear upon the 1913 legislature to bring about an amendment which will take the house owners' interests into consideration.

Under the present working of the law, if a contractor fails to pay a bill for material or labor in the construction of a building, the creditor may file a lien against the building within ninety days. If the bill is not paid either by the contractor or owner, judgment may be taken against either or both.

Some real estate men who have financed buildings have had experience with contractors which have, they claim, demonstrated the unfairness of the law in this regard. An amendment is desired which will prevent the owner from having to pay the bills for material or labor twice. The amendment will probably provide that notice must be given the owner of bills against the contractor before the latter is paid for his work.

NEW BUILDING FOR NEW FIRM

The construction of a large wholesale grocery house is said to be assured for Duluth during 1913. The new building, it is understood, will be the home of the Gowan-Lenning-Brown company, and will be erected on a site which has already been picked on Lake avenue south.

The Gowan-Lenning-Brown company is the firm which resulted from the recent consolidation of the Gowan-Peyton-Congdon company and the Wright-Clarkson Mercantile company.

The Wright-Clarkson interests, it is understood, had previous to the merger arranged for a site in the wholesale district on lower Lake avenue for a new building. The same site, it is believed, will be retained by the merger but the plans for the building will be elaborated somewhat.

The Lake avenue site will have excellent trackage accommodations and will, it is understood, front on the bay so that it will be accessible to the lake trade which is no small factor in the business of Duluth wholesale grocery firms. The exact site which has been selected has not been disclosed.

If "shopping" is pleasant to you under most any circumstances, it would be delightful if you were a regular ad reader.

LITTLE NEW WORK BEGUN

Architects Report Quiet Season---Lull in Building Operations.

Contractors Finishing Old Jobs---Permits for the Week.

Little of interest in the way of new construction developed during the past week. With architects, the season is a quiet one. In some offices, there is a good batch of new work in sight, but on the whole, the season is a quiet one. Builders are busy finishing up old jobs and figuring on new construction projected for next spring.

Building permits for the week numbered twelve and represented an expenditure which totaled $90,975. The permits were issued principally for jobs which are already well under way and which cannot be considered as new work.

The largest permit of the week went to T. W. Wahl for a brick manufacturer's building under construction on Second street between First and Second avenues west. It will cost $31,000. Other large permits were issued to Clara D. Baker for a brick building costing $17,500 to be erected on Third street between Twenty-second and Twenty-third avenues east and to the city of Duluth for alterations to the police station costing $18,000.

COLD WAVE IS EXPECTED

Fear of Damage in Winter Wheat Region Bulls Markets.

Flax Trade Is Very Slack---Speculators About the Only Buyers.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 4.—Wheat was bulled today by the prediction of a cold wave in Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and other parts of the hard winter wheat belt during the next twenty-four hours. As much of that territory is almost or entirely without snow, it is feared that the sudden spell of cold weather will wreak havoc among the young shoots of winter wheat. That feeling made the markets of North America quite strong throughout today's session.

Furthermore, the receipts of wheat at Duluth and Minneapolis, though still far in excess of those of a year ago, have been showing a great falling off of late, and that has stimulated the bullish feeling, which has lately been so general on this side of the Atlantic. Duluth May wheat, which closed yesterday at 86¾c bid, closed today at 86⅝@86¾c asked, thus showing a gain of ⅛@⅜c. Duluth July gained ⅛c. There were slight advances also at Minneapolis, Chicago and Winnipeg.

Duluth cash wheat today closed 4c under May. Oats closed ¼c up and durum, rye and barley unchanged.

Liverpool wheat closed today unchanged. That market was affected today by the forecast of smaller world shipments, as indicated by Bradstreet's; the firmness of Plata offers, the bidding of the continent for near-by cargoes and the apprehension of unfavorable weather in the American wheat belt, but these factors were counteracted by the news of continued fine weather in Argentina, and free arrivals of Plata wheat at the ports.

Flax Market Lifeless.

Trading was very dull indeed on the Duluth flaxseed market today. Crushers did not seem to care whether they bought or not, and what buying there was was largely by those who wished to speculate on the present bearishness of the market. The offers were slow, but they were not nearly so slow as the demand. The result was very little business and some decline. Duluth January and December flaxseed today closed ½c lower. Winnipeg flaxseed today closed ½c off at $1.05, being 1½c lower than Duluth January. Buenos Ayres January closed last night 1⅝c up at $1.24⅞. London Calcutta January closed today unchanged at $1.60¾.

The Inter Ocean says: "Wheat bulls are watching the weather over the winter wheat states with unusual closeness. The only place where uneasiness is shown is west of the Mississippi river. Bears show uneasiness owing to lower temperatures all over the winter wheat belt without a good snow covering. There are many in the trade who are bearish because of the dullness. Taking the general average of the trade is not to expect much change either way from the present lines for another week at least.

"There are half a dozen big local professionals who are bullish on corn and long a little on oats. It was noticeable that every time they lift the market up it reacts whenever the buying stops. At the same time there is a disappearance of cash corn to fill previous sales so that the large receipts are not as burdensome as bears expected."

Duluth car inspection: Wheat—No. 1 northern, 141; No. 2 northern, 88; No. 3, 10; No. 4, 1; no grade, 40; western red, 2; durum, 20; rejected, 6; mixed, 1; total wheat, 309; last year, 15; flax 48; last year, 16; rye, 1, last year, none; oats, 6; last year, 2; barley, 13, last year, none; total of all grains, 377, last year, 33; on track, 250.

A Minneapolis wire says: "The cash wheat market is stronger. There is a good general demand for No. 1 northern bluestem in cars that can be reloaded at 2@2¼c under May; other cars, 2½@3c under; velvet chaff, a cent under blue stem. Flour sales are moderate and shipping directions good."

Some flaxseed dealers think the general feeling of bearishness that has lately characterized the movements of the market has not been warranted by the facts. They point to the fact that the government estimates the entire crop of the United States at 28,000,000 bu and that most of the reputable private or trade estimates do not put it in excess of 25,000,000 bu. They say this amount is hardly enough to cover the country's domestic requirements for the year. From these estimates, they point out, must be deducted about 2,000,000 bu needed for seeding purposes and also about 15 per cent for damaged seed, which would make a total available for shipping by the farmers of from 19,350,000 bu to 21,800,000 bu. Of this over 18,000,000 bu have been shipped. They thus argue that the entire crop of 1912 will have left the initial shipping points before the end of January, and that the American crushers will be almost entirely dependent upon foreign seed for their wants during the next seven months.

"All but four stations show an excess above normal for the period mentioned which comprises the growing season up to the time that wheat became dormant. In view of the fact that a good part of Kansas and Nebraska produced record crops the past year, from 56 to 77 per cent of the normal moisture, it would seem that the trade is a little premature in attempting to destroy a crop by drouth at this period of its growth."

The Chicago Paint, Oil and Drug Reporter says:

"There is a general feeling among crushers, and it seems to be unanimous, that we are going to get more money for linseed oil in the spring, and there is not a disposition to cut prices in order to book a large amount of business. They believe they have booked all the contracts they want, and they can reap whatever benefit there is by having some spot oil later in the season.

"The apparent large receipts at the prominent markets, that is Duluth and Minneapolis, is the result of the magnificent weather which has permitted the unimpeded movement of the large crop. If the receipts continue to come in as they have been, the May receipts, or those that become heavy after sowing is out of the way, are going to dwindle away.

"The leading linseed oil crushers are quoting at 41c in Chicago, but one prominent crusher will only quote for spot oil and will not quote for futures. It is said one crusher is offering oil at 40c, but quotations are only being made, so far as we know, for January and February shipments at 41c. Quotations are made in Minneapolis by one concern at 41c for spot oil only, while another concern is standing firm at 42c.

"It will thus be seen the attitude of the crushers bears out our personal opinion expressed above, and indicates a certain advance.

"There has been but little business during the past week and but few inquiries. These are mostly for May to October deliveries, which crushers are not quoting.

"For linseed cake, the past week has witnessed the usual dullness that is incident to the holiday season, and nothing particular can be stated at this time. Quotations are as follows: Minneapolis, $27.50 per ton, equal to $29.50 Chicago basis. Export cake is held around $24.00, Minneapolis, or $25.50, Chicago. Most of the market is for export, but buying is not very active, as owing to the uncertainty of flaxseed prices, buyers are not anxious to contract for business ahead."

Cotton Market.

New York, Jan. 4.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 1 to 4 points in response to higher Liverpool cables than expected, further covering of near months, and a moderate demand for August from leading spot brokers. There was not a great deal of buying power around the ring, however, and shortly after the opening prices eased off to a net loss of 3 or 4 points under scattered realizing for over the week-end or local selling for a turn. With the Southern winter service showing some improvement, a better demand developed on the dip through buying by Memphis and New Orleans and prices later rallied to about the closing figures of last night.

Bull Operators Take More Confident View of Situation.

Reports as to Fundamental Trade Conditions Are Optimistic.

New York, Jan. 4.—The level of prices of the standard stocks was fractionally higher at the opening today. Trading, however, was dull, and the market made only a temporary showing of strength. American Beet Sugar and Western Maryland continued their decline, the former dropping 1¼ to 40½, and the latter falling a point.

Traders succeeded in uncovering another weak spot in the Petroleum shares, California falling 1¾ and Mexican 3¼. Only a mild effect was produced on the general market and when supporting orders were distributed prices went up easily. Union Pacific and Smelting sold a point above yesterday's close.

The market closed strong. Although further weakness developed among manipulated specialties standard stocks gradually overcame this influence.

Nearly all the railroads and industrials made moderate gains, while operations in specialties reflected an absence of demand and substantial losses were sustained. The passing of the period of tight money and optimistic reports as to fundamental trade conditions caused bull operators to take a more confident view.

London Stocks.

London, Jan. 4.—Money was easy to obtain today. Discount rates were quiet. The stock market opened weak owing to the peace conference deadlock, but buying by Paris houses around noon hardened their favorites and induced local operators to repurchase in other directions. Prices rallied well above the lowest and closed steady. Consols, however, lost three-sixteenths.

American securities opened steady and then declined. Fair support appeared at the low point and most of the list rallied. The close was steady with values ranging from ⅞ above to ¼ below yesterday's closing.

REVISION OF THE TARIFF IS UNDER WAY

House Committee Begins Its Hearings, Starting With Schedule A.

Democrats Contemplate a Complete Revision From "Acids to Zinc."

First Witness Wants Whole Chemical Schedule Given to Experts.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Democratic revision of the tariff actually got under way today when the house ways and means committee began hearings which will be the basis of the new tariff bill of the next congress to repeal the Payne-Aldrich law in accordance with the party's pledges for "immediate downward revision," and for "tariff for revenue only."

The hearing was on Schedule A, the chemical schedule. The committee plans to go down through the list, taking a new schedule every other day until all have been covered.

Most of the Democratic majority of the present ways and means committee will go into the next congress which is to convene in extra session probably between March 15 and early April. When the tariff hearings are ended Democrats of the committee will devote themselves in daily executive sessions to the formulation of the tentative tariff legislation, which they hope to have ready by March 15 if not earlier.

From "Acids to Zinc."

The concrete result of their deliberations, the new tariff rates from "acids to zinc," the expansion of the free list and so on, will be formally passed upon at a caucus of the representatives of the new house soon after the opening of the extra session. This caucus will determine whether the new tariff legislation shall be in the form of a single measure or in separate bills, schedule by schedule, along the lines of the tariff procedure of the last session, when chemical, wool, cotton, iron and steel and free list bills went through both houses but met presidential veto.

Chairman Underwood of the ways and means committee and his associates are inclined to favor the same course as that of last session. By that procedure, it is urged by its advocates, "log rolling," or trading on rates on various articles could be avoided.

One of Much Interest.

The chemical schedule is one of three or four that command the greatest interest. Democratic committeemen claim revision along the lines embodied in the chemical bill of last year would save American consumers $17,000,000 by reducing the prices of all chemicals and at the same time increasing the revenue to the government.

The plan of the committee is to levy

RURAL SCHOOLS FOR ONE FAMILY

Peculiar Conditions Found to Exist in Two Wisconsin Districts.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 6.—Unusual conditions exist in some of Wisconsin's rural school districts, according to a report of the state board of public affairs issued today.

Two schools in one townshnp were held in private homes. In both cases the schools were attended by one family alone. In each case the school board paid to the owner of the house: $12 a month rent for room to school his own children; $5 a month for fuel for hating this room in his own house; $5 a month janitor fee for cleaning this same room.

In addition the family received $16 a month for boarding the teacher. In one case the schoolroom was in an attic but clean and tidy. The teacher used it as a sleeping room. But one pupil was enrolled. In the other case two pupils were enrolled. The school room was in a log house which was absolutely filthy, dark, dingy, unkept and hardly fit for stable purpose. The room while used for school purposes was used by the family as if no school was there. The school officers desired to transport these children nine miles to the village school or pay their board while attending school in town. The state gives $50 a year state aid to any district which thus transports its children to a graded school of at least two rooms.

A number of legislative and administrative remedies affecting rural schools are suggested.

GEORGE ADE NOT HURT BY FALL ON SIDEWALK.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 6.—George Ade, the playwright and humorist, who fell on a slippery sidewalk yesterday afternoon and for a time was thought to be badly injured, was able to be out today.

Mr. Ade in falling, received a blow on the back of his head which stunned him and he was carried into a drug-store. He was later able to go to the home of Judge Henry H. Vinton, with whom he was visiting. Mr. Ade said he felt no effects from the fall today.

TWO ARE FROZEN TO DEATH IN MANITOBA.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 6.—Two persons were frozen to death in Manitoba yesterday. Mrs. George Buckley, wife of a well-known wholesale dealer at Reyburn, thirty-five miles west of here, was found frozen to death last night. She was within a mile of her home when found.

Edward Bruce, aged 24 years, a market gardener whose home was a few miles west of Winnipeg, was found dead in the road late yesterday. While running behind his seligh to keep warm, it is supposed that he tripped and fell, being stunned, and unable to rise.

The thermometer here registetred 30 deg. below zero at 11 o'clock last night.

ATTEMPT OF COMBINE TO RUN STATE SENATE KILLED BY PUBLICITY

Not Likely to Be Mentioned at the Party Caucuses.

Possible That Adjournment Will Be Reached About April 1.

Measures That Are Practically Certain to Receive Consideration.

TO NAME COMMITTEES OF MINNESOTA SENATE

LIEUT.-GOV. BURNQUIST.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The thirty-eighth regular session of the Minnesota legislature will begin at noon tomorrow with the swearing in of the house members, who begin new terms, and the organization of both branches.

Governor Adolph O. Eberhart will have a message to deliver to the legislature in joint session Wednesday.

The people elected J. A. A. Burnquist, a progressive member of the last house, to be lieutenant governor, presumably with the idea that he would bring about a progressive organization of the senate, the custom having been in the past to give the lieutenant governor the power to appoint the senate committees.

Some members of the senate, apparently not satisfied with this prospect, set about organizing a majority of that body in favor of taking this power away from the lieutenant gov-

DEMURRAGE LAW IS VOID

Minnesota Reciprocal Act of 1907 Annulled By U. S. Court.

Railroads and Express Companies Win Decision on Liability Contracts.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The Minnesota reciprocal demurrage law of 1907 was today annulled as unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States. The court held that the Federal government had legislated on the subject and so taken away all powers, if any existed, from the state to legislate on it as far as interstate commerce was concerned. Several states have similar laws.

Win Contract Suit.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Railroad and express companies today won a revolutionary decision in the supreme court when it was held that contracts limiting to small sums their liability for loss of shipments were not subject to state laws, but to interstate laws. It further was held that contracts limiting liability to a small sum, in return for a low rate, were not in violation of the interstate commerce laws, particularly the Carmack amendment.

Scores of such contracts have been held void under state laws.

U. P. Plan Overruled.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The supreme court today held that the plan advanced by Union Pacific attorneys of disposing of the entire stockholdings of the Union Pacific Railroad company in the Southern Pacific company by transfer to the stockholders of the Union Pacific company would not so effectually end the Union Pacific merger as to comply with its dissolution decree.

SCHOONER STILL APPEALS FOR HELP

One Member of Crew Dead and Several Others Injured.

Washington, Jan. 6.—With one member of her crew reported dead and several injured, the schooner Bessie Whiting, wrecked off the coast of Virginia during the terrific storm of last week, still is helpless and appealing for assistance. The revenue cutter Onondaga, after searching the coast for two days to find the distressed ship, has just learned her location, and is rushing to her aid.

The revenue cutter Yamacraw reports the schooner Savannah wrecked on Frying Pan shoals, abandoned by the crew and in bad condition. The fate of the crew is unknown.

The British steamer Alcazar still is high and dry in Lookout bight, North Carolina. The schooner Edith H. Symington of New York also is in distress in Lookout bight. The Seminole is assisting her.

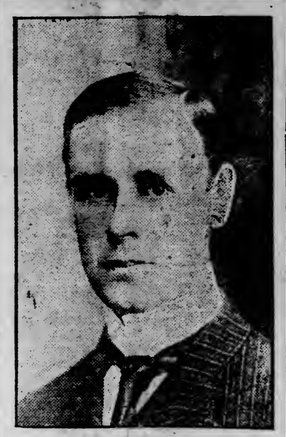

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO IMPROVE

No Fresh Outbreaks Occur and Reports Indicate Dispersal of Rebels.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Conditions in Mexico generally, and especially in the border states, are reported better in advices received at the state department over Sunday from American consuls in Chihuahua and Sonora. These are to the effect that there have been no fresh outbreaks and from the American embassy in Mexico City the news indicates dispersal of the rebel bands operating in the country to the south and east of the capital.

In the mining country, and especially at Cananea, where large American interests are located, the suppression of the strike is declared to have restored quiet and security.

MUST FIGHT FOR HIS SEAT IN THE HOUSE

FRANCIS BURTON HARRISON.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Notice of contest against Representative Francis Burton Harrison's re-election from the Twentieth New York district, were filed with the clerk of the house today by Julius H. Reiter, the national Progressive nominee, who alleges "fraud and trickery" in the organization of the board of canvassers and in the count of ballots.

PRESIDENT'S PLANS FOR HIS NEXT TRIP

Will Be Away From Capital Three Days, Making Three Speeches.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Plans for President Taft's next trip, made public today, show that he will be away from the capital three days, make at least three speeches and attend a meeting of the Yale corporation.

The president's first stop will be in Philadelphia, where, on the night of Jan. 17, he will attend the dinner of the Clover club. The next night he will be a guest at a dinner in New York in honor of Former President White of Cornell university, and on Sunday, Jan. 19, he will attend the general conference of the Order of B'Nai B'Rith. The Yale corporation meeting will be Jan. 20, and the president expects to start back to Washington that night.

CHICAGO VANDALS DESECRATED ALTAR

Also Steal Communion Service From Chapel of Cathedral.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Vandals desecrated the altar and stole the communion service from the chapel of the Episcopalian cathedral of St. Peter and Paul today. A short time later the loot was recovered in a rooming house and two men arrested charged with the crime. At 7 a. m. a service of reparation was held with Dean Walter T. Sumner officiating, to restore the chapel to its condition of sanctity.

The robbers entered the cathedral by breaking a window. The crash of the glass awoke Sister Jeanette in a dormitory adjoining and she notified Dean Walter T. Sumner. As Dean Sumner hurried into the church the robbers escaped through a window with the gold and silver pieces they had taken from the altar. The robbers disappeared in the darkness and Dean Sumner telephoned the police.

Fire at South Battleford, Sask.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 6.—Fire destroyed the Masonic temple, a theater building, the Occidental hotel and several small buildings at South Battleford, Sask., early today. The Masons, as did the Odd Fellows, who occupied the same hall, lost all their paraphernalia. Total loss from fire, $50,000.

JURY FOREMAN'S HEALTH IMPAIRED

Frank Dare Who Received Threatening Letters, Leaves for South.

Newcastle, Ind., Jan. 6.—Frank Dare, foreman of the jury which returned a verdict of guilty against the alleged dynamite conspirators who has received two letters threatening his life, departed today for Florida to spend the winter. His health has been impaired by worry over the letters and by the long confinement during the trial.

Both of the communications received by Mr. Dare were from Chicago and declared that the jury foreman would "be planted under the sod within three months."

The prosecutor is making an investigation.

SUPREME COURT OF U. S. BELIEVES "CORNER" MAY BE IN VIOLATION OF LAW

Upholds Certain Disputed Points in Case of Patten and Others.

Charged With Running So-Called "Corner" on Cotton.

Decision Sends Case Back for Trial in Lower Courts.

Washington, Jan. 6.—By upholding certain disputed counts against James A. Patten and others, charged with a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in running a so-called cotton "corner," the supreme court today sent the case against the men to trial in the lower courts.

Patten, Eugene C. Scales, Frank B. Hayne and William P. Brown were indicted in New York on charges of conspiring on Jan. 1, 1910, to "corner" cotton by extensive buying on the New York cotton exchange, as a result of which the price would be enhanced and ultimately bring arbitrary and excessive prices. The conspiracy was described as calculated to yield $10,000,000 in profits.

The alleged violation of the Sherman law was set forth in the indictment in eight different ways in as many counts, the defendants being liable for trial on any one. Before the defendants could be placed on trial, the United States circuit court for Southern New York held insufficient four counts as not stating an offense. The government appealed from that decision to the supreme court.

ADVANCE OF COLD WAVE IS RETARDED

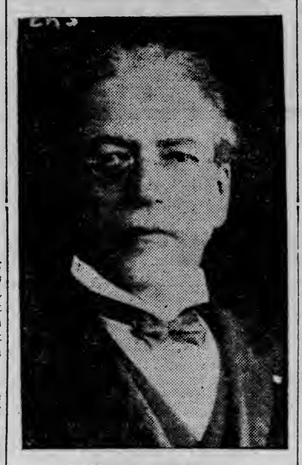

Area of High Pressure in East Keeps Back Cold Blasts.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The eastward advance of the first cold weather of the winter coming down from Alaska and the Canadian Northwest, has been effectually retarded by an area of high pressure developed over the Western Atlantic ocean and coast states, the weather bureau announced this morning.

Very low temperatures prevail throughout the West, the line of zero temperature extending into the Texas panhandle.

Abnormally high temperatures for this season of the year prevail east of the Mississippi river except in the extreme Northeast, but the cold wave will reach the East Gulf states, the Ohio valley, the Upper Lake and West Lower Lake regions by Tuesday it will be accompanied by snow over the North and Central districts and by rains over the Southern districts. Rain or snow will result in the Atlantic states Tuesday night and will be accompanied by a fall in temperatures. Cold wave warnings have been ordered for Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Northern Alabama.

GOMPERS SEVERE IN HIS DENUNCIATIONS

SAMUEL GOMPERS.

CRITICISMS ANSWERED

President Gompers Makes Bitter Speech Before Senate Sub-Committee.

Makes Caustic Reference to Judge Who Presided at Trial.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, speaking today before the senate sub-committee on judiciary, in favor of the Clayton anti-injunction and contempt bills, gave answer to criticisms aimed at the organization of workers which he heads, because of the trial and conviction, for dynamiting, of officers of the structural iron workers' union.

"If ever the time shall come," said Mr. Gompers in the climax of his address, "when government by dynamite shall be attempted (and let us hope and work that it never shall come), it will have as its main cause the theory and policy upon which is based government by injunction—personal government foisted upon your people instead of a government by law."

TURKEY IS TO PRESENT NEW PROPOSITION

Ottoman Delegates Are Expected to Suggest Some Changes in Frontier.

Demand Retention of Adrianople But Will Give Up Kirk-Kilisseh.

Representatives of Porte Indignant Over Attitude of Powers.

RUPTURE PREVENTED.

London, Jan. 6.—At the peace conference today between the delegates of the Balkan states and Turkey, the Turkish envoys offered to make further concessions which were considered by the Balkan plenipotentiaries sufficient to prevent the threatened rupture of the negotiations.

London, Jan. 6.—An important advance has been made by the Turks toward meeting the demands of the Balkan allies, according to the opinion expressed by the representatives of Bulgaria in regard to the new Ottoman proposals as to the future frontier between Bulgaria and Turkey.

The Ottoman delegates were expected to present a definite project during today's sitting of the peace conference, suggesting that the western frontier of Turkey should follow the course of the rivers Maritza and Tundje, the Turks to retain the fortress of Adrianople, but to abandon Kirk-Kilisseh.

The allies declared that if this proposal was put forward they would consider it sufficient reason for withdrawal of their threats to break off negotiations and would continue the discussions in London in the hope of obtaining further concessions from Turkey. At the same time they expect the early capitulation of the beleaguered garrison of Adrianople and this is calculated to radically alter the Ottoman point of view.

The conversations between Dr. S. Daneff, the chief of the Bulgarian peace delegation and M. Jonescu, the Roumanian minister of the interior, have assumed a serious character. The Roumania statesman insists that Roumania must receive immediate satisfaction by the grant of compensation which was promised in return for her neutrality during the war. Otherwise he says it will be impossible to control the feeling of the Roumanian people, who demand prompt and adequate action.

Dr. S. Daneff in reply repeated the vague promises already made by him to the Roumanian government during his sojourn at Bucharest before he came to London, but M. Jonescu insisted on an explicit answer and Dr. Daneff thereupon telegraphed to the

PRESIDENT-ELECT IS EARLY AT WORK

Settles Down to His Correspondence Before 9 o'Clock in Morning.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 6.—President-elect Wilson was at work on his correspondence before 9 o'clock today. He had an appointment for the afternoon with Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, national committeeman from Pennsylvania, whose name frequently has been mentioned as a possibilty for the cabinet. Mr. Palmer was floor leader of the Wilson candidacy at the Baltimore convention.

On the way from Princeton this morning Paul F. Myers, president of the Woodrow Wilson club of Princeton university again talked with the governor about the proposal that Princeton undergraduates take part in the inaugural parade. If the president-elect wanted a small escort, Myers suggested that only the senior class go; otherwise, a thousand undergraduates could march.

"That's mighty good," commented Mr. Wilson. He added that he would write to Chairman Rustis of the inaugural committee to find out just what his powers were in the matter and would communicate with the undergraduates as soon as possible.

M'GOVERN SWORN IN AS GOVERNOR

Wisconsin Executive Takes Oath of Office for Second Time.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 6.—Without pomp, Francis E. McGovern of Milwaukee was sworn in as governor of Wisconsin for the second time at noon today. Other state officers inaugurated were: Thomas Morris, La Crosse, lieutenant governor, re-elected; John S. Donald, Mount Horeb, secretary of state; Henry Johnson, South Madison, state treasurer; Walter C. Owen, Maiden Rock, attorney general.

The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice John B. Winslow.

The ceremonies were of simple character in keeping with the expressed wish of Governor McGovern, who also was effective in dispensing with the customary inaugural ball.

HEARINGS IN JOHNSON CASE ARE POSTPONED.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Eight indictments, charging Jack Johnson, the negro pugilist, with alleged violations of the Mann white slave act, were called before Federal Judge Carpenter today for disposition pending demurrers filed by the negro's attorney, but the hearing of arguments was indefinitely deferred because a decision by the United States supreme court on the constitutionality of the act is expected within a few weeks.

RAILROADS

SOO MAY USE LOCAL DOCKS

Believed That Cuyuna Ore Will Be Shipped From Oneota.

New Dock and Lawler Cut-off May Explain Railroad Mystery.

Cuyuna range ore shipments may soon be made through Duluth, instead of through Superior.

Recent developments, taken altogether, seem to indicate that course. The Soo Line has begun condemnation proceedings for a right-of-way for a cutoff from Lawler to make a direct line to Duluth. The Duluth, Missabe & Northern has announced plans for a great new ore dock in Duluth. President W. A. McGonagle of the Missabe road said at the meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club that he had just returned from Minneapolis, where he had conferred with President Pennington of the Soo Line and had consummated a deal that will mean much to Duluth.

Mr. McGonagle has declined to explain his statement further for the present, but it is now taken to mean that the Lawler cutoff of the Soo Line will run to a connection with the Belline railroad, now being constructed by the United States Steel corporation, and the Soo Line will be given an entrance, both to the steel plant and the Missabe docks.

There is much to support the theory. The Lawler cutoff is intended to give the Soo Line a direct line between Duluth, the Cuyuna range and the western branches of the road. It will save a number of miles in the haul, which is now made through Moose Lake and Superior. The haul may be saved in ore traffic as well as in other branches of traffic if an outlet for Cuyuna ore may be obtained on this side of the bay.

Two years ago, the Soo Line completed a big ore dock at Superior. It is difficult of access and expensive of maintenance, and ultimately much more yard room than the road has would be necessary if all Cuyuna shipments were to be made through the one dock. On the other hand the Missabe has plenty of dock and yard room, and an arrangement advantageous to the two railroads could easily be imagined.

NORTHERN PACIFIC WILL EXTEND LINE

North Branch Out of Mandan to Be Extended Next Summer.

Mandan, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—While it is not thought the south branch of the Northern Pacific via Mott will be extended from the latter city to the main line in Montana this summer, it is definitely known the company plans to continue the extension of the north branch to the Knife river country and possibly all the way to the Kildeer mountains next summer. At present the line runs just to Stanton, Mercer county, although some grading has been done beyond that point.

Want Double Passenger Service.

Lisbon, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A double passenger train service is asked for the southwestern branch of the Northern Pacific. At present the trains leave Fargo in the morning, returning in the evening. The Commercial club of this place and other towns along the line are uniting to have another train leave the south end of the line in the morning for Fargo and return in the evening, giving the towns two trains each way daily.

RAIL HERO PENSIONED.

Aged Lamplighter Who Saved Lives Rewarded By Northwestern Road.

Winona, Minn., Jan. 6.—Burt Karn, the hero of Stockton hill, has been pensioned. Karn, who has just reached his 70th birthday, was notified by the Northwestern road that his duties as a lamplighter are ended and that for the remaining years he will be provided for out of the pensioners' fund.

He began in 1867 as foreman in the yards of the Northwestern at Owatonna. After a short period he was transferred to a section on Stockton hill, the steepest grade on the Northwestern system just west of this city. While in that position he became famous as the "Hero of Stockton hill." On two occasions he saved many lives when he prevented passenger trains from plunging into the steep ravines. Once after a heavy rain he was compelled to go to the foot of the hill and, descending just ahead of a passenger train, he discovered a bridge hanging without supports. He flagged the train just in time. Another time he accidentally discovered a piece of track stretched like ribbons over a piece of roadbed which had been washed out and, racing to the top of the hill, flagged a train with his shirt. The damaged roadbed was repaired and two days later a landslide buried the tracks in the identical spot, and he was first to make the discovery. The officials of the road have been liberal in their rewards to this employe.

MILWAUKEE LAYING STEEL IN MONTANA.

Lewistown, Mont., Jan. 6.—The Milwaukee Railway company is laying steel westward from Lewistown on the line to Great Falls. Thirteen miles out there is a great fill and while the track is being utilized in making it, the steel crew will return to Lewistown and begin laying rails from this city westward on the Grass Range line.

For a stretch of twenty-six miles everything is in readiness, all bridges and culverts having been completed. The crew will put down this twenty-six miles and then returning to the west end will carry the rails out to the Judith river, a distance of seventeen miles.

EARLING MAY SUCCEED MILLER.

Chicago papers announce that President A. J. Earling of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road will likely succeed the late Roswell Miller as chairman of the board of directors. This will give Mr. Earling much more power than he now possesses and may result in the building of a branch of the road to Duluth much sooner than it would otherwise occur, as it is understood Mr. Earling's natural desire for progress and branching out has been held in check somewhat. It is also believed that Mr. Earling has long desired to have his road invade this part of the country and make an active campaign for business.

M. & ST. L. ATTORNEY RESIGNS POSITION.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6.—That he may lead the simple life and spend his declining years as a farmer, George W. Seevers, general counsel for the Minneapolis & St. Louis road, has tendered his resignation. No action has yet been taken by the directors, but it is understood that Mr. Seevers will be asked to remain with the road in a consulting and advisory capacity while he gives his time to the raising of fine cattle on the Iowa farm where he played as a boy. This farm lies so close to Oskaloosa that part of it is within the corporate limits of that city and Mr. Seevers will maintain a law office in town.

BRISTOW PROPOSES NEW COMMISSION

Would Have One to Control Corporations Doing Big Business.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Senator Bristow of Kansas presented to the senate today a proposal for an industrial commission of seven members to take over the work of the bureau of corporations and exercise control over all persons, firms or corporations doing an interstate business with gross receipts of more than $5,000,000 per year. Explaining the bill to the senate, he said that it proposed to create a body similar to the interstate commerce commission, to have the same power over industrial concerns that the latter exercises over transportation companies.

"The purpose is to protect the people with some degree of promptness from the extortionate practices of powerful corporations without destroying the business they represent," he said.

He declared that the proposed commission and the powers given to it would not "interfere with big business operations, if such operations are along honest and creditable lines." He declared that the Standard Oil and Tobacco trust cases had demonstrated that the courts were ineffective for the supervision of big business.

Senator Bristow's bill would give to the industrial commission power to investigate the financial condition, business operations and management of all big interstate concerns. The commission would in no way be similar to the commission on industrial relations recently authorized by congress to investigate general conditions in the industrial world.

Pilfering Cook Sentenced.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—John McClelland, a cook in a hotel at Wilton, is serving a 30-day sentence in the county jail here for stealing $175 worth of harness and horse blankets from a railway car here, the property of E. Roberts, a horse dealer.

MILK FALLS BELOW GRADE

Inspector Says Outside Dairies Are Sending in Watery Fluid.

Milk Inspector Hedman, in his monthly report for December, states that some action should be taken to compel dairies shipping milk from the outside to furnish a supply which will comply with the local regulations.

He asserts that all the samples which have tested below the requirements have come from the outside, having been shipped in. He asserts that the local dealers should either refuse to accept such shipments or that some action should be taken to destroy them. The difficulty with which he meets is that the dairies are located in another state.

Health Commissioner Fahey said this morning that the principal trouble is that the milk has been watered. He added that steps will be taken to remedy the situation.

The milk inspector visited 102 small dairies during December. Each of them had from one to four cows and many of them had not heretofore been inspected. Most of them took out licenses to sell milk. During the month 145 cows were tested for tuberculosis. Of the 88 samples of milk tested, 15 were found below standard. Ten bacteria tests were made and twenty-five dairies visited. The inspector stated that most of them were in good shape.

TURKEY TO PRESENT NEW PROPOSITION

Delegates Indignant.

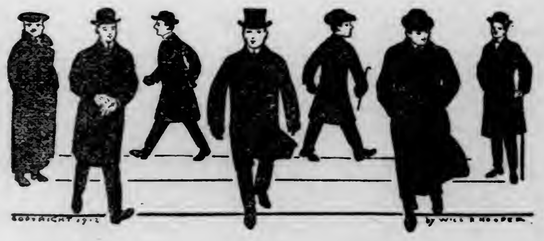

The Turkish delegates are indignant over the attitude of the European powers toward the Ottoman empire. They remark that when the Turks are defeated nothing is done to moderate their enemies' pretentions, but when the Turks are victorious they always are prevented by the powers from reaping the fruits of their efforts.

They cite the war of 1897 in which Greece was defeated by Turkey at Domkes and the Greek army was compelled to withdraw on Thermopylae and to conclude an armistice. Five days later, however, a collective note was sent by the European powers to the porte in which the conditions of peace practically were drafted and the annexation of Thessaly was prevented, although it had been occupied by the Turkish troops.

The payment by Greece of a war indemnity also was stopped by the powers. Thus Turkey gained nothing by her victories in that war but now that Turkey has been defeated by the combined armies of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Servia, the allies are encouraged by the powers to demand even that which they have never conquered.

Another report was current today that Turkey had arranged a loan. London financiers, however, discredited the rumor and said the situation is the same as in December, when Turkey made tentative proposals for the borrowing of a large amount of money but was told that she must first conclude peace.

CITY IN GRIP OF COLD WAVE

Temperature of 15 Deg. Below With Twenty-Two Mile Wind.

No Relief Is Promised for at Least Twenty-Four Hours.

Duluth is getting its share of a cold wave that extends over the entire West and Northwest.

At 7 o'clock this morning the temperature was 15 deg. below zero in Duluth, with the intensity greatly increased by a wind that was blowing at the rate of twenty-two miles an hour. There is no immediate relief in sight. The temperature is expected to drop to 15 to 20 deg. below zero in Duluth and to 20 to 25 deg. below zero on the range tonight. According to H. W. Richardson, local forecaster at the weather bureau, there will be some moderation tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow evening, but the cold wave will hang on for two or three days.

The cold wave struck Duluth Saturday. Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock the temperature was 14 deg. below zero and there was a forty-mile wind. The wind went down a little later, but the highest temperature for the day was 2 deg. below zero.

The cold wave is general. Temperatures of zero and below were recorded this morning as far south as Kansas, the Texas Panhandle, Northern New Mexico, Northern Arizona and Nevada. The Pacific coast states are experiencing unwonted cold, accompanied by killing frost. At San Diego this morning the temperature was 30 deg. with a killing frost. Oregon and Washington have temperatures of 10 to 25 deg. above zero. The lowest temperature recorded this morning was 32 deg. below zero in Manitoba.

The Ohio valley and Eastern states have moderate to warm weather for the present, but the cold wave will strike that section tomorrow.

REVISION OF TARIFF

low rates of duty upon non-competitive articles produced in this country, especially the chemicals used in the textile industry and chemicals and drugs used for medicines.

First Witness.

The first witness today was Henry Howard of New York, representing the Manufacturing Chemists' association. He contended that the committee should delegate the whole question of the chemical schedule to a sub-committee for expert investigation. Mr. Howard insisted that the association felt very strongly that no body of the size of the ways and means committee could as a whole conduct an investigation so technical. He favored a non-partisan committee or commission.

"The changes in classification in the chemical schedule," he said, "are largely fundamental and the rate distinctly is illogical, as the relation of raw materials to finished products is persistently ignored, the relations between different products in many instances apparently is misunderstood and there are many other errors. The most radical increase in rates of raw material imposes hardships that would, if followed through other schedules, inevitably bring disaster to many industries with consequent hardship to the labor employment in those industries."

H. J. Krebs, president of the Krebs Pigment & Chemical company of Newport, Del., objected to the changes in the tariff as proposed by the last session chemical bill, vetoed. The same position was taken by R. A. McCormick of Baltimore, who objected to proposed changes in drugs, barks, etc. Louis L. Brigham of the Brigham Sheet Gelatin company of Randolph, Vt., asked for relief from the present chemical tariff, saying it was not scientifically adjusted. He held up specimens of domestic and foreign gelatin and protested that there was now paid just as much duty on raw material as for the finished products. He contended that that put him on the same basis as the foreign gelatin manufacturer, and he though about double the present duty on the finished gelatin product would be fair in the proposed tariff.

T. F. Schoelkopf of Buffalo followed. Mr. Schoelkopf said the proposed reduction of duty on coal tar, dyes or colors, of which about $7,000,000 worth annually are brought in, from 30 to 18½ per cent would operate unjustly to the American manufacturers.

Chairman Underwood drew from him that he regarded his total labor cost as 20 per cent of the cost of the finished product and that if the coal tar dyes or colors came in free he still would have to pay virtually 10 per cent duty because of the freight charges, etc., from the customs house.

"This is a trust controlled product?"

"Yes, so far as the patents are concerned."

CRITICISMS ANSWERED

larly the United States Steel corporation and the National Erectors' association, Mr. Gompers declared that organized labor would not repudiate the Structural Iron Workers' union, "and leave them helpless and at the mercy of organized capital and insatiable, uncurbed greed for profit."

"Though all censure those whom men may deem guilty of dynamite conspiracy," the federation leader continued, "none feel the terrible consequences of the Indianapolis trial more keenly than the men of organized labor. There have been organized heartache and sorrow to our already heavily burdened people. The men accused and sentenced cannot suffer the penalties alone—upon them and all working men fall the suffering and penalties.

"But what of the conspiracy of organized capital—the conspiracy to murder the liberty of the toilers, to tear from them the means of protection by which they have bettered their condition, to leave them bare and defenseless in the competitive struggle? Is not such a conspiracy sufficiently dastardly to incur some odium? Should the conspirators with their hands stained with the life blood of men's ambition, happiness, liberty, be accorded nothing but honor, power, respectability? Should they be allowed to continue to manipulate the powers of government, the administration of justice until these oppressed find the burden intolerable?"

Roasts Anderson.

Judge Anderson, who presided over the trial of the iron workers was referred to paticularly by Mr. Gompers, when he declared that "our whole social organization seems to be on trial."

"Even the judge who tried the case, snugly assured of personal irresponsibility," Mr. Gompers said, "fatuously declared that 'the evidence in this case will convince any impartial person that government by injunction is infinitely to be preferred to government by dynamite.'

"The worthy judge had blindly chanced upon one of the causes, but had failed to realize casual relationship. The words to him were simply a conventional epigram—he does not know that there is a law of life, just as immutable as the law of gravitation; of attraction and repulsion, a law of life which meets tyranny and injustice by resistance."

Mr. Gompers defended the American Federation of Labor as a force for betterment of conditions and resented the attacks made upon it since the beginning of the dynamite case.

"We have been investigated," he said, "from the first insinuation that the enemies of our movement made to get the men 'higher up,' and because of their directly and indirectly connecting my name with the men supposedly 'higher up', I have declared my readiness at any time to submit for examination by any representative of constituted authority or by a committee of any respectable body of citizens, every document, paper for account, financial or otherwise. I have challenged, and now challenge any of our enemies to show that there has been any unlawful conduct or any connection, direct or remote, with any violence in connection with any labor controversy or otherwise.

No Evidence Found.

"Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, was summoned to appear before the grand jury. He took with him, not only all the financial accounts and transactions of the American Federation of Labor, but his own, and after a thorough scrutiny and investigation, they were returned to him and are now at our office. Not a scintilla of evidence or suspicion of wrongdoing could be discovered; not a scintilla existed, or exists."

The federation leader referred to statements made by John Kirby, Jr., president of the National Manufacturers' association; William J. Burns, the detective who caused the arrest of the McNamaras after the Los Angeles Times explosion; Harrison Grey Otis, editor of that paper, and others whom he characterized as "enemies" of organized labor.

Mr. Gompers said he would have the public consider the convicted iron workers "with the understanding mind and spirit taught by the teacher of old, who said 'let him who is without sin cast the first stone.'"

Condemns Employers.

Launching into his attack upon the employers, whom he declared had persistently fought the iron workers' union, Mr. Gompers said they never had a thought of the constructive ability of the workers. He condemned in this connection the National Erectors' association, the National Manufacturers' association and the United States Steel corporation. "For six years the fight went on," he said. "All of the forces of organized society were used against these men. You say that these men resorted to forbidden methods of violence and even sacrificed lives. You condemn their methods of fighting as elemental, brutal. Of any of those who are guilty, the condemnation is true; but I ask you—were the methods used by the employers less deadly to humanity and freedom?

"Do you think that one side can play with the forces of injustice and tyranny and not lead to a defensive move on the part of the other. Each will protect his own interests—would anybody else do this for him?"

TRAPPERS HAVE GOOD SEASON

Demand for Muskrat Skins and High Prices Are Being Paid.

John Le Fameire, a trapper from the north country, who was in the city yesterday for a few hours, is authority for the statement that the trapping business in Minnesota has taken on some of its old-time briskness, and that many Minnesota men are engaged in the business.

The demand for muskrat skins is good and higher prices than ever are paid. Forty and 50 cents is being paid, he says, whereas a year or so ago 25 to 35 cents were the prices. The thin clear ice on most of the northern lakes, he says, enables the trappers to keep close observance of the runways which the animals have from their winter homes to the shores, and they are speared through the ice.

Mr. Le Fameire says that many mink are being trapped, and that the skins are bringing $5 to $7 each, a fair price.

BACKSLIDING IS NOT COMEDY

Rev. M. S. Rice, pastor of the First Methodist church, in his sermon last evening on the subject, "Keep on Keeping on," scored the cartoonists who are making fun of those who fail in their New Year's resolutions.

Dr. Rice said in part:

"Every year the cartoonists of our land bring out as though it were food for comedy, the altogether tragic fact that many men are making a failing fight in the battle for a better life. They seek to create a laugh at the sad truth that it is easier to start a noble life, than it is to settle into the long monotony of the struggle for righteousness and fight it to a glorious end.

"So many of us are enthusiastic at starting things. We like to give them the first shove. 'They're off, they're off,' we shout, and we wave them a good wish. But when we get on the long grade and are covered with the dust of much going, and the scenery has lost its charm, then but few there are that are ready to settle down to the pull to win.

"Men aspire to be true, Bad men long to be good. Vile men long to be pure.

"I want to say to every man that God is interested in him. I want to assure every man that the church of Jesus Christ is interested in him. Struggle again to your feet, I am sorry you fell. But never mind that now, get up, and by God's grase struggle on."

SCHOOL WORK IS RESUMED

Teachers and Students Return to Posts After Holiday Vacation.

A. G. Alexander Succeeds D. C. Sprague at High School.

The second term of the school year began this morning, and the city schools are today in a flutter of preparing for a serious grind until commencement time will have been reached, there being only one interruption of any extent—Easter—in view. And the school board may determine not to let that interrupt except to dismiss the school on Maunday Thursday, observe Good Friday and Easter, and get busy on the following Monday.

Teachers have returned and are at work today. Most of them came in Saturday night and yesterday, while a few who had spent the holidays at points not very far away arrived this morning.

One feature of the new term is the fact that Carl Swenson has been engaged to transport to the Ensign school children living within the city limits tributary to that school, but too far away to walk.

A. G. Alexander is to be the new teacher of English in the high school, to succeed D. C. Sprague, who resigned suddenly some time ago. Miss Bertha Sellhorn has been engaged as a seventh and eighth grade teacher to succeed Miss Lindquist, resigned, at the Washington school.

MINNESOTA TAKES TWENTIETH PLACE

Sage Foundation Investigation Into Efficiency of School Systems.

New York, Jan. 6.—The results of the latest study conducted by the Russell Sage Foundation have been made public for the first time in bulletin 124 of the Foundation's division of education, under the title "A Comparative Study of State School Systems in the Forty-eight States." According to this report, the state school system of Minnesota takes twentieth place in general efficiency among the systems of the forty-eight states of the Union. Some of the disclosures made in the report are of striking significance.

Rhode Island has the longest school year of any state—193 days—but if these 193 days of schooling were divided equally among the children of school age in the state, the result would be 116 days of schooling each. The report terms this the "effective school year," and compares the forty-eight states on that basis. The results of this comparison show that this state provides eighty-eight days of schooling for every child of school age. In nearly a quarter of the states the effective school year is less than three months. As a nation, the United States has a shorter school day, a shorter school week, and a shorter school year than any other highly civilized country in the world.

To Newport News for Repairs.

Newport News, Va., Jan. 6.—The British steamer Indrakuala, beached near Tangier Island in Chesapeake bay, after sinking the steamer Julia Luckenbach with a loss of fifteen lives, will be brought here for repairs.

SURVIVORS SWEPT TO SAFETY BY HUGE WAVE

Boston, Mass., Jan. 6.—How three survivors of the sunken barge Bombay were swept to safety on board the whaleback steamer Bay View by the same huge seas which had capsized their small boat, was told tonight, when they reached this port. The rescued are Capt. J. Leesman, Tony Lawrence and Martin A. Sevence. The other two members of the barge's crew were drowned.

The Bay View, with the Bombay in tow, had been forced to anchor on account of the storm prevailing. Then the barge began sending distress signals, and sank before the steamer could reach her.

In a few moments a hail was heard, and the small boat of the Bombay, with the five members of the crew, was observed close alongside. Just then a huge sea overturned the dinghy. A few moments later a comber swept three men aboard the whaleback.

Big Liner Released.

New York, Jan. 6.—The Hamburg-American liner Amerika was released early today from the mud bank off Tompkinsville, Staten Island, where she went aground Saturday. Three barge-loads of the Amerika's heaviest freight was removed before tugs succeeded in dragging her free. After the cargo had been returned to the hold, the steamship resumed her interrupted voyage to Hamburg at 11:45 o'clock this morning.

EFFECT OF PRAYER RESTS ON MOTIVE

Rev. J. A. McGaughey Introduces Revival With Two Sermons.

"Prayers That Are Heard," and "Prayers That Are Not Heard," were the subjects of the sermons given yesterday by Rev. J. A. McGaughey of the Second Presbyterian church, 1515 West Superior street, as an introductory to the annual prayer week of the Protestant churches throughout the country.

"If one prays in true faith, then his prayer will be answered," said Rev. Mr. McGaughey, "but if the person is living in sin, his appeal will never be heard. A prayer is an oration, a confession, a thanksgiving and a petition to God. The trouble today is that many are wont to petition to God, before confessing or giving thanks.

"All prayers will fail to reach the ears of God, if the suppliants are living in sin. There is no hope for an answer or a greater blessing. We maintain sin too much today and that is the reason why we are not seeing any manifestations. You are asking amiss and not regarding your sins. God will not hear when a woman prays for the salvation of her husband, just so that her own home may be more comforthable and peaceful. He will never answer a selfish wish. A man may pray for a revival of the church, only to see many more members and a larger power. This appeal will never be heard by God.

"The motive has a great deal to do with the answer. If a revival is asked for that God's name may be glorified, then the appeal would be answered."

HIGH SCHOOL CLOCK STOPPED BY COLD.

The high school clock froze up yesterday morning at the hour of 8:20.

Jacob Gruesen, jeweler, says that it will not run in below zero weather, unless heat is provided in the tower to keep the oil from freezing and clogging the interior.

He believes that an electric attachment should be installed in order to keep the clock "warm" and in running order. The cost would be small, he declares.

D. T. ADAMS SEES GOOD YEAR AHEAD

Says There Is Strong Demand for Iron and Steel.

David T. Adams of Chicago, formerly of Duluth, where he was well known among the mining men, a guest at the Holland hotel this week, expressed the opinion that during the year 1913 more iron ore will be shipped from the American Head of the Lakes than during any other year in the history of the iron ranges. He declares that the demand for iron and steel over the country at large is greater than it ever was before and this year should see 50,000,000 to 52,000,000 tons of ore taken out of the mines of Northern Minnesota.

Mr. Adams declares that the outlook for business this year is bright and promising, and 1913 will be a very prosperous year if congress does not change the tariff too radically.

TO SEND AMERICAN WOMEN OUT OF MEXICO

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 6.—Representatives at Washington of two Mexican mining companies today telegraphed the mine managers to send out at once American women and children. The cause of the apprehension was not explained.

The six Guggenheim smelters and mining plants in Northern Mexico are reported to be in imminent danger of shutdowns for lack of fuel caused by the rebel activity in interfering with railway operations. All but the Chihuahua smelter face closing down within a week, which would throw thousands of men out of work and create a condition more critical than either strikes or revolts.

Already the Torreon smelter, controlled by Mexican capital, is reported shut down, as is also the Monterey steel plant. Pedro Robledo, a peace commissioner for the Mexican government, arrived here tonight, after treating with the rebels below Juarez. He appeared discouraged with his mission, having been robbed by the rebels of his money and articles of clothing.

INSURANCE MEN FORM ASSOCIATION.

The general agents and local managers of practically all the old line life insurance companies doing business in Duluth have formed an association to be known as the Duluth Life Underwriters' association, and elected the following officers: President, Frank T. McNally, general agent Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance company; first vice president, Henry I. Pineo, general agent Pennsylvania Mutual Life Insurance company; second vice president, Thomas J. Monaghan, general agent for Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company; secretary, George Wilson, general agent State Mutual; treasurer, L. A. Simonson, manager Mutual Life of New York; executive committee, Arthur C. Hoehne, general agent Northwestern Mutual Life, and Charles Greckovsky, manager Equitable Life Insurance company.

The purposes of the club are to advance the best interests of life insurance, to encourage good life insurance legislation and to discourage legislation of bad character, and to cement the friendship and business relations of the life insurance men of Duluth.

A. C. Hoehne addressed the members on the subject of "Income and Installment Insurance." Charles Oreckovsky read a paper on the binding receipt.

The new association startes with a large and active membership with good prospects of success.

REMEDY FOR SOLVING GOOD ROADS PROBLEM

By F. J. McPARTLIN, International Falls, Minn.

Many remedies are being suggested at the present time to solve the need of good roads. In most cases the remedies suggested are immediately branded by the more conservative as in violation of some constitutional limitation. It seems rather absurd that whenever a great public need reveals itself the supplying of that need is constantly and continuously delayed by those who shout "unconstitutionality."

There is a power in the state of Minnesota, particularly vested in the legislative bodies, in the exercise of which the constitutional limitation is very far removed. It is my belief that in the exercise of this power there is no limitation upon the amount of money which the legislature may appropriate for the construction of roads and their maintenance in all parts of the state. This power is known as the "police power."

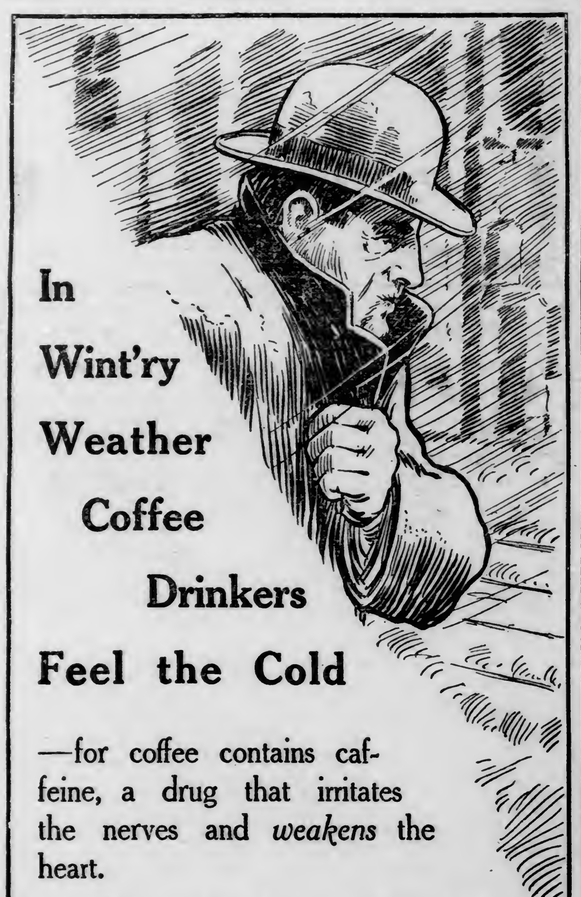

After an examination of the definition of "police power" given by the courts of many states in the Union, I find that they are nearly all uniform and may be summed up in the following quotation from a case found in the 15 United States on page 650: "To the police power may be referred the authority of the state to create educational and charitable institutions, and provide for the establishment, maintenance and control of public highways, turnpikes, roads, canals, wharfs, ferries and telegraph lines and the draining of swamps, and in general all those internal regulations necessary to secure peace, good order, the health and comfort of society and the regulation and protection of all property in the state."

Under such a broad and comprehensive authority as is vested in the legislature by the police power of the state, there is no reason why any limitation can be said to be placed upon its power to appropriate money for the construction of highways and to exercise control over the same and to maintain them. A public highway is an aid to education by furnishing to the children a way to reach the school. A public highway is a necessity for the protection of settlers against fire, as has been amply illustrated by the great forest fires of this state. Highways are necessary in carrying out the game laws, and as a means of game preservation. Highways are necessary as an aid to the forestry work of the state. Highways are of absolute necessity in preserving the health of the settlers and those living in rural communities, by furnishing the best means of travel in the securing of medical assistance. Highways are absolutely necessary in Northern Minnesota as a public aid in the protection of the public peace, accomplishing the apprehension of criminals in rural communities and giving to prosecuting officials the proper means of reaching the place of crime, in which cases the lack of roads has frequently resulted in the escape of criminals and the perpetration of additional crimes. All will admit that in the settlement of Northern Minnesota roads are necessary to prevent pauperism on the part of many settlers who are deprived of the necessary means of marketing their products or receiving any reward for their labors.

The legislature of this state and the courts of this state have repeatedly exercised their respective authorities in maintaining that the police power of the state extended to each one of the cases mentioned in the last paragraph. Can they now say that in the construction of good roads, which embraces within its sphere of usefulness all of the different sub-divisions of the police power, the Constitution will interfere? A great many laws passed by the legislature of this state, and upheld by the courts, are repugnant to the Constitution of this state, but have been held valid by the courts as a legitimate exercise of the police power, because their aim was the preservation of the health, moals, safety and general welfare of the public. I believe that the supreme court of this state and its various district courts would not hesitate in construing any act of the legislature in the interest of good roads as a proper and legitimate exercise of the police power. Since the sustaining of the so-called Elwell act by our supreme court the people may rest assured that past authorities or precedents, decided according to the conditions of those times, will not be followed where the conditions have so changed as to require different rules. While I am strongly inclined to believe that there is no constitutional limitation against the taxation of state lands unused for public purposes, I feel positive that there is no constitutional objection to the highest kind of appropriation for the construction of good roads, if the law is framed upon the basis of an exercise of the state's police power.

CONDITION OF THE INDIANS

Should Be Released From Paternal Care of Government.

Former Commissioner Valentine Tells of the Progress Made.

Washington, Jan. 6.—That the American Indian should be released as soon as possible from the paternal care of the United States government, now his guardian in virtually everything he does, was the opinion expressed in the annual report from the bureau of Indian affairs submitted to Secretary of the Interior Fisher by Robert G. Valentine, until recently commissioner, and made public today.

The then commissioner voiced the hope that the day might be near "when the United States will finally have lifted its hands from Indian affairs, and all Indians in all respects will stand on an equal footing with all their fellow-Americans."

"With all the expedition compatible with the Indians' welfare," he added, "they should be made subject to the laws of their states and be taught to look to their local government instead of the national government. My conviction is that no possible obstacle should be placed in the way of the transformation of Indian affairs administered by the United States into the affairs of normal citizens under the ordinary jurisdiction of the states.

"I do not suggest further authority for enlarged Federal jurisdiction over minor offenses on reservations. Important questions of marriage and divorce illustrate the difficult points, of which the only proper solution appears to be education of Indians, whether or not they are citizens, to comply with the laws of their states."

Progress during the year in teaching the Indian to be sober and industrious, in educating him to be a better farmer and mechanic, and in imparting health principles, both as they apply individually and in the home, was reported.

Vocational Guidance.

"Every Indian, like every white man," declared the commissioner, "is best fitted for some one thing. We are trying to find that thing. One of our newest activities is to make every effort, both in the schools and among the adults on the reservations, in the direction of vocational guidance."

The Indian service in all its parts showed increased activity during the year, the report stated, not in extension of jurisdiction, "but in grappling more deeply and more intimately with the problems it has to solve." The campaign for good health and physical efficiency among the Indians continued with increased momentum, the need for this work being shown by the fact that the death rate among the Indians is 50 per cent greater than that among other classes of people in the registration area of the United States, while the mortality from tuberculosis is three and a half times as great.

The war against the sale of liquor to Indians was "waged with continuous vigor and successful results," the report added, "and the fight against gambling is beginning to bear fruit." Mr. Valentine pointed to the fact that two convictions were secured for the sale of liquor to Indians in Washington, "under the dome of our capitol," showing, he said, that the "Indian, though hundreds of miles distant from his home, has not lost his lust for firewater, and that the laws as now in force are applicable anywhere."

The home condition of the Indians is one of the most unsatisfactory features of the Indian problem, said the commissioner, for which reason special attention is being given to the instruction of Indian girls. The character and efficiency of the training given to them must be improved, he said, because it is realized that for the girls more than for the boys the instruction should be of an extensive form. Girls can be kept in school only for a few years after they have developed into womanhood, it was stated.

Returned Students.

The greatest investment the Indian service has, continues the report, is in the so-called returned students who have been away at the larger schools and have returned to live at or near their home reservation. There are about 35,000 of these Indians, who represent an economic investment, it is estimated, of about $50,000,000. These students frequently are considered merely trouble makers by the superintendents of the reservations, declares the commissioner. The superintendents forget entirely, he adds, that this class of Indians protest against the order of things as they find it when they return to their reservations because "they have seen better things, but have not quite found their own way to them. And I am sorry to say," he continues, "that frequently the greatest obstacle to their finding their way lies in the government machinery and personnel itself. Every Indian school in the country should consider it a vital part of its daily work to keep track of the students who have attended it. These returned students are the hope of the Indian problem. We would hardly think of spending a similar amount in training a race horse and then turn him loose under unfavorable conditions to shift for himself."

The property interests of the Indians constitute one of the greatest estates ever held in trust by any organization, governmental or private, the report states. Including the lands, forests, water powers, minerals and funds held in tribal or individual ownership the principal held by the government for the Indians amounts to $750,000,000; and the interest and annual rentals produce a total of $12,000,000.

Art and Industries.

Indian art and the industries which produce it should be carefully preserved, in the opinion of the commissioner. The making of Navajo blankets, of the high-grade of beadwork and basketry and of pottery should be fostered and preserved.

Among the Pimas and Apaches in Arizona and some of the tribes in California, as well as elsewhere, there are expert basket weavers who should be encouraged, he says, while the $700,000 worth of blankets made annually by the Navajos constitutes their most important means of support. He points to a woman basket weaver who made a basket which the merchants now owning it values at $1,500, while she has sold other masterpieces for from $150 to $250.

No work is nobler or more necessary or more trying in the Indian service than that of the field matrons and women industrial teachers, according to the commissioner. The help given by these women varies from instruction in sanitation to the supervision of expenditures and the settlement of domestic difficulties; and they save the lives of many children.

Educational opportunities must be taken to thousands of Indian children not yet in school; industrial impulse and opportunity must be given to Indians who do not now value their possessions; a chance has to be extended to thousands of Indian families for living in sanitary homes, says the report. "Only in this way," it is declared, "can the day of the Indians' emancipation from national guardianship be sped, and the obligation that is upon us of affording the Indians the same opportunities, rights and privileges as other Americans be discharged."

ernor and giving it over to a "committee on committees."

Spoiled by Publicity.

Premature publicity, however, spoiled this plan, and the comment on it throughout the state has been so completely adverse that the movement has collapsed, and the subject is not likely to be mentioned at the party caucuses tonight.

There has been talk also of a similar attempt in the house, but with very much smaller prospects that it would get anywhere. The election of Henry Rines, another progressive, as speaker of the house, has been for weeks a foregone conclusion, and the chance that the house will take the power of appointing committees away from him is very slender indeed.

The legislature will convene at noon tomorrow. The house will elect a speaker and a desk and floor force, and the senate will elect a secretary and assistants and other employes.

Lieutenant Governor Burnquist will call the senate to order, and the house will be called to order by Secretary of State Julius Schmahl, and its members will be sworn in by one of the justices of the supreme court, probably Chief Justice Calvin L. Brown.

The first business of the new presiding officers will be the appointment of committees on rules. These committees have made a start on their work informally, and their reports will not be long delayed. When the rules are adopted, fixing the number of committees and the number of members of each, the presiding officers will announce committee appointments, and actual work can begin.

Many Important Measures.

There can be little question that this will be one of the most important sessions in the history of the state. Many measures of first rank press for consideration, and as the bars that have been kept up by the old conservative organizations seem to have been broken down, there seems little to keep these measures from being acted upon.

The organization in both branches will be open and entirely free for the first time in many years, unless pending schemes to make it otherwise succeed. Both presiding officers are thoroughly progressive, and will strive to frame their organizations in accordance with the progressive spirit. In both branches there is a compact and well organized conservative minority, such as is needed to assure a safe pace, but it is only a minority.

The senate has been ranked as reactionary, but it is doubtful if it will be so widely classed as such after this session. The senators are two years nearer an accounting with their constituents now than they were at the last session, for one thing; and this is a factor not to be underestimated.

It seems likely that every important measure will receive a fair and full hearing and will come to a vote; and even in the last session, so far as progressive measures like the initiative, referendum and recall are concerned, that would have meant their passage.

May Shorten Session.

An attempt probably will be made to shorten the session.

Legislative sessions are limited by the Constitution to ninety legislative days, which doesn't count Sunday and holidays. This would bring the end of the session about April 22, unless the legislature determines to shorten it.

This can be done only if a resolution is adopted early in the session fixing the date of final adjournment, and if the legislature gets down to work promptly instead of dawdling away the first month, as it usually does.

This time the speakership question is settled, and probably Speaker-to-be Rines has a tentative list of committee appointments pretty well completed. He can announce his committee on rules at once, and as soon as the rules are adopted he can announce his committees. The committees can then get to work.

In the senate Lieutenant Governor Burnquist has had ample time to line up his committee assignments, and probably will be ready very early in the session with his appointments, unless the "senate combine" relieves him of this responsibility.

Thus there will be no reason why the committees cannot begin operations at once. In the past the first two or three weeks have been almost entirely wasted, and real business was not started until about the end of the first month. If the legislature determines to shorten the session, however, it will undoubtedly get down to work earlier.

What can be done in a short time if the determination to do it exists, was shown last summer when the special session adopted a comprehensive program and in two weeks did as much important work as many a ninety-day session has produced.

Some of the more ambitious members are talking of an adjournment March 1, but March 15 is more likely, and there is a fair assurance that the session can be ended not later than April 1.

Measures to Be Considered.

It will be a very busy session. Among the measures that are practically certain to be considered will be the following:

Reapportionment, both legislative and congressional.

Initiative and referendum to be provided for in a proposed constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people at the election of 1914.

Recall of elective officers, also to be provided for in a proposed constitutional amendment. There will be a fight on whether or not this measure is to include judges.

The creation of a state public utilities commission, either separately or as a part of the duties of the railroad and warehouse commission or the tax commission, with broad powers of control over public utilities of all with a view to assuring good service at the lowest rates consistent with fairness. The Wisconsin law, which has worked admirably, will probably be taken as a model.

Good roads legislation, including the levy of a state road tax of 1 mill in place of the present tax of a quarter of a mill. This increase was authorized when the people voted the good roads amendment into the state Constitution in November.

A constitutional amendment authorizing the state to lend its credit to counties for road-building purposes will be proposed.

A reduction of the legal width of roads from sixty-six feet to twenty-five feet will probably be proposed.

Constitutional amendment to separate the state's land business from the state auditor's office.

The creation of a state department of agriculture.

Woman suffrage, another proposed constitutional amendment.

Distance tariff.

County option.

Tonnage tax on iron ore.

A proposal to call a constitutional convention to revise the state Constitution.

Workingmen's compensation and employers' liability laws.

Possible steps toward the short ballot in state elections.

Civil service for state employes.

Appropriation for Minnesota exhibit at the San Francisco Panama exposition.

The Perry Pageant.

Appropriation of $50,000 for a monument to Commodore Perry, and to bring the naval pageant of Put-in-Bay to Minnesota this summer.

Presidential preference primary.

Amendments to the statewide primary law and corrupt practices act, which are not likely to be numerous or important.

Non-partisan election of county officers.

Four-year terms for all county officers.

"Blue sky" law.

Investigation of the rural credit systems of Europe with a view to making legal provision for them in this state.

Providing a county assessor system instead of the present system of assessment of property for taxation by local assessors.

Uniform assessment of all property on a basis of 50 per cent of actual value.

Abolition of the gross earnings tax on railroads and putting railroad property on an ad valorem basis of taxation like other property.

Creating a state park in Northern Itasca county.

Making the railroad and warehouse commission appointive instead of elective.

Pension system for dependent mothers.

Expansion of agricultural and industrial training in the public schools.

Legalizing the Roosevelt party.

A separate state reformatory for women.

Creation of a legislative reference bureau.

Taxation of idle state lands for road work.

The election of a United States senator—certain to be Senator Knute Nelson, the incumbent.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

PRESIDENT TALKS ON PARTY'S FUTURE

Foresees Return to the Old Ideas of Government.

New York, Jan. 6.—President Taft presided here Saturday night at what he styled his own political "wake." He made the funeral oration over his political corpse; asked modest praise for the deeds that he did while he lived in the White House, recited at length the causes that led to his "demise" and attacked the enemies he held responsible for his taking off.

The president did this in speaking at the Republican "reorganization" dinner, given at the Waldorf-Astoria to more than 1,000 Republicans from all over the country.

President Taft spoke for more than an hour. His defense of his administration was the legislative results it has produced. His reply to personal criticism was that he had been more misunderstood than blameworthy. His attack upon his political opponents—confined almost exclusively to the Progressives—was not bitter, but sorrowful.

In spite of all the misrepresentation, the unrest, the present day desire for change, the president said, he saw in the future a return to the old ideas of government, the awakening of the people to an understanding that social changes must be made slowly and with sure steps. He closed with an appeal to Republicans who left the party to return and join hands with the millions who remained faithful.

"Let us invite," said he, "from the ranks of our opponents, the Democrats, the many who love the Constitution, and the blessings it has conferred, to unite with us in its defense. There must be a campaign of education among the common people for the benefit of the common people against the poison of class hatred, the fanaticism of unbalanced enthusiasm, and the sophistry of demagogic promises."

In the course of his speech he made his first public references to Col. Roosevelt since the close of the campaign, asserting that probably thousands of voters, normally Republican, cast their ballots for Mr. Wilson in order to "avert the danger of Mr. Roosevelt's election."

One Killed By Explosion.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 6.—The explosion of the boiler of a Detroit & Toledo shore line railroad locomotive here today caused the death of one man and serious injury to six others. The engine was being prepared to haul a passenger train to Toledo when the explosion occurred.

James Edwards, 45 years old, a hostler, was blown forty feet and instantly killed. The injured will probably recover.

Production of Oil Less.

Washington, Jan. 6.—With the world's consumption of oil aggregating 1,000,000 barrels a day, of which the United States supplied almost two-thirds, production of petroleum in this country during 1912 was 220,200,000 forty-two gallon barrels, or about 250,000 barrels less than 1911. While the production was less, the rising price of oil increased the total value of the product markedly. The last year's output was valued at $160,000,000, an increase of about $16,000,000 over 1911.

IRON AND STEEL REVIEW

New York, Jan. 6.—Steel companies, according to expressed opinion in trade circles, have reason to expect a more profitable business in 1913 than in 1912 as orders are equal to sixteen month's capacity and future business of an equal tonnage seems assured on a higher level of values than last year.

The New Year's holiday had small influence in retarding operations of the mills and furnaces, the United States Steel corporation producing ingots at the rate of 94 per cent of total capacity last week. It is estimated that all steel interests procured business for finished steel products last year aggregating 26,500,000 tons, produced 22,500,000 tons and shipped 21,500,000 tons of finished products, exceeding all previous similar yearly activities by 15 or 20 per cent. Railroads were responsible for about 8,500,000 tons, or 33 per cent of the total orders placed.

The fabricating shops obtained contracts calling for 1,510,000 tons of structural shapes in 1912, of which the American Bridge company booked about 700,000 tons, or 46 per cent of the total. Last week structural contracts aggregated more than 24,000 tons. Railroad equipment contracts continue large. Last week the Harriman interests distributed orders for 12,700 cars and 260 locomotives and are to increase car orders by 2,000. The Santa Fe contracted for 88 locomotives. The Delaware & Hudson ordered 12,000 tons of rails and the New York Central distributed supplementary orders for about 30,000 tons of rails. The National Railways of Mexico placed an additional order for 7,000 tons of rails with an Eastern mill.

MYSTERY IN WEDDING OF PRIMA DONNA

BESSIE ABOTT.

The reported marriage of Bessie Abott the American opera singer, to T. Waldo Story, the sculptor, has never been cleared up. The marriage is supposed to have taken place in Europe, but just when and where is not known. Mr. Story's first wife denies that she has divorced the sculptor. Miss Abott was the daughter of the late Francis Pickens, a New York merchant. On the death of her father Miss Abott and her sister obtained an engagement in vaudeville. They had good voices and soon became known. They made famous that immortal ballad "I Don't Want to Play in Your Yard." When Jean de Reszke heard Miss Abott sing he predicted a future operatic career for her and she went to Paris to study with him. She made her debut at the Paris opera in 1901, singing Juliette to Jean de Reszke's Romeo. She sang for a time at the Metropolitan opera house in New York.

The study of Macbeth will be continued.

THE HORRORS OF AN ENGLISH PRISON
---AS EXPERIENCED BY SUFFRAGISTS

The Woman's Home Companion contains a vivid account of militant woman suffrage as the campaign is carried on in England. The violence indulged in has resulted in the imprisoning of a great many women. Of the experiences in prison that these women have undergone the article goes on to say:

"Once in prison the advantage is on the side of the government, since, technically, these women are criminals, and can by law be so treated. The life of a common criminal in an English jail is not easy for a refined woman, educated in modern germ theories, to follow. There is hard work, coarse, monotonous food, association with criminals, and rules that are both rigid and humiliating. She must undress in public, surrender all her garments and personal belongings, take down her hair, and then, with her arms stretched above her head, she must submit to a thorough search, wearing only a prison chemise.

"Then she must get into a dingy iron bath tub and bathe where hundreds of criminals before her have bathed. She inherits their prison shoes, their torn, patched garments, and their corsets. She must scrub her cell floor and, in certain cases, stand most unhealthful odors from insanitary conditions. Her window does not open, and she may exercise out-of-doors only three times a week; then she must walk with the other prisoners in single file, and without communication.

"It is not against these personal hardships, however, that the suffragettes are protesting. They feel that they declared war openly upon the government, that they are fighting in a body for political freedom, and that they are not criminals, but prisoners of war.

"Men rioters against the government are deprived only of their liberty. They use their own furniture, clothing and books; order their own food, beer and tobacco, and may, if practical, continue their work. The women feel that it is belittling the cause of suffrage to allow themselves to be ranked as criminals. They began their protest against this treatment by smashing their windows, in an effort to get pure air. For this they were put into solitary confinement in punishment cells."

REMEDIES FOR CHAPPED HANDS

Quite a number of women doing their own housework have trouble in keeping their hands in good condition during the winter. Unfortunately, what will be good for one person's skin is harmful to another's, so it is impossible to set down any hard and fast rule as to what shall be applied, says the Kansas City Star.

For instance, glycerine is excellent in some cases, while it is actually irritating in others.

When glycerine agrees with the skin it can be used pure or diluted with rose water, just rubbing into the hands. Others might like to try this mixture: Put into a double boiler one ounce of glycerine, two ounces of olive oil and two drams of spermaceti. Simmer until all are blended, then pour into a jar to cool. Apply with friction to the hands night and morning.

When the hands are dry and red, either from housework or cold, bran water will be found very soothing. To obtain the water put bran into a cotton bag and boil for twenty minutes. When necessary to wash the hands during the day, use the bran water, diluting with hot or cold water as desired. If this is persisted in it will keep the hands smooth and white.

Honey is very softening and is usually agreeable to the skin. A little rubbed in well before washing in the bran water will be helpful, or the honey can be used at any time independent of the bran water.

When the hands are actually chapped, camphor balls are recommended. A camphor salve that is good for chapped hands can be made at home as follows:

Melt together three drams gum camphor, beeswax three drams, olive oil two ounces. Apply this at night and wear loose gloves.

Some people find camphor objectionable, and when this is so, a good remedy consists in mixing white wax two parts, olive oil one part and a small portion of spermaceti. This is very softening. Camphor ice is made by melting together in a double boiler one ounce of sweet almonds, one ounce of white wax, two ounces of spermaceti and quarter ounce of camphor. Pour into molds, which may be small tin boxes or canisters. The proper molds are by no means necessary.

Talcum powder rubbed over the hands after washing will prevent roughness, and a good substitute for the talcum is just ordinary laundry starch pounded to a powder. This is always on hand. A dish of oatmeal might be kept handy, dipping the hands into it after washing. This will keep the skin soft and prevent cracking.

Hands that are constantly moist need a tonic, and should be bathed frequently in salt water or rubbed with a lemon. Some people find relief by dusting the gloves inside with powdered alum before putting them on.

If at any time the hands should be really very dirty, they should first be rubbed off with a cold cream or any pure fat, as home rendered lard, before being washed with hot, soapy water.

Stubborn stains on the hands, as dye or ink, can be removed by moistening the skin with warm water and rubbing into the spot oxalic acid and cream of tartar in equal proportions. This mixture is poisonous.

When the stain has disappeared, wash thoroughly in hot water, using a good soap.

These are all simple, inexpensive remedies that can be made at home.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Conservation of Health Too Often Neglected.

In this busy, rushing world there are some unhappy, tired men and women who cannot stop; who are chained to their work. They hear the warnings, recognize them and know what it means to evade the signals, but they go on—because they must. As for you and me—well, we only think we must. But nature, you know, is a bit relentless sometimes. And when she calls, then calls again and again without a word of response, something happens. Did you ever go to a physician only to be told you needed to follow Nature's laws?

And if you must confess that you have flagrantly violated practically every regulation that leads to health, how do you feel when the physician tells you that it is not drugs you need, but enlightenment concerning the requirements of the human body?

If you are like most of us, you are a bit ashamed to admit either through ignorance or neglect you have permitted the wonderful endowment of perfect health to become even partly ineffective.

For when one starts with a constitution meant to resist the ordinary wear and tear of life it is generally ignorance or neglect that is responsible for the inroads that are made, one at a time, too insidiously to be noticed until a break comes.

There is one matter of exercise and its hand-maiden, recreation. We have been house-bound, winter-bound, and sometimes, also, task-bound, so long that we have found reasons a plenty for not walking. But will we never learn that this indifferent world will go on and on when the last of our tasks is over, and that if we would go on with it awhile, pleasantly and comfortably, we must strike a better balance between work and play?

We have learned, by the sure test of experience, that it is the last thing that simply "must be done" that, in time, is certain to make something snap. And we know how infinitely wiser it is to drop that last thing, bundle it away out of sight, out of mind, and get out in the air, where new thoughts are born, new life is found.

Yet few of us listen to the call for recreation and health-giving exercise until it becomes peremptory. The fact is, when we grow dull, weary of the same surroundings, a bit cross and a bit spiritless, it is time to look about and note our manner of living, whether we are doing all we can to foster that gift of gifts, perfect health, or are steadily wearing it away.

NEW RATES IN WISCONSIN

New Soo Line Tariff Will Place Duluth on Better Basis.

Traffic Commission of the Commercial Club Has Many Questions Up.

A new Soo line tariff, now in course of preparation, will have a freight rate adjustment that will place Duluth on a much more equitable basis with trade competitors in Northern Wisconsin territory.

When the Soo and Northwestern recently began to check up their tariffs in Wisconsin, the first time the work had been done for many years, they found rates at many points badly out of line. The situation will be corrected in the new Soo tariff. Duluth wholesale dealers, who were at a disadvantage against Milwaukee and Chicago competition in much territory that should be open to Duluth, will be on a better basis when the new rates go into effect.

The Duluth rates at Withee are reduced from a 50 cent to a 45 cent basis, first class, while the Twin City rates remain on a 40 cent basis. Beginning at Owen and east to Marshfield, including points on the Greenwood branch, the present rates are on a 50 cent basis. The new tariff will have a 40 cent basis at Owen and grade up to 45½ cents at Marshfield, placing Duluth and the Twin Cities on the same basis.

East of Marshfield, the present rates grade up and reach the Chicago basis of 65 cents, first class, at Stockton, the first station east of Stevens Point. To stations on the Portage branch south of Bancroft, the present rates are on the Chicago basis. The proposed tariff grades the rates up from 45½ cents Marshfield to 50 cents at Stevens point and 60 cents at Fremont. To points between Marshfield and Fremont the Duluth and Twin City rates will be on the same basis. The rates from the Twin Cities have been reduced, but not so materially as the Duluth rates, and nowhere so as to make them lower than the Duluth rates.

East of Fremont, the Duluth rates will grade up, reaching the 65 cent Chicago basis at the first station east of Medina junction.

Traffic Commission at Work.

Several other important matters have come to the attention of the traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club recently. One matter which the commission is attempting to adjust is that of the rates from territory west of the Indiana-Illinois line. In many cases the rates from that territory are higher to Duluth than to the Twin Cities. The Twin City rates are based on water competition, but higher rates are maintained to the point where water competition exists.

Several efforts have been made to have the situation corrected through the Western Freight association without success. Another effort is now being made to get action from the direct lines between Duluth and Chicago. The matter has been referred to a subcommittee of the Western Freight association.

The rate on grain from Minneapolis to Gladstone on grain destined for shipment East has been 6½ cents, including elevation and loading into the vessels. The Duluth proportional rate is 5 cents, but does not include elevation charges. The result is the Duluth rate on wheat is 6 2-3 cents, barley 7.68 1-3 cents and oats, 8.125 cents. The Soo line has just issued a tariff making the Gladstone rate 7½ cents, which will make a more equitable arrangement. The tariff will become effective Jan. 20.

New Grain Rates Wanted.

The rate on wheat from Omaha to Chicago is 15½ cents, with a proportional rate of 12 cents on wheat and 11 cents on coarse grains. Duluth has a 15½ cent rate on wheat from the same point but no proportional rate on through shipments. An effort is being made to have proportional rates of 12 cents on wheat and 11 cents on coarse grain put in to Duluth. The Sioux City Commercial club has filed complaint asking for proportional rates of 9 cents on wheat and 8 cents on coarse grains to Minneapolis, and if the case is successful, Duluth will get the proportionals it wants.

Reductions have recently been made in the rates on salt cement, wall plaster, stucco and lime on the Soo line from St. Paul east, including stations from Jewett to Badger Mills, Wis.

The traffic commission is also interested in an action brought by the city of Superior against the Milwaukee road before the Wisconsin state railroad commission. Shipments from the Head of the Lakes to points on the Wisconsin valley division of the Northwestern, from Tomah to Wausau, have to go via the Northern Pacific to St. Paul and then around through Winona and La Crosse. Direct service by joint arrangement with the Soo line would bring shipments to those points in about three days. The present arrangement gives service in about ten days, so that the Head of the lakes is practically shut out of that territory.

POOR FARM IS PRAISED

Grand Jury Has Only Warm Praise for County Institution.

New Sanitary System Is Needed in the County Jail.

St. Louns county's poor farm is being exceptionally well managed, and as a whole the institution is in first class condition, according to the January grand jury, which Saturday afternoon made a tour of inspection to the farm, and which submitted a report on the matter to Judge Ensign in district court this afternoon.

The report has words of praise for the work of Dr. Woolway, medical superintendent, and for the manner in which the tubercular hospital is conducted. As to the main house at the poor farm, it is recommended that sanitary mattresses be purchased to replace straw ticks now used and that the floors and walls on the second and third floors be painted to the end that better sanitary conditions prevail.

The jury also paid a visit to the county jail and reported that it found everything in good order. A recommendation is made that the county board investigate the cost of putting in a new sanitary system.

The grand jury's report to the court was as follows:

"Duluth, Minn., Jan. 6, 1913.

"To the Honorable William A. Cant,

"Judge of the District Court:

"We, the grand jury, have carefully inspected the county poor farm, tubercular hospital, county jail and city jail and report as follows:

"County Poor Farm.

"Reporting on the farm and its buildings, it was a pleasure for us to find everything in such splendid condition. We found the barns and stock in first class condition, and believe that the roothouse should have special mention, as we never in our experience have seen one as good. We inspected the food, which we found to be good, and the whole institution showed careful consideration on the part of those in charge of the work. Dr. Woolway is doing splendidly and apparently has the confidence and respect of all the patients. Our observations were to the effect that there is now sufficient help to take care of all of the work in and around the buildings and the farm proper. The whole institution seems to be exceptionally well in hand, and the inmates expressed themselves as being well pleased with their treatment.

"Recommendations.

"1. That the straw ticks be disposed of throughout the entire building, and that sanitary mattresses be used instead.

"2. That the second and third floors be painted, and the cracks in the walls be filled, and that the walls be painted and the woodwork varnished, to the end that better sanitary conditions prevail, and the extermination of any vermin that may be in the rooms.

"Tubercular Hospital.

"We have only words of praise for the manner in which the tubercular hospital is conducted. We found good food, good sanitary conditions, and patients who were well pleased with their treatment in every way. The surroundings are splendid, and everyone seemed to be happy and hopeful. It certainly is a credit to St. Louis County to have an institution of this character, where patients may be well and properly treated.

"County Jail.

"We visited the county jail and found everything in good order. The only recommendation offered by this body is that the board of county commissioners investigate the cost of putting in a new sanitary system, and that the matter be given immediate attention. The toilets are very old, and while perhaps sanitary, they do not look the part. The same holds true of the bath tubs. In spite of the age of the jail, we were impressed with the good conditions and the evidence of proper attention to all details.

"City Jail.

"The city jail was in process of reconstruction. The work seemed to be progressing satisfactorily. Very respectfully, B. F. NEFF,

"Foreman of the Grand Jury."

FIRST CONCERT DRAWS BIG CROWD

An Entertaining Program Given at Masonic Temple Sunday Afternoon.

In spite of the cold weather about 300 people turned out yesterday to enjoy the first of the series of free concerts of the season of 1913 given in the Masonic temple.

The bulk of the program consisted, as usual, of organ numbers, commencing with the stately "Coronation" march by St. Saens. After this number Mr. Custance briefly welcomed the audience, and spoke of the concerts which are to follow. After a rippling intermezzo by Wolf-Ferrari from the "Jewels of the Madonna," the Scottish Rite quartet gave two fine numbers in excellent style, "Lord God Almighty" (Attila) with solo by C. O. Applehagen, and the Pilgrims' chorus from Tannhauser. In the latter number the artistic working up from pianissimo start to the fortissimo climax in double unison was most effective.

A selection from Act III of Lohengrin was then played followed by what was conceded to be the gem of the organ numbers, an andante from a ballet by the eminent Russian composer, Glazounow, a very delicate and melodious composition, played mainly on the flute stops with soft string accompaniment. A valee from the same ballet formed a pleasing contrast.

The quartet was then heard in a lighter number, "Love Me While You May," a new song by a new composer, Genevieve Farnell Bond of Los Angeles. This song, which was beautifully rendered, proved a great favorite with the audience, for while it is well written, it has a very catchy melody, and the lyrics, while 'lovesome,' are not sentimental. As an encore, Ernest Ball's beautiful and pathetic ballad "Who Knows" was given.

The concert concluded with a rousing melange of patriotic airs, comprising the national songs of those nations now taking part in the Balkan peace conference. Judging from the enthusiasm shown yesterday, the present season of free concerts will prove as successful as those of former years.

WHY WE HATE CERTAIN WORDS.

Ohio State Journal: Prof. Scott of the University of Michigan has made some research into mental aversions for particular words. Cardinal Newman said: "Rationally or irrationally, I have a never dying hatred of 'is being' in such a connection as 'the house is being built,' whatever arguments are brought in its favor." Lowell speaks of that abominable word, "reliable," while William James said that his pet aversion is "postal card" for "postcard."

Prof. Scott found that eighty-one persons out of 250 were displeased by the word "victuals." No fewer than ten persons said that the use of the word at table would take away their appetite. But why do wo hate certain words? The professor suggests that all sounds correspond with ideas and that certain minds are sensitive to the connection. The cries of babies and of animals vary according to their mental condition. Probably language was originally built upon this correspondence between sounds and ideas, and, although it has been distorted by art and necessity, we are sometimes reminded of its existence by such nauseating words as "victuals."

Many of these aversions are caused by association with unpleasant memories, although the memories may be, and often are, sub-conscious.

Bunker Hill, Los Angeles, a barrier between the business and a large residential district, now pierced by tunnels, is crumbling so that complete removal may be necessary—an immense and costly undertaking.

DISMAY IN WASHINGTON.

A new edict has gone forth in Washington, banishing the "growler," and the turmoil is almost as great—though quieter—as it was when Roosevelt, construing the law to mean seven hours when it said that all employes should put in seven hours a day, made the closing hour in public employment 4:30 when for many years it had been 4.

The liquor laws are strict in the capital, and they are pretty rigidly enforced. The bars must be closed at midnight, and they do close them. At 12:01 a. m. Washington is as quiet as a country village. And they must remain closed all day Sunday. So unless you pay a dollar a year and join a "club," which is in evidence only on Sunday, you must go thirsty from Saturday night at midnight to Monday morning.

And now the "growler" is forbidden. The district excise board issued an order, effective with the new year, forbidding anybody to "buy and carry away in pitcher, can, bucket or other vessel, save in bottles, which must be original packages," any beer or other liquor, spirituous or malt, at any time.

Thus vanishes another more or less cherished institution of the capital.

And, according to those who have been there, it will be missed. Washington, it appears, was a great town for "rushing the growler," "rushing the can," "chasing the duck" or whatever you call it. Visitors often were mystified, walking the streets of a spring evening, to see mysterious figures hastening back and forth, queer vessels in their hands or under their coats. Sometimes they used a pail, sometimes the water pitcher from a bedroom set. Whatever the utensil, the "growler" trade was huge, and nobody could be there long without remarking it.

And now, like the 4 o'clock closing hour, it has gone.

For when an order like this goes out in Washington, it means something. It is to be obeyed, and usually it is obeyed.

It shows what tyrannies can be perpetrated where the people have no vote.

It is such a relief to know that George W. Perkins may not have to answer to that indictment for a railroad accident. The possibility must have been a great sorrow to those precious children of his.

WALKING A LOST ART?

"Walking," says the Chicago Tribune, "is a lost art in the big cities of the United States."

And it goes on to report that Boston physicians have made the discovery that we are developing a new disease from sitting too much.

They call it the "auto knee," and it seems to consist of an enfeebled condition of the knees, caused by lack of exercise. The least jolt causes serious injury.

Besides the "auto knee," whatever that may amount to, there are other evils from lack of exercise—evils not only physical, but mental and spiritual.

Street cars in winter are likely to swarm with disease germs, for one thing; and, again, it takes a brisk daily walk to keep the blood circulating healthily. Besides, when we walk there is time for observation and reflection, which we miss when we ride.

The automobile is free from the foul air of the street car, but it provides no exercise.

Those who abandon walking miss a great deal of the good in life. They miss the country roads, the physical content that comes from wholesome exercise, the mental and spiritual calm that is foundationed on good health.

Those who can walk and don't are wilfully wasting one of the finest possibilities of life.

Because we sing of the simple pleasures, by the way, believing them to be the best and most satisfying, it does not follow that we are "knocking" the automobile or the automobilist.

Each one to his choice, say we; only we hold that his is the wiser choice who uses his legs in the way they were built to be used, and who does not let them atrophy from disuse and allow his blood to grow stagnant in brittle veins for lack of wholesome exercise.

Faster comes the earliest this year that it has come in 132 years. Many a man will see a gleam of hope in that, for it must take some time to get those "creations" ready.

NO SHIN PLASTERS, PLEASE.

Looking forward to the interesting prospect of shopping by mail through the medium of the parcel post, the Boston Globe proposes that the government return to the issuance of fractional paper currency, such as we had in war times and after.

The Globe's idea is that this sort of money would be handy to use, as when we send an order out to our farmer friend to mail us in a small jar of butter, a couple of dozen eggs, a broiler or a bunch of onions.

Perhaps it would be handy for that purpose, but it is doubtful if any who remember shin plaster days will be very keen about having this sort of money revived.

Most of the shin plasters we remember seeing carried so plainly the evidence of having been in many pockets and through a miscellany of grimy fingers that they were not tempting, even for their buying possibilities.

Still, something is needed; some cheap and easy way of sending small sums of money by mail to pay for the goods we are going to buy through the parcel post.

There are at least two other ways of meeting the demand, however. One is through the use of pasteboard money receivers with holes for pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and halves, and gummed flaps to cover the money with. If somebody will put out these conveniences in quantities and cheaply, everybody can keep a supply on hand.

The other way is through the issuance of postal notes for fractional denominations. If the price could be made low enough, these might supplement the money order now in use and become highly valuable in connection with the parcel post.

But unless it is necessary, we doubt if it would be a good thing to restore the shin plaster currency of war times.

It is too often the case that a man who seems to be deep in thought is really no deeper in than the bottom of his pocket.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF LAKE TERMINALS

The suggestion of Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the traffic commission of the Duluth Commercial club, that the United States government take over lake terminals at Duluth and Buffalo, should receive careful and serious consideration.

Mr. Barnes has an extraordinary grasp of transportation problems. He is neither a theorist nor an impractical agitator. His suggestions on transportation matters have behind them the force of long study, careful analysis and practical experience.

The Federal government improved the inland waterways so as to develop cheap transportation routes. Transportation costs enter into the sale price of every commodity, and so have an important bearing on the cost of living and a close relation to the economic condition of every individual.

There is a difference of opinion as to the economic value of many proposed inland waterway improvements. There has never been any question of the value of the Great Lakes waterway to the nation. Millions have been spent, and have been returned many times over to the people through cheaper transportation costs. But their value is enormously decreased by railroad control of terminals.

Boats used for general merchandise transportation are controlled by railroad companies. The same companies, or railroads closely related, control the terminals at both ends of the chain of Great Lakes and at nearly all of the intermediate points.

Some interesting conditions were revealed in the Duluth lake and rail rate case heard before the interstate commerce commission about a year ago. The history of lake transportation is a history of railroad manipulation. While rates on bulk commodities have been going down, rates on general merchandise have been going up. While the improvements in steamers have reduced the operating costs, and the reductions have been reflected in the bulk commodity rates, general merchandise rates have continued to climb.

It is to the interest of the railroads to divert lake traffic to the all-rail routes. They have succeeded in doing so to a large extent. They cannot hope to divert bulk commodities, but they have effectively prevented the development of general merchandise traffic on the lakes.

The traffic commission of the Commercial club has undertaken a great task in seeking to have the terminals withdrawn from the hands of the enemies of cheap water transportation. Yet it is a problem that must be faced and the traffic commission has bravely grappled with it.

There is not an independent merchandise carrying boat line on the Great Lakes. Why? Because the railroads control the terminals. The result? Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the traffic commission, said at the meeting of the public affairs committee last Friday evening:

> No railroad operator in his wildest moments would think of attempting to compete by rail in the carriage of grain across the Great Lakes, nor in the carriage of ore, nor in the carriage of coal. It is absolutely beyond the possibility of contemplation of serious competition between rail and water transportation on such a highway. Yet by controlling the type of boat necessary to carry general merchandise, by making the handling of such freight out and off the vessel as antiquated and expensive, as slow and cumbersome, as possible; by maintaining lake transportation rates just as high as can be done by every resource in their power, they are able at a short distance from actual lake transportation at either end, almost to equalize the transportation charge between the water route and the rail.

If city, state or nation were to obtain possession of a tract of water front property at Buffalo and another at Duluth, were to build modern docks with all the time and labor-saving devices known to modern industrial efficiency, were to open the docks on equal terms to all boats and were to require the railroads to accept and deliver freight under joint rate arrangements with the boat lines, there is no reason why the general merchandise traffic on the lakes should not become relatively as great in volume as the traffic in bulk commodities, and the rates relatively as low.

Mr. Barnes suggests government ownership. There are many arguments in favor of it. The Great Lakes form a national highway. The traffic on it is national in its scope. Cheap transportation on the lakes under natural conditions should affect the man in Montana as greatly as it does the man in Duluth. The charge for the improvement of harbors and channels on the Great Lakes is borne by the nation because the saving in transportation costs has a national effect.

There are arguments in favor of the state or city building and operating the terminals, but all states and all cities could not be brought into the plan, at least for many years. There is ample justification for the national government to take the matter into its own charge.

The terminals are the key to the situation. Public control is not enough. Even under government regulation, the railroads could operate their docks so as to harass independent carriers. The question can be solved only by drastic action that will break the railroad monopoly of water transportation facilities and restore free competition.

The waterways are public highways; the terminals should be so operated as to give all access to the highways on equal terms.

The Blind Girl's Vision

Helen Keller in the American Magazine.

Once I rejoiced when I heard of a new invention for the comfort of man. Taught by religion and a gentle home life, nourished with good books, I could not but believe that all men had access to the benefits of inventive genius. When I heard that locomotives had doubled in size and speed, I thought: "The food of the wheat fields will come cheaper to the poor of the cities now," and I was glad. But flour costs more today than when I read of those great new engines. Why do not improved methods of milling and transportation improve the dinner of the poor? I supposed that in our civilization all advances benefited every man. I imagined that every worthy endeavor brought a sure reward. I had felt in my life the touch only of hands that uphold the weak, hands that are all eye and ear, charged with helpful intelligence. I believed that people made their own conditions, and that if the conditions were not always of the best they were at least tolerable, just as my infirmity was tolerable.

As the years went by, and I read more widely, I learned that the miseries and failures of the poor are not always due to their own faults, that multitudes of men, for some strange reason, fail to share in the much-talked-of progress of the world. I shall never forget the pain and amazement which I felt when I came to examine the statistics of blindness, its causes and its connection with other calamities that befall thousands of my fellow men. I learned how workmen are stricken by the machine hands that they are operating. It became clear to me that the labor-saving machine does not save the laborer. It saves expense and makes profits for the owner of the machine. The worker has no share in the increased production due to improved methods; and, what is worse, as the eagle was killed by the arrow winged with his own feather, so the hand of the world is wounded by its own skill. The multipotent machine displaces the very hand that created it. The productivity of the machine seems to be valued above the human hand; for the machine is often left without proper safeguards, and so hurts the very life it was intended to serve.

Step by step my investigation of blindness led me into the industrial world. And what a world it is! How different from the world of my beliefs! I must face unflinchingly a world of facts—a world of misery and degradation, of blindness, crookedness and sin, a world struggling against the elements, against the unknown, against itself. How reconcile this world of fact with the bright world of my imagining? My darkness had been filled with the light of intelligence, and, behold, the outer day-lit world was stumbling and groping in social blindness! At first I was most unhappy; but deeper study restored my confidence. By learning the sufferings and burdens of men, I became aware as never before of the life-power that has survived the forces of darkness, the power which, though never completely victorious, is continuously conquering. The very fact that we are still here carrying on the contest against the hosts of annihilation proves that on the whole the battle has gone for humanity. The world's great heart has proved equal to the prodigious undertaking which God set it. Rebuffed, but always persevering; self-reproached, but ever regaining faith; undaunted, tenacious, the heart of man labors towards immeasurably distant goals. Discouraged not by difficulties without or the anguish of ages within, the heart listens to a secret voice that whispers: "Be not dismayed; in the future lies the Promised Land."

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer, though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

"NATURE'S GENTLEMAN."

One of The Herald's readers, Miss Margaret Healy of 315 East Sixth street, has kindly furnished The Herald with a copy of Eliza Cook's poem, "Nature's Gentleman", which was asked for by a reader last week, and could not be found in the library. The poem is too long to run in this column, but the copy may be had at The Herald office on application.

Another request has been received to publish Eugene Field's poem, "Little Boy Blue", in the Open Court. This is also a rather lengthy poem, and a copy of it may be secured at the library without difficulty. The Herald must be careful in reprinting modern poems not to violate the copyright laws.—The Editor.

SUPERIOR HAS SOME NEW INDUSTRIES, TOO.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Have just read your item as to improvements for 1913. Always gave you credit for being pretty bright and claiming everything on both sides of the bay for Duluth, but how did you come to overlook the car shops at Allouez that the Great Northern is building. Your claims for December sound pretty much Western Canada. Was at the Head of the Lakes a short time ago and looked things over and I may be wrong, but is Duluth in Wisconsin and Minnesota both? If not, then Superior, as I found it, is having built an elevator for the Great Northern railway; completion of Belt Line, which does not touch Duluth; construction of largest coal docks in world; construction of largest ore docks in world; big improvements to docks now there; car shops for Great Northern railway; completion of steel plant, which will benefit Superior more than Duluth on account of location; also cheaper rents and cost of living.

A projected street car line which will be built next spring will get the trade of the steel plant.

Several industries are now looking for locations on the Belt Line. "Where do you come in on this Belt Line?"

Could mention several more industries, but I may have been wrong in imagining I was in Superior instead of Duluth, so better not convict myself further. Anyway I started from Fifth avenue west, crossed the interstate bridge on the street car, and if I was not then in Superior where in thunder was I? Please reply. I was puffectly sober. Yours truly,

A. D. GRIGNON,
A Superiorite.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Flouncing back in his recollection to the carefree boyhood days, McKee Barclay, cartoonist for the Baltimore Sun, was recalling recently an interesting little episode in the life of Ollie James, senator-elect from Kentucky.

Barclay was a member of a youthful baseball team at Louisville, and they went down to play a picked nine at Marion, which is the place Ollie comes from.

It happened that the day of the ball game also was marked by the arrival of the first railroad train that ever entered Marion. Among the townspeople that flocked down to the track to see the big engine was Ollie James. He was almost as large as he is now, but less attractive. As Barclay recalls it, the future senator was barefooted and wore a torn straw hat. The engine fascinated Ollie, and he stood for some minutes just staring at it preoccupiedly like a man looking at a hosiery display in a department store window.

Then he turned to another bystander, spat, and inquired:

"What do you reckon she weighs?"

* * *

About that time, Barclay yelled out rogueshly:

"Look out, she's goin' to turn around!"

And Ollie James beat it excitedly up the side of a nearby embankment with the briskness of a pursued hare.

When he had gained a safe distance, he paused, contemplated the constricted track, and asked:

"How's she goin' to turn around? I'd like to have you just tell me that!"

To look at Representative Thomas L. Rubey of Missouri, modest and unassertive, one would never take him for the man who introduced the curve ball into the show-me state. Yet he did it.

Rubey attended college at the University of Missouri. Along in the middle of his first summer vacation there dropped along at his home a youngish stranger who had seen better days. At the moment he met Rubey his life's ambitions centered around a square meal. He noticed that Rubey had been batting a ball about the lot, and told him that if he would provide a little alimentary incentive he would show him something. Rubey hastened into the house and got a whole apple pie out of the cupboard when nobody was looking—also a large, generous hunk of cold roast beef. He bore these to the mysterious stranger on a tin salver, and then sat patiently listening to him eat.

When the stranger had disposed of everything in sight, with apparent relish, he told the eager Rubey that it was possible to throw a ball in such a way as to make it curve. As soon as his meal had settled a little he got up and showed him how. Rubey practiced under the stranger's tutelage for about an hour.

When he got back to college and told the older members of the team that he could pitch a curved ball, they laughed at him good-naturedly, and told him there had been talk of such a thing from time to time, and it might be done, but it would be impossible to get any control. However, they said he was a nice fellow and they liked him, for all of his odd notions.

The coach determined, though, to let Rubey introduce the curve to Missouri, and see what would happen.

And Rubey won every game the team played. Since then, so one learns, the curved ball has enjoyed greatly increased popularity.

Representative Frank Willis of Ohio has a voice that makes a Methodist pipe organ seem as soft and whispering as the murmur of a lone pine. It is a handy voice to have when one wishes to be heard, but Willis himself does not realize its carrying power, and he unconsciously "throws it into the high," even if simply talking casually about the weather, or neckties, or caramels. It is a forty-horse power voice, fully equipped, and even in its quieter moments it is like unto the shout of a cheer leader.

A man came along from Ohio recently to have his first look at the house of representatives in session, and there was a parliamentary question that he didn't understand. The friend who had him in tow steered him into Willis, who used to be a college professor, and knows all about such things. Willis explained it all quite clearly. But when the explanation was over the visitor fled with an agonized look. He declared that Willis had completely ruined his good-as-new hearing apparatus and that it would never be the same again.

Alaskan natives and near-natives do not like Jack London, because he draws too freely on his imagination for his incidents in his books on Alaskan life. On the other hand, they all have a high opinion of Rex Beach, because much of his stuff is based on actual happenings. The fact that London's stories are frankly fiction, not supposed to be true, makes no difference. They don't care for London.

James Wickersham, the Alaskan delegate, had a new novel on Alaska sent to him just before he started on to Washington. It was a vividly written story and gave a good idea of Alaskan life, besides having a cleverly conceived plot. He handed it to a friend, an old miner, to read.

The man read it through to the last word with apparent interest, and then threw it against the wall with disgust, exclaiming:

"It's a blamed lie! I've been livin' here sixteen years myself, and if any of that ever happened I'd have heard about it."

A Citizen Who Was a Grouch.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "I had a little lesson several weeks ago," remarked the man with the gray mustache, "and it called me in good shape."

"Go ahead," said the stout man.

"I was in the garage where I keep my car and happened to overhear a conversation among the boys. A certain man had been injured while traveling abroad—very badly injured, it was reported—and one of the boys was telling the others about it. The story in the paper says he can't get well,' the youngster went on. 'Did you know him, Pete?' And the boy addressed promptly replied, 'Sure, I knew th' old grouch.' Say, that hit me pretty hard. Here was a leading citizen dying and all the boy could remember about him was that he was a grouch. Yes, sir, it made me sit up and think hard. And I got in my mind that when I passed out I'd like to be remembered for something different."

"That's worth considering," said the other man.

"Good text," said the first man.

"Good sermon," said the other.

The Washing.

Little washwoman just emptied her tub;
Ever since sunrise, rubbety-rub.
Dolly's fine linen spread under the rose—
'Hoppers and crickets, don't step on those clothes!

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

Objection to Combine.

St. Cloud Times: There is a movement, originating, we believe, with certain senators more or less allied with what is popularly known nowadays as "reactionaries," and a few regarded as representative of corporate interests, to take the appointment of the senate committees away from Lieutenant Governor Burnquist, and leave the selection to the senate itself. Ordinarily we would interpose no objection to this method. It is the custom in the United States senate for the political divisions to select their own committeemen, and the national house has taken that power away from the speaker. In some states this method of committee appointments, we believe, is the rule.

But there is objection to adopting this plan in Minnesota this year. Mr. Burnquist was elected with a belief on the part of the people that he would have the appointment of committees, as has been the universal custom. He is known as a progressive, and it was felt that his committee appointments would be in the interest of progressive policies, rather than reactionary or standpat. The movement to take this power away from him is regarded and must be looked upon as a scheme of the so-called interests to defeat progressive legislation. Whether this be so or not, it will be the opinion of the people of the state.

The Short Session.

Milaca Times: The state Constitution limits the sessions of the legislature to ninety days, but the leaders of the next legislature hope to be able to adjourn the session in sixty days. There is a certain amount of work to be done by the legislature during its session and it seems reasonable that an effort should be made to shorten the term. The members are paid by the year so they would lose no salary with a shorter session, yet it would be economy in that it would cut off the salary of the employes and many other expenses. What the people want is to have the work done well, and the sooner it is accomplished the better they will like it.

Burnquist's Inconsistency.

Albert Lea Tribune: The Minneapolis Tribune, which always stands with the special interests, is very much worried over the stand taken by Lieutenant Governor Burnquist and several of the progressive senators on the matter of the appointment of the senate committees by a committee. It recalls the fact that Mr. Burnquist favored such a move in the house and that several of the men who are backing him were also in favor of such a move two years ago.

It wouldn't take much activity on the part of the Tribune to find out now, that Mr. Burnquist is still in favor of just such a move, when it is an honest one in behalf of the interests of the people of the state. But neither he nor any progressive stands for such a move when it is engineered by the machine for the purpose of stifling the cause of the people and defeat the progressive legislation which they demand.

It is truly wonderful how active the reactionaries can be in favor of a progressive move, when it can be captured and used to keep their heads above water.

Why Is It?

Buffalo Journal: The population of the state is ten times what it was in 1873, in which year the legislature was asked for an appropriation of $71,000 to care for the insane in one year. The next legislature will be asked for an appropriation of $1,636,050 for next year, or twenty-three times as much. For the reform school the amount asked is twenty-four times that of 1873.

Another to the List.

Fairmont Sentinel: On the question of calling a constitutional convention in Minnesota, the Sentinel votes aye.

As It Should Be.

Coleraine Optic: At the coming session of the legislature an effort will be made to amend the primary election law so that all candidates for county offices may be placed on the non-partisan ballot. This is as it should be. It matters little to what party a county official belongs and at election little or no attention is given to his political affiliations.

Contrary to People's Wishes.

St. Cloud Journal-Press: It is needless to state that the senators who oppose the appointment of the committees in the regular way will go contrary to the wishes of the people of the state. There is no reason why Burnquist should not be permitted to appoint the committees. He proposes to do so for the best interest of the state, and he has the courage to do it. To have a senate combine successful would meet with general distrust and disapproval. We trust the senators from Northern Minnesota will stand by Burnquist, and thereby command the continued approval of their constituents.

Satisfy Yourself

William Johnston in the American Magazine: It is not what people say about you—it's what you are that counts. The one person in all this world whom you should aim to satisfy is yourself. You alone know yourself. Other people know your outward appearance, your actions, your deeds. You, and you alone, know your motives, your ambitions, your thoughts.

Are you satisfied with yourself? It is your own fault if you are not. Are you satisfied that you are doing the best you can in your work, that you are making the best of your time? Are you confident that your conduct toward your family, your friends, your neighbors, your employer, cannot be improved?

Look yourself straight in the face this morning, in your mind's looking-glass. Ask yourself whether it is what people say about you or what you are that hurts. Analyze your own conduct in all matters.

Put yourself in the other fellow's place and try to see your actions through his eyes. Imagine that you are employer instead of yourself. Answer honestly whether if he knew as much about you as you know about yourself he would discharge you or would raise your wages. If you do this conscientiously there are many things you will do differently.

Remember this, too. Other people's opinion of you is based on your own opinion of yourself. Are you self-respecting? Other people will respect you. Are you truthful? The world will believe you. Are you honest? Everyone will trust you.

But weigh yourself frequently. Weigh yourself carefully. Be certain that your own opinion of yourself is justified. Be satisfied with yourself.

•••The joint caucus at St. Paul of the Republicans of the senate and house to nominate a United States senator resulted in eighty-eight votes being cast, all for Senator Cushman K. Davis. Three Bugs.

Three little bugs in a basket,
And hardly room for two!
And one was yellow, one was black
And one like me, or you.
The space was small, no doubt, for all;
But what should three bugs do?

Three little bugs in a basket,
And hardly a crumb for two;
And all were selfish in their hearts,
The same as I or you;
So the strong ones said, "We will eat the bread,
That is what we'll do."

Three little bugs in a basket,
And the beds but two would hold;
So they all three fell to quarreling—
The white, the black and the gold;
And two of the bugs got under the rugs,
And one was out in the cold.

He that was left in the basket,
Without a crumb to chew,
Or a thread to wrap himself withal,
When the winds across him blew,
Pulled one of the rugs from one of the bugs,
And so the quarrel grew!

So there was war in the basket—
Ah! Pity 'tis, 'tis true—
But he that was frozen and starved at last
A strength from his weakness drew,
And pulled the rugs from both of the bugs,
And killed and ate them, too!

Now, when bugs live in a basket,
Though more than it can hold,
It seems to me that they would better agree—
The white, the black and the gold—
And share what comes of the beds and crumbs,
And leave no bug in the cold!

Biblical Relief.

Philadelphia Record: During his first charge a clergyman found the women of the church entirely too much interested. Such a storm of petty squabbles arose from their overeagerness to help that in despair he gave up the place. Not long afterward he met his successor.

"How are you getting along with the women?" asked the escaped minister.

"Oh, very well," was the answer. "There's safety in numbers."

"I found it in Exodus," was the reply.

ON THE IRON RANGES

$10,000 FIRE AT STEVENSON

Store of St. Louis Mercantile Company in Hibbing Suburb Destroyed.

Firemen Unable to Stay Flames, Save Adjoining Property.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Stevenson, the mining suburb about seven miles from here where is located the Stevenson and other mines, experienced a disastrous fire last night when the store of the St. Louis Mercantile company on the main street was practically destroyed with its contents.

The loss is about $10,000 nearly all covered by insurance. The origin of the fire had not been determined up to noon.

Save Adjoining Store.

The fire alarm was turned in about 8:30 and the volunteer department of the town was soon on the scene. Lines of hose were stretched to connect with the water system supplied the town from the Stevenson mine but by the time water was turned on the flames the fire was beyond control. The firemen devoted their energies to saving the Steele store adjoining and succeeded.

H. Miller, the manager of the St. Louis store, was in Hibbing attending the Miller-Jaffe wedding at the time of the fire but hastened home as soon as he was informed of the fire.

POWER PLANT NOW OUT OF COMMISSION

Low Water Compels Tower Electricity Producer to Quit Business.

Tower, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Owing to the low water at the municipal dam at Pike river the old steam plant in town has been repaired and put in service to furnish electric light for the town. The city authorities contemplate raising the dam about four feet to provide for a larger water supply. The city has expended about $25,000 on the plant and it is a disappointment to them that power cannot be had from that source. The street lighting has been suspended more or less for some time past.

WANT LAWMAKERS' HELP

Tower Hopes for Law Change So County Can Assist Dredging.

Tower, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large blue print has been received by W. G. Gallien, secretary of the Commercial club, from Engineer W. A. McCurdy of Ely, showing the course of East Two river and also a proposed change to straighten it, with a report as to the probable cost of dredging the stream as it now runs, also of the cost, including the straightening of it. The figures in either case are about $8,000. It is hoped to have the legislature alter an existing law whereby the commissioners of St. Louis county could assist in the undertaking if they decide on so doing. The improvement will be of great benefit, as the river furnishes a highway in part for many people who live on or near Lake Vermilion and have no roads to reach the city.

FONTANA DISAPPEARS.

Man Alleged to Have Deserted His Family Again Gone.

Chisholm, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Fontana, who has been in the limelight for alleged desertion of his family but has been brought back and made to promise to support them has again disappeared and his family is being cared for by the village. Warrants have been issued for Fontana and if he is brought back it is expected he will be punished.

PUTS MILLER ON PROBATION

Virginia Cashier Who Took Money Is Given Another Chance.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—When district court resumed today after the holiday recess Frank S. Miller, late cashier in the local depot of the Virginia & Rainy Lake railway (Canadian Northern) appeared before Judge Hughes and pleaded guilty to the charge of embezzling about $500 of company money. The court gave him an indeterminate sentence of from one to five years in the state penitentiary then suspended the sentence pending good behavior. Friends of Miller turned over $300 to the railroad and Miller will try to raise the balance.

Extenuating Circumstances.

Miller's plea of being drunk when he took the money and the contrite attitude he assumed along with the fact he has a family prompted the court to be lenient. He required Miller to write once a month to E. C. Everett of Hibbing, the range probation officer and to report to the court in person the fourth Tuesday of each August session of district court.

Miller told the judge that he was intoxicated when he took the money; he realized he had done wrong but hoped to turn over a new leaf.

After hearing his plea and the representations of counsel the court passed the sentence then announced its suspension and other terms. He said that Miller must never drink again and try to lead a new life, that consideration for his family largely prompted the court's act. Alex Tifer, a saloon keeper under bond on the charge of being an accessory to the Miller theft, and Bert Thomas in jail on the same charge, will have their cases looked into by the grand jury.

This afternoon the court is trying the case of Herman Larson vs. Mauritz Laakkanen to recover $1,000 damages growing out of the location of land.

CHISHOLM MEN MAKE PROTEST

Italians and Finns Object to Workingmen's Compensation Act.

Chisholm, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Workers' hall was crowded to the doors Sunday afternoon, when Finn, Italian and other workingmen of this locality voiced their protest against certain features of the proposed workingmen's compensation act. Frank Harris, editor of the Tribune-Herald, was chairman.

Mayor Joseph Austin, in the opening address, reviewed many important weaknesses of the proposed bill. The clause forcing the workingmen to be protected by insurance and then puts the payment of the premium on the laborer, does not appeal to the workingmen generally. They believe that if they are forced to take insurance for their safety and pay the premium they can do so without the state forcing it upon them. Mayor Austin spoke at some length and received a very hearty applause during his remarks and at the close was showered with a lengthy applause.

Duluth Italians Speak.

John Mainella of Duluth addressed the gathering in the Italian tongue. His remarks were very appreciatively received and in closing he was accorded loud applause. William Jacobson, a local Finnish speaker, then spoke in his language, and received marked attention and appreciation. In conclusion Editor Harris complimented the men on the success of the meeting and cautioned those present to stick together and work shoulder to shoulder to have the bill amended before passage, so that their right would receive consideration. A committee was appointed whose duty it will be to circulate a petition for signatures to present to the legislature at an opportune time.

She managed to get the little ones out, but saved nothing. Some hay and a barn also burned. It is believed the children played with matches and started the fire.

BATTLE UNDERGROUND.

Two Miners Settle Grievances and One Is Fined.

Chisholm, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alex Jencheski was fined in municipal court for assault upon Marco Kovacevic. The affair took place in one of the underground mines where the men met for the first time since last summer when Kovacevic appeared as a witness against Jencheski in a case where Jencheski was charged with taking some powder and dynamite not belonging to him. When they met underground Jencheski drew the other into a dispute which resulted in the arrest.

Children dearly love to take delicious "Syrup of Figs" and nothing else cleans and regulates their tender little stomachs, liver and 30 feet of bowels so promptly and thoroughly.

Then they get sick, the tongue is coated, stomach sour, breath bad; they don't eat or rest well; they become feverish, cross, irritable and don't want to play. Listen Mothers—for your child's sake don't force the little one to swallow nauseating castor oil, violent calomel or harsh irritants like Cathartic pills. A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs will have your child smiling and happy again in just a few hours. Syrup of Figs will gently clean, sweeten and regulate the stomach, make the liver active and move on and out of the bowels all the constipated matter, the sour bile, the foul, clogged-up waste and poisons, without causing cramps or griping.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging or injuring your children. Being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful. Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

SPECIAL TRIBUNAL IS FAVORED BY TAFT

President Would Submit Panama Canal Tolls to Arbitration.

Washington, Jan. 6.—President Taft is willing to submit to arbitration the questions at issue between Great Britain and the United States over Panama canal tolls, but he does not favor arbitration by The Hague tribunal. This fact became known here last night upon the president's return from New York. Although he has not yet given the matter official attention, the president would prefer a special board of arbitration composed of an equal number of citizens of the United States and Great Britain. Such was the composition of the arbitral court he proposed to settle any vital question arising between nations when he spoke in behalf of the arbitration treaties.

The president has expressed to friends the view that at The Hague, all Europe would be against this nation and that the moral pressure on the court would be enormous because all Europe is interested in Panama tolls just as much as is England. In a court in which only Great Britain and the United States were represented, it is argued, there would be a much greater chance of a fair decision. Several Democratic senators have voiced the opinion that a special tribunal should be created to arbitrate this dispute.

FAMILY IS LEFT IN WANT

Fire Destroys Home of Frank King on Nineteenth Avenue.

Woman and Children Carried Out in Their Night Clothing.

Fire early this morning left the family of Frank King, 19 South Nineteenth avenue west, without clothes, money or a home. Mr. King, his wife and two children narrowly escaped being burned in their home, the family having been awakened by a policeman, who noticed the burning building from Superior street.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but when discovered, it had gained considerable headway. Mr. King and the patrolman carried Mrs. King and the two children safely across the street to the Esmond hotel, where they are now sheltered without any clothes or money. About $15 belonging to Mr. King was burned in the building.

Several of the men residing at the Esmond hotel gave Mr. King some clothes this morning and he is now attempting to secure some money and clothes for his family, all of whom are at the hotel in their night clothing. The poor commissioner is looking into the case and in all probability the family will receive some aid during the day. The children consist of a boy and a girl, 6 months and 4 years old, respectively.

The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock by a policeman, who knocked at the front door, awakening Mr. King. When the latter attempted to go downstairs, he found the hall filled with smoke. He ran through, however, opened the front door, and with the policeman carried Mrs. King and the children across the street. The interior of the building and the contents are in ruins. Mr. King carried no insurance on his furniture.

In speaking of the fire Mr. King said this morning: "It has left us penniless and we are here without a shred of clothes. Whatever money we had in the house was also burned. I received a position in St. Paul last week and was planning to leave today, but I will not be able to leave until I obtain some clothes for my family." Mr. King is a carpenter by trade and has lived in the West end for a number of years.

BIG SUM IN WOLF BOUNTY

St. Louis County Pays $5,953 to Trappers and Settlers.

No Noticeable Decrease in Number of Animals in Five Years.

St. Louis county paid out more money in bounties to wolf trappers during 1912 than in any previous year in history. A report which has been prepared by E. R. Grignon, a clerk in the auditor's office, shows an expenditure of $5,953 for this item. This is an increase of $2,514 over the year previous, when $3,439 was paid out in reward for wolf destruction.

The 1912 wolf harvest claimed 395 full grown animals and seven cubs. For the former, the county pays $15 each and for the cubs $4 each. Bounties are paid on animals killed only within the county. Itasca county pays $20 for cub wolves and a like amount for the grown animal. Whether or not trappers take their spoils to the county which pays the most bounty is not known, but the fact remains that Itasca county does a thriving business in cubs, while St. Louis county gets comparatively few. It also may be true that the tables may be turned with reference to the full grown wolves.

The winter months bring in more wolves than the summer months. This is due to the fact that the animals are more in the open than in the summer time. Settlers also spend more time in trapping during the winter than in the summer. The man who devotes all of his time to trapping, according to Mr. Grignon, is generally as successful during the summer as in the winter. He is familiar with the haunts and habits of the animal and usually knows where to find them.

No Noticeable Decrease.

Old-time trappers declare that there are as many wolves left in the country now as there were five years ago. The animals mature quickly and observance has shown that a cub born in the spring gets its full growth practically by the following winter. If a female animal, it is not unusual for it to have a litter of ten to twelve the following spring.

The favorite trapping grounds for St. Louis county are south of Hibbing and in the vicinity of Skibo. The animals may be found, however, in almost any part of the county. Five months ago August Frerker killed a large one on the Pike Lake road within the city limits. At Lakeside three or four have been killed during the past season.

The timber wolf is said to be disappearing from Northern Minnesota and is much less frequently killed than the coyote or prairie wolf. The timber wolf usually keeps away from civilization as far as possible, it is said, and many have been driven out of the state and across the Canadian border.

A few timber wolves have been brought in by the trappers. The big bulk of the animals presented for bounty, however, have been coyotes, a smaller animal than the timber wolf. What few have been killed have been trapped near Tower or the extreme northern part of St. Louis county, where there are but few settlers.

N. D. Fairbanks of Goodlands has claimed more bounties than any other one trapper. Mr. Fairbanks has killed and claimed bounties on about fifty animals. He devotes practically all of his time to trapping.

"MONEY" COMMITTEE AGAIN IN SESSION

Among Witnesses to Be Comptroller Murray and T. F. Ryan.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Further inquiry into the so-called "concentration of money and credits" confronted the house banking and currency committee with the resumption today of the money trust investigation. Before the holiday adjournment the committee concluded most of its investigation of stock exchanges and clearing houses, leaving only minor details under those heads to be placed in the record. The concentration of money and credits, the principal branch of the money trust investigation, will conclude the committee's efforts and Chairman Pujo expects to have a report before the house by Feb. 1.

Financiers and businessmen from New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Chicago are under subpoena to appear before the committee in the series of hearings begun today. Comptroller of the Currency Lawrence O. Murray was scheduled as one of the first witnesses. Thomas Fortune Ryan also will appear this week.

GLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

As Patrolman Wanvick was drilling along his beat on the Bowery early one morning last week he heard sounds emanating from the saloon at 509 West Superior street.

He stopped to listen. He thought he heard the faint rattle of chips and voices talking in symbolic terms. "Bet a red; raise you a couple; sweeten the pot; come in with your ante; draw one; whatcha doin'," and other similar phrases reached his ears.

"Huh, that's funny," thought the copper. "Here it's 2 o'clock in the morning and the saloons are supposed to close at 11 p. m. Guess there must be something doing here. There's a streak of light. Guess I'll take a look."

Fastening his eye to the crack whence the glow emanated he saw a number of men sitting about a table. It looked to him as though they were gambling, or at least playing cards. At any event it was a cinch that the saloon was open contrary to law.

The bluecoat couldn't gain an entry and reported to Capt. Fiskett. He was advised to keep his glim on the place and at times to waft in the doorway until someone was let out. When the door was opened he could get inside.

The officer waited several different times. Early Sunday morning he waited again. This time it was not in vain. About 3:30 a. m. footsteps sounded outside the side door. As the person inside turned the knob the copper put his weight against the door. It gave so unexpectedly that the man on the inside was sent sprawling in a heap while the fur-coated minion of the law piled on top of him. Patrolman Andree followed, but more sedately.

But he was inside the place. He found ten men on the premises, part of them taking internal cheer to nerve themselves to face the bitter cold of the outdoors. Roy Thompson, the bartender in charge, was arrested on a charge of keeping the saloon open on Sunday. He pleaded guilty in police court this morning and paid a fine of $100.

Leonard Christopher, a bellboy, was arrested Saturday evening on a charge of having stolen a coat and pair of trousers from D. Yerino. It appeared this morning that he is 16 years of age and the case against him was dismissed. It will be taken up in juvenile court.

Walter H. Van Strum was brought to Duluth from Minneapolis Saturday on a charge of having passed a worthless check for $20 on the Holland hotel management. He asked for an examination when arraigned in police court this morning and his hearing was set for tomorrow afternoon.

John C. Olson protested Saturday that a great mistake had been made when he was arrested on a charge of having passed two worthless checks for $10 each on Bob Armstrong, proprietor of a West Michigan street saloon. He asserted vehemently that he had all kinds of money. To support his contention he displayed a bankbook showing deposits of $2,000. Olson was allowed to make good on the checks and released. This morning it was discovered that his bank account has an actual balance of 19 cents. The conclusion is that he wrote the deposits in his bankbook himself.

Alfred Miller, arrested Saturday on a charge of having robbed Charles Selin of $104 and a gold watch in the North Star saloon on West Michigan street, was indicted by the grand jury today.

Hilda Karl, a resident of St. Croix alley, was indicted for receiving stolen property. After Miller gave her the watch she learned that the police were looking for it and instead of turning it over to the officers she hid it. Wherefore she got herself into a net from which she will not easily shake herself loose.

Hilda got a little advertising some time ago when she accompanied a countryman on a joyride and helped him spend $120 on the classiest spree of his life. The laborer, clad in overalls, with a week's growth of beard and a black pipe which would knock the wind from a windmill, was so hypnotized by Hilda's charms that he let his hard-earned cash roll like water. Automobiles and wines and bright lights were his and Hilda's.

In the morning he had a headache and a flat purse. He accused a saloonkeeper of robbing him and Hilda was brought in at the same time. Neither was prosecuted.

Peter Peterson was arrested last night by Patrolman Oscar Peterson for threatening to carve out the hearts of two Peterson brothers, and incidentally his own brothers. A razor was found in his pocket when he was searched at the West Duluth police station. When he was arraigned in police court this morning he denied that he had been disorderly or threatened to butcher anybody. His trial was set for this afternoon.

Philip Stokes got three months in the county jail and Charles Anderson was handed $50 and costs or sixty days over the hill when they admitted in police court this morning that they had stolen a suit of clothes worth $6 from the Bowery shop of N. Caplan. Stokes appeared to have engineered the job and the police said that he has been spending many winters in Duluth as a gentleman of no work. Anderson has also been arrested before.

William M. Mathews, colored, slapped a darky woman on Superior street late Saturday night and was nabbed by Patrolman Nels Perry for disorderly conduct. He forfeited $10 bail when his name was called in court today.

John Taylor, 56 years of age, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by his wife, Louisa Taylor, charging him with having failed to support her from Nov. 1 to Jan. 4. Taylor pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for Wednesday morning. According to the police the Taylors have been married two years. They say Taylor claims that his wife wants him to support all her relations, to which he objects, thus causing the present difficulty.

John Ryan and Mike McDonald admitted in police court today that they had been fighting on the street Saturday night. The most serious mistake they made was in forgetting that a cop might happen to be about. Patrolman Harling saw the fracas and sent them into headquarters. Neither was hurt and they got off with $3 or three days, each.

WILL HEAR PROTESTS

State Railroad Commission Will Consider Increases in Rates.

Raises Affect All Forest Products---Hard Blow to Loggers.

Loggers and dealers in forest products all through Northeastern Minnesota are deeply interested in a hearing to be conducted at the Spalding tomorrow by members of the state railroad and warehouse commission.

The commission will hear objections to a proposed advance in rates on forest products on the Duluth & Iron Range, Duluth & Northeastern Minnesota, Mississippi, Hill City & Western, Duluth and Northern Minnesota and Minneapolis & Rainy River railroads.

The proposed increases affect all traffic and in some cases run as high as 47 per cent. The railroads also propose to restore the old system of collecting the full combination rate on traffic running over more than one line. The present system is to charge 80 per cent of the combination.

The rates on lumber, posts and poles on the Duluth & Iron Range are marked for advance about 33 1-3 per cent. The road also proposes to charge a higher rate for ties than for lumber, the increase on some ties running as high as 46 per cent.

This is about the middle of the logging season and loggers claim that if the advances are allowed at present they will play havoc with the loggers who have made contracts on the old basis of rates.

The hearing will begin at the Spalding at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and the loggers will be out in force to present their objections.

ARCHBALDS TO BE LAST WITNESSES

Judge and Wife to Testify Before Senate Committee.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The climax of the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court was reached when the senate committee reconvened prepared to hear the testimony of Judge Archbald himself and of Mrs. Archbald.

The accused jurist had determined, after consultation with his attorneys, to answer personally questions as to his relations with railroad officials and charges that he had used his judicial office to influence railroads to make advantageous coal deals with him in the Scranton, Pa., field.

Judge and Mrs. Archbald were the only witnesses remaining to be called for the defense. The latter appeared to tell of the kinship between herself and Henry W. Cannon, whose invitation to Archbald to enjoy a European trip at his expense has been brought into the impeachment case as indicating Judge Archbald's receipt of favors from possible litigants. Mr. Cannon is a relative of Mrs. Archbald.

OBITUARY

Editor James Ryan of the Appleton Crescent, for 59 years at the head of the Appleton Daily Crescent, and said to be the oldest active newspaper man in the country, died in Appleton, Jan. 2, after an illness of only a few weeks. He and a brother established the paper.

Former Congressman Capel L. Weems, died at Steubensville, Ohio, Jan. 5. Death was due to valvular heart trouble. Mr. Weems represented the Sixteenth district in the Fifty-eighth, Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth congresses. He was 53 years of age.

Eben Smith Wheeler, chief United States engineer in the Detroit district, and chairman of the Nicaraguan canal commission, died at Detroit Jan. 5. He was 74 years of age. Death was due to heart disease. Mr. Wheeler had charge of construction work at the Soo canal and spent much time in perfecting surveys of the Great Lakes. In 1897 he went to Nicaragua and spent a year in making surveys for the proposed waterway, which later was abandoned in favor of the Panama route.

GOOD DEMAND FOR BLANKS

Many Certificates for Nomination of Candidates Given Out.

Fay Petition Complete---Want Blanks in Public Places.

City Clerk C. S. Palmer says that the demand for certificates for the nomination of candidates for commissioner continues strong and several hundred of the individual certificates have been issued.

No new names have appeared in the field in the last few days, but friends of several prominent men are said to be working quietly getting petitions circulated.

Marcus L. Fay, candidate for mayor, reported Saturday that more than the required number of individual certificates had already been sent to him, and he would be ready to file his petition now if it were allowed under the charter. Over sixty certificates requesting his nomination have been signed, whereas only fifty are necessary.

A suggestion has been made that a number of blank certificates should be placed in public places so that citizens could start the circulation of petitions without being required to call at the city clerk's office. It is believed that good material for the commission would be brought out in that way. The objection to the plan is that each certificate must be acknowledged before a notary public, and some organized effort will be necessary to have the required number signed for any one candidate.

All candidates now in the field, or their friends, are working industriously. Other are expected to appear almost daily and by the time the date for filing petitions arrives, many will be ready for submission to the city clerk.

SALARY IS HELD UP.

Minot Normal Head Having Trouble Collecting $500.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—President-elect R. R. Crane of the Minot normal school is meeting with difficulties in the collection of his salary.

The state auditing board has refused to O. K. his bill for salary for November and December, approximately $500, on the contention that inasmuch as there is as yet no normal school under way at Minot, that there certainly should be no need of paying a president.

The state normal board of control has a different view of the situation, and it is upon the action of that board in appointing President Crane and authorizing him to take charge of the preliminary work at Minot during the past two months that the state auditing board is centering its attack.

COMBINATION POWER EXPERIMENT.

Indianapolis News: There is in experimental use on a Swedish railroad a car holding forty passengers run by a combination of electricity and oil. The electrical equipment is driven by a Deisel engine, consuming crude oil and is said to show as high efficiency as gasoline engines. The railroad line is a short section of twenty-five miles, and a good speed of forty-five miles an hour is obtained. As usual, the engine drives a dynamo, so as to give current for the car motors. The fuel consumption is twenty-two pounds of oil, against five-tenths to one ton of coal for a steam locomotive, and a small amount of water is used.

Rev. W. H. Farrell of the Asbury M. E. church, Sixtieth avenue west and Raleigh street, will, next Sunday morning, begin a series of eleven sermons on "The Life of Christ," every one of which will be illustrated with stereopticon pictures.

The sermons will be given every Sunday morning for eleven weeks, ending on Easter Sunday morning. About 400 pictures of Christ, reproduced from the famous paintings by Tissot, are to be used in illustrating the sermons. The subject of the sermon next Sunday will be "The Childhood of Christ."

In addition to the illustrated sermons, Rev. M. Farrell will introduce probably for the first time in this part of the country, illustrated songs. Rev. Mr. Farrell is planning to have one of the church soloists sing a song each week, accompanied by these slides. The songs are all to be of a semi-religious nature, or old songs sung a half a century ago. Next Sunday morning "The Lost Chord" will be featured during the services.

An unusually large crowd is expected to attend the services next Sunday and Rev. Mr. Farrell is now making arrangements for a special song service during the morning. Anyone interested in the sermons is invited to attend the services.

"THINGS I NEVER TELL MY WIFE"

"For Instance, I Never Tell Her That She Cannot Play Bridge---There Are Those Who Do Not Mind Playing With Her---I Do."

London Mail: All men keep their counsel to themselves in certain matters, I imagine. At any rate, all wise men do. I never have told my wife what our exact income is. When I proposed I explained that I had about $5,000 a year.

It has increased since then, but she does not know it. It is better she should not. Women's instinct nearly always leads them to live up to their income. Men are the savers, women the spenders. Did you ever know a woman to insure her life?

On the other hand, I do not tell her. "Leave all business and money matters to me, dear." I started a bank account for her as soon as she began housekeeping, and do all I can to encourage her to understand business.

If I die, she will need understanding of that kind. I have known widows who did not know how to draw checks and who had no more idea how an income came from investments than they had of the working of a gasoline engine. The car went. The money was there. That was all they knew.

I never tell my wife she cannot play bridge. She likes to play, and there are people who do not mind playing with her. I do. But I would not for the world let her see. I manage adroitly to get to another table.

Her Way of Thinking.

She does not believe anyone who explains her faults to her. She is quite patient and docile, but she thinks inside her (I know her so well I can see her mind working) that the complainer must either be very stupid or have some ulterior end in view.

Mind you, I do not like her any the less for it. The fact is, the more one studies a person the more one understands their character, and "when you know everything, there is nothing you cannot pardon," as the French say in their proverb, so tolerant and humane, like all their views of life. If I were married to a strong minded woman without any foibles or "pretty Fanny's ways" I am sure I should detest her. All charming natures are full of defects. It is part of their charm.

Do not, if you are wise, O husbands, ever speak about anything your wives are wearing unless you are prepared to say how nice it looks. The other morning at breakfast I noticed that Ethel had on a piece of flat ribbon instead of a tie. I said, "Why don't you tie your tie?" She replied that it wasn't a tie, it was a ribbon, and fashion decreed that it should be worn flat.

I said "Oh, all right," but do you suppose she would let it go at that? Indeed no. She kept on about its being the fashion. Would I like to see her defy fashion and wear clothes like the suffragettes? As a matter of fact, the only suffragette we know personally happens to dress extremely well (which is natural, seeing she is young and good looking and pretty well off).

Criticism of Clothes.

I was foolish enough to mention this. That led to more trouble. If I admired her so much, why hadn't I married her? That would have been kinder to her (Ethel) than waiting till after I had married someone else (Ethel) and then letting someone see I really admired her (the suffragette).

I always wear a black tie relieved by a pearl pin which was given me long ago. I mention this because it reminds me of something else that I do not tell her.

She supposes, if she has ever thought about it, that I bought the pin myself. I did not. It was given to me by a woman who was once very dear to me. We nearly married.

Now I think it was just as well we did not. We were too much in love on both sides to allow for much chance of permanent happiness

It is quite enough in a marriage for one to be desperately in love. The wise French philosopher La Rochefoucauld said that in love affairs there is "always one who gives the kisses while the other offers the cheek." That is true in almost every case. But there are exceptions, and usually from these exceptions unhappy marriages spring.

Knowing How To Handle 'Em.

So I feel certain I am happier with my little wife than I should have been if that earlier dream had come true. And sometimes I feel I should like to tell her all about it. Happily for both of us, I have suppressed that feeling. She knows nothing whatever about it. She has no idea that I was ever in love before I met her.

It is infinitely better so. Never tell a woman that she is not the first and only. If a longing to "confess" comes upon you, stifle it. It has its root in vanity. We all like to talk about ourselves. Sometimes that liking can be harmlessly gratified. But there are times when yielding to this vanity is cruel. I have known married lives embittered by it.

And now, having mentioned a number of things I do not tell my wife, I should like to add one that I do tell her constantly, which is that I consider her the dearest and cleverest and prettiest little woman in the world. That is the oil which lubricates the domestic motor. That is why we get along so well.

BURROUGHS' BELIEF IN EVOLUTION.

From "Time and Change," by John Burroughs: It seems to me that evolution adds greatly to the wonder of life, because it takes it out of the realm of the arbitrary, the exceptional, and links it to the sequence of natural causation. That man should have been brought into existence by the fiat of an omnipotent power is less an occasion for wonder than that he should have worked his way up from the lower non-human forms. That the manward impulse should never have been lost in all the appalling vicissitudes of geologic time, that it should have pushed steadily on, through mollusk and fish and amphibian and reptile, through swimming and creeping and climbing things and that the forms that conveyed it should have escaped the devouring monsters of the earth, sea and air till it came to its full estate in a human being, is the wonder of wonders.

A. J. McGuire of Grand Rapids Among Notables Who Will Speak.

Northfield, Minn., Jan. 6.—The committee arranging for the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Minnesota Dairymen's association to be held here Jan. 21 to 24, reports unusual interest in the meeting, and expects an attendance of at least 500. Special attention is being given to the dairy show, which is held in connection with the convention. COWAN LEAVES BENCH.

North Dakota Jurist Has Retired to Private Life.

Devils Lake, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in twenty-six years, John F. Cowan is today without a public office, or without being an officer-elect. Twenty-six years ago he was elected to his first office—that of justice of the peace in Devils Lake—and from that time until today, he has never been without an office. When Judge Charles F. Buttz of Minnewaukan was sworn in as judge of the Second judicial district this morning, Judge Cowan ceased his official career.

His retirement at this time recalls many incidents in his career, not the least spectacular of which was the impeachment proceedings against him two years ago, and his acquittal at the hands of the state senate.

It was in 1884 that Judge Cowan received his first public office, taking the humble position of justice of the peace. Two years later he was elected county superintendent of schools for Ramsey county, succeeding himself in 1888. Upon his retirement from the school superintendency, he stepped into the position of state's attorney, being elected to that office while still in the school office.

As state's attorney he served two terms, concluding his work in 1894 when he was elected attorney general of North Dakota, serving three terms, or until 1900. Then, upon the retirement of the late Judge Morgan from the position of judge of the Second district, Mr. Cowan was elected judge, serving continually until today, except during the period he was suspended while his trial was in progress before the court of impeachment. He will take up the practice of law and also give time to managing his farming properties.

OBJECT TO FOOD.

Walker Sanitarium Patients Ask Governor to Order Change.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 6.—Revolt against hash served at the state sanitarium for consumptives at Walker, has been reported to Governor Eberhart in a petition signed by nearly 100 patients. They have been given hash, the petition says, till their stomachs have rebelled and the aid of the state's chief executive is asked to relieve the situation. Included with hash, are other foods of which the patients have tired.

Governor Eberhart said the complaint would be referred to the board of control or to the board of visitors for investigation.

ONLY FOUR CHANGES.

Nearly All Former Red Lake County Officials Re-Elected.

Red Lake Falls, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new Red Lake county officials will assume office tomorrow. There are only four changes in the list of officers.

There will be two new members of the county board. C. O. Kankel and William C. L. Demarn will retire. L. C. Candieux of Terrebonne has been elected a member from the Second district and Andrew Hanson of Equality from the Third. Sam E. Hunt was re-elected in the Fourth district. Commissioners Pigeon and Schultz hold over.

There will be only two new officials with offices at the courthouse. Auditor A. A. Latnedresse was not a candidate for re-election and he will be succeeded by George Dupont of Terrebonne. Albany Deforge will be the new superintendent of schools. He will succeed H. T. McAnulty, who was appointed for the unexpired term when R. P. Anderson resigned two months ago.

Treasurer G. G. Kindseth, Attorney Charles E. Boughton, Register Frank Jeffers, Judge Perrault, Sheriff Fellman were re-elected. Clerk Johnson's term has two years to run.

BIBLE IN SCHOOLS.

North Dakota Minister Wins Fight for Its Elective Use.

Carrington, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—After two years of strenuous affort and agitation, Rev. J. I. Asher of this place succeeded in having the state high school commission adopt the Bible as one of the studies in the high schools of the state with credits to be given on it just the same as any other study. It will be made elective with the pupils and in no case compulsory.

STRANGLES WOMAN, THEN SURRENDERS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6.—John Conley, 26 years old, late Saturday strangled Mrs. Bertha Anderson to death in her home, 411 Seventh avenue south, with one of her husband's neckties.

Later Conley walked into police headquarters and, without evidence of emotion, called Desk Sergeant Irving Jones aside and told him he wanted to speak to him privately.

"I just strangled a woman to death at 411 Seventh avenue south, and I want to give myself up," he announced.

He declared that Mrs. Anderson had reviled his wife to him and that he was seized with a murderous frenzy that knew no control. He told how he grasped the woman by the throat, choked her with his hands until the glare of her eyes terrified hom, and how he then took a necktie from a dresser in the room and tied it about her neck so tightly that the end snapped.

BRAINERD MAN BURNED.

Burning Kettle, Thrown From Building, Hits Him in the Face.

Brainerd, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—C. B. RANCHMAN DISAPPEARS.

Leaves Mandan for Bismarck With $200 and Drops From Sight.

Mandan, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The long absence following the mysterious disappearance of Max Thiel, a young ranchman near Judson, Morton county, is worrying his friends. On Dec. 17 he came to town and left his horse at a livery barn, hanging up his saddle and spurs in the office. Next day he discovered the spurs were stolen and went to Bismarck in search of a man he suspected. He has not been seen since and because of the fact he carried $200 on his person foul play is feared.

Bemidji Should Promote Project.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—That Bemidji should seize the opportunity to promote the Red Lake railroad project so that the proposed line through the heart of the district being opened by the drainage ditches in this and adjoining counties shall connect with Bemidji is the substance of suggestions made by W. B. Stewart, superintendent of schools, and A. E. Rako, chairman of the board of county commissioners, who returned recently from an inspection of the schools in that territory.

Has Eye Shot Out.

Fergus Falls, Minn., Jan. 6.—Walter Johnson of the town of Butler was shot by the accidental discharge of his gun and there is little hope of his recovery. The charge went through the palm of one hand, took the thumb off the other hand, tore his nose from his face, tore out his left eye and passed through a portion of the brain.

Married Fifty-seven Years.

Lakota, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mr. and Mrs. Peter La Tourette of this place recently celebrated at the home of their daughter the fifty-seventh anniversary of their marriage. They have the long distance matrimonial record for this part of the state. Both are so strong and active they are confident of celebrating the diamond wedding. Mr. La Tourette served four years in the Civil war.

County Commissioner Quarantined.

Hazelton, N. D., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—County Commissioner Brant of the southwestern part of Emmons county is quarantined at his home with smallpox. There are a number of other cases reported in the southwestern part of the county. A lax observance of the quarantine regulations because of the mild form of the disease has led to a widespread epidemic in that section.

Minister Badly Burned.

Hillsboro, N. D., Jan. 6.—Rev. E. A. Riess, pastor of a German Lutheran church near here, was so badly burned that there is little hope for his recovery. LATEST SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Gossip, Comment and Sporting Editorial Review as Written By Bruce.

JIM THORPE, who next to Woodrow Wilson is the largest publicity point winner of the past year, the other day went out to Prague, Okla., and stirred up latent longings in the hearts of the Fox and Sac tribe of Indians. They recognized in Jim one of the heroic figures of modern times and forthwith held forth the prodigal paw as the forgiving pa did to the prodigal son, back in the days before football games, Olympic feats, and the firmly established publicity organs.

Outside of old Sitting Bull, Rain in the Face, Black Hawk and a few others who stirred up trouble and the war department in the frontier days, there have been few of the Aborigines who have captured more "slug heads" and double column notices than this Jim Thorpe, who, though he lives in times when there happens to be no wars between the reds and the paleface, managed to revenge some of the ancient animosities by shattering, almost unaided, the hopes of the army, represented by the West Point football team, in the game against Gen. Warner's Carlisle demons.

They say that the Fox and Sac boys gave Jim the best in the tepee and told him to go as far as he liked. This kind of hospitality shows that the Indian is a pretty good sport in times like the above related occasion, and because he often hid behind trees in stirring times of the painted past and took a crack at the head of the paleface when said agent of civilization was bound and tethered to a stake, the proper appreciation of the deeds of the hero is not entirely lacking in his makeup.

THESE Sullivan boys are the Damon and Pythias of the prize ring. Castor and Pollox, Dora and Louise in the "Two Orphans," Robert W. Chambers and Charles Dana Gibson or Rube Waddell and demon rum have no closer affiliations than the one between these Irish twins, the Sullivans, who have through the interminable years it seems, fought in the different classes and generally managed to get away with the better end of the decision.

One plugged for the other. When one fights the loving brother is often found in the corner. One goes to the sporting editor and tells of the greatness of the other one, and the next day the case is reversed. They are closer than the glue trust to the dollar.

The other night at Buffalo, Jack Twin went up against "One Round" Davis, and in the third round when Jack was getting a hardy lacing in the region of the tummy, Mike Twin stepped majestically into the arena and tossed the sponge forth, therefore signifying that the battle had been abandoned.

In the case of a hardened second the ending would have been very different. Most seconds have about as much feeling as the proud and haughty mother in the melodrama, who parts with her child early in the first act, thereby felicitating the part and providing a training quarters for Kid Virtue.

As we said, most seconds yell to their fighters to go in and knock the bean of the other guy off, when their charge is reeling around the ring, grim and groggy, and holding on because he doesn't want to be branded with the odious iron of the quitter.

But with loving and admiring brother Mike Twin in the corner of reciprocating brother Jack Twin, there was not the slightest chance to pull any of the rough stuff.

FAME is surely fleeting and something that you have to take on the jump. There is a middleweight in Chicago by the name of Mike Cantwell, and, worse still, a fighter, small and rather fat, as the name Heine would indicate, who used to beat the everlasting greed for battle out of Luther McCarty. It is said that the man now called the white heavyweight champion of the world used to ask humbly to take off the gloves.

It has been the same way with other champions in the past. Jeffries showed the streak before he became the champion of them all, and Young Corbett quit out in Denver in battles with Kid Broad and Benny Yanger. But after his battle with terrible Terry McGovern—yea, even before that fight, he showed nerve and coolness, not to mention gameness, that won him the admiration of thousands of followers of the ring game. As a matter of fact the gamenes of Young Corbett was one of his leading characteristics.

Kid McCoy showed some of the tainted stuff in a contest with Billy Steffers, but when he became one of the real boys the government inspectors could have found nothing about the kid that streaked in the least of saffron.

Luther may come up in the line of courageous battle and prove to be one of the gamest fighters that we have ever had. The fighting heart has come to lots of pugs who in the beginning didn't seem to possess this essential. Football players have come under the writer's observation, who lacked the grit and pluck necessasy to make a great player when starting out, and yet developed into great players in the end.

You never can tell who is going to be a great man on the morrow; and that is one of the pertinent reasons why tired business men should be kind to their office boys.

HERE is one of the strange stories that has due its way out through the underground system of the sporting world.

This narrative goes on to state that the real reason why Jim Jeffries entered the ring at Reno a broken man, a mere physical wreck, was because Sam Langford knocked out the once invincible pride of the white race several days before the battle with Johnson.

It is said that a bout was held in one of the big rooms of the hotel between Jeff and the Boston tar baby, just to see how good Jeff was, and that in the fourth round the stubby black put over the K. O., Jeffries found, the story says, that he could not hit, was slow and would be an easy prey to Johnson. Knowing that he had no chance in the world but to receive a good hiding, it is not strange that he put up a fight that was a disgrace and utterly lacked any faith in his ability.

If all the stuff pulled in the fighting game were to come to light, there would be some interesting stories to tell. There is the yarn about Jeffries knocking out Fitsimmons before the first ring battle at Coney Island, when the ruby one lost the championship, and there is the tale about Charley Mitchell trying to get into a rough and tumble fight with Jim Corbett before the battle at Jacksonville.

IN MATCHING Stanislaus Zbyszko against the winner of the Ordemann-Westergaard wrestling match, which will be held in Minneapolis on Tuesday evening, and will be for the American championship, Duluth gets one of the big contests of the year, indeed if not one of the real plums.

The managers throughout the country know that this is one of the real sporting centers of the country. They know that the big cards draw the house in this town, as does any first-class sporting attraction. Therefore, when an offer was wired to Jack Herman, manager of the giant Pole, and Oscar Thorson, manager of Jess Westergaard, the Swedish mastadon of Des Moines, Iowa, and to George Barton on behalf of Ordemann, the offer was accepted, and when the winner of the Minneapolis bout is determined Herman will cancel all exhibitions he has booked for the mighty Pole and will prepare for the big match here.

This is the biggest wrestling contest that has perhaps ever been secured for this city, and the announcement of the coming contest has already created a distinct stir in wrestling circles.

Zbyszko is a prime favorite here as he is elsewhere. With the retirement of Gotch he is the real champion heavyweight of the world. He is a great wrestler, possessing the most remarkable physique in the world, now that Louis Cyr is passed to the great beyond. No wrestler in the world, not even including Gotch, has proved such an immense a drawing card as Zbyszko, who, starting as the greatest Greco-Roman wrestler in the history of the world, is today disputing with the title holder the right of the championship in the modern and more complicated game of catch-as-catch-can.

MAJ. DAINGERFIELD DIES 2 DAYS AFTER PARTNER.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 6.—Maj. Foxhall Alexander Daingerfield, manager of the racing and stable interests of James R. Keene, his brother-in-law, died at a hospital here yesterday unconscious of the fact that his long-time business associate and relative had passed away two days before. He was 73 years old.

The two men had collaborated in raising some of the most famous thoroughbreds the world has known. Maj. Daingerfield had been critically ill following his return from a Baltimore hospital a week ago. During his illness of last year, Maj. Daingerfield's daughter, Miss Elizabeth Daingerfield, known as a magazine and newspaper writer, has managed the big stock farm.

Before his death, Maj. Daingerfield compiled statistics showing that in the six years from 1906 to 1910, Mr. Keene's winnings from his Kentucky-bred horses aggregated $1,237,050.

AUTO POLO IS A REAL LIVE GAME

Auto Polo Is One of the Latest Crazes of the East. Crazy Crazes Might Be an Appropriate Name for the Sport. Pony Polo Is Pretty Rough, but the New Game Should Be One of the Most Thrilling Pastimes That the Inventive Mind of Man Has Yet Conceived. The Men With Money Have Taken Kindly to the Game and It Promises to Be One of the Rages of the Fashionable Colonies. It Is Not Likely to Be Popular With the Wage Earners.

ST. LOUIS BROWNS LEAD IN BATTERS STRUCK OUT

Had Hugh Chalmers offered an automobile to the American league player of 1912 who struck out the least frequently, the man who would have won the car would in all probability have been a member of the White Elephants. It is a certainty that neither the St. Louis club, which finished next to the bottom, or the Washington team, which finished next to the top, would have claimed the winner, for these two combinations possessed the ablest missers in the junior organization. The Browns struck out 783 times in 157 games and the Senators did the Gus Hill act on 751 occasions in 154 contests.

The White Sox were the third easiest team to fan, they whiffling on 645 occasions. The Tigers were retired on strikes 604 times; the Highlanders and the Red Sox, 585 times; the Naps, 571 times and the White Elephants, 562 times. The club records of strike outs were kept last season, but the individual records were not, though they will be in the coming campaign, and then fans will be able to learn who was the hardest man to retire on strike.

When Napoleon Lajoie was in his prime he seldom struck out more than ten times a season and last year he wasn't whiffed very often. Harry Davis, who led the American league in home runs for several seasons, was, on the contrary, frequently striking out. Russell Ford of New York once made Connie Mack's first lieutenant hit nothing but the air four times in one game.

Ty Cobb does not strike out very frequently, and when he does miss three in a row more than once in a game, it generally will be found that some left hander is opposing the Tigers. Back in 1910 Jim Vaughn fanned the Dixie Demon, who had a monopoly on winning the Chalmers trophy until last season, three times in one game.

The greatest number of strike-outs registered in an American league contest last season was fifteen, Coombs, Brown and Pennock of the White Elephants claiming this number of victims among the Detroit Strike Breakers on May 18. In this contest the Michigan team was routed, 24 to 2.

On Sept. 14, Hamilton of St. Louis fanned fourteen of the Washingtons, but he was poorly supported and lost his game, 4 to 2. Thirteen strike-outs were claimed by Scott of Chicago in a fifteen-inning game against St. Louis on April 20, and by Walter Johnson of Washington against Boston on May 30. McConnell of New York set down a dozen of the Browns on strikes on July 13.

Following is a table showing the number of times the American league teams were retired on strikes last season:

Clubs—	Games.	Strike-Outs.	Av. per Games.
St. Louis	157	783	4.99
Washington	154	751	4.87
Chicago	158	646	4.08
Detroit	154	604	3.92
New York	153	585	3.81
Boston	154	585	3.80
Cleveland	155	571	3.68
Philadelphia	153	562	3.67
Totals	1,238	5,086	4.11

ST. PAUL GETTING READY FOR SPIEL

Strong Rinks of Saintly City Practicing for the Big Event.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 6.—Only two weeks now remain until the opening of the Northwestern Curling association's twentieth bonspiel, which is to be held at the new clubhouse of the Curling club of St. Paul. The entries for the event are already pouring in to the local authorities and they have far exceeded the expectations and there is no doubt about the list being larger than at any previous spiel in the city.

Nothing now remains but the weather proposition and this has really been the one big issue with which St. Paul curlers have had to contend. The season was delayed some two or three weeks by the mild weather and after the curling was finally begun another thaw set in and spoiled things, although it lasted but a short time.

Local Curlers Practicing.

On New Year's day, when the first of the season's events was started the ice became so soft and sticky that it was with difficulty that the match between the rinks representing the president and vice president of the club were enabled to compete. During the past three or four days, however, the temperature has taken a drop and the curlers' hearts have been gladdened, for now they can get their much needed practice.

Canada has been more fortunate so far, as weather for curling is concerned, and the men from across the border will come to St. Paul with two or three weeks of practice to their advantage and the American rinks will have to extend themselves to the limit to take away their share of the jewelry.

Rinks Have Not Been Selected.

As yet the personnel of the St. Paul rinks which are to compete in the bonspiel has not been announced. In fact, the rinks have not been selected and doubtless will not be until the conclusion of another week of practice. During the coming week the club will be busier than ever and the six sheets will be worked hard. With the best curlers of the old Nushka and Capitol clubs to pick from there will be from ten to twelve of the strongest rinks ever gathered together in St. Paul. With such famed skips as W. D. Stewart, Lam Defiel, Tom McDermott, Bob Dunbar, Griggs, Ordway and many others and sixty or seventy of the best curlers in the city to back them up, St. Paul ought to bring home the bacon.

Much Interest in Spiel.

Already there is considerable talk going the rounds of the local members in regard to the various events of the spiel and, of course, the international is the most talked of of them all and it is that event that the Americans are planning on winning whether they win any others or not.

FOR TARGET MATCHES.

Largest Rifle Contest in World to Be Arranged for.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The National Rifle association will meet here beginning Thursday to consider arrangements for the target matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, next summer. The association matches will be held from Aug. 8 to 23; the national matches from Aug. 25 to 29, and the international matches from Sept. 1 to 9.

At the international matches it is expected there will be representatives not only from the Union of International Rifle associations and the Pan-American Shooting union, but also from countries not having members in those organizations, and it is expected as many as twenty-two foreign teams will compete in the team matches.

Cash prizes aggregate $17,000 and medals and plaques valued at $3,000 more will be awarded in the international matches. Efforts are being made to have congress appropriate $25,000 toward the expenses of the international match.

Lieut. Isaac P. Dortch of the navy and Capt. Douglas C. McDougall of the marine corps have been selected for duty as captains of the teams respecting their service in the national match.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 6.—The National baseball commission is holding its annnual meeting here. It began its sessions at 10 o'clock this morning. Unlike the majority of former annual meetings, there is no one case to come before the body that stands out prominently over the others.

The commission will hear the report of its chairman, August Herrmann, its secretary, John E. Bruce, and then elect its officers for the ensuing year. There has been no intimation other than that both of the above named officials will be re-elected. The commission is composed of Chairman Herrmann, President Johnson of the American league, and President Lynch of the National league, with Mr. Bruce as secretary.

"MIDS" MAY FIGHT FEB. 22

Chicago Syndicate Grooming Willard to Get McCarty's Angora.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh, Wis., and Mike Gibbons of St. Paul will meet on the Pacific coast Feb. 22 if Gibbons is agreeable. McGoorty's manager announced last night that he already has signed and is ready to rush his man to the coast as soon as Eddie has filled three engagements in the East. Jimmy Coffroth of San Francisco has offered the fighters 55 per cent of the receipts for a 20-round engagement. The men will be required to weigh in at 158 pounds ringside and the affair will be called a championship bout.

Trouble for Luther McCarty is brewing here as a syndicate of Chicago sporting men is busy grooming Jess Willard, the giant heavyweight, who has a ten-round draw with McCarty to his credit, for another go at the white champion. Charles Cutler, the wrestler, who is managing Willard, has been offered $10,000, it is said, for his interest in Willard by a syndicate of boxing promoters who wish to get McCarty and Willard matched.

Reddy Willing.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 6.—Eddie Reddy, manager for Mike Gibbons, when shown the Associated Press dispatch signifying McGoorty's willingness to meet the St. Paul fighter, said that a fight would be arranged, providing McGoorty could make 158 pounds at the time of the fight. Gibbons is resting at his home here

M'CARTY WILL BATTLE WELLS

White Champion and Englishman Booked to Meet on July 4.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 6.—Luther McCarty is emphatic in his statements that he will never fight a negro, but in the same breath he remarks that any white man worthy of the chance can have a crack at the title, as the new heavyweight does not intend to bury it.

Tom McCarey, who promoted the New Year's day affair, has wired Bombardier Wells, English claimant, in an effort to secure a match for July 4. McCarty wants to meet Wells first so as to banish any claim the British may think they have to the title. After that he is ready to meet the winner of a Willard-Daley bout before he will clash with Palzer again.

A person seeing both contestants on the street after the fight had little difficulty in picking the winner. McCarty scarcely bore a mark, while Palzer had a pair of puffed eyes, a cauliflower ear and a badly battered face.

ZBYSZKO WILL WRESTLE HERE

Pole Will Meet Winner of Ordemann-Westergaard Match.

Late Saturday final arrangements were completed for a finish wrestling match here between Stanislaus Zbyszko, holder of the world's heavyweight championship if the report of the retirement of Gotch is true, and the winner of the Ordemann - Westergaard match which is book for Minneapolis, Tuesday evening.

It will be either the big Norsk, Jess Westergaard, who in addition to being the contender with Ordemann for the American heavyweight title is also the Swedish champion heavyweight wrestler of the world.

During all the past summer Westergaard has been under the tutelage of Farmer Burns, another Iowan, and also spent two weeks with Gotch on the Master of Humboldt's farm. The ambition of the big Swede is to win the American title, and the match with Ordemann on Tuesday evening will be the first important contest that Jess has wrestled during the present season.

Jess Westergaard, "The Invincible Swede," has defeated Charley Cutler and with his increased poundage and knowledge of the game, is one of the big wrestlers. Either the Iowa Swede or the big Norsk will make a great opponent for Zby.

To make this card the greatest by long odds that has been arranged for wrestling fans here this winter, Louie Zorbas and Mauritz Harris, or Mauritz Peterson, as his real name is, will wrestle the long talked of finish match for the Northwestern lightweight championship.

Zorbas is training at the present time and will be in adsolutely the best condition of his career when he hooks up with the holder of the Head of the Lakes championship. Harris has long been after the chance to meet some good man, and in the little Duluth Greek, who some believe will some day be the champion lightweight of the country, he is going against one of the fastest and toughest boys in this part of the country.

Both of these boys will weigh in at the established lightweight limit of 133 pounds. There is blood rivalry between the two little men and the contest promises to be one that will long be discussed.

BROWN TO BOX STEVE KETCHEL

Word has been received from Chicago that Curley Ulrich, the Superior promoter, has secured Steve Ketchel, a young fighter of Chicago, to spar with Pal Brown in the next exhibition that is to be staged by the Superior Athletic club.

The boys are booked to spar ten rounds, no decision, and it is expected that Brown will show his superiority over the boy from the Windy City. Ketchel is no relative of the late middleweight champion, but has taken the name of the famous Grand Rapids slugger.

Efforts were made, it was stated, to get Knockout Brown to meet Pal Brown, but they failed, and Ketchel will be Brown's next opponent.

MATSUDA BEATS FINN OPPONENT

Matsuda, the clever little Jap who is the protege of Ed Adamson, made Tuominen, the Finn, quit in thirty minutes in the match at Ironwood Saturday night. The Finn got all the wrestling he wanted in the first fall and refused to come back for more. The little Jap went at Tuominen hammer and tongs from the call of time, and the man from Worcester never had a chance. The little son of the Orient was all over his man at all times and handled his man so roughly that Tuominen evidently didn't like the going and despite the efforts of his handlers refused to come back and renew the contest.

FIRST CURLING GAME IS PLAYED IN THE BIG RINK

Informal Opening of Curling Club House Is Celebrated ---Formal Dedication Scheduled for Wednesday Evening.

The first stane in the new curling house has been rolled. Jack MacGregor, the bonny Scot, has the honor of being the first man to hurl the first rock, he being lead on President Stephen H. Jones' rink, which informally opened the curling season by playing and losing to D. B. MacDonald's lads, Saturday.

While the curling season is not formally opened in Duluth, and there is to be a house warming later, the first stane has been sent roarin' down the ice, and this simple act is really the realization, the turning of myth into materialization—for the curling rink, of which the older members of the club have dreamed of for years, has witnessed its first curling game.

Present plans say that Wednesday evening will be the formal opening of the big structure. Plans in detail have not been completed as yet. There is to be music, curling on all of the sheets of ice that have been completed, and what is important to hundreds of the younger members of the club, the big skating rink is to be thrown open.

Later in the week some of the St. Paul curlers may come here and play in an informal spiel that will also be in the nature of a house warming for the rink. However these plans are not definite as yet.

There are thirty-two rinks registered with the games committee for the play that is expected to start within the present week. The members of the committee are desirous that there be at least fifty rinks listed. Therefore it is up to the hustling members of the club to get out and find some additional rinks.

With the big and magnificent rink all but completed, interest in curling and hockey will grow by leaps and bounds from now on and the members of the curling club are heartily expected to whoop it up during the remainder of the winter season, thus making up for some of the time that has been lost while waiting for the completion of the rink.

But we're off, that is, almost, and with the formal dedication of the temple of winter sports, a temple that has been builded on faith, hope and not charity, Duluth is due to enjoy the best season of winter sports in the history of the city.

Saturday President Jones' rink defeated Vice President McDonald's rink, 13 to 12. Composing the winning rink were MacGregor, Warren, Jacobs and Jones. They were opposed by McRae, Forsythe, C. F. MacDonald and D. B. MacDonald.

C. D. Brewer's rink won over the R. J. McLeod rink, 11 to 9.

The victorious rink included German, H. S. MacGregor, Helmick and McLeod. The losers were Kilehll, Dunlap, Dinham and Brewer.

MILLING COMPANY PUTS UP HANDSOME PRIZE.

The Duluth Universal Milling company of this city has offered a handsome loving cup for the local bonspiel. The trophy, one of the handsomest that has ever been offered by any Duluth firm, is being made at the present time by the Bugley company and will be completed in time for the spiel to be competed by the various rinks of the curling club.

The gift adds one more valuable trophy to the prizes that will be hung up for the Duluth Curling club bonspiel, which the present year is expected to be by far the best ever staged by the club.

A tall, gracefully moulded, heavy silver cup, beautifully engraved, the latest donation is a prize well worth striving for.

BIG DULUTHS TO PLAY THE NORTHERNS.

The Big Duluths and the Northerns and the Broadways and the Kelleys are scheduled to play this evening at the Auditorium in the regular scheduled games of the roller hockey league. To date this season all of the games have been very close and interesting and the race for first honors is a very close one. It is expected that the contest between the Big Duluths and Northerns will be about the best exhibition of the game that has been put on here for some time.

Skating Tourney at St. Paul.

GREAT LAKES RECORD FOR 1912 LEADS ALL FORMER

Nineteen Million More Tons Freight From Upper Lakes Than in 1911.

Twenty Thousand Ships Ply Inner Oceans---Few Violations of Rules.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Traffic on the Great Lakes during the last year was greater than ever before, according to reports received by Capt. Bertholf, commandant of the revenue cutter service.

Nearly 72,500,000 tons of freight passed through the Soo canal from the upper to the lower lakes from April 24 to Dec. 19—the period of navigation This commerce, consisting principally of ore and grain, was carried in 29,000 ships, the greatest number of vessels passing through the canal in one day being 124. A year ago only 53,500,000 tons passed through the canal.

Despite this enormous business there were only seventy-nine violations of a strict interpretation of the rules of the department of commerce and labor governing traffic through the canal. Most of them were technical.

STEAMER SAXONA IS SAFE IN PORT

Lost Propellor and in Danger Near Shoals---Towed Into Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 6.—The steamer Saxona of the Zenith line of Duluth, which lost her propeller Saturday night and was in a perilous position near the Waverly shoals for several hours, was brought into port early yesterday.

The Saxona was bound for Ashtabula to lay up for the winter and was the last vessel of the season to clear from a Great Lakes port.

Ironwood Births.

Ironwood, Mich., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Up to Jan. 1, 467 births were reported to the city clerk, two less than in 1911, but as several certificates pertaining to last year's births have not been filed, the final count will exceed the record for 1911.

Crude Oil Advanced.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 6.—All grades of crude oil except Ragland, were advanced 5 cents a barrel today by the South Penn Oil company, the new price being: Pennsylvania crude, $2.05; Mercer black, Corning and New Castle, $1.58; Cabell, $1.65; Somerset, $1.20.

FOUR BULK FREIGHTERS

That Number to Be Added to Great Lakes Fleet This Winter.

Addition Makes 121 Boats Over 500 Feet in Length.

Four bulk freighters will be added to the lake fleet during the coming season, making the total number of ships of 500 feet or more in the lake trade 121, with a carrying capacity of 27,229,550 tons if they are run light through the season for ore. The net increase is only about 335,000 tons season capacity.

The amount of steel tonnage between 400 and 500 feet long this season will consist of 140 vessels. The steamer Gayley was the only American steel ship to be lost last season and no new vessels of this size have been built or ordered for 1913. A vessel of 9,500 tons capacity is being built to replace this ship. The steel corporation has three 12,000-ton ships building for 1913. The L. R. Davidson, which was built for the season of 1912, was included in last season's compilation.

The largest reduction in steel tonnage in the American ore trade was made by sales of ships to Canadian parties. The steel corporation and the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company each sold two small ships to Canadian firms, and the Chill, which was formerly owned by C. W. Elphicke of Chicago, will be transferred to Canadian registry.

Last season there were seventy-seven ships between 300 and 400 feet in length in the ore trade. The Chill, while used in a special trade, was classed as an ore carrier, so the fleet of this size will consist of seventy-six ships unless a sale that is pending is completed before the season opens, in which case there will be seventy-five ships of this class in the bulk freight trade.

Twenty-two vessels averaging 3,300 tons carrying capacity have been reduced to twenty by the sale of the Corona and Masaba by the corporation. The fleet between 200 and 300 feet long, that had an average carrying capacity of 2,650 tons of ore, has been reduced to twenty-nine by the sale of the Pioneer and Cadillac by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company. There will be twenty-six steel barges in the trade this year.

The ships that have been taken out of the bulk freight trade had a carrying capacity of 335,000 tons during a season of twenty trips, while those that will be added have approximately 770,000 tons capacity.

HARD NIGHT FOR FIREMEN

Three Blazes Keep Men Busy in the Bitter Cold.

Former Member of Department Brews Coffee for Workers.

With the mercury 15 deg. below zero and a cutting wind blowing, the fire department was called out three times between 1 and 6 o'clock this morning.

The largest fire was at the frame feed warehouse formerly occupied by J. L. Prosser and located at 112 East Michigan street, where an estimated loss of $1,000 was sustained. The cause was unknown.

At 5:30 the West Duluth department extinguished a blaze in James Jacobson's confectionery store at 5528 Grand avenue. The loss was about $250 and the cause unknown.

At 5:25 the West end company was summoned to the residence of Frank King, at 19 South Twentieth avenue west. The family was driven outdoors into the bitter cold, without warning and without proper clothing. The loss was about $350.

Saturday night at 10:51 fire was discovered in the cabin of Alex McLean at 2737 Lake avenue south, Park Point. No one was living there, but the owner had been there earlier in the evening to search for some articles which had been stored there. It is believed that some one dropped a match without putting it out, thus causing the fire, which was not discovered until they had been gone some little time. The loss was placed at $400.

Much Hardship.

Fighting fires under present weather conditions entails considerable hardship and difficulty. Although the men are clad as warmly as possible, they suffer considerably. Jumping out of bed and into their clothes with almost the same move, they are dashing down the street on the apparatus the next minute. They finish their dressing the best they can under the trying circumstances. The water soon drenches their outer garments and turns to ice almost at the touch, transforming them into human, though active, icicles.

Donald A. Cameron, a former member of the department and now of the Hintz-Cameron company, feed dealers, with the brick building next to the warehouse which was gutted this morning, had a vivid recollection of his early days when he came down to the scene of the blaze on being informed of its location.

Seeing that the flames were under control and that the firm's property was probably safe, he hastened to build a rousing fire. He rustled up a big kettle and a sack of coffee, and in a few minutes he had a big hot brew ready for the "boys." They trooped inside in relays as relieved by the chief and the hot coffee was more than appreciated.

The front door of the frame warehouse was found open when the first company arrived. This leads the department officials to the belief that some one sleeping inside set it on fire.

The flames were discovered by Sergeant Roberg, who saw the glare from Superior street. When the fire department arrived it was a mass of flames. They gutted the building, burned one horse and one box car filled with hay. The building was old and not considered of great value, while but comparatively little stuff was stored inside. The horse was stabled in a lean-to against the warehouse. Policemen from headquarters tried to break into it but the iron-sheeted door was too much for them. The salvage corps smashed down the door with sledges and got the horse as far as the door. There it broke away and dashed back to its death. The car of hay belonged to the Tessman Bros. company at First avenue east and Michigan street. The building of the Hintz-Cameron company was filled with smoke but the damage was slight.

LYCEUM—Fiske O'Hara in "The Rose of Kildare," (for benefit of St. James' orphanage.)
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.

FISKE O'HARA AT THE LYCEUM

Irish Singer in Irish Play Delights Small Audience.

Fiske O'Hara and voice are at the Lyceum. Mr. O'Hara is a most engaging young man. He has an entertaining Irish play and a thoroughly capable company of actors. But his voice holds the greatest charm for his audience and the interest centers on the series of songs sandwiched between the developments of the plot.

Mr. O'Hara sang his way into favor with two small audiences yesterday. Though the crowds were discouragingly small, the tenor sang with all the power and beauty of which he is capable, and he responded as readily to the repeated applause as though he were receiving and plaudits of thousands.

Duluth should and very likely will make up to O'Hara for the small audiences yesterday. Tonight, tomorrow night and Wednesday afternoon and night Mr. O'Hara and his company will appear under the auspices of Duluth council, Knights of Columbus, for the benefit of St. James' orphanage. There has been a good seat sale and the young singer will undoubtedly receive better treatment during the remainder of his engagement.

In humble inn, near ancient castle and in the beautiful Glen of the Little People, Fiske O'Hara sang yesterday and last night as free as a bird, while English soldiers surround him on all sides, seeking to encompass his doom. His voice rose in triumphant tones in "There Is Only One Ireland," and flowed in romantic sweetness in "Pictures in the Fire" and "The Rose of Kildare." He held his audience enthralled while he swept through the beautiful melodies and the encores demanded were sufficient testimony that his singing had fallen on appreciative ears.

Mr. O'Hara's vehicle is not a mere excuse for singing. "The Rose of Kildare" is an entertaining play, strong in dramatic construction, rich in comedy and interesting in plot. It tells of the troubles of Gerald O'Donnell, a young Irish leader, whose death is sought by Brian Burke, a loyalist. The man hunt for O'Donnell is complicated by the love plot between O'Donnell and the beautiful Lady Moya Fitzpatrick. O'Donnell outwits his pursuers several times only to be captured and sentenced to death. The fact that Burke holds a general amnesty is revealed at the last moment by a repentant informer, and O'Donnell is saved. Lady Moya's right to Balymara castle is also established by a charter of King Charles, discovered in the globe on the back of Father Time in a sundial in the garden of the castle.

Mr. O'Hara is surrounded by a capable company. Miss Constance Molineaux, as Lady Moya, "The Rose of Kildare," shines among the members of the supporting company. Miss Molineaux is a beautiful young woman, and she can act. Her manner of appearing deeply affected when O'Hara sings is particularly appealing.

Miss Marie Quinn as Kathleen Riordan, the innkeeper's daughter, is a bright, vivacious little woman, who furnishes a great deal of the comedy in an unaffected way. Miss Quinn has the appearance to go with her part and she cannot but find favor with any audience.

J. P. Sullivan, the veteran actor, makes Deaf Dan a most likable rebel, and John C. Hickey doesn't have to open his mouth to be funny as Terrence Malone. Dean Raymond portrays Major Grimston of the British army, as every inch a gentleman and a soldier. Edward Trevor, as the Cockney sergeant, works good comedy out of the part without overdoing it. Carroll Daly in the difficult role of Brian Burke, the loyalist, makes the character sufficiently despicable.

Augustus Pitou, Jr., has given "The Rose of Kildare" an elaborate staging. The scenery and costumes are faithful to the period. The storm scene in the first act, and the Glen of the Little People in the third act, with a waterfall dashing over the rocks in the background, are realistic and beautiful.

Edward Paulton and Charles Bradley, who wrote "The Rose of Kildare" for Mr. O'Hara have avoided one of the pitfalls of writers of Irish dramas. They have made their war theme the background for their romance, and have made the English officers gentlemen as well as soldiers. The offensiveness that has characterized many Irish plays in that respect is eliminated, and they have added an element of strength to their work through that fact.

QUICK ACTION PLEASES ALL DULUTH

Everybody in Duluth who has tried it for bowel and stomach trouble, is more than pleased with the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. JUST A SINGLE DOSE usually relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation QUICKLY. Those who have been using the more ordinary bowel and stomach remedies say that Adler-i-ka is a big surprise. W. A. Abbett, Druggist, 205 West Superior street.

CHARMING SKETCH AT THE ORPHEUM

Claude and Fannie Usher Are Headliners of Good Bill.

Occasionally a sketch like "Fagan's Decision" and actors like Claude and Fannie Usher, appear in the vaudeville field and restore one's faith in vaudeville sketches as a form of entertainment.

The Ushers are topping an excellent bill at the Orpheum this week with their inimitable sketch. The plot of the little drama is commonplace enough. It tells the story of a retired prize fighter who adopts a girl and finds she is the daughter of his pet enemy. But Miss Usher's little stage picture of the waif is something that those who are fortunate enough to witness it will not soon forget. Her costume may be exaggerated, but her acting is the most delightful little bit of artistry the Orpheum has seen in many a month. Mr. Usher makes a good partner for her, and "Spareribs" must not be forgotten. It is all clean comedy with a little well chosen patnos not smeared on too thickly. This twenty minute sketch in itself makes a visit to the Orpheum well worth while this week.

The Three Collegians put plenty of life into the bill this week, with a very lively and entertaining college turn. One of them can beat a piano in a way that would make any college fraternity welcome him with open arms. Another has a hothouse tenor voice that drips sweetness and also a certain embonpoint and a carefree manner that make the laughs come easily. The third looks like a typical college "grind" and swings clubs and toe dances. The three men look like real students and probably are; they have the real student atmosphere to their act; and they succeed in getting it across, which so few alleged student entertainers do. The dance of the fat youth is a little classic.

Minnie Allen, who is not unknown to Duluth audiences as a musical comedy prima donna, is here in vaudeville this week, doing a clever little turn as a singing comedienne. She has the necessary requirements of a good voice, an attractive appearance, and clothes, but her act is pleasingly different from the usual acts of this type. She is a versatile young woman and introduces a song about sleight of hand work which she illustrates with tricks. Her act has the further merit of being entirely free from any taint of suggestiveness in the songs she has chosen.

The audience is given a touch of grand opera this week in the act of the Ofedos Manon Opera company. There are four people in the company, possessing voices of a quality unusual in vaudeville, and their grand opera selections are well sung and well worth hearing.

Hilda Hawthorne, the woman ventriloquist, has been heard here before, but her act has been improved since her last visit. As a ventriloquist Miss Hawthorne has few superiors, and she offers a very good line of comedy during her act. One or two vocal numbers also add to its variety, and the audience yesterday gave her a warm reception.

The Five Juggling Mowatts present a sensationally fast juggling act as a closing number, and Fred Rouen, aerialist, has an interesting opening turn.

The pictures this week deserve a headline position. One film shows views of the Balkan war in which an actual battle is presented. The shells can be plainly seen bursting on all sides of the camera, and the sand thrown up by the bullets makes one marvel at the courage of the man getting the pictures. The film was very evidently secured at the imminent risk of life, and is the most remarkable example of the energy of the photoplay operators seen in some time.

GOOD PHOTOPLAY AT THE EMPRESS

Plenty of good entertainment is offered in the moving picture line at the Empress theater this week. The dramatic offering in particular is above the average in quality and is truly spectacular. It is a two-reel feature entitled "The Reincarnation of Karma," the release of the Vitagraph company. It is said that the staging of the two reels used in this feature is one of the most expensive undertakings ever attempted in the picture business.

A pretty romance runs through the story of "His Western Way," as pictorially told in one of this week's releases. The film has to do with Bob Ford and his sweetheart, Mary Frawley. Mary drifts away from the old associations but in the end is finally won back.

"Guiseppa's Good Fortune," a humorous Italian selection, furnishes the comedy portion of this week's bill. The film is good for a laugh a minute. Pathe's Weekly shows among many other interesting things several war scenes in the Balkans.

SCHOOL FARM COWS RECORD-BREAKERS

Crookston Farm School Bovines Great Butter-fat Producers.

Crookston, Minn., Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the Northwest experiment farm, operated in conjunction with the Crookston school of agriculture, the dairy records for the past year have been completed and illustrate the value of the work being done along practical lines.

One Holstein cow has a record of 426 pounds of butter fat and 13,300 pounds of milk. Another cow, raised on the farm produced 361 pounds of butter fat and 10,500 pounds of milk. The records of the herd for the past five years were compared and last year the butter fat per cow showed an increase of 75 pounds on an average over five years ago. The herd last year averaged over 300 pounds of butter fat per cow, whereas the average per cow in the state of Minnesota is but 160 pounds per year per cow. Not a single cow has been purchased barring two scrub cows purchased for experiment, and the increase is the result of up-breeding.

It is this practical work being done by the school and farm that is arresting the earnest attention of the farmers and enlisting their hearty cooperation. How this increase was secured will be one of the matters discussed at the farmers' short course, to be held at the school in February.

Given Two-Year Sentence.

Eau Claire, Wis., Jan. 6. — Frank Beecher, who was arrested Saturday on the charge of stealing over $40 from two boarders at Dan Sawyer's boarding house on Bridge street, was sentenced to two years in the reformatory at Green Bay.

WANT ACTION ON NEW ROAD

County Will Be Asked to Do Its Share on State Highway.

Bridge Across St. Louis River Is the First Step Needed.

Members of the Duluth Automobile club and the other organizations and individuals working with it are anxious that the county commissioners, at their meeting to be held tomorrow, will take action sanctioning the construction of this part of the proposed state's Duluth to Twin Cities road. H. J. Mullin, speaking for the club, said to The Herald today:

"We have the backing of the Commercial club, the Rotary club and almost every business man and hotel man in the city, and what we ask the county board to do is to make arrangements with Carlton county for the building of a proper bridge across the St. Louis river at Fond du Lac, near Chamber's grove. The organizations interested in this matter favor the road from here to Fond du Lac, crossing the river there and then going to Wrenshall. Our engineer reports that at very small expense the hill grade there can be overcome by a winding pathway, reducing the climb to a 3½ per cent grade. The road is much shorter than the old highway and we find that the work can be done much cheaper than on the old road. In fact our reports on the old highway show that the cost would be almost prohibitive for there would be five bridges to build across ravines and other work to do.

"Every county south of us has taken action in the matter and they are simply waiting for St. Louis county to give them an open door to get in.

"We find that the range people are very anxious for this action to be taken for they feel that they would be distinctly benefited. The roadway will be built under the Elwell law, by which the state will pay one-half, the county a quarter and the property benefited the other quarter. So it will be a burden on nobody and a benefit to thousands. We hope that action will be taken tomorrow and no further delay caused."

Returns From Convention.

Dr. Samuel Gross returned to Duluth yesterday from Chicago, where he has been attending the annual convention of the Intercollegiate Menorah association. Dr. Gross declared that the Chicago meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and that all of the prominent universities of the country were represented.

Ditch Engineer Here.

P. J. McCauley, official engineer appointed by the district court, who will supervise the construction of Judicial Ditch No. 3, was in the city this morning. He left this afternoon for Floodwood where he will enter upon his duties in connection with the work. The Butler-Coons Construction company of Hibbing, which has the contract for the work, is now clearing the right-of-way and assembling materials so that as soon as the frost is out of the ground in the spring work may be immediately prosecuted.

Deputy Clerks Named.

J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, has made his appointments of deputies in the range towns and in other parts of the county. With one exception, there are no changes, the former deputies holding over. The duties of out-of-town deputies are to issue marriage licenses only. J. L. Lahn has been appointed at Floodwood in place of A. H. Markkanen, who has moved to Duluth.

Case Is Settled.

Charles Hanson, who brought a $3,000 personal injury suit against the Northern Pacific railroad, claiming damages for injuries received in an accident on Dock No. 2 last September, today settled the case out of court, but not until after a jury had been drawn to try the action. The action was the first jury case called. The petit jury reported for duty to Judge Ensign this morning, but up to 2 o'clock this afternoon no other cases had been assigned for jury trial.

The Brazilian empire was overthrown twenty years ago. Lieut. Beals remarked today that as far as he knows he is the only possessor of a complete set of photographs of the royal Brazilian family at the time of the revolution. He says Brazil is a place of wonderful opportunities for the capitalist. Its waterpower, mining and other commercial resources are vast and are waiting American push and energy for their development.

At the November term of court, Goldberg secured a verdict of $225 against the railroad company as damages for the death of a horse killed in transit. The company claimed the verdict excessive and asked that it be set aside and a new trial granted.

UNCLE SAM AS A MERCHANT

Annual Sale of Goods Seized By Collector of Customs.

If you want anything from a cotton handkerchief, to a bottle of whisky, or a crate of hockey sticks you will have your chance to bid on them at the annual sale which the collector of the port, L. M. Willetts, will conduct in the basement of the Federal building on Thursday of this week.

The list of confiscated goods is not quite so large as usual this year but it is "there" with the variety and each lot will be sold to the highest bidder. There will be some things that will go dirt cheap if the results of former years will be duplicated. There will be other things which will go at their full value and some at more than that.

There are two lots of handkerchiefs, one of doilies; then, getting away from the dainties there are several bottles of "booze," old clothes, household goods and other things of the kind. The following table shows the different lots, their foreign and home values and the duty on them:

JUDGE START LEAVES BENCH

Retires From Active Life After Having Been Justice 32 Years.

Succeeded By C. L. Brown as Head of the Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Jan. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Slowly Chief Justice Start of the Minnesota supreme court, with Calvin L. Brown, chief justice-elect, and Associate Justice P. E. Brown filed into the supreme court chamber at 9:30 o'clock this morning and took seats on the bench, the venerable chief in the chair. Closely following came Associate Justices Holt, Bunn and Hallam.

The marshal rapped for order. Chief Justice Start arose, and, in a voice that was husky, began:

"In the order of the discharge of duties of my office I now reach the end of them in administering the oath to the chief justice-elect."

He turned and faced Justice Calvin L. Brown and briefly repeated the usual charge, taking allegiance to the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the state of Minnesota and the faithful discharge of duties. At its close, he said:

"Wishing you, Mr. Chief Justice, unqualified success, I now cheerfully yield to you this place."

He bowed, turned and slowly left the court chambers.

Immediately thereafter the associate justices were sworn in and with clockwork precision, work began.

The retiring chief justice, slightly pale and apparently depressed, lingered for a moment in the consultation room where he and his colleagues have met so many years. A few friends gathered about him.

"Thirty-two years—nearly a generation—I have been a judge," he said, reminiscently. "It's a long time, isn't it?"

I. A. Caswell, clerk of the court, and the aged marshal, stopped to talk with him and an attorney or two came. Presently, however, Mr. Start put on his coat and hat and, alone, walked from the capitol. The latter part of this month he will leave for the South.

Copies of the proposed law as drafted by Mr. Adams were placed in the hands of each member of the welfare board. The proposition will be discussed and the draft amended if necessary to comply with suggestions which may be brought out.

Mr. Adams will take the matter up with the county board tomorrow.

WANT MORE ROOM FOR HANDBALL

Devotees of Game Will Meet at Y. M. C. A. to Frame Request.

There will be a special meeting this evening of all members of the Y. M. C. A. interested in handball and the securing of the proposed new courts. There will be a supper at 6:15, the meeting being set for 7:45.

At the meeting the campaign will be started for the new courts, as handball is one of the popular exercises at the association and the one court is not sufficient to accommodate all those desiring to play. In the event of the new courts being secured it is believed that the game will become very popular here, and that several large tournaments will be staged before the close of the season. A large attendance of those interested in the game is specially desired.

Iron Ore Rates Suspended.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Advances of $2.81 a ton to Boston and $2.38 a ton to New York city, about 50 per cent on ground iron ore from Chattanooga, Tenn., and similarly located producing points, were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission from Jan. 7 to May 7.

PROTECTING STRUCTURAL IRON.

Chicago Tribune: According to the rather surprising results obtained by two German chemists, M. Liebreich and L. Spitzer, who were experimenting with paint as a preventive of the corrosion of iron, it seems that one coat of good paint or varnish is much superior to two or more coats. In their experiments a second or third coat proved absolutely detrimental. The experiments consisted in painting well polished steel bars with one or more coats and suspending the bars over boiling water for four days. Half of the coating was then removed and the bared metal well covered with vaseline to prevent oxidation. In each case, where only one coat of paint had been applied, the bars remained as brilliant and rust free as before the test; but in the case of two or more coats corrosion had taken place. The investigators will not commit themselves as to the explanation of this, but it may be that a coating of several layers provides a less flexible cover, more liable to crack, thus allowing oxidizing agents to penetrate to the metal surface.

EASY PRISON LIFE.

Indianapolis News: If the Montenegrins treat their Turkish captives with half the lenity they extend to their own criminals, there will be little ground for complaint. The central prison at Cettinje is probably the most easy going in the world. No walls surround it, and the inmates, who furnish their own cells just as they please, seem to stay there only because they find their quarters comfortable. The diet is liberal, with wine on occasions and always cigarettes. There is no work to do, no distinctive garb is worn and comparatively free intercourse is allowed with the outside world. On certain feast days, indeed, the prisoners are even allowed to entertain friends.

ELEVEN TRUE BILLS FOUND

January Grand Jury Makes Final Report to Judge Ensign.

Five Indictments Are Held Secret Until Accused Are in Custody.

Eleven true bills were returned by the January grand jury, which completed its work today. The jury reported to Judge J. D. Ensign at 2 o'clock.

Five of the indictments are secret, the defendants not being in custody. True bills were returned against:

Fred Berg for forgery, second degree. Berg is accused of having passed a check for $26.50 on M. Vienel, a merchant on the Bowery about three weeks ago. Berg, it is claimed, secured some articles of clothing and about $20 in change for the check. The proprietor of the store five minutes afterwards found him cashing another check for the same amount in another place in the same block. This aroused his suspicion and he called in a policeman and had Berg arrested.

Felix Puisto for robbery, first degree. Puisto, it is charged, took $85 from John Mattson in a St. Croix avenue saloon on Dec. 12 last. The police claim that the men had been drinking together prior to the alleged robbery.

Max Droszewski for robbery, first degree. Droszewski must stand trial for holding up Thomas Jones, butcher, in the Anderson & Ogg meat market, First avenue east and Fourth street, late during the afternoon of Nov. 27. Droszewski, it is charged, forced Jones at the point of a loaded gun to turn over $28.10 from the cash drawer. He was caught in a barn on First alley after an exciting chase by the police and after shots had been exchanged.

Alfred Miller for grand larceny, first degree. Miller is accused of relieving Charles Selin of $104 in cash and a watch worth $20 on Jan. 3. The money and watch it is claimed was taken in the North Star saloon on Michigan street.

Hilda Kari for receiving stolen property. She is accused of having received the watch alleged to have been stolen by Miller and to have refused to turn it over to the police.

Richard Boynton and Mary Blackwell, for adultry. Both are accused by Herbert Blackwell, husband of the woman.

WHY SPRUCE TREE'S LEAVES STAY GREEN

A Story for Children Told By Miss Lena Marcum to the First and Second Grade Pupils in Washington School, Eldorado, Kas.

El Dorado, Kas., Times: One day a long time ago, it was very cold, for winter was coming. All the birds flew to the warm South to wait for spring. But one little bird had a broken wing and could not fly. He loked all around to see a place where he could keep warm. He did not know what to do. At last he looked at the trees of the great forest and said:

"Perhaps the trees will keep me warm through the winter."

So he went hopping and fluttering along with his broken wing till he came to a slim, silver birch tree.

"Beautiful birch tree," he said, "will you let me live in your warm branches until spring?"

"Dear me! What a thing to ask," said the birch tree. "I have to take care of my own leaves this winter. That is enough for me. Go away."

The Hard-hearted Trees.

The little bird hopped and fluttered with his broken wing and the next tree he came to was an oak tree.

"O big oak tree, will you let me live in your warm branches until the spring time comes?" he said.

"Well, I should say not!", said the oak tree. "What a thing to ask. If you stay in my branches all winter you would eat my acorns. Go away."

So on the little bird hopped and fluttered with its broken wing till he came to a willow tree by the edge of a brook.

"O beautiful willow tree," begged the little bird, "will you please let me live in your warm branches this winter?"

"No, indeed," answered the willow tree. "I never speak to strangers. Go away."

The Spruce Tree Is Kind.

The poor little bird did not know where to go or what to do; but he hopped and fluttered along with his broken wing.

Pretty soon the spruce tree saw him, and said, "Where are you going, little bird?"

"I do not know," said the bird. "The trees will not let me live with them and my wing is broken and I cannot fly with the other birds."

"Come, you may live in one of my branches," said the spruce. "Here is the warmest one of all."

"Oh, and may I stay all winter?"

"Yes, I shall like to have you," said the spruce.

The pine tree stood close to the spruce tree, and when he saw the little bird hopping and fluttering with his broken wing, he said, "My branches are not very warm, but I can keep the wind off because I am big and strong."

So the little bird fluttered up into the warm branch of the spruce and the pine tree kept the wind off. Then the juniper tree saw what was going on, and said that she would give the bird his dinner all winter, from her juniper berries. Juniper berries are very good for little birds.

Their Leaves Are Always Green.

The little bird was very comfortable in his warm nest sheltered from the wind, with juniper berries to eat.

The other trees saw it all. "I wouldn't take care of a strange bird," said the birch.

"I wouldn't risk my acrons," said the oak.

"I wouldn't speak to strangers," said the willow. And the three trees stood up very tall and proud.

That night the North Wind came to the woods to play. It puffed out its cheeks and blew at the leaves with its icy breath and every leaf fell to the ground. It wanted to touch every leaf and see all the trees bare.

But its father, the Frost King, said: "No, you must not touch the leaves of the trees which were kind to the bird with the broken wing."

So North Wind had to leave them alone and the spruce, the pine, the juniper tree kept their leaves all winter and they have done so ever since.

Stores do not prosper just because they are stores—nor even because they are GOOD stores. They must be "pushed by publicity."

MONTHLY REPORT OF CITY TREASURER

The city finished 1912 and started the current year with a balance of $336,380.25, according to the report of City Treasurer Fred J. Voss for December.

Although all funds show a balance, some of them really owe money, certificates of indebtedness having been issued against them. The funds of the board of public works and the permanent improvement fund have had most help in this respect. There is now outstanding $30,000 against the latter and $25,000 against the works fund.

The revolving fund has a balance of more than $126,000, but the city owes most of it. The original fund was $100,000 and this has been increased. Money is also owing from this fund to contractors for work done last season. Later the assessments will begin to come in for improvements completed this season.

The water and light plant fund has $51,131.98 and the street intersection and storm sewer fund has $25,942.97. The others ran from $12,125.98 in the street maintenance and repair fund to a few hundred dollars.

MANY DANGERS IN OUR PETS.

From the European edition of the New York Herald: Prof. Raphael Blanchard, physiologist of the Paris Faculty of Medicine, recently delivered a lecture on "Household Pets and the Dangers They Present."

The lecturer talked on the various diseases which may be transmitted to persons by their pet dog, cat or parrot. The list includes such maladies as hydrophobia, tapeworm, itch, ringworm, diphtheria, and infectious pneumonia, the two last mentioned being conveyed often by parrots.

Prof. Blanchard said the dog transmits hydrophobia not only by biting, but also sometimes by merely licking a hand or a face.

Another disease which dogs may transmit is ringworm, a skin disease produced by a microscopic fungus. Children are likely to catch from a dog skin diseases which are often wrongly attributed to contagion from school fellows.

Prof. Blanchard insisted strongly on the necessity of washing household dogs frequently to keep them free from fleas.

Diphtheria is conveyed by pet birds who suffer from a complaint caused by a bacillus which is the same as that of human diphtheria. In houses where tuberculous persons reside dogs, cats and birds become tuberculous, and where tuberculous persons have died the household pets continue to propagate the disease.

"Be kind to animals," said Prof. Blanchard, "but be kind to persons also. Watch over your household pets carefully to prevent them from disseminating disease."

CARD OF THANKS.

WE WISH TO THANK ALL OUR friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us in the loss of our little son.
GEORGE H. PADDOCK AND FAMILY.

NOVEMBER 1904 FEBRUARY 1911

In 1904 Andrew C. Larsen of Sorenson & Larsen of Salt Lake City, Utah, was slowly dying of Bright's Disease. He was water-logged—having been tapped twice and the family physician told his partner that "It is as impossible for him to recover as it is to empty the ocean." His partner was advised to have him fix up his affairs. The treatment was changed to Fulton's Renal Compound. A few months later, March 31, 1905, patient was back to business, to the surprise of his physicians and everyone else.

As to permanence—we have been writing a few of these cases of several years ago on this point and we have a line from Larsen dated February 9, 1911, from which we quote:

"Yours of February 6th to hand. I am in perfect health and haven't had a sick day for many years. The compound cured me and did it right."

How can physicians and hospitals look over these things and permit patients with kidney disease to die on Digitalis, Nitro Glycerine, Basham's Mixture, etc., under which failure is admitted by the books. We say this without qualification — if physicians who have kidney cases will add Fulton's Renal Compound to the heart, tonic and eliminative treatment they are already giving they will get results in a majority of cases in which failure is now the rule.

FRIGID WAVE BULLS WHEAT

Fear of Serious Damage in Hard Winter Region of Southwest.

Demand for Flaxseed Exceedingly Languid and Values Decline.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 6.—Wheat worked higher on the markets of North America today, mainly by reason of the severe cold wave extending far into the South, doing great damage. It is feared, to unprotected young crops of hard winter wheat. Duluth May closed ⅜c higher and Duluth July ⅞c up. Duluth cash wheat closed 4c under May. Durum closed unchanged. Oats closed ⅝c up. Barley 3c to 1c higher, and rye unchanged. Duluth January linseed closed 1½c lower and May 1¼c off.

The North American wheat markets this morning not only held their recent gains but made some further advances. The principal bullish factor was the cold wave, extending, as the weather map showed, far into the hard winter wheat country of the Southwest. For a long time no little apprehension has been felt in regard to the hard winter wheat crop of the Southwest, by reason of the fact that such vast areas of the ground were bare and others inadequately covered with snow to afford the young shoots protection against severely cold weather. Such was the report given Saturday by H. J. Scripp, traveling representative of William Grettum & Co., who has recently made a trip through the Southwest. He said a thaw followed by a spell of severe weather, would wreak havoc in the winter wheat fields.

Another factor that has been helping the gradual advance of wheat is the strong foreign demand. Most of the wheat that is on the Atlantic seaboard, as well as much that is farther West, including most of what is stored in the boats in the Buffalo harbor, is already sold, either for export or for milling in the East.

Duluth May wheat, which closed Saturday at 86⅝-¾c asked, opened today at 86⅝c and at noon was quoted at 87⅛c bid. There were higher quotations also at Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg.

Liverpool wheat today closed unchanged. There were several strong bearish factors affecting that market, among them being the smaller inquiry for Canadian and Platte parcels, larger American shipments than had been expected, magnificent Argentine weather for the movement and finishing of the harvest, a rapid increase in the receipts at the Argentine ports and the expectation of an early liberal shipment from that country this week. These factors were counteracted, however, by the very firm cables from North America.

Flax Market Very Dull.

There was a general feeling of bearishness on the Duluth flaxseed market this morning. There was very little demand on the part of crushers, and they seemed to care little whether they bought or not. The offers, on the other hand, were fairly large. There seems to be a general opinion that the farmers still have a large quantity of flaxseed in their hands, notwithstanding the vast amount that has already been marketed. Duluth January flaxseed at noon today was 1½c off and May was 1¼c off. Winnipeg January at noon was ¾c off at $1.04¼ asked, being 18c under Duluth January.

Flaxseed.

Flaxseed was very steady on the Duluth market during the week closing last Saturday. Cash flaxseed closed Saturday ¼ of a cent higher than the Saturday before and the January option showed a gain of ¾ of a cent for the week.

The receipt of the seed in cars has been falling off both at Duluth and Minneapolis, and increasing at Winnipeg. At Duluth last week 329 cars were received against 400 the week before and 134 a year ago. It is true that the elevator receipts in bushels show an increase, but these receipts sometimes show a gain when the car receipts are less and a loss when the car receipts are larger. The elevator receipts do not always correspond with the car receipts, owing to delays in getting the cars unloaded and the receipts in bushels reported by the elevators.

Minneapolis last week received 401 cars of seed against 503 cars the week before and 108 cars a year ago. Winnipeg last week received 991 cars against 643 cars the week before and 86 cars a year ago.

Duluth, Minneapolis and Winnipeg together last week received 1,721 cars against 1,546 cars the week before, and 322 cars last year.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Bulls Have Better of Argument at Opening of Exchange.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—While the news affecting wheat was of indifferent influence the bulls had the better of the argument at the opening today. May opened a shade higher to a shade lower at 91¾c to 91⅝c and advanced to 92⅛c. Snow was reported falling in Kansas, but it was accompanied by zero weather. The tone of the market was firm.

Reports that the Balkan peace negotiations had been broken off, though not confirmed, added strength to wheat later. May touched 92¼@92⅜c and closed ⅜@½c up at 92@92¼c.

Corn was firm and advanced sharply, holding strongly at the top against considerable selling by the bear faction. May opened unchanged to ¼c over Saturday at 48⅞@49c to 49¼c and sold to 49⅜c.

It developed later that much of the pronounced strength of corn was due to important buying by a prominent elevator company. May touched 19¾@49¾c and closed ¾c over Saturday at 49⅝@49¾c.

Oats were firm, but rather quiet. May opened ¼c up at 33⅛c in sympathy with corn and advanced to 33¼c. Provisions were dull and steady. May pork opened 2½@5c higher at $18.20 to $18.22½ and sold to $18.25; May lard started 2½c up at $9.85 to $9.87½ and May ribs 5c advance at $9.80.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Jan. 6.—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 2 points in response to lower Liverpool cables. Leading trade interests were moderate buyers at the decline, while offerings were comparatively light and scattered, and following private cables from Liverpool reporting rumors of a peace settlement between the Balkan states and Turkey, prices rallied to a net advance of from 2 to 5 points. This bulge seemed to attract increased offerings, which included some foreign selling orders, and the market during the middle of the morning continued quiet, with January showing an advance of 5 or 6 points, but with later deliveries holding within a point or two of Saturday's closing figures.

Cotton: Futures closed steady: bids: January, 12.92; February, 12.53; March, 12.57; April, 12.57; May, 12.57; June, 12.53; July, 12.53; August, 12.41; September, 11.83; October, 11.69.

Sheep—Receipts, 2,200; steady; lambs, $8.75 to $8.00; wethers, $3.50 to $4.90; ewes, $2.0 0to $4.50.

Duluth Hay Market.

The Duluth hay market has been very steady during the past two weeks and comparatively featureless. The movement of the hay has been in fair volume. During the last fortnight 110 cars were inspected at Duluth, against 32 cars during the two weeks of last winter, corresponding. Last winter, however, there was a much larger movement of hay in December, than this winter. In December, 1912, the cars of hay inspected at Duluth numbered 240 against 400 in December, 1911. It seems that January, this winter, will show a big increase just because December showed a big decrease in comparison with last winter.

No. 1 timothy hoy is selling, just as it did two weeks ago, at $12.50 to $13, wholesale. Some grades are higher, however, among them being No. 2 timothy, which is selling at $11 to $12 now, in place of $10 to $11.50, the price two weeks ago. There have been slight rises also in No. 1 mixed timothy, No. 1 and 2 upland, No. 1 and 2 midland, rye straw and oat straw.

STOCKS UNDER BEAR ATTACK

Close Is Weak With Lively Selling Movement Going On.

Supreme Court Decision in Pacific Road Case Causes Decline.

New York, Jan. 6.—Wall Street waited the convening of the supreme court today after its holiday recess, with the idea that decisions long looked for might be announced. Business was restricted, growing smaller as midday approached. General influences seemed to have little bearing on the movement of stocks, and fluctuations were mostly fractional. The strength of Union Pacific offset the speculative attacks against specialties which recently have been weak and toward noon the advance in the general market became more pronounced. Several important issues rose a point.

Bonds were firm.

Most of the important stocks sold at slightly higher figures in the first transactions today. American Tobacco made an exceptional gain of 1½. Southern Pacific and Western Maryland were heavy.

Pressure against a few specialties caused the general list to fall back but moderate buying of Union Pacific, which rose to 162, stiffened the market again. Beet Sugar lost 1, California Petroleum 1¼, and Mexican Petroleum 2¼.

A sharp attack on Union Pacific depressed it from 162½ to 160½ on a few transactions. Steel dropped to 67¼, but most other important stocks held above last week's close.

In a few minutes the markets became dull and steady.

Announcement from Washington that the supreme court had sustained the attorney general in his refusal to permit the distribution of Union Pacific equities in Southern Pacific according to the plan devised by the Harriman interests caused another lively selling movement. Union Pacific fell 4¼ from its highest and other active issues from 1 to 2 points. Southern Pacific touched 104½.

The market closed weak. A pause in the selling movement found it to bring much of a recovery and the bears took advantage of the dearth of buying orders to make another determined attack. Union Pacific, Steel, Reading and finally all of the active features sold at a lower level than previously with trading increasing largely on the down grade.

ICELAND PONIES.

Indianapolis News: Icelandic ponies, which are being impressed into the service of the Swiss army, aroused the admiration of the great traveler, Mme. Ida Pfeiffer.

"In spite of scanty food," she wrote, "they have marvelous powers of endurance. They can travel from thirty to forty miles per diem for several consecutive days. They know by instinct the dangerous spots in the stony wastes and in the moors and swamps. On approaching these places they bend their heads toward the earth and look sharply round on all sides. If they cannot discover a firm resting place for their feet, they stop at once, and cannot be urged forward without many blows."

NO SHORTAGE IN STAMPS

Ample Supply of Parcel Post Stickers at the Post-office.

Service Is Moving More Smoothly as Public Learns.

That there is not and has not been a shortage of parcel post stamps was the gist of a statement made today by Assistant Postmaster Weld, in refutation of a statement printed this morning that there was danger of a famine.

Mr. Weld declared that it was known that a new supply would be received today, which arrived all right, but on Saturday to prevent a shortage of stamps of the smaller denominations, which are the most in demand, a supply was brought from Superior, so that the office would be prepared for any more than ordinary demand. That was all there was to it, the assistant postmaster said. There are plenty of stamps on hand and Mr. Weld looks for no shortage at any time from now on. He said today:

"The only place I have heard of which went short of stamps was Milwaukee and I understand that the cause of that was that the officials there sold stamps in large quantities to the business houses and when an unexpected demand from the public in general came they had not enough to go around. Here we have avoided that mistake. The sales to business houses have been made sparingly, only enough to meet their immediate needs, although some of them have wanted to buy in very large quantities and one or two would have bought us out individually; then there would surely have been a stamp famine. However, we have encouraged the idea of those wishing to mail parcels bringing them to the stamp window, have the clerks show them how much they should put on, and in this way the waste of stamps until plenty are sent in is prevented and at the same time the public is receiving instruction as to how to judge the cost.

"We find a much better condition as regards mistakes by people who are using the parcel post, for each fewer parcels have to be returned than on the day before.

"There is a marked growth each day in the use of the system by the public. Not only are the business houses using it more and more, but individuals are beginning to remember it better. So far as the business houses are concerned, they are sending scores of packages that under the former system they would send by express. Our parcel post carriers are having more to do every day with the receipts as well and it keeps them busy in their deliveries."

DEDICATE WAREHOUSE.

New Building of Bayfield County Fruit Growers Opened.

Washburn, Wis., Jan. 6.—The new concrete warehouse of the Bayfield County Farmers & Fruit Growers' association was dedicated with elaborate ceremonies Saturday.

President C. F. Rogenrelf delivered an address of welcome which was followed by an address of Supt. E. J. Delwiche on the subject, "The Value of Co-operation to Farmers." At noon a free lunch was served to the farmers and their wives in attendance.

In the afternoon at 1:30, F. W. Kern, manager of the Bayfield warehouse, spoke on "Our Success at Bayfield," and was followed by A. W. Sanborn of Ashland, who spoke on "Co-operation Among Farmers." Rev. H. C. Rehm spoke on "The Mule and the Manager."

SPICE OF LIVELINESS GIVEN TO OPENING OF STATE LEGISLATURE

Senators Duxbury and Sullivan Start Fight on Committees.

Strongly Progressive Rules Committee Named By Speaker Rines.

Senator Works Made Democratic Leader in Upper House.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Duxbury's resolution was defeated late this afternoon, 16 to 45.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Undismayed by the apparent hopelessness of their cause, Senators Duxbury and Sullivan today contributed a spice of liveliness to the opening proceedings of the thirty-eighth legislature by starting their fight to take the committee appointments away from Lieutenant Governor Burnquist. The real fight was preceded by sparring over points of order, during which the object apparently was to induce Mr. Burnquist to change his mind and so confess defeat. This object failed, for the lieutenant governor stuck to his point.

The ball was opened when Senator Duxbury moved the adoption of a resolution which he said he had sent to the desk.

Mr. Burnquist ruled that the resolutions then at the desk must be considered in their order and held that Duxbury's motion was out of order.

Senator G. H. Sullivan of Stillwater joined Mr. Duxbury, and together, and apparently alone, they led the fight that followed. This was somewhat unexpected, as the failure of the senate Democrats last night to furnish any consolation to the members of the proposed combine had given the impression that no attempt was to be made to carry the fight further.

The fight over the consideration of Duxbury's resolution, after continuing for nearly an hour, and after Senator Sullivan had moved an appeal from the president's ruling, was settled when Senator Rockne moved that unanimous consent be given to withdraw all pending resolutions except Duxbury's, which was done.

The resolution was to the effect that the senate should elect its committees in a manner to be determined, after the adoption of the rules of the sen-

ELECTED SPEAKER OF THE MINNESOTA HOUSE

HENRY RINES
Of Mora, Representative From the Thirty-second District.

HOCKIN WANTS TO BE RELEASED ALSO

Asks Secretary of Iron Workers to Arrange Bail for Him.

Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 7.—Thirty-two of the thirty-three labor leaders convicted in the dynamite suits have signed applications to the United States court of appeals for their release on supersedeas bonds. J. E. McClory, secretary of the iron workers' union, brought the applications in person, and they were signed in Warden McClaughrey's office in the presence of McClory and Lee Bond, United States commissioner. A majority of the applications were mailed from Leavenworth today to friends whom the dynamiters say will raise the necessary money.

Herbert S. Hockin, branded by his fellows as the "informer" was the only one for whom an application had not been prepared. After the others had signed their applications, Hockin requested an audience with McClory.

"He asked," McClory said, "if his application had been prepared. That was my first information that he wanted to appeal his case. I do not know that any arrangements have been made to get his release."

Upon McClory's advice, the men were summoned into an ante-room opposite the warden's office. McClory explained to them the object of his visit.

"Boys," he said, "I am here with applications for your release. It probably will be three weeks after they are signed before all are released. Don't be disappointed if some get out before others, for I am certain we can raise enough money for everyone."

The men were then called, one by one, into the warden's office, where they signed the applications.

Each man wore a broad smile as he seized the pen and signed his name to the paper which he hoped would bring his ultimate release.

BIG OIL STEAMER GOES ON ROCKS

Rosecrans Said to Have Sunk With All But Three of Crew Lost.

Astoria, Or., Jan. 7.—The oil steamer Rosecrans went ashore on Peacock Spit early today and owing to terrific seas and a fifty-five-mile gale which is blowing, is expected to be a total wreck. Two tug boats and the life saving crew are endeavoring to rescue her crew of thirty-six men.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the tanker's hull had sunk from sight. Three men of her crew of thirty-six clung to a topmast which projected above the waves. All others, it was believed, had perished. It seems impossible that the three survivors could be saved.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 7.—A dispatch to the Chamber of Commerce here from Astoria says the Rosecrans had disappeared when tugs and life savers went out to the rescue.

Another dispatch, not timed, reported the vessel at anchor in the lee of Peacock Spit. If verified this dispatch would account for the disappearance.

CAUCUSES HARMONIOUS

No Attempt Made to Select Committees on Committees.

Albert Pfaender Again Floor Leader of House Democrats.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Legislation, the real business for which 120 members of the house and sixty-three members of the senate are gathered in St. Paul, had little chance in the animated discussions of yesterday, the usual day of preliminaries.

It was an odd mixture of patronage, talk of "combines" made and "combines" smashed, and social confab.

With patronage most decidedly to the fore.

The mutterings of "combine" thunder were mostly on the side, and more or less subdued, because it seemed plain early in the day that in spite of the fact that the "insurgents" in both houses were laboring valiantly and with persistence worthy of a better cause, nothing was to come of it all.

It wasn't the sort of thing that

GEORGIA SENATOR TO VISIT WILSON

President-Elect Desires to Learn Views on Members of Cabinet.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 7.—Governor Wilson was at his desk in the state house today long before any of the employes or department heads reported for duty. Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia will confer with the governor tomorrow. The meeting is regarded as one of the most important which the president-elect has had since he began to consult Democratic leaders. Governor Wilson has not declared himself explicitly on the seniority rule, but the activity of Senator Hoke Smith and other Democrats intimately identified with the Wilson campaign has led some to believe that he tacitly approves the reorganization movement.

Governor Wilson also wants to learn the views of the Georgia senator covering possible appointments to the cabinet. Senator Smith was a member of Grover Cleveland's cabinet. His name has been among those mentioned for a cabinet portfolio, but it is believed that he wishes to remain in the senate.

Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma will accompany Senator Smith tomorrow. The Oklahoma senator has been conspicuous in the movement to reorganize senate committees. Both Senators Gore and Smith have been, since early in the pre-convention campaign, intimate advisers and supporters of Governor Wilson.

J. G. WOOLLEY QUITS THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 7.—John G. Woolley, former Prohibition candidate for president, announces that he is through with the Prohibition party. It is a "lost cause," according to Woolley.

The famous "dry" leader is not going "wet" by any means. He will continue to work along temperance lines, but not as a Prohibitionist.

He takes the stand that the people have rejected the idea of forcing prohibition by a national political party and shows how the Prohibition vote slumped some 100,000 at the last election.

St. Paul Has $50,000 Fire.

St. aul, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire causing a loss estimated at $50,000 today partially destroyed a warehouse of the Chicago, Great Western Railroad company. The fire is believed to have started from a plumber's lamp.

HEAVY LOSSES TO FRUIT CROP IN CALIFORNIA

Estimate of Damage From Cold Wave Is $10,000,000 to $30,000,000.

Shipment of Citrus Fruit Will Be 10,000 to 20,000 Carloads Short.

One Hundred Carloads of Oil and Distillates Used in Smudging.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 7.—Temperatures from 4 to 6 deg. lower than Sunday were recorded last night, blasting the hopes of orange and lemon growers. It was admitted today that citrus fruit losses would be extremely heavy. Estimates of damage run from ten to thirty million dollars. Railroad freight losses, figured in terms of shipment, it is estimated, the 1913 crop of oranges and lemons will be from ten to twenty thousand carloads short.

Last year's crop netted growers $35,000,000. Eleven millions went to the railroads in freight and refrigerator charges. At the beginning of the season this year's crop value was estimated at $50,000,000, and according to heads of various fruit associations and firms the damage done by the present two days' freeze will amount perhaps to half of the entire crop.

Actual losses to both growers and railroads, however, will be dependent to a certain extent upon the attitude of the government toward the shipment of slightly damaged fruit.

Crop Smallest in History.

TAFT OF BOVINE, WILSON OF EQUINE

Vitosophist Says Every One Resembles Some Unit in Animal Kingdom.

Washington, Jan. 7.—William Windsor, L. L. B., Ph. D., teacher and principal disciple of "vitosophy," a new doctrine that teaches that every man, woman and child resembles in his or her physical makeup some unit of the animal or vegetable kingdom, is in Washington. Vitosophy contains, according to Dr. Windsor, the recipes for happiness—be it single or married happiness that is desired—for success and prosperity.

President Taft is of the bovine genus and is probably a buffalo and is a strawberry, while President-elect Wilson is said to be of the equine class and to savor of the acid fruits, probably a lemon.

Vitosophy and Dr. Windsor teach that each person has a smell of some vegetable.

"Any man or woman who, with candor, judgment and discrimination, will kiss a number of persons and note effects, will discover the truth of this principle, provided the persons are clean and the flavor is not destroyed by unnatural causes," he says.

Dr. Windsor admits that he has arrived at this conclusion only after a long series of personal experiments.

PRESIDENT WOMAN'S DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE

MRS. JOHN SHERWIN CROSBY.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS MEET IN CONVENTION

Members of National Democratic League Gather 500 Strong.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Women from all over the United States gathered here today for the first annual convention of the Woman's National Democratic league, which will remain in session here three days. Approximately 500 delegates were on hand when Mrs. John Sherwin Crosby of New York, president of the organization, formally opened the meeting and Speaker Champ Clark was ready to deliver the address of greeting. The invocation was offered by the Right Rev. Alfred Harding, bishop of Washington. When Speaker Clark had completed his remarks, Mrs. Crosby made response and Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, was ready with an address of welcome. The business of the convention was then taken up.

COLLECTS PENNIES TO HELP PAY FINES

Col. Roosevelt Sends $10 to Assist in Contempt Cases.

Boise, Idaho, Jan. 7.—State Senator Dow Dunning, originator of the plan to collect penny contributions to pay the fines of R. S. Sheridan, C. O. Broxen and A. R. Cruzen, now confined in jail for contempt of the Idaho supreme court for criticizing the court's decision barring the Progressive candidates for presidential electors from the ballot, has received $10 from Col. Roosevelt, representing collections from 1,000 residents of Oyster Bay and other Long Island towns.

The contribution was accompanied by a message praising the men for the stand they took.

"They have made all honest American citizens their debtors, and they are now the foremost champions and exponents of the rights of the people to rule themselves," said Mr. Roosevelt in his message.

WORLDWIDE INTEREST IN THE TARIFF

Manufacturing Interests From Paris to Frisco Represented at Hearings.

Each Witness Allowed 15 Minutes for an Uninterrupted Argument.

Perfumer Tells Committee Perfumery Must Not Be Considered a Luxury.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Manufacturing interests from Paris to San Francisco affected by the contemplated Democratic revision of the tariff were represented today at the second hearing on the chemical schedule before the house ways and means committee. The hearings are to continue until Jan. 31, the time being divided between the tariff schedules taken up in sequence.

The committee is keeping the witnesses as closely as possible to their allotted time, allowing each fifteen minutes headway for uninterrupted argument followed by a more or less close examination by the committee. Failure of a witness to appear at the appointed time forfeits his right to speak, though one is permitted to file a supplemental brief. The plan of Chairman Underwood is to get through with the hearings as expeditiously as is consistent with the policy of allowing all interested an opportunity to present views.

Perfumery Not a Luxury.

The first witness today was Theodore Ricksecker of New York, who bespoke the opposition of the Manufacturing Perfumers' association to the transfer of distilled and essential oils

COLD EVERYWHERE EXCEPT IN EAST

Climax Reached at Miles City, Mont., With 30 Below Zero.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Thirty degrees below zero at Miles City, Mont., this morning formed the climax of the cold through the West, extending southeast to the gulf states.

The northeastern part of the country has temporary protection by the development of an area of high pressure over the Atlantic near the coast, but this territory, according to the weather forecasters, gradually will feel the cold before the week is over. Southern California is experiencing the coldest weather in forty years. The temperature at San Diego was 28 early today, a record breaker for that point.

At Pueblo, Col., it was 22 degrees below zero this morning; at Denver 18 below zero; Salt Lake 2 below; Cheyenne 24 below; Minnedosa, Man., 36 below; El Paso, Tex, 6 above; Amarillo, Tex., 2 below, and the freezing temperatures extend through Texas to the Mexican border and eastward to Louisiana.

At Omaha it was zero, at St. Louis 22 above, Fort Worth 14, San Antonio 20, Kansas City, Mo., 6; Wichita, 2; Chicago, 28; Nashville, 56; Memphis, 34; Atlanta, 58, and New Orleans, 68.

PEACE CONFERENCES ARE SUSPENDED THAT ENVOYS MAY CELEBRATE HOLIDAY

No Doubt of Resumption as Soon as Delegates Finish Festivities.

Great Reluctance Among All Parties Against Reopening Hostilities.

Believed Powers Will Intervene If Other Efforts Prove to Be Futile.

London, Jan. 7.—There practically is no disposition in London to doubt that as soon as the delegates of Bulgaria, Greece, Montenegro and Servia have celebrated the orthodox Christmas holiday the peace conference will be resumed.

There is a deep-seated reluctance among all parties against the reopening of hostilities, although threats of such an eventuality still are uttered.

At the same time the powers are occupied in offering friendly advice to the antagonists, and in case this should prove insufficient the ambassadors are seeking for the best method of intervention.

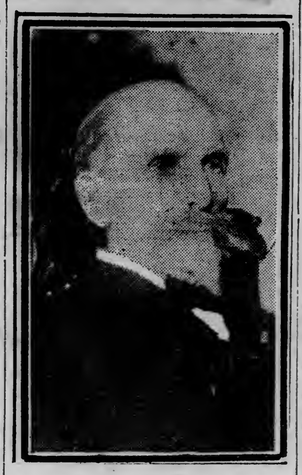

Speculations concerning the method of providing an issue from the present deadlock are rife. It is asserted that Rechad Pasha, the principal Turkish delegate has telegraphed to Constantinople asking to reconvoke the conference and may make some explanations which he was prevented from giving yesterday owing to the brusque suspension of the session. At the next meeting it is his turn to preside.

Much Hoped From Powers.

Much is hoped for from the action of the European powers, especially from Russia. It is believed that the greatest effort of the powers will be exercised at Constantinople. If weeks elapse, however, without the yielding of Adrianople, the Bulgarian delegates declare "it will be Gen. Savoff and cannon who will speak."

There were many exchanges of Christmas greetings today among the allied delegates, all of whom attended church services except Count Voynovitch, the Montenegrin, who is a Catholic. The Greek delegates went to the Greek church, while the Bulgarians, Servians and Montenegrins went to the Russian church, explaining that this was done simply because they do not understand Greek.

RETIRES AFTER SERVING ON COMMITTEE 40 YEARS

POWELL CLAYTON.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Powell Clayton, Republican national committeeman from Arkansas since 1872, today handed his resignation to Chairman Hilles. Gen. Clayton told Mr. Hilles he expected to give up his residence in Arkansas and live in the District of Columbia. His service as a national committeeman has been continuous and is the longest on record.

SHIP OWNERS ARE EXAMINED

House Committee Begins Hearing to Determine If Trust Exists.

Witness Tells of Alleged Monopoly to South America By Europeans.

Washington, Jan. 7.—For the opening of the house merchant marine committee's investigation of Brazilian ship lines said to be part of the so-called "shipping trust" scheduled for today the following witnesses have been subpoenaed: Paul Gottheil, Lorenzo Daniels, Paul F. Gerhard, John C. Seager, Allerton D. Hitch, William H. Douglas, Joseph Purcell and J. J. Slechta of New York and Sidney Storey and William Lowery of New Orelans.

The committee is working under a house resolution authorizing investigation of the alleged existence of a general shipping combine.

Sidney Storey, a ship owner, identified with efforts to establish what was known as the "Pan-American Mail line," was first called. The committee's present inquiry, Chairman Alexander announced, was directed toward

U. S. CONSUL DIES SUDDENLY IN LONDON

Paul Nash, Stationed at Budapest, Expires in English Metropolis.

London, Jan. 7.—Paul Nash, United States consul general at Budapest, died suddenly at a hotel here early today. Although it was apparent that death was due to natural causes, an inquest will be necessary, as in all cases of sudden death.

Consul General Nash arrived here only yesterday. At the hotel he asked for a quiet room as he was suffering from insomnia. He was found dead there this morning.

Mr. Nash was 35 years old and had been in diplomatic service at Bangkok, Venice, Vladivostok, Rheims and Budapest. While consul at Venice he married the Baroness Ina Mayneri of Piedmont.

JEWS PRESENT A MEDAL TO TAFT

Say He Has Contributed Most to Their Welfare in 1912.

Washington, Jan. 7.—President Taft was the host at a luncheon in the White House yesterday to the executive committee of the B'Nai B'rith, which presented to him a gold medal awarded him as the person who contributed most during 1912 to the welfare of the Jewish cause. After the presentation of the medal, the president made a short speech. He said in part:

"Upon the Jewish people, it is not necessary for me to pronounce elogium. In their just pride of their ancestry, those of us who are not of the Jewish people, have to be humble. The genius, the strength of your race, the patience and the persistence with which you pursue your purpose to maintain your rights and exalt your race, all make yours an exceptional history in the history of the world.

"The persecutions to which you have been subjected because of your religion have, in a sense, doubtless developed the character and tenacity of your race, but it needs a free country like the United States to develop the flower and enable you to show to the world at large that wonderful capacity of the race as supporters of law and order, in a government of freedom and a government that insists upon equality before the law.

"There is not any doubt that a race like yours, as civilization goes on, will forge itself to the front and overcome the inequalities and persecutions that unfortunately continue to exist in some countries. This is as certain as the day, and it is a great satisfaction that this movement of the Jews upward and onward to complete and world-wide recognition of their merit and to social justice everywhere, has had its most successful impulse in this country."

ARREST OF BANDITS DUE TO A WOMAN.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—A woman gave the police information which led to the arrest of four men accused of being the motor car bandits that have terrorized Chicagoans for weeks by their bold day and night robberies and several times escaped from police under showers of bullets.

The men under arrest are Herbert Cattlish, Charles McNeff, Albert Calrest and James Mitchell. All of the prisoners have several aliases. Viola Lynn, a girl companion of Cattlish, also was detained.

AFTER VIOLATORS OF CHILD LABOR LAW.

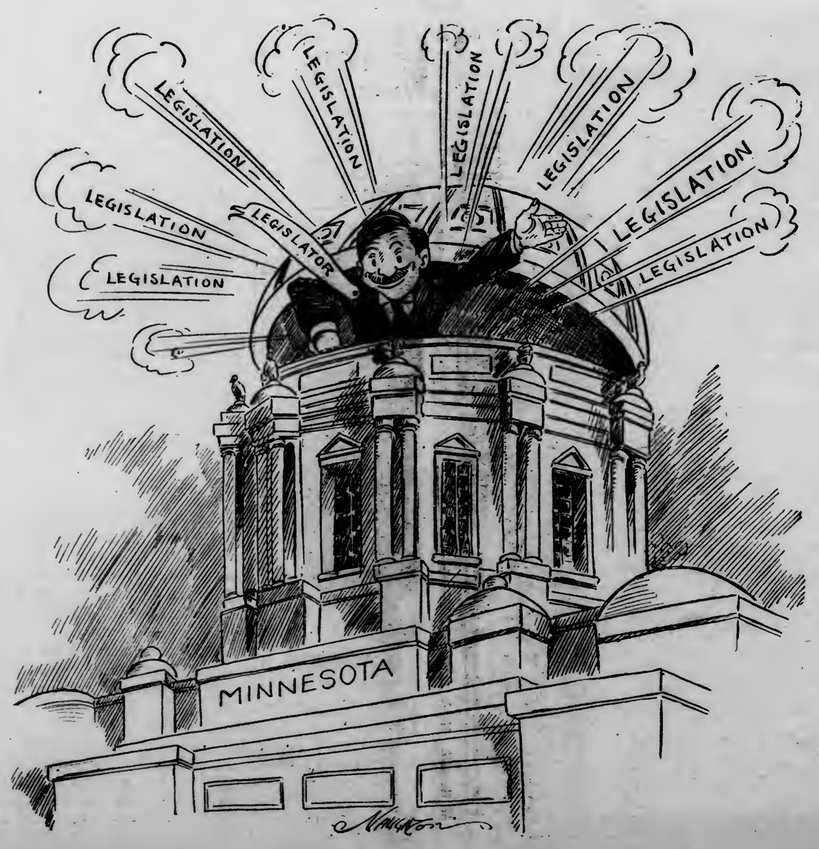

Madison, Wis., Jan. 7.—A second notable action under the child labor laws of Wisconsin was instituted by the state today against the Roddis Lumber & Veneer company of Marshfield. The action is identical with that now pending against the Diamond Match company of Oshkosh for alleged violation of the child labor act.

The new suit enumerates sixty-one specific violations of the child labor act and asks for judgment of $6,100.

"DON'T LET DOCK SITE GET AWAY" IS CULLUM'S ADVICE

Former Mayor Urges Some Prompt Action to Lease State Property.

Shows Importance of Having the Lease Signed Immediately.

M. B. CULLUM.

Former Mayor M. B. Cullum believes the city of Duluth should sign a twenty-five-year lease on the state dock property at Thirty-seventh avenue west immediately.

Two years ago, the city applied to the legislature for a lease on the dock. An agreement was reached whereby a bill providing for a twenty-five-year lease was to be introduced. Through some misunderstanding the bill provided for a ninety-nine-year lease and became a law in that form.

So as to avoid any charge of sharp practice through the mistake, the city officials agreed to accept a lease for twenty-five years, and the state officials agreed. Nothing further has been done, but Mr. Cullum believes the lease should be signed now so that the opportunity to acquire the property may not be taken by adverse legislation.

Mr. Cullum sent a communication to the city council at the meeting last evening, explaining the situation and asking that action be taken. The special legislative committee of the council will take the matter up with the St. Louis county delegation at St. Paul and endeavor to have the lease signed immediately.

Mr. Cullum's letter to the council follows:

"Two years ago the city authorities made application to the legislature for a lease on state dock property at Thirty-seventh avenue west. Our legislative delegation succeeded in getting through a measure authorizing the state officials to lease to the city of Duluth this property at an annual rental of $1 per year; but through some misunderstanding the bill became a law not in the form agreed upon by the conference committees of the senate and house.

"The Duluth officials agreed not to take advantage of the length of time permitted. The state authorities agreed to sign such a lease for twenty-five years, and leave the matter of extension to future officials. It was then thought that perhaps we had better postpone action until the meeting of the present legislature; but, personally, I believe that it would be better to accept a twenty-five-year lease and trust to being able to secure an extension of time before any substantial improvements would be required.

"And I would suggest that your honorable body, through your legal department, and with the assistance of the legislative delegation, enter into such an agreement as soon as possible, in order to prevent adverse legislation.

"This property is 2,400 feet long by 230 feet wide, leaving, aside from the slip that runs alongside, 170 feet for actual building purposes. This would mean room for warehouses six blocks long by 140 feet deep, with thirty feet still remaining for trackage purposes. This is so valuable to the city that the opportunity to acquire it must not be lost."

GLEANED ALONG THE POLICE RUN

Duluth was just a little bit better last year than it was the year before.

The records of the police department, as compiled by Assistant Secretary Robert Donaldson, show that a total of 5,258 arrests were made in 1912, as compared with 5,376 arrests in 1911.

But although the city as a whole showed an improvement in its behavior —assuming that the police blotters are a criterion, which, by the way, they are not—the women were more wicked in the year which has just closed than they were the preceding dozen months. But they say that records never lie, although, perhaps, they are not to be taken at their face value in this instance. They show that 410 members of the gentler sex were pinched, by the policemen and not on the arm, in 1912. The year before but 320 "perfect ladies" found their way inside the precincts of headquarters long enough to get their monakers on the blotter. Incidentally it might be stated that a considerable number of these arrests may be laid to a few persons. They are nabbed time and time again. The records do not show the details, but every time they are brought in it shows as a new arrest.

The police department had a busy year. The horse-drawn patrol answered 311 calls and traveled 420 miles; the auto patrol responded to 2,586 calls and covered 3,082 miles; the Franklin auto was utilized 878 times and reeled off 5,187 miles. The Black Maria hauled 1,452 prisoners to the county jail; 87 sick or injured persons were taken to hospitals, and 25 were taken to the station; 17 injured people were conveyed to their homes; 22 dead bodies were found; 10 attempted suicides were reported; 20 burglaries were frustrated; 81 disturbances were suppressed without arrest; 40 fire alarms were given and 345 fires were attended; 46 intoxicated beings were carried to their homes; 5,891 lodgers were accommodated, mostly in the winter months; 130 lost children were picked up; 4 persons were rescued from drowning; 45 sudden deaths were reported; 169 grand larceny and 428 petit larceny cases were investigated; 151 burglaries, 16 hold-ups, 49 robberies and 3 swindles were reported; 1,732 miscellaneous reports were turned over to the detectives; $29,883.42 worth of property was reported lost or stolen and $21,205.18 worth was recovered, a percentage of a trifle over 53 per cent.

Richard G. O'Donnell, alias F. H. Clark, was arrested yesterday on a charge of having passed a forged check for $23.30 on Arthur Levant, clerk of the store at Fifth avenue west and Michigan street. O'Donnell waived examination when arraigned in police court this morning and was bound over to the grand jury.

John Gilbertson was jugged last evening on a charge of having "rolled" Antoine De Laurie for $7.15. It is claimed that Gilbertson found De Laurie in an intoxicated condition and relieved him of the last penny he had in his pockets. When arraigned this morning Gilbertson denied the allegation and his trial was set for this afternoon. De Laurie was arrested at the same time on a charge of being drunk. He pleaded guilty but disposition was continued until Gilbertson has been tried.

Often as he has been there, John Wesley Boardwell does not love the county jail. John Wesley has no particular objection to the grub which is his portion, or to the work he doesn't have to do, or to the atmosphere. He isn't afraid of contracting tuberculosis or of having a stain put upon the mantle in which his reputation is wrapped. But he does know that the drinks are few and far between. This morning when he admitted that he was guilty of third offense drunkenness the judge handed him a straight sentence of sixty days at the sheriff's hotel. John Wesley begged for a chance to be allowed to leave town. With tears in his eyes and a sob in his voice he pleaded for just one—not drink—opportunity to become a laboring man. Hoping that he would surprise everybody and get a job, thus saving the city a couple months' board, the court suspended sentence to give John Wesley Boardwell the one chance which he so earnestly craved.

When Anton Fink was given his liberty a short time ago after being arrested the second time in as many weeks, he was placed on parole. One provision was that he should report at least once a week and pay $1 towards his fine. When the first payment became due Anton did not appear. Yesterday afternoon a policeman sent him in for contempt of court. Anton declared that he did not understand it that way and was given another chance to make good.

Ray Butchart, arrested last week for reckless driving, got a suspended sentence in police court yesterday afternoon. About 1:30 o'clock in the morning he rammed his machine into the rear of "Stillwater Jack" Hettinger's hack, pitching the driver off the seat and damaging the carriage and harness. S. Jack Hettinger fortunately escaped injury and Butchart settled for the damage which he had caused.

The charge of passing a worthless check was dismissed and yesterday afternoon Walter H. Van Strum was arraigned on a charge of petty larceny. Van Strum is alleged to have secured $20 from the Holland hotel by means of a check which was not good. He pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for Friday afternoon.

A woman near Twenty-first avenue east and Second street telephoned the police yesterday that a disreputable character was boggling from back door to back door in that vicinity. It seemed that just a look at him was enough to frighten them, although he offered no violence. A policeman was sent to investigate, but by the time he arrived the disreputable one had disappeared.

PRISONERS ARRAIGNED

Seven Taken Before Court to Answer to Indictments.

Trial of January Criminal Cases Will Be Begun Monday.

The trial of criminal cases on the January term calendar will not be started until Monday next, according to County Attorney Warren E. Greene, who is now preparing to bring the cases to trial.

In addition to the eleven indictments returned by the January grand jury yesterday, one no true bill was returned against August H. Anderson.

This morning seven of the defendants indicted yesterday were arraigned before Judge Ensign. Three entered pleas of not guilty and the other four were given until tomorrow morning to make up their minds.

Richard Boyton and Mary Davies, alias Mary Blackwell, who were indicted for adultery, entered pleas of not guilty.

Felix Puisto, charged with robbery, first degree, entered a plea of not guilty. He has retained Victor H. Gran as attorney.

Max Dorsewski, indicted for first degree robbery, told the court that he intended to hire an attorney, and was given until tomorrow to enter his plea.

Fred Berg, held for forgery, second degree, informed the court that he had employed W. R. Suffel as counsel, and would be ready to announce his plea tomorrow.

Alfred Miller, accused of grand larceny, will engage an attorney and will plead tomorrow.

Judge Ensign appointed N. H. Wilson to act as attorney for Hilda Kari, alias Lizzie Peterson, who was indicted for receiving stolen property. She will also plead tomorrow.

RAILROADS

NEW CARS FOR SOUTH SHORE

Through Trains May Be Sent By Way of Duluth.

The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway has ordered 400 steel cars from the American Car & Foundry company, and they have been ordered for rush delivery. To secure the constructing company a conditional deed of sale has been filed with the secretary of state of Wisconsin to the amount of $391,750.

It is believed that this order of cars portends further steps toward the running of the Soo and Canadian Pacific trains between the East and the West through the Head of the Lakes, and this may have some connection with the building of the cut-off from Lawler to Duluth by the Soo road.

REAL ESTATE MEN SUE FOR COMMISSION.

In district court before Judge Dibell and a jury today, the Getty-Smith company, a local real estate firm, is suing August W. Deetz for $400 commission. The plaintiff company claims that it found a buyer for the southwest corner of Nineteenth avenue east and Fourth street which had been listed by Deetz and that the defendant was so informed. It is then claimed that Deetz closed the deal direct with the purchaser for the purpose of depriving the company of its commission. The sale price is alleged to have been $11,500.

DOCTORS WHO CURE MEN!

What a vast amount of wretchedness, misery and sorrow disease brings upon a man and often due to neglect or ignorance. It is a serious thing that men contract or inherit disease or weakness, but the most serious results are sure to follow neglect or improper treatment. It seems strange that some men will defer treatment day after day, racked in body and wrecked in mind, when there is a way to escape. We offer you this aid, this help, this assurance of restoration.

Special diseases of men have been the means of blighting the most radiant hopes. Weaknesses unfit a man for his home, where men should find their happiness. It unfits him for business, where men should meet with success. It unfits him for friendship and leads him to shrink from companionship. The magnetism that wins men is absent. Their manliness that attracts admiration is displaced by a shrinking weakness, and the victim, knowing this, usually seeks solitude.

Men, come to our office, and we will make a thorough and scientific EXAMINATION of your ailment, as your whole future may depend upon the kind and quality of treatment you get at first.

If you are in need of treatment, get the best. The Progressive Medical Association has long been established for the purpose of curing Diseases of Men alone.

CURING BEST, SAFEST, QUICKEST—young men, middle-aged men and old men who are suffering from the evil results of early mistakes, neglect and misfortune, and to save them the disappointment of failure, loss of time and money often spent in experimenting with incompetent treatment, unbusinesslike methods and deceptive propositions.

IS THIS THE WAY YOU FEEL? Do you feel tired in the morning and easily exhausted? Is your back weak or lame? Do you have difficulty in fixing your thoughts? Is your memory failing? Are you losing ambition? Do you feel you are not the man you once were? Do you have hot flashes up and down the spine or sudden weak spells, especially after eating? Have you palpitation of the heart, dull headaches, pain at the base of the brain, sudden spells like fright from no apparent cause? Are you very restless or sleepless at night? Are you very nervous or irritable, with a feeling that you want to be alone? Are you gloomy, with a sense of some great oppression upon you? If so, then you need our treatment now. Don't wait until nature gives away and the disease disorganizes organs and nerves. NOW is the time to get new strength. Millions of men are wrecked yearly on the rocks of ignorance.

We cure by the latest and best methods BLOOD POISON, VARICOSE VEINS, OBSTRUCTURES, NERVOUS DEBILITY, LOST ENERGY, CATARRH, SKIN DISEASES, PILES, RUPTURE, KIDNEY AND BLADDER DISEASES AND ALL LINGERING AND SPECIAL DISEASES OF MEN and their complications in the SHORTEST POSSIBLE TIME and at the lowest cost for SKILLFUL SERVICE AND SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT. FOUND GOLD IN FAR NORTH

E. R. Jordan Who Joined Rush to Klondike Returns for Visit.

Says Alaska Is Still Country for the Poor Man.

Fifteen years ago E. R. Jordan joined the rush to the Klondike in search of gold, leaving Duluth with little more than enough to carry him to the gold fields.

Today Mr. Jordan is back in Duluth for a visit. He is now the chief owner of the Bessie Gold Dredging company of Nome, one of the largest and richest gold mining companies in Alaska. The company is building what is to be the largest dredge in the world. Mr. Jordan was one of the few men who went to the Klondike with the rush and "stuck." He has his reward, for not only is he now rated as a wealthy man even in Alaska, but he likes the country and the life in the Far North.

Mr. Jordan is a brother-in-law of Charles Haley of the Duluth Board of Trade. He is accompanied on his present trip by Mrs. Jordan, who is a daughter of Mr. Weissmiller of this city.

"Nome is a city of about 5,000 people," said Mr. Jordan today. "It is not true that Alaska is no longer a 'poor man's country.' I don't know of any better place for a poor man than Alaska. In Nome for example, a man can always get work at $5 a day and his board. He does not have to be an experienced workman to do that. A carpenter or almost any kind of a mechanic can get $1 an hour in Nome. Then the cost of living is not much higher than it is here. You can get a good 'square meal' for 50 cents in Nome at the present time.

"Most of the mining now being done in Alaska is by dredging or hydraulic mining.

"We don't see much of the copper mining at Nome. The copper deposits are more than 1,200 miles away, but there is no question of their richness. I have seen many samples from them. They find huge pieces of almost pure copper. In fact the stuff is so rich that it is very hard to mine."

Mr. Jordan tells many interesting tales of the huge schools of walrus to be seen near Nome; of the Arctic exploring expeditions that have passed through that town; of the hardships and pleasures of the long white trail to Dawson; of the awakening of Alaska to the fact that much of the land is tillable; and of the flowers to be found in the early spring beneath the snow. He talks of Alaska as if he loved the country, and probably few men in the great peninsula are better informed regarding it than he is. He was being entertained today by Charles A. Marshall, owner of the Lyceum theater, and an old friend of Mr. Jordan's.

SOLD THREE TIMES.

Capital Stock of Petroleum Company Subject to Many Changes.

Washington, Jan. 7.—An examination of the operations whereby the capital stock of the California Petroleum company was sold three times over on the New York stock exchange in the first month of the company's existence, was today's program before the house money trust committee. G. G. Henry of the firm of Solomon & Co., New York city, who with Hallgarten & Co. and Lewisohn Bros. marketed the stock, was to be a witness.

Mr. Henry has produced the contracts and agreements by which a large part of the California Petroleum stock was sold to syndicates formed by the three banking houses and by them sold to investors. These agreements the committee had endeavored to get from Lewisohn Bros., but failed.

HEARINGS BEGUN ON NEW CURRENCY PLAN.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Seeking to evolve a new currency system plan to be recommended to congress as a substitute for the one proposed by the national monetary commission, a subcommittee of the house committee on banking and currency, headed by Glass of Virginia, today began a series of public hearings that probably will continue several weeks.

Bankers and financial experts from all parts of the country have been invited to give their views. Those who were to be heard today included A. Barton Hepburn and Paul M. Warburg, New York bankers; Victor Morawetz, a writer, and Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury.

CONGREGATION IS DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Several hundred men and women who had assembled to attend the celebration of mass were driven into the street in confusion today when fire attacked the St. Peter and St. Paul Greek Catholic church in South Chicago.

The interior of the church had been decorated for the occasion, which was the celebration of the orthodox Christmas and some of the ornaments caught fire from lighted candles. The flames quickly spread and in a few minutes the altar was in flames and the auditorium was filled with smoke.

The worshippers made a rush for the exits, but the priests managed to quiet their fears and they filed out of the building without anybody being injured. The damage was $10,000.

Looking for Witness.

Albert B. Reagan, Indian agent at Nett Lake, Minn., would like to know the whereabouts of one Hammer Laguge.

In a communication which he has addressed to Sheriff Meining, he asks for aid in finding him.

Laguge, the letter states, signed his name as a witness to a will made out at St. Mary's hospital in this city on Sept. 19, 1911.

LLOYD GEORGE AND HIS RELATIONS.

Strand Magazine: David Lloyd George's relations have played a great part in his life. It is, indeed, perhaps the most inspiring feature of his private life that all his family seem to have formed themselves into a league for his advancement. His uncle was in the truest sense a second father to him. His wife has never thought anything a sacrifice which has helped to win him fame. His brother—then junior partner in the firm of Lloyd George & George—uncomplainingly did the work of two in the early days of the senior partner's career, when his parliamentary duties took him away from the office for a great part of the year, and long before he had been able to give up his profession and devote himself wholly to politics. Mr. Lloyd George, on his side, has always regarded his family at Criccieth as partners with him in an enterprise which has happened to throw him into the light of publicity while they have remained in comparative obscurity. He has never grown away from his old home.

THE TOE THAT ROCKS A CRADLE.

Christian Herald: Unique and probably the most primitive cradle rocking device ever seen or employed in any part of the world is the one that has been adopted by the matter-of-fact squaws of the Kwatkiutl tribe of Indians now living on Vancouver island, British Columbia.

The mother performs the double duty of spinning and rocking her infant, snugly packed in a hollowed-out cradle stuffed with cedar bark strips suspended from the limb of a sapling. This is about the most realistic and accurate representation of the old nursery song, "Rock-a-by, Baby, in the Treetop," so far known.

The most striking part, however, is that the Irdian mother rises her big toe as the motive power. With a cord attached to the bent limb and the other end wound around her toe, she swings her dangling offspring to and fro, leaving her hands entirely free for weaving.

RACCOON DROWNS DOG.

Clark, Mo., Chronicle: Old Tige, Steve Hamilton's brindle bulldog, battle scarred, the hero of hundreds of hard fought battles, is no more. Last Saturday morning he bumped into a raccoon. The coon was an entirely new proposition to Tige. He didn't savvy how to go about lighting the varmint. He allowed the coon to entice him to the water—and then Tige's biography ended, for those who know coons know that once they get a dog to water it's nearly always goodby dog. The animal got Tige out in deep water and then drowned him. The coon trimmed up several dogs before his encounter with Tige and was finally dispatched by Jerry Truesdall's big red hound, who specializes in coon fighting.

LECTURES ON "KIPLING"

Prof. Maria Sanford Is Heard By Big Audience at First Baptist Church.

Nothing has been received with more genuine delight than was the lecture on "Kipling" given yesterday by Prof. Maria Sanford at the parlors of the First Baptist church under the auspices of the Twentieth Century club. The room was filled with representative women and a few men who could get away for the treat and her talk was satisfying to every member of the audience.

Miss Sanford read a number of his poems and supplemented them with illuminating explanations which were rich with a delicious humor, a wealtth of knowledge and valuable advice. She is a dramatic reader of unusual power and her interpretation would bring interest to the dullest of poetry or prose.

"For power of emotion, for terseness and for those qualities which arouse enthusiasm and real thought, no living writer equals Kipling," she said. "All his works are not good, some will be forgotten but his best will remain a great gift to English literature."

Kipling as "The apostle of labor," she praised. "We need in these days to be taught to reverence labor. Refinement and accomplishments are good but they are not the essentials and we must not get to the point where we feel that kid gloves and shrimp salad are the real things of life. We need to be taken in hand and taught the nobility and thought that belong to us from the past, the great thoughts and the great feeling, this is what the poets give us."

"Humor bristles all through his poetry," she continued, "and this quality is life giving, it make his poetry real and appealing." She spoke of his wonderful imagination and the musical quality of his works and his power to lift the common things to romantic poetic expression as probably no other writer has done. He has made us see the good of the humbler men through his understanding and wonderful pictures. Under his works there is so often a depth of strong thought which we must try to get at in his works.

"He teaches us to learn to love to work, to fill the days with the delight of toil. But we must have recreation and we must have rest. You mothers here in the audience, take my advice and do not let your sons and daughters sit up late finishing lessons. I would rather have a student come to my class unprepared but with a mind vigorous and refreshed than to come with the lesson but a tired mind."

Scores Problem Plays.

Miss Sanford scored the problem plays and novels with their presentations of wrong-doing as unworthy and harmful and said, "it is the strong men who have made our nation, not the weak ones, and we must strengthen our young folks so that they may go on with this work of upbuilding. Kipling does not take wrong-doing for the basis of any of his stories. Just give your young folks his 'Jungle Books' or his 'Captains Courageous' and they will take some of the nonsense out of their heads."

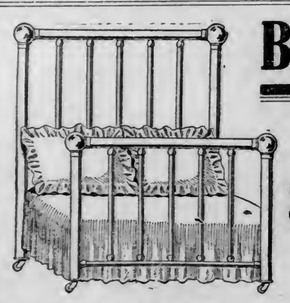

She spoke of his prose as strong and excellent, wonderful for the power and definiteness of the sentences. "Kipling says things which stick in your mind," she said, "things which give purpose and impulse."

"The Deep Sea Cable," "MacAndrew's Hymn," "The Three Decker," "Farewell Romance," "Mother O'Mine," "If," "Gunga Din," "The Bell Buoy," "L'Envoi" and "The Recessional," were all read with exquisite feeling and clearness by the speaker and the audience was loath to have her close her lecture.

George Suffel sang Kipling's "Recessional" preceding the talk, his full, rich voice being peculiarly fitted for the number and the audience insisted on a repetition of the number. Miss Gladys Reynolds played his accompaniment.

Mrs. Crowley, Mrs. M. H. Kelley and Mrs. C. H. Merritt received with Miss Sanford at the informal tea which followed. Mrs. H. H. Phelps poured at the tea table, and was assisted by Mrs. C. R. Keyes, Mrs. W. J. Works, Mrs. T. W. Dix, Mrs. George Jewell, Mrs. L. Q. Greely, Miss Lella Sparks, Mrs. J. Lawrence Strong and Mrs. L. A. Barnes.

In preparation for the fight for equal suffrage in Minnesota which will come up during the present term of the legislature, members of the Duluth Suffrage association are canvassing this city for names backing the movement, which will be sent to the legislature.

Yesterday a canvass of the office buildings was started by Dr. Mary McCoy, president of the Duluth club, assisted by three other members, Miss Amy Oliver, Mrs. P. L. De Voist and Mrs. M. S. Hirschfield.

"We were received with courtesy in almost every office," said Dr. McCoy this morning in speaking of the canvass, "and nearly every man was perfectly willing to place his name to the list. Only one or two professional men, for some reason or other, refused to give us the aid of their name for use in our fight and our first day's work was really encouraging."

The petition read as follows: "You are invited to enroll as one of the men friends of equal suffrage, and, by so doing, to express your convictions that the women of Minnesota are as capable of using the franchise as are the women of the equal suffrage states, and to affirm that you favor the amendment to the Constitution that will confer upon women of the state the rights of full citizenship."

All men in Duluth or the state interested in the cause who are willing to aid are asked to copy this invitation on a postal card and sign it and send it in to Dr. Mary McCoy, 13 West Superior street.

"We are anxious for Duluth to do a big part of this work," said Dr. McCoy, "and we hope for a list containing names of most of the voters in the city."

The platform of the Woman's Suffrage association of Duluth drawn up by Dr. Mary McCoy follows:

"Moulding and forming the character of our children, we demand every human right which will better fit us for the task.

"Being taxpayers, we claim the right of representation; the right to have some voice in the manner of spending the tax money.

"Costing the treasuries of our counties nothing, we protest against acknowledging the male pauper as our political superior.

"Being educated women, we want the power to offset the illiterate vote of our state.

"Belonging to the more temperate, more law-abiding and more devout class of citizens, we believe our vote is necessary to the welfare of the nation.

"Watching over the home, we protest against not being allowed, by our vote, to abolish the dens in which our children are induced to become gamblers, libertines and drunkards.

"Believing that sons inherit their mental powers from their mothers, we know that so long as we cannot participate in state craft, we cannot endow our sons, with the attributes of statesmanship and patriotism.

"Realizing how many of the natural resources of our country have been wasted, we maintain that we should be allowed the vote to protect and conserve those which yet remain.

"Allowing men to make laws for women and not allowing women to make laws for men is manifestly unfair and not a square deal, we object to such unjust discrimination.

"Knowing that in future, there is no standing still, that unless we go forward we must go backward, we protest against a condition which does not admit of our further advancement.

"Maintaining that emancipation is a step forward in evolution we object to being hampered and hindered on our way toward a broader and better womanhood.

"Being 21 years of age, we object to being classed with minors. Born in America and loyal to her institutions, we protest against being made perpetual aliens.

"Being sane, we object to being classed with the lunatic. Possessed of an average amount of intelligence, we protest against legal classification with the idiot.

"Instructing the youth of our country in the duties of citizenship, believing that we best impart that of which we have practical knowledge, we as teachers, protest against our political classification.

"Women who object to being thus classed and men who object to thus classing wives, mothers, sisters and daughters, are urged to join the Woman's Suffrage association and help women to obtain a higher classification."

TALK ON MUSIC.

Mrs. E. L. Schmied Addresses Associate Members of Matinee Musicale.

"What Music Means to the Average Listener" was the subject of a short talk given this afternoon by Mrs. E. L. Schmied at the meeting of the Associate Circle of the Matinee Musicale at the home of Mrs. C. A. Duncan. Other informal talks were given by members of the club and the hostess was assisted in receiving by Mrs. J. N. McKindley, Mrs. R. N. Marble, Mrs. A. Agatin and Mrs. G. G. Hartley.

The talks to be given at the next two meetings are "The Music of Yesterday" and "What We should Listen For in the Music of Today."

This was the second informal social afternoon for this department of the club formed this season.

"MRS. BELMONT" GROWING IMPATIENT AT DELAY IN REACHING SETTLEMENT

MRS. RAYMOND BELMONT.

Negotiations over Mrs. Raymond Belmont are still going on. But they are not going quite fast enough to suit the ex-show girl and she now threatens to go on the stage to be billed in big type as "Mrs. Belmont." It is to prevent this use of his name that August Belmont is striving to annul his son's marriage. Whether this threat will bring the Belmont family to terms remains to be seen.

NEW PRESIDENT.

College Women Also Discuss Their Responsibility.

Mrs. W. H. Hoyt will head the Associated Collegiate Alumnae of Duluth, having been elected president at a meeting yesterday afternoon to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Miss Agnes Wells. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Sinclair, 2510 East Sixth street, and an interesting program on "Responsibility of the College Woman" was given.

Mrs. Charles N. Thorp spoke of her civic responsibility. Mrs. W. H. Hoyt of the social, and Miss C. E. Adams of the individual responsibility.

"The civic responsibilities of the college woman," said Mrs. Thorp, "are those of any woman, except that the training and opportunities of college women fit them for leadership.

"The new century is one of great privilege, and also one of great problems which the college woman must help solve. First, there is the problem of how to improve the sanitation in the average home, the average school and the average street; second, the problem of how to teach people to be efficient workmen and to desire the best things of the mind, the body and the soul; third, how to promote civic righteousness, so that child labor shall be done away with, the minimum wage of women regulated and white slave traffic abolished, and fourth, how to prevent the spread of dishonesty, intemperance and all social evils."

Mrs. Hoyt dealt with the responsibility in social service. Women, she said, have both an individual responsibility and one as club members, to see that the curriculum and methods of schools and universities impress on the students the fact that they are being trained for service to society.

MRS. W. H. HOYT.

Mrs. Adams touched on the responsibilities, both social and civic, of women as individuals, in her talk, which concluded the program.

The Minuet.

A stately minuet will be the feature of the dancing class which Miss Nellie Stoughton will conduct this evening at the gymnasium of the manual training high school. WHY CLEARANCE SALES ARE NECESSARY

In a very interesting article in the January Woman's Home Companion, entitled "Behind the Scenes at the Bargain Sale," appears the following:

"Clearance sales are calendar events now—regular 'turnovers' of stocks that recur with the consistency and regularity of clockwork.

"The question of 'turning over' his stock is paramount in the mind of every department head in each large department store in America; he must succeed in turning over his share of the load of merchandise the house carries, just so often before inventory time. His position depends upon his success in doing this.

"To accomplish this periodical process according to the scientific processes now in vogue, 'clearance sales' take place at stated intervals; when, to save carrying-over of stocks from one season to another, with the consequent expense and loss, all goods are treated with scant respect to actual values."

MOST NEARLY PERFECT WOMAN TO GROW VEGETABLES AFTER HER GRADUATION

Passaic, N. J., Dec. 26.—Miss Elsie Scheel, heralded from Ithaca as "the world's most perfect woman," is at her home in Allwood, and has been busy ever since her arrival receiving callers, who wish to see and talk with the "second Venus de Milo." Miss Scheel claims no distinction.

"Well, if what they say about me is true, I can't help it, for, like Topsy, 'I just grew,'" she said yesterday.

"And what have you done to attain perfection?" she was asked.

"Lived out of doors as much as I could," she answered. "But, now, that doesn't mean I am a plain fresh air fiend. It means that I like to be out when I can. Of course, I skate and walk lots. One has to in Ithaca you know."

"Yes, I drive an automobile," and she gave an evidence of that later when her brother had trouble shifting gear and she told him how to do it. Then she admitted that she would grow vegetables on Long Island on her father's farm when she left Cornell. Miss Scheel said that she had never taken exercise for its own sake alone.

"Do you know," she said in a burst of confidence, "the whole secret of the thing—I live, and I don't just exist like most people. I eat what I want to and when I want it. If I want to ride horseback I do, and I skate and swim and walk, and just have a perfect time out of life. That's the whole secret of it."

Keeping Fresh Meat.

In the North, meat is kept fresh by freezing. An entire carcass may be hung where it will remain frozen, and pieces sawed off as desired. A better way is to cut the carcass into steaks, roasts and boiling pieces, and when these pieces are thoroughly frozen pack them in snow, writes Eldora Lockwood Dow in Woman's World.

Secure a large clean box, cover the bottom with dry snow, and when the meat is thoroughly frozen, pack it into the snow so that no two pieces touch, cover with snow and continue packing until all the meat is disposed of. Put the box where sudden changes in temperature will not affect it.

Meat when once frozen should not be thawed until ready for use. If the meat is frozen solid and only dry snow is used it may be kept through the winter in this manner. This method applies only to localities where snow and continued dry cold weather prevail.

In warmer localities fresh meat may be kept if partly cooked and packed in jars. Pork is especially good when kept in this way. The city flat dweller or any one living in a moderate climate may use this method to advantage. One can sometimes save half by buying in large quantities.

Slice and fry the pork until nearly done, then pack in a stone jar and pour over it hot lard or the frylngs. If the pork is very fat, enough hot grease may come from the frying. If not sufficient, lard must be added to cover the meat. If a large quantity of pork is being disposed of, it is better to use several small jars than one large one. Cover carefully and keep in a dark cool place. As the meat is wanted it may be removed from the jar and warmed up.

To keep fresh meat a few days, rub the surface with fine salt and put in a dark cool place.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

More Woolen Clothing for Children Is Essential.

I am a believer in more woolen clothing, especially for children. Yesterday a well-dressed lad pulled a heavy chinchilla reefer off in my house and showed a thin percale blouse, topped by a white collar and a pretty flowing tie. "Where is your jacket?" I asked, to which he replied in ungrammatical haste, "I don't wear none." I could only reply that he ought to, and so he had, over that summery percale blouse, all very trim and smart, but hardly protection enough against the changes of atmosphere a growing boy is likely to run into in the course of a day's play.

This little boy's wrists were exposed to the snow and winds, and I clasped one of his small hands just to get its temperature. It was chill, and I know that this condition of the hands and wrists is not a fit one for the growing boy. I should have him wear a woolen jacket under his overcoat, the same as his father does when he leaves the house. Then he would be prepared for all emergencies and be properly clothed for outdoor life and exercise.

Children have a superabundance of vitality if they are healthy. You will almost never hear them complain of the cold. However, dressed as many of them are, they cannot help being cold, and if it does not have an injurious effect at once it does eventually, though one may not think to trace it to the barbarous custom of exposing tender little children to the freezing elements inadequately protected.

If a boy is to dispense with his jacket all winter, as many young school boys do, as a canvass of the schoolroom will show, his blouse can at least be made of wool or outing flannel and have some thickness and semblance of warmth.

I see little girls going to town in thin ribbed white cotton stockings, their dresses reaching to the knees only, and in the thinnest sort of patent leather or kid shoes. Beside them sit their mothers, resplendent in furs and everything to keep out the cold. I see the little boys trudging to school in good stout overcoats, with their blouse fronts of percale and gingham showing through, and the winds whistling up their percale and gingham-covered arms at a lively pace.

They often look well, and frequently they keep well, no one knows how, but they begin too early to expend precious vitality.

I have little patience with the grown folks and the young girls who go about trying to make vanity and pride keep them warm. Don't be afraid to put warm clothing on your children. You will never regret it.

CONTROVERSY OVER RATES

Dealers in Timber Object to Proposed Increases By Railroads.

Members of State Railroad Commission Hearing Evidence of Both Sides.

Railroad men and shippers of ties, posts, poles and pulpwood are engaged in a controversy over rates at the Spalding today. The state railroad and warehouse commission is conducting a hearing on several matters brought up on petition of the railroads, and the shippers appear in objection.

The railroads affected are the Duluth & Iron Range, Duluth & Northeastern Minnesota, Duluth & Northern Minnesota, Mississippi, Hill City & Western, and the Minneapolis & Rainy River railroads.

They have made application to the commission for exemption from the so-called 80 per cent order of the commission, issued in July. The order provides that railroads must make joint rates on shipments moving over more than one line, the total joint rate not to exceed 80 per cent of the combination of local rates. All of the railroads included in the hearing, with the exception of the Duluth & Iron Range, are small logging roads and the claim is made that they cannot stand the loss of revenue the enforcement of the 80 per cent order would cause.

The shippers claim the state railroad and warehouse commission has no right under the law to except any railroad from the general order.

Proposed advances on lumber, posts, poles, shingles and other forest products from points on the Duluth & Iron Range are also up for hearing, as is a petition of the Duluth & Iron Range for the right to charge a higher rate on ties than on lumber from certain points on the line. The shippers claim that advances in rates on forest products on the Iron Range road at this time would be a hardship on the loggers, as contracts have already been made on the basis of the old rates.

Slow progress was made this morning. The Duluth & Northeastern Minnesota, which is owned by the Cloquet and Northern Lumber companies, and the Duluth & Northern Minnesota, owned by the Alger-Smith company, presented financial statements in support of the claim that they are operating at a loss.

The proposed Iron Range advances were not touched on this morning, the time being given to the application for exemption from the 80 per cent rule.

Chairman Ira B. Mills, C. F. Staples and C. E. Elmquist of the state railroad and warehouse commission are all in attendance at the hearing. B. G. Dahlberg is presenting the side of the shippers. The Duluth & Northeastern Minnesota is represented by H. Oldenberg of Cloquet, the Duluth & Northern Minnesota by T. A. Wells and John T. Pearson, the Duluth & Iron Range by H. Johnson and Paul H. Welsh, the Minneapolis and Rainy River by George T. Simpson and the Mississippi, Hill City & Western by A. W. Rabey.

The shippers present inlude E. N. Whyte of Curry & Whyte, T. P. Bradley of the Duluth Log company, George Martin of Martin Bros., J. W. Fee of the Zenith Cedar company, Z. D. Scott of the Scott-Graff Lumber company and H. H. McKinney of the Northwestern Cedarmen's association. Mr. Dahlberg is also representing the Duluth Timber Supply company, Colvin & Robb Lumber company, Saari Bros., the White Cedar Lumber company and P. H. Martin at the hearing.

COLD SNAP DUE TO END

Mercury Will Go Higher Wednesday, Says Local Forecaster.

A break in the cold snap, so far as it affects Duluth, is in sight for tomorrow afternoon. The temperatures are rising in the Northwest and the warmer movement is expected to reach Duluth tomorrow.

Though the temperatures have moderated somewhat, the cold snap continues with considerable intensity. The highest temperature yesterday was 1 deg. below zero, and the lowest last night was 12 deg. below. The wind was quite brisk last evening, reaching a velocity of twenty miles an hour at times, but it died down during the night.

At 7 o'clock this morning, the temperature was 5 deg. below, and it was to 7 deg. below at 9 o'clock. It started up again from that point, though below zero temperatures are expected all day.

The low mark predicted for tonight is about 10 below, and considerably warmer weather is predicted for tomorrow.

The weather bureau records show killing frosts and freezing temperatures in Southern California again last night.

could endure publicity, and publicity proved fatal to it.

But the jobs—that's a horse of another color. The jobs helped kill the combines, too, for members who had constituents they wished to get places for hesitated about tieing up with a movement that seemed likely to end in defeat, and if it did would certainly land all the parties to it outside the breastworks when it came to the distribution of patronage.

There are a certain number of places to be filled in each house, the principal ones elective; and work as hard as they might, combine makers couldn't get their cause into the spotlight when there were jobs to be given out.

There were four caucuses last night, the Republican house members, the Democratic house members, the Republican senators and the Democratic senators. The Democratic caucuses were not bothered by the task of distributing jobs, and the Republicans in both houses had practically agreed on their selections before the caucuses gathered. The house Republicans fixed this up through a steering committee representing each congressional district, which arranged the slate of house officers ratified by the caucus last night and elected today.

Officers Chosen.

The officers selected in the caucuses, to be elected today, were as follows:

SENATE.

Secretary of the senate—George W. Peachey, Owatonna, re-elected.

First assistant secretary—Left open.

Second assistant secretary—Henry Burkhardt, Lake City, re-elected.

Sergeant-at-arms—James H. Ege, Minneapolis, re-elected.

Assistant sergeant-at-arms—A. A. Christensen, Tracy, re-elected.

Chaplain—Rev. Andrew J. Stowe, Minneapolis, re-elected.

Enrolling clerk—N. C. Hoel, Caledonia, new.

Engrossing clerk—Henry Nordholm, Red Wing.

HOUSE.

Chief clerk—Oscar Arneson, St. Paul, re-elected.

First assistant—G. O. Hage, Crookston, re-elected:

Second assistant—Jerome Rice, Minneapolis, re-elected.

Enrolling clerk—Crawford Sheldon, Little Falls, re-elected.

Engrossing clerk—Carl Rasmussen, Faribault, new.

Sergeant-at-arms—Simon H. Simonson, Grand Meadow, new.

Assistant—William J. Pomplun, St. Paul, new.

Postmaster—Col. George P. Kelly, Mankato, new.

Assistant—P. V. Randall, Renville, new.

Chaplain—Rev. George W. Lutz, St. Paul, new.

There is a small army of appointive positions to be filled later.

The Republican caucuses, being confined to the comforting work of distributing patronage, were thoroughly harmonious. Representative Henry Rines of Cook was selected as the Republican candidate for speaker at the caucus of house Republicans, the vote being unanimous and eighty votes being cast for him. Most of those suspected to be insurgents were present and joined in the vote, though Representative Ernest Lundeen of Minneapolis, who has declared that he will make a fight on the floor for a committee on committees taking the power of appointment away from the speaker even if his is the only voice raised for this "reform," did not attend.

The rest of the slate agreed upon by the steering committee was adopted by unanimous vote.

The only reference to the proposed committee on committees at the Republican house caucus was by Representative R. C. Dunn of Princeton, who at the close said that he had been against this plan when the progressives proposed it two years ago, and he was against it now. He thought that if Mr. Rines was good enough to be speaker he was good enough to appoint the committees.

The Senate Republicans.

Equal harmony prevailed at the caucus of Republican senators, which was attended even by Senators George H. Sullivan and F. A. Duxbury, who were the leaders of the Republican insurgents. The senate appointments were practically all agreed upon, each Republican senator getting one.

No mention was made of the proposed committee on committees.

After the caucus was over Senator Sullivan, talking to The Herald representative, asserted that the purposes of those back of the proposed insurgent move had been greatly misconstrued.

"People ought to know me well enough," he said, "to know that I would not be a party to a 'deal' against the public interest. There was no word or hint in this move of anything that might affect legislation one way or another. I never saw a more unselfish lot of men than those who participated in it."

The house Democrats voted to present the name of Representative Frank E. Minnette of Sauk Center as the minority party's candidate for speaker, and again mide Representative Albert Pfaender of New Ulm the Democratic floor leader, a position he filled with dignity and ability two years ago.

No action was taken on the proposed committee on committees, though it was discussed. Neither did the caucus act on a proposal to indorse the "blue sky" law, initiative, referendum and recall, and the public utility commission, all these matters being put over to an adjourned meeting to be held this morning.

Very few of the house Democrats expressed themselves as being in favor of a move to take the committee appointments away from Speaker Rines, but a number expressed themselves in favor of the principle, declaring it to be a really progressive move, and there was considerable sentiment in favor of a law providing that two years hence, and thereafter, committees be selected in this manner.

The senate Democrats, on whom the last hope of the senate insurgents depended, had neither so harmonious nor so easy a time. They were in session up to a late hour last night, and the debate over the question was prolonged and at times heated.

HEAVY LOSSES TO FRUIT CROP IN CALIFORNIA

shipping concern, declared that if the government held the same attitude as it did last year in the Northern "sweated fruit" cases, the present crop would be the smallest in the history of the citrus industry. The government ruled that oranges which had been subjected to the sweating process were the same as adulterated food and confiscated the entire shipment. Growers believe that a slight application of "sweating" would take the frost out of a great deal of fruit which otherwise would be useless.

Nearly 100 carloads of oil, distillate and other fluids were used in the smudging operations last night. In Redlands the orchardists quit trying to do anything when the thermometer showed a minimum of 19 deg. San Bernardino was 2 deg. lower and there citrus men estimated the loss would be fully $2,000,000.

Water Famine.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan. 7.—Although the weather grew warmer toward noon, there seemed no immediate relief from the water famine resulting from the frozen streams, schools, big business and mercantile houses and even the general offices of railroads are closed today because the water famine precludes the heating of buildings.

The city health department is taking precautions to prevent an epidemic as the result of the insanitary conditions prevailing. A fire with no water to check it also is feared. The mercury reached its lowest mark for years at 7 a. m., when it fell to 2.3 deg. below zero. In some parts of the city a little water has been obtained by the blasting of ice in the streams which supply the mains.

Forty-one deg. below zero at Scofield, Utah, is the lowest temperature recorded in the state.

All Hope Gone.

Pomona, Cal., Jan. 7.—When the mercury dropped to 19 just before midnight last night, the owners of two thousand acres of orange groves in this section gave up hope of saving their crops. They said their loss would amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

WORLDWIDE INTEREST IN THE TARIFF

from the free list to a 20 per cent ad valorem duty. He regarded it as a mistaken notion that perfumery was a luxury and that he had known of working girls who spent much of their wages for it.

Mr. Ricksecker made a plea "that we are all entitled to a slice of happiness," and that perfumery virtually was a necessity for servant girls as well as for womankind generally. The manufacture of dry colors was taken up with Arthur S. Somers of New York, as a witness.

"Are you in sympathy with the idea of a tax on raw materials that enter into manufacture?" asked Representative Payne of New York, former Republican chairman of the committee.

"No," said the witness.

"This is no pipe dream," declared Mr. Somers. "If you put paris green on the free list you will wipe out every paris green factory in the United States. Canada has a 10 per cent duty shutting out our manufactures and without protection the Canadians would drive us out of business."

P. P. Callahan of Louisville, Ky., speaking for the National Varnish association, said the varnish industry could stand a free trade basis. He asked no protection and protested that removing the duty on sugar and putting a tax on non-competitive varnish raw material, would not improve the situation at all.

determining whether the larger lines, operating between the United States and Brazilian or other South American ports, including the Lamport and Holt and the North German Lloyd line and the Prince lines had any agreements or working arrangements that amounted to a control of commerce.

To Establish New Line.

Mr. Storey detailed the movement of New Orleans business men to establish a new line of steamers to South America. In June, 1912, the Pan-American mail, he said, in which no one owned more than $500 worth of stock, was started with three chartered ships.

"We have been compelled to withdraw our line because the ships came back empty," Mr. Storey declared.

Before the line was started, he said, some business men declined to invest in the project because they believed the European lines, which also ply between the Americas, would prevent the new ships from getting cargoes from Brazil to the United States.

The witness declared South American shippers anxiously await "emancipation" from the alleged monopoly of European lines, but feared to support American ships.

Commercial War.

"There is no question that there is a commercial war against the United States," he declared.

Strict regulation of steamship lines, the witness said, would get American commerce into South America. He declared that a 30 per cent preferential duty on American flour practically was swallowed up by the discriminating rates of the European steamship monopoly.

American cement was kept out, he testified, by the steamship "monopoly" raising the rates when it heard large orders were to be given to Americans.

Mr. Storey filed with the committee papers intended to show that the "conference" lines were rebating.

Harmony in the House.

Harmony complete prevailed in the house, where Representative Henry Rines was elected speaker by a vote of 101 to 19 for Representative Frank Minette, on a strictly party vote. The other officers were elected according to the slate in both houses, E. B. Shanks of Madella being made assistant secretary of the senate to fill the place left open at last night's caucus. Speaker Rines appointed the following rules committee, a strongly progressive list: W. I. Nolan, Kerry Conley, J. T. Johnson, C. T. Knapp of Chisholm, A. J. Peterson, Charles N. Orr, Andrew Davies. Committees on mileage and legislative expense were also appointed in both houses.

The senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Burnquist, who was sworn in by Chief Justice C. L. Brown. Secretary of State Julius Schmahl, in a beautiful frock coat, called the house to order, and Justice C. L. Bunn swore in the members.

Committees from each house were to be appointed this afternoon to notify Governor Eberhart that the legislature is ready to hear from him, and he will respond at a joint session tomorrow with a message of 9,000 words.

The Democratic senators caucused until a late hour last night, coming to no agreement, but to the conclusion as expressed by Senator Works that it was all up with the combine. Senator Works was made Democratic floor leader. The house Democrats this morning decided to oppose the committee on committees plan this time, but to favor it as a progressive measure two years hence.

"Ice Enshrouds Bay-Wind From North'ard in Fierce and Frigid Way."

Navigation has been closed for some time but not until today was the navigation in the Duluth-Superior harbor stopped. It will be through for the season this afternoon some time and then the tugs St. Clair and Minnesota will lay up for the winter. The last steamer to be shifted and loaded is the Thomas Adams of the Adams Transportation Company of Monroe, Mich. She took on wheat for storage.

The ice in the harbor, from the canal to Spirit Lake, varies, it is said, from 16 to 18 inches in thickness. There are places where it is heaped up pretty high, but the thickness from the actual surface is not believed to be any more than that stated.

G. G. Hartley, Rev. M. S. Rice, Ray M. Hughes and other prominent Duluth men will be speakers tonight at a banquet to be held at the Spalding by the Greater Duluth club.

The demand for tickets has been such that the big banquet hall of the Spalding is expected to be crowded when the diners take their places. The committee in charge says that the gathering will be one of the biggest generators of enthusiasm for Duluth that has ever been held in the city.

The relations between Duluth and its trade territory will be the subject of a talk by G. G. Hartley. Mr. Hartley will touch upon the development of the adjacent farming land, and the developing of better trade relations with the more remote portions of the Northwest.

Dr. Rice will speak on "Greater Duluth," and the need for a co-operative civic spirit in building up the city.

Ray M. Hughes will speak on the passenger rate and service question as affecting Duluth. The service between Duluth and St. Cloud on the Great Northern will be referred to especially.

New Officers of Musical Organization Now Take Charge for Year.

Reynold Johnson, Newly Elected President, Talks at Banquet.

The Svea Glee club held its annual installation, banquet and entertainment last evening at the Woodmen hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street.

According to the reports made by the officers and committees of the club, the organization has had the most successful year of its history during 1912. Its financial condition is the best at present that it has been since its organization over twenty years ago. During the year the club purchased dress suits for the members and a piano for its clubrooms in the Woodmen hall.

The installation was held the early part of the evening and was attended only by the members, after which an open meeting, banquet and entertainment was held. The following officers were installed: Reynold Johnson, president; Abel Pearson, vice president; Jack Oman, recording secretary; Albert Peterson, financial secretary; Charles F. Forsell, treasurer; S. G. Peterson, custodian; Helmer H. Ogren, business manager; Charles Helmer, director; Hjalmar Enlund, assistant director; Frank Carlson, A. Pearson, C. E. Pearson, Jack Wallin, music committee, and George Anderson, C. E. Pearson and S. G. Peterson, finance committee.

During the past year the club took part in many local concerts and was prominent in musical circles throughout the northern part of the state. Several concerts were given at Virginia, Carlton and Cloquet during the year. The members also took part in the Midsummer's day festival last June, the water carnival at the boat club last July and the Sangerfest held here by the American Union of Swedish Singers.

The banquet was followed by an address by John Wallin, who was toastmaster. A review of the work during the past year was made by Helmer Ogren and George Anderson. Addresses were made by Reynold Johnson, the newly installed president, and Charles Forsell. Musical numbers were rendered during the evening by Miss Garda Erickson, Charles Olson, Mr. Frink and the Svea Glee club.

SALVATION ARMY AFTER CONVERTS.

The Scandinavian Salvation army at 1631 West Superior street is conducting its first annual siege, which will last throughout this month.

The siege is a series of meetings held every morning at the local headquarters for the purpose of interesting outsiders into the work of the organization. Many converts are secured in this way in larger cities and the plan is now being tried out by Captain Marinus Fristrup, head of the corps.

The meetings started last Thursday evening and are to be held every evening this month. In addition to regular religious services, a program of addresses and musical selections is featured each evening.

COME TO AID OF FIRE VICTIMS.

Friends readily came to the support of the family of Frank King, who barely escaped with their lives in a fire that destroyed their home at 19 South Twentieth avenue west early yesterday morning.

During the afternoon a number of West end women brought clothes to Mrs. King and her two children, Mr. King having been supplied by residents of Esmond hotel shortly after the fire. A purse is being made up among the business men and Mr. King will soon be able to begin work at St. Paul, where he recently secured a position as carpenter.

STUFFED HIS CAP INTO MAIL CHUTE

There are all kinds of jags, it is said, and when men are in an inebriated condition they are likely to do anything, but Assistant Postmaster Weld thinks he has found out one of the "limit" things that men do.

He was called up a few days ago and asked if a chinchilla cap was found in the postoffice. On inquiry the assistant postmaster found that one had been found and the inquirer asked that it be saved for him and he would call for it. He did not call, however, but sent a friend.

It seems that he was over here from Superior on New Year's eve, and while celebrating, conceived the idea that it would be an immense joke to stuff his cap through one of the mail chutes in the postoffice. It proved to be a joke all right but it was on himself, for he had to go home bareheaded.

RAISING BOND FOR FRED MOONEY

Part of $10,000 Required for Duluth Man's Release Obtained.

There is now but $7,000 to be raised to make up the sum of $10,000 demanded by the Federal court at Indianapolis as bail money for Fred J. Mooney, the Duluth man among those convicted of dynamiting.

Three friends, whose names will be published later, each late yesterday left a subscription of $1,000 in the hands of W. E. McEwen, secretary-treasurer of the State Federation of Labor.

The Duluth local union of the International Association of Structural Iron Workers will meet next Wednesday evening at Sloan hall, West end, to perfect plans for raising the other $7,000.

Any person to sign the required bond must be a free-holder and possess $1,000 above the value of his homestead.

EIGHT KILLED IN AN ACCIDENT ON SHIP.

Toulon, France, Jan. 7.—Eight men were killed today by an explosion in the stoke-hold of the French battleship Massena. The Massena, accompanied by two cruisers, was proceeding for Bizerta. She was passing the Hyeres islands when the steam collector pipe of one of the boilers, burst.

The warship was immediately stopped and the engine room staff rushed to the stokehold where they found a petty officer, six stokers and an artificer dead. The ship put back and landed the bodies at the naval hospital.

WORK OF CRIMINAL COURTS OF COUNTY IS INCREASING

Attorney's Report Gives St. Louis County Doubtful Honor of Second Place in the State.

In the county attorney's office, the year 1912 shattered all previous records as to the volume of business done in the criminal courts of the county. The figures, it is believed will put St. Louis county second in the state. It is thought that St. Louis county will lead Ramsey county in this regard and will be second only to Hennepin county. In the percentage of convictions secured, it is believed, St. Louis county will lead all.

County Attorney Norton's record for the past three years has been as follows:

	1910.	1911.	1912.
Number of cases handled	344	473	624
Percentage of convictions secured	87	86	86

During the year 1912, 245 cases were brought to trial. Of this number 211 were convicted and forty-five acquitted. This makes the percentage of convictions slightly more than 86 per cent. The average percentage of conviction in the state is 60 per cent.

The 1912 report has been prepared and may be summarized as follows:

Total number of cases handled	624
District court cases	453

Out of five first degree manslaughter charges, there were two convictions, one dismissal, one no true bill and one fugitive.

Things Women Should Know

(From the Journal of Fashion.)

"At this season of the year the complexion requires better protection than is afforded by powder. Dissolve an original package of mayatone in a half pint witch hazel and you have a complexion beautifier that makes the skin soft, lovely, smooth and sathy. Gently massage face, neck and arms with this in the morning and your complexion will need no further attention all day.

"Any woman can keep her hair clean, light, fluffy and beautifully lustrous by dry shampooing every week or two, and at the same time avoid danger of catching cold from washing the head. Mix 4 ounces powdered orris root with an original package of therox; sprinkle a little on the head and brush through the hair.

"If pyroxin is applied daily with the thumb and forefinger to the roots, eyelashes will grow long and silky. Thin and straggly eyebrows will grow evenly if brushed daily with pyroxin.

"Embarrassing wild hairs and fuzzy growths are quickly and safely removed by one application of delatone. Make a paste by mixing powdered delatone with water; cover the hairy surface for two or three minutes; then remove, wash the skin and the hairs will be gone.

"Mother's Salve is an old-fashioned remedy for coughs, colds in head or chest, catarrh and sore throat. It can be purchased in prepared form from any druggist. It is easy to use and quick to act. The world never saw its equal as a household remedy."

SCHOOL FOR CRIMINALS

Under the Present System County Supports One, Says G. G. Hartley.

Asks Co-operation With City in Establishing Correctional Farm.

To the Editor of The Herald:

In your issue of the 4th inst. I notice the following item:

"John Soumin, Axel Wall and Allard Newman were each sentenced to three months in the Duluth county jail by Police Court Judge Carey, charged with disorderly conduct."

This means that one police court, out of the many in this county does, in one day, send three men to our county jail, to be boarded in idleness and schooled in crime for ninety days.

A hard working woman, who earns $1.75 a day, and owns a home in Duluth, told me recently that she would be compelled to let her home go as she could not afford to pay the taxes, and street, sidewalk and sewer assessments. Part of this woman's taxes on her home will go to pay the board of these three men and thousands of others who are sent to feed and live in idleness in our county jail each year, and after these three men have been broiled and steamed over the radiators in the jail and thoroughly instructed in crime by their criminal associates for these ninety days, they will be turned out not to go to work but to become a burden on society.

The city has purchased 400 acres of good land near the Pike Lake road, five miles from Superior street, for $25 per acre, and options have been taken on about as much more adjoining land at the same price, hoping that the county will buy it and join with the city in the establishment of a correctional farm. If the county and city had a working camp on this land today and a good foreman in charge, these men and many others now in our jail, could be employed cutting the timber off of it into fuel, which would sell in Duluth for more than the original cost of the land. Then when spring comes, they could be employed digging the stumps and rocks out and next winter they could crush the rocks up for material to build permanent buildings on the farm, and so the county and city could go on from year to year, making the most of the improvements with this same class of labor and teaching them to go into the forest and make their living off the land and out of the soil.

I believe our city and county officials will see the economy of this undertaking and in the whole enterprise, I feel sure, they will have the support of the press and the taxpayers of the city and county generally.

NEW YORK STRIKERS ATTACK THE POLICE.

New York, Jan. 7.—In their efforts to intercept 350 young women employed in the wholesale clothing manufacturing concern of J. L. Taylor & Co., as they were leaving work, 500 striking garment workers, the majority of them women, attacked the police guarding the building.

The police used their clubs on the strikers, who tried to seize the coats and dresses of the girls.

This was the only disturbance of the day, which marked the beginning of massed picketing by the strikers. Five strikers arrested on charges of conducting the strike in an unlawful manner, were sentenced to ten days in the workhouse.

At Newark, N. J., the police were busy keeping in check the 800 strikers who formed in bodies and marched through the factory districts. Several cases of violence were reported and five arrests were made.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

A Little Sage and Sulphur Makes Gray Hair Vanish—A Remedy for All Hair Troubles.

Who does not know the value of Sage and Sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft and glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, Sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than Sage and Sulphur, if properly prepared.

The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put out an ideal preparation of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, in which Sage and Sulphur are combined with other valuable remedies for keeping the hair and scalp in clean, healthy condition.

If your hair is losing its color or constantly coming out, or if you are troubled with dandruff or dry, itchy scalp, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, use it according to the simple directions, and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in the appearance of your hair.

All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Agent, Max Wirth.

EXCHANGE INDORSES FIGHT ON FRANCHISE

Real Estate Men Hear Report on Street Railway Controversy.

Committee Gives History of Company's Operations in Duluth.

At a meeting of the Duluth Real Estate Exchange, at which luncheon was served during the noon hour at the Commercial club rooms today, N. J. Upham read to the members a very exhaustive report of the statu quo of the street railway controversy in the courts, whereby attempts are being made to annul the franchise of the company and the bondholders of the company are attempting to stop the proceedings.

The report was most complete, and when Mr. Upham sat down he was rewarded with hearty applause. R. B. Knox moved a vote of thanks to the committee and included a motion that the committee be continued in what he described "the magnificent work." In brief, the committee recommends a continuation of the fight in the name of private taxpayers which has been started since the city officials have been enjoined from proceeding, so that the action of the exchange today is an indorsement of that view. The report in full follows:

The report follows:

"Duluth Real Estate Exchange—

"Your committee on street car matters, appointed last March, respectfully make the additional report:

"Being unable to get any assurances from the street car company of a change in their policy, we placed before the city attorney on Sept. 20, the legal questions that your committee had raised regarding the company's franchise and as a result the council passed a resolution employing attorneys to assist them in determining the legality of the franchise last November. When the city was enjoined by the United States court, your committee felt immediate action was necessary to get the attorney general to act and bring quo warranto proceedings in the state courts, and we employed C. E. Adams and had two hearings before the attorney general which were attended by your committee. We give you herewith some history affecting street railway matters bearing on the legal questions.

"'N. J. UPHAM.
"'Chairman.'

History of Case.

"1870—The legislature passed an act establishing the city of Duluth, comprising what is now Duluth proper, First division, Second division, Helm's division, Third division, Portland division, Endion division, Chester Park division, Lakeview addition, Norton's division, Chamber's division, Homewood addition, Summit Park division and forty acres of Duluth Heights, First division, together with Rice's Point and Minnesota Point. In this charter there was no authority for the city to grant franchises for street railway purposes.

"March 2, 1881, in general session, the legislature passed an act establishing the village of Duluth, cutting out from the city of Duluth the built-up portion and extending from Superior street near Tenth avenue east, running up to Second street, thence the lower side of Fourth street, thence west to near Tenth avenue and thence down to Second street, thence beyond Rice's Point and down to the bay front, taking in Rice's Point and Upper and Lower Duluth, Minnesota Point, leaving the outskirts and much of the larger part of the territory of the whole city of Duluth still as a city, leaving the little hamlet of Oneota outside and also the little settlement of New London. At that time the village had a population of about 3,000 people. This charter gave the village of Duluth the right to grant franchises for street railway purposes.

Special Session.

"Nov. 8, 1881, a constitutional amendment was to be submitted to the people prohibiting special legislation by the legislature and prohibiting franchises and special privileges of all kinds being granted. Apparently anticipating that such amendment would carry, as it did, the legislature was called in special session in October or November, 1881, as a last opportunity of the lawmakers of the state to grant special rights and give away the rights of the people to the favored few on the pork barrel theory. Apparently anticipating this opportunity, on Oct. 25, 1881, the Duluth Street Railway company obtained a charter under the railroad act for a term of fifty years, and though the village had power to grant a franchise under the village charter passed less than eight months before, no request was made to the village for such franchise, where the people could have taken a part in the discussion and protected their rights and where the rights given might have been limited to reasonable restrictions, but the bill was prepared for passage for the special session granting it most extraordinary powers. On Oct. 19, 1881, one of the aldermen called the attention of the council to the bill and it was referred to a committee of three to confer with the company, which committee reported five days later, Oct. 24, that it had amicably agreeed with the company upon some amendments to the bill and on resolution the council approved the bill. The public apparently took no part in the discussion or action. Whether or not the council was convinced the bill would pass in spite of any opposition and considered any slight concession gained was so much to the good, or whether they thought that the constitutional amendment would be voted on and therefore become a law before the bill could be passed, it is impossible now to say. A prominent Duluth attorney explains his indifference and that of the people at the time by saying that no one in those days thought the franchise would be legal, because of the constitutional amendment which was voted on and passed on Nov. 8, and everyone, including the legislature, knew the result of that election, which prohibited special legislation of all kinds and especially prohibited the giving of franchises and special privileges. As a matter of fact, however, though the people voted and approved such amendment Nov. 8, throughout the state, the final result was not officially canvassed and declared by the state officials until after the legislature passed, on Nov. 17, 1881, the extraordinary franchise to the Duluth Street Railway company. This franchise, in section 1, gave to the company during the term of its charter (which at that time was fifty years) the exclusive right and privilege of constructing and operating a single or double track for passenger railway line in any of the streets of the village of Duluth and its suburbs, including New London and Oneota, and in the roads connecting the same, 'subject to the terms, conditions and forfeiture hereinafter contained.'

Conditions of Grant.

"Section 2, under title 'Conditions of Grant' says 'the aforesaid grant is upon the express condition that if the said Duluth Street Railway company shall fail to construct, equip and have in full operation, one mile of said street railway within one year after the passage of this act, then and in that case the Duluth Street Railway company shall, without any act on the part of the state or the village of Duluth, forfeit to the village of Duluth all of the rights, privileges and immunities granted by this act.'

"Section 3, granting power to the village to order some extensions provided that they were on streets suitably improved for street railway purposes, and provided that the company did not build within a reasonable time the city could grant the right to others to build on such streets, but if they were not so built within two years the exclusive rights of the company should continue.

"Section 8, 'Rates of Fare' provided that 'said company may regulate and establish from time to time such rates of fare, etc., as it may deem proper, but that the charge for carrying one person should not exceed 5 cents on any one line, but that the village at the expiration of every five years could fix the rate of fares, but that said council should not reduce the passenger fare below 5 cents over any one continuous line designated by the council and that such continuous line should not exceed more than three miles in length.' Under this provision the company can charge 10 cents from Woodland or Lakeside to the center of the city and can charge 30 cents from these points to New Duluth or Fond du Lac.

"The franchise provides further under rules for governing cars, that cars shall not be run at a greater speed than six miles per hour. That cars driven in the same direction should not approach each other nearer than 200 feet.

"Section 16 provided that the company should file an acceptance within thirty days (which it did) with the secretary of state and recorder of the village in writing, accepting the grants and rights made, with the conditions, regulations and limitations above expressed. By such acceptance the company agreed if a mile of track was not built and in full operation within one year, that the franchise without any act on part of the village or state was forfeited.

"Section 17 was added to make the franchise ironclad and to prevent its being in any way varied or changed. It provides referring to the village charter passed eight months before giving the village the right to grant franchises, that nothing in the village charter shall be construed to authorize the making of any contract or the granting of any rights or franchises inconsistent with the provision of this act. In other words the exclusive use of the streets was given to the company and by this section the village charter was practically amended taking away its right to grant franchises to anybody, even to this company, and was also prohibited from making any contracts or granting any rights inconsistent with the provision of this act, which if the English language means anything prevented the village in case the franchise was forfeited by failure to complete a mile and have in full operation within one year to make any contract or grant any rights that would change those conditions.

"It seems plain, therefore, that the city could not, in case such failure occurred, waive it, extend the time or grant any rights or franchises contrary to the provision of forfeiture, as well as being prevented, in case the franchise was not forfeited, from granting any rights or franchises inconsistent with exclusive rights of the company.

Legislature and Company.

"In passing the street railway franchise after the people had voted prohibiting it but before the result was declared officially the legislature apparently realized it was over-riding the rights of the people of Duluth, taking away the power that it had given them less than eight months before to control such franchises. That it was saddling upon the people and their posterity conditions that would be burdensome and outrageous with development and growth of the city. That it was giving rights now claimed by the company to be worth, and capitalized for millions, upon which the company not only earns, but now pays interest and dividends annually. A right by its peculiar wording given for the term of its charter which has been construed by the company as being perpetual and is common talk that the company have sold bonds furnishing high legal opinion that said franchise is exclusive and probably perpetual, because of the fact that the company can extend the term of its charter for fifty additional years and can do so indefinitely by filing amendments to its articles of incorporation. Perhaps to ease the conscience of some voters in the legislature for the act, perhaps to have a pretense for a consideration for said franchise or perhaps with a hope that such exclusive rights might become void by limitation or perhaps the council insisted on such provision, the legislature placed in said franchise in Section 2, provision for the absolute forfeiture of the franchise without any act of the state or village if said mile of track was not in full operation within one year and requiring in the franchise that the company accept the limitations and conditions. This statute was probably drawn by the attorneys of the Duluth Street Railway company and the wording in Section 2 was their wording. This section must have been drawn for the purpose of securing the bill to be passed perhaps was one of the amendments insisted on by the council, and if the Duluth Street Railway company failed to comply with the conditions which it made, it cannot say that it has been misled, when the legislature gave to it a franchise of its own preparation, and to its own liking. These words seem plain to the ordinary mind. The intent appears to be clear as much as to say, We are taking away from the people their rights to regulate their own streets, rights that we give them but seven months before—rights that may be perpetual.' The favored few getting these rights know why and how they are getting them. We will show a little decency and make a slight condition to be fulfilled to make the people feel better. The company will have to accept the condition that if it fails to build one mile of track and have it in full operation within one year that the franchise will be forfeited without any act of the company or the village. When the state officials declare the result of the constitutional amendment the power of the legislature to pass such an act will cease. Its power to amend it, modify it, or extend it, will cease. These conditions, therefore, are final and absolute.

Did Not Build Track.

"The bill passed Nov. 17, 1881. The year expired Nov. 17, 1882. Was a mile of track built, equipped and in full operation Nov. 17, 1882? The company will try to prove that it was. Those who have looked into the matter claim they have a large number of witnesses living in Duluth in 1882 and 1883 who will swear positively that within one year there was nearly a mile of track built. That what little track was built was not used, but was pulled up and relaid in the following year and that the road was not equipped and not operated before Nov. 17, 1882, and not until in July 1883. News items taken from the files of the Tribune in 1882 and 1883 when reprinted will be rather conclusive to the public, if not to the courts, as to what the facts were. They certainly make very interesting reading.

Constitutional Grounds.

"If by any peculiarities of the law there is any doubt in the minds of the court that the franchise was forfeited as provided for, there is a serious question whether or not the act as passed was constitutional on other ground. From supreme court decisions in prominent states not connected with the case believe the city will win on that ground alone, but the details will not be given now. Outside of that question it must be remembered that the act was special legislation. That the power of the state legislature to pass such an act died a few days afterwards. Its power to amend it, or modify it died with it. That if the legislature could not modify or pass such legislation after the constitutes became effective, the city, a creature of the legislature certainly could not modify, amend or pass special legislation or by any act of waiver or estoppel in anything to re-enact into life special legislation.

"The city claims the franchise died by its own limitation, self executing, without any act being necessary by the state or village when its conditions were not complied with by the company. Apparently the street car company realized its franchise was dead and tried desperately to get some waiver or estoppel or other act of the village to keep it alive. Mr. Billson, its attorney, on Dec. 23, over a month after the franchise was forfeited and absolutely dead by its terms, applied for an extension of time for putting line road in operation until spring, and at his request the following resolution was passed Dec. 23, 1882.

"Resolved, by the common council, reserving to itself to except to the manner in which the tracks are laid by the Duluth Street Railway company and to except to the kind of rails laid on street railway of said company which have never been submitted to said council and also to impose upon said line any needful regulations in regard to keeping the streets next to said railway in order, consent that said company postpone the actual operation of its said railway until May 15, 1883.

"Can it be said the company was misled and induced to spend large sums of money by the village? This resolution was passed in spite of section 17 of the franchise that prohibited the village from making any contract or granting any rights or franchises inconsistent with the provisions of this act which included the provision of forfeiture. What is the effect of this resolution? Could the village council do what the legislature said it could not do? Could it over a month after the franchise died resurrect and give it life by resolution when its powers to do so had been prohibited? Could it by such a resolution re-enact the special legislation which at that time was prohibited by the Constitution and in effect give the company the identical franchise that by its conditions it or the legislature could not amend or change or repass? Even if it could the extension was until May 15, 1883, at which time the mile of track was still unbuilt and not in operation.

"After the resolution of Dec. 23, 1882, the legislature convened again in general session the first of January, 1883. There was evident serious doubt in the mind of the company. Apparently with a view of desperately holding on to any rights it could it would appear as though the company had gotten the legislature to pass an amendment, March 5, 1883, to the village charter passed two years before and by such amendment withdrew any powers of the village to grant street railway franchises and thus no other company could get a new franchise from the village and contest the rights of the company. The village powers to grant street railway franchises were dead on March 5, 1883, and were not again revived until the home rule charter was adopted in 1900. Notwithstanding this when the company had not built the mile of track and put it in operation in May, 1883, it again came to the council when it had no power to grant such a resolution and ask for a further extension of time for putting the line in operation, and a rather indefinite resolution was passed—passed without any power and claimed by the city to be of no effect. It seemed safe for the company with the village powers restricted to go ahead and lay its mile of track and try to hold what rights it could and obtain more by legal technicalities. Therefore, in May the company started to relay the small portion down and to complete the mile of track and in July, 1883, started to operate a car. Old residents still laugh about the track, the mules, the cars and the mud.

Additional Legislation.

"In 1887 the village decided to again become a city and asked the legislature for a city charter which was passed March 2, 1887. Apparently the company had a hand in the terms of the charter because in it the city was given no right to grant street railway franchises and the company tried to bolster up its rights by the following provision:

"'And all valid rights, privileges and franchises heretofore granted in said former city or village of Duluth to said Duluth Street Railway company shall continue and be in force within the new city of Duluth with the same validity as they now exist in said city or village.'

"Notice the words 'valid rights' and 'the same validity.' Evidently a compromise in the terms of the charter which left the rights of the company dependent on their previous validity, but nevertheless preventing the city from doing business with any one else. Thus the validity of these rights was left in statu quo between the city and the company and the company continued to grow with the city.

"In 1890, seven years after the line was started horse cars became out of date. The company went to the city and asked the right to electrify the road. The council apparently objected to the legality of the 1881 franchise and demurred to giving the company the right to go to the expense of electrifying on the old franchise. It therefore offered the company a new franchise which was carefully drawn up after weeks of discussion, in which the interests of the people were protected and an ordinance was passed April 7, 1890, providing for a new franchise and provided that it should be accepted by the company within a definite time. The company refused to accept the franchise and notified Mayor Davis to that effect so that the mayor in his message to the council vetoed the franchise with the sole purpose of saving the expense of publication as the company refused absolutely to accept it. Negotiations then continued between the city and the company and three weeks later on April 21, 1890, the council passed a resolution authorizing the company to electrify the road for a term of thirty years or until April 21, 1920, but specifically provided in Section 2 the following: 'The fact of the granting of said permission to erect said structures by said common council to said street railway company shall not be construed in any event or at any time to affect the legal status of the city of Duluth towards the Duluth Street Railway company other than as giving the said company the mere right to erect and use said poles, wires and structures for said purpose nor to estop said city from asserting any claim, right or demand which it might have asserted but for this resolution.'

"It also provided that the resolution be accepted by the company in writing which was done April 28, 1890. The intent was clearly to reserve the city's legal rights against said company and holding the question of the legality of franchise in statu quo and not waiving the city's rights to contest it, showing clearly that in 1890, seven years after the company started, there was a question as to its legal rights in the franchise. That the city offered it a new franchise and then consented when the new franchise was not acceptable to let the question still remain open for a final adjudication in case the acts of the company were not satisfactory to the city.

"Jan. 30, 1893, the council passed a resolution against the passage by the legislature of a bill legalizing certain street railway franchises. This bill applied to villages under certain conditions and the council was afraid that by it the street car company's franchise might be validated.

"On Dec. 18, 1893, or ten years after the company started its line another ordinance was passed by the council to settle the controversy about transfers, which provided in section 5, under 'Rights Reserved'—'Nothing contained in this ordinance shall be taken or deemed to estop or prevent the city of Duluth from granting to any other railway company the rights and privileges of constructing its lines and laying its tracks anywhere in said city, nor shall anything herein contained be construed in any manner to prevent or estop the said city of Duluth or said street railway company from making or asserting any claim of right by reason of acts of the legislature or former ordinance of the city of Duluth in reference to said Duluth Street Railway company' specifically showing that the act of the legislature of 1881 was in controversy and that the city would not waive any rights or be estopped from contesting same. This ordinance also provided for acceptance by the company, which constitutes an agreement recognizing the rights of the city to contest said franchise, both parties practically agreeing that the question of the '81 franchise should remain in statu quo, both parties reserving their rights thereunder.

Large Expenditures.

"The large expenditures of the company were made when they commenced to electrify the system in 1890 and covering a period of several years including 1893, so that it is perfectly clear that the company went ahead at its own risk spending its money for electrifying and extensions, building most of its plant since 1890 with a full knowledge that the city would not waive any rights or estop itself to contest the 1881 franchise or prevent the city as conditions change from enforcing any rights, reasonable regulations and requirements, which such changed conditions warranted. It would therefore seem that the city has at all times reserved its rights with the consent of the company, and that the company at all times knew that its rights were questioned and likely to be set aside as far as 1881 franchise is concerned.

Position of City and Taxpayers.

"The city claims its action to have the 1881 franchise declared null and void is not to destroy the physical property of the company or to throw them off the streets, but that it simply wants the '81 franchise adjudicated and determined to be void, so that the city will have full power to regulate and control the company in such reasonable ways as is done by other cities, requiring it to accommodate the public and develop the city by reasonable extensions, to prevent the charge of more than a 5-cent fare for continuous run over any part of the city, and to have a limit of time as to rights of the company, cutting out any possibility of perpetuity. It is perfectly willing that the company earn reasonable and even large profits on its physical value, but believes it should be obliged to make reasonable extensions. That it should pay the cost of improving that portion of the streets occupied by its tracks, as well as such usual conditions required by cities granting franchises at the present time. It must be remembered that the Duluth Street Railway company has other franchises besides the 1881 franchise. It has the West Duluth franchise, the Lakeside franchise, the Incline franchise and the Superior franchise, none of which are being contested or are affected by the 1881 franchise, which is in the central portion of the city and the congested part. The physical value of the property is not affected, and the city does not propose to have it removed from the streets. Every one recognizes that the company has some reasonable rights in the streets, but not by the 1881 franchise, but such rights at all times to be regulated and controlled by the city, and deny that they are exclusive or perpetual. They deny that it cannot give rights to other companies to use other streets or use the tracks of the company in the congested portion of the city by paying a fair rental therefor on the physical value without being required to pay large amounts of interest on several million dollars added to the physical value for the franchise, none of which can be done if the 1881 franchise is valid. The city is likely to grow in the next few years; many of the witnesses that can testify to the facts thirty years ago are rapidly dying, and no time should be lost in determining the facts. It is dangerous to delay having the question of the 1881 franchise determined. The truce between the city and the company of the past leaving the question in statu quo must be ended while the city can still prove the facts.

"The taxpayers committee wishes to have the state courts pass on the state laws and determine the rights of the state's creatures, the city and the company. Neither the city nor the company itself could avoid the state courts and the company has no right to bring suit in the United States courts, but owing to the fact that the Central Trust company of New York is trustee for the bonds, it has a right to sue in the United States court, probably taking five years to determine the result meanwhile exacting enormous dividends. Therefore, the Central Trust company theoretically on the grounds that its bonds are endangered, brought an action in the United States court and obtained a restraining order from a judge of that court restraining the city from in any manner questioning the validity of or seeking to establish the forfeiture of the 1881 franchise by suit or otherwise and said order was issued tying the hands of city temporarily without giving it a chance to be heard. The plea that the bonds are in danger apparently is absurd. The physical value of the corporation as sworn to by its officials is recognized to be about two million dollars though it is paying interest and dividends on over $8,000,000. The company has an exclusive franchise giving it an easement in the streets of the main portion of Superior, and swore in tax case brought by the St. Louis county that to be worth a half million dollars. The company has in addition the West Duluth franchise, the Lakeside franchise, and the Incline franchise and a franchise in Superior to other portions of the city covering Old Superior, South Superior, which are unquestionably worth more than the difference between the physical value of the plants and the bonded indebtedness of $3,056,000. In addition to this it is claimed the company is earning and paying substantially every year in interest and dividends (after paying operating expenses) an amount equal to 20 per cent on the bonded indebtedness, so that practically in five years' time it could not only pay its bonded interest but the principal debt of the whole bonds if necessary even if the 1881 franchise was annulled. Is it not possible that the street car company is imposing on the United States courts and on a subterfuge, using it to prevent the matter being tried in the state courts and decided in less than a year?

Cited Independently.

"Fearing a long delay in the United States courts, and believing the city would have to go to the United States supreme court, at large expense and after years of delay, during which time the people would be harassed and worn out by the refusal of the company to make extensions, building to steel plant, etc., and because of the fact that should the case as now started in the United States court be decided in favor of the city, owing to the fact that the street railway company itself is not made a party in that suit, that said decision would not be binding and shut up like a book. He remembered that he passed through a complaint stage, and an argumentative stage.

THERE IS AN ETIQUETTE IN WAR

Rules, Written and Unwritten, Must Be Obeyed by the Armies of Civilized Nations.

London Answers: War—that is, warfare between civilized nations—has its code of etiquette, known as the customs of war, some of which are written, others tacitly agreed to.

Obvious examples of fighting etiquette are the rules which protect the Red Cross flag of the ambulance, and forbid the use of explosive, or, within limits, expanding bullets.

Nominally, a general may use any means in his power to bring his foe to subjection, but there is a well defined boundary line. A leader may cut off his enemy's food and water supplies. He may subject him to all the horrors of famine and thirst; but he must not poison his food or water.

Suppose a place is besieged and that outside the walls are wells which the besiegers cannot effectively hold, and which the besieged can reach under cover of night. The besieger would be justified in sending parties to fill up the wells with earth and stones, or to destroy them with dynamite. On the other hand, to pollute the wells with poison, or to throw dead animals into them, would be an infamy.

Prisoners on Parole.

A "prisoner of war" has his rights. He may be asked to give his parole to promise not to escape; but he must not be forced to give his parole, and is not to be punished for refusing to do so. A prisoner on parole who attempts to escape is liable to be shot, either when escaping or if taken alive.

An unparoled prisoner may also be shot while in the act of escaping; but if recaptured, it would be murder to shoot him, and he should not be punished for his attempt, though he may be placed in more rigorous confinement.

A prisoner may be compelled to earn his "keep" by working at his trade, if he has one, or by doing work for his captors not of a purely military nature. Thus, he may be ordered to assist in draining the camp in which he is prisoner; but it would not be fair to put him to building fortifications.

Guarding the General.

The customs of war justify the employment of spies, but under certain rules. If a soldier voluntarily turns traitor, the other side is entitled to make use of him; but it is not "cricket" to tempt a soldier to betray his own side.

If thus tempted, a man may pretend to turn traitor and deceive the enemy with false information. On the other hand, voluntarily to go over to the enemy, pretending to be a traitor or deserter, would be dishonorable conduct—that is, if the pretended traitor is an officer or soldier.

A spy, of course, has no rights, and is at all times liable to be shot or hanged at sight.

An officer or soldier, however, caught in the enemy's camp, must not be treated as a spy, but as a prisoner of war, provided he is not disguised.

If a commander takes part in a charge, or persistently exposes himself to fire, he must take his chance of being shot; but in big affairs it is not the "game" to detail marksmen to try to "pick off" your opponent's general, though every effort may be made to capture him.

Retaliation Sanctioned in War.

When a city or town is bombarded, public buildings—unless used for defensive purposes—should be spared so far as possible. When a place is captured, the victorious foe is entitled to seize art treasures, and so on, and to hold them to ransom. To injure or destroy them would be the act of a vandal.

When a country is invaded, the invader can compel the inhabitants to supply him with food and other supplies, and to act as guides, workmen and drivers.

A person who, not belonging to any recognized military force, takes up arms against an invader is liable to be shot when captured. Retaliation is sanctioned by the customs of war. It is military vengeance, and takes place when an outrage committed on one side is avenged by the commission of a similar act on the other.

Thus, an unjust execution of prisoners held by the enemy may be followed by the execution of an equal number of prisoners held by the opponents.

GETTING DRUNK FOR SCIENCE'S SAKE

A Record of a Series of Psychological Experiments and Tests to Which an Educator Was Subjected.

From "Sturgis in the Psychology of Intemperance," by G. E. Partridge, Ph. D., published by Sturgis & Walton company.

The subject of the experiment about to be reported was a man of 35 years, serious and dignified in temperament, a specialist in education, his main work having been teaching and administration. He was in perfect health, of muscular build, and active both mentally and physically. He was entirely unaccustomed to the use of alcohol and undertook the experiment because of its scientific interest, to have the experience, and in order to know what an intoxicated person feels.

The place of the experiment was a large room of a laboratory, with special apparatus and tables for tests arranged in one part. Only the experimenter and the subject, and during a part of the time, an assistant, were present. All social excitement was eliminated, and the seriousness and quiet of the scientific laboratory were maintained. The alcohol was administered in divided doses, and was a 16 2-3 per cent solution of absolute alcohol and distilled water. Six doses of this mixture, 100 cubic centimeters in each dose, were prepared, but only five were given.

Yes, He Was Drunk All Right.

The doses were administered at 2:55, 3:26, 4:05, 4:48 and 5:55 p. m. The sixth dose was not given for the reason that the subject was at the time argumentative and refused to take it. Between the doses various experiments were carried on and were continued until recovery from the effects of the alcohol at about 9 p. m.

The method of work was as follows: After each dose of the alcohol the subject was put through a series of experiments, including tests for rapidity of movement, adding, memory for digits, strength of handclasp, estimation of time and distance, control of the reflex wink. The pulse rate was also taken during each period.

The Drinker's Sensations.

A few notes of many taken during the course of the experiment, or later from retrospection of the subject, will show something of his attitude toward the condition:

3:26 p. m.—The subject reported that he did not notice the burning sensation so much in taking the second dose as he did in the first, showing some diminution of sensibility.

4:00 p. m.—During the third round the subject was conscious in the tapping experiment of putting on more power than in the preceding rounds, and of a slower movement. This was true, and as the experiment progressed, the movement was changed from a precise finger and wrist movement to a movement of the whole body.

4:00 p. m.—Muscle sensation seemed much changed. The subject lifted a chair and was surprised to find it so light, and a little later a stool, and was surprised to find it so heavy.

4:20 p. m.—Complained of many body sensations. Felt as though the body were long and the legs short. The neck felt less sensitive when touched by the fingers. The subject was conscious of a peculiar feeling in the legs as though they wished to straighten out rigid and firm and to swing like pendulums from the hips instead of bending at the knees. If the eyes were closed there was a feeling of dizziness. The subject was conscious of a tendency to repeat phrases.

4:48 p. m.—Beginning of the fourth round. The subject complained of a feeling of numbness. He could not taste the alcohol at all this time. When he wiped his mouth he did not feel it. In the dynamometer test he tried to change to the left hand at the sixth pull. He showed signs of fatigue during the adding, and complained that everything felt gone from him. He began to show lack of interest in the experiments. When he finished the memory experiments, he said, "Got in an extra one, but never mind." Instead of putting down the nine which were read to him, he had recorded ten, a gross error in a simple memory test.

6:30 p. m.—The subject said that everything looked distant, but he thought he could estimate distance correctly. He tried, and did. Everything looked topsy-turvy to him, but he was not dizzy.

6:40 p. m.—The subject said that he felt paralyzed. A moment later he complained that the world seemed all shut in; that there was no light outside the room. There was a peculiar kind of contentment; he was perfectly content to sit still.

Patient Preferred to Waltz.

6:45 p. m.—The subject tried to walk, and thought "he could do better at a waltz." He tried it. About this time he complained that when sitting he felt a tendency to plunge forward, as though "everything were in the head."

6:55 p. m.—The subject complained that he cared for nothing, whether he were dead or alive—heaven or hell, happiness were all the same to him.

7:50 p. m.—The subject said that his words still sounded different to him, both in expression and in tone, from the normal. He said that now in looking back he could see that concentration of his attention upon a motor task had had an effect of bringing consciousness together and clearing it.

7:55 p. m.—The subject seemed quite sober. He still walked with slight incoordination. He guessed the time of day correctly. He complained still of a numbness all over, as though he were not a living organism. Since the last dose the time had seemed very short, as though some time in the past he had been shut up like a book. He remembered that he passed through a complaint stage, and an argumentative stage.

8:30 p. m.—The subject said that since the beginning of the fifth round everything seemed a blank. The word seemed small and shut in. He still felt a desire to look into a mirror to see whether he were really swaying in sitting upright, or whether this was merely a sensation. It was mostly subjective.

ROBBING SURGERY OF ITS PAIN.

William Brady, M. D., in Harper's Weekly: As Dr. Crile explains it: "Anaesthesia puts asleep only a portion of and brain, and is at best only a veneer. Rough manipulations of the viscera excite an involuntary reactive opposition of the patient to the surgeon, a silent protest of the unconscious patient against physical injury."

Now Crile conceived the idea that if he could temporarily cut off communication between the field of operation and the brain—prevent the nerves from carrying "insults" to headquarters—the occurrence of shock might be prevented. He performed hundreds of experiments on animals under ether with the operation field cocainized in addition, and found that the cocaine prevented the transmission of these injurious impulses and so prevented shock.

The principle was then applied to the human subject with happy results. An extremely dilute solution of cocaine or similar drug is used, not enough to involve any danger from the drug; it bathes the nerve endings in the wound, being purposely injected in and about the nerve trunks that supply the part to be operated on, after the patient is well under ether. This effectually "blocks off" the part, prevents the transmission of alarms to the brain, and thus completely cuts off control from headquarters for the time being.

OLD-FASHIONED ECONOMY.

Los Angeles Times: George W. Perkins, at a business men's diner in New York, deprecated niggardly business methods.

"There is no greater mistake," he said, "than for a young man to adopt in business the methods of old-fashioned economy.

"You know, of course, what I mean by old-fashioned economy? No?

"Well, an old-fashioned economist is one who, instead of buying an awl, goes to work to make one by straightening out an old corkscrew."

HIGH MEDICAL AUTHORITY

"The Journal," the official organ of the American Medical Association, the organization of physicians of the United States, in a recent article lists a number of things the family medicine chest should always contain to be used in emergencies before a physician can arrive. One of the most important in the list is a good whiskey.

The great value of a good whiskey in emergencies has always been recognized by the medical profession. The stimulation afforded by whiskey has many and many a time been the means of saving life. In cases of accident, shock, or acute illness it may mean life or death whether or not you have it on hand.

But the whiskey you use should be good and pure. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is made for the home, the hospital and the sick room. It is solely a medicinal whiskey. It is made from selected grain and the distilling process is carried so far that it exceeds in purity the requirements of the United States Pharmacopoeia. It is the best whiskey for you to have in the house, because it is for medicinal purposes.

Be sure to get Duffy's. Sold in sealed bottles only by druggists, grocers and dealers at $1.00 a bottle. Write our doctors for free advice and a free illustrated medical booklet. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y.

MESSING THINGS.

Representative W. T. Stone of Park Rapids is sending circulars to members of the legislature and others that contain a curious mixture of ideas.

Dr. Stone criticizes with proper heat the injustice of the present antiquated legislative apportionment. Then he views with alarm the growth and influence of the large cities, and proposes an entirely new scheme of reapportionment, involving the necessity of a Constitutional amendment to be voted upon at the election of 1914. The legislature could not act upon it, if the amendment were adopted, until 1915; and then a new senate will have just been elected for four years under the old apportionment, and the situation will be precisely what it was in 1911—the senate will cook up excuses for delaying reapportionment further in order to hold the full term for which it was elected.

So what Dr. Stone's plan means, and there is no need of thinking of any other factor in it, is that a legislative reapportionment which should have been made ten years ago will be further postponed until 1917 at the earliest, and cannot be effective until the session of 1919.

Therefore it looks to us very much as though all Dr. Stone could hope to do with this would be to mess things up and kill reapportionment.

Therefore, if he has the interests of Northern Minnesota at heart, as he professes, and the interests of democracy and justice, he would better drop his plan and say no more about it.

It is interesting to note, in passing, that though Dr. Stone is greatly exercised about the control of the legislature by the cities, his proposed scheme of reapportionment would give the three large cities more than thirty-six per cent of the senate membership, while the Congdon bill, which was defeated two years ago, would have given the three cities less than thirty-three per cent of the membership of the senate.

"Hearings on the tariff are in progress at Washington—" Heavens! is this now, or four years ago?

"A PALPABLE HIT."

It was only natural that the installation of the parcel post system should be accompanied by practical comparisons—"races," if you please—between the postal service and the express service. The first of these tests to come to light was one in which a Chicago newspaper, according to prearrangement, dispatched two packages to a publisher in Atlanta, Ga., one going by express and the other by parcel post.

To make the records certain, note was made of the time at which each package was started on its way, and this record shows that the express package was deposited in the express office at Chicago at 11:58 p. m., Dec. 31, and the mail package was dropped into the box at the Chicago postoffice at 12:01 a. m., Jan. 1, thus giving the express company the benefit by three minutes in handling the shipment.

The package sent by parcel post reached its Atlanta destination at 10:15 a. m. Thursday, just thirty-four hours and sixteen minutes after it was mailed in Chicago.

The package sent by express reached its Atlanta destination at 8:20 p. m. Thursday, exactly ten hours and five minutes behind the postal package which was mailed three minutes later than the express package.

Those are the bare facts in the case, but the express company is not satisfied. It wasn't a fair test, declares the representative of the Southern Express company, which delivered the package in Atlanta. Here is how J. E. Skaggs, agent of the company, explains the matter in a letter:

> Beg to say that no test is fair which does not contemplate hours of departure and time of arrival by express and mail. Shipments in quickest express service between Chicago and Atlanta, are by train leaving Chicago at 9:10 p. m., arriving Atlanta 7:50 p. m. next day. The Southern Express company does not reach Chicago. Therefore, the shipment referred to was made through some other express company.

The explanation is very interesting, but it emphasizes rather than minimizes the advantages of the parcel post. It virtually admits that there are mail shipments between cities at hours when the express companies are not able to carry on business, and also that express service is hampered by the multiplicity of companies, while the postal service as a unit extends to every nook and corner of the country, wherever there is a postoffice or a rural route.

In spite of the explanation and protests of the express company, there will remain in the public mind the fact that the parcel post beat the express service, and that, too, on a route that may be fairly taken as representative, since it connected a Northern metropolis with one in the South. The winning of this race by the parcel post service over the express service is in fact "a hit—a palpable hit," however the express companies may seek to belittle it. It is an early and convincing bit of evidence in justification of the introduction of the parcel post.

Isn't it queer that so many people express their opinions about the parcel post who never posted their opinions about the express service?

AN IMPORTANT SESSION.

The session of the Minnesota legislature, which opened today, promises to be marked by legislation of great importance to the people. There are many measures scheduled for consideration in regard to which there is a diversity of opinion, and the public will be deeply interested in the attitude of the members of the house and senate on these questions. The Herald has made preparations for presenting to its readers complete and accurate reports of the legislature's doings, and the announcement that these reports will be furnished by Stillman H. Bingham, who has represented The Herald for many years past at the sessions of the legislature and has attained a high reputation for the thorough manner in which he has handled this important work, is a guarantee that no other newspaper in the state will surpass The Herald in this respect.

Mr. Bingham, whose address is the Ryan hotel, St. Paul, will also be glad to furnish special information in regard to measures before the legislature to any readers of The Herald who may write to him on the subjects in which they are interested.

Used the parcel post yet?

POSTAL TELEGRAPH AND TELEPHONES

The earliest man of prominence to advocate the parcel post, which has at last been conceded by congress to the people, was John Wanamaker.

He urged it when he was postmaster general in Harrison's cabinet, a generation ago.

And now he is one of the first men of prominence to urge that as speedily as possible the postoffice department take over the telegraph and telephone public utilities and make them adjuncts of the postoffice service.

In an interview in the Philadelphia North American he says: "I want to see the two great servants of the people, the postoffice and the telegraph, reunited, and the telephone brought in to enhance the value of the combination.

"Public interests, private needs and the popular will call for these agencies to protect the great postal system of the country. The longer their employment is delayed, the greater the aggravation and injustice to the people and the costlier it will be.

"The electric current belongs to the people by right, and is bound to become their servant—not of a class, nor of one sixty-fourth of the population, as at present."

It has taken a quarter of a century to get the parcel post.

It will not take so long to get the postal telegraph and the postal telephone, but it will take long enough; and the longer this inevitable thing is delayed, the costlier the process of getting it and the greater the inconvenience and annoyance to the public.

The next step in the expansion of the postoffice service should be the taking over of the telephone and telegraph services, and it is high time a start were made toward bringing this about.

Mr. Wanamaker has made a beginning in the discussion. His views are wise and public-spirited, and they will meet with a ready public approval. Let the fight for these things begin, so that by the time the parcel post has been digested we shall be ready to add the postal telegraph and the postal telephone.

Turkey seems to feel that it is the other side of the barnyard that is trying to do the gobbling these days.

JUDICIAL STRAWS.

Those who hope for absolute ratification of the state's position in the rate case will find little encouragement in the decision of the supreme court yesterday in the reciprocal demurrage matter. According to this decision, the passage by congress of the Carmack amendment to the interstate commerce act did away with the power of the states to control demurrage matters, at least in the form in which many of them have undertaken that task. In other words, it puts the matter in the hands of the Federal government wherever interstate commerce is involved.

This same issue is raised, in some degree, in the Minnesota rate case, though in this instance the matter concerns charges for transportation instead of the handling of cars. But there is another issue raised which is in no way related to the question of Federal or state control, and on this point there has been nothing to indicate what decision the court may make. It is the declaration by Judge Sanborn that the railroads are entitled to charge sufficient rates to insure a return of 7 per cent on their investment, and that the proper way to determine the amount of that investment is to base it on the present cost of duplication of the railroad's properties.

This was the basis on which Judge Sanborn declared the Minnesota rates to be confiscatory, and in view of the rulings of the Federal supreme court as to conflicts between state and Federal jurisdiction, it looks now as if the confiscatory feature of Minnesota's rate case will be the one on which the state may look for a decision that will operate as a precedent and a guide in future decisions and legislation.

In spite of the fact of the final acceptance of service by his attorneys, William Rockefeller's loathness to testify before the house committee after J. P. Morgan had told his story, gives ground for an ugly suspicion that here is a man who thinks himself bigger or better than Morgan. And this comes dangerously near to being lese majesty.

ANOTHER CHANCE TO DO IT FOR DULUTH.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please allow me to make a few statements in your Open Court in regard to the resident working class, the free employment bureau and the floating population.

Some years ago when Rev. Moody, formerly of the Bethel, introduced the floating population, or the non-resident working class to the citizens of Duluth, asking them for odd jobs to help them through the winter months, perhaps he did not realize that Duluth had a working class of people that were residents of Duluth, that had depended on this work for their main support, men with families to support, or single men with mothers or other relatives to support. If he fully realized, he failed to consider the case as thoroughly as it should have been considered before this introduction. Since then the jobs have been given out among so many that the men are a dozen to one job. This method of distributing work is but little or no benefit to anyone, therefore many permanent residents cannot secure sufficient work to support them and their families through the winter.

I would say that it would seem most unfair that residents, married or single men, should be compelled to seek work in lumber camps or other cities, and leave the floating population behind him, doing the work he rightfully should be entitled to, when there is sufficient work at their home city. I believe that some way should be arranged to give a permanent resident out of employment preference to any work obtainable. Of course, these outsiders have as much right to exist as anyone, but as these men depend mostly on work in the woods or railroads, I can see no reason why these men should hang around for small jobs when there is any amount of work out of the city.

Do it for Duluth resident workingmen.

A CITIZEN.

Duluth, Jan. 7.

Gentle Zephyrs

Ness County, Kan., News: A true story was told the News rustler the other day—we know it is true because we saw the man who told it. You all remember the high wind that prevailed four or five weeks ago when the prairie fire "got away" in the Danby neighborhood. That same day Gus Woodall of Highpoint township noticed a particularly large "tumbleweed" near his place; it was something over four feet in diameter and as round as a baseball. Gus thought it would make a nice sight rolling over the prairie, so he kicked it free from the ground, but before turning it loose took a card from his pocket and wrote on it as follows:

> Bazine, Kan., Oct. 28, 1912.—I am starting this thing out just to see where it will go; if you see anything of it let me know where it stopped.
> GUS WOODALL.

Gus forgot all about his tumbleweed until one day last week, during a particularly high wind from the South, which had been blowing several days, when he noticed something approaching him, bounding over the ground, that looked like a bundle of sticks, but was round enough to roll. Gus thought he would stop it and investigate, and when it came near enough he interposed his foot, brought it to a standstill and picked it up. He was surprised to find that it was the remains of a tumbleweed, but it had been so worn by rolling over the country that it was reduced to a diameter of not more than six or eight inches, and all that was left was the main stem and coarse branches. When Gus was about to throw it down he noticed something tied near the root and, taking it off, found it to be a card with the following written upon it in a loud handwriting:

> Galveston, Tex., Nov. 26, 1912.—Gus Woodall, Bazine, Kan.: You miserable sonofagun, keep your large and extensive amaranthus albus, vulgarly known as the tumbleweed, where it belongs for we'll none of it.
> ROSS CALHOUN.

We give the story nearly as it was told us, for the sole purpose of showing the fleetness of our winds, this weed having made the round trip of more than a thousand miles, to say nothing of a number of side journeys when the wind varied from north to south, having taken in points in New Mexico, Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana going and coming.

Proof.

London Opinion: Tommy went home one day with a nice new golf ball.

"Look at the lost ball I found on the links, father!" he said.

"But are you sure, Tommy," said Mr. Traddles, "that it was a lost ball really?"

"Oh, yes," said the boy. "I saw the man and his caddy looking for it."

The Panama Canal Tolls

By Savoyard.

Stripped of the disagreeable, onerous, vexatious matter of national honor, the question of tolls assessed against vessels to pass through the Panama canal is reduced to this: Shall that insatiate beggar and legalized monopoly, American shipping interests engaged in the coastwise trade, already as rich as Croesus, get by indirection what it was denied when it came undisguised and visible—a subsidy? If this graft is to be bestowed at all it should be alms to that other beggar that is also a pauper—American shipping interests engaged in the foreign trade. But, true to its "principles" of fifty years, the American congress taxes the pauper interest to swell the gains of the opulent interest. It is mortal sin to be poor in this grand and glorious country of ours.

The Panama canal, stupendous enterprise that it is, is also a stupendous scandal. We were guilty of moral depravity in fomenting a treasonable rebellion in a friendly American republic, to which insurrection we lent military and naval aid. As is always the case with Punic faith, the folly of the thing was commensurate with its turpitude, for it earned for us the bitter resentment of every Latin republic of our hemisphere between the Rio Grande river, that separates us from Mexico, and Cape Horn, the southern extremity of the sister American continent. For generations not a single one of those nations, some of them mighty empires of boundless wealth to be, will trade with us if other people will offer as good gains. They will take nothing of us that they can procure elsewhere.

Then we appropriated and paid out $40,000,000 for some old junk the French company left at Panama that was not worth $10,000,000, and it is doubtful if $8,000,000 reached the French. Old John Morgan of Alabama would have unearthed the truth of the thing had the United States senate had proper regard for its dignity and sent to prison a contumacious witness, prolific of perjury and defiant of justice.

But some of these days all the truth is going to be divulged and it will make the Credit-Mobilier look like the petty knavery of a pickpocket. There was at least $30,000,000 of graft in this Panama business. Almost in a twinkling congress shifted from Nicaragua to Panama. Honest folk were bewildered. Everybody believed it was settled to accept the Nicaragua route, and it was so settled. But the Panama rebellion was set on foot. The trade with the French company was made. It cost $40,000,000 and a big slice of American honor.

But before we started to dig the canal we enterted into this solemn covenant with Great Britain and the rest of mankind:

"The canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations observing these rules on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any such nation or its citizens or subjects in respect of the conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise; such conditions and charges of traffic shall be just and equitable."

But here come the president of the United States and the congress of the United States and say that nearly all the vessels of the United States engaged in commerce are not embraced in the foregoing compact. And we have resolved to exempt from tolls nineteen of twenty and more of American vessels composing our merchant marine.

Of course it is a subsidy, and the farmers growing corn in Iowa, tobacco in Kentucky, and cotton in Mississippi, and wheat in Minnesota will be taxed to pay it. There is no dispute about that proposition. They have got the ship subsidy after half a century of begging for it.

And what a costly subsidy it is! Unless we recede we get the ill-will of every nation under the sun that has a ship on the high seas fetching and carrying from port to port. That is as certain as that the sun will rise in the East and set in the West tomorrow. Don't you lull yourself into the belief that they have no means of retaliation. Our country is not finished, as are England, France and Germany. We will be borrowers of money abroad the rest of this century. I heard the late Stephen B. Elkins say that her repudiation of her part of the debt owing by old Virginia, when an illegal and an infamous political Caesarian operation was resorted to to mangle old Virginia, had cost West Virginia enough to pay the entire debt twenty times over. And today a West Virginia corporation is charged excess interest in every money mart where the loan is sought because West Virginia repudiated a just debt.

And it will be so when our securities are sold abroad, where the belief is universal, whether well-founded or not, that we have repudiated our solemn covenant regarding the tolls to be levied on merchant ships to pass through the Panama locks. Our act will serve to hammer down the prices of our securities abroad, and thus we will lose at the bung many fold what we save at the spigot. A reputation for honesty is the most valuable asset a merchant can have. Discharge your obligations at all hazards, and at whatever cost, and your credit will become an exhaustless capital. There is nothing else to do.

And even if we have the right to do it, the grant of a subsidy to one of our most opulent beggars is—a great piece of foolishness and then some.

The Cost of Living.

Judson C. Welliver in Farm and Fireside: Not long ago a president of a great American railroad system, talking about this very problem, walked over to a map that hung on his wall. "Let me tell you how far we are getting away from the soil," he said. He swept his hand in a gesture over the northeast section of this country, indicating the whole of New England and New York.

"There," he said, "is the biggest population in all the world that has so small a proportion of its number actually living on and by the soil!"

"I was astoufshed. He had the figures, which I don't remember; I sort of hoped they might not be true and didn't want to be cumbered up with them. He had comparisons, carefully worked out, with Britain, France, China, Japan—all the countries that could possibly get entered in that sort of competition,—and I guess he wasn't wrong. Think of it! A lower proportion of farm-supported people than any other equal number of people, living in a contiguous community, in the world!

"That's what's the matter with us, in this matter of living costs. We have the land, the people and the capital. The difficulty is to get the land, the man and the capital together in one place."

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Walk into the private office of Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, and one of the things one sees is two pairs of boxing gloves, right within easy reach of the mild, inoffensive looking senator.

What could be less Pomerenean than that?

The gloves are not the heavily upholstered mittens used by persons seeking chiefly exercise, but are the small, formidable looking five-ounce affairs that are popular with those who thirst for blood.

In contract with these is the senator himself, of slight physique, kindly of mien, and to all appearance as approachable as a plush horse.

Why, then, the vicious gloves—two pairs of them?

One is forced to recall the hot summer day when Senator Joe Dixon, the T. R. campaign manager, was on the witness stand before the Clapp investigating committee, and how he, becoming vexed over one of Pomerene's questions, demanded, twittingly, of the Ohio senator how much Jud Harmon had spent on his own presidential campaign—Pomerene being friendly to Harmon. At this, Pomerene spoke right up to Dixon, and says he: "Step out in the hall and I'll answer your question!"

And now, then, we find in Pomerene's office the five-ounce gloves. Quite naturally anybody with the interest of his country at heart is disposed to wonder if Pomerene is practicing up to meet Joe Dixon, and, if so, what effect it will have on the present annoying high cost of living.

One story is that a friend of Pomerene out in Canton, Ohio, read of his remark to Dixon and expressed the gloves to him just for the joke of the thing.

Perhaps. But—

Then again, perhaps not.

Who knows?

Being retired from congress after many years of service is supposed to be a great joke on one, and the conventional thing is to burst into peals of laughter at the mention of a so-called lame duck. Yet there are those that cannot see the humor of it all.

The most conspicuous of these is John Dalzell of Pennsylvania, who must step out of congress in March after twenty-six years. Whatever one may think about protective tariff, standpatism, and the price of eggs, he will concede that John Dalzell is today a pathetic figure. A trifle more than two years ago he was a power on the rules committee of the house—which power made him a potent national figure. Today he sits in the meetings of that same committee so blue over his approaching departure from public life that he pays scarcely any attention to what is going on. The other day Chairman Henry appointed a subcommittee to perform a minor legislative chore, and, out of courtesy to Dalzell, included him.

"No, please don't ask me to serve," spoke up Dalzell, sadly. "This matter should be seen to by some one who is to remain here, and I'll not be here much longer."

He couldn't have spoken any more forlornly if he had been under a death watch.

None of the other outgoing members seem to be half so downcast as Dalzell.

Kin Hubbard, creator of the Abe Martin sayings, was invited to journey down to Brown county, Indiana, where Abe and his people are supposed to dwell, and give a talk at some kind of a chautauqua doings. The man who made the offer said there was $100 in it.

"I never made a speech in my life," said Hubbard, "but I would do almost anything short of murder for so much money."

He went dow and put up at a little hotel where they ring a bell for meals. At breakfast the next morning he was the first one in the dining room, and a flat-wheeled waitress with shoestrings a-flying rushed up to him with the query:

"Which?"

"Which what?" asked Hubbard.

"Why, eggs or squirrel?" said she.

Senator William O. Bradley used to be addicted to a habit of running for governor of Kentucky every little while till he finally got elected, and then he quit it.

His first campaign was against Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner. In cruising about over the state Bradley and an undersized newspaper man stopped at a mountain cabin one evening and asked for food. The mountaineer asked for his name and entitlements.

"My name's William Bradley," said Bradley, "and my occupation just now is running for governor."

"You can have what you want to eat," said the native, "but I won't vote for you. I'm going to vote for Gen. Buckner."

"Oh, very well," said Bradley, "my friend Buckner here will be pleased to learn that. We're making our campaign together." And he jerked his thumb in the direction of the undersized newspaper man, who was more than ordinarily lacking in Adonisesque qualifications. Buckner is tall and stately, with the manner of a Viking.

"Wha-a-t?" gasped the native. "That little shrimp there is Buckner? Wall, he ain't what I thought he was at all. I may vote for you yet."

Bradley stayed and ate and then went away, hoping the man wouldn't happen to see Buckner's picture in the newspapers. It took a week or ten days, though, to get things squared with his companion.

His House and His Heart

His house is wide and high and long,
Its walls are thick and hard and strong;
By able hands the floors were laid,
By skillful men the stairs were made;
Within his house are prizes brought
From far-off treasuries of art,
But gladness is not in his thought,
And peace is never in his heart.

His house is splendid to behold,
Its roof is high, its turrets bold;
Upon a noble height it stands,
The view is fair which it commands;
Its locks are strong, its treasures rich,
His couch is soft, his linen white,
But ever in each darkened niche
A specter lingers through the night.

His house is big and firm and fair,
His vintages are old and rare;
Great masterpieces grace the walls,
The servants hurry when he calls;
But always he can hear the sighs
Of children toiling at his looms,
And mothers with accusing eyes
Come nightly stealing through the rooms.

Minnesota Opinions

Comments of the State Press.

This From Frank Day.

Fairmont Sentinel: A good unmortgaged Minnesota farm is a better thing than the best political job in the shuffle.

Descent of Theodore.

Princeton Union: A daily says that Mr. Roosevelt will address a "joint" gathering in Boston. Ye gods! Has the leader of the moose herd descended to this?

The Railroad Attitude.

Austin Transcript: The contempt which the railroads have for the accommodation and convenience of the public is shown in refusing any holiday rates in Minnesota. They extorted the illegal 2 cents a mile from everyone who wished to visit home folks. That is not all. They did make excursion rates to the cities a few weeks ago under the guise of a land show so as to give the St. Paul and Minneapolis merchants special chance to fleece the country customers on holiday trade, but no such reduced rates were given from St. Paul to Austin or Albert Lea. Draw your own conclusions. We have ours clearly formed.

Is It Sensible?

Austin Transcript: It is estimated that 6 per cent of the taxes in this nation are expended on our army and navy. Which leads every thoughtful man to inquire if it is a sensible thing for a man to use 6 per cent of his income on a bulldog.

No Valid Objection.

Ada Herald: There seems to be sentiment in every part of the state for the doing away with party designation when it comes to picking county officers and some of the state officials, putting them all on the non-partisan. This is an arrangement that is bound to come sooner or later and the legislature of 1913 should enact such a law. About the only objection that has been raised so far is that it will have a tendency to do away with strict party organization—and most people don't care a tinker's dam about that anyway.

Dignified Attitude.

St. Peter Herald: Governor Wilson sees no necessity for haste in announcing the appointments to his cabinet. He is losing no prestige by his dignified attitude in this, as in other matters.

A Fair Question.

Browns Valley Tribune: Why should the freight rates on hard coal be three times as much as the freight rates on soft coal?—Midway News.

Don't know, and why should it cost less to ship a carload of any kind of coal from Duluth to St. Paul, 150 miles, than to ship a carload of the same coal 150 miles from Duluth to some country town? There is a vast amount of discrimination in the matter of freight rates. How long will the public submit?

Strange View.

Northfield News: Singularly enough, President Vincent does not appear to believe that the success of the state university depends upon the number and dimensions of the structures erected on the campus. This must be a shock to the board of regents.

Fashion and Illness

O. S. in Chicago Tribune: Perhaps you are unaware of the great obligations the tuberculosis institutions of the country are under to the fashion-makers. I mean as collaborators with other influences to furnish patients. A man hurried home from business the other day to take his wife and daughter out for an airing.

"Where's Edith?" he inquired.

"Sick."

"Sick!" and strode off to her room. Finding her down with a heavy cold and high fever he got angry. Seeing some silky filmy things hanging over the back of a chair he tore them off, bore them to his wife, and asked:

"Are these the garments Edith is wearing at the present time?"

"Yes, father," softly.

"I could put this whole outfit, Mary, in a half peck measure and it would not fill it. Now this is what I want! A heavy suit of flannel underwear, a woolen petticoat, a moderately full skirted suit, an auto coat, cashmere stockings and substantial boots ordered today! You hear? I'm not going to have a doctor dashing up to my house every two or three days this winter to look after the health of my girl."

"Will you be here, father, to superintend Edith's dressing?" with a twinkle in her eye.

"Edith wears these clothes when she goes out or she does not go out, that's all," hurrying off after a doctor.

Again. Being in the habit of wearing merino stockings during the winter season I turned to the old department in search of them.

"We don't sell that weight hosiery here any more. You may find them in the basement."

Descending as directed there piled high were the handsome goods I was in search of. Selecting four pairs I inquired the price.

"Twenty-five cents a pair."

"You must be mistaken," I insisted. "I never paid less than 50 cents a pair and usually 75 cents."

"We can hardly give 'em away. Women don't wear thick stockings any more."

Halting another clerk.

"Direct me to the chemise counter, please."

"Chemise?" she repeated retrospectively. "Annie, where's the—what did you call 'em, ma'am?"

"Chemise."

"I don't know. Inquire at the white goods department."

"What do you wear for underclothing during winter?"

"A thin cotton and wool combination, a corset and cover, cotton petticoat, cotton stockings, a muslin waist with suit skirt."

"Are you not cold in coming from this hot store so thinly clad?"

"Yes, but none of the girls wear more. We want to look slender and all goods are made lighter too."

Clothes in a half peck measure and a crop of consumption the outlook.

Some Plodders Who Have Succeeded.

Carlton Vidette: Even apparent dullards may attain to great intellectual power by constant effort.

History is full of instances.

Sir Isaac Newton, when at school, stood at the bottom of his class.

Sir Walter Scott was considered a thoroughbred dunce, as a boy, so far as his schoolroom work was concerned—so much so that Prof. Delzell of Edinburg university said of him, "Dunce he is, and dunce he will remain." Yet who of those who have read "Marmion," "Ivanhoe" and "The Lady of the Lake," will now agree with the professor?

Wellington and Napoleon, who met as foes in the most conspicuous battle of modern history, and wrote their names in blood all over Europe, were commonplace at school; and Ulysses S. Grant, the greatest general of the Civil war, twice president of the United States, was in his boyhood dubbed "Useless" Grant by his own mother, he was so unhandy! So unhandy that when, as a boy, he was appointed to a cadetship in West Point, a neighbor who met his father on the road, said: "I heard they've appointed your boy, 'Lyss, ter be eddicated at th' nation's expense." "They have," replied Mr. Grant proudly. "Well, that's a great note," replied the neighbor. "Why did they select him when there were bright boys in th' neighborhood?"

It is said that, as a boy, he once raised his own bid at an auction.

Sir Humphrey Davy, Lord Wilberforce, Stonewall Jackson—hundreds of the world's greatest men—have been in this class—dunces in their boyhood, or, at least, thought by their instructors to be so.

Now, don't misunderstand me. I am not placing a premium on stupidity; I don't want to express any approval of wooden Indians, human nutmegs or flesh-and-blood hitching posts. All I mean to say is that man needn't sneeze all his life just because he took a pinch of snuff in the cradle nor remain in mediocrity forever because once in the dear, dim days beyond recall he stood in the corner with a dunce-cap on his head.

The Swing.

How do you like to go up in a swing,
Up in the air so blue?
Oh, I do think it's the pleasantest thing
Ever a child can do.

Up in the air and over the wall,
Till I can see so wide
Rivers and trees and cattle and all
Over the countryside—

Till I look down on the garden gay,
Down on the roofs so brown—
Up in the air I go flying again,
Up in the air and down!

CEDARMEN IN SESSION

Fifty Dealers in Forest Products Gather in Duluth.

Will Be Guests at Annual Banquet at the Spalding.

The annual meeting of the Northwestern Cedarmen's association is being held in Duluth, beginning this morning, and will continue tomorrow morning. The session which began today is executive. Tomorrow's session will take up the matter of electing officers and will consider new business.

The cedarmen's association consists of dealers in cedar and other forest products from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Northern Michigan and Illinois. Duluth obtained the honor of being the convention city of this association because of the custom the association has followed of holding its annual meeting in the home city of the retiring president. Thomas P. Bradley of Duluth is the chief officer who will retire this year; hence the meeting here. When all have arrived there will be about fifty members present. Some are delayed in getting here but a pretty full membership is expected.

This evening at 7 o'clock the annual banquet will be held in the Spalding ball room. All the meetings are being held at that hotel.

"Mr. Stevenson is an experienced attorney in tax matters and is capable. Mr. Weeks has been handling tax questions almost exclusively and wants more diversified work in the office. The change was satisfactory to both, so I made it."

AT MERCY OF WISCONSIN MILLS

Thomas P. Bradley Tells Northwestern Cedarmen That Shippers Must Find New Market.

A vigorous attack on Wisconsin pulpwood buyers was a feature of the annual report of Thomas P. Bradley of Duluth, president of the Northwestern Cedarmen's association, in annual session at the Spalding today.

Mr. Bradley declared that the Wisconsin mills are holding the pulpwood shippers of this section at their mercy, and that competition is needed to restore normal conditions. He declared the shippers should find a new market, if they are not properly treated by the Wisconsin mills.

Mr. Bradley touched upon the insurance plan of the association, and on the subject of weighing in transit. In regard to general business conditions and the pulpwood situation, he said:

"My predecessor, in his annual report a year ago, predicted improved business conditions and offered a silent prayer that in its distribution, the cedarmen might not be entirely overlooked. He was not mistaken. We have had about four years of depression without a stable market, prices gradually sliding down hill until the early part of the past year when they hit the bottom. We are now gradually climbing back again and the outlook for next year's business is very encouraging.

"Post business for the past year has been about on a par with 1911. The pole business, though, has shown some improvement. At the present time stocks are broken with a marked shortage in some sizes. The tie situation is getting back to where it was a few years ago. There are practically no ties on hand excepting the new cut coming out this winter. The pulpwood situation, at least, up here in this neck of the woods, is not quite as satisfactory, and I want to present some facts to our members for their careful consideration.

Short of Pulpwood.

"I am informed that the Wisconsin mills are very short of pulpwood and although offering $1 per cord more than they did last year, the shippers generally do not seem anxious to get out any more than is necessary. This price is still entirely too low and does not compare with the increase in price of ties and other forest products. We ought to get at least $7.50 to $8 per cord for our spruce wood. I would venture to say that very few of our members, some of them handling more than 20,000 to 30,000 cords per year, have really made any money in the pulpwood business. This I believe to be the fault of the shippers themselves. This condition is bound to prevail as long as we continue to allow the Wisconsin mills to fix the price on our product.

"They not only tell us the price we are to get for our wood but also we have to take their measurement at destination, which is contrary to custom of marketing any other forest product. In selling wood to the Wisconsin mills, practically all of us have had to submit to a stereotype form of contract, which provides that all wood must be cut from live, green timber four inches and up at the small end, etc., and that any wood shipped of inferior quality or not up to these measurements may be sorted out by the mill, (the cost of sorting and handling over the wood to be charged to the shipper, including all freight on the culled wood. If there is a shortage of wood, the shipper usually is satisfied with the returns he gets and seldom finds he is docked for any culled wood or charged back with any freight charges on same, but just as soon as it is apparent there is an overproduction of pulpwood, some of the mills play havoc with measurements, dock for all cull wood they can find (and then some), and charge back all possible (and sometimes I believe impossible) freight they can on culled wood and lose no opportunity of sticking the shipper for $5 to $10 per car demurrage, caused by delay in unloading. I am informed of instances where demurrage charges ran as high as $20 to $30 per car.

"Two years ago there was an overproduction of pulpwood (at least we judge so from the kind of treatment we received), and several of us found it necessary to keep a representative at the Wisconsin mills to do what he could in the protection of our interests there. In a great number of cases where cars were refused outright, the wood was sorted over at the expense of the shipper and it was found that only a fraction of a cord of wood was not strictly up to specifications, and usually the mill's representative putting his calipers on every stick. It seems that at this particular time the mill men would not handle the wood themselves but obliged the shipper to hire men to sort over the wood, with demurrage accumulating in the meantime. I know of several cars shipped that year where the shipper actually had to put up money to pay the freight, as the mill would not accept enough wood to cover freight charges. This same wood the year before would undoubtedly have been accepted without question. Another shipper told me he shipped a number of cars, which brought him in approximately 26 cents per cord after paying freight on culled wood. Some of this same wood, I am informed, when it was run through the mill was found to be 75 per cent or better good wood. This surely is a rank injustice.

THOMAS P. BRADLEY.

The Remedy.

"Like Thomas Lawson, let us see if we cannot find the remedy. Is there any reason why the pulpwood business should not be handled like any other business? Is there any reason why we should not get value received for our pulpwood, as we do for ties, posts and poles? Is there any reason why our wood should not be measured and inspected at point of shipment, the same as practically all other forest products? If this wouldn't be practical, is there any reason why we are not entitled to a joint measurement and inspection at some central point? Is there any reason why we should be charged back freight on wood culled at the mill, when most of us know that at least the major portion of this so-called cull wood, goes through the mill and is used same as the other wood? Are not the pulpwood shippers in our association strong enough to stand up for their rights and insist on a redress of this palpable injustice? Gentlemen, the remedy lies entirely with ourselves.

"In talking with a representative of one of the Wisconsin mills, he stated that it wasn't a question of how much they could afford to pay for pulpwood, but what they had to pay. Through their buying organization and agreements they have with each other, compelling the mills themselves to keep out of the market from buying wood direct, anad instead, file their requisitions with this buying organization, they seem to be successful in controlling the purchase price of spruce wood in this territory. They tell you the price you are going to get for your wood and if you don't hurry up and accept it, they send their men to try to make contracts with your contractors and jobbers from whom you are buying material, advancing money to carry on his operations, and they offer him the same price they offer to you, whether it be a few carloads of wood or a larger amount. It costs them money to do this but they will put themselves to this extra expense rather than pay us a price so we can make a dollar once in a while.

"If this territory doesn't produce sufficient wood to take care of their requirements, instead of raising the price 50 cents per cord or so for wood, so as to encourage the production, they keep the price down and instead, buy enough Canadian wood to make up their deficiency at an additional cost to them of $3.00 to $4.00 per cord. During the season 1907-1908 we were getting $7.50 for our spruce wood F. O. B. Duluth, which was a fairly satisfactory price. The freight rate then from Duluth to Wisconsin river and Fox river points was 8 cents per 100 pounds, which figured out approximately $3.36 freight per cord, making estimated cost of $10.86 delivered at the mill. Since that time, they have paid us $6.00, $6.50 and last year $5.50 Duluth basis with the freight rate from Duluth to Fox river points reduced to 7 cents per cwt., making the wood cost them approximately $8.50 to $9.50 delivered to the mill.

"I am told that wood they received from Canada during this period cost them nearly $14.00 per cord. You will note the excess cost of this Canadian wood, even over the price they paid for Minnesota wood, in 1907-1908, when we received $7.50 here. They have, however, made us pay for this extra cost by maintaining $5.50 to $6.50 Duluth prices for local wood. The Wisconsin mills have often advanced the argument that Canadian wood can be purchased and transported to their mills at no higher cost than Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan spruce; that it is better quality wood, etc. Figures submitted which I'm sure will stand any investigation are approximately correct, and do not substantiate such a statement.

"The average cost to them of our wood, taking Grand Rapids, Wis., as a basis is from $8.50 to $10.00 per cord; depending on the price they offer. I am informed that the average cost of Quebec wood delivered at the Wisconsin mills is approximately $13.00 to $14.50 per cord. The wood they get from us they insist on being all spruce, yet wood from Quebec seldom runs less than 20 per cent to 30 per cent balsam. They may try to make you believe that this Canadian wood is superior in quality to Minnesota and Michigan spruce, yet some of the Eastern mills, who can buy Quebec wood delivered at their mills at a much cheaper price than can the Wisconsin mills, are coming into Michigan and Minnesota for a portion of their supply at a cost that is equal to or higher than they can buy Quebec wood for.

"It is time we were waking up to the situation. Competition is the only salvation of the pulpwood business and at the present time, there doesn't seem to be any. Let's make this a competitive territory. If the Wisconsin mills want to pay a premium for Canadian wood to cover their shortages, instead of giving the shippers here what they are entitled to, let's find another market."

Duluth Team Will Meet Some of Fastest in Country.

Now that the skating rink of the new curling club is practically completed, the complete schedule of the curling club hockey quint is announced. Before the completion of the rink all of the games were scheduled on the condition that the rink would be completed some time during the present month. Yesterday the full schedule was made out and includes games with the best teams in this part of the country.

The first game of the season will be between the curling club seven, which is representative of the city, and the Virginia team and will be played at the big rink on Jan. 17. This will be the first hockey game played on the big rink and will really inaugurate the season. This contest is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest by the hockey fans over the city, and will give the public its first opportunity of seeing one of the finest rinks in the country.

On Jan. 23 and 24 there will be games with the Fort Frances or Phoenix teams, the final decision not having been made as yet. The Fort Frances team is said to be very strong, while lovers of the winter sport know what the Phoenix team is.

On Jan. 27 and 28 the Houghton team comes, and Jan. 31 the Phoenix team comes, if this team does not fill the earlier date. On Feb. 12 and 13 there will be games with the Houghton aggregation, rated as one of the fastest amateur hockey sevens in the entire Northwest.

It was stated that Johnny Mahan of Houghton, one of the fastest players in the Copper country, and that is going some, is coming to make his home in this city and will try for a wing position on the Duluth hockey team. The coming of Mahan should give Duluth one of the fastest hockey teams in the entire Northwest and will assure the lovers of sport here some of the best hockey that can be seen in the Middle West.

HOCKEY LEAGUE WILL PREPARE SCHEDULE.

There will be a meeting of the Intermediate Hockey league representatives at the Northern Hardware company's store on Thursday evening. At that time the schedule will be made out and some important business acted upon. Some of the games of the Intermediate league are to be played on the big rink. Some of the very best players in the city are enrolled in the ranks of the intermediate teams and some of the best hockey that has been seen among the younger teams is expected.

CHANCE 'TIS SAID WILL REFUSE FARRELL

Chicago, Jan. 7.—An early edition of an afternoon paper prints an extended interview with Frank Chance in which Chance states positively that he will not appear in baseball this season and that his purpose in coming to Chicago was to explain fully his attitude to Frank Farrell who wants the former leader of the Chicago Nationals to manage the New York club of the American league.

The interview is claimed to have been obtained in Chance's compartment on the train which is bringing him to Chicago. The train was reported several hours late, having been delayed by the storm and a trivial accident to a train ahead.

According to the story printed here, Chance wishes to stay out of baseball for a year to care for his California orange ranch, about which he is very enthusiastic.

COMMISSION POSTPONED.

Baseball Court of Last Resort Must Await President Ban Johnson.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 7.—The annual meeting of the national baseball commission was postponed today until sometime next week in Chicago. This announcement was made by Chairman Herrmann when it became definitely known that President Ban Johnson, of the American league, would not be able to come here for at least a week.

A preliminary meeting which was attended by Chairman Herrmann and President Lynch, of the National league, was held, however, and the committee from the National Association of Minor Leagues was heard regarding the fixing of a uniform contract for minor leagues and the individual salary question. It was announced previous to the meeting that no decision would be rendered on either subject until the evidence was submitted to Mr. Johnson.

TWO ACCOMPANIMENTS.

Los Angeles Times: In a recent volume of memoirs proud note is taken of an advance of $14 that was made to Poe on one of his books by a publisher, the wording of the receipt for this miserable advance being most insulting on the publisher's part to the immortal poet.

Apropos of this matter, at the Franklin Inn, in Philadelphia, George Horace Lorimer remarked sadly upon the wretched treatment meted out to genius—upon Milton's $25 for "Paradise Lost," upon Shelley's $17 for "Adonias," etc.

"Yes," said Mr. Lorimer, with a sigh, "it is but too true that, when a man has the stamp of genius on his brow, he also has the gloss of genius on his coat."

Fifty Diplomas Awarded By State Dairy and Food Chief.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 7.—Thirty-nine buttermakers and eleven cheesemakers earned the diplomas awarded by the state dairy and food department to the participants in the monthly educational contests who attained an average score of ninety-three or better. Six of these contests are provided and, to earn a diploma, participation in at least five is necessary. The showing is particularly satisfactory, Commissioner Joel G. BEMIDJI FIRE CHIEF NEW COUNTY TREASURER

EARL GEIL.

Bemidji, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Scott Stewart, secretary of the Bemidji fire department, explained at the last annual meeting Bemidji's fire loss in 1912 was $127,930. The department answered thirty-five calls, two of which were false alarms, and attended thirty-three fires, two-thirds of which started in chimneys. The worst were the destruction of the Harry Gunsalus corner Jan. 13 in which the total loss was estimated at $70,000 and the burning of the Rex hotel, in which about $50,000 was lost.

The department now numbers twenty-nine.

Herbert Doran was elected chief to succeed Earl Geil, who has served in that office ten years and who asked not to be re-elected on account of his duties as county treasurer. John Hillaby was elected assistant chief, and Scott Stewart and John Goodman re-elected as secretary and treasurer, respectively. Mr. Goodman has been treasurer of the department thirteen years.

The officers of the relief association were elected as follows: President, Charles Dailey; vice president, R. M. Miller; secretary, John Falls; treasurer, John Goodman.

BIG TIMBER DEAL IS NEARLY CLOSED

Hines Lumber Co. Buying Much Wisconsin Hardwood and Hemlock.

Couderay, Wis., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—A large force of timber cruisers employed by the Edward Hines Lumber company of Chicago, after three months' work have completed estimating the timber on 130,000 acres of land lying south and east of Winter. The land is owned by the Mississippi River Logging company and the Chippewa River Log & Boom company, both Weyerhaeuser concerns, and is covered with hemlock and hardwood timber.

Over $1,000,000 Deal.

The purchase price is over $1,000,000 and if it is consumated, which is predicted it will, it will be one of the largest timber and land deals closed in Northern Wisconsin for many years and will make the village of Winter one of the busiest lumbering towns in Wisconsin for years.

Most all of the timber lies in the southeastern part of Sawyer county.

The large Atwood and Weyerhaeuser sawmill plant at Park Falls has enough timber lying northeast of that place to keep the sawmills at Park Falls in operation for fifteen years is also included in this deal.

ON INSPECTION TRIP.

Committees From Michigan Senate to Visit Upper Peninsula.

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate committee on Upper Peninsula institutions will make their official inspections this week. They will assemble in Chicago Thursday and leave in a body for the Upper Peninsula. The committees on the Northern normal and the Marquette prisson will be in this city Friday, and the committees on the Newberry hospital for the insane and the Michigan College of Mines will go on to those institutions. The committeemen will return to Lansing in a body at the close of their inspections.

The committees coming to the Upper Peninsula are: Northern normal, Winegar, Cittins, Ogg; Marquette prison, Wood, Winegar, Woodworth; College of Mines, Hanley, Winegar, Alswede; Newberry Hospital for the Insane, Fitzgibbons, Corliss, Smith. The committee on the Marquette prison will have comparatively little to do, as no special appropriations are being sought for that institution. The Northern normal committee, however, is likely to have an extended session as the officials of the normal will desire to acquaint its members with the plans for the proposed $150,000 administration building, and the necessity that exists for its erection at this time.

It is not expected that any effort will be made to entertain the legislative party as its members will be in the city for but a comparatively short time.

After the Age of Fifty

From this age the human system gradually declines and the accumulated poisons in the blood cause rheumatism in joints, muscles and back. These warnings should be promptly relieved and serious illness avoided by using the following prescription which comes from a noted doctor and is said to have no equal in curing rheumatism and restoring physical vigor. Good results come after the first dose. "From your druggist get one ounce of Toris compound (in original sealed package) and one ounce of syrup of Sarsaparilla compound. Take these two ingredients home and put them into a half pint of good whisky. Shake the bottle and take a tablespoonful before each meal and at bed-time. If your druggist does not have Toris compound in stock he will get it for you in a few hours from his wholesale house. Don't be influenced to take a patent medicine instead of this. Insist on having the genuine Toris compound in the original one ounce, sealed, yellow package. Published by the Globe Pharmaceutical Laboratories of Chicago.

Read the following opinion of a scientist, an authority who has experimented and therefore knows that "light starts decay even in pure beer."

"We have tested beers repeatedly, placing the bottles in the direct sunlight, and testing the same after one, two, three and five minutes exposure, found that the beer with three and five minutes exposure became undrinkable on account of the peculiar odor developed. The detrimental effect of light upon beer can be successfully counteracted by the employment of brown or dark colored glass bottles, and such bottles are, therefore, recommendable."

LOOKING FOR FOUR MEN

Who Bought Stock in Coeur d'Alene Mine Years Ago.

Spokane, Wash., Jan. 7.—Four men who secured $352.50 worth of stock in a Coeur d' Alene mine several years ago are being sought to claim their property, now worth $11,239. F. E. Hemenway, Patrick Turley, H. L. Stoddard and A. L. Humphrey are the owners for whom a 3-year search has been made. Hemenway purchased 1,000 shares of the stock at 3 cents a share. It is now selling for $1.15 a share, making his stock worth $1,550. The other three were employed by the mining company and took their wages in stock on a basis of 5 cents a share. Turley secured 4,250 shares now worth $6,538, while Stodard and Humphrey hold 1,000 shares each, making the value of their individual holdings, $1,550. Officers of the company, which is represented in Spokane by Dan P. Bagnell, have heard nothing of the three miners since the stock was issued to them. Hemenway was formerly a cab driver and left the city in 1900.

What's A Party Without A Few Bottles Of Fitger's Beer

THERE is "something missing" at the party when a cool, refreshing glass of beer is not served during the evening. No other liquid refreshment can take its place, for none has such genuinely satisfying results. When a host serves Fitger's Beer he knows he is serving the very highest grade, and his guests know it too. There's satisfaction in serving the best. PASS TEST RESOLUTIONS

Three Acts of "Old" Council Will Be Carried to Courts.

Will Determine Powers of Aldermen Under the New Charter.

The first meeting of the "old" council under the new charter, held last evening at the city hall, was not productive of unusual legislation.

The time was lengthened somewhat because of the form required, the clerk being obliged to read all resolutions and call votes on all resolutions. Previously he could shorten matters considerably by giving the substance of resolutions and ordinances and bunching the vote.

Resolutions were passed last night which will be carried to the courts to determine what power the city has under the present situation. The new charter went into effect Jan. 3, but the commissioners do not take their seats until April 14. In order to ascertain what the city may do in the interim several actions will be tested in the courts.

The council last evening ordered the city clerk to advertise for bids for the sale of $100,000 of water and light bonds, payment to be made March 31. Another resolution was passed authorizing the clerk to advertise for bids and enter into a contract for an auto patrol. An extension of the Polk street sewer was ordered and it was directed that the cost be assessed against the property benefited. The extension will start from Front street and run to the outlet sewer in Forty-ninth avenue west. It is stated that these three matters will be made the basis of test cases.

Work Farm Legislation.

A proposed bill authorizing the county singly, or the city and county jointly, to operate a work farm and correctional institution, was sent to the council by C. Dinwiddie, secretary of the city welfare board and secretary of the Associated Charities. The bill was referred to a special legislative committee consisting of Alderman Hector, Curren and Hicken.

If the city and county run the farm together, the chairman of the board of county commissioners is to appoint three members and the mayor of the city two members of a board of five, the board to have full charge of the farm, including hiring of all help, erection of buildings, paroling prisoners, issuing bonds, etc. If the county handles the farm alone it will bear all expenses, but where the city is interested the city must pay its half of the cost, although it has a minority of the managing board, as the bill is drawn. The board is to be non-salaried, except for actual expenses incurred in fulfilling duties.

The board is authorized to render assistance to the family of the prisoner in the form of rent, groceries, fuel or clothing on a basis of not to exceed 50 cents a day.

Charles G. von Suesamilch asks $2,000 and D. C. Thompson $1,000 because of damages alleged to have been done their property when the valve of the water system broke at Fortieth avenue east a short time ago. They claim their basements were flooded and their property injured to that extent.

The mounted patrolmen of the city asked that they be allowed $30 per month for the keep of their horses instead of $20 as at present. It appears that the expense of keeping the animals has gone up and that the patrolmen run behind on the allowance made by the city. The patrolmen furnish their own horses but they say that unless the raise is forthcoming they will be "pleased" to ride horses supplied by the city.

M. B. Cullum sent in a letter urging the council to lose no time in entering into a contract with the state for the dock property at Thirty-seventh avenue west, which is available for a municipal dock. The former mayor points out that the site is large enough to accommodate a warehouse six blocks long and 140 feet deep with thirty feet available for trackage and the slip running its length. It was referred to the special committee.

Quail, Parker & Co., St. Paul accountants, informed the city that they are in the field when the municipality decides to hire a municipal expert to frame a tentative plan for the commissioners.

Two saloon propositions a little out of the usual routine came up last evening. The application of L. Casmir for a transfer of his license from 102 Lake avenue south to 529 West Superior street was withdrawn when it was learned that it would be turned down if it came to a vote. It is stated that the reason is that the Bowery now has enough saloons. The other was the application of Noah C. Viou that his license be transferred from 216 Central avenue to 330 North Fifty-seventh avenue west. There is one saloon in that locality now and as the corner abuts the residence section of West Duluth the citizens of the locality will likely object to the transfer.

The city electrician estimated that it will cost $600 to rewire the city hall and recommended that the wires be run through conduits similar to those now being installed at the police station.

The board of fire commissioners reported that a contract had been awarded the Interstate Auto company for an automobile for the second assistant chief at $3,050. The machine will be fitted with light fire-fighting apparatus.

The city engineer was directed to furnish an estimate of the cost of a concrete culvert and fill over Brewery creek at Sixth avenue east and Eighth street.

An ordinance to amend the housing ordinance was introduced. As it now reads it is mandatory that each room have but one window containing ten square feeet of glass. The amendment makes ten square feet of glass the minimum which each room shall have.

The aldermen received an invitation to attend the Civic banquet of the Woman's Council at the Spalding hotel tomorrow evening.

A petition was received for a sanitary sewer in West Fifth street, between Ninth and Eleventh avenues.

HOPES GARDNER MAY YET BE RE-ELECTED

President-Elect Wilson Desires Maine Man Back in Senate.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 7. — President-elect Wilson today canvassed further into the possibility of increasing the narrow majority of the Democrats in the United States senate for the next session. He took up with United States Senator Johnson and Representative McGillicuddy of Maine details of the senatorial situation in their state, where the Progressives admittedly hold the balance of power in the legislature. The president-elect is hopeful that Senator Gardner may yet be re-elected.

Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania and Representative Albert S. Burleson of Texas, both of them Democratic national committeemen, and prominently identified with the Wilson campaign, conferred with Mr. Wilson for an hour. At the conclusion, neither man would say a word about the visit, but Governor Wilson made it clear that he had not talked about the cabinet with them, but had discussed general legislation for the extra session.

"We talked chiefly of the tariff bills and their readiness," said the governor.

Judge William Hammond of Atlanta, Ga., before whom Woodrow Wilson, as a young attorney, once argued his cases, called on the president-elect to urge support for the bill pending in congress, which would appropriate $250,000 for the celebration in Philadelphia of the fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Emancipation proclamation.

The governor said he approved the objects of the bill, and hoped it would be passed.

DAUGHTER OF ENGLISH PREMIER U. S. VISITOR.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the prime minister of England, and the Countess of Aberdeen, who are the guests of the British ambassador and Mrs. Bryce, today observed at first hand educational methods in the national capital. As guests of honor at a colored normal school, the distinguished visitors spoke briefly, telling the students how glad they were to see "the great system of education in the United States" and chatting personally with the pupils. When Miss Asquith asked the boys what was the favorite game in America, they shouted in unison "baseball." Later in the day Miss Asquith and the Countess of Aberdeen, accompanied by Mrs. Bryce, witnessed the proceedings of the senate for a short time.

J. ADAM BEDE EVOLVES GET-RICH-QUICK SCHEME FROM PARCEL POST

Former Congressman J. Adam Bede of this district is keeping up his reputation as a joker. His latest is in connection with the parcel post. When he arrived in St. Paul the other night he was met by a party of friends and told them that he has a new plan for getting rich—through the parcel post. Said he:

"It's a shame folks don't grasp all the opportunities in this country. It's so very simple. Now here's a plan that's like a government bond—safe. I'm thinking of trying it out. Buy a string of incubators and fill 'em with eggs and send 'em by parcel post to China.

"By the time the incubators reach there the chickens will be hatched and, instead of delivering a bundle of eggs, you'll have a crate of chickens—cochin Chinas or any sort the Chinese like. What do you think of it?"

TOO EARLY TO CRITICIZE

"Give Us a Chance to Remedy Mistakes," Say Postoffice Officials.

Improvements in Parcel Post Coming—Some Queer Parcels.

A few days ago the postmaster of New York city offered several criticisms of the parcel post, pointing out certain things which he declares are defects. One thing which he criticized is the prohibition against dropping parcels in mail boxes. Under the regulations they must be mailed at the postoffice or a lettered station, and in many cases people are inconvenienced. He said also that he believes the government, since it is going into the express business merely under another name, should collect parcels the same as express companies do.

The local postoffice authorities agree with the New York postmaster but declare that they hardly consider it proper to criticize so early in the game. Said one of them today:

"The law was passed in August and went into force Jan. 1. It is hardly fair to suppose that the department could work out all details so quickly or that it would know before the system was tried what equipment would be necessary. The working of the system will demonstrate what will be needed and when it is found out, the proper equipment will be furnished. I believe that before long the proper kind of boxes will be placed at certain corners of the streets so that patrons will not need to go to the postoffice to mail their parcels, and it may be that in time some such scheme as the express companies have for collecting parcels will be adopted."

Postmaster A. P. Cook is of the opinion that before long the department will find that it will have to segregate the parcel post into a department of the postoffice business all by itself. As the business grows, small as it is yet as compared with what it is expected to be, he sees the necessity of some such thing.

There have been a good many unusual kinds of packages sent through the mail. Yesterday an umbrella passed through from the ranges. Meat, eggs, vegetables and the like have gone through, but as yet there has been no milk. Some is expected at any time.

Miss Stringer, at the stamp window, is making a collection of remarkable questions that are asked her almost every hour of the day concerning the parcel post, but the limit was reached yesterday, she believes, when a woman asked how much it would cost to mail a cat from Cleveland to Duluth. Livestock is not permissible.

NEW STRIKE AT THE CONSOLIDATED.

A new strike of rich iron ore was made a few days ago on the property of the Consolidated Vermilion & Extension company on the Vermilion range in section 5, 62-14. The force had drifted at a depth of 340 feet a distance of 140 feet to the north of the shaft, when a green stone wall was encountered. The drift thus far had been altogether in ore. Instead of considering that this green stone wall marked the limit of the ore, as it usually the case, some blasting was done of the wall itself, and it was found to be only 2½ to 4 inches wide. Just beyond it, another ore body was encountered. Samples were taken and assays secured and it was found that the new ore body was remarkably rich, assaying 66 per cent iron.

The next work undertaken in the drift was to construct an upraise, which was carried to a height of 300 feet. It is intended to continue this upraise, until an open mine is made, the ore mined being all allowed to run down into the drift, where it will be carried to the main shaft and there hoisted out of the mine.

The mine is expected in the near future to have a spur track of the Duluth & Iron Range run to it from the main line between Tower and Ely. It is expected that the new spur track will go by the Almer mine in section 15. The spur track will be about four miles long. The railroad company has already had a survey made for the new branch line.

The Consolidated Vermilion has been mining and stock-piling for about three months. Prior to that time, the company was simply exploring and developing its properties. No shipments of ore have yet been made, on account of the want of track connection, as it would be too expensive to do the necessary hauling to the nearest shipping point by team.

Bray, Henry Clews, James Rowe, the trainer of Keene's horses, and Andrew Miller, Phil Demos and W. S. Scully.

WILL RESUME DRILLING.

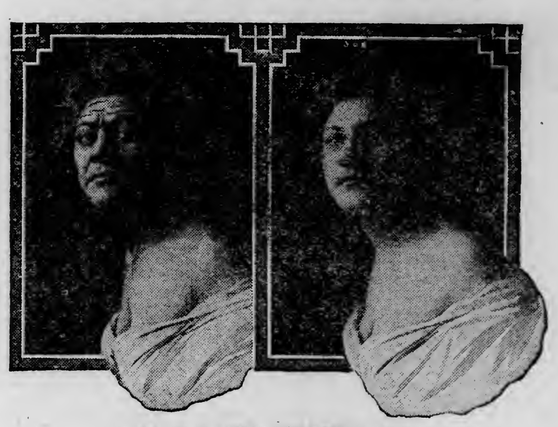

Nameukan Iron Company Holds Its Annual Meeting and Election.

At the annual meeting of the Nameukan Iron company, held late yesterday afternoon at the New St. Louis hotel, it was decided to resume drilling in the new iron district which the company is developing in St. Louis county, and which is known as the Nameukan range. It was also decided to remove the office of the company from Minneapolis to Duluth.

The company has already drilled 3,500 feet of holes and shown up ore running as high as 70 per cent of metallic iron. At yesterday's meeting M. J. Filiatrault of West Duluth was elected president; Joseph Ferrier, the railroad and bridge contractor of Duluth, vice president; Victor Huot of Duluth, treasurer, and James A. Wharton of Duluth, secretary. These men and Dr. W. A. McClaran and Joseph Vanderyacht of Duluth, and Charles Osterburg, the drilling contractor of Tower, Minn., were elected directors.

Good Tomorrow for This World's Most Famous Beauty Specialist

An opportunity is now offered every reader of this paper to consult the world's most famous beauty specialist, Harriett Meta, of Paris, London and Syracuse, absolutely free.

A little over three years ago there was nothing known which, in our judgment, would actually remove wrinkles, but at that time Mlle. Meta made the important discovery which has since made her famous in two continents.

She demonstrated the great power of her new process by taking her own wrinkles out with it in three nights, after face massage, masks, straps, steaming pots, etc., had all failed, and today, Mlle. Meta's face is still free from wrinkles, her cheeks full and plump and her skin and complexion is a delight to behold. In fact, by many she is considered the most beautiful woman in all Paris.

Her remarkable discoveries were brought before the judges of the Paris International Exposition and the Rome Exposition Internationale for their investigation, and in both instances they quickly awarded her Gold Medals thereon. The French government also honored her with a patent on her new process, and patents are now pending before the U. S. government at Washington.

London journals sent their Beauty Editresses to investigate her methods, and their high indorsements of her discoveries made her famous almost overnight, so that she was eagerly sought after by French countesses and English ladies of high title and rank. The Beauty Editress of the London Onlooker wrote, "An interview with Mlle. Meta left me persuaded that here at last might be found the secret to restore youth and beauty."

Many of those who have used her process report most astonishing results. Mrs. Mary J. Davis of East St. Louis, Ill., says: "My wrinkles were very deep and of long standing, so you can imagine my surprise when, after only two applications, they entirely disappeared." Mrs. L. E. Haskell of San Francisco, writes: "I am 50 years old. Consequently my wrinkles were of long standing and I had not thought it possible to erase them, but now when I view my changed reflection in the mirror I can scarcely realize the transformation that has been wrought." Mrs. M. A. Edwards, of Raleigh, N. C., says: "Since using the treatment I look younger than I did twenty-five years ago." Mrs. M. L. Lee, Evansville, Ind., writes: "I used the treatment one night and it succeeded in entirely removing my wrinkles, leaving my face as soft and free from lines as a child's." Miss Henrietta Jackson, of Pittsfield, Mass., says: "Your treatment is a godsend to womankind. I wish every woman could know as I know the wonderful results which are produced by your treatment."

Since Mlle. Meta made her remarkable discovery imitators have naturally sprung up all over the country. Some of them have copied Mlle. Meta's advertisements and literature to such an extent that the public is often at a loss to distinguish the imitation from the real. We are therefore authorized to announce the following remarkable offer, which cannot fail to convince you as to who is who:

Mlle. Meta will forfeit $1,000 in gold if she fails to prove that she holds nine Gold Medals and three Grand Prix on her discoveries from International Expositions. She will forfeit $1,000 in gold if anyone can prove that she did not take out her own wrinkles with it in three nights exactly as she claims. She will forfeit $1,000 in gold if every testimonial and sworn statement which she publishes is not absolutely genuine. She will forfeit $1,000 in gold if any one can show advertisements similar to hers published in any newspaper or magazine in the United States or Europe prior to the publication of her advertisements.

Arrangements have been made with Mlle. Meta to furnish free information in regard to her marvelous process for removing wrinkles to all readers of this paper. Merely cut out and send her the coupon below and you will receive free particulars by return mail in a plain sealed curolope. West Duluth Man Has Sufficient Number of Signers for Nomination.

Friends Working for Phelps, Merritt, Getchell and Others.

Fifty-eight West Duluth residents have signed the petition for the nomination of M. J. Filiatrault as commissioner. Mr. Filiatrault stated this morning that he has accepted the nomination from the local voters and that the petition will be filed as soon as the law allows, which is not before Feb. 19 or later than March 1.

The petition for the nomination of Mr. Filiatrault is the first completed in this end of the city. Those who circulated the petition stated this morning that all the signers were secured in two hours.

In addition to Mr. Filiatrault's petition there are now being circulated petitions for the nominations of H. H. Phelps, A. H. Donald, C. G. Futter, Leonidas Merritt, W. B. Getchell and E. G. Phillips.

M. J. FILIATRAULT.

Whether all the above men will accept the nominations is not known. Plans are now on foot to hold a general mass meeting of all the West Duluth voters to combine and indorse one candidate for commissioner. In this way, residents say, West Duluth can be assured of electing one local man on the commission.

Mr. Phelps is a member of the water and light board and very prominent throughout the city. Mr. Donald is a grocer on Sixty-third avenue and has been a resident of West Duluth for a number of years. C. G. Futter is treasurer of the West Duluth Commercial club and very prominent in local affairs. W. B. Getchell was a former alderman and has always taken an active part in civic affairs. P. G. Phillips is the present alderman from the Eighth ward.

WOULD REMOVE MONTHLY LIMIT

Martin M. Meldahl, who is in charge of the postal savings department at the West Duluth postoffice, would have congress enact an amendment to the present law, which prohibits a deposit of more than $100 a month.

Mr. Meldahl says that a large number of depositors are turned down continually because they come with more than $100. When told that only $100 can be taken in during one month, they usually leave the place altogether. These deposits, he said, would not be extraordinarily large, as a man would probably bank about two or three times a year, thus bringing his total below the $500 limit.

"It is all right," said Mr. Meldahl this morning, "for our government to look out for the banks. But it would be just as systematic to allow any deposit, say up to $200 a month. The final limit of $500 could be adhered to at all times, nevertheless. A man should be allowed to put his entire $500 in the bank in any way he wishes. Then he can purchase the government bonds and continue his banking. As long as the $500 limit is adhered to, there is no danger of the postal savings banks infringing on the banking institutions of the country."

The local bank was established last July and there is already on deposit over $10,000. During the past six months 120 depositors placed their money in safe keeping with the government at the local station.

M'INNIS AGAIN HEADS COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Is Re-Elected Chairman at Annual Meeting of the Board.

NEIL McINNIS.

The county board this afternoon re-elected Neil McInnis chairman and elected Alex Fraser of the First district vice chairman. The committees appointed are as follows:

Highways and bridges — Fraser, Tischer, Swanstrom, McMahon, Kauppi, McInnis and O'Neill.

Claims and accounts—Kauppi, chairman; McMahon, Tischer, O'Neil.

Taxes and assessments — O'Neill, chairman; Swanstrom, McMahon, Kauppi.

License and legislation — Tischer, chairman; O'Neill, Kauppi, Swanstrom.

Supplies and purchasing—Swanstrom, chairman; Fraser, Tischer, Kauppi.

Jail—McMahon, chairman; Fraser, O'Neill, Kauppi.

Courthouse — Fraser, chairman, Swanstrom, Tischer, McMahon.

It is expected that little more than the reorganization of the board will be accomplished this afternoon. A good-sized grist of bills will be audited by the new board and it is thought that afterwards an adjournment will be taken until tomorrow morning. A busy day for the commissioners is anticipated for Wednesday.

Three new faces were on the board: Walter A. Swanstrom, Third district, succeeding Joseph W. Cumming; Charles Kauppi, Fifth district, succeeding Albert Overton, and Ralph S. O'Neill of Chisholm, succeeding P. J. Ryan in the Seventh district.

The new board tomorrow will appoint a jail physician to succeed Dr. F. F. Clark. Three applications have been received: Dr. Clark to succeed himself, Dr. R. E. Cavanaugh and Dr. L. A. Barney. The board will also appoint a health officer. Dr. I. J. Murphy, present incumbent, is the only one who has applied for the appointment.

Sheriff Losing Money.

The board will consider a request which has been made by Sheriff John R. Meining to raise the rate paid him by the county for feeding prisoners from 10 to 12½ cents a meal. In a communication to the board, the sheriff has stated that the higher rate per meal is asked owing to the increased cost of living. Foodstuffs have advanced in price and conditions are different than they were two or three years ago, he says.

It is expected that the customary appropriation of $1,200 a year will be granted to the Duluth Humane society and that $600 will be contributed to the support of the Duluth branch of the state laboratory for the ensuing year. An appropriation of $1,000 for the county attorney's contingent fund is also expected to be made.

Bonds of the various banks designated as county depositories for a term of two years by the county board of audit will be approved. The board will also receive the annual reports of the various county officers and will pass upon the appointments of deputies and clerks made by the sheriff, register of deeds, clerk of court and the county superintendent of schools.

J. P. Johnson, clerk of the district court, has submitted the following appointments for his Duluth and Virginia offices to the board for approval: R. E. Johnson, chief deputy; J. S. Moody, I. G. Holloway, W. R. Wasson, B. G. Rilling, Alexander Hamilton, F. E. Smith, P. C. Sundby, G. A. Harrington, S. Murphy, Jeely Ojaupera, J. A. Cummings, Pearl Martin and Iver Holmberg.

N. A. Young, county superintendent of schools, has reappointed L. A. Ink as office assistant; Dora Lacey, stenographer, and Fern Barnhardt as assistant to the clerk of the county board of education.

Today the board opened bids on the county printing. The successful bidders will be announced tomorrow.

New Road Petitions.

In a routine way, tomorrow the board will take up for consideration six new road petitions, one petition for a liquor license from Joseph Bourdeau, town of French; a petition for permission to annex township 54-21, now unorganized, to the town of Cedar Valley, and a petition for the dissolution of school district No. 46, consisting of 61-16. The board will also hold a hearing on the petition for the dissolution of school district No. 58, consisting of 58-19.

The board will receive reports of salaries and fees received by the various county officers during the past year and will also check up the books of the county treasurer as required by statute.

James P. Boyle, state senator and chairman of the St. Louis county delegation, has written a communication to the board asking it to submit to him whatever legislation it believes should be passed by the 1913 state legislature. Mr. Boyle assures the board that he will give it his best attention.

PRINCESS AND CIRCUS RIDER

Audacious Adventures of the Waif Who Named Herself Agnes Leclerq, Kissed President Lincoln on a Wager and Almost Saved an Emperor.

Fifty years ago the Princess Salm-Salm, who had been Agnes Leclerq (a name of her own choosing) "had the hearts of half the men in Washington and the bitter hatred and ill-will of nearly every woman in that thronged city." Of all those whom the excitement of war drew to the capital in those days, no one was more whole souled a soldier of fortune than this vivacious Bohemienne, says the New York Evening Post. Of her life before she came to Washington, she told only what she wished to tell; but it is certain that her brilliant and romantic career compassed the childhood of a waif, the tawdry spangles of an equestrienne and the tight-rope walker in a circus as a young woman, her marriage to Prince Salm-Salm and the wild adventures of her service with him in three wars, in the United States, Mexico, and France, in all of which she was a notorious and even important character. She died on Sunday in her 75th year in Karlsruhe, Germany.

Anecdotes of Agnes Leclerq would fill a volume. Every one in Washington in the war times knew her and her audacity. She was the gossip of the highest circles, and once won a wager of a basket of champagne by daring to kiss President Lincoln at a lunch at Gen. Sickles' headquarters. From those surroundings she went on in search of adventure, until we see her contriving for the escape of the Emperor Maximilian in Mexico, and nearly succeeding—also nearly losing her life; thereafter following her husband to the Franco-Prussian war, where he was killed at Gravelotte.

In Washington in War Time.

The Princess Salm-Salm wrote a diary of ten years of her life. She began that by drawing a veil over the years before 1862. The talk of Washington supplied the omissions, and report had it that she had been a waif on the streets of Paris, and had been adopted by an American cabinet member. She herself claimed American parentage; her singular beauty was apparently Italian, and in her manner this fascinating little woman was wholly a child of Paris. There was that confusion about all of her early career. She had gone into the circus ring, not for money, of which she possessed an ample amount, but for the thrill of it, and had traveled more than three years in such company when the Civil war broke out in 1861. She went then to Washington.

Throwing over her affection for the tinsel of the circus, she now gave herself ardently to the love of the brass buttons of the military. The revelry and bustle of Washington were life itself to her, and the sprightly Agnes Leclerq was the talk of the city. She speaks of this part of her life with delightful naivete in her dairy—"as I had to carry out certain purposes, I came in contact with all the leading politicians and heard and observed a great deal." Witty and charming, she dared to know everybody. She tells in her dairy—Washington regarded it as a capital joke—that Governor Yates of Illinois, commissioned her a captain of an Illinois company, with pay and insignia. She was a familiar sight on Pennsylvania avenue, riding in a tasteful habit ornamented with a captain's straps and buttons, and followed by a negro groom in livery.

In the German corps of the Army of the Potomac—the Eleventh—was a young staff officer, a Prussian who had come in search of adventure. He was a dashing personage and called himself Prince Salm-Salm. Washington, beset with noble impostors, was inclined to doubt nobility, but the Prussian minister finally made official notification to President Lincoln of the truth of the prince's claims. He was on Blenker's staff. For all her emotionally sempestuous nature, Agnes Leclerq makes almost as short a story of the wooing as this, that they both fell victims to the "sweet malady" and were married.

Her Irrepressible Escapades.

In her diary she tells then of her winning Governor Morgan of New York to her request for a regiment for the prince—Blenker's staff was about to be dismissed. She recounts with relish of how she persuaded the governor, said to be a "woman hater," to give the prince command of the Eighth regiment, a German organization. He joined his regiment in West Virginia, and the princess went with him, but returned, after Chantilly had been reached, to Washington. There, she writes, she was happy in her short separations from her husband, because she could "reflect quietly upon . . . her happiness."

Actually, the vivacious princess enjoyed herself tremendously. She rejoined her husband after the battle of Fredericksburg, and was much with the army of the Potomac while it was near Washington. She was on familiar terms with hosts of generals and colonels. Once, while Gen. Hooker was in command just before the battle of Chancellorsville, a series of brilliant reviews were held in honor of a week's visit by President Lincoln and his wife. The princess was the gayest of the gay, and was so irrepressible that she rode with a cavalcade of staff officers at a review and actually got ahead of the president's wife. Mrs. Lincoln, who disapproved of her heartily—and called her always "Mrs. Salm"—was angry and demanded of Gen. Hooker that "those women" be taught better manners. Hooker swore that he would send every woman away.

"Which, of course, includes Princess Salm-Salm and Mrs. Lincoln," observed the princess. Soon after that it was that she won her wager by kissing President Lincoln as he sat at a lunch given in his honor by Gen. Hooker and staff at Gen. Sickles' headquarters. The president took this escapade good-naturedly.

But the Princess's life was not all to be led among the gayeties of Washington. The prince was sent to Nashville to join the Sixty-eighth regiment, New York volunteers, in June, 1864; and the princess journeyed there through dangerous territory, returned to Washington soon after, and then once more went South, to Bridgeport, Ala., where her husband's regiment was encamped. There she remained for some time in a position of great danger, owing to the turbulent conditions in that region. Her descriptions of the army life in the field are clear and graphic. She managed to get the most of its opportunities for pleasure; she coolly remarks in her diary that when she wished to go on a visiting excursion she "telegraphed to my old friend, Gen. Meagher, commanding then in Chattanooga, to send me a locomotive, which he never failed to do." After the battle of Nashville, she once more made the journey to Washington; and she relates naively how she hoped to interest her friends, senators and governors, in her husband's behalf. He was commissioned a general by Stanton soon afterward. Then he was sent to several places in Georgia, and the princess accompanied him, or stayed as near as possible through it all, until the end of the war.

Life among peaceful people was not to the taste of the prince or his princess, and they embarked for Mexico, in 1866. The empire was making its last stand: Maximilian had been left by Louis Napoleon to his fate. Salm-Salm and the princess arrived in the capital just in time to see Marshal Bazaine leave. They threw in their lot with the Archduke Maximilian; and it was only a matter of a few months before Maximilian and his staff and a remnant of the army were bottled up in Queretaro, with Escobedo and his Liberals exulting outside in the city.

The daring of Agnes Leclerq was ready with a plan to save, not the empire, but the emperor, whose case seemed hopeless. She proposed to have him surrender Queretaro and leave the country upon condition that his life and the lives of his foreign officers be spared. With characteristic boldness, she won her way to Porfirio Diaz, and asked to be allowed to go to Maximilian with her scheme. He sent her to Escobedo. Pluckily she went on the dangerous missions. Once, coming near to a post at night time, and accompanied only by her maid, she was fired on. While the maid was frantic with fear, the princess stood her ground and shouted "Viva Maximilian." A bullet once grazed her hair.

Tries to Save Maximilian.

She went then to President Juarez and demanded a seven days' armistice in which her plan could be arranged. While she was on this mission Queretaro was surrendered, and Maximilian was in the hands of his enemies. Undaunted, the princess was yet more courageous in her plans to save his life. If you would read a thrilling story, read her narrative of the journey and the interview with Juarez.

Meanwhile she comforted the broken-spirited emperor and made plans for his escape in the extension of life she had won for him. She asked Austria and Prussia in vain for money to bribe his captors. In her diary she writes:

"Strange! At the tail of each word of these gentlemen hung a gold ounce, but not one miserable dollar at the tips of their fingers! This paltry stinginess killed the emperor!"

She made one attempt to buy his way out. With two notes of $100,000 each, she sought to bribe one Col. Polacios. He was an unlettered man, and went away from her house with the note for this sum in his hand. The next day she was made a prisoner, and was in danger of the death sentence herself. Escobedo was furious and sent for her; but she in turn was resolute. After an exciting encounter, she was let go unharmed. She writes:

"I saw nothing was to be done at present, and I had to leave Escobedo's headquarters.* * * I was about entering the door of my house, which was ajar, when a little captain, who escorted me, shut the door and seized my arm. This exasperated me. I felt as if I had become suddenly six inches taller and that I became deadly pale. As quick as lightning, I drew from under my dress my little revolver, and, pointing it at the breast of the horrified captain, I cried: 'Captain, touch me with one finger and you are a dead man.' Escobedo, when he heard of it, said that he would rather stand opposite a whole imperial battalion than meet 'the angry Princess Salm-Salm.'"

Dramatic Interview With Juarez.

One more dramatic interview she had with Juarez: She threw herself at the feet of the president and besought him to spare Maximilian's life until she could send to President Johnson and Seward, and persuade them to intervene.

"In my raving agony," she says, "I exclaimed, he might take my life if blood was wanted. I was a useless woman, but he might spare that of a man who might still do so much good in another country. All was in vain. The president raised me up and repeated to me that the life of my husband would be spared; that was all he could do. I thanked him and left."

Unsuccessful with the solid Indian, she won her way back to Queretaro, with more schemes to save the emperor—but only in time to hear of his execution.

Even with this grief in her heart, the princess was undaunted. The doctor treated the dead emperor's body brutally, and to taunt the princess came to her with relics of Maximilian, pieces of his clothes and even parts of his hand; these he offered to sell to her. She bought them, without a show of emotio nand immediately told Juarez of the deed and threatened to make it known. The doctor was punished summarily.

Thereafter she and the prince went to Europe. The princess, in her story, devoted much space to telling with much satisfaction how she dressed up her pet dog, Jimmy, who had been through all her experiences with her, as a baby, and so kept him with her in the train. After some time with her in Vienna and in several European cities, Prince Salm-Salm again went away to war and was killed at Gravelotte, fighting bravely. The princess saw more service in this war than she had in this country and was constantly in the field as a nurse. She was decorated with the Iron Cross for bravery and her own story of her service in trying times is sufficient evidence that she richly deserved this honor.

Read in the journal of this capable, fascinating woman the terrible details of her service with the Prussian army hospital corps at the battle of Amiens; read, too, the story of how she went to find her husband's body and to fulfill his last wish, that his body be taken back to Anhalt. Rarely has any better picture of such scenes been given. With the shells screaming over the roof of the house, she calmly assisted the surgeon who was working at the operating table, chloroforming patients, soothing the soldiers' dying agonies, separating the mortally wounded from those who had a chance. She assented cooly to the doctor's remark that it would be time enough to think of saving themselves when one of the shells struck the hospital. The doctor attributed to her a curious power of diagnosis and constantly inquired of her "whether she saw the shadow of death on a soldier's face."

She was under fire on several other occasions, and once when on a campaign fell ill of smallpox. She was allowed to remain in bed only four days. This was only a few days after the most harrowing experiences in a field hospital, which she tells vividly. At the end of the war she returned to Anhalt, her husband's birthplace. In 1876 she married Charles Heneage; and the remainder of her life passed amid comparatively quiet surroundings. For the quiet of a home, she said, in ending her diary, she had always wished more than for all else.

PIED PIPER'S STORY FOR LITTLE CHILDREN

As Retold by Miss Nellie Johnston to the First and Second Grade Pupils in El Dorado, Kan., Schools.

Walnut Valley Times: In a country long, long way from here there is a funny little town. At the top of the town there is a mountain, and at the bottom there is a large, wide river. The funniest thing about the little town is that all the stores had the same things in them; at bakers, grocers and everywhere you will find the same things—big chocolate rats and mice made of candy.

When I was in this town one day I asked, "Why are all these rats and mice made of candy?" "Don't you know this is Hamelin town?" they said. "Surely you know about Pied Piper." And this is the story the people told to me.

A long time ago there were thousands and thousands of rats in Hamelin town. The houses were full of them, the stores were full of them, the churches were full of them and they were just everywhere. They fought the dogs and killed the cats. They ate the food in the houses. They even built nests in people's hats, and what a nuisance they were. Finally one day a strange looking man came to town. He was tall and thin. He wore a suit that was half red and half yellow. And around his neck hung something which looked like a flute. He came up to the mayor and said:

The Piper Arrives.

"I hear the rats are bothering you, but I can get rid of them for you."

"Who are you?" asked the mayor.

"People call me Pied, the Piper," said the man, "and I know a way to draw everything after me that walks, flies or swims. How much will you give me to take away the rats?"

"Anything, anything," said the mayor. "I will give you $5,000."

"All right," said the Piper, and he went out into the streets, and began to play a strange tune on his little flute. Soon there was a grumbling and a rumbling noise, and out of the houses came the rats. And such rats. Great rats, small rats, fat rats and lean rats, brown rats, black rats and all kinds of rats.

Up and down the streets went Pied Piper until all the rats were following him. He went down to the edge of the deep, wide river, and then turned sharply aside. But the rats kept on running, and so fell into the river, and were drowned. Except one big, fat rat. He was so fat he didn't sink, and he swam across and went away to the forest to live.

But the Mayor Laughed.

Then the Piper went back to the mayor and said, "Give me the $5,000 you promised me." But the mayor did not want to give up the money. He thought the Piper could do nothing, and so he said:

"That was just a little joke. You can't expect $5,000 for that."

"You will be sorry if you break your word, for I have another tune I can play, and you will not like this tune when I play it."

"O, ho," said the mayor, "play your little tune. I don't care. I am not afraid of you."

Then the Piper went out into the streets again and began to play; but he played a different tune this time. It was so soft and sweet. Soon there was a little noise, pitter-patter, pitter-patter, sounding like little feet running. And little hands were clapping. Out from the houses came the children, all the little boys and the little girls.

"Stop, stop," cried the people. "He is taking our children. Stop him, mayor."

All the Children Followed.

But they could not stop him because the music that made the children follow him also made the grown up people stand still. They saw Pied Piper move on down the street, with all the little boys and girls at his heels, going on and on, until they came to the river.

"Oh, oh, he will drown our children," said the people.

But when he came to the river the Piper turned and went along the bank. On and on, and up and up toward the mountain.

And when they came to the foot of the mountain, a great door opened wide in the side of the mountain, and Pied Piper went through and all the children after him. And then the door closed. All except one little lame boy. He couldn't walk as fast as the others and the door closed before he got there. But the other children never came back again.

Years and years afterward, when the fat, old rat was a grandfather and was telling stories to his grandchildren they asked him why he wanted to follow Pied Piper. He replied:

"When I heard the music I thought I was smelling good cheese and sweet things to eat. I couldn't keep from running after him."

And the little lame boy, when asked why he wanted to go said:

"I thought I was going away on a journey to a wonderful country and I just had to run along."

And that was all the people ever found out.

ROLLING A GLOBE AROUND THE WORLD.

Strand Magazine: George M. Schilling, an American athlete, is now on his way round the world rolling a globe. For a wager of about $15,000 Mr. Schilling has undertaken the gigantic task of not only rolling the globe, but living and sleeping in it, a further condition being that he must not earn, beg, or borrow for his subsistence, his only source of income being from the sale of picture postcards. He started on Feb. 25, 1911, and his route is shown in white on the globe. This globe is 7 feet in diameter, 22 feet girth and weighs 650 pounds. Mr. Schilling also states that, owing to an accident, he has had temporarily to place the globe on wheels. This is his second attempt to accomplish his long journey—the first time he had the misfortune to lose an arm in China during the Boxer rebellion.

ONLY FAULT DRINK HABIT

Many Good Men Robbed of High Business and Social Standing by Drink.

Toledo Blade—

There is many a good man who has a craving for drink and who fights against his appetite all the time, for he knows that drink is seriously detrimental to his business and social standing.

The Neal Treatment cures the periodical, occasional or moderate drinker, the excessive and habitual drinker and the nervous man who has to drink to keep from becoming nervous. It takes away all inclination to drink by neutralizing the poison of the alcohol in the system and ridding the blood of the poison by a rapid system of elimination, leaving the drinker in the condition he was in before tasting liquor, so far as the effect of the alcohol may be concerned—all appetite for drink gone—and he a new man.

Refuse to take any treatment for the drink habit where hypodermic injections are given, for they are so liable to result in blood poisoning from the use of an infected needle, through the carelessness of others.

Call, write or phone to the Superior Neal Institute, corner Belknap and West Seventh street. Both phones. St. Paul Institute, 676 Dayton avenue. Minneapolis Institute, 403 South Seventh street.

LATEST SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

Gossip, Comment and Sporting Editorial Review as Written By Bruce.

AMOS RUSIE is still held in the estimation of many to have been the greatest pitcher of them all—and, George, there have been Clarkson, Radbourne, Meekin, Young, Corbett and a host of others, not to mention the live ones of the present day, brightly patting between the shoulder blades such illustrious ones as Josephous Wood, Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Jack Combs, and the Indian Bender—when he behaves.

Rusie was a product of the old school. He spent his money, failed to provide for the day when it pours, and in general wasted his talents and his money.

That isn't all; he is one of the rough neck class; a type of the objectionable ball player that at one time caused many good people to look askance on the national game.

Out Seattle way the other day the once king of all pitchers drove his invalid wife and little daughter from the house, and as a result of the ruction ran afoul of the police and found a terminus in the booby hatch.

It's different these days. The professional baseball player has changed, and verily the change has been great. As a rule, these days, the player who gets anywhere in his profession is a studious chap and one with some of the gray matter tucked systematically between his ears. The modern knight of the diamond is on most occasions a quiet and neat dresser. While he still chews tobacco he generally eschews liquor. When the big league player of today quits the game—or the game quits him, which is more to the point—he generally has some money. His case is different from that of Rusie.

Amos Rusie didn't have money when he stepped out of baseball. He went to digging ditches. Old Kid Booze knew him so well that the two were the best of pals. They chummed together. Right now Rusie is doing anything he can lay those once priceless hands upon. He is down and out, and once admiring thousands applauded and called him King Rusie. The world is a man's shell and he makes it as he chooses.

THERE have been press agents among the professional athletes, and there have been some good ones—but listen, this Battling Nelson has them all cheated. He has taken up the good work where they left off and gone on to unexplored and lofty heights. Hand it to him.

The Dane breaks in with the assertion that he is going to become an evangelist. Billy Sunday stirred the sentiment in the concrete being of the Battler—following the furrow of the press agent—and he is going to enter religious work and endeavor to convert some of the indifferent and calloused-conscienced youths of the land.

If he has half the success in converting some of the hard moral nuts to the ways of righteousness as he met with in the illustrious ring career, during which time he converted many to the abiding belief that he was the toughest guy in this mundane old sphere, then he is going to be one of the freest hitters in this evangelical league, and Billy Sunday and Gypsy Smith are clear up there getting their two and three hits at every meeting.

While it behooves us not to cast aspersions on the motives of the Durable Dane, one can't help wondering whether the Battler didn't have a peek at the box office settlement arranged with Sunday before he saw the light.

MINISTERS at Calgary are protesting against the holding of the battle between Thomas Burns and Bombardier Wells. The rest of the sporting world was idly wondering if Canada would fall for a match like that, though some of us have heard that they have so much money up in that country that they suffer with ennui and exceeding languor. But why, aye that's the rub, why give it to Tommy Burns?

If the ministers protest they can be given credit for having more sense than the sporting public on the other side of the international line. When they try to inflict Tommy Burns on the public, someone should call the police.

A guy blowing through from the other side, to get a good shave, a real cigar and to get some of the old cheer of the stars and stripes, informed we'uns that this Burns person was as fat as the raucous basso in these fly by night grand opera companies. Worse than that, he runs a haberdashery. How can you expect a man to fight after running a haberdashery?

This Burns person likes the money better 'n most people care for steaks, French peas and sizzling French fried potatoes after a three days' fast. But, on the square, he is willing to do most anything to get it.

There have been some trains held up in Canada without the receivers being apprehended. Why doesn't Burns try this?

LOUIE ZORBAS is training these blasty and blusterv days as if his heart was deeply set in the concrete foundation of devout hope for success in his coming bout with Mauritz Harris. It's sort of Superior versus Duluth, and the little Greek will carry the good wishes of hundreds of fans on this side of the bay who have seen the little fellow in animated action upon numerous occasions. This is the first big match for the little fellow and success means much to him.

ONE of these bright days, e'en before the robin bringeth gladness to the soul of man and the spring hat doeth likewise to the esthetic nature of the beaming female, let us hope that the question of the summer habitat of Frank Leroy Chance is firmly established. The Cub and some of the others who have rooted long and loyally for the Chicago Cubs with the Peerless Leader at the helm, are going to switch, should it be that he is to take charge of those badly drubbed children of misfortune, the Highlanders.

Let us hope that the matter of a few paltry thousands is satisfactorily settled, that the interest of the club is turned over to Chance, and that he will assume the leadership. We don't care so much whether Farrell makes any money; the great, the grave, the burning question is whether the P. L. is going to spend his future summers in Manhattan.

HANDBALL courts are surely needed at the Y. M. C. A. It's harder to gain admission to the one court up there than it is to smile at the barber as he hollers next in the crowded shop of a Saturday night. Handball is popular here and the building of additional courts would mean that the game would become even more so than it is at the present time.

MONEY NEEDED FOR HANDBALL COURTS

Enthusiasts at Y. M. C. A. Will Undertake to Raise $6,000.

Thirty-five members of the Young Men's Christian association, who are especially enthusiastic for handball, held a supper at the association building last evening and outlined plans for the raising of $6,000, to be expended for two new handball courts.

The meeting was presided over by A. B. Wegener, physical director of the association. Mr. Wegener spoke of the great advantages of handball as a clean, wholesome sport, that was of great assistance in general physical development.

B. C. Wade, general secretary of the association, said the new courts had been needed for some time. They would be of great benefit as convenient places for the holding of championship games and tournaments.

Watson S. Moore, president of the association, informed those present that if those who are particularly interested in handball would raise $2,000 by subscription and $2,000 more by obtaining new members, the other $2,000 would be readily contributed by the directors of the association.

Mr. Moore's talk settled the general program of the campaign. Speeches in discussion of the best methods of raising the $4,000 were made by C. R. McLean, M. F. Lamar, Jr., and Guy Warren, members of the physical section committee; F. A. Hathaway, membership secretary of the association, and I. K. Lewis.

The meeting elected Mr. McLean chairman of the fund-raising campaign. Another rally will be held this evening and the chairman will appoint ten committees to solicit funds. The canvass for the first $2,000 in subscriptions will be made before any soliciting is done for new members.

ROGER BRESNAHAN TO WEAR A CUB UNIFORM.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Roger Bresnahan will wear a Chicago National uniform next season, it was announced here last night by President Murphy of the club. Murphy was so much pleased with the fact that he said that Roger would add 15 per cent to the strength of the team. "He is a great acquisition," said Murphy. "I won't say what salary Bresnahan is going to get, but I had to outbid Dreyfus of Pittsburg for him, and that shows what others think of Bresnahan."

Roger will come to the Cubs with his pockets lined with the cash compromise he received to break his contract with the St. Louis club. Murphy said Roger's three-year contract would be mailed to Bresnahan's home in Toledo, Ohio, today.

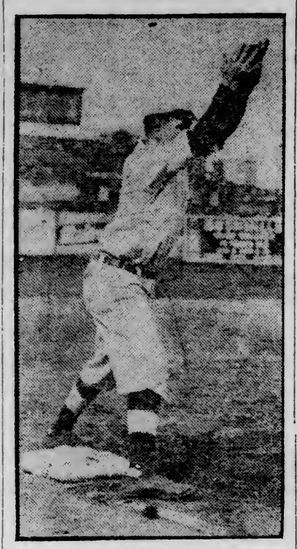

"I talked with Bresnahan over the long distance telephone this afternoon," said Murphy. "I intend to use him as a catcher with Jimmy Archer. He will be very useful in coaching pitchers. He is a great acquisition to the team."

CHANCE SHOULD MAKE A SUCCESS OF FORD

RUSSELL FORD.

Russell Ford is expected to have one of the greatest seasons of his career this year. Especially is this true if Frank Chance goes to New York as the Highlanders' leader. The peerless one is one of the best users of pitchers in baseball. Should Chance become the leader of the New York Americans Ford should be one of the real pitchers of the coming season.

Announcement Extraordinary!

TO THE PATRONS OF WRESTLING

We beg to assure you that despite all claims of St. Paul promoters that they have booked the American championship wrestling match, we have matched Zbyszko to meet the winner of tonight's contest at Minneapolis between Ordemann and Westergaard, and that this important match will take place at the Auditorium, Wednesday, Jan. 15.

Although this is by far the largest card ever offered in Duluth we have not raised the prices, same scale prevailing; but we would impress on our patrons, especially the Range fans, the necessity of getting their tickets early.

To take care of the crowd, we have added 500 circus seats, but as the sale promises to be very brisk, we ask that the "Old Guard" buy early to make sure of good selections.

Seats will be placed on sale at BLACKWOOD'S CIGAR STORE, TOMORROW MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK. Better mail your order now as the order list will be supplied first. Remember the seating capacity of the Auditorium is limited and the first who came will be the first served.

THE GREATER DULUTH ATHLETIC CLUB.

N. B.—Free list is positively suspended for this match.

BRITTON AFTER PACKEY'S GOAT

Manager of Former Fighter Declares McFarland Fears His Boy.

"Dumb Dan" Morgan, the manager of Jack Britton, is hot on the elusive heels of Packey McFarland and is demanding that the idol of the stockyards fight his boy or be branded as a quitter by the sporting fraternity throughout the country.

One night, something over a year ago, McFarland and Britton met and there are those who hold that the latter had the better of the go. Be that as it was, there is no denying the fact that since that time Packey hasn't shown the least inclination to tangle with the shifty Jack.

Like the strange case of McFarland, there is a lingering doubt whether Britton can make the legitimate lightweight limit. A battle between the twain at catch weights would be one of the distinct events of the fistic season.

Here is what Dan Morgan has to say on the subject:

"To the Sporting Editor—Dear Sir. "Packey McFarland is lost' was the news that the fight fans throughout the country received a few days ago when he failed to put in an appearance to box in Omaha. McFarland has been lost as far as Jack Britton is concerned for over a year.

"Packey is still thinking about giving the public a run for their money by boxing Jack Britton, that is all he does think about it, and he goes right on matching up with fifth-rate boxers and not considering the fight fans in any way.

"Jack Britton is meeting the best men that can be secured, although only weighing 133 pounds ringside, he is boxing boys that weigh 140, whipping them at the rate of twice a week. The boxing experts who have been watching the work of both boys for the past year are firmly convinced that Jack Britton is a fearless fighter and boxer, and willing at all times to meet the best boys in the world.

"Packey McFarland has about worn out his welcome with the fighting fans in general, for Packey is looking for the best of it all the time. When asked, will he box Britton, the answer is no, but I will meet little Battling Terry, Tommy Kilbane or any other small 130-pound boys, while I go at catch weights. How long will the sporting public stand for the above conditions, as Britton is ready at all times and Packey McFarland is afraid. Sincerely, DAN MORGAN."

RESIGNS HIS OFFICE.

Secretary and Treasurer of Giants Quits But Stays as Director.

New York, Jan. 7.—R. H. McCutcheon resigned yesterday as secretary and treasurer of the New York National league baseball club. John B. Foster, sporting editor of the Evening Telegram, was elected secretary, and N. Ashley Lloyd was elected treasurer.

Mr. McCutcheon remains a director of the controlling company. Frank M. Stevens was made a director to fill the vacancy left by the death of President Brush.

Pinch-Hitter Signs.

Boston, Jan. 7.—The only "holdout" among the world's champion Red Sox developed so far, disappeared yesterday, when Olaf Henriksen, the diminutive pinch hitter, signed a 1913 contract. Henriksen's two-bagger in the final game in the world's series last fall was one of the deciding factors in giving the world's championship to Boston.

"GET A REP," SAYS MAC

Jess Thinks He Has—Will Stick to Charley Cutler for Manager.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—The following telegram was received here from Venice, Cal:

"Can figure no good reason for even considering the man Willard. He is the run-out kid. Let him do something to show he is entitled to a match. The report that he won before is wrong. McCarty was the winner. (Signed) Bill McCarney, Manager for McCarty."

The telegram was in reply for a request for information as to why the new "heavyweight champion of the world" is dodging a match with the man who won the newspaper decision over him in a previous engagement. It seems a certainty now that Willard has no chance to get on with McCarty. Something easy like Bombardier Wells appears to appeal to McCarty's manager as the proper procedure.

Jess Willard looms up like a perfectly good meal ticket to a number of covetous fight managers. Just at present Charley Cutler's name is on the ticket, and, according to Charles, there is not an ink eraser that can efface his cognomen.

Incidentally Jess himself says he has tied up to Cutler and it isn't a slip-knot that holds them together.

"He has been my friend when I needed a friend, and I am going to stick to Cutler," said Willard. "He may not wear so many diamonds as some of the men who are managing fighters today, but he will loom up before he gets through with me."

Charley Ayers he has assisted Jess in the matter of solving the great problem of the high cost of living and now, if there is any high living to be done in the near future, Charles, the wrestling manager, will be in on it.

A syndicate of Chicago capitalists is anxious to take charge of Willard and has made Cutler an offer that is tempting, but Charles believes Willard will prove himself more than a meal ticket.

A few fight fans about the country have accepted Luther. McCarty as a real champion, but the experts from coast to coast are asking Luther the question, "how about Jess Willard? How can you wear a crown that is not yet yours?"

When Shakespeare wrote "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown," he must have been looking forward to Luther, for the new champion is not deriving a great deal of pleasure out of his crown just now.

True they tell Willard "chase out and get a reputation," but they know full well Jess is there with the Christmas punch, and it is believed by a number of boxing sports that Mr. McCarty is not inviting any serious trouble until after he has made the usual cleanup in the vaudeville game.

CUBS WILL START FOR SOUTH EARLY

Likely to Go to Training Camp at Tampa in February.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Manager Evers of the Chicago Cubs arrived here yesterday from Troy, N. Y., to make final arrangements for the start of the Cubs' training trip with President Murphy, who returned Saturday from Tampa, Fla., where the team will prepare for the 1913 struggle.

Evers probably will be here for only a few days. In that time everything relating to the spring journey is expected to be arranged. Murphy will suggest to Evers that the club depart Feb. 15, so as to be in Tampa, Feb. 17. It will be up to the manager to decide. This will be the earliest the club ever started from Chicago if this date is chosen. Heretofore Manager Chance never sent his men away before March 1 or afterward.

Evers will lead the Cub squad to Tampa on what he terms the most critical trip of his career. Probably fourteen men will accompany him. The recruits will go through a special course of training under the manager before the regulars arrive on the scene which is expected to be about March 4. The men who are likely to compose the advance guard are Phelan, Corridan, Knisely, Humphries, Toney, Craig, Sommers, Madden, Berghammer, Pierce, Yantz, Hecklinger, Powell and Bridwell.

It is from this group that Evers expects to select men to strengthen his team. He must pick a shortstop and his young twirlers. Corridan, Bridwell, Craig and Berghammer are to battle for the position vacated by Joe Tinker. Bridwell, owing to his experience, apparently has the best chance of landing the place. He will be given a hard run, however, as Corridan and Berghammer come to the Cubs touted as the best to leave the American association and the Pacific coast league. Craig is a university player and is not expected to be retained.

The twirlers will be given special attention, as two or three men more are required to aid Lavender, Cheney, Richie and Reulbach. Evers will try to develop winning southpaws out of Sommers, Madden and Pierce, who displayed promising form in the fall. Pierce is assured of a position as he is a spitball artist with speed and a good curve. Chance thought well of him as did Archer and other Cub players. If the Cubs succeed in getting Cullop from New Orleans, Evers will have four promising left handers to watch on the spring training trip.

CANADIANS WANT TO JOIN SKI ASSOCIATION.

Ashland, Wis., Jan. 7.—Several ski clubs, located in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Alberta, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, have written A. H. Holter, secretary of the National Ski Association of America, asking permission to join, there being no such organization in the Canadian Northwest.

An effort will be made to assist the Canadians in the organizing of a national Canadian association. The time is not distant when these associations will be merged with the great international organization, which has a membership in Europe of many thousands. Virginia, Minn., is making extensive plans for landing the national meet in 1914. Virginia was a formidable candidate at the Chicago convention a year ago, but lost.

MANY RINKS REGISTERED

Games Committee Has a Large List of Curlers to Compete in Events.

Additional Rinks Wanted Before the Draw Is Made for Opening Play.

With something like thirty-four rinks registered with the games committee of the Duluth Curling club and with five sheets of ice completed, it begins to look as if the curling season is with us and that we have lit of a sudden in the midst of the season's activity of the roarin' game.

But even with the number of rinks registered that have been turned into the hands of the games committee, the gentlemen making up that august and important body are of the undivided opinion that fifty rinks would come nearer the proper point of appreciation of the benefits to be bestowed by the new rink and the increased number of sheets to curl upon, and the word has gone out to all the members, both of this committee and other committees, to get out and hustle for more rinks.

It is particularly desired to have the names of all rinks handed in as soon as possible, as the draws for the various trophy events to be played this season are to be made within a few days. The members of the games committee ask that beginners hesitate not in the least about sending in their names, as there are many first-year men enrolled on the various rinks already registered.

As has been stated, there are five rinks of ice completed at the present time and curling games will be played every night from now on. The regular draw will be made in the near future and then formal play will be started for the various trophies that have been offered.

Following is the list of the rinks that have been registered:

FARRELL AND CHANCE MEETING IN CHICAGO

Expected That Former Cub Manager Will Sign Up With Yankees.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Frank Farrell, owner of the New York American league club, and Frank Chance, former manager of the Chicago National league club, were expected to engage in a conference here today which it was thought would terminate in the "peerless leader" becoming the manager of Farrell's team.

Negotiations have been on between the two since Chance was given his release from th Cincinnati club, to which he was sold by President Murphy of the Chicago cub. The release to Cincinnati of Chance is said to have been part of a plan whereby Garry Herrmann was to land him in Farrell's club as manager.

Farrell announced on leaving New York that he expected little trouble to induce Chance to attach his name to a contract, and baseball men had little doubt that there would be any trouble in an agreement being reached quickly.

The salary for which Chance would go to the New York club for has been variously estimated at from $10,000 to $20,000 a year with a percentage of the gate receipts.

Chance's successor as manager of the Chicago club, John Evers; Manager Joe Tinker of the Cincinnati club and Treasurer Charley Williams, for many years associated with Chance on the West side lot, prepared to go to Joliet to meet their former leader.

Curling Under Way.

Ralph Bradley's rink was beaten last night at the new curling club by Palmer Harbinson's rink, the score being 12 to 8. Dunlap was beaten by Dinham by the score of 12 to 3. There are five sheets of ice in good working order and it is expected that remaining sheets will be completed today or by the latter part of the present week.

POSTPONED ONE DAY.

National Baseball Commission Meeting Delayed By Sickness.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 7.—The illness of President Johnson of the American league, a member of the national baseball commission, caused a postponement of that body's ninth annual meeting until today. Chairman Herrmann and President Lynch, members of the commission from the National league, were not idle during the day, however, as they went into conference with a number of minor league representatives shortly afternoon yesterday and took up the subject of uniform contracts, something that is much desired by the minors and which the commission is asked to act upon.

Evidence introduced will be repeated to Mr. Johnson. The committee from the national association will also declare its opposition to the individual salary limit of a minor league.

The commission handed down two findings. In one, the Philadelphia National league team is ordered to pay the Buffalo team $600 for Player Baxter, whom they recalled from Buffalo under the optional agreement clause, and sold to Wilmington.

In the other finding, the claim of Player Kenworthy, who was released by Denver to Washington, and then released back by Washington to Denver, was disallowed. Kenworthy claimed that his salary should have been increased 25 per cent over his contract with Denver when he went to Washington, but the commission thought otherwise.

On White Slave Charge.

Fargo, N. D., Jan. 7.—Carl Hove, of Aberdeen, S. D., was held to district court here on a charge of violating the Mann white slave act. Elizabeth Hatton, a young girl, was the chief witness. Hove, unless he enters a plea of guilty, will have to await the next grand jury session.

TEN EYCK EXPECTED TO REACH HERE NEXT WEEK

Coming of Coach Will Start Work on Rowing Machines ---A Big Squad Is Expected Out.

According to the announcement made yesterday James E. Ten Eyck, coach of the Duluth Boat club, will arrive here on the morning of Jan. 15 and will immediately take up the work of starting the candidates for the crew on the machines.

The new rowing machines are scheduled to reach Duluth during the present week. They are of the very latest pattern and the consignment will include a single sculling apparatus, which would indicate that more attention is to be paid to sculling this year than ever before in the history of rowing here.

As the plans are outlined at the present time, the machines will be set up in Y. M. C. A. exercise room and later in the season will be taken to the rowing headquarters at the boat club, for use when the water is so rough that the candidates can't get out in the shells. This is a new scheme and it is believed that it will fit in well with the desire to adopt a regule schedule of training that will not be seriously interrupted by the vagaries of the weather.

It is generally believed the coming season is the last that the crew candidates will train at the quarters at the main house. With the completion of the street car line to New Duluth the training of the crew, at least, the early spring training, will be done at the Spirit Lake house, the sheltered river giving the men smooth water at all times.

So far as is known all of the old men will report during the coming month. It is not believed that a single one of the squad will be lost. There are some promising new men in sight, and Jack MacGregor, captain of the rowing department, believes that the new material this year will be the best that the club has ever received.

ST. PAUL ATTEMPTING TO STEAL THE ZBYSZKO BOUT

Saintly City Promoters Attempt to Secure Consent of Pole to Wrestle in Down River Town.

St. Paul wrestling promoters are attempting to pilfer the big Zbyszko match away from the Greater Duluth Athletic club and stage the meeting of the Pole and the winner of the Ordemann-Westgaard match in the spacious St. Paul Auditorium.

It is not believed that the pilfering and pestiferous activity upon the part of the promoters of the Saintly City will be crowned with success. Local officials have been negotiating for the match for the past few weeks and have met every demand upon the part of J. H. Herman, manager of the Pole, and the managers of Ordemann and Westergaard.

The whole idea is that Duluth is more of a real town than St. Paul and has supported wrestling matches a great deal more liberally than the town by the head waters of the majestic Mississippi. Two city contests have been held in the Apostle town this season and both have been of the order of the bloomer.

A definite answer to the wires of the Greater Duluth Athletic club officials is expected today. The officials here have the word of Herman and the managers of Ordemann and Westergaard, and they are willing to accept their word until it has been shown that the trust has been misplaced.

Ordemann and Westergaard are due to meet at the big Minneapolis Auditorium this evening and decide the holder of the American championship. The match is the biggest between heavyweights that has been wrestled during the present season, bringing together as it will, two of the biggest and greatest of the American heavyweights.

Louis Zorbas, the little Duluth Greek, and Mauritz Harris, the vest pocket edition of the "Terrible Swede," who is from the other side of the bay, are to wrestle for the lightweight championship of the Northwest on the same evening that Zbyszko appears in this city.

For over a year the agitation for a meeting between these two men has been growing. There is not a pound's difference in the weight of the two little men. They are so evenly matched to all appearances that speculation as to the winner is keen and widespread.

Harris has the greater experience and may be the stronger, but little Louis has the greatest amount of speed and it is believed that he possesses the greater endurance, as he is younger than Harris.

There is scarcely less interest in the Zorbas-Harris bout in certain quarters of Duluth and Superior than there is in the coming of the mighty Pole.

LAW VIOLATORS BEING PUNISHED

Warden Wood Rounds Up Men in Pine County.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 7.—Game Warden George Wood secured two convictions in Judge Brown's court at Kittsville yesterday afternoon after returning from Pine county, where he made a number of arrests for violations of the game laws.

Frederick Cianini, in the employ of Matt Maturi at Chisholm, was arrested at Wilpin with a partridge in his possession. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $25 and costs.

Otman Jarvi of Rice Lake and A. Erickson of Hibbing, charged with illegal trapping, demanded a trial. They were convicted and assessed, with the costs, $22.50. They were arrested by Wardens Wood and Brown and will appeal.

Moose Laker Caught.

Frank Grabowski and Martin Wisnieski of Moose Lake, arrested last week by Warden Wood for using set lines in the Sturgeon river, Pine county, entered a plea of guilty before Judge Gus Brant at Willow River and paid fines of $10 and costs. Over 100 set lines in their possession were confiscated.

J. Grabowski of the same locality paid a fine of $10 and costs for having black bass in his possession.

P. J. Cook of Willow River, charged with hunting and killing deer during the closed season, paid a fine of $10 and costs.

Frank Duschenes, an employe of the Rutledge Pine company, charged with trapping muskrats and mink during the closed season, also paid a fine of $10 and costs. A consignment of fur he was shipping to a St. Louis concern, which had been illegally taken, was seized in transit and confiscated by the warden.

LACK OF MINERS MAY CLOSE MINE

Property Near Hibbing Is Seriously Handicapped By Labor Shortage.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Never in the history of the mining industry on the Mesaba range or the lumbering industry in this section of Minnesota has there been a labor shortage of the proportions of the present throughout all this section.

It is announced that one of the underground properties near town which is seriously hampered by a lack of skilled miners, may suspend for the season in a few days.

Men are in demand at practically every underground mine in the Hibbing district and all the mines now working would work increased forces if men were available.

The same situation exists in the lumber woods. To the south and north of Hibbing there are about twenty small logging camps getting out logs, mining timber and lagging. Few have more than half as many men as they would work if they could be hired.

GAVE MANY NOTES FOR AURORA HOME

It Burns and Suit in District Court Results, Plaintiff Winning.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Anderson of Aurora will have to pay John Lezstik of Chisholm, if the verdict returned by a jury in district court yesterday evening stands. The jury agreed last night and sealed its verdict, which was announced in court today. Lezstik sued to recover $630 payment on a house at Aurora he sold Anderson and for which Anderson gave twenty-two notes of $30 each. The house burned and Anderson refused to pay. The suit resulted.

The case of Matt Thomas vs. Jacob Saari of Eveleth for alleged damages to a horse is on trial today.

QUIT HIBBING COMPANY.

Two Members of Company Have Resigned From Service.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—E. C. Junker has resigned his position here and about the last of this month will remove to Duluth, where he formerly resided. Mr. Junker has been first sergeant of Company M here and has been popular with his many friends. He has resigned from the company.

George Kohrt, who has been quartermaster sergeant, has also resigned, as his business duties prevent his giving to the work the time he feels that it should have.

Capt. Healy will fill the vacancies in a short time. Those eligible for promotion to the two places are John Friday, Gus Kohrt and Ralph Nelson.

COMMERCIAL CLUB PLANS BUSY MEET

Hibbing Organization Will Elect Officers and Do Some Boosting.

Hibbing, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The next meeting of the Hibbing Commercial club tomorrow evening is expected to be one of the largest and most interesting ever held. The annual election of officers will occur and there will be a smoker.

It is reported that President McGonagle and Superintendent Kreiter of the Missabe road will talk to the club about the matter of telegraph service in connection with the opening of the uptown telegraph office.

It is expected also that the committee on legislation will report bills providing for the recall of village officers and amendments to the present laws affecting the right of industrial corporations to condemn public highways, in accordance with instructions at the last meeting of the club.

Boomed for Presidency.

Four candidates for the presidency of the club are being groomed by their friends. They are Dr. P. R. Thomas, the present incumbent, D. D. McEachin, Village Attorney Robert Stratton, and Rupert Swinnerton. Dr. Thomas will probably not be opposed, however, if he decides to again accept the position as he has made a capable officer and the club has a fine record of things accomplished for the past year.

Marc Atkinson of the Mesaba Ore, is being boomed by his friends for election to the position of secretary. Mr. Atkinson has many friends over the city and will probably be unopposed, as the present secretary, H. P. Reed, announces that he will not again be a candidate.

GILBERT MAN ON PROBATION

Marco Ranich, Who Threatened Family, Is Given Another Chance.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—Marco Ranich of Gilbert, who was indicted for terrorizing Frank Ranzoni's family in Gilbert, pleaded guilty in district court today to a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Judge Hughes sentenced him to pay a fine of $250 or to spend eight months in the county jail. The court suspended sentence and cautioned Ranich to leave drink alone, also to keep away from the Ranzoni family, otherwise he will have to serve time. The court also directed that Ranich report monthly to Matt Kostanisec, a local Austrian leader.

John Kars, indicted for second degree assault on Earl Chase near Mountain Iron, a few weeks ago, pleaded guilty, but had not been sentenced up to noon.

OPERATING CARS ON HOURLY PLAN

New Range Traction System Is Gradually Being Limbered Up.

Virginia, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mesaba Railway company is now operating cars on an hourly schedule. The cars for Eveleth and Gilbert leave at 5:05 in the morning and at five minutes past the hours throughout the day until the last car at 10:05 p. m. Cars for Mountain Iron and Buhl leave the down town station at 6:45 a. m. and hourly thereafter until 10:45 p. m. The first car for Mountain Iron and Buhl on Sundays leaves at 7:45 a. m.

Road Well Built.

Henry S. Newton, the superintendent of the company, says that the new road is well constructed and compliments the Western Construction company which did the work under the direction of C. E. Thomas, chief engineer. The work has been difficult for the reason that the right-of-way has had to take circuitous routes to avoid going over mining properties. Despite many curves fast time can be made with safety, Mr. Newton says.

TWO HARBORS WILL BUY CASH REGISTER

Council Orders Recording Machine for Water and Light Department.

Two Harbors, Minn., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meet of the city council last night the city clerk submitted his monthly report for December, during which was paid off over two-thirds of the city's outstanding orders. The outstanding orders against the city now amount to $12,504.58, the smallest amount since July, 1905, when there was a trifle over $10,000 owed. The outstanding orders one year ago amounted to $39,154.84. Besides paying off $26,650.24 on city orders the council has also paid off $5,500 on city bonds. The city officials are very much pleased with the progress which they have made toward cleaning up the indebtedness of the city and city clerk August Omtvedt believes that by May, 1913, the city will have all the outstanding orders paid up. The water and light tax collector presented his report of collections for the last quarter of 1912, which showed receipts for the month of December amounting to $6,543.37, which amount is the largest ever made in one month in the history of the city.

Order Cash Register.

It is the intention of the council to better the conditions of the accounting department, and accordingly let a contract for one two-drawer cash register made especially for use in city water and light collector's office. Mr. Omtvedt has recently installed some new books and ledgers for the water and light departments which are a revelation compared to the books formerly used. Mr. Omtvedt declares that it will be impossible to make an error without detecting it at once, so complete are the new forms.

The city council again instructed the city clerk to write Mr. Woodward, justice of the peace, and again order him to present at once his report. They declare that he has not handed in a report for six months and he is required to submit a report once every three months.

The John Olson case was not considered. Olson continued to carry out his plans to rebuild his partly destroyed building and was putting on a tin roof, although the council ordered him to destroy it, when he was arrested on the charge of violating the city fire ordinance and was forced to pay a fine of $50 or spend a time in the county jail. He paid the fine. He has appealed to the supreme court and the case may be settled Saturday in Duluth.

PIMPLES CAUSED DISFIGUREMENT

Red and Festered. Terrible Irritation. Itching Unbearable. Relieved of Pimples After Using Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

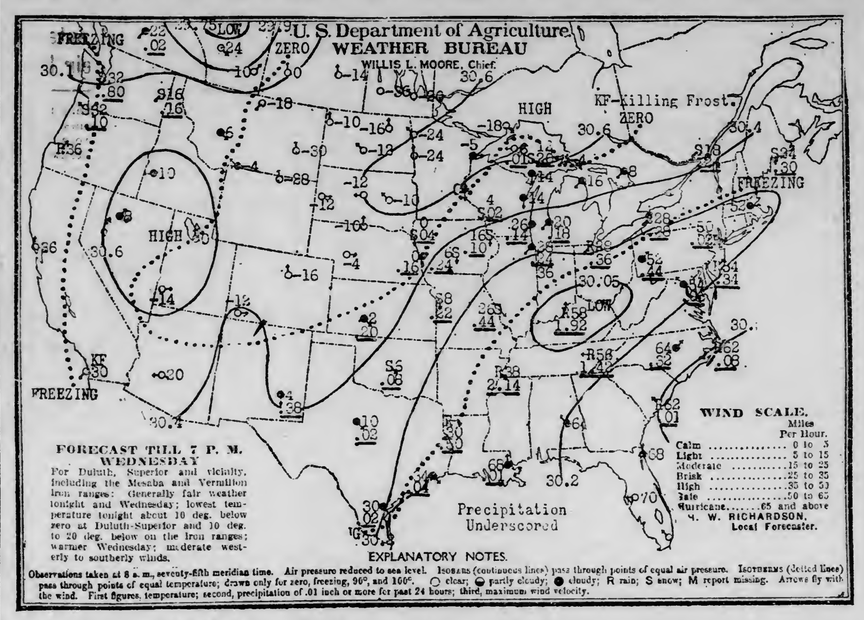

2640 North Hamlin Ave., Chicago, Ill.—"About one year ago my face began breaking out with sore mattery pimples. They were red and as they festered they took on a head of yellow pus. The trouble caused great disfigurement while it lasted and also caused me the loss of many nights' sleep because of the terrible irritation. At times I could not wash my face because of the soreness and when I did wash it the itching of the pimples was unbearable.

"I tried ——, ——— and different cold creams but to no avail. I suffered in this way for about six months. I saw an advertisement giving reasonable testimonials and offering a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment for which I immediately sent. On receiving this sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment I carefully followed the directions with the results of getting on the path of recovery. After using two full-sized boxes of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap I was fully relieved of pimples." (Signed) Miss Marie Creighton, Oct. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. A single set is often sufficient when all else fails. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

COLD

Yesterday's bitter weather continued last night and this morning, but there are signs of it moderating. The mercury will go below zero again tonight, but tomorrow it will be warmer.

A year ago today the mercury touched 20 deg. below zero.

The sun rose this morning at 7:53 and will set at 4:36, making eight and forty-three minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The severe cold weather continues throughout Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Rocky mountains, Southwestern states, Texas, Arizona and Southern California. In the latter state freezing temperatures and killing frosts occurred again last night. The depression overlying Alberta is causing warmer weather in the extreme Northwest and rain or snow in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. A slight depression over the Ohio valley caused light to heavy snow or rain over Southern, Central and Eastern states during the last twenty-four hours. Conditions favor slowly moderating temperature at the Head of the Lakes during the ensuing thirty-six hours."

The Quickest, Simplest Cough Cure

Easily and Cheaply Made at Home. Saves You $2.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup—enough to last a family a long time. You couldn't buy as much or as good cough syrup for $2.50.

Simple as it is, it gives almost instant relief and usually stops the most obstinate cough in 24 hours. This is partly due to the fact that it is slightly laxative, stimulates the appetite and has an excellent tonic effect. It is pleasant to take—children like it. An excellent remedy, too, for whooping cough, croup, sore lungs, asthma, throat troubles, etc.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

Pine is one of the oldest and best known remedial agents for the throat membranes. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in guaiacol and all the other natural healing elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

The prompt results from this recipe have endeared it to thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada, which explains why the plan has been imitated often, but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

AMUSEMENTS

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

LYCEUM—Fiske O'Hara in "The Rose of Kildare," for benefit of St. James' orphanage.
ORPHEUM—Vaudeville.

Amusement Notes.

A crowd that completely filled the Lyceum saw Fiske O'Hara in "The Rose of Kildare" last night. The performance was the first of four under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus for the benefit of St. James' orphanage and the big crowd was gratifying to the members of the order, who have worked hard for the success of the performance.

Mr. O'Hara readily sang himself into favor with his audience. From first to last he was received with enthusiasm, and was called upon for repeated encores. "The Rose of Kildare" and the interpolated number, "I Adore Thee," commanded the greatest applause, but 'Pictures in the Fire," sung in a beautiful setting, and the stirring strains of "There is Only One Ireland," were also well received.

The Knights of Columbus are looking forward to big crowds for the remaining three performances. Those who have seen and heard O'Hara thus far in his engagement are enthusiastic. He has a strong play, a good company, and a voice that charms.

Mr. O'Hara will appear tonight, tomorrow night and at a matinee tomorrow for the benefit of the orphanage.

No sketch that has appeared at the Orpheum this season has so moved the vaudeville audiences as "Pagan's Decision," which is being presented by Claude and Fanny Usher on this week's bill.

The sketch is headlining an exceptionally strong bill, and it is easily the most popular act on the bill. It tells the story of a retired prizefighter who has made a fortune in the prize ring and decides to adopt a little street waif as his daughter. The girl turns out to be the daughter of his sworn enemy, and the man who robbed him of the championship by a foul blow. Comedy predominates very largely in the sketch, and the pathos is allowed to enter but seldom, and then for a very brief interval.

"Spareribs," a little wiry-haired mongrel dog, is the only other member of the company.

COL. FRAINE IS SPEAKER

Grafton Man Elected to Preside Over North Dakota House.

Legislature Will Adjourn Until Early Part of Next Week.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 7.—(Special to The Herald.)—At noon today the North Dakota legislature was convened for the thirteenth time since statehood, both houses being organized with the Progressive Republicans in control by wide margins, but with a tendency in the two branches to abandon factional differences and get together on a party basis.

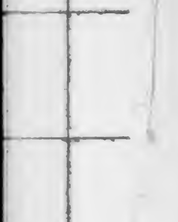

In the house, Col. J. H. Fraine of Grafton was elected speaker over the Democratic candidate, W. V. O'Connors. The full Republican strength was given to the speaker, and there was an entire absence of feeling by reason of the contest for the honor, the campaign for the speakership this year having been conducted on an entirely different basis from that existing in previous years.

In the senate the body was called to order by J. W. Foley, and Lieutenant Governor A. T. Kraabel was at once sworn in. Then followed the election of the slate of employes agreed upon in the caucus yesterday. W. D. Jostin was made secretary of the senate, and M. J. George was elected chief clerk of the house.

In both branches arrangements were made for the joint session tomorrow when the inauguration of the new state officials takes place.

Naming of Committees.

Following the joint session tomorrow both houses will adjourn till the fore part of next week, and in the interval the committees of the two houses will be named. In the house the speaker will name them, while in the senate a committee on committees will be engaged with Lieutenant-Governor Kraabel.

The wishes of Lieutenant-Governor Kraabel will doubtless have great weight in the selection of the various committee members. In previous years, before progressive Republicans gained control of the upper house, the committee on committees was a powerful means to estopping the aspirations of some who were seeking admittance to the inner ring of political influence through committee prestige.

Election of Speaker.

The movement in the house that brought about the election of the speaker was interesting. It grew out of a condition existing two years ago when defeated speakership candidates were given the committee prizes. It was charged then that there was an agreement between the several candidates for the speakership whereby the big committee chairmanships were to be retained within the circle of candidates. The charge was never very seriously denied.

As a result, this year a movement was launched among members against any candidate who might be believed to have any such alliance with any other candidates, and as a result, at least two of the candidates for the speakership suffered defeat.

The inaugural ball takes place Friday evening and it will be one of the most brilliant in the history of the state. There will be a large number of prominent people in attendance from all sections of the commonwealth.

AGED EDUCATOR DIES IN DULUTH

Francis Schmid Passes Away at Home of Mrs. A. M. Gow.

Francis Schmid, age 84 years, died at 4:30 this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. M. Gow, 1913 East Fourth street.

Mr. Schmid had lived in Duluth about five years, during all of which time he has been an invalid. His active life in the United States was spent in Pittsburg, where he was well known as an educator and a student of languages.

STRANGE MEALS IN DISRAELI'S NOVELS.

London Chronicle: Some of the meals in Disraeli's novels are of a decidedly barbaric nature. Not many of us nowadays would care to sit through the dinner described in "Venetia," which opened with "an ample tureen of potage royal, with a boned duck swimming in its center. Then came a huge roast pike, flanked on one side by a leg of mutton and on the other by bombarded veal. To these succeeded a grand battalia fire, in which the bodies of chickens, pigeons and rabbits were embalmed in spices, cocks' combs and savory balls and well bedewed with one of those rich sauces of claret, anchovy and sweet herbs, technically termed a lear. • • • The repast closed with a dish of oyster loaves and a pompetone of larks."

Few Are Delinquent.

Ninety-seven and one-half per cent of all taxes due in St. Louis county for the year 1911 and payable during 1912 were paid before the close of the year, according to the tax books for 1911, which were yesterday turned over to County Auditor Halden by County Treasurer Vivian. The showing is said to be remarkably good. The auditor has turned over the 1912 tax books to the treasurer for collection.

Greek Christmas.

Greeks in Duluth are observing Christmas today. As the Greeks still adhere to the Julian calendar, their Christmas comes two weeks later than the date on which the feast is observed by most nations. The Greek observance is very similar to the observance of the generally accepted date. There is an exchange of gifts and visits, and feasting in Greek homes.

SUPERIOR

REFUSE TO INDORSE RECALL OF MAYOR.

The Superior Ministerial association, at its regular meeting yesterday afternoon, refused to indorse the petition favoring the recall of Mayor Konkel. The mayor appeared at the meeting in person and took a lively part in the discussion. At his suggestion the association voted in favor of a vice commission for the investigation of vice in this city. The commission will consist of two members from the association, two from the Catholic clergy, two from the trades and labor assembly, two from the Commercial club, two from the Rotary club and two to be chosen by the board of education.

The Superior Rotary club will hold its first annual banquet this evening at the Hotel Superior. Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific roalroad, will be the honor guest of the club and the principal speaker during the evening. About 300 are expected to attend the feast.

Indian Chief Dies.

Chief Pussafiss, claimed to have been 115 years old, and one of the earliest settlers in the vicinity of Solon Springs, died at his home at Solon Springs yesterday afternoon. The aged chief had been supported during the past ten years by local residents, he having been unable to move about. Up to ten years ago he was active as a trapper and hunter.

The new county officials began their terms yesterday. Ed McKinnon is succeeded as sheriff by Gus Carlson, and Dr. C. W. Giesen is succeeded by Z. A. Downs as coroner. The register of deeds succeeds himself.

JUDGE ARCHBALD STILL ON STAND.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court, under impeachment for alleged misuse of his office, continued to testify today in his defense that none of the acts charged against him were wrongful or improper.

The judge testified that when E. J. b. Williams of Scranton, Pa., first asked him to communicate with Capt. May, manager of the Erie railroad coal properties about the Katydid culm dump, around which some of the impeachment charges center, Williams merely asked for a letter of introduction to May and had not asked for the judge's influence as is charged.

FIVE KILLED IN BIG FOUR WRECK

Forty Others Are Reported to Be Seriously Injured.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 7.—Big Four Passenger Train No. 15, en route from Cincinnati to Chicago, was wrecked at 12:45 p. m. this afternoon, three miles west of Stockwell, Ind., nine miles east of this city. It is reported that five persons are killed. One body has been taken out of the wreckage, that of W. P. Felt, a traveling salesman of Rochester, N. Y.

Forty persons are reported to be seriously injured.

Wrecking trains conveying every available physician have been dispatched from this city to the scene of the wreck.

The train left the rails on a sharp curve, the cause of which has not been ascertained. Four cars left the rails, completely turning over and blocking the track. The train was running at a high rate of speed.

The wreck is out in the country and it is difficult to get details.

SOME PLANTS AND ANIMALS GIVE LIGHT

Recent Researches Show That Phosphorescence May Be Caused By Interatomic Energy Such as Produces the Wonderful Properties of Radium.

Boston Herald: To the city dweller the phenomenon of animal phosphorescence is rarely if ever presented.

Still, in spite of its apparent rarity, animal phosphorescence is a common occurrence in likely localities. It is of wide distribution, being seen in the high Alpine snows, in the deepest ocean valleys; while the property of emitting light is possessed by bird, beast and fish.

Some Luminous Animals.

Very few of the higher animals are phosphorescent, but notable exceptions are the night heron and blue crane. These birds have been observed repeatedly, and there is little doubt that the greasy patches of down on the breast and thighs are visibly luminous up to a distance of fifty yards. A hunter states that in a heron he shot the light was as bright as a hand lantern, and that his gun sights were plainly visible against it. The light quickly disappeared after death and does not recur.

The eyes of certain monkeys are sufficiently bright in complete darkness to illuminate objects within a radius of a foot. This is a different phenomenon from the brilliant eyes of a cat, which shine only by absorbing and reflecting light near at hand.

Vegetable Matter Gives Light.

Many flowers and plants have been observed to be luminous for short periods after sunset. The flowers of the nasturtium possess a lightning-like phosphorescence. Common marigolds sometimes have an aura of pale golden yellow that play from petal to petal, and smoky flashes of green flame have been seen on the scarlet long haired poppy. Several of the lily family are luminous in very dry weather.

Many bushes also give out light.

Decayed and fungoid wood is also "fox fire." On one occasion some of this was used for a camp fire, and many of the broken fragments were scattered on the ground where the men were sleeping. The fire died out during the night and one of the party awoke the rest, who were equally terrified, believing that they were lying among live coals.

The Cause of Phosphorescence.

Many reasons have been assigned as the cause of animal and vegetable luminosity, but until recently none had had been put forward that were worthy of consideration. The recent researches on radio-activity have shown that within the atom lies a mighty force that man has not succeeded in utilizing. So tremendous is the latent energy that were it possible to loose only a part of it, a boy, by turning a crank, could manufacture sufficient electrical energy to drive the engines of London's countless workshops and factories.

Radium owes its wonderful properties to the fact that its atoms are in a state of decay, and the disintegration produces a certain amount of energy. It has been thought that to atone creatures the secret of using this interatomic energy has been revealed, with the result that they can transform it into light.

STAGE "FIRE-DOGS."

Here is an instance which, for Simon pure stupidity, has rarely been equalled, writes Mary Shaw in the Strand. A stage manager sent a list of properties to a small place ahead, naming, among other things, "dogs for the fireplace." When the company arrived, late in the afternoon, they found six or eight curs leashed up in the theater, barking and yelping and tugging at their chains. The stage manager, not knowing what these canines were there for, took no notice of them, but began going over his "props." With the property man at his elbow, he ran down the list, asking what he could get and what he could not get. Presently he came to the item, and asked: "What about the dogs?"

"Well," answered the man, pointing to the yelpers, "these were all I could get."

The stage manager for the first time realized what the dogs were for, but he didn't want to give the local property man away before the others, so he very seriously and critically inspected the dogs, and then said, shaking his head almost sadly:

"I'm afraid they aren't just the right kind. You had better send them back."

A MOUTH KNIFE.

Strand Magazine: Some years ago, in the district of Jalpaigori, Bengal, there was a sudden epidemic of petty thefts and burglaries. The police, completely baffled for some time, finally arrested an individual on suspicion, who, after a preliminary magisterial investigation, was remanded in custody with a view to further inquiries as to his antecedents. On being searched, a police officer, suspecting he had something concealed in his mouth, ordered him to open it, when, embedded round one of his back teeth, was found a hard substance, which, on being extracted, proved to be a small, semi-circular, sharp knife. The suspect, who had hitherto protested his innocence, now made a full confession, and eventually turned out to be a member of the notorious criminal tribe of "Burwars" from the district of Gonda, in Oudh, and had already been convicted of fourteen previous offenses. He admitted that the knife had been specially made for him, and that he used it for cutting open bales of cloth and also for pocket-picking.

BLAINE'S SCHOOLHOUSE GONE.

Kennebec, Me., Journal: The Blaine schoolhouse in Mars Hill up on the hill, the one James G. Blaine honored years ago by giving a bell, which still hangs in the belfry, is no more. It has been converted into a storeroom and moved to another site. A good many bright boys and girls, now old men and women, graduated from this historical building, and no doubt there is a feeling of sorrow as the old schoolhouse leaves the foundation it was builded upon years and years ago.

HUMAN ECCENTRICITY SHOWN IN THE MAKING OE WILLS

Some Old Testaments Made by People Famous in Their Day and What They Reveal.

Of strange wills there is no end, says the New York Times. London has scarcely recovered from its amazement at the will of Lady Meux. The feature of it that Americans heard most about, of course, was her bequest of Whistler's missing portrait of herself (if found) to the National gallery. The portrait, subject of a memorable quarrel between the artist and Lady Meux, was said to have drifted into some American collection.

But the missing Whistler is merely an incident in this remarkable document. By its terms a year was given to Vice Admiral Sir Headworth Lambton to assume the name and arms of Meux. In that case the residuary estate was his, with historic Theobaldo park, houses in East Sheen and Park Lane, London; a chateau near Paris, and Lady Meux's interest in the famous brewery which bears her name. On his refusal the property was to go to his stepdaughter, the Hon. Edith Cadogan. Besides numerous legacies, in which all the close friends of Lady Meux, the British museum, her servants, horses, dogs, and cats were remembered, there were bequests of the Abyssinian manuscripts captured at Magdala in 1868 to the emperor of Abyssinia, and of the sword and other relics of Lord Nelson to Lord Charles Beresford.

Queer wills range all the way from documents making good-sized printed pamphlets to a few words scrawled on a bit of soiled paper, or even the famous will tattooed on a man's back. Passing those made familiar by tradition or fiction, there are plenty of wills of recent date which show that human nature is capable of as great eccentricity or meanness, simplicity and complexity as in the days of the historic instances.

The will of Marshall Field of Chicago, who died in 1906, is an example, for instance, of how a vast fortune may be successfully tied up. The residuary legatees are Mr. Field's two grandsons, Marshall Field 3rd, now a youth of 16, and Henry Field, who is 14. They are to have the fortune finally distributed to them when they are 50 years old, but at 25, 30, 35 and 40 the elder will receive $450,000, the younger $300,000 on each of those birthdays. The value of their shares was recently placed at $54,000,000. It is estimated that when the lads are 50 they should divide $200,000,000.

To plan the life of a 12-year-old boy for sixteen years as a condition to his inheritance was the object of Robert G. Dryenforth of Washington in one of the most peculiar of recent wills. Mr. Dryenforth was a patent attorney in Washington and a former commissioner of patents. When he died his estate was valued at $250,000. His grandson, Robert St. George Dryenforth, is to receive the property when 28 years old, if he complies with all his grandfather's unique conditions. Here are the things that Dryenforth, now a boy of 12, must do in the next sixteen years:

Be ready to enter high school at 14 and Harvard at 18, there to take a special course, fitting him for Oxford university.

Spend successive vacations in France, Spain, Italy, Greece, Germany, Denmark, and Russia in the order named.

He must become proficient in manual training, dancing and music.

As soon as he graduates from Oxford he must go to West Point, finish the course there, resign, then be thoroughly educated in law, and begin to practice.

Among the things he must not do are: To associate with his grandfather's wife and daughter, separated from the testator. He is especially warned against the "wiles of women."

"I particularly request my executors," wrote Mr. Dryenforth, "to thoroughly and well guard my beloved son from women ,and sensibly, that is, gradually, through no erratic extreme, to let him be informed and know the artful and parasitical nature of most of the unfortunate sex, and to take care that he does not marry beneath him."

One may read between the lines of hundreds of wills the desire of the testator to hold his property together, for generation after generation, substituting some sort of trusteeship for the entail which is forbidden in the United States.

One of the most curious of these efforts is found in the will of the late Mrs. Anna B. F. Woods of Providence, R. I. She makes an heirloom of her diamond necklace by leaving it to her son in trust for the use of her eldest granddaughter during her lifetime, and of the latter's daughters after that, with a "remainder" to other granddaughters, possession to be ruled by priority of birth. She also provides that while none of the diamonds may be sold, the settings of the necklace may be altered at any time at the request of the holders.

There is a legal tradition that the shorter the will the harder it is to break. This may have been in the minds of some of the men who have recently passed their fortunes in a few words, but more probably they sought to prevent their personal affairs being aired in public. Of such testaments was that of the late E. H. Harriman. It required less than 100 words to give his fortune of upward of $75,000,000 to his wife absolutely. Russell Sage did the same with his $64,000,000, it being said at the time that Mrs. Sage had a clear understanding of how he wished the money to be spent. Perhaps this form of bequest may be traced back to the will of A. T. Stewart. When he left his fortune to Mrs. Stewart in a simple will he is said to have written a letter with it requesting his widow to make provision for some of his proposed charities.

The will of Capt. A. R. Simmons, a Civil war veteran, who died last summer, led to a sudden change of his burial place from land to sea. Capt. Simmons died at the National Soldiers' Home at Johnson City, Tenn., and was buried there. When his friends looked up his will they found that he requested that the ocean be his last resting place. So they decided to fulfill his wish. His body was exhumed, taken to the coast of Florida, and placed on a yacht. Capt. Simmons wanted all his friends at this funeral to be as gay as possible and asked that no religious services be read. So the party went out to sea off Biscayne bay, read the will fired three guns, placed the flags of the yacht at half mast, and swung the body overboard. This wish to consider death lightly was also shown a few months ago by the will of a man in New Rochelle, who left $500 to be spent for a dinner in his honor by his intimate friends.

The fear of premature burial appears every now and then as curious phases of wills. Typical of these is the recent testament of Miss Laura White of Pittsburg. Unmarried, 65 years old when she died, supposed to be poor, yet with a 3,000-volume law library, real estate in Indiana, Montana and California, and a will containing $100,000 in charitable bequests, she lived a strangely isolated life in a shabby house and had been dead for several days before her end was discovered. Her will provided that a "competent medical authority examine my body for ten days to ascertain that death had occurred," and then "thrust a dagger through my heart three times to make sure I am dead." The body finally was to be cremated.

One of the oddest of the recent "animal wills" is that of Emil von Bizony, which is being contested in Hungary. Mr. von Bizony, a brother of a well known Hungarian deputy, was 65 years old when he died, a bachelor who detested women, was on bad terms with all of his family, and lived so frugally on his large estates that he did not spend one-tenth of his income. In his will he left all of his property, worth about $200,000, to his twelve draught horses. The Society for the Protection of Animals at Budapest was named as executor, and the bequest was made a perpetual charity by a provision that upon the death of one of the horses another aged horse should be substituted for it and cared for, so that the number, twelve, should always be maintained. The relations of Mr. von Bizony contested the will, but finally offered the society $20,000 in settlement. The offer was declined.

Not many New Yorkers know that in the Dodge family of this city there is literally a "sacred trust." The details of it came out in the will of the late William E. Dodge, who died on Aug. 9, 1903. His grandfather, Mr. Dodge wrote in his will, had bequeathe to him a fund "with the injunction that the same should be considered as a sacred deposit, committed to my trust to be invested, and the income therefrom to be devoted to the spread of the gospel and to promote the Redeemer's kingdom on earth, and to be transmitted unimpaired by my descendants to be sacredly devoted to the same object." Mr. Dodge passed the trust to his son and daughters to be perpetuated.

TOM BROWN'S FIGHT WITH SLOGGER

The London papers have announced the death of the Rev. Augustus Orlebar, 88 years old, who was the original Tom Brown of Thomas Hughes's story, at least so far as pertains to the fight with "Slogger Williams."

From "Tom Brown's School Days," by Thomas Hughes: Tom was detained in school a few minutes after the rest, and on coming out into the quadrangle the first thing he saw, was a small ring of boys, applauding Williams, who was holding Arthur by the collar.

"There, you sneak," said he, giving Arthur a cuff on the head with his other hand, "what made you say that——"

"Hullo!" said Tom, shouldering into the crowd, "you drop that, Williams; you shan't touch him."

"Who'll stop me?" said the slogger, raising his hand again.

"I," said Tom, and suiting the action to the word, struck the arm which held Arthur's arm so sharply that the slogger dropped it with a start and turned the full current of his wrath on Tom.

"Will you fight?"

"Yes, of course."

"Huzza, there's going to be a fight between Slogger Williams and Tom Brown!"

The news ran like wildfire about and many boys who were on their way to tea at their several houses turned back and sought the back of the chapel, where the fights came off. • • •

In another minute East and Martin tear through the quadrangle, carrying a sponge, and arrive at the scene of action to strip. • • • Now Tom, with East to handle him, and Martin to give him a knee, steps out on the turf and is ready for all that may come, and here is the slogger, too, all stripped and thirsting for the fray.

It doesn't look like a fair match at first glance. Williams is nearly two inches taller and probably a long year older than his opponent and he is very strongly made about the arms and shoulders; "peels well," as the little knot of big fifth-form boys, the amateurs, say; who stand outside the ring of little boys, looking complacently on, but taking no active part in the proceedings. But down below he is not so good by any means; no spring from the loins and feeblish, not to say shipwrecky, about the knees. Tom, on the contrary, though not half so strong in the arms, is good all over, straight, hard and springy from neck to ankle, better perhaps in his legs than anywhere. Besides you can see by the clear white of his eye and fresh, bright look of his skin that he is in tip-top training, able to do all he knows, while the slogger looks rather sodden, as if he didn't take much exercise and ate too much tuck. The timekeeper is chosen, a large ring made and the two stand up opposite one another for a moment, giving us time just to make our little observations.

"If Tom'll only condescend to fight with his head and heels," as East mutters to Martin, "we shall do."

But seemingly he won't, for there he goes in, making play with both hands. Hard all, is the word; the two stand to one another like men; rally follows; rally in quick succession, each fighting as if he thought to finish the whole thing out of hand.

"Can't last at this rate," say the knowing ones, while the partisans of each make the air ring with their shouts and counter shouts of encouragement, approval and defiance.

Meantime East is freshening up Tom with the sponges for next round, and has set two other boys to rub his hands.

"Tom, old boy," whispers he, "this may be fun for you, but it's death to me. He'll hit all the fight out of you in another five minutes and then I shall go and drown myself in the ish and ditch. Feint him—use your legs! Draw him about! He'll lose his wind then in no time and you can go into him. Hit at his body, too, we'll take care of his frontispiece by and by."

Tom felt the wisdom of the counsel and saw already that he couldn't go in and finish the slogger off at mere hammer and tongs, so changed his tactics completely in the third round. He now fights cautious, getting away from and parrying the slogger's lunging hits, instead of trying to counter, and leading his enemy a dance all around the ring after him. "He's funking; go in, Williams," "Catch him up," "Finish him off," scream the small boys of the slogger party. • • •

"Now, then, Tom," sings out East, dancing with delight. Tom goes in in a twinkling and hits two heavy body blows, and gets away again before the slogger can catch his wind, which when he does he rushes with blind fury at Tom, and being skillfully parried and avoided, overreaches himself and falls on his face, amid terrific cheers from the schoolhouse boys. • • •

After another round the slogger, too, seems to see that he can't go in and win right off, and has met his match or thereabouts. So he, too, begins to use his head and tries to make Tom lose patience and come in before his time. And so the fight sways on, now one, and now the other getting a trifling pull.

Tom's face begins to look very one-sided—there are queer little bumps on his forehead, and his mouth is bleeding; but East keeps the wet sponge going so scientifically that he comes up looking as fresh and bright as ever. Williams is only slightly marked in the face, but by the nervous movements of his elbows you can see that Tom's body blows are telling. In fact, half the vice of the slogger's hitting is neutralized, for he daren't lunge out freely for fear of exposing his sides. It is too interesting by this time for much shouting, and the whole ring is very quiet. • • •

It is grim earnest now, and no mistake. Both boys feel this, and summon every power of head, hand and eye to their aid. A piece of luck on either side, a foot slipping, a blow getting well home, or another fall may decide it. Tom works slowly round for an opening. He has all the legs and can choose his own time; the slogger waits for the attack, and hopes to finish it by some heavy right-handed blow. As they quarter slowly over the ground the evening sun comes out from behind a cloud, and falls full on Williams' face. Tom starts in; the heavy right hand is delivered, but only grazes his head. A short rally at close quarters and they close in; in another moment the slogger is thrown again heavily for the third time. • • •

Just at this stage of the proceedings the door of the turret which leads to the doctor's library suddenly opens, and he steps into the close, and makes straight for the ring, in which Brown and the slogger are both seated on their second's knees for the last time.

"The doctor! The doctor!" shouts some small boy who catches sight of him, and the ring melts away in a few seconds, the small boys tearing off. Tom collaring his jacket and waistcoat and slipping through the little gate by the chapel and round the corner to Harrowell's with his backers, as lively as need be; Williams and his backers making off not quite so fast across the close; Groove, Rattle and the other bigger fellows trying to combine dignity and prducence in a comical manner, and walking off fast enough, they hope, not to be recognized, and not fast enough to look like running.

CRICKETS WELCOME TO HEARTH.

London Chronicle: The cricket on the hearth is still a welcome guest in many English households. For the cricket is believed to bring good luck to a house, while his departure is a certain harbinger of evil tidings. It is unlucky to kill a cricket. There is a local superstition in Lancashire "that crickets are lucky about a house, and will do no harm to those who use them well; but that they eat holes in the worsted stockings of such members of the family as kill them." The writer adds that he was assured of this "on the experience of a respectable farmer's family."

The cricket superstitution is not confined to England. Sir William Jardine noted its existence in Scotland last century. More widespread, however, is the death-watch superstition. I confess that the ticking of a death-watch at night gives me an uneanny feeling. Sir Thomas Browne, in his "Vulgar Errors," was probably the first to give a true account of this death-watch: " • • • the noise is made by a little sheath-winged gray insect, found often in wainscot benches and woodwork in the summer. We have taken many thereof, and kept them in thin boxes; wherein I have heard and seen them work and knock with a little proboscis or trunk against the side of the box, like a picus martius, or woodpecker, against a tree." But explanations, however clear, do not dispel superstitions, and the "sheaf-wing insect" still ticks a terror into the hearts of watchers about a sick bed.

SOMEWHAT LIKE EVE.

Los Angeles Times: Rose Pastor Phelps Stokes, at a dinner in New York, was describing a particularly intelligent little "country wrecker."

"In a soft and wistful August twilight," she said, "this little girl and I stood watching the milking. The little girl was complaining about her shabby clothes—the gift of some charitable organization.

"'Eve,' she grumbled quaintly, as she looked down at an old-fashioned and ill-fitting dress—'Eve had nothing but leaves to wear and I have nothing but leavings.'"

WORLD WHEAT STOCK BIGGER

Bradstreet's Visible Supply Report Nullifies Weather Effect.

Improved Demand for Flaxseed Causes a Slight Bull Movement.

Duluth Board of Trade, Jan. 7.—The bullish trend that characterized the wheat markets of North America during the early part of the session gave way later in the day to a decidedly bearish movement, caused by Bradstreet's visible supply report, showing an increase of nearly 5,000,000 bu in the world's visible wheat supply since a week ago. Duluth May wheat closed ⅛c higher to unchanged and July closed unchanged. Both options closed lower at Chicago, Minneapolis and Winnipeg. Duluth cash wheat closed 3½c under May. Durum closed ¾c up. Oats closed ⅛c off and rye and barley unchanged. Duluth January flaxseed closed 1¾c up and May a cent higher.

Wheat started off in quite a bullish manner on all the leading markets of North America this morning. The upward trend was due mainly to the very cold weather, which, it was feared, was greatly damaging the hard winter wheat of the Southwest and the fruit crops of the West. It was generally thought that any serious damage to the fruit crops would necessarily be a powerful bullish factor on the wheat market, merely by the fact of diminishing the general food supply of the country. Later in the session, however, there was a very bearish piece of news and that was Bradstreet's report, showing an increase of nearly 5,000,000 bushels in the world's visible supply of wheat since a week ago. As a natural result there was quite a downward movement on the North American markets.

Duluth May wheat, which closed yesterday at 86⅞@86⅞c, opened today at 86⅞c bid and then began quite an upward movement, but there was some reaction before noon, when May was quoted at 87c bid. May wheat on the Minneapolis market was unchanged at noon today and on the Winnipeg and Chicago exchanges it showed losses.

Liverpool wheat today closed ⅛c to ¾c higher. That market closed before it had time to be affected by Bradstreet's report. Liverpool wheat was bulled by reports of a further decrease in the European visible supply, the unfavorable turn in the political situation and the good demand for Australian and Plata cargoes. The advance was checked, however, by reports of favorable weather in Argentina, heavy port arrivals in that country and the expectation of early liberal shipments.

Flaxseed Is Stronger.

The Duluth flaxseed market was somewhat stronger today, the demand being much brisker than it was yesterday, and trading was much more active. Yet, the market could fairly be said to be a waiting one, there being a general disposition to do as little as possible until more was known about the Argentina crop and what it was going to sell for. Duluth January seed at noon today was ¾c up and May was ⅝c up. Minneapolis cash seed was 1⅝c over Duluth January. Winnipeg January at noon today was up ¾c at $1.04, being 19 cents under Duluth January.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The Minneapolis Commercial West says: "The movement of flaxseed was expected to turn toward Minneapolis more heavily just as soon as navigation closed, but it was only a week ago that heavier receipts in Minneapolis were realized as a result of the closing of the lakes. It is expected that receipts will continue heavy in this market through the winter and that the crushers, during that time, will be enabled to store a good surplus.

"Local crushers report a fairly strong demand for linseed oil for future shipment, a decidedly quiet inquiry for oil cake and a very good demand for oil meal. Meal is bringing approximately $26.75 a ton, f. o. b. Minneapolis, but almost no offers have been received in the last week for oil cake. While this quietness in the cake market is due partly to the holiday season, it is also partly due to the near approach of shipments of flaxseed from Argentina to European ports. As a result of the inability to sell oil cake for future shipment, crushers are considerably handicapped in the matter of selling linseed oil. In fact, this situation leaves the crushers without anything like a substantial basis to work on in making prices on oil for future shipment. The price of linseed oil is now, for raw 38 cents, in car lots, f. o. b. Minneapolis.

"Prices on flaxseed in the immediate future will depend largely on crop reports from Argentina. Foreign markets instantly reflect conditions in that country, and owing to the United States having a surplus of flaxseed this year, the influence of foreign price fluctuations are quickly felt here."

A wire from Minneapolis says: "The cash demand is good and the market is strong. Local and outside mills are the chief buyers. No. 1 northern bluestem is 1½c to 2½c under May, and velvet chaff 3c to 3½c under May. Flour sales are lighter. Shipping directions are fair.

E. W. Dittes, traveling representative of Randall, Gee & Mitchell, with headquarters at Minneapolis, who was a visitor on the Duluth grain exchange today, stated that the grain congestion at Minneapolis, while still troublesome, was by no means what it had been. He says the companies would not allow any of their cars to leave their own roads.

Mr. Dittes was asked whether he thought the present cold spell would prove a very bullish factor in the wheat market by damaging the winter wheat in the Southwest. He said he did not think that would amount to much, as there was more or less damage and fear of damage of that kind every winter. But he was of the opinion that if any great injury was done by the cold weather to the California fruits, wheat would necessarily go up. "You see," he observed, "people must eat something."

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Scores Further Advance on Higher Cables From Europe.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Wheat scored a further advance at the opening today, May starting ⅛@¼c to a shade over yesterday at 92¼c to 92⅜c, and after touching 91⅞c, selling to 92⅜@92½c. Cables were higher, reflecting the firmness here yesterday and a decrease in the European visible. Uneasiness was felt as to the Balkan political situation. Cash demand was fair.

The advance attracted considerable selling under which May declined to 91⅝c. The close was steady, May ¼c under yesterday at 91⅞@91¾c.

The market for corn was again strong, based on good export demand yesterday and some activity in the spot market. Yesterday's leading bull was a buyer and at least one of the heavy shorts bought early but sold on the advance. May opened a shade to ⅛@¼c up at 49⅜c to 49⅞c and sold to 50⅛c.

Heavy selling, largely from profit-taking longs, developed later and May closed steady and unchanged at 49⅝@49¾c.

Oats were quiet but firm, May opening ⅛c up to unchanged at 33½c to 33⅝c, and held within this range.

In provisions the selling of January lard was the feature. This option opened 7½@10c to 25@27½c under yesterday at $9.60 to $9.42½, but recalled at the latter level. Other options were comparatively steady. May pork opened unchanged at $18.22½; May lard 5@7½c down at $9.82½ to $9.80, and May ribs 5c lower at $9.72½.

STOCKS HAVE AN ADVANCE

Bears Receive Shock By London Sending Higher Prices.

Beet Sugar Goes to Its Lowest Figure Since 1910.

New York, Jan. 7.—The bear party received a check at the outset today in the failure of the London market to reflect yesterday's weakness here, quotations abroad showing general improvement.

There was a halt in the urgent liquidation of minor stocks and trading in these issues was limited to comparatively small amounts, with the exception of Beet Sugar, which fell to 36, a new low level for the decline. Traders took a more favorable view of the position of the American stocks, following yesterday's ruling by the supreme court, and both Union and Southern Pacific developed marked strength. Bonds were steady.

The stock market was dull at the opening today, but prices of the leading issues rose generally. Southern Pacific and St. Paul advanced a point each on the first transactions. Beet Sugar and Western Maryland developed further weakness.

A broader inquiry arose for stocks and after scattered realizations had been absorbed, prices moved to a substantially higher level. Union Pacific improved 2 points and a dozen other favorites half as much.

Earlier advances were shaded after prices of some of the specialties began to crumble. Beet Sugar went down almost 4 points to 35⅝, Western Maryland 1, and the preferred 4.

The chill in the market received from the development of weakness in certain specialties put a restraint on general trading, but there was no pressure of stock. Leading issues ruled from 1c to 1½c above yesterday.

The Cotton Market.

New York, Jan. 7.—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 6 points on January, but generally 1 point higher to 1 point lower under a renewal of scattering liquidation. Prices sold off to a net loss of from 3 to 6 points right after the call, but at this level the market received some support from trade interests and later rallied to a shade over the closing figures of last night on covering. Sentiment still seemed to be very much unsettled as a result of yesterday's court decision and it was claimed that the early selling reflected a further reduction in speculative long interest.

Futures closed steady. Closing bids: January, 12.87; February, 12.50; March, 12.53; April, 12.53; May, 12.53; June, 12.49; July, 12.49; August, 12.37; September, 11.83; October, 11.73.

New York Money.

Close: Prime mercantile paper, 5½@6 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.82.40 for 60-day bills and at $4.86.40 for demand; commercial bills, $4.81¾. Bar silver, 63¾c; Mexican dollars, 49c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.
